BUFFALO, March 14.—A special to the Courier from Titusville, Pa., says that Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dwyer have received a cable dispatch from Port Arthur informing them that their son Thomas had been injured and would not live throughout the day. The young man was employed as a tank-builder and left here three years ago. It is supposed he was injured during the Japanese bombardment of Port Arthur.

New Russian Cruiser Stops Ships.

PORT SAID, March 14.—The Russian cruiser Dimitri Donskoi has stopped several vessels at sea, including the North German Lloyd line steamer Stuttgart, and demanded to know their destination. She fired across the bows of the British steamer Mortlake at a point twelve miles north of Damietta, thirty-one miles northeast of Port Said, and sent officers on board to inspect the ship's papers.

Russian Convicts' Offer to Red Cross.

BLAGOVYESHCHENSK, Eastern Siberia, March 14.—The convicts employed on the Amur railroad have offered to turn over 10 per cent of their earnings to the Red Cross society.

FATE OF LABAREE IN DOUBT.

Would Be First Missionary Killed In Persia.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Presbyterian board of foreign missions has received no word from Persia regarding Dr. Benjamin Labaree, the missionary who, it is reported, has been murdered in Khoi, Persia. Doubt is felt as to whether the missionary reported slain is Rev. Benjamin Labaree, D. D., the father, or Rev. Benjamin W. Labaree, the son.

The dispatch stated that it was Dr. Labaree who had been killed, but the advanced years of the elder Labaree have made it impracticable for him to be out much among the villages, whereas the son is frequently engaged in such work, and the last letter received from him, dated Feb. 1, stated that he was about to leave for a visit among the villages to the south of Urumia.

Khoi, however, is a city to the north of Urumia about fifty miles. It is near to the main road from Urumia to Tabriz, and Dr. Labaree may have been making a journey there, or it may be his son who is confused with him, who has been visiting the villages to the north of Urumia.

The elder Labaree lived in Brooklyn after he came to America from a long life of missionary work, but he found he could not stay away from his work and so returned.

DEWEY GAVE REASONS.

Fighting Was In Progress at Santo Domingo, So Did Not Land.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Admiral Dewey, who, with several members of the general staff and Assistant Secretary Loomis of the state department, is now at Havana, has telegraphed the navy department the reasons why he failed to call on President Morales of Santo Domingo when the party was in Santo Domingan waters several days ago. The failure to visit caused considerable surprise at the time.

It appears that there was fighting in progress in the vicinity on the day the party was there, and for that reason the admiral did not deem it advisable to make an official visit.

During the forenoon there were several casualties in Santo Domingo city from the fighting then in progress. This was caused from shots crossing the river through which the boat must pass, and as more fighting was expected during the afternoon the admiral gave up the projected visit. The admiral, however, sent his respects to President Morales by United States Minister Powell.

Engineers Touring West Indies.

HAVANA, March 14.—The members of the American Institute of Mining Engineers who, with their wives and families, are touring the West Indies on board the Hamburg-American line steamer Prinzessin Victoria Luise were entertained at a reception at the residence of United States Minister Squiers at Marianao, a suburb of Havana. Assistant Secretary of State Loomis, who accompanied Admiral Dewey to Santo Domingo on board the United States steamer Mayflower, is stopping at the Squiers home. He is to leave today for Washington on the Mayflower.

Death of Ex-Supreme Court Justice.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., March 14.—Former Supreme Court Justice Sylvester Kellogg is dead at his home here after an illness of more than a year. Judge Kellogg was born in Champlain in 1838 and was educated at Middlebury (Vt.) college. He was elected district attorney of Clinton county in 1874 and county judge in 1881. In 1890 he was chosen to the supreme court bench, but failing health compelled him to resign in June, 1903, his son, Henry T. Kellogg, being appointed to succeed him.

Glassblowers Resume Work.

PITTSBURG, March 14.—The strike at the plants of the American Window Glass company at Jeannette has been called off pending a conference with the officials of the main office of the company. Work was resumed last night at midnight. The strike was brought about by a demand for an increase of 50 cents a day in wages and included the machine blowers, carriers off and splitters, 700 in all.

SMOOT INQUIRY.

Critchlow Again on the Stand—Denial From Rawlins.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—E. B. Critchlow, formerly an assistant United States attorney in Utah, again took the stand at the Smoot inquiry and testified regarding Mormon dictation in state and national politics.

The witness was asked concerning a statement that a Mormon committee dictated legislation in the first session of the legislature and replied that Bishop Stevens had said it had been decided by church authorities that inasmuch as the legislature was inexperienced it was best to have a committee of the priesthood to pass on legislation as to whether it was proper. Mr. Critchlow said that in 1895 Brigham H. Roberts refused to sign the church rule in regard to politics. He could not say whether Roberts recanted before or after the election.

"Did he recant at all?" asked Senator Overman.

"Oh, yes! There is no question about that," replied Mr. Critchlow.

Former United States Senator Joseph L. Rawlins has sent the following dispatch to the chairman of the Smoot investigation committee relative to the testimony of Judge Ogden Hiles, who testified that Rawlins was a Mormon:

"Judge Hiles' statement that I am a member of the Mormon church is unqualifiedly false. I do not believe in any of its doctrines, dogmas or revelations. Have no affiliations with it. Such has been my attitude in public and in private for thirty years. Give this publicity in your proceedings."

CALIFORNIA LYNCHERS.

Negro Was Tarred and Feathered and Then Killed at Mojave, Cal.

MOJAVE, Cal., March 14.—An unknown negro was taken from the local jail by a mob and after being tarred and feathered was either shot to death or killed by being struck over the head with a heavy piece of iron.

The negro was arrested for an atrocious crime and was confined in the Mojave jail preparatory to taking him to Bakersfield. The facts concerning the crime became noised about the town, and before the officers could place the man aboard the train a large crowd had gathered about the jail, which is an insignificant affair and unguarded. Within a short time the prisoner was in their hands.

It was the evident intention of the leaders of the mob to go no further than to supply a coat of tar and feathers, and this form of punishment was meted out to the negro. He continued to resist the efforts of his captors, and his resistance angered some of those in the mob, with the result that in the midst of the scuffle the negro was killed.

Robbers Get Thirty-five Cents.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 14.—George Gath, an engineer on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg railroad, was held up and assaulted at 2 o'clock in the morning, receiving injuries which may prove fatal. Gath was on his way to work when the assault took place. It occurred near Lincoln park, in the northwest part of the city, on what is known as the Gardner tract, a large tract of vacant lots. His assailant got 35 cents, all the money he had, but overlooked his gold watch. The two men had a terrible struggle in the dark. Gath was pounded about the head with a billy or slungshot, kicked in the face and stomach and stamped on. His body is a mass of bruises, and it is feared that he has received fatal internal injuries. His assailant escaped. Gath was supposed to carry large sums of money about with him at times.

Canal Zone Bill by Morgan.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A bill has been introduced by Senator Morgan for the government of the canal zone. It declares the territory acquired for canal purposes to constitute a government reservation of the United States, subject to civil and military law under the control of the president of the United States through the canal commission. The laws of Panama shall continue until superseded by laws of congress. Laws of the United States respecting citizenship, immigration, naturalization and the importation of contract labor shall not apply until congress otherwise shall direct.

To Promote Civilian Rifle Clubs.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—General B. W. Spencer of New Jersey, president; General George H. Harries of this city, vice president, and Albert Jones, secretary of the National Rifle association, have called on the president to enlist his interest in the promotion of legislation providing for the issuance of rifles and the sale of ammunition to civilian rifle clubs. The national rifle organization, under authority of law, already is encouraging the formation of such clubs.

BASKET BALL.

Orange and the local Y. M. C. A. teams will play in this city next Monday night, March 21, instead of tonight as scheduled. Physical Director Heywood received word late Saturday afternoon that he would have to content himself with a scrub team tonight or consent to a postponement.

In the basket ball game between the first teams of the Y. M. C. A. boys' departments of New Brunswick and this city Saturday, Plainfield won, 11 to 8. The line-up was: Plainfield—Long and Freeman, forwards; Webster, centre; Fenno and Gavett, guards. New Brunswick—Loblein and Bartholomew, forwards; Bastedo, centre; VanSickle and Walker, guards.

The scores: Goals from the floor—Long, 2; Freeman, 2; Fenno, Loblein, 2; Bastedo, Walker. Goals from foul—Long. Time—15-min. periods.

The teams of the younger boys representing the two associations also played, New Brunswick winning 19 to 8. The line-up: New Brunswick—Grower and Bartholomew, forwards; Bastedo, centre; VanNostrand and Garland, guards. Plainfield—Doane and Lambert, forwards; Laughlin, centre; Line and Caldwell, Denton and Woodhull, guards. Scores: Goals from the floor—Grower, Bartholomew, 2; Bastedo, 4; Garland, 2; Doane. Laughlin, Caldwell. Goals from fouls—Grower, Laughlin, 2. Time—15-min. periods.

The officials for both games were George Borden, of New Brunswick, and P. R. Collier, of Plainfield, referee and umpire; Thompson, timer; C. E. A. Heywood, scorer.

In bowling, half a game was played between teams representing the associations, Plainfield being fourteen pins ahead when the game was called off.

FROM ELIZABETH TO SUMMIT

SUMMIT CITY COUNCIL PLANNING QUICK ROUT TO COUNTY SEAT.

In view of the opposition to giving up the paved, county road on Morris avenue to the use of a trolley railroad the proposition to connect Summit and Elizabeth by the way of the steam railroad through New Orange is suggested as being the only practicable one. This proposition is one of the two that is being considered by the Summit City Council. The application is from the Cross County Steam Railway Company, which is believed to be the Four Junction, or New Orange Railroad Company, which has a single track railroad running from New Orange to Roselle. The application is for trackage rights across certain streets in Summit, the company claiming to have its pirvate right of way from Summit to New Orange. The purpose is evidently to change the motive power to electricity, and at Aldene where the New Orange Railroad joins the Central railroad, to make connection with the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey branch of the Public Service system, and run through Roselle into this city by way of West Jersey street. This would be a good way of helping New Orange, and it is a route that would doubtless benefit a large territory, although a roundabout way between Summit and Elizabeth.

It is not, however, the only practicable way, and it would leave Union out entirely, and the people there are very eager for a trolley road. If it is impossible for the Morris Traction Company to secure a franchise over the portion of Morris avenue between Union and this city, that company can adopt the proposed route over Roselle avenue from Union and through Roselle Park to connect with the Westfield avenue trolley line at Chestnut street. It is also practicable to go through El Mora, from Union and the traction company is looking over that section of the county for a desirable route.—Elizabeth Journal.

Although the federal building asked for by the business men may not be due for a number of years—the Government moves slowly on appropriations—one property has taken a jump in valuation on the strength of the movement. The owner of the property in question, which is on one of the most prominent corners of the business sections, heard that the Government would want a corner lot. He promptly boosted the valuation on his holding from $30,000 to $38,000, and thinks that it belongs at that figure now.

Walter Gillett Runyon, of Newark, in a statement in the Newark News last week declared that Noah Raby was as old as he claims to be. He writes: "In 1861, when I was twelve years old, Raby was employed on the farm of my father, David Runyon, in Piscataway township. At that time he was considered by everyone to be older than my grandfather, who was then over eighty years old. Any one who has ever taken the trouble to look into the matter has come to the conclusion that he was as old as he says. I visited Raby at the poor farm on May 30, 1903, and to see him then it could hardly be doubted that he was 132. He was always known to be a good-natured and truthful man; and as Henry Hummer, keeper of the Piscataway poor farm, said, "he was the best Christian I ever knew."

CITIZENS' COUNCILMEN WERE SWORN IN VanWinkle Assumed Minority Leadership of Borough Council at Annual Session.

CORDIALLY GREETED

MAYOR EXPRESSED HOPE FOR HARMONY IN THE BOROUGH'S WELFARE.

VanWinkle Failed to Respond on Behalf of the Minority—J. K. Arnold Elected President—To Meet in New Engine House.

Primed to oppose the administration on every logical ground, and to register disapproval of everyone closely connected with the political work of Mayor Smalley, the three Citizens' Unionists elected at the spring election took their places in the borough Council at the annual meeting last night. Early in the meeting they made their position clear, by voting solidly against every principal appointment in connection with the new fire department, and the re-appointment of Corporation Counsel Reed, Borough Clerk Rowley and Recorder Doud. John H. VanWinkle, Jr., assumed the leadership of the minority.

Mr. VanWinkle was the first of the new members to be sworn in. All three were welcomed cordially by the Mayor and the old members. At the close of the meeting Mayor Smalley made a brief address to the anti-administration trio, in which he asked for harmony among the whole Council on matters pertaining to the welfare of the borough. "I believe it is the idea of the old members of the Council," he said, "that you should lay before them for consideration all the ideas you may have for the advancement of the general good of the borough. They will take the same course with you, and join you in carrying out good measures. I will leave such matters in your hands. We have now what has been asked for so often—a minority representation, particularly in Mr. VanWinkle and Mr. Krewson. You will be treated courteously for one year at least, and any matters you may bring up will be considered carefully and without bias."

Mr. VanWinkle, who by that time had become recognized as the Citizen leader, made no response.

Aside from the appointments to the police and fire departments and the various borough officers, and the passage of Councilman Lee's resolution regarding the increase of liquor licenses, but little business was done.

After Councilman Lee's motion that the old rules be continued, James K. Arnold was elected president without a dissenting vote. The marshals were ordered to file the usual bonds, and the collector's bond was fixed at $12,500. The clerk's bond was fixed at $1,000.

By a vote of five to one it was decided to change the Council chamber from its present location to the second story of the new engine house as soon as the structure is ready for occupancy. The committee on stationary and supplies was requested to install the borough furniture in the new house as soon as practicable. Councilman VanWinkle cast the opposing vote.

Oscar Moore, who was ordered to stop the erection of a frame barn on his place on Duer street, which is within the fire limits, petitioned for permission to continue the structure. The permit was granted. Henry Nischwitz was granted permission to build a frame addition to his house on Manning avenue, and E. W. Ross was granted a permit for the erection of a porch on his house at 47 Prospect place.

Two hundred dollars was voted for the rental of the borough collector's office. It was resolved to advertise for stone for work on streets and sidewalks. The resignation of Dr. Cooley as commissioner of appeal was accepted.

Mayor Smalley appointed these standing committees:

Streets and Public Health—Arnold, VanArsdale, VanWinkle.

Fire, Water and Lamps—Lee, VanArsdale, Krewson.

Marshals—VanArsdale, Lee, Humble.

Laws, Ordinances and Taxation—Humble, Arnold, Lee.

COUNCIL MOVES FOR HIGHER LICENSE FEE

Borough Fathers Vote Unanimously for Resolution Seeking Court's Aid in Matter.

SUGGESTED A $600 FEE

PASS RESOLUTION DIRECTING CORPORATION COUNSEL TO ACT.

Mr. Reed to Ask Judge Schenck to Make the Change—Reasons for the Step Taken in North Plainfield—To Come Up at Next Term.

High license was again brought up in the borough Council last night. A resolution favoring was passed by the old Council during its last days, but a longer and fuller resolution was introduced by Councilman Lee last evening to give the new members a chance to express their sentiments, and the sentiment of their constituents, on the matter.

The resolution was as follows; it puts all the features of the question succintly and fully:

Whereas the license fee for the sale of liquor at retail in the city of Plainfield has for years been seven hundred dollars, while all licensed places there are required by law to close at eleven o'clock every week day night;

And whereas the licensed places in the borough of North Plainfield are permitted by law to remain open indefinitely, except Saturday and Sunday nights;

And whereas by reason of the early closing hour aforesaid in the city, and the close proximity of the borough and city, the borough bar rooms are, after eleven p. m., enabled to do practically the entire retail liquor business of a community of 25,000 inhabitants, and draw into the borough from the city all those who desire the accommodations of licensed bars, after the hour at which the city bars are forced to close as aforesaid;

And whereas the sole power to fix such license fees for the borough is vested in the discretion of the County Court at Somerville, and ninety-five per cent. of such fees belong to the borough, and go to reduce the expense to which its taxpayers are put for police and other cost of government made necessary, in a great measure, by this liquor traffic;

And whereas, if these places are to be licensed at all, it is not fair to the taxpayers of the borough that the privilege should be granted for a sum less than that which the keepers of similar places in the city, some of which are located within two or three blocks of borough bars, are willingly paying, although restricted to shorter hours;

Therefore, be it resolved by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, that the judges of the Court of Common Pleas of the County of Somerset, be, and are hereby respectfully petitioned to take into consideration the peculiar situation of the Borough of North Plainfield in this respect, and to increase the license fee fixed by said court for this borough, so that the same shall be at least six hundred dollars per year for retail license.

And be it further resolved that the Corporation Counsel be, and is hereby directed to present this matter to said court at the earliest proper time.

Every vote was cast for it. There was no argument the Citizens' simply voting aye on roll call. It has been charged by the administration party that the Citizens courted and received the support of the "saloon element," and it is accepted as a fact that the regulars re-introduced the license matter to force the anti trio to put themselves on record.

But whatever the political game back of the resolution, the Citizens voted according to their convictions in the matter, and the whole Council stands unanimously back of the demand that the license be raised to $600. The passage of the resolution marks the real start of a determined attempt to bring the change about.

At the April term of court Corporation Counsel Reed will appear before the Common Pleas Court in Somerville and argue for the increase. A big delegation of boroughites, including Mayor Smalley and several of the councilmen, will be present to work in favor of the advance.

Councilman Lee said last night that he was convinced the high rate would be ordered. Mayor Smalley expressed himself sanguine of the change of fee, in talking with a reporter for The Daily Press this morning.

A BURGLAR WHO KNOWS HIS BUSINESS

Cleans Out Dining Room of $900 Worth of Valuables and People Never Heard Him.

SAML. METZER ROBBED

SEVERAL UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPTS MADE PREVIOUSLY.

Entire Haul Covered by Burglar Insurance—Silverware Valued as Wedding Gifts Taken—Burglar at Work With Family Home.

Nearly $900 worth of silverware and other valuables was taken by a burglar in a raid on the home of Samuel Metzger, of Sycamore avenue, some time between Saturday night and early Sunday morning. All the family were at home at the time, but no hint of the robber's presence was received.

Mr. and Mrs. Metzger were away from home all day Saturday, but when they returned shortly before 10 o'clock at night everything in the house was all right. Mr. Metzger is sure of this because he went over the place carefully in looking up preparatory to retiring. The family retired at 10, with all the doors and windows securely fastened.

When Mr. Metzger went downstairs into the dining room at 7 o'clock Sunday morning evidences of burglary stared him in the face all over the room. The buffet and silver chest had been completely ransacked and cleaned out, and other things of value were missing. Articles valued roughly at over eight hundred dollars had been taken.

Entrance had been gained through a window. It was evident that the thief had climbed the porch on the Linden avenue side of the house, and from there cut his way into the first floor through a pane of glass. He confined himself to that floor, and must have worked with perfect stealth, for none of the inmates of the house had heard the slightest sound all through the night.

There were no clues to the thief's identity, and Mr. Metzger has little hope of recovering his valuables. Most of the stuff taken was prized sentimentally as wedding gifts. Mr. Metzger will suffer no monetary loss, for the entire haul is covered by burglar insurance.

Mr. Fetzger has an idea that the thief is someone who has made several unsuccessful attempts before on his house. Within the past two months, he says, three attempts have been made to rob the place. The last time Mrs. Metzger saw a man's hand reaching in a room through the window. Her screams frightened him away.

PARK CLUB WON SERIES

ROSELLE DEFEATED IN THE DAILY PRESS BOWLING CONTESTS.

The Park Club five redeemed themselves last night in defeating Roselle Casino in two of a series of three games rolled in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament. The games were rolled on the Park Club alleys. The visitors were accompanied by many "rooters," while the friends of the Park Club team turned out in large numbers. It was believed that the Parks could take one of the series, but to win two exceeded their expectations. As a result Roselle's standing for the trophy was slightly reduced. Westfield is a sure winner of the trophy. Tonight that team will meet Cranford at the latter place, but there is little likelihood of Westfield losing more than one game of the series.

Last night, the Parks took the first game by a score of 876 to 857 and the second by a score of 843 to 805, while they lost the last game by a score of 862 to 835. Individually the Parks did great work, the scores being well up in the average and in some cases above it. William Barlow rolled high score, 203, while there were a number of other scores nearly as high. The Roselle five also rolled strong, but in a few instances the scores dropped below the average and resulted in defeat. S. Smith put up a score of 213 in the last game, the highest rolled by the visiting team. This concludes the tournament so far as the Parks or Roselle are concerned and tonight's games will bring the tournament to a close.

One re-instatement took place at a meeting of the local branch of international machinists last night.

MRS. ELMIRA ROBERTS DEAD

WIFE OF DAN S. ROBERTS SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA.

Mrs. Elmira Roberts, wife of Dan S. Roberts, died last night at her home, 15 Prospect place, following a short illness with pneumonia. For some days past Mr. Roberts has been ill with the same disease and it was partially in the care of him that she contracted her illness. She was seventy-four years of age and she was not strong enough to baffle the disease. Mr. Roberts today is considered as being a little improved.

Mrs. Roberts was born February 4, 1830, in Jackson Township, Pa., and had been a resident of this city nearly twenty-five years. Early in life she united with a Baptist church and always retained her membership. She enjoyed the high esteem of a host of friends and was admired for her most excellent qualities as a wife and mother.

A husband, five sons and two daughters survive Mrs. Roberts. The daughters are Miss Mary A. Roberts, of this city; and Mrs. Charles A. Burr, of Scranton, Pa., and the sons are Austin K., of Brooklyn; William D., of Tobyhanna, Pa.; George B., of New York; Charles B. and Harry R., of this city.

The funeral services will be held from the house, 15 Prospect place, Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment will be in Hillside cemetery. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, of Trinity Reformed church, will officiate.

ROYAL ARCANUM'S BIG TIME

GREENBROOK COUNCIL TAKES POSSESSION OF ITS NEW QUARTERS.

Greenbrook Council, No. 1725, Royal Arcanum, took possession of its new quarters in Knights of Columbus Hall, last night, the occasion being marked by a visitation of several Grand Lodge officers, including Grand Regent Washburn, of Hoboken; Grand Vice Regent Rogers, of Cranford; Deputy Grand Regent Drummond, of Bound Brook, and Deputy Grand Regent Crannell, of this city. All of these officers made short addresses and congratulated the members of Greenbrook Council upon securing such fine rooms.

A short business session was first held during which several applications for membership were received and several members were initiated. Afterward there was a smoker and entertainment. Music was furnished by Andrew Carpenter, while William Shackelford and company, of New York, entertained with impersonations, humorous sketches and songs. Thus the members and their friends spent a pleasant time. The affair was in charge of the entertainment committee of the Council.

PROMOTIONS IN COMPANY K

SERGEANT LITTELL AND QUARTERMASTER PEARSALL THE LUCKY ONES.

Sergt. A. I. Littell, of Company K, has been promoted to the office of quartermaster sergeant; and Quartermaster E. R. Pearsall has been made commissary. The promotions are the result of Sergt. Cregar's appointment to the hospital staff. It is understood that Corporal Hort is slated for election to the position of sergeant made vacant by Sergt. Littell's promotion; and Private John Brennan will probably be chosen corporal. Lieut. Moorhead, of Company A, of Trenton, acting judge advocate, presided at a court martial in Company K last night.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Retail Clerks' Mutual Aid Association Holds Ceremony.

Officers were installed and an entertainment committee was appointed at the regular meeting of the Retail Clerks' Mutual Aid Association, last night. These are the officers installed: President, H. P. Greenwood; vice president, George Ayers; corresponding secretary, W. E. Bacon; financial secretary, Charles Greer; treasurer, W. D. Williams; chaplain, Alfred Lacey; guide, William Daley; inner guard, Edward Baker.

W. D. Williams, Charles Greer and W. E. Bacon were appointed a committee to arrange for an entertainment. J. G. Sutton was elected a member.

Missed His Aim.

Fred Hasner, aged 25 years, of 327 West Front street, severely cut his foot with an axe on Friday night. He is now at Muhlenberg Hospital.

GETTING INTO LINE FOR POLITICAL BATTLE

Opponents of the Borough Administration Will Force the Fight at School Election.

DR. COOLEY WILL RUN

BODINE ALSO MENTIONED AS STANDARD BEARER FOR THE "ANTIS."

President James R. Joy and Clifford McGee the Choice for Administration Candidates—Both Parties Still Looking for Third Man.

Both political forces in the borough are lining up for battle at the school election tonight. Following their chief tenet of faith, the anti-administration elements will combine as on election day for a bitter and relentless assault on everything and everybody suspected of connection with the administration.

Since last week the question of candidates has been cleared up somewhat by both sides, but each party still appears to lack one standard bearer. It is practically settled that Dr. Cooley will run again, under the anti-administration banner. Lambers Bodine is mentioned as his running mate, but the third candidate is still mooted. James R. Joy, the president of the Board, and Clifford McGee are slated for the administration candidates. Murray Burtis has refused to run again, and even Mayor Smalley, when interviewed yesterday afternoon, said he could not tell who the third man would be.

All the chieftains will be on hand, and the voters will be hunted for with all the activity of a mayoralty election. One of the features of the election will probably be a speech by Mayor Smalley. He intimated yesterday that he would have something to say.

For some reason a number of interested boroughites have obtained the idea that another vote on the site of the proposed new school is to be taken in connection with the election. While the matter of a site will almost certainly be brought up for discussion, to get the voters' ideas on the subject, there will be no ballot of any sort on the question. Speaking in this connection yesterday, Mayor Smalley said a special call for action on the school project would probably be issued in two or three weeks.

HARD TO STOP ILLEGAL TRAFFIC

EASIER TO CONVICT IN MURDER CASE THAN IN RUM SELLING PROCEEDINGS.

"It is easier to convict a man of murder than of illegal selling of liquor," was a statement made by Rev. John McMurray in an address before the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church, last night. The topic of the meeting was "The Appetite that Unmakes Men," and Mr. McMurray was invited to speak on it.

Mr. McMurray presented the theme of Gospel temperance and said that the Gospel of Christ is alone able to permanently change a man, give him new desires and work out the process of the new birth. This he characterized this as the only sure cure, while other means are only temporary.

After a man's appetite has been changed, Mr. McMurray said, it is the duty of all Christians to help him and remove all obstacles from his path. This he said could be done by working to abolish the saloon and work toward prohibition, the goal of all Christian people. This he said must be accomplished step by step. Mr. McMurray spoke favorably of the anti-saloon movement, the plan to lessen the number of saloons. As regards high license he thought that it would simply mean a survival of the fittest. He urged that public opinion be aroused on the subject of speak-easies and that the public make it difficult for any one to conduct such a place. This he thought could be done by a change in the laws, whereby not only a heavy fine could be imposed for illegal selling, but that the offender be required to serve a time in jail. He did not blame the chief of police for he realized how difficult it is to secure evidence against proprietors of speak-easies.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Albert Waldman, of Chatham street, to Miss Florence Boylan, of Potter's Crossing, was announced yesterday. The wedding will take place on June 26.

EVACUATION NIGHT FOR VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

North Plainfield's Deposed Laddies Mark the Occasion in a Fitting Way.

HOLD A BIG BANQUET

SPEECHES MADE BY OFFCERS PAST AND PRESENT.

All But One Answer to Final Roll Call—Ceremonies Held in Manhattan Hotel—Men Will Compose Social Organization.

Marking the wind-up of the volunteer department, the citizen-firemen of the borough held a supper at the Manhattan Hotel at midnight last night. It was a funeral ceremony to a great extent, a dozen or more orations on the passing of the volunteer system being delivered.

It was at midnight that the new department formally assumed charge of the apparatus, and to make it fitting the volunteers waited until the final minute of their existence as a organization before starting the farewell affair.

An hour or more before 11 o'clock, Warren and West End carted everything belonging to the volunteers from the Somerset street house to the Heyniger building across the street, where the headquarters of the social organization, that will be formed by the two companies, is located, and at midnight everything was in readiness for formal abdication.

At five minutes to twelve both companies lined up in the meeting room of the engine house, and the final roll was read. There were two absentees in each company, men who could not possibly be present. Secretary David Bodine called the roll of Warren, and Assistant Foreman Bagley read that of the West End.

The name of George Giddes, a West End member, the only man among the sixty volunteers who entered the new department, was not read in the roll. Feeling of the bitterest character was expressed against him, and abuse of the strongest kind was showered on him from every man among the other volunteers. Giddes had come to the engine house to attend the last roll of his company, but the members refused to associate with him. He was called a traitor and other things much worse, and the reviling became so warm that he was forced to take refuge in one of the stalls at the extreme rear of the stables. Even there he was not free from the anger and contempt of his ex-comrades.

Just as the clock chimed twelve, one tap was sounded on the big bell, and the volunteers marched solemnly from their headquarters in double file, Chief Stahl and Assistant Chief Klinsman in the lead, with a drum to keep the marchers in time. No demonstration was made, the men marching quietly to the hotel.

Although a number of speeches were made, the supper, spread in the long bowling alley of the hostelry, was very informal. A half dozen friends of the firemen, including two members of the city department, were present. Souvenirs in the form of round, ribbon-strung cards, with an "in memoriam" inscription, were distributed.

Dr. J. H. Buchanan, of Warren, delivered a brief address of welcome. After the supper speeches were made by Chief Stahl, Assistant Chief Klinsman, Col. Albert Perry, William N. Pangborn, George Fairchild, David Allen, William Debele, William Demarest, David Bodine, Ephriam Compton, John Schenck, Charles Keller, Harry Coddington, Jacob Higgins, William Mills and John Shrupp. All the speakers deplored the death of the old system, and recalled the glories of the volunteer organization. Bitter reference was made to the make-up of the new department, to "the one man among sixty who has gone over to the other side," and to Mayor Smalley. Chief Stahl took occasion to thank his comrades for supporting him in the fight against the administration.

Between the speeches there were songs by William Doud, Thomas M. Muir and Frank Perry.

The committee on the affair consisted of William Debele, Charles Stahl, William Doud, James Walker and Jacob Higgins, for Warren, and Herman Klinsman, Charles Keller, Peter Stram and John Bremmer, for West End.

A. V. Lunger, of Watchung avenue, has been ill for several days with a heavy cold.

"WANT TO MAKE THIS A ONE MAN GOVERNMENT?"

Asked Mayor Smalley When Citizens' Councilmen Forced Upon Him the Deciding Vote.

LINES SHARPLY DRAWN

REPRESENTATIVES OF CITIZENS' OPPOSED ALL APPOINTMENTS.

H. B. Woolston Made Chief—George Weiss Chief Marshal of Police Department—Other Appointments by Borough Council.

Practically the entire volunteer fire department attended the borough Council meeting last night, and so many of their friends and other boroughites interested in the appointments to the new paid system were present that every available inch of space in the audience room was filled. So great was the crowd that officers were stationed at the door to keep others out, and a lot of disappointed voters were turned away.

In full the fire department appointments are as follows:

Chief, Howard B. Woolston.

Hose Co. No 1.—Captain, Harry B. Dunham, Edward P. T. Smith; lieutenant, William T. Campbell; engineer, Frank Schuck.

Drivers and Tillermen—William T. Campbell, George Giddes, Peter Dooley.

Call Men—Charles Woolston, Walter H. Kettenring, A. Jerome Foss, John R. Lambert, Harry Zimmerman, Arthur McDonald.

Hose Co. No. 2—Captain, William Barry, ; lieutenant, Michael J. Kennedy.

Call Men—George Neal, Charles Messenger.

The other appointments are:

Borough clerk and auditor, Frank Rowley; corporation counsel, Charles A. Reed; recorder, Thomas Doud; borough physician, Dr. A. H. Dundon; borough engineers, H. C. VanEmburgh, Frank J. Hubbard; overseer of the poor, Frederick Becker.

The confirmation of all the officers of the fire department, from Chief Woolston down, was voted against by the Citizens'. They advanced no argument on any vote, but registered monosyllabic negatives in every instance with clockwork regularity. With the three regular Republicans supporting the nominations, the votes in the party clashes were tied, and Mayor Smalley cast the deciding ballot against his opponents.

There was a little, and somewhat amusing, hitch in the Citizens' programme at the start of the line-up. The confirmation of Chief Woolston's appointment was moved, and Mr. VanWinkle significantly called for yeas and nays.

"Yea," said Mr. Humble, and "Yea," said Mr. Krewson, echoing the votes of the regulars.

Mr. VanWinkle looked surprised. "Do I understand that this is the appointment of the chief of the new fire department?" asked the young leader with significant emphasis.

A blank look came into the faces of his two colleagues, and Mayor Smalley, with an amused smile, told them that their votes could be changed before the announcement of the result. On the re-call of the roll Messrs. Krewson and Humble hastened to change their ballots to "nay."

On all the police appointments the Citizens voted with the regulars except in the case of Recorder Doud, who is one of the Mayor's trusted lieutenants. In casting the deciding vote for the Recorder, the Mayor said: "I vote 'aye' in this case with a great deal of pleasure."

Corporation Counsel Reed and Clerk Rowley were likewise stamped with the disapproval of the opposition.

On the vote regarding the change of Council chambers to the new engine house, Mr. VanWinkle voted nay, but the other Citizens voted with the Republicans.

Mayor Smalley's "aye" in the tie votes seemed to amuse the crowd, and

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

There will be no mistakes in your electric light or other wiring if you have it done by John H. McCullough, of West Front street.

It is foolish to pay good money for poor meats. If you want to be sure that your meats are good, buy them of J. W. VanSickle, of North avenue.

There is everything to gain and nothing to lose by buying your drugs, medicines and toilet articles at C. M. Nagle's drug store on West Front street.

Alex. Kane, of Fillmore avenue, recently purchased several buildings in Netherwood to be torn down for use as second hand lumber, which he sells at the lowest rates.

Perfect cutting and the highest perfection in fit characterize the work of S. Hirsch, ladies' tailor, of Watchung avenue. His name is synonymous with style and fashionable finish.

Thinking of a dainty little supper? R. W. Barnes has all the delicatessen dainties that go to make the most toothsome and attractive spread. It makes you hungry to look over his stock.

Everything that the bicyclist needs can be found at Harry K. Lister's store on North avenue. Talking machines is one of Mr. Lister's specialties. The best on the market is to be found at his place.

Milk is a health-giving food so long as it is pure. Purity is the essential first and last. The preparation for use of the milk from the Lindsay dairy is such as to permit of not even the slightest imperfection.

T. H. Laury, the contractor and builder, is now making contracts for spring and summer work. In the past Mr. Laury has had considerable success and his work has stood the most severe test. His prices are reasonable and the best materials are used on all his work.

Jacob Fass, proprietor of the Paris Cloak Company, of West Front street, will soon take possession of his new store, formerly occupied by M. Weinberger. He will then be better prepared to display his fine stock of coats and new spring and summer suits for women. He will also give special attention to made-to-order suits for women.

No better place for shopping can be found than Isaac Lederer's store on West Front street. The stock is bright and up-to-date, and the service and attendance are all that the shopper would wish. Prices there are the lowest to be found where quality is considered. The woman who regards her shopping tour as completed without a visit to Lederer's makes a great mistake in economy and wise buying.

Governor Murphy's Appointments.

Speculation as to the nominations which remain to be made by Governor Murphy is as constant as it has been at any time since the legislature met, but nothing more definite as to the Governor's intentions is known than it was when Bennett VanSyckel resigned as a member of the Supreme Court bench early last week. There are rumors in plenetitude, of course. The names of Garret D. Wall Vroom, of Trenton; ex-Governor Werts, of Jersey City; ex-Judge Pancoast, of Camden; ex-Speaker James J. Bergen, of Somerville; W. Holt Apgar and Mayor Katzenbough, of Trenton, are all in the list of candidates for Justice Van Syckel's place which, it must be confessed, has been some what promiscuously made. It has been as constantly said as his name has been mentioned that Judge Vroom would not accept the place of Justice of the Supreme Court, and that he some time ago refused to accept a nomination which was tendered him. If Governor Murphy could see his way clear to name a citizen of North Jersey, there probably is no nomination that he could make that would be so generally satisfactory as that of ex-Governor Werts. The same speculation and the same uncertainty exist in relation to the appointment of the successor of the late John S. Voorhees as Prosecutor of the Pleas for Middlesex County. In the list for that appointment, however only, two names are left. They are those of George Berdine and Theodore B. Boorsem, of New Brunswick, with, as those who think they cannot be mistaken say, the chances in favor of Mr. Berdine. As was announced a few days ago, it is still believed that the Governor will name William Cloke, Willard Fisk, John F. Reynolds and Robert Williams as members of the State Board of Riparian Rights. Mr. Cloke and Mr. Fisk are members of the present board.—New York Tribune, Trenton correspondent.

A Plainfield citizen tells you here how every kidney ill can be relieved and cured. Read about it:

C. E. Hepburn, of 123 Duer street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have my endorsement for they cured me of a long standing case of backache which annoyed me very much, especially if I took cold, for at such times I was in pretty bad shape. I heard different people speak very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, concluded to try them, got a box from my druggist, L. W. Randolph and used them according to directions with the above results. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement of a preparation like Doan's Kidney Pills."

DIETRICH INQUIRY.

Senator From Nebraska on Stand In Own Defense.

DENIES BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION

Said That Directly or Indirectly He Had Never Received a Cent For Any Appointment He Had Made, Nor Did He Expect To.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—At the Dietrich inquiry in the senate Senator Dietrich took the stand and at his request was sworn, although Chairman Hoar stated that the practice of the senate had been not to swear a senator on the theory that all senators had equal rights in that body. In reply to Senator Hoar he first reviewed his election as governor and senator and then, in answer to Senator Hoar, said, "I have never received a cent for the appointment of Jacob Fisher as postmaster." Then the senator told of his relation with Jacob Fisher and how he came to recommend him for postmaster instead of appointing him oil inspector.

Senator Dietrich stated that while he was governor he had made a contract with the postoffice department for the rent of the Dietrich building at $1,800. This contract was made with Postmaster General Smith. He heard of protests regarding the rent to be paid and told Jacob Fisher that he would take $1,300 for the building, although he felt that he ought not to pay for the fixtures. Mr. Fisher responded that he would pay for the fixtures. Mr. Dietrich declared that Jacob Fisher would have been postmaster no matter where the postoffice might have been located. He denied that the deed of the postoffice property was made to his daughter so that he could lease his building to the government.

In reply to a question from Senator Hoar Mr. Dietrich said that never, directly or indirectly, had the question of money been suggested to any candidate or applicant for any position while he was governor or senator and said he had never received, directly or indirectly, a cent for any appointment he had made, nor had he ever expected a cent from any one so appointed. He said that when the money that had been received by his daughter from Jacob Fisher for the rent of the back room was returned to Fisher and Francis that he (the senator) paid the amount, his daughter's account at the bank being overdrawn.

Senator Dietrich denied having had a conversation with Fisher in which the subject of paying $14,000 for Thompson's expenses came up.

Frank N. Clarke of Omaha testified that Fisher had said to him that he (Fisher) had purchased the fixtures for $500, but thought there was no wrongdoing in that, as he knew other postmasters had purchased fixtures. The witness said that he had had talks with District Attorney Summers about the case, that he had said to Summers that Fisher had asked him (the witness) whether he should turn state's evidence, an indictment having been found against Fisher by the grand jury, and that the witness said to Fisher that he would recommend him to "stand pat."

Manager Beaten, Striker Killed.

TRINIDAD, Colo., March 15.—Chris Evans, financial manager of the United Mine Workers of America, was severely beaten by three masked men with revolvers on board a Colorado and Southern passenger train bound for Pueblo. The men boarded the train a mile east of Trinidad and after attacking Evans jumped off and escaped. Evans was sent to Colorado by President John Mitchell. At Pryor guards killed Michael Calabace, a striker. Calabace, it is said, had fired at a negro and then barricaded himself in his house to resist arrest. The guards broke into the house, and as Calabace ran out of the door they shot him.

This indorsement has just reached the speaker, and he immediately forwarded it to the White House with his compliments and this memorandum, "If I was so soon to be done for, what was I ever begun for?"

BAMBERGER'S

THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE

MARKET & HALSEY STS.

SPRING OPENING.

For many weeks an experienced staff of buyers and department managers have been busy—men whose efficiency and cleverness must remain unquestioned have stormed the greatest sources of supply and accumulated stocks that are absolutely without a counterpart in the city or State. Manufacturers have in many instances surrendered to argument and granted splendid concessions, importers were prevailed upon to afford us first opportunities for making selections from our complete lines, and there's not an unworthy or undesirable piece of merchandise in this whole vast showing. We have been mindful of the value of exclusiveness, and our ideas and ideals have never been more splendidly realized than in assortments positively lacking nothing at all to be desired.

THIS season, more than ever before, we are in a position to demonstrate pre-eminence as purveyors of Women's, Misses' and Children's Fashionable apparel—of beautiful Gown Fabrics and Silks—Men's and Boys' Clothing, Gloves, Hosiery and Underwear, Furnishings—everything. More than fifty departments filled to overflowing with the newest, daintiest and most novel, dominated by prices based on a margin of profit that emphasize the advantages of trading at Bamberger's.

Liberality has been a prime factor in the upbuilding of this business to the position it now occupies in the mercantile world, and by adhering to those principles so potent in our success we shall strive to achieve new and greater triumphs during the season just beginning. This store was the first to institute many reforms—to break down the exorbitant profit system and refund money for any unsatisfactory purchase. An invitation is extended to our friends—to those whom we shall ever be pleased to number as such, and to everybody at all interested in Newark's greatest of all Spring fashion functions.

PEERLESS HAT DISPLAYS!

A burst of beauty—a pageant of colors and festival of flowers in our second floor Millinery parlors. Hundreds of splendid creations—the models and reproductions of Parisian designers, original, daintily charming, exquisite and almost daring ideals of the most skillful artists that we have been able to find or employ. Then there are ready-to-wear hats—many of them stunning, and withal the prettiest and most effective of those makers who have won distinction for the superiority of their lines. It will afford us pleasure to receive the judgment of critics.

Exposition of Garments

There is not a garment in this whole vast and splendid stock that is without an indefinable grace and charm. Gowns as dainty as the first frail blossoms of Spring—made of those exquisitely fine fabrics that represent the highest artistic achievement of old and new world looms. Magnificent laces, elegant voiles, fashionable silks and handsomest tailor made productions from famous modistes and makers, gathered here in an infinite variety of design for the discriminating selection of Newark's best dressed women. Then there are dinner skirts, dress or walking skirts, rain and traveling coats, jackets, silk, linen or washable shirtwaist suits, silk jackets, three-quarter and full length coats, in black, colors and pongees.

SPECIAL orders are taken under the personal supervision of the department manager, and strictest attention is given to the securing of suits, jackets and skirts for extra large women, junior sizes for Misses wearing ankle length skirts, and all kinds of mourning garments for Women, Misses and Children.

Engagement of New York City Models—Have secured for a limited time two of the most perfect living lady models, who will try on any garment in our stock upon request. This affords the prospective purchaser an opportunity of seeing each favored style on some one else and gives an excellent idea of the exactly defined lines on which every garment in our stock has been made.

Immense assortments of tea gowns, long kimonos, negligees, wrappers and house dresses. Extra size wrappers for bust measures from 48 to 52. Wearableness is the keynote of all this stock, and supremacy has never been quite so evident in every way as in our present extensive showing of all kinds of garments from every maker of any renown.

Misses' and Children's Outerwear—Everything pretty that has been designed for children of ages from 1 to 14 years. Wash or wool fabric dresses, suits and guimpe, including genuine "Buster Brown" sister suits, for which we are the manufacturer's sole representative in Newark. Silk coats of black or colored taffetas, peau-de-soies and pongees, and an extremely fine line of cloth or raincoats and jackets.

ARMY TO FALL BACK

Russian Forces Will Retire Until 300,000 Mobilize.

MAY HAVE TO OPPOSE THE CHINESE

Outposts Come Together on Chongchengano River—Japs Reported Dispersed—Roosevelt's Proclamation Pleases Russians.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 15.—General Zilinski has reported as follows:

"Our patrol has discovered four of the enemy's posts on the Chongchengano river and a troop of cavalry acting as scouts near Patetchen, northwest of Anju. A Japanese cavalry patrol fell into an ambuscade prepared by our patrols and were dispersed, losing one killed. The Japanese left behind them a quantity of gun cotton and some swords and blankets.

"The enemy's ships explored Helena bay and the shore opposite Senutchine with searchlights during the night.

"According to information which has been verified, the Japanese have not made any attack north of Gensan.

"The population along the Tumen river is favorable to us."

There is no truth in the report that the Russians have abandoned Port Arthur. Admiral Abaza, secretary of the commission on far eastern affairs, officially denies the story.

The best Russian information obtainable at Port Arthur and Newchwang admits that the government's intention is to fall back until it can complete the mobilization of 300,000 troops for the purpose of assaulting and opposing the Japanese and probably 200,000 more to oppose the Chinese.

Advices from Yinkow say that the local Russian authorities are apparently incensed and manifestly much annoyed at the solicitous inquiries of the commanders of foreign gunboats regarding the projected blocking of the Liao river before the arrival of the Japanese, which latter event is regarded as a foregone conclusion. Although the blocking of the Liao and also the defense of the settlement and native town are regarded as unattainable, it is certain that a disposition of guns has been made and a defense plan has already been arranged. The arrival of General Kondratovitch a few days ago, however, threatened to cause the abandonment of the original intention.

President Roosevelt's recent proclamation regarding the observance of neutrality by all officials and the abstention from either action or speech which might cause irritation to either Japan or Russia has produced a great impression here. The newspapers print prominently articles commending the substance and spirit of the proclamation in the highest terms.

The Official Gazette accepts it unreservedly as a complete answer to the charges that the American government is hostile to Russia and declares that hereafter, despite any seemingly untoward incident which may arise, it will be considered settled once for all that "the American government has taken a friendly attitude toward our aims and policies in the far east."

A Newchwang report says that after the removal of the battleship Retvizan four Russian steamers, the Harbin, the Hailar, the Ninguta and the Sungari, were anchored at the mouth of the entrance to Port Arthur in proper position and sunk, leaving only a small channel available, Vice Admiral Makaroff having previously ordered the whole fleet to remain outside with steam up, economy in coal being unnecessary.

General Kuropatkin's train, in which he is now making his way to the far east, is composed of a locomotive, tender, three cars and a break van. The cars are covered with steel over three inches in thickness, and it is practically an armored train.

A private telegram says that in Thursday's fighting at Port Arthur the Russians lost ninety seamen killed and forty-nine taken prisoners.

Paving Stones In Cotton Bales.

WASHINGTON, March 15. — President Marsh of the Planters' Compress company was the principal witness at the planters' hearing in congress. He detailed the differences between the square and the cylindrical compressed cotton and said that the cylindrical process prevents putting "paving stones, iron weights or sweepings into the center of the bale, as in the square bales." "Is that the practice with the square bales?" was asked. "Yes, sir; a common practice," was the reply.

Farmer's Skull Crushed by Club.

WORCESTER, Vt., March 15.—The body of Charles McLean, a farmer, has been found under his bed at his home, where he lived alone, near Worcester Corners. The skull had been crushed, apparently by blows from a club. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of three men, who will be held pending an investigation. The police are working on the theory that McLean was killed as the result of a neighborhood feud of long standing.

McDonald Says He Is Not Guilty.

BEDFORD, Ind., March 15.—A grand jury has returned two indictments against James McDonald in connection with the murder of Miss Sarah Schafer. One indictment charges murder, while the other charges statutory assault. McDonald is in Bloomington, Ind. When told of the indictments McDonald said, "I am not guilty."

State Convention May 5.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 15.—The Democratic state central committee has voted to hold the state convention for the choice of delegates to the national convention on May 5 and 6 in Hartford.

Some great big men can act mighty small—some big ads act the same way, so it's quality that tells.—White's Sayings.

There is no need for Hearst to establish a paper in Little Rhody but he still has forty-four other states to trouble himself over.

President Roosevelt has issued his neutrality proclamation recognizing a state of war in the Far East but he has quite overlooked the unpleasant situation in New York, possibly much to the regret of both Odell and Platt.

The appointment of James J. Bergen as a vice chancellor meets with the approval of the bar and laity in this vicinity. He possesses undoubted legal acumen and such general qualifications as makes him a valuable man on the bench. Somerset county is to be congratulated.

his deciding ballots were greeted with a lot of laughter. He saw the humor of it himself, and took a dry fling at the opposition. "What are you councilmen trying to do" he asked, "make this a one-man government?"

The salaries of the officials outside of the fire department, which are specified in the ordinance, were fixed as follows:

Clerk, $500; corporation counsel, $350; recorder, $300; borough physician, $125; overseer of the poor, $150; chief marshal, $750; regular marshals, $600. The special marshals get $2 a day, or twenty-five cents an hour.

CHRISTIANITY AND SOCIETY

SUBJECT OF ADDRESS BEFORE THE PLAINFIELD MINISTERS' ASSOCIATION.

"The Application of Christianity to the Organization of Society," was the subject of an address given yesterday afternoon by Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Hall, of Union Theological Seminary, before the members of the Plainfield Ministers' Association. It was the monthly meeting and was held at the home of the Misses Peck on Crescent avenue. Dr. Hall urged co-operation instead of competition in trade, characterizing the former as being a Christian principle, while the latter is sure to be destructive in the end. The address was listened to with unusual interest and at the close there was an informal discussing of the subject.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass and Rev. C. L. Goodrich were appointed a committee to arrange for a Union Good Friday service to be held the same as in previous years.

The following borough officers were sworn in: Councilman Fowler Vail, Commissioners of Appeal George R. Giles and George Huff, Constable Charles W. Blaine. Councilman Wilson Frederick, who was injured in the Westfield wreck, was sworn in at his home on Saturday evening. Committees on roads, sidewalks, fire and water and borough buildings, were appointed.

On account of the removal of the old turn-table, many engines remaining out of Dunellen, are compelled to run backwards. The workmen took out the old turn-table the other day in order to build the center foundation of the new one, which will be placed in position as soon as the concrete foundation is hard enough.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

An informal meeting of the baseball club was held Saturday night when the material for the local line-up for the coming season was talked over. The local fans may see a number of new faces on the diamond when the season opens next month. Some of those who have played with the locals for several seasons have raised their price. This increased demand the club refuses to meet in several cases and will replace the malcontents on with new men.

A number from town attended the funeral services Tuesday afternoon of the late William Hosinger, held from the house on Watchung avenue. Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., attended in a body. Interment was made in the family plot in the cemetery.

The annual school meeting will be held in the assembly room of the school tonight at 8 o'clock. No contest will be likely as the taxpayers are satisfied with the Board of Education as it exists at present. The school ranks among the first in the State.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Governor Murphy on Monday approved the bill to establish the office of register of deeds and mortgages in this county. Commenting on the above the Elizabeth Journal says: "Now that it is a law there are many in the county who are referring to James C Calvert, of this city, as the 'next county clerk,' and to Frank H. Smith, of Plainfield, as the first 'county recorder.'" It might be well to remind some of the "many in the county" that there will be a mighty protest made against any such division of these offices. Rahway Republicans are determined to stand for at least the office of county clerk, which was won for the party for the first time in its history by a Rahway candidate.—Rahway Advocate.

The opinion which Attorney-General McCarter gave in relation to the custody of the voting machines which were distributed by Secretary of State Dickinson last fall, under the act of the Legislature providing for their use, contains an announcement that seems to have escaped publicity. After explaining that the voting machines must remain in possession of the municipalities in which they were placed and be insured by those municipalities the attorney-general adds: "No authority seems to be given to the voting machine commissioners to resume control of them, and so far as I am able to discover, no provision is made in the acts for their being removed from the location in which the Secretary of State has placed them."

THE LAND OF OPHIR

Region Which So Lavishly Supplied King Solomon with Gold.

Abyssinia One of the Many Countries Which Has Been Credited with Possessing the Famous Mines.

Had King Solomon realized one-half the effort which the world would put forth to locate the source of his unlimited supply of gold, it is reasonably certain that that wise, and, apart from his thousand wives, good man would have left explicit and reliable instructions to guide to the spot, but, notwithstanding the fact that he still easily holds rank as the wisest man the world ever knew, he did not have keenness of vision enough to see the eager, persistent search which would be made for the land of Ophir, the place from which King Solomon's mines poured forth their great stream of yellow gold. Ophir has been located in India, Arabia and Africa, and there seems to be considerable argument which may be advanced in favor of the claims of each of these places. In addition to these, Smith's Bible dictionary tells us that Calmet regarded it as in Armenia; Sir Walter Raleigh thought it was one of the Molucca islands, while Arias Montanus, led by the similarity of the word Parvaim, supposed to be identical with Ophir, found it in Peru.

But the land of Ophir still remains, not a myth (for that it did exist and yielded rich treasure is certain from sacred and profane history), but a mystery. And now an American, K. V. Millard, a Californian, is reported to have secured positive assurances that King Menelik has the much-wanted mines locked up securely somewhere in his kingdom, and claims to have obtained from that half-civilized but able monarch concessions which will restore eventually to the world these oldest and richest of gold mines. Preparations are being made, it is said, for the development and working of these concessions, and the world will wait with interest the news as to whether Ophir has been positively located or not. Certain it is that gold is a considerable export of Abyssinia, and that there are gold mines in that unknown country which have been jealously guarded for years is equally certain.

But the weight of opinion and evidence has always placed the probable location of Ophir much to the south of Abyssinia, in the region of the Zambesi river. The Portuguese poured out men and money in an effort to explore the country along the Zambesi, but never found enough gold to pay interest on their investment. In a paper read before the London Geographical society in 1875, St. Vincent Erskine declared that the country between the

THE QUEEN OF SHEBA'S TOWER.

Simpopo and the Sabia should be explored, for nothing can more convincingly prove the existence of large gold mines than the fact that it is death to a native to speak of them or of the ancient ruins to be found there. In the opinion of Erskine it is the ancient Ophir. The queen of Sheba's real name was Sabia, a name which is even now given to a mine there. In some maps Sofala is called Sophir. The 'S' is merely a prefix and it is therefore reasonable to suppose that the original name was Ophir.

Mauch, the German explorer, in 1871 discovered the long sought ancient ruins of Zimbaoe, and he found the natives were accustomed to work for alluvial gold. These ruins were near Pikes Kraal, and are extensive. The walls are still 30 feet in height, and are built of granite, hewn into small blocks about the size of our bricks and put together without mortar. The most remarkable of these walls is situated on the very edge of a precipitous cliff. The walls are about ten feet thick at the base and seven or eight at the top. Another portion of the ruins was the remains of an ancient tower, called "the house of the great princess," or palace of the queen.

MORRIS CANAL.

Governor Murphy's Report Favors Its Abandonment.

TRENTON, N. J., March 15.—Governor Murphy has sent to the legislature the report of the special commission appointed a year ago to investigate the proposed abandonment of the Morris canal. This commission, which is composed of ex-Governors Werts, Griggs and Voorhees, made its report to the governor yesterday afternoon. The report is a voluminous document of sixty-eight printed pages.

In brief, the report favors the abandonment of the canal upon certain conditions, which are intended to preserve the rights of the stockholders of the canal company.

The Morris Canal and Banking company secured from the state a limited charter to construct the canal across the state from Phillipsburg to tidewater. This canal runs through Warren, Sussex, Morris, Passaic, Essex and Hudson counties. The canal is now operated by the Lehigh Valley Railroad company as lessee. The commission finds that the canal does not pay, that its tonnage is slight and that public interest would be best served by its abandonment.

MORO FORT TAKEN.

Cannons, Ammunition and Supplies Were Captured.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Acting Adjutant General Hall has received the following cable from Major General Wade at Manila:

"Major General Leonard Wood reports an attack on a reconnoitering force east of Cottabato by a strong party of Moros made hostile by the passage of the antislavery law. The Moros' position was shelled and the Moros flanked and the outworks taken. They were strong and well constructed. Twenty-one old Spanish cannon and thirty-three lantakas, also large quantities of ammunition and supplies, were captured.

"No casualties on our side."

Darlington Disaster Inquiry.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Neville & Bagge, the architects who drew the original plans for the collapsed Hotel Darlington, were the principal witnesses at the inquest conducted by Coroner Scholer at the West Side court into the death of the men killed by the fall of the structure. Mr. Bagge declared Allison, who was in charge of the construction of the hotel, came to him and wanted him to draw other plans, making the steel and iron portions of the building lighter than the plans he had already drawn up called for, and he identified some of the working plans of the building as not his work. Mr. Neville, senior member of the firm, was called to the stand. He said in answer to the questions put by Mr. Train that William O'Hea had been employed by his firm and that he had left them to take a situation with Mr. Allison, taking charge of the construction of the Hotel Darlington. He said that he did not know whether O'Hea had had any previous experience in that line of work or not; that when he was with them he was regaded as a general draftsman and was paid $16 a week.

What Is Carried In the Pocket.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Representative Gaines of Tennessee laid before the house committee on banking and currency a letter from Dr. Thomas Darlington, health officer of New York city, giving the result of his investigation of coin and paper money to determine the extent it may be a conveyer of disease germs. Bacteria, according to the report, will not live longer than forty-eight hours on silver, nickel and copper coins. Two dirty bills were washed, and one was found to contain 135,000 bacteria, the other 126,000. Two comparatively new bills contained respectively 2,250 and 2,000 germs. The report says, "Upon all were found staphylococci, proving that money may carry disease."

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

PONGEE FOR SUMMER.

Smart Gowns and Coats Are Made of It—Various Trimmings.

Hood effects will be seen on the smarter three-quarter length coats this spring and summer. A pongee model now in the hands of a well-known New York dressmaker shows this pretty arrangement. There is a seamless yoke of heavy ecru guipure which extends well over the shoulders in a round sweep. Outlining this there is a band of ecru lace five inches wide, headed top and bottom by a piping of narrow brown ribbon and at the top, in addition, with a pinked ruching of the pongee. The sleeves and body of the coat are gathered very full into this, and the bottom of the coat is also finished off with the band of guipure the same as at the top, with the exception of the pinked ruching. Two ends of chiffon and brown velvet complete this pretty little model.

The good points of pongee are so many that the well dressed girl will not overlook them. It makes ideal shirt waist gowns trimmed with red, blue or green embroidery, as well as dressier gowns combined with heavy ecru lace. For dust coats and driving coats it is ideal.

Pongee cleans beautifully, but it should never be washed, least of all by the amateur.

Scarf effects continue to be the proper thing for evening gown sleeves. We are promised more collarless gowns this summer.

The cut shows a hat designed to go with a pongee shirt waist costume. It is of ecru straw, trimmed with ruchings of ribbon, a steel buckle and a spray of wheat. There are shaded red flowers at the back.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT IS WORN.

Panne Cloth Gowns Very Smart. Wider Petticoats and Dress Slips.

A new make of cloth is called panne cloth, and it is high in favor. Decorated with velvet or fancy braid, it makes a very dressy costume.

A dress of black panne cloth seen recently at an afternoon tea was trimmed with motifs of chiffon and chenille embroidery and black lace. It had a lining of bright red taffeta, which showed through the openwork ornamentation. The red was also introduced in the undersleeves, made of tiny alternate black and red chiffon ruffles.

BLUE CLOTH GOWN.

Strings of chiffon are attached to a few of the more elaborate spring hats, but these are merely draped and not tied.

Many of the slips designed to wear with these gowns are thrown out around the bottom by the addition of many ruffles. Petticoats show a marked tendency to become wider, but only around the foot.

Charming petticoats of mull, muslin and cambric are now being made up by family seamstresses for summer wear.

Very long shoulders are among the distinguishing features of the new gowns. The berthas, collars, etc., are placed as far out on the arm as possible, with a decided drooping effect. These berthas appear even on tailor made gowns and are composed of a smoothly fitted bias band, to which is shirred the full ruffle. The latter is often finished with three prim little tucks.

The cut shows a gown of royal blue panne cloth. It has a silk belt of a darker shade and undersleeves of fine lace. The trimming is in the shape of bands of Persian embroidery.

MERGER IS ILLEGAL

Government Wins In Northern Securities Case.

COMBINATION IS A MONOPOLY

Supreme Court Judges Stood Five to Four Against Railroads.

TRUST AS DEFINED BY SHERMAN ACT

Judgment of the Circuit Court In Favor of the Federal Government Was Upheld in All Respects—Judge Harlan Said, "Congress Has Power to Prevent Stifling of Competition."

WASHINGTON, March 15.—In the United States supreme court yesterday an opinion was delivered in the merger case of the Northern Securities company versus the United States in favor of the government's contention that the merger was illegal. The opinion of the court was handed down by Justice Harlan, and it upheld the decree of the circuit court for the district of Minnesota in every particular. Four of the justices dissented from the five constituting the majority.

The division in the court was due to a difference of opinion as to the right of federal control of state corporations. The majority opinion proceeded on the theory that congress has a right under the constitution to control interstate commerce, no matter by whom conducted, while the minority, or dissenting opinion, was based on the theory that in the present case the effort is to regulate the ownership of railroad stocks by state corporations and that such ownership is not interstate traffic.

An effort was made by the court to prevent knowledge of the fact that the opinion was to be rendered yesterday from getting to the public, but never theless it was quite generally understood among newspaper men, attorneys and others for an hour or so before the convening of court that the decision would be announced. When, therefore, the members of the court filed into the chamber at noon they were met by an expectant crowd which filled every seat both inside and outside the bar. Seated among the attorneys were Attorney General Knox and Secretary Taft and an unusual number of senators and members of the house of representatives. There was no surprise manifested when promptly on the assembling of the court Justice Harlan began the delivery of the opinion. The fact that he had been selected for the preparation of the document at once led most people to conclude that the decision would uphold the Sherman antitrust law and sustain the contentions of the government. The justice read his opinion from a printed copy, which covered thirty pages and consumed about an hour and a quarter in its delivery.

Very soon after Justice Harlan had concluded his presentation of the case it became evident that the court had divided on the questions at issue, and as other opinions were announced it developed that there not only had been a very close shave for the government, but that one of the members of the court who cast his vote with the majority entertained opinions of his own, which fact rendered the division all the more marked and interesting. This was Justice Brewer, who, while he concurred in the result, announced in an independent opinion of his own that he held the view that previous antitrust decisions had been more sweeping than was justified. Four of the nine justices dissented outright. These were Chief Justice Fuller and Justices White, Peckham and Holmes. The opinions of Justices Harlan and White were long, while those of Justices Brewer and Holmes were comparatively brief. All told, the court consumed two hours and three-quarters in disposing of the case.

The fact was noted by several persons that the argument in the case was begun Dec. 14, just three months previous to the decision. For so important a case this is considered a very brief interim between the arguments and the decision. The case just decided was brought by the United States against the Northern Securities company, a corporation of New Jersey; the Great Northern Railway company, a corporation of Minnesota; the Northern Pacific Railway company, a corporation of Wisconsin; James J. Hill, a citizen of Minnesota, and William P. Clough, D. Willis James, John S. Kennedy, J. Pierpont Morgan, Robert Bacon, George F. Baker and Daniel Lamont, citizens of New York.

Its general object was to enforce as against the defendants the provisions of the statute of July 2, 1890, commonly known as the antitrust act and entitled "An act to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraint and monopolies."

Justice Harlan also took occasion to say that there had been nothing in the Securities company's certificate of incorporation to indicate its purpose to be that of destroying commerce, and he therefore absolved the state of New Jersey from any charge of such knowledge in advance. It might be true that a federal court had no power to dissolve a corporation of a state, but this circumstance could not be an indication of powerlessness to enforce the law, than which no corporation is stronger. No device could suffice to prevent this enforcement of the national statutes.

The courts had indeed consistently held to the supremacy of the national laws in case of conflict between those laws and the laws of the states.

Justice Harlan declared that the only object of the merger was to prevent competition, and he said that if no one else knew this to be the case J. Pierpont Morgan, one of the defendants, knew that to have been the fact. Extracts from Mr. Morgan's testimony were quoted in support of this statement.

Justice Holmes read the dissenting opinion. He construed the antitrust law as a criminal statute and declared that there was nothing in it to indicate that it had been enacted merely for the control of large concerns, as is generally contended. Indeed the law had not been understood as applying to railroads until so construed by the supreme court. The act, he contended, applies only to contracts and combinations in restraint of trade and makes no reference to competition.

Logically construed, Justice Holmes said, this decision should be followed by the criminal prosecution of the parties at interest in this case.

Decision Does Not End Litigation.

ST. PAUL, March 15. — The government's victory in the Northern Securities case does not end the litigation. There still remains on the docket an appeal of the state of Minnesota from the decision of Judge Lochren. Attorney General W. B. Douglas is on the way home from Washington and could not be seen, but attorneys familiar with the litigation say that the case will have to be decided without reference to the federal decision. It may be thrown out for lack of jurisdiction, and, so far as the result to the merger is concerned, the decision given covers the same ground. There are different principles of law involved, however, and attorneys for the state hope they can secure a decision of their case on its merits. Such a decision will determine whether the federal courts can be appealed to in order to prevent outside corporations from violating the laws of a state.

President Hill Is Silent.

NEW YORK, March 15.—J. J. Hill, president of the Northern Securities company, received news of the decision at the company's offices in this city. Mr. Hill declined to discuss the matter except to say: "There is nothing to be said at this time. The properties of the Northern Securities company are still there. They are as good as ever." At the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. no expression of opinion regarding the decision could be had.

Thinks "Silence Is Golden."

PRINCETON, N. J., March 15.—When former President Grover Cleveland was asked to express his opinion on the decision of the United States supreme court in the Northern Securities case he replied: "I have only glanced at the headlines and have not even read the published report of the decision. I have no desire to say anything on the subject. Besides, it is an affair of the courts."

President Is Delighted.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—When President Roosevelt received the news of the supreme court's decision in the Northern Securities case he was engaged in a conference with some friends, but put aside all else to express his satisfaction that the court had sustained the contentions of the government. Later he will express his personal congratulations to Attorney General Knox.

Sold Forged Medals and Got Jail.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 15.—Six persons accused of selling forged Turkish decorations to people in various countries have been sentenced to fifteen years' penal servitude, while a seventh was sentenced to a year. The forged decorations included the Medjidieh Osmanieh. Chief among the accused were Tahir Bey, the proprietor and editor of the Servet, and an aid-de-camp of the grand vizier. The sale of the decorations covered a period of several years.

McCracken Nominated For Congress.

URBANA, O., March 15.—Henry McCracken of Urbana has been nominated for congress by the Democrats of the Eighth district. W. L. Finley of Kenton and W. R. Neven of Logan county were elected delegates to the national convention, but they were not instructed. Friends of W. R. Hearst controlled the convention. The Kansas City platform was reaffirmed by a vote of 111 to 83.

Submarine Boats In Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The fortification bill was before the senate, the provision for the purchase of a submarine boat of a designated type taking up the entire session. Messrs. Lodge and Mallory opposed the army entering into experiments with submarine boats and usurping what they alleged to be a naval function.

Ship Railway For Panama.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—A resolution has been introduced in the senate by Senator Dryden directing the isthmian canal commission to report on the relative cost and advisability of a ship railway, lock canal or sea level canal across the isthmus of Panama. The resolution was referred to the committee on isthmian canals.

DISASTROUS TO FAVORITES.

Opening of the New Louisiana Jockey Club's Spring Meet.

NEW ORLEANS, March 15.—The opening of the new Louisiana Jockey club's spring meeting was disastrous to the favorites, Frontenac being the only favorite to finish in front. The defeat of Viperine in the Crescent stake, for which she was favorite at 9 to 20, was the heaviest upset of the day. Dixie Lad, second choice, was at 7 to 1 and the others at a long price. The slow track, seriously affected by rain, did not suit the Morris filly, and her usual speed was lacking. Delaval at 13 to 1 in the betting led from end to end, winning easily by three lengths. The race was worth $900 to the winner. Summaries:

First Race—Frontenac won; Mrs. Frank Foster second, Boundling third.

Second Race—Sneer won; Magdala second, Hobson's Choice third.

Third Race—Foxy Kane won; Scorpio second, Harmakis third.

Fourth Race—Delaval won, Dixie Lad second, Viperine third.

Fifth Race—Moderator won, Henry of Franstamar second, Prince of Endurance third.

Sixth Race—Circus Girl won, Midshipman second, Jake Webber third.

Close Finishes at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Close finishes marked three of the races at Oakland. The last event at six and a half furlongs for three-year-olds aroused the most excitement when Sailor Knot and Celebrant fought it out all through the final furlong and Daly landed Sailor Knot first by a nose. Solanus, the favorite, was a close third. Dr. Pegg proved a surprise by taking the two-year-old race, beating Bill Short a neck. Bob Ragon, the favorite, stopped badly. Galanthus was much the best in the fifth and won handily from Farnum.

Favorites Had Hard Luck.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 15.—Favorites had a hard time at Ascot park, only two out of the six coming under the wire first. Namtor clipped a half second off the track record for a mile and a hundred yards, going the distance in 1:48.

Nationals Preparing For Fray.

CINCINNATI, O., March 15.—Manager Kelly of the Cincinnati National league baseball team and fourteen players have left in a special train for training quarters at Dallas, Tex. Other players will join the team at Dallas.

Found Wife and Children Dead.

WAPAKONETA, O., March 15.—Gladys, aged ten, and Winfield, aged five, children of Hon. J. H. Goeke, a prominent attorney of this place, are dead here from the effects of having inhaled gas fumes. Their mother died from the same cause. The father and husband, who was absent, first learned of the tragedy through a newspaper dispatch. Miss Mary Frank, a servant, is still seriously ill. Koneta Goeke, who was made unconscious by gas, is believed to be out of danger.

Anti-Hooker Party Won.

FREDONIA, N. Y., March 15.—George R. Moore has been elected mayor by a majority of 329. Party lines were obliterated in the contest, Moore heading the so called anti-Hooker ticket. The entire Moore ticket was elected. The election was the first held here since the Republicans of Chautauqua county rebelled against the leadership of Justice Hooker because of his alleged connection with the postal scandals.

English Settlement Anniversary.

WASHINGTON, March 15. — Hugh Gordon Miller, United States district attorney for Virginia, has presented to the president the resolutions adopted by the recent state convention of the Republicans of Virginia inviting him to attend on May 13 the celebration of the two hundred and ninety-seventh anniversary of the first permanent settlement of English speaking people on American soil, which occurred on the James river in 1607.

Phenomenal Shipment of Tobacco.

For the first time in the history of the tobacco business a shipment has been made in one order, to one concern, of a solid train of Manufactured Smoking Tobacco. On March 1st, the Norfolk and Western Railroad started from Durham, N. C., a train consisting of 30 cars, all loaded with "Duke's Mixture," the entire lot of tobacco being a purchase made by Messrs. Sprague, Warner & Co., Wholesale Grocers, of Chicago, Ill. Durham, where this tobacco is manufactured, is the famous tobacco town situated in the Golden Tobacco Belt of North Carolina. "Duke's Mixture" was named many years ago for Mr. J. B. Duke, the famous tobacco man, and its enormous growth has made it his pet, and the greatest care is exercised in its manufacture. This shipment contains 2,880,000 single packages of tobacco, and would furnish each male adult in the United States with five smokes each, or one package to each of the soldiers of the standing armies of the United States, England, France, Germany, Italy, Austria and Russia. This train has gone direct from Durham, N. C., to Chicago, Ill., and has attracted much attention en route, and arrived in Chicago March 9th.

—A horse belonging to a Dunellen plumber named Giles, ran away this morning, breaking both shafts of the wagon. It was stopped at Jackson avenue.

—On account of the train being five hours late the funeral of Mrs. Sophia Dmearest will be held at 7 o'clock tonight at the residence of her sister, Mrs. N. P. Drake, 165 Somerset street.

Miss Carrie Mulford is seriously ill with heart trouble at her home in East Fifth street. Owing to her condition her brother, Armstrong Mulford, and his bride, were yesterday summoned home from Old Point Comfort, where they were enjoying their honeymoon. They arrived home this morning.

HOW TO GET MARRIED WITHOUT ANY EXPENSE

Wedding Gown, An Evening Dress Suit, Music and All Incidentals Free of Charge.

JUDGE DRAKE'S OFFER

PHOTOGRAPHS TO BE TAKEN OF THE HAPPY PAIR.

Deed to Building Lot to be Presented to Groom—Silas Dewey Drake Besieged by Women Who Want to Get Married.

There will be more in a marriage than a building lot, if Justice Silas Dewey Drake ties the knot. Squire Drake refuses to believe that sin will ever enter lovely Lincoln, and sees no chance to be busy in his robes of office unless he forms a partnership with Hymen. So he is assiduously making things attractive and alluring to Cupid, and, as was hinted before, it will not only be a house and lot in Piscataway, but other joys that will await the first couple that goes to Squire Drake for the union of souls.

These glad tidings were handed out to a reporter for The Daily Press who went reverently into the great man's presence at Lincoln on Saturday.

"Have you married anyone yet?" asked the reporter:

"My dear sir," replied the Justice. "I have just been notified of my election as justice of the peace of Piscataway township. I am proud of the fact that the Democrats though enough of me not to put up a candidate against me. It is true there is very little to do for a justice at Lincoln, for I have never known of a citizen of Lincoln being arrested for any breach of the peace, and naturally my friends in extending their congratulations on my election, have suggested that I might get busy marrying people. Acting on that thought, knowing that all roads lead to Lincoln, I have prepared myself to help this class of people out in case of an emergency. I shall immediately qualify for the position and assume duties on May 1, the date when my commission from the Governor permits me to act. In the mean time I shall make some preparations to meet all comers. I shall have a few bridal costumes, and artificial wreaths for the brides, and dress suits for bridegroom, which I will have for the occasion. I will also have an Edison phonograph to touch off the wedding march, and on departures of happy couples will spring 'The Good Old Summer Time' or in case of colored couple, it would be 'Carry Me Back to Old Virginia.' I will have a palmist on hand to read the couple's fortune and give them a type written copy of same. I perhaps will have a photographer ready to take photorgaphs of couples, and will have a supply of rice and old shoes ready to give the couple a good send off, so they will have all the good things that the fashionable 400 get. I will also be prepared to take an order from the happy couple for a three or four more outfits of housekeeping furniture and fixings at greatly reduced prices on the installment plan and prices will be very low on account of number I could supply. I shall, myself perform this sacred ceremony of marriage in a gown and will also have intelligent witnesses for all ceremonies. In case a couple should want a church wedding I can fill the bill by performing the ceremony in the Lincoln Sunday-school chapel, seating 150, with organist to furnish music for the occasion. Lincoln has many advantages as a centre for those contemplating marrying; the C. R. R. of N. J., B. and O., P. and R., and Lehigh Valley Railroads stop at the depot with frequent trains day and night, and the trolley service radiates from Lincoln to New York, Philadelphia and all suburban towns. It is true I shall give a deed for a lot at Lincoln, 25x125 free and clear, to first couple I marry after May 1, 1904, and I will offer other inducements. To satisfy all ministers of the Gospel who have worked this industry or trust for many years, to their profit and advantage, I will say, that all fees that I receive for marrying couples while justice at Lincoln I shall give as a nucleus to a fund for the Lincoln Sunday-school, which is but the beginning of a movement for a church that will be built here.

"I have already been asked by women if I can find them good husbands, and one or two men say they are ready to do the act if they can find the woman to marry. I have been very successful in this line as I have helped to make two or three matches that have turned out very happy. I will also promise not to kiss the bride, as has been done by some ministers and justices. I may also take orders from the happy couple to insure their lives. But whatever I do in performing these sacred rites, will be done in a dignified and conscientious way, so that it will contribute to the success, happiness and prosperity of those who contemplate the act."

MINSTRELS A HUGE SUCCESS

Initial Production of Hope Y. M. A.'s Third Annual Show Funnier Than Ever.

WILDLY APPLAUDED

Original Topical Song Produces Spontaneous and Deafening Outbursts of Enthusiasm—In All Parts Spectators Are Kept in Uproarious Laughter.

"If I Only Had the Proper Sort of Pull," sang George B. Cose at the Hope chapel minstrel show last night, I would make Kean and Fowler eat off the same plate; make the Jersey Central trains run occasionally on time; make trouble for the boroughites who turned down a public school project to satisfy their spite; lay out a park and erect in it a statue to the man who owns the North Plainfield Review; force the P. S. C. to give a respectable trolley service; nominate "crazy" Hearst, the man "without brains," for president; and boom Swackhamer for governor introducing him as the second Lincoln all over the State from Cape May to Essex.

This was the topical song of the third annual minstrel entertainment of the Hope Young Men's Association. It was a hit, of course, and the most loudly applauded of all the numbers on the programme. The words and music were written by William N. Runyon. The air is catchy, and full of swing and vigorous movement, and the words are clever.

The show was a success from the time the entire company opened with "Suanne River" until the close of the after-piece, a rollicking farce called "The Coming Man." In this, John Galvin burlesqued the part of Patick Hooligan, the coming man, to perfection. W. N. Runyon was J. Augustus Hawkeye, a heart broken husband, and M. D. Sweeney was his most unfortunate wife. Mr. Sweeney appeared to advantage in woman's apparel and acted the mad woman with a most alarming naturalness. As Shadow, a broken down body servant, John Cose was a whole show in himself. The other parts, Percy, a messenger boy, and Harold, the coal heaver, were taken by B. C. Firstbrook and George B. Cose.

The first part of the programme was devoted to the songs and jokes of the minstrel troupe. The end men, William Holbert, John H. Cose and M. D. Sweney, bones, and Leonce Texier, Bertram C. Firstbrook and G. B. Cose were funny, their jokes were original and their songs well sung. This part of the programme in detail was as follows:

Suanee River, by the company; grand overture; Opening chorus, My Honey Lou, by the company: airy persiflage, Mr. Firstbrook; On the Banks of the Old Yazoo, Mr. Bertram F. Tallamy; Let Me In, That's All, Mr. Sweeney and company; Free Speech, Mr. Texier; I'm Going to Leave, Mr. Firstbrook; Remember I Love You, Mr. Muir and company; Prose and Poetry, Mr. Holbert; Take Me Back to Old Virginia, Mr. Louis V. Tallamy and company; Show Me the Way to Go Home Babe, Messrs. Sweeney and Firstbrook and company; Temporary Aberration, Mr. John H. Cose; Doan You Cry Ma Honey, Mr. Jeffery; He Was a Sailor, Mr. Texier and company; Little Foolishness, Mr. George B. Cose; Sunny Africa, Mr. John H. Cose and company; Topical Song, If I Only Had the Proper Sort of Pull, Mr. George B. Cose and company; Words, Words, Words, Mr. Sweeney; Final Chorus. General Hardtack on Guard, by the company.

The show was the best ever given by the Hope boys and is among the best ever presented in Plainfield by any troupe. It will be repeated tonight and Friday.

Judge Runyon had charge of the production, coached the performers, was musical director and presided at the piano.

In the second part of the programme, A. E. Willard enertained with his laughable "Rube" act and his inimitable musical stunts. A clog dance, "Essence of Old Virginny," was performed by William Holbert, John Cose, George Cose, Leonce Texier, B. C. Firstbrook and M. D. Sweeney, and made a merry hit. Elmer D. Cutting sang a couple of illustrated songs that furnished pathos, and John and James Galvin pres-

PARENTS VIEW WORK OF BOROUGH PUPILS

Splendid Exhibition of Samples in Wood-work, Drawing and Sewing Done at School.

IN MANUAL TRAINING

STEADY STREAM OF VISITORS ALL AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

The Instructors Explain Courses in Manual Work—Some of Those Whose Achievements Are Worthy of Mention—Artistic Basketry.

Some idea of the character of the training received by the pupils of the borough schools in the annual training department was obtained by mothers and friends of the young people at an exhibition held in the main room of the Somerset street building yesterday afternoon and evening. Complete assortments of work from the wood-work, drawing and sewing classes were shown, from 1 o'clock until 9. The exhibit was largely attended by visitors who evinced a great deal of interest in the showing.

R. H. Sander, instructor in wood-work; Miss Bessie Taylor, the sewing teacher; Miss Laura M. Suydenham, the drawing instructor; and Superintendent H. J. Wightman were in charge of the exhibit, explaining the various bits of work shown.

Most of the woodwork, which formed the center of the exhibit, was placed on a long table. Instructor Sander said that the best work of the High School pupils had been given away for Christmas gifts, but a surprising variety of elaborate woodwork designs was seen. Among the things shown was a carved chair, tables, flower stands, gloveboxes, mineral cabinets, medicine cabinets, mirror frames, picture frames, placques, towel racks, envelope boxes, whisk broom holders, pen trays, letter boxes, comb cases, bead loom, checker board, magazine rack, book cases, picture easels and a complete magazine rack, and other interesting things.

On a separate table was shown specimens of the work of the fifth and sixth grades, original designs in thin wood, including clock shelves and paper knives. Fifty patterns were shown by the fifth grade, and 30 different patterns and exercises from the sixth grade, showing the need of accuracy in ruler and care in the use of tools. Original exercises and designs, including such things as footstools and book racks, were shown by the seventh grade.

Chief among the pieces shown in the woodwork was a carved chair of standard size, the work of Wiliam Cubberley. There are two dozen girls in the woodwork department, and some of the notable bits on exhibition was done by them. One in particular, a carved panel of striking design and execution, was shown by Ethel Quipp. Other striking bits of work in woodcarving were by Clarence Steiner, Frank Webster, William Nischwitz, George Howe, Leslie Powlison, Harold Hamilton, Arthur Dunning, Randolph Chandler, Ernest Powlison, Charles Doughty, William Burtis. All the work was surprisingly good, both as to design and execution.

Owing to the recent illness of Miss Suydenham, the drawing exhibit was not wholly complete, but some striking bits of original color work was shown, particularly a framed water color of still life by Ethel Quipp. For the most part, the drawing work was that of the first stage.

In the sewing exhibit there was an interesting display of work representing the fifth and sixth years, the best of which was a complete apron, cap and cuffs for use in cooking department.

Basketry work of the High School and grammar grades were shown, with waste baskets, fruit and flower trays, napkin rings, candy and work baskets. Artistic effects in raffia reed and splints, and Indian sewnwork, attracted a lot of attention. Laurence Milne, Mary Wyckoff, Marion Overton and Mary Neal were among those whose work drew frequent admiring comment.

Beginners' and advanced students' work in mechanical drawing, which included a complete set of isometric drawings, was also shown.

Superintendent Wightman is an enthusiastic supporter of the manual training idea, and devotes a great deal of thought to the department under his charge. Its work was particularly commented on, with high favor, in the recent report of the State Board of Education.

SCOTCH PLAINS' HARMONIOUS MEETING

First Annual Session Since Township and Borough Were Merged Into One District.

BOARD'S COMPOSITION

CITIZENS WELL SATISFIED WITH CONDUCT OF THE SCHOOLS.

Appropriation for Year Fixed at $40.25—Ira Gage Chosen President and Thomas J. Nicholl District Clerk After Public Meeting.

The first annual school meeting held since the new school law has been passed, which consolidated the town ship and borough into one school district, was held in the assembly room of the school last night. But little interest was manifested in the meeting by the taxpayers, this signifying that the voters are satisfied with the work of their Board of Education and with the high standing the school has attained.

The yearly report, read by District Clerk T. J. Nicholl, shows that the past year has been one of the best in the history of the school, both financially, in point of attendance and from the interested manifested by the pupils in their work. Much of the latter praise is due to Professor Howard D. White and his able corps of assistants. The library connected with the school is of the best and the librarian's report shows that it is well patronized by the pupils.

At the close of the reporet the election of trustees and voting on the appropriation was taken up. The Board under the new law consists of nine members. The terms of all but two of these expiring (the hold-overs being T. J. Nicholl and Dr. F. W. Westcott), the seven retiring members being as follows: One year, Charles Haberle, I. H. L. Todd, S. G. Horsen; two years, T. A. Haskard; three years, J. E. Goodman, I. G. Walker, president, A. D. Beekon. All were re-elected.

The appropriation asked met with the approval of the voters, the amount being the same as last year, $4,025. Immediately at the close of the meeting the Board organized Ira Gage Walker was re-elected president and Thomas J. Nicholl district clerk.

MRS. D. J. YERKES PRESIDENT

ANNUAL MEETING OF FIRST BAPTIST WOMEN'S HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Election of officers and interesting reports from the field occupied the atention of the members of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Baptist church, yesterday afternoon, when the annual meeting was held. There was an unusually large attendance of members and friends.

An interesting letter was read from Miss McClain, a missionary among the Hopi tribe of Indians in Arizona. This tribe is known as one of the most peaceful and the missionary's description of her work among these Indians was encouraging. Mrs. D. J. Yerkes also read a letter telling of the work among the Crow tribe of Indians. This showed that much progress is being made in the cause of religion.

Mrs. O. B. Leonard, Mrs. Hannah Flanders and Miss Anna Boice were appointed a committee to arrange for the anniversary meeting to be held soon. It is hoped that the committee will be able to secure Miss Melby, of Ellis Island, to make an address at the meeting. The date will not be fixed until it is learned when Miss Melby can be present.

These officers were elected: President, Mrs. David J. Yerkes; vice presidents, Mrs. John D. Runyon, Mrs. Frank Biglow, Mrs. John H. French, Mrs. S. T. Wilson; secretary, Mrs. W. Kempton Browning; treasurer, Mrs. George H. Batchelor; collectors, Mrs. Walter M. McGee, Mrs. John H. French, Mrs. John D. Runyon and Mrs. S. B. Joseph. The only change in the officers is that of secretary, Miss Laura J. Runyon feeling obliged to resign. Mrs. Browning was chosen in her place.

ISAAC LEDERER SELLS HIS BUSINESS

Old Established and Reliable House Disposed of by Him After Years of Activity.

LEVY BROS. PURCHASE

SKETCH OF MR. LEDERER AND THE LUCRATIVE BUSINESS CONDUCTED.

The Retiring Owner Will Travel in Europe and May Engage In Business Again—Will Continue As a Resident in Plainfield.

After a successful business career of thirty-five years in this city, Isaac Lederer, the dry goods merchant, today sold his business on West Front street, opposite Somerset, to Levy Brothers, of Freehold. The purchasers have, during the past ten years, conducted a general department store at Freehold, where they have established a successful business. The firm is associated with other stores in Red Bank and Perth Amboy and they intend to conduct the Plainfield store on the same high scale as the other ones. Possession will be taken April 1.

Mr. Lederer has been identified with the business interests of this city for thirty-five years. He started in the store on Somerset street now occupied by J. P. Humble and from there moved to the store on West Front street where John Wirth is located. For a time he was a partner with the late David Boehm and at one time he conducted a store at the corner of Front and Somerset streets, the property owned by J. A. Blatz. By adhering strictly to principles of business integrity he has enjoyed a large and increasing patronage.

Mr. Lederer now intends to take a trip to Europe this summer, accompanied by his wife. Later on he may engage in the sale of imported articles. Albert Lederer, his son, who has been associated with him in business, will leave the dry goods trade and will accept an exceptional opportunity in the real estate business in Brooklyn. He will continue his residence in this city.

ANOTHER FIREMEN BILL

ASSEMBLY SWACKHAMER MAKING SECOND ATTEMPT TO BLOCK SMALLEY.

Another bill designed to upset the plans of Mayor Smalley with regard to the borough fire department was introduced in the Assembly yesterday by Assemblyman Swackhamer.

It provides that whenever a petition signed by 20 per cent. of the voters of a borough shall ask for a vote on the question, an election to decide whether the fire department system shall be changed must be ordered by the council. The bill operates whether the existing department is on a paid basis or volunteer.

Assemblyman Swackhamer said this morning that the believed the bill would pass. Members of the other party, he said, had assured him that they thought the measure a fair and a wise one.

Should the act pass, there is no doubt that the necessary petition would be presented to the North Plainfield Council without loss of time.

WARREN TOWNSHIP MEETING

FREEHOLDER CODINGTON'S TICKET ELECTED AT SCHOOL MEETING.

Freeholder Joel Codington's ticket won out easily yesterday afternoon at the annual school meeting of Warren township, held in Fairview Hall, Mt. Bethel. There was an opposition ticket led by the former district clerk, Robert Zergiebel, but it failed to make its appearance at the meeting, and the regular ticket went through without any trouble. There was a large attendance of voters. Politically the School Board stands five Republicans and four Democrats.

Charles Bolomy and Theodore S. Quick were elected for two years and Joseph Zeglio, Wm. G. Cooper and Fred Wiegand for three years. After the election the School Board effected this organization: President, Horace Codington; vice president, W. Howard Toms; district clerk, John C. Cooper. The appropriation was fixed at $650.

POLITICS LEADS TO A BUSINESS HITCH

Mayor Smalley Tenders His Resignation as a Director of First National Bank.

CLERKS DISPLEASED HIM

HE THINKS THEY WORKED AGAINST HIM AT ELECTION.

Tells the Directors He Does Not Desire to Remain Where Harmony is Absent—The Board Urges Him To Stay.

As a result of the bitterness of the political conflict in North Plainfield Mayor Smalley has resigned from the directorate of the First National Bank.

It is said upon the best authority that the Mayor was angered by the supposed affiliation of two of the bank clerks with the Citizens' Union, and immediately after the election he determined to sever all connection with the insitution. This was confirmed at the bank this morning.

Mayor Smalley atended a meeting of the directors yesterday morning to say something in connection with his resignation. He explained that he felt out of place in an institution where everyone was not in harmony with his ideas, and did not desire to remain where men who could work with him chose to do the other thing.

All the other members of the board expressed regret over the prospect of his withdrawal from the body, and he was urged to reconsider his action. The Mayor's attitude appeared to undergo a change, and the board is inclined to believe that the resignation will be withdrawn. Action upon it was deferred by the board.

CHURCH SOCIETY'S OFFICERS

YOUNG LADIES' ORGANIZATION OF FIRST BAPTIST HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING.

Encouraging reports and the election of officers comprised the principal business at the annual meeting of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society, of the First Baptist church, held yesterday afternoon The meeting was postponed from last week, the regular date, owing to the lack of a quorum.

Miss Florence Serrell, treasurer, gave a partially complete statement of the society's finances, explaining that there is yet some money to be collected. The present balance in the treasury is $134, a considerable increase over last year. It was announced that the net proceeds from the recent supper were $66.34. Of the sum total received during the year two-thirds is given to foreign missions and one-third to home missions.

The report of the secretary, Miss Carro Bird, was full of interest, showing that the society has been very active during the past year and has accomplished much.

These officers were elected: President, Miss Ada Fountain first vice president, Mrs. Frank Jones; second vice president, Miss Hattie French; treasurer, Miss Florence Serrell; secretary, Miss Carro Bird; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Robins; collector, Mrs. Robert W. Barnes.

After the election some time was spent in an informal discussion of plans for the coming year.

After some discussion as to the amount of money asked for by the Board, 58 votes were cast as follows: For current school expenses, $3,200, 53 votes; for repairs, $500, 54 votes for text books, $300, 55 votes. On motion of J. Y. Wilson, the Board was given a vote of thanks.

FACTS AND FIGURES CONCERNING SCHOOLS

Interesting Items Gleaned From Report Presented by Mr. Joy at School Meeting.

WONDERFUL GROWTH

PRESENT ENROLLMENT OF PUPILS IN BOROUGH EXACTLY 1,165.

Funded Debt Now Amounts to $37,500—Last of Outstanding Bonds to be Paid in 1914—As to the Special School Tax.

There are a number of interesting facts and figures in the report presented to the borough voters last night by President Joy of the School Board. It sheds a clear light on the condition of he borough schools system.

Since 1902 the enrollment has increased by 94, making the present total 1,165 pupils. There are 130 in the kindergarten, 540 in the primary department, 340 in the grammar department, and 155 in the High School. While the exact figures on this matter have not yet been compiled, it is apparent that the average attendance this year will be lower than that of last year. President Joy says the reluctance of parents to send their children to overcrowded rooms is responsible for this to a great extent. The rigorous weather of the winter is also supposed to have contributed to the falling off.

Through a combination of circumstanchs, chiefly the careful and constant supervision of the medical examiner, the schools have been free from epidemics all the year.

The property of the school district has remained the same as last year. Bonds to the amount of $3,500 were retired on July 1, 1903, leaving the funded debt $37,500. The last of the outstanding bonds will be paid for in 1914, leaving the Somerset street and Watchung avenue properties free and clear.

Last March the School Board succeeded in getting the special school tax in full from the borough for the first time. Until then the borough had paid over the tax as it was collected, and at the end of the year there was always part of the appropriation due. The Board convinced the Council that the law meant the body to pay the appropriation in yfull, whether collected by the borough or not, and the resulting settlement eased the financial condition of the Board very materially.

In the past ten years the school enrollment has increased 5 per cent., which represents 400 pupils in numbers. The appropriations asked for from the people reached high water mark two years ago, when $18,000 was asked for. Despite the steady continuance of growth, the Board has kept the appropriations within that figure. Since then the number of pupils has increased by 100. The school text book library includes 8,000 volumes.

It is estimated that the borough has accumulated enough educational machinery to last for ten years. Although the State apportionment will not be made until April, it is almost certain that the amount to be allowed the borough from that source will be $12,000. The appropriation asked for this year for current expenses is only greater by $360 than that of last year.

President Joy makes complimentary reference to the work of the ladies' auxiliary committee of the Manual Training Department. The committees' suggestions and hints have been found very valuable. The committee is composed of Mrs. C. W. McCutchen, Mrs. J. O. McKelvey and Mrs. Samuel Townsend.

POLICE PUZZLED.

Say Evidence of Poison in Crudup Cake is Slight.

By questioning all the bakers in the city the police have discovered that the cake sent to Rev. E. J. Crudup was not bought in Plainfield. They claim that the evidences of poison in the cake were slight, though agreeing with Dr. A. W. Love that it contained a small amount of poison similar to rough-on-rats.

REPUBLICANS AGAIN ROUTED

Citizens' Party Wins in Contest for Members of Board at Borough School Meeting.

AN EXCITING SCENE

Mayor Smalley's Speech Cut Short by the Loud Jeers of His Political Enemies — His Charges Against Dr. Cooley Caused the Disturbance.

Relentlessly following the advantages gained last Tuesday, the Citizens' Union delivered another blow to the administration at the borough school election last night. The regular Republicans met their opponents squarely in battle, but Mayor Smalley's forces were routed, horse, foot and dragoons.

The two tickets in the field were made up as follows: Citizens' Union, James R,. Joy, Dr. J. H. Cooley, Former Mayor H. E. Needham; Republicans, James R. Joy, H. R. Munger, Ernest A. Lowe. Mr. Joy appeared on both tickets, because the Citizens recognized his ability and valuable service, and desired to pay tribute to them.

Of the 445 votes cast Dr. Cooley received 252, and Mr. Needham 250. Mr. Joy received 436 votes. Mr. Munger received 197 votes, and 189 were cast for Mr. Lowe.

It was a highly exciting affair all the way through, and at one time it threatened to become tempestuous. All the leaders on both sides were present to marshal their forces, the opposing ranks being led by Mayor Smalley and A. V. D. Honeyman. Both sides had some difficulty in getting out all the voters they desired, but the vote cast was the largest ever polled at a North Plainfield school election.

When the meeting opened at 8 o'clock, the big room of the Somerset Street schoolhouse, where the vote was taken, was jammed to the limit of its capacity. Practicaly every one of the ex-volunteer department was there, talking and working against the Mayor at every opportunity. And pretty nearly the whole crowd stayed throughout the evening until the count was completed.

The meeting organized with the election of George Rogers as chairman. Herbert Case was made secretary and T. S. Armstrong, John Steiner, S. B. Joseph and William Rowley tellers. After President Joy had read his annual report on the condition of the schools, the meeting was thrown open to the voers.

From somewhere in tthe crowd Recorder Doud fired a question at the board that started a fierce little tempest. Reviving the charge made during the recent campaign, the Recorder asked if Dr. Cooley had not offered a lot belonging to him for a school site to the board. In an instant the air was filled with cat-calls, hoots and jeers from the antis. President Joy's reply, to the effect that no lot known to be the property of Dr. Cooley had been offered the board, was hardly audible above the hubbub.

When the noise had died down somewhat Mayor Smalley arose to speak and called the howls out again in redoubled volume.

In opening he Mayor made a somewhat significent statement. "It is time to close the division between the people of the borough," he said, "and I, for one, am ready to join in getting together, and have been."

From there he branched to a reiteration of the charge against Dr. Cooley. "If Dr. Cooley denies it," he said, "I am able to prove it."

At that point the anti host let itself loose in a chorus of howls and jeers that prevented a continuance of the Mayor's speech. E. A. Overton sprang to his feet to deny the charge against Dr. Cooley, but he could not be heard above the noise. It was several minutes before the crowd was quieted, but there was no more excitement of that nature. None of the leaders made any effort to speak, and the balance of the meeting passed off peacefully. The antis held themselves until the result of the vote was announced, when they jarred the building with a burst of cheering.

The appropriations—$158,40 for current expenses, $1,970 for manual training—were carried by what was practically a unanimous vote. About 120 voters forgot to ballot on the appro-

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Virginian," at the Manhattan, the popular stage version of Owen Wister's romance is receiving the appreciation it deserves. "The Virginian" gives one of the smoothest performances ever seen on the metropolitan stage, every character being impersonated with remarkable skill and verity. Dustin Farnum, as the unnamed hero of the story, is ideal in his role, and the popularity that he won at a bound on the production of the play has been increased, if that has been possible, at every performance. Among actors he has become one of the idols of Broadway, and this may be said without injustice to the clever players in his support, every one of whom has made legions of friends among the masses that keep the Manhattan crowded from night to night. The regular matinees at the Manhattan drew largely from suburban towns, this theatre having come into favor by its reduction of prices to $1.50 for the best seats with a corresponding tariff for other places. At the Wednesday matinees of "The Virginian" souvenirs are given to lady patrons, although this play in itself is such delighting entertainment that those who witness it once are sure to wish to see it again.

"As You Like It" is being presented to crowded houses at Daly's Theatre, with Miss Edith Wynne Matthison as Rosalind and "Ben" Greet as the melancholy Jaques. Mr. Greet's players, who have found so much favor in "Everyman," and more recently "Twelfth Night," are not altogether strangers in "As You Like It," for they appeared in Shakespeare's comedy out of doors last May on the Columbia College grounds. "As You Like It" retains its charm, particularly in Miss Matthison's delightful interpretation of the character of Rosalind. Her reading is admirable. Others may have brought to the character a lighter touch, perhaps, but few, if any, greater personal charm and intelligence. The Jaques of Mr. Greet is too well known to call for comment at this day other than that it is again thoroughly artistic. J. Sayer Crawley is Orlando—rather a slightly built Orlando to dispose of Charles, the wrestler, but otherwise satisfying—and George Riddell as the banished Duke, William F. Owen as Adam, B. A. Field as Touchstone, St. Clair Bayfield as Corin and Miss Alys Rees as Celia are excellent.

"The County Chairman," at Wallack's Theatre, New York, is approaching the third month of what has every indication of being an all winter run. It has been until now the history of plays laid in rural surroundings that their popularity, no matter how great, has been of slow and gradual development. "The County Chairman," however, reversed this precedent, as it did several others. The opening audience at Wallack's was not large for a first night crowd, but everybody in the house was so delighted with the pure and wholesome merriment in which the piece abounds, no less than the honest sentiment of its love story, that it was recommended on every hand. The very next evening the theatre was packed, and since then there has rarely been a vacant seat, even at the Wednesday matinees, when most playhouse are slackest in attendance. "The County Chairman" is unquestionably the great hit of the year in New York.

At the Princess Theatre Sydney Rosenfeld presents his stock company "The Century Players" in a revival of Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing." The performance is excellent. The Beatrice of Miss Jessie Millward is the special feature of the play. This capable actress is superb in elocution and technique, charming in appearance, and in the more serious phases of the character—as when she incites Benedick to a duel to avenge the honor of her cousin Hero—was natural and effective. She possesses the vivacity, the sparkle and the spontaneity that should carry conviction in the lighter scenes. The Shakespearian comedy is preceded by an "allegory," specially prepared for the occasion, in which "Art" gasps hands first with "Tradition" and then with "Progress," promising to respect the first in so far as she is worthy of respect, but to bestow her chief attention upon "Progress." In this allegory Miss Kahn as "Art" carries off all the honors. She speaks her lines with good elocutionary effect and with an intelligent conception of their meaning.

William H. Thompson, the star of James K. Hackett's production of "The Secret of Polichinelle" at the Garden Theatre has played many great parts with very great success but the one he is enacting at present is the greatest as well as the most successful of all he has ever played. M. Jouvenal is an old Frenchman of a type common in France but one which Americans will probably think over-drawn, for to an American business man it seems inconceivable that a man could be so simple, so easily amused and content with such humdrum surroundings. Yet the way audiences applaud nightly shows that even the commercial American can appreciate sentiment when it is cleverly portrayed. "The Secret of Polichinelle" is the season's comedy success beyond a doubt. It is the most talked of play in New York and its run at the Garden Theatre will continue until Mr. Savage, its new lessee demands it for his own productions. Then "Polichinelle" will move to another New York theatre for several are endeavoring to obtain the sweet little play.

Mrs. J. A. Powlison, of the borough, who has been quite ill for some time past, is now able to sit up a portion of the time.

Miss Marie Woolston, of Fairview avenue, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Herbert Woodland, of Newark.

Mrs. E W. Mills has been detained at her home in the Stillman building with an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Thomas Coffey, of North avenue, is confined to the house by illness.

Raymond McVoy, of East Front street, has returned from a visit to friends in Elizabeth.

John McGrath, of this city, is convalescing at the hospital from the effects of a recent severe fall.

MINERS' WAGE SCALE

Coal Workers In Nine States Vote on Reduction.

RESULT NOT YET DETERMINED.

Reports From Fifty Points Indicate That the Owners' Proposition to Decrease Pay 5 1-2 Per Cent Will Be Accepted.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 16.—One hundred and ninety thousand coal miners of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, western and central Pennsylvania, Michigan, Iowa, eastern Kentucky, West Virginia and Maryland dropped their picks at noon to cast their ballots on the proposition to accept or refuse the offer of the mine owners for a two year scale at a reduction of 5½ per cent from the present scale of wages. The voting was done by ballot.

The ballots were in charge of the secretaries of the local lodges of the United Mine Workers of America, each miner being handed one favoring acceptance of the scale and another favoring its rejection. The secretaries will forward the result to the national headquarters here, and they will be counted tomorrow. The national tellers to count the votes here will be Nat Charlton of Streator, Ill.; William Fitzsimmons of Dunmore, Pa., and James Pritchard of Hemlock, O.

Reports have been received here from about fifty points. In practically all of them, including towns in Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and Illinois, the sentiment as voted is heavily in favor of accepting the scale as offered. President Mitchell and Secretary Wilson have remained at the national headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America to receive any telegraphic returns, although they said they had arranged for none in advance. Both were confident that the miners had voted in favor of the scale.

Two to One For Acceptance.

BAY CITY, Mich., March 16.—A report that is being generally accepted here coming from a reliable source is to the effect that the vote of the miners of the Saginaw valley on the proposition submitted by the operators at the Indianapolis convention was two to one in favor of acceptance. The vote will not be given out until after it is counted at national headquarters.

Permanent Camps Chosen.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The house committee on military affairs agreed on four sites for permanent military camp grounds and authorized a favorable report on a bill for their purchase. Provision also is made for the enlargement of the Chattanooga and Chickamauga National park by the acquisition of 10,000 acres, to cost $100,000. The camp sites selected are: At Fort Sam Houston, Tex., 25,000 acres, to cost $125,000; Camp Douglas, in Juneau and Mourai counties, Wis., 20,000 acres, to cost $400,000; Conewago valley, in Lebanon, Dauphin and Lancaster counties, Pa., 18,000 acres, to cost $900,000; the J. N. Henry ranch, San Luis Obispo county, Cal., 22,000 acres, to cost $500,000.

Pitiable Case of Two Old Sisters.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16.—Mary Farrell, known also as Mary Hansel, aged sixty-one years, was found dead, and her sister, Mrs. Bridget Kennedy, sixty-five years of age, was found demented in an unfurnished frame house here, the result, according to the police, of starvation. The dead woman and her sister were entirely nude when found, the demented woman having stripped the clothing from both their persons and torn it into shreds. Neighbors claim that the old couple were left in the empty house five weeks ago by a nephew and niece, for whom the police have instituted a search.

Think Marx Is Lying.

BUFFALO, March 16.—Austin Crowe, an east side saloon keeper, was shot and killed on June 28, 1902. The details of the crime are similar to those for which Marx, the Chicago car barn murderer, has been sentenced to death, the murder following a holdup. Three men giving the names of Charles Green, John Doyle, alias Fred Mercer, and John Richards were arrested for the crime, but they were acquitted. Superintendent Bull said: "I think Marx is lying. He has read about these crimes in the papers and is making up the story."

Embezzling Postmaster Arrested.

NEW YORK, March 16.—On a charge of embezzling government funds amounting to $344 August Hauser, postmaster at Hicksville, N. Y., has been arrested there and was later arraigned before United States Commissioner Morle in Brooklyn and held to await the action of the grand jury. The accused waived examination.

Northern Pacific Meeting Adjourned.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The adjourned annual meeting of the Northern Pacific railway was again adjourned until May 17, no business being transacted. The majority of Northern Pacific stock is owned by the Northern Securities company, which has been enjoined from voting this stock; hence the repeated adjournments.

Yale Student and Millionaire.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 16.—The Fifth Minnesota district Republicans have elected W. W. Heffelfinger and C. A. Smith delegates to the national convention. The former is the famous Yale football guard; the latter is a millionaire lumberman.

WAS AN IRISH RUSE

Balfour's Government Defeated by Majority of Eleven.

MEMBERS CAUGHT OUT AT LUNCH

Coup Was Planned by Redmond and Sir Thomas Esmonde to Force a Division In the House of Commons.

LONDON, March 16.—Premier Balfour's government has been defeated in the house of commons by the combined Liberal and Nationalist vote. This reverse was due to the prohibition by Mr. Wyndham, chief secretary for Ireland, of the teaching of Gaelic in the junior grades of the Irish National schools. Mr. Balfour, though defeated by a majority of 11 on this question, does not regard the vote as one of want of confidence, and he will not resign on this account.

JOHN REDMOND.

The defeat was by 141 to 130 votes on a motion of John Redmond, the Irish leader, for a reduction of the Irish education estimates. As it was in the nature of a snap division engineered by the Nationalists, the government refused to resign, but it was regarded as another straw showing the direction of the wind.

Mr. Redmond's motion was made with the object of calling attention to Irish grievances. The division was taken almost immediately after the commencement of the discussion, when the Liberals and Nationalists were in full force in the house.

The defeat of the government was the result of a successful coup planned by Mr. Redmond and the senior whip of the Irish parliamentary party, Sir Thomas Esmonde. Mr. Redmond and Sir Thomas decided to force a division almost immediately after questions time, when the greater number of the government supporters would still be quietly lunching at their clubs. The maneuver succeeded to perfection.

When the clerk of the house handed the division paper to Sir Thomas Esmonde there was a perfect hurricane of cheers from the opposition, lasting several minutes. William Redmond in his exuberance snatched a hat from the head of a colleague and waved it wildly.

The members rushed in, and a terrible din prevailed.

Ultimately sufficient quiet was restored to enable the figures of the vote to be called out.

The failure of the government to carry the house with it on a question of purely administrative policy in its Irish department is generally admitted to greatly weaken its already waning prestige with the country, although it is not thought probable that any immediate development will ensue. In the house of commons itself, to use the words of a prominent member of the opposition, "all the artillery in the government arsenals would not make them surrender office."

The strategy with which the whole coup was planned and the scenes that marked its culmination recalled the times when Gladstone and Parnell waged a titanic struggle in the same arena.

Man Cremated at Fowler, N. Y.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., March 16.—Samuel Chatman, a half demented individual of Gouverneur, was cremated in a fire which destroyed the residence of Mrs. Emeline Potter Britton in Fowler, St. Lawrence county. Two octogenarians, Mrs. Emily Potter and Mrs. Mary Woodard, barely escaped with their lives. The fire was discovered by a child awakened by the smoke. The origin is unknown; loss, about $5,000.

Marcum Suit For $100,000.

WINCHESTER, Ky., March 16.—Senator Alexander Hargis, Judge James Hargis, B. F. French and Edward Callahan have filed separate answers to the damage suit for $100,000 filed by the widow and infant children of James B. Marcum. The defendants deny the jurisdiction of the court on the ground that the killing was in Breathitt county and also deny the charge of conspiracy to kill Marcum.

To Restrain Women Tipplers.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 16.—Prohibition of the sale of liquor by department stores is favored by the Antisaloon league in a bill now in the hands of Assemblyman Newcomb. Superintendent Russell of the league says the evil of such sale is much greater than is generally known and that large numbers of women shoppers purchase liquor in small flasks and drink it in the retiring rooms of the stores.

Arabo Won the Handicap.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The Price horses were again at the front at Oakland, Hainault being the only favorite to win. A six furlong handicap was the main attraction. Arabo won easily from Ocean Breeze.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 16, 1904.

By its victory in the Northern Securities merger case, the present administration has robbed The Commoner of its commonest argument.

Charles Schwab's enmity towards the American reporter is probably the greatest tribute that the "great financier" could bestow on the newspaper men.

Bourke Cockran had better take some lessons in Democratic principles. He believes that the party should nominate a military man for President.

Buffalo Bill, the terror of the Red Man, has instituted proceedings in divorce against his wife. He charges cruelty. Now don't laugh for Mr. Cody is serious.

Rumors of strife and travail are wafted across the borough line, but from a casual survey of the situation it would appear that the North Plainfielders are taking things very Cooley.

Mr. Bryan declares that Grover Cleveland could not be elected if nominated. Considering its source, the prediction is the most encouraging news that the friends of Princeton's sage have received.

The Elks in Passaic, Bayonne and Perth Amboy are considering plans for the erection of halls for their own use. If they don't get a hustle on, the Plainfield Elks will likely stalk in ahead of them in carrying out the scheme.

Almost any publicity scheme will bring some returns, but it is the growing opinion that without the aid of newspapers any method must fall far short of its possibilities, says the Philadelphia Record. Elaborate booklets, catalogues, circulars, calendars and various trinkets fail to reach the people for whom they are intended without being advertised in the newspapers. Thus a whisky company issues an advertising paper intended to take the place of newspaper advertising, but the manager says it was not until he bought newspaper space that he received calls for his sheet.

priations, 328 votes being cast for them. 38 marked their disapproval of manual training by scratching the smaller appropriaion. 290 votes were cast for it.

No expression on the sentiment of the public regarding the new school's location was obtained. The board members desired to bring the matter up, but when the anti-Smalley outburst occured they decided that the matter held too many explosive qualities to be broached. Dr. Carroll had been fully prepared to start debate on the question, but he gave up his plans as soon as the result of the Mayor's charge against Dr. Cooley occurred. He said afterwards that he feared grave disturbance of the peace would have accompanied the expected debate.

SULPHUR SPRINGS NEAR HERE

WATER WITH CURATIVE PROPERTIES FLOWS IN PASSAIC VALLEY.

Those who trust in the curative properties of sulphur springs have no need of going far from Plainfield to obtain treatment. Down in the Passaic valley, over the second mountain, about six miles from here, is a spring of bluish water in which little white particles of sulphur are constantly shooting to the surface. The stones and sticks at the bottom of the spring are covered with a shaggy coating that resembles canton flannel more than anything else.

The curative qualities of the water have been declared by medical experts to be quite equal to those of famous springs to which tourists and health-seekers resort in large numbers every year at the expense of much time and money. So strongly is the spring impregnated with the sulphur that when the wind is favorable, the odor is perceptible at a considerable distance.

Not fifty feet away from the sulphur spring is a second spring of water, clear and pure and absolutely free from any evidence of sulphur. It is cold as the north wind and a tonic in its refreshing qualities. The presence of the two so near each other along the banks of the Passaic river is most unusual.

The fact that so few Plainfielders know of those springs is often remarked by those aware of their existence. The trip to the Passaic from here is over a beautiful rolling country and the scenery where the springs are located is strikingly picturesque. Those who have noted the beauties of the surroundings of the springs and have quaffed their waters have wondered why an enterprising hotel keeper has not seen his opportunity to make profit of their attractions. They say that a properly advertised hotel or sanitarium at the spot would be a certain success.

Martha Washington Council, No. 23, Daughters of America, will hold a masquerade at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Welsh, of McKinley avenue, tomorrow evening.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The last snow proved something of a blow to the local weather prophet, W. H. Cole, who had predicted that the previous storm was destined to be the last until next November. Mr. Cole accounts for the failure of his prophecy by the fact that when he was making his predictions of the number of storms for the winter the moon was clouded over for a space of several nights.

A warrant is out for the arrest of Fred Winters, a white man charged with committing an assault upon a colored girl in the night lunch room of the station at the trolley terminus Sunday night. It is thought that the man has gone to New Brunswick.

CHICAGO STRIKE RIOTS.

Can Company Men Stone Teamsters Who Would Not Join Them.

CHICAGO, March 16.—A series of riots have occurred here between striking employees of the American Can company and union teamsters who had refused to quit work in sympathy with the strike. The first disturbance occurred on the north side of the city at one of the stables of the can company, a number of men being injured and two pickets arrested.

Two pickets were doing duty in the neighborhood when six teamsters attempted to leave the stables with teams. The pickets by signals summoned about twenty helpers. The drivers were stoned and dragged from the wagons, the assailants escaping when a patrol wagon loaded with police arrived.

A second battle started later at the company's south side barn. Escorted by police a number of wagons succeeded, however, in getting halfway to a railway freight house, followed by threatening crowds.

The wagons, with their escort, stopped at the Erie railroad freight house at Clark and Fifteenth streets and were attacked. Girls in the crowd tried to cut the harness and prevent the wagons leaving the freight station. Three of the teamsters armed with long whips and aided by a dozen police and detectives drove back the throng. Girl strikers tried to persuade the union freight handlers to refuse to handle the goods from the wagons. But the freight handlers declined to enter the fight.

GOSSIP OF NEW YORK

OWEN LANGDON'S BUDGET OF GOTHAM CHAT.

FACTORIES IN THE CITY

The Advantages Outweigh the Disadvantages with Manufacturers—Problem of the Gambling Houses—Other Notes.

New York.—A bakery has just been opened in New York which has 20,000 feet of floor area on six floors, or 120,000 feet in all, in which every part of the complicated process of manufacturing fancy biscuit is done by machinery and in which 60,000,000 packages of biscuits can be made in a year.

The Baker's Nightmare.

It is in the heart of the city, a quarter of a block. I wondered why it was put in the midst of the dense throng of humanity, where rents are high and wages must be also, instead of out in the fields where space is plenty and the source of supply of grain nearer.

The directors tell me that advantages in the city outweigh disadvantages. High wages are not so great a detriment in a factory where machinery does everything. In the throng of a city if an employe falls ill the place can be filled at once. If there is a break in the machinery, materials and men for its repair are near. And the biggest market in the country is at the doors.

There are a good many examples of this sort which would repay the sociologist's study. The great printing press works of Hoe & Co. are a conspicuous object in the East side. The Jewish quarter surrounds them and they were the strategic center of the riots that took place at the funeral a year ago of Chief Rabbi Joseph.

Mr. Hoe, who himself has a country home of rare beauty up in the northern limits of the city, gives a similar reason for not moving out. Some of his biggest customers are here. Here it is convenient for purchasers from out of town to visit the works. Here it is easy to get extra machinists. Against these things the cost of the land on which the factory stands and the high wages paid are not paramount.

Printeries in the Suburbs.

Of all forms of factories those that have met with most success in moving out of town are the printing offices of the magazines and other publishing houses.

"City Advantages."

The beautiful building of the Cosmopolitan Magazine at Irvington is a familiar object to people passing it on the Central or on the Hudson boats. It is odd, however, that many of the Cosmopolitan employes continue to live in the city. Every summer afternoon they leave one of the fairest spots on earth, where the air is fresh and cool, and homes are abundant and cheap, and schools the best, and walks and drives elysian—to plunge into the murk and reek of the stifling city and seek their tenement homes. And though the editor in chief makes Irvington his headquarters it is necessary to maintain a New York office.

Mr. Munsey tried to establish his printery as far away as New London, but the success of the experiment was doubtful. Book publishers can do this to rather better advantage when they maintain their own plants, which is not the rule. The Putnams have a plant at New Rochelle, 20 miles away. The Appletons have for many years maintained one in Brooklyn—not the country exactly, but at least it is upon cheap land, and tenements thereabouts for the hands are cheaper than in Manhattan. Some of the book printers' work is done as far out as New Haven.

The Harpers, however, retain to this day a great printing shop on the site of the first essay of the firm, Franklin square. There all their books are printed, though by a pretty bit of sentiment some of Mr. W. D. Howells' fine stories of country life in Ohio have been "set up" by Mr. Howells' brother, who is still, as was Mr. Howells himself in youth, a country printer in that state.

To Gambling, $405,000.

District Attorney Jerome might just as well have said right out in meetin' that the young man who lost $405,000 in five nights' play at faro was Reginald Vanderbilt, and that the gambling house that got the money—by cheating, Jerome says—was Canfield's. Canfield's mysterious agents deny it. That was to be expected.

The Lure.

I suppose that was about the heaviest loss ever sustained in an ordinary gambling house in a single week in this city. At any rate, it was steep enough to make even New York, which has no lack of sensations, talk a little faster for a day or two. It also caused Mr. Vanderbilt at the time of it, some 18 months ago when he was a student in Yale and a minor, some trouble. For months he did not dare come to New York lest he might be arrested as a witness. Since then a ruling has been made by the court, in the case of an older and more cautious and calloused gambler, that Mr. Canfield's patrons need not testify to their losses if they do not wish. Mr. Jerome is trying to have a new law passed which will permit district attorneys to compel testimony. If that law passes we shall either have a new code of honor—that a man shall "perjure himself like a gentleman" as cheerfully for a gambler as now he does for a lady—or else Florida and Newport are going to be popular with a good many New Yorkers.

This little incident illustrates one of the difficulties encountered in trying to keep this town decent. Talk about the dangerous friction of a $1,000 insurance policy against a $500 barn! Imagine the pressure there may be, the money that may mysteriously pass, the risks that police captains may be induced to run, for the sake of a business that is able to fleece a single foolish boy out of nearly half a million in one week!

The smaller gambling houses can be kept shut. The famous ones that choose their customers, men whose code of "honor" will not permit them to testify, are hard to manage.

Two Picturesque Millionaires.

J. Malcolm Forbes died in Boston, Alvinza Hayward in San Francisco. They were as different as two men could well be, but both interesting.

Making a Millionaire.

Forbes was the scion of a family prominent in Boston for generations. He inherited wealth and brains. With the latter he was enabled to see early in its history that Bell Telephone would be very valuable one day, and he became a heavy owner of its stock when it was cheap. So in later years Mr. Forbes was able to maintain a racing stable as famous in its neighborhood as Bonner's. He owned Nancy Hanks. His breeding farm in Canton, Mass., is one of the finest in the world. As a record horse was not enough, Mr. Forbes also was the principal owner of the America's cup defender Puritan.

Not everybody saw the Bell company thus shrewdly. A famous Boston lawyer years ago fought through some complicated lawsuits for the Bell people. Not having any too much money in those days they offered pay in stock. The lawyer should by that time have known as much as anyone about the telephone, but he thanked the directors and said he guessed he could use the money just at that time.

Forbes' country home was in Canton, Mass. Hayward was "raised" in Canton, N. Y. His family are now New Yorkers. His father died early, and as his mother was very poor he was "bound out" to a farmer, whom he served faithfully until he was 21. With his hundred dollars and his "freedom suit" of clothes he drifted west to Minnesota, where he married. The gold fever came and he went on to California, where he was associated with the Bonanza quartette, Flood, Mackay, Fair and O'Brien, in several mining ventures. In the prime of his life he was one of the ten richest men in the country and used to send home valuable presents to the farmer who had reared him. But the old man was nearly 80 when he died and in his later years his fortune had diminished. Whether it is a single million or more or less will depend upon the success of the executors in disentangling a mass of valuable but heavily mortgaged property.

New York's Buddhist Temple.

A number of picturesque Americans of Japanese birth are about to found a Buddhist temple in New York. It would not be strange if it were to have some American born men and women as members.

The Buddhist Elder.

Esoteric Buddhism, whatever that may mean, has for years had many votaries here. Its principles are, as explained by the founders of the temple, "to glorify the essence of Buddhism, to settle each other's belief, to refine individual character and to present its influence to the world." Buddhism by these enlightened votaries is called a great refinement of caste-ridden Brahminism. Indeed, it advocates the "universal brotherhood of humanity without distinction of race, sex, creed or sect." Japan especially since the great awakening of 1867 has been far less divided by absurd caste lines than other eastern nations.

It will be curious to see how Buddhism thrives as an independent religion without state support. There are 35,000 Japanese in the country. As yet the San Francisco temple is the only Buddhist house of worship in the United States. Chinese joss-houses are plenty, but they are different. There is in New York no Japanese quarter and there are scarcely 35 Japanese women in the city. The Japanese men live, eat, dress and talk like other people. Most of them marry American wives, and such an event makes no more of a sensation than weddings in general have a right to make.

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

WRITING AS A BUSINESS

A Few Pregnant Suggestions

"DO you know, I always thought it would be so lovely if I could write!"

"Well, what?"

"Oh—er—stories or poems or something"—

"Why don't you?"

"Oh, I don't know how to go about it!"

That is the sort of conversation you hear if you are in the literary business yourself, and it probably accounts for some of the failures one sees in journalism and practical writing. I don't know why it is that women expect a royal road to success, but most of them do. They don't want to use their own thinkers, their own honest effort. They want to be boosted into a sinecure of a position right away.

READ THE MORNING PAPERS.

They don't want to puzzle out things for themselves. They want to be told the shortest and easiest cut—in other words, how to do things. If they dared, they would ask you to perform the actual work for them.

"I don't know how to go about it."

My dear girl, if you think you can write, or if you know you can write, which is better still, make out a list of suggestions and take them to the editor of your paper—suggestions that he is likely to favor according to the policy of what he prints within his sheets—or else write an article or a good story and send it to the editor of a magazine which prints that sort of thing. If it is good, he will take it.

But so many women fail in journalism and writing! Yes, and do you know why? Because they don't keep their eyes and ears open, because they don't keep up to date. You see a woman who was popular a few years ago, and you wonder why she can no longer sell her wares. It is because she still keeps on writing the same stuff that she wrote five years ago, not taking into consideration that the world changes and advances year by year. No woman who keeps up to date in her writing need be shelved, no matter how old she is. It isn't age, it is mental rheumatism, which is shelved. Why do the writings of the talented Miss Smith invariably come back neatly tagged with a rejection slip? Because the talented but lazy Miss Smith doesn't take the trouble to study the policy of the magazine to which she sends her contributions. She presents an article to a magazine on how to make the home beautiful, devoted to the higher rights of woman, or a serious essay to the monthly Flip Flap, a Magazine of Wit.

Why does that energetic Miss Jones fall so flat (pardon the slang) as a newspaper woman? Because that energetic Miss Jones thinks it is a waste of time to read the morning papers. She would rather give the public something she thinks it ought to have than something in which it is for the moment interested. Read the morning papers, Miss Jones, and see what is in the public eye. It may not be the most elevating kind of stuff, but it's the stuff people want to hear about. And please remember that when you are in the newspaper business your affair is to please the people, no matter how vulgar they are, and not yourself. And don't shut yourself up, Miss White. How can you expect to have ideas? If you are a newspaper writer, you want to make all kinds of friends in every position in life. If you write character sketches and bits of human nature, you won't find your inspiration in a hall bedroom. Go out and mix with people. Accept all the invitations you can, listen to all the conversations, watch all the expressions.

Now, as to the actual writing I can give no better advice than this: Take a hatchet to your sentences. Any writer who uses long sentences is lessening her chances of success by one-half. Forget there is such a thing as a semicolon. When you feel that way use a common, ordinary period. Don't be afraid of paragraphs. They break up a page and make it look easy reading. Write to the point. You can't write too strongly. Use the shortest words you can and incidentally only one side of the paper. Last and not least, think of writing as a business on a business basis, and you will be able to make an income at it. MAUD ROBINSON.

RUSSIAN FLEET AWAY

Makaroff's Squadron Makes a Dash For Vladivostok.

CZAR'S CRUISER DIANA WAS INJURED

Japanese Marines Reported In Dalny—Cruiser Cincinnati Received American Refugees at Chemulpo—Well Treated by Japs.

LONDON, March 16.—A Port Arthur report says that a short engagement took place between the Russian and Japanese fleets on Sunday last, the Russian protected cruiser Diana receiving some injuries. About twenty or thirty shells were exchanged.

At Tokyo it is strongly believed that the Russian fleet abandoned Port Arthur after the fourth attack was made upon it by the Japanese fleet and is endeavoring to reach Vladivostok, as recent scouting in the vicinity of Port Arthur has failed to reveal the presence of any Russian warships.

The hopelessness of continuing at Port Arthur is manifest, while a dash for Vladivostok might succeed, contrary to the opinion previously expressed.

Vice Admiral Togo is unwilling to run the risk of dividing his battleship squadron and continues to operate the six battleships together. If the Russians should make an attempt to reach Vladivostok it is believed they will try a dash through the Korean strait rather than enter the Japan sea through the Sugaru strait.

There is an unconfirmed report here that Japanese marines now occupy Dalny and that the Japanese advance guard has routed Russian scouts at the headwaters of the Yalu river.

From the highest official quarter in St. Petersburg comes the announcement that there is absolutely no foundation for the rumors persistently sent out from Tokyo that the Russians are abandoning Port Arthur.

"It is the veriest nonsense," said a high official of the Russian government. "Nothing has occurred there to warrant such reports. The Japanese fleet has not been seen for forty-eight hours. The motive of the government at Tokyo in spreading this story is probably to influence public feeling in Japan for the purpose of creating enthusiasm while a war loan is being floated."

The newspapers here manifest the greatest indignation over the report, the Boerse Gazette characterising it as outrageous and a British invention. Attention is redirected to the order of the day issued by Lieutenant General Stoessel, commander at Port Arthur, in which he declared that that place would never be surrendered, as representing the Russian position. Relative to this point a military officer said:

"This mere statement carries its own refutation unless we meant to beat an ignoble retreat all along the line. If we abandon Port Arthur we leave our fleet there to be doomed. It is too absurd to discuss."

General Kuropatkin expects to reach Mukden on March 26. Everything will be sidetracked in order to get him to the front on schedule time. The general may proceed on a flying visit to Port Arthur, but he is more likely to enter at once upon his duties as commander in chief of the Manchurian army. He bears an autograph letter from the emperor to Viceroy Alexeieff, to whom he will report. It is understood that the viceroy then will turn over the entire direction of the land operations to General Kuropatkin, who will transmit his reports to the emperor through the viceroy, but practically this is the only point on which Viceroy Alexeieff will maintain superiority.

General Kuropatkin had his plan of campaign practically perfect before he left here for the far east. He devoted four days to the elaboration of his plans in conjunction with his staff and with the aid of all the information in possession of the ministry of war.

On account of the difficulty of housing the vast number of troops poured into Mukden 14,000 have been sent forward within the last few days toward the Yalu river as re-enforcements for the 7,000 troops already at Kasan and Anju, and the stream of soldiers from European Russia is now being held at Harbin. The housing problem will disappear with the advent of warmer weather, but in the meantime the government is hurrying forward large numbers of portable collapsible wooden quarters, 1,800 of these having already been dispatched from St. Petersburg and 3,000 from Moscow.

The statement by General Zilinski that the Russians found poisoned swords left by the fleeing Japanese has aroused much comment. Similar swords were used by the Chinese during the Boxer rebellion, especially in Manchuria, and the slightest wound inflicted by them proved fatal. The use of such weapons is prohibited by the Geneva and The Hague conventions.

A dispatch from Chemulpo, Korea, says the United States cruiser Cincinnati has returned from Chinnampo with a number of American refugees from the American company's mine at Unsan and missions in that vicinity. The party consists of three men and twenty-two women and children. All are well. They praise the kindness of the officers of the Cincinnati, who gave up their cabins to them. The refugees traveled from Unsan to Chinnampo in carts bearing American flags and were escorted as far as Pingyang by a band from the mines. They were unmolested. Near Anju they met two small groups of Cossacks. During the party's stay at Pingyang the Japanese officials requested them to wear badges bearing the American colors in order that they might be allowed to leave and enter the town freely. The party was stopped five times by Japanese soldiers, of whom the party saw great numbers along the road to the coast. The Japanese treated them very courteously.

An American miner returning from the mines at Unsan was arrested north of Pingyang by the Japanese on suspicion of being a Russian spy. He was speedily released when his identity was established.

CHICAGO EXPLOSION.

Toy Pistol Factory Goes Skyward. Three Dead.

CHICAGO, March 16.—Three persons, two of them being boys, were killed and eight other employees injured by an explosion of toy pistol caps which completely demolished the two story brick manufacturing plant of the Chicago Toy Novelty company at Western avenue and West Eighteenth street. The wrecked building caught fire immediately after the explosion, and the bodies of the dead were so badly burned and mangled that it was impossible to recognize them except by remnants of clothing.

The building was occupied by three firms, employing nearly a hundred persons, and it is believed some others may have been killed, but until the debris, which is piled twenty feet high, can be cleared away the exact number of dead cannot be ascertained.

The known dead are: Harry Jordan, foreman, blown through second story window; Alexander J. Wilnski, sixteen years old, blown through window by explosion; Joseph Bendowsky, fourteen years old, burned to death in building.

It is not known what caused the explosion, and so far as can be learned the company had no permit from the city for the manufacture or storage of explosives. The caps were of paper and contained a composition of chloride of potash, phosphorus and antimony.

DRINK HABIT IN CHICAGO.

Chicago Council Takes Measures to Stop "Can Rushing" by Children.

CHICAGO, March 16.—At an exciting session, punctuated by much spectacular speechmaking, the Chicago city council has enacted important legislation relating to saloons. Three ordinances were adopted, and there is said to be no doubt the mayor will sign all of them.

The hour for saloon closing in the future will be 1 a. m. instead of midnight.

After that hour saloons must remove all blinds and screens and keep a bright light burning within.

"Can rushing" by children sent to saloons by their parents after beer or any liquor is forbidden.

A fourth ordinance giving the mayor greater power in revoking licenses received a majority of the votes cast; but, not getting the thirty-six votes necessary to pass an ordinance, it failed.

Hearing on Eight Hour Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The senate committee on education and labor has begun a series of hearings on the eight hour bill which was reported favorably in the Fifty-seventh congress and which also is pending before the house committee on labor. Daniel Davenport, representing the American Anti-boycott association, was heard and Judge Joseph K. McCammon, representing steel industries, presented resolutions calling upon the secretary of commerce and labor for information concerning the number of hours now exacted on government work. The resolutions will be considered at some subsequent session of the committee. The hearings will continue from day to day.

Sues Railroad For Half a Million.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., March 16.—One of the most important civil suits in the history of this territory, involving half a million dollars, has been filed in the United States court by the Caledonia Coal company of Gallup. The company sues the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe company, the Santa Fe-Pacific company, the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and the American Fuel company for $400,000 damages, $50,000 attorneys' fees and costs for alleged violation of the United States statutes to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies and also the statute regulating interstate commerce and trade.

Post Mortem on Dead Deer.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 16.—Professor Moore of Cornell university and Dr. Kelly, veterinarian of the state department of agriculture, go to the Fulton chain of lakes and Old Forge to hold post mortem examinations upon carcasses of deer found dead in the woods. Some sixty have been found. The investigation is made by the state department of agriculture to determine the cause of death, it having been suggested that the animals might have died of a disease communicable to domestic animals.

Captain of Whaleback Ferry Dead.

CHICAGO, March 16.—Captain Robert Smith, widely known as commander of the whaleback ferry steamer Christopher Columbus that carried thousands to the exposition, is dead at the Chicago hospital as the result of an operation. At the time of his death he was president and general manager of the Duluth Dredging and Dock company.

Three Dead In Freight Collision.

SHERBROOKE, Que., March 16.—A collision between Canadian Pacific and Boston and Maine freight trains took place near Lennoxville, three miles from here. The dead are Engineer Folsom, Fireman Berard and Brakeman Cousins, all of the Boston and Maine crew. Engineer Plante of the Canadian Pacific train was badly hurt.

ANTIGAMBLING BILL.

Dowling's Measure to Secure Testimony For Jerome Prosecutions.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 16.—Bitter and exciting was the debate precipitated in the senate on the Dowling witness bill, favored by District Attorney Jerome in order that he might secure testimony against the big gamblers of the metropolis. The bill provides that a witness may give testimony in such proceedings without danger of having it used against him and seeks to prevent his using the constitutional excuse for refusing to testify. In Mr. Jerome's prosecution of Richard A. Canfield he found it impossible to compel certain witnesses to testify against Canfield because they refused on the ground that their evidence might tend to incriminate them, and in the case of Jesse Lewisohn the court of appeals upheld the witness.

When the bill was reported to the senate from the committee on codes it was so amended as not to take effect until Sept. 1 and so that the provisions should not apply to pending litigation.

In the course of the debate District Attorney Jerome was roundly scored by Senator Elon R. Brown, who referred to his "berating a noted family in New York" and to his naming of a certain wealthy young man alleged to have lost a vast sum of money in Canfield's place.

On the other hand, Senator Malby was most bitter in his denunciation of any attempt to "protect the gilt edged gamblers" so that they might continue their gaming through the summer season and be granted "protection by the state of New York until after Sept. 1."

The Dowling bill was a general order, and the introducer desired to have the measure referred back to the committee that District Attorney Jerome might again express his views on the propriety of the amendments, which, he claimed, took all the merit out of the bill.

Senator Malby opposed the recommittal and that the senate itself could strike out the obnoxious amendments. The senate, however, followed the suggestion of Mr. Dowling and advanced the bill to third reading and then recommitted the bill to the codes committee for a hearing tomorrow.

WILHELM AT VIGO.

Alfonso Greets the Kaiser as He Goes to the Mediterranean.

VIGO, Spain, March 16.—The North German Lloyd steamer Koenig Albert, with Emperor William of Germany on board, has arrived here.

King Alfonso went out to the steamer and greeted the kaiser on board of her. The interview between the monarchs lasted forty-five minutes.

Emperor William later returned King Alfonso's visit.

The river is illuminated, and hundreds of bonfires are burning on the surrounding heights.

Symons Can't Serve.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The house committee on military affairs has taken adverse action on the resolution permitting Colonel Symons of the engineer corps of the army to accept an appointment on the New York canal commission tendered him by Governor Odell. The resolution granting this permission was transmitted to the house from the war department. The request bore the approval of the president and Secretary Taft, but the committee in discussing the matter recalled the fact that the war department has been complaining that its engineer corps is short now, and to allow Col. Symons to take on outside duties would be to render the corps still shorter.

Threat Made to Kill by "33."

PUEBLO, Colo., March 16.—Chris Evans, financial agent of the United Mine Workers of America, who was assaulted near Trinidad, has given the authorities a clew, which they are investigating, in the form of an anonymous letter sent to William Wardjon, national organizer; Mr. Evans and others warning him and the other officials to leave the camp within two days. The letter also referred to "Mother" Jones and was signed "33." No attention was paid to it at the time, but Mr. Evans now thinks it a part of a well formed plot to kill the officials.

Death of Judge Crumpacker.

LAPORTE, Ind., March 16.—Judge Jonathan W. Crumpacker, associate justice of the supreme court of New Mexico during President McKinley's administration and a cousin of Congressman Edward D. Crumpacker, is dead here of typhoid fever, aged fifty. Judge Crumpacker had served two terms as state senator and was for years a leader in Indiana Republican politics.

THE PLAINFIELD TRUST CO.

ANNUAL METHODIST CONFERENCE AT NEWARK

Sessions Will Begin March 23 and Continue Six Days at St. Luke's Church.

DETAILS ALL ARRANGED

SIX HUNDRED CLERGYMEN AND LAY DELEGATES EXPECTED.

Conference Includes Northern New Jersey, Staten Island and Parts of New York and Pennsylvania —Many Prominent Speakers.

After weeks of preliminary work the full programme for the forty-seventh annual session of the Newark Methodist conference, which will begin in Newark city Wednesday, March 23, and last for six days, has at length been completed. All details have been arranged, and now everything is in readiness to take care of the 600 clergymen and lay delegates during their meetings there.

In addition to other Plainfielders who will attend the conference are Rev. Dr. W. O. Snodgrass, Rev. John McMurray, Rev. E. L. Earp and Rev. J. R. Bryan, the latter a retired minister.

The session will take place at St. Luke's church, Clinton avenue and Murray street. The business meetings and the principal anniversaries of the various conference societies will be held there, although some of the latter meetings will occur at St. Paul's church, Broad and Marshall streets, and at Central Church, in Market street, near Mulberry street. It is proposed, too, to have nightly evangelistic services at Franklin Street church. The Clinton Avenue Baptist church, near St. Luke's will be used for the lay electoral college Friday, March 25.

As is generally known, the Newark conference takes in all of northern New Jersey, Staten Island and parts of New York and Pennsylvania. It is divided into the Newark, Paterson, Elizabeth and Jersey City districts, each one of which is in charge of a presiding elder. The figures of last year showed that there were about 250 active ministers in the conference with charges, some having more than one church. There were more than 50,000 parishioners and about 300 church edifices, the probable value of which was $3,787,400. In addition to the active ministers there were a number holding the supernumerary or superannuate relationship, so that the total membership was around 300 clergymen.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

The Knockabouts, what great boys we are! Will we ever forget our trip to Plainfield's Y. M. C. A.? No, never! How can we? Well, you see how it is. About thirty of us boys started about 10 o'clock Saturday morning, March 5th, on one of our soap box trolley cars (which was not near big enough) with our jolly secretary, Mr. M. L. Beebe and our popular physical director, Mr. John Wilkinson; also president of the club "Vick." We joked, and sang "Bedelia" (our secretary's favorite song) and other ragtime airs all the way to Picton where we changed cars for Plainfield. Everything then went along all right till we reached our destination, here we gave our cry, "Um, ya, ya, um, ya, ya, Plainfield, Plainfield, um, ya ya." We were greeted warmly by Mr. Robie and Mr. C. E. A. Heywood, and then went straightway to the gym. where we had swell fun and a glorious tug of war—but, O, me! O, my! we lost! Too bad; we will do better next time. And when we were beaten in basket ball we were almost ashamed to show our faces, but never mind, let that matter drop. We were then invited to take a dip in the pool, and we needed no second invite, as we had been there before. After this we took dinner, a "swell" one, indeed, and as we ate our fill, Prof. Ikey Ayers, Jr. rendered some high class selections on the piano. Then Mr. Robie was very kind indeed, as he offered to take us on the never-to-be-forgoteten trip to Washington Rock, a distance of some three miles. As we marched through Plainfield's streets we looked like Coxey's or Mother Jones' army. In a short time we marched into North Plainfield where the high-toned people live; we tramped over their lawns and lucky for us, they did not set their dogs upon us. We thought it would be far easier to cut across lots to get to the rock then to take the roadway around; but afterwards wished we hadn't, as we waded into mud to four inches deep. As we were crossing a field where fertilizer was being made, we discovered a poor half starved Billy goat. Too bad, that's what it is! Our stand-by, Mr. Wilkinson, got stuck in the mud and was half drowned. We then began to climb the mountains, which were easy, (in the neck) of course, to a giant, but not for us. As we trudged along we began to have sympathy for Washington and his men who climbed up to the top to review the British fleet in mid-winter. O, Fudge! We were tired, but it was then time to take a rest but not for long for soon we started down. Oh! it was a dead cinch, for the roadway was muddier than before, but, at last we reached Dunellen where we took the trolley for Plainfield. We were then very, very tired but not too tired for more fun, as we invited ourselves to the Y. M. C. A. music hall where we sang and giggled for some time. But all at once we heard Mr. Be. say "Ready boys, the trolley for home." We nearly broke our necks to catch it. Then we rode home with two unpleasant conductors. We remembered we had left three boys behind. Dud's slippers and John's stockings. All the day's sport ended up with the combustion of our treasurer's "dicer." But on the whole the trip was voted a success.—Rahway Union Democrat.

A talk on photography was given last night before the Men's Club of the Congregational church by W. B. He told why so many amateurs are unsuccessful in early efforts and showed where to avoid mistakes. Photographs were exhibited showing accurate work. A flashlight picture of the members of the club was taken.

Frank O. Bristoe entertained with numerous highly enjoyable recitations. Refreshments were served and a social hour passed. Two new members were elected, the Messrs. Rice, of West Seventh street.

MUNICIPAL GARBAGE COLLECTION PROBABLE

Joint-Committee Met Last Night and Arranged to Present Report to the Council.

DETAILS OF THE PLAN

IMPROVEMENT WILL ONLY COST ABOUT TWENTY CENTS PER CAPITA.

Four Garbage Wagons to be Used—Collections to be Made Thrice Weekly in Summer Season—As to the Crematory.

An informal discussion of the plans embodied in the report to be presented to the Common Council tomorrow night by the joint committee from the Board of Health and Council on the question of municipal collection of garbage, was had at a meeting of the committee last night. The committee has already spent much time looking into this matter and it is reasonable to suppose that the Common Council will adopt the system.

The crematory of the Plainfield Sanitary Company, now defunct, was purchased recently with the idea that the city would buy it for the disposal of garbage. It has been learned that the committee will recommend the employment of four garbage wagons for the city. In the summer time collections would be made three times a week and in the winter a less number of times. It is not recommended that residents place garbage cans on the sidewalk, as in other cities, but that they be kept out of sight. It would take a collector a trifle more time to do the work, but it is believed it can be done. While the committee does not now give out the probable cost of the system a year in this city, it is believed that it will be about twenty cents per capita.

PLAINFIELD CASINO DEFEATED

PARK CLUB WON BOWLING MATCH ON ITS OWN ALLEYS LAST NIGHT.

A ten-men team from the Plainfield Casino visited the Park Club last night and rolled a return match with a team from the latter club. The Parks won two of the series of three games by good-sized scores. The first game they took by a score of 1549 to 1366 and the second game by a score of 1525 to 1519. The last game was won by the Casino team by a score of 1514 to 1432. As a result of the series the Parks feel entitled to the championship of both city and borough and they are carrying the honor with considerable dignity. It is possible that other games may be arranged between the two teams.

Mr. MacMurray's Sister Hurt.

Mrs. D. J. Dixon, of Hoboken, sister of City Clerk J. T. MacMurray, is detained at her home with a fractured ankle, the result of an accident at Westfield on Monday. She had been visiting her old home and was on her way to take the train for Hoboken. At the Westfield station she slipped on some ice causing her to fall on the steps leading to the eastbound station. The bones in the ankle were completely fractured. She continued her journey, however, and when she reached home a physician was called and gave proper treatment.

Landed in Jail.

Fred Winters, the young man accused of a serious crime by Mrs. Carrie VanPelt, the young negress who works in the lunch room at the Dunellen trolley terminus, was captured Tuesday by Constable Pierce of Dunellen. The officer found the man in a butcher shop in New Brunswick. He is held in the New Brunswick jail for action by the grand jury.

Common Council's Meeting.

The Common Council will hold an adjourned meeting tomorrow nigh, at which time it is likely that the report on municipal collection of garbage will be presented. An effort will be made to do this so that if it is decided to adopt the plan of the committee it will be possible to incorporate the estimated expense in the yearly budget to be fixed at the April meeting.

Caused by Rubbish.

A still alarm of fire was rung in last night at 8 o'clock for the house at 816 College place recently occupied by James A. Stafford. The house filled with smoke and the inmates were unable to explain its presence. It was ascertained by the firemen that the trouble came from some dirt and rubbish which had been swept under the heater.

LETTER-CARRIERS DEFEATED

Y. M. C. A. WON TWO GAMES FROM THE POSTMEN WITH EASE.

Defeated by a margin of 115 pins in their first game with the Y. M. C. A. bowlers last night, the Letter Carriers braced for the second game and decreased their opponents lead to 58. The postmen were new to the association alleys and were not at their best in the first game. But two games were played, the scores being 659 to 544 and 675 to 617, in favor of the association. In the first game, Koons was high roller with 149, and, in the second, Sutphen made the high score of the evening, 154. Revill made the best scores for the visitors.

The next regular game for the Y. M. C. A. team will be with the Westfield Saturday Night club at Westfield Saturday.

RAHWAY'S Y. M. C. A. ROUTED

VISITORS PROVED TO BE AN EASY MARK FOR LOCAL Y. M. C. A. TEAM.

After a nip-and-tuck contest in the first half of their basket ball game last night in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. Business Men's class "put it all over" Rahway Y. M. C. A. Rahway led at the end of the first half, 7 to 6, but there their scoring ceased. They were entirely unable to locate the basket in the second half and had little better luck in preventing their opponents from working up a score. Plainfield made eleven points in this period and captured the game, 17 to 7. The Rahway boys were behind the game somewhat in team work as well as in their shooting. Excellent long-distance shots for baskets were made by Whitford, of Plainfield, and Alexander, of Rahway. Spicer played good basketball and the Plainfield forwards were well backed up by centre and guards. The play was rough at times.

The score: Business Men—Spicer, leftf orward; Whitford, right forward; Lott, centre; Utzinger, left guard; Clark, right guard. Rahway—Orr, left forward; Randolph, right forward; Alexander, centre; Boland, left guard; Russell, right guard. Goals from the floor, Lott, Spicer 3, Whitford 2, Clark 2, Russell, Alexander, Orr. Goals from fouls, Lott, Alexander. Referee, Heinecke. Umpire, Vance, of Rahway. Timers, Utzinger and Perrin. Scorer, Scull. Time, 20-minute periods.

A FORMER PRINCIPAL.

C. M. Harrison, Formerly of Plainfield Schools, Passed Away in Texas.

Caleb M. Harrison, of Caldwell, Essex county, who died in Texas on Monday, was principal of the Plainfield public schools in 1859 and afterward became State Superintendent of Schools. He married Miss Elizabeth H. Fellowsbee, who was a teacher in the Plainfield schools. She with five sons survive him. At the time of his death he was superintendent of the Newark City Home at Verona.

Fire Department Improvement.

A new and complete electrical apparatus has been installed at fire headquarters by which when the gong strikes an alarm of fire at night the lights in the bedrooms and on the first floor are all turned on and the doors of the horses' stalls thrown open. R. B. Rogers installed the machinery which was tested today for the first time. A clock which will register automatically the times of sounding alarms will be connected in a few days.

Board of Education to Meet.

A meeting of the Board of Education of Somerset county will be held in the court house at Somerville on Saturday, March 26. County Superintendent Krebs will preside. State Superintendent Baxter and another speaker are expected to make addresses. The meeting will be followed by a dinner and when the cigars are beginning to burn Assemblyman Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, is scheduled for an after-dinner speech.

Looking for Rooms.

The ex-volunteer firemen of the borough have decided to move into other quarters from the Heyniger building on Somerset street. The building is not exactly adapted to their needs, and they will use it simply for storage until better quarters are secured.

HONORING IRELAND'S GREAT PATRON SAINT

Masses in St. Mary's and St. Joseph's R. C. Churches in Remembrance of St. Patrick.

LECTURES FOR TONIGHT

VERY REV. FATHER O'GRADY AND FATHER CLIFFORD THE SPEAKERS.

Many Loyal Sons of Erin Viewed Parade in New York—Big Dance at Bound Brook Under Auspices of A. O. H.

In this city, as in every other place where the sons of the Emerald Isle are, Ireland's patron saint is being honored today. While there are no affairs planned by the local Irish society, the Irishmen of the city are taking part in the celebrations going on. A large number of Erin's sons went to New York from here this morning to take part in, or view, the big parade. Every man who could get away made the trip, accompanied in many instances by his wife and children.

Tonight many of the younger element will go to Bound Brook, where the A. O. H. of that place will hold a big dance. At both St. Mary's and St. Joseph's churches lectures on St. Patrick will be delivered. Monsignor O'Grady, of New Brunswick, will be the lecturer in the borough church. Father Clifford, of Englewood, will speak at St. Mary's church.

As usual on this day, both Roman Catholic churches celebrated mass this morning. The services were largely attended.

MAY COME AGAIN.

Rev. Theodore Henderson's Services Possibly May be Procured by Conference.

One of the matters that will probably be brought up at the coming meeting of the Methodist conference at Newark is the proposed extension of Rev. Theodore Henderson's evangelical organization to this district.

It is said that practically all the clergymen are in favor of the idea. Rev. John McMurray, of this city, is known to desire it, and will undoubtedly speak for the plan if it is broached.

It is as his chief assistant in this movement that the Rev. F. E. Whiteside, of this city, has joined Rev. Mr. Henderson in Brooklyn.

In Justice Nash's Court.

Ivins against Richards, on contract; returnable March 22. Powlison et als against Huntsman, on contract, returnable March 22, at 9 a. m., N. D. Drake attorney for the plaintiffs. Vail against Smith, demand for premises, returnable March 21. Judgment for the plaintiff in the contract case of Hull against Courtney. Conract case of Larrabee against Wearren adjourned for a week.

In Police Court.

John Taylor, to the city of Plainfield, debtor; to breaking one nose, $10. Paid. The said nose, the property of John Karash, was smashed in a drunken brawl on Watchung avenue, Karash, it was alleged, receiving it in return for the doubtful privilege of calling Taylor names. Joseph Molowsky, also arrested on Kabrrash's complaint, received suspended sentence. The price for the fractured nasal protuberance was set this morning by City Judge Runyon.

It's a Rare Bird.

One of the rarest birds of this section was shot by William Cooper, a farmer of Warrenville, Tuesday. It is a fine specimen of the goss-hawk. He brought the body here for stuffing, turning it over to Spiel Walsh. The goss-hawk is seen in this section at very long intervals. This is the first noticed hereabouts in several years. The habitat of the bird is much farther north.

Only An Accident.

Because he threw a stick at a barking dog and struck instead Miss Florence Hill, Frank Ingraham was arrested by Patrolman Higgins. He pleaded that it was an accident and the case was dismissed.

Six Years Old.

Anna Warnock, the daughter of William W. Warnock, of Craig place, is celebrating her sixth birthday today with a party of her playmates.

—Neuman Brothers make a specialty of fine butters. Rockdale creamery, 30 cents; Elgin creamery, 26 cents.

GREATEST MINSTREL SHOW YET

HOPE Y. M. A. PROGRAMME THE BEST EVER PRODUCED HERE.

For sputtering, sizzling pot pourri of fun from stars to finish the Hope Y. M. A. minstrels have struck high water mark. The musical numbers are excellent, the quips and gags are timely and bright, while the artists are as gifted a crew as ever trod the amateur boards.

John Cose, first as a society gentleman on the end, next as an elongated cotton picker, and finally as a consumptive servant, shows a versatility which might well put many a professional to shame.

And what a charming lady Matt Sweeney makes. With waving blonde tresses, pink cheeks and lips like ripe cherries, Johnnie Galvin's disinclination to kiss him when the chance is offered, will forever remain a mystery. Johnnie Galvin, by the way, is one of the best comedians, amateur or professional, ever seen in Plainfield. Every time he speaks the audience laughs, and his work has done much to make the entertainment the success it has proved.

The way Will Holbert throws himself in the Essence of Old Virginny is worth traveling miles to see.

George Cose sings the topical song to perfection,; Bert Firstbrook and Leonce Texier each contribute a good full share to the merriment, while Alfred E. Willard, newly arrived from the farm, convulses every one from the beginning and especially when he stars his whole musical factory and dancing school going at once.

BOROUGH POLICE PROTECTION

PLANS ARRANGED FOR A DECIDED IMPROVEMENT IN NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Talk of increased police protection has been revived in the borough, and this time it looks as if the matter were to be brought to a successful head.

It is understood that the Citizens' Union councilmen are pledged to the plan, and will work for it in and out of the Council. The administration has favored the increase in the past, and no change of heart is believed to have taken place. With both parties favoring the scheme, it will probably go into effect within a month.

It is planned to put four men on duty at night, two on each side of Somerset street. Two men will go on duty during the day. At present the force is admittedly wholly inadequated to the needs of the borough.

MRS. ROBERTS BURIED.

Funeral Took Place This Morning, Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman Officiating.

The funeral services of Mrs. Elmira Roberts, wife of Dan S. Roberts, were held this morning at 11 o'clock from the home, 15 Prospect place. Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector emeritus of Grace church, officiated. The interment was in Hillside cemetery. The pall-bearers incided four rsons, Austin K. Roberts, Charles B. Roberts, William D. Roberts, Harry R. Roberts a grandson, Ernest Roberts, and N. G. Campbell.

CHURCH SUPPER.

Enjoyable Repast Served by a Seventh-Day Baptist Church Organization.

The annual supper of the Seventh-Day Baptist church was held last night in the church parlors under the auspices of the Woman's Society for Christian Work. Supper was served from 6 until 8 and followed by an informal programme of musical selections. The rooms were prettily decorated.

The supper committee was composed of Mrs. T. B. Titsworth, chairman, Mrs. D. E. Titsworth and Mrs. T. C. Smith. Mrs. J. B. Mosher had charge of the social and musical part of the programme. Charles Titsworth performed the duties of cashier. The waitresses were Miss Mildred Green, Miss Mary St. John, Miss Kizzie Neagle, Miss Abbie Lewis, Miss Olive Randolph, Miss Etta Randolph and Miss Rosa Davis.

Won Prize.

Harvey R. Thorn, recorder of Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., of this city, has been notified that he won the $25 prize in the contest which has been going on all through the State during the past year.

As the Mt. Olive Baptist church and Sunday-school is now separate from the First Bapist church, the former will probably not unite in the Easter services to be held at the First Baptist church. The colored church will likely hold its services separately.

AFTER MONTHS OF SUCCESSFUL THIEVING

Man Who, It is Supposed, Burglarized Many Plainfield Homes, Was Caught.

JACK WELER HIS NAME

CONSTABLE MOHAN, OF DUNELLEN, MADE THE ARREST.

The Suspect Could Not Resist His Desire to Please the Girls, Gave Them Jewelry, Which Gave the Clue to His Capture.

Because he wanted to cut a figure with the girls by making them presents of jewelry, "Jack" Weler, the man who, it is alleged, has been committing the petty burglaries in this city, North Plainfield and surrounding towns for months past, was caught yesterday at Bound Brook. Constable Mohan, of Dunellen, made the arrest in Bound Brook. Burglar's tools, a revolver and other incriminating goods were found on the man. He lived at the Hotel Rosell while in this city.

Weler has been taken to Somerville.

Chief-of-Police Kiely was looking up his case this morning in an attempt to connect him with the Plainfield robberies. Morris C. VanArsdale and Isaac Lederer, of North Plainfield, who were among those robbed, went to Somerville this morning to see if they could identify any of the stolen property.

Weler, it is said, has been living at a fast pace lately in Dunellen and Bound Brook, trying to gain the esteem of his women acquaintances by giving them jewelry which he had stolen. His alleged robberies have included Dunellen besides this city and the borough. Among his supposed victims have been Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, Rev. W. Montgomery Downey and Charles Dunham, of this city.

Charles Dunham, of this city, identified some of the goods stolen from him February 15, and Mrs. Perry, of Waynewood place, identified jewelry taken from her house. Weler has been staying at the Lincoln Hotel, near Bound Brook, and is charged with robbing a Bound Brook house Sunday night. The goods stolen in this burglary were found in his possession. While living at the Hotel Rosell, Weler disposed of a gold chain to the proprietor, A. B. Rosell.

At least twenty-five burglaries in this city and North Plainfield are charged to Weler's account. His method has been to watch a house until its occupants were all away and then to break in through a window. He was betrayed by a woman

Weler is about thirty-five years old, five feet, five inches in height, walks with a decided stoop, and has a sandy complexion. His dress is ordinary.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Owing to the dance at the Imperial Dancing Academy tonight, the regular private lessons will be held tomorrow night.

—Miss Pauline Denton, of Washington avenue, has recovered her gold watch and bracelet chain lost Sunday. Joseph Martin, of the West End, found them at the corner of West Front street and Grant avenue and returned the property to the owner.

—Miss Olive Randolph, of Plainfield avenue, entertained a number of friends at her home Monday night. The guest enjoyed a programme of violin and piano music, after which they joined in playing all sorts of games, including a new one called "cozy corner." After the games refreshments were served.

PERSONAL.

Peter Neuman, of the grocery firm of Neuman Brothers, is ill at his home with an attack of the grip.

William M. Sandford, of East Front street, is detained at home with an attack of sciatic rheumatism.

A baby girl weighing between ten and eleven pounds has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Conger, of Mountain avenue.

Gift to Building Fund.

I. H. Boehm, the dry goods merchant, has given a check for $100 to the building fund of the Synagogue now being erected in New street.

An entire new set of Easter carols has been selected for the First Baptist church this year and the Sunday-school has already begun rehearsals under the direction of L. H. Biglow, Jr., assistant superintendent.

SPITTING ON PAVEMENT, $10

MINIMUM FIGURE AS A PENALTY FOR VIOLATING THE ORDINANCE.

Answering the query put by the North Plainfield Board of Health in connection with the proposed ordinance against spitting in public places, Dr. Henry Mitchell, secretary of the State Board of Health, has stated that the minimum fine that the Board is empowered to fix is ten dollars.

Dr. Mitchell's statement, however, was not couched in very positive terms, and the Borough Board will submit the State regulations to its counsel, S. S. Swackhamer, for his opinion. Whatever the final decision on the matter, the ordinance will be passed and put into effect just as soon as possible. The ordinance will be rigorously enforced.

In his communication to Secretary Honeyman, Dr. Mitchell expressed hearty approval of the Board's contemplated action. He feels that ten dollars is not too high a fine, but in this the Board does no, and is very unlikely to, agree with him.

JUDGE RUNYON TO RETIRE

DECIDES NOT TO IDENTIFY HIMSELF WITH ANY MORE MINSTREL SHOWS.

When the present brief run of the Hope Y. M. A. minstrels closes on Friday night, Judge Runyon will retire as manager of the annual affair. He announced to a reporter for The Daily Press yesterday that he was out of the managerial business for good.

"I'll run no more minstrel shows," said the Judge. "You can make that public."

There is a lot of harrassing work in connection with the management of an amateur minstrel show, and the worriment begins two or three months before the show makes its appearance. For three years Judge Runyon has worked and worried the minstrels to a success; the immensity of the success indicates what the manager's task was, and his friends, especially those who have some knowledge of the labor he put into the show, are not surprised that he has decided he has done enough in the managerial line.

This year's show has been particularly trying on the Judge. He has lost sleep over it many a night, and not even the complete and remarkable success scored by the troupe could do much to counterbalance the strain.

FISH A PUZZLE.

Laage Number of Dead Suckers in South Plainfield Pond Mystify Fishermen.

South Plainfielders and the fishermen who frequent the pond are puzzled over the appearance of a large number of dead fish about the shores. Fifty or sixty bodies, some of them pbig-sized suckers, were counted floating along the shore yesterday.

Nobody knows what is causing the deaths. It appears as if there were either an epidemic raging among the fish or something in the water is poisoning them. Those of the fishermen who have been spearing in the pond are afraid to follow the sport for fear they will get poisoned. No matter whether the fish are dying of epidemic diseases or being poisoned, those who eat them would be made sick.

Park Club Committees.

Two of the four committees to serve throughout the coming season for the Park Golf Club have been appointed by George T. Rogers, vice president, in the absence of the president, Charles W. McCutchen. These committee were appointed at a meeting of the Board of Governors held Saturday night: Membership, Charles A. Reed, chairman; Samuel Townsend, Charles B. Morse; green, George T. Rogers, chairman; Rev. J. O. McKelvey, J. B. Betts and Francis deL. Hyde. The golf and house committees will be appointed later.

Mr. Edwards' Exhibit.

George Wharton Edwards, of Franklin place, an artist of international fame, is planning to give a notable exhibition of paintings, including many fine water colors, at Clausen's, in Fifth avenue, New York. It is expected that a number of people from this city will attend the exhibition.

Y. M. C. A. Tea.

The house committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a tea and sale of useful articles at the residence of Mrs. F. C. Harder, 832 Madison avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, March 23.

AMATEUR BASEBALL FOR THE Y. M. C. A.

Association to be Represented on Diamond by a Strong Aggregation of Players.

SOME LIKELY MEMBERS

ENTERTAINMENT MAY BE GIVEN TO RAISE NECESSARY FUNDS.

Election for Captain and Manager—Armstrong Probable as a Pitcher—Heicker, an Amherst College Man, to be on the Team.

The local Y. M. C. A. proposes to put on the baseball diamond this spring a nine that will make things interesting for other strong amateur teams in the vicinity. A schedule will be arranged to include games with surrounding Y. M. C. A. and school teams. A meeting will be held in the near fuurte to elect a captain and and manager. No hint of professionalism will be allowed to touch the team.

If the physical work committee of the association grants permission, an entertainment of some sort will be given in the association hall, the proceeds to go towards starting the work of the season.

Among the players who have already signified their intention of trying for the team are these: E. W. Overton, Harold Dollner, A. R. Humble, F. K. Armstrong, Harry Woodland, Paul R. Collier, M. B. Stutsman, John Jacot, H. D. Heicker, Percy Hand, H. Gilmore, Morris Sutphen, Benjamin Schuck.

Sutphen is a Y. M. C. A. player of long standing and excellent record, and Hand and Gilmore are former Y. M. C. A. fielders. Heicker is an Amherst College man and played some baseball during his college course. Overton has played with the Hope Y. M. A. nine and Dollner formerly covered second base for the Orange Field Club. Humble, Armstrong, Woodland, Jacot and Schuck are old North Plainfield High School players. Humble and Schuck are outfielders, Armstrong is a pitcher and third baseman, Woodland and Jacott are infielders.

MAYORS FOR EQUAL TAX

DR. JENKINS TO JOIN THE MOVEMENT STARTED BY CHIEF EXECUTIVES.

Mayor O. L. Jenkins has decided to identify himself with the New Jersey Mayors' Equal Taxation League, or "the Mayors' Union," as it has already come to be known, believing the organization to be essential and as a result will bring to the State considerable revenue in taxes not now received. The organization was effected yesterday in the office of Mayor Mark M. Fagan in Jersey City. There were twelve mayors present and as many more have signified their intention of taking part in the movement.

The object of the association shall be the awakening of public sentiment in favor of fair and equal taxation by providing for public meetings, arranging for public discussion, the circulation of literature and by such other means as may from time to time be suggested or thought advisable. The Mayor of Jersey City is president, the mayors of Elizabeth, Camden and Paterson are vice presidents and the president's private secretary is the secretary.

Rush of Work.

There is considerable work on hand at both the Potter Press Works and the Walter Scott Printing Machine Works, the full force of hands being employed full time. The prospects at the Pond Machine Tool Works are not quite so promising, although the company hopes and expects to keep the works running on the present schedule for some time at least, pending the receipt of some big orders.

Plainfielders as Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Mali, of Fifth avenue, New York, whose summer home is on East Front street, were among the guests Tuesday evening at the last meeting of the Neighborhood Club at the residence of Miss Leary, No. 3 Fifth avenue.

Neal Dow's Birthday.

There will be a prohibition rally service at the W. C. T. U. rooms this afternoon, at which time there will be an observance of Gen. Neal Dow's bithday. Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, county superintendent of the union, will be in charge.

THE TIME WILL COME.

When the Advice of This Plainfield Resident Will Help You.

Very few people are entirely free from backache. It does not take much to derange the kidneys. A little cold, a strain, stopping positions or hard work overtaxes those delicate organs and many aches and pains promptly follow. A Plainfield citizen tells you here how every kidney ill can be relieved and cured. Read about it:

O. E. Hepburn, of 123 Duer street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have my endorsement for they cured me of a long standing case of backache which annoyed me very much, especially if I took cold, for at such times I was in pretty bad shape. I heard different people speak very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, concluded to try them, got a box from my druggist, L. W. Randolph and used them according to directions with the above results. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement of a preparation like Doan's Kidney Pills."

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

BUILDERS STRIKE.

Enforced Idleness of 85,000 May Follow.

MANY LARGE BUILDINGS TIED UP

Men's Grievance Said to Be Just. Wages Were Reduced Without Warning and Hours of Labor Increased.

NEW YORK, March 17.—Nearly 15,000 men are idle because of the strike of the laborers in the building trades, and the loss in wages is about $50,000 a day, and a general strike, tying up the building industry in Manhattan and the Bronx and forcing idleness upon 85,000 men, is threatened.

The fear on the part of the skilled men in the building trades that their employers are figuring on repudiating their recognition of the unions and conducting their business on the "open shop" basis has served to complicate the strike of the bricklayers and building laborers. Alarmed by the attitude of the men, the employers have made formal denial of any intention to employ nonunion labor.

"This malicious report," said L. K. Prince, vice president of the Employers' association, "was circulated among the laboring men by persons with a grievance against us and for the purpose of making trouble. There is just as much chance for congress to repudiate the national debt as there is for us to repudiate our agreements with the unions. We want to work in harmony with our men and expect to."

An effort will be made to straighten out the building trades difficulty tomorrow, when a committee from the Master Builders' association will confer with a committee from the Bricklayers' union with the object of reaching a basis of settlement. There will be present, too, a delegation from the union of the laborers.

The grievance of the men is admitted to be just. Without warning they were notified last week of a reduction in wages and an increase in working hours. This was in violation of the building trades agreement which the employers inaugurated themselves and which provided that all disputes were to be arbitrated. The laborers promptly quit work, and the employers, seeing that they had made a mistake, rescinded the order.

But they did not entirely abandon their position, for they tacked on to their rescinding order a provision that the men must return to work pending arbitration of differences. The men refused to go back to work, some of the bricklayers went out in sympathy with them, all bricklayers and masons notified the employers that they would not work with nonunion laborers, and in that way work has been stopped on nineteen big buildings in course of erection and partially stopped on forty others, including several new school buildings

QUIET IN MANCHURIA

Russian Force Is Reported Across the Yalu.

PORT ARTHUR RENDERED UNSAFE

Last Attack by Japanese Squadron Made Every Part of the Fortress Untenable—Enemy's Shells Fell Everywhere.

YINKOW, March 17.—The only reliable reports at the present moment from the main Manchurian cities show a quiet movement along the railway, and such cities as Mukden, which are off the main line, are undisturbed. The people here are not in possession of definite news of outside events.

The chief movement on the Fonghuangcheng military road is the dispatch of riders to and from the Russian advance forces.

A credible native has arrived here, bringing a report as late as March 12 from Fonghuangcheng to the effect that the main body of the concentrated forces had crossed the Yalu, leaving small bodies of troops at Antung and other points to guard the river.

A fortnight ago a few spies visited Antung, but since then no Japanese have been seen west of the Yalu.

The continued attacks of the Japanese have compelled the steady occupation of the Liaotung peninsula. The last bombardment of Port Arthur rendered every part of the fortress of Port Arthur unsafe. Residents assert that fragments of Japanese shells fell everywhere and that some railway coaches and buildings were destroyed, though most of the damage on the shore was unimportant.

Foreigners choosing to remain in the interior must now sign an agreement restricting their movements and stipulating that a special pass is necessary when leaving their bounds.

It is authentically reported that for a week past there has been only a small and changing military garrison at Haicheng, but that a large force has been stationed at the invaluable fortified and strategical town of Ashanshan, where the Japanese army concluded its advance during the war between China and Japan.

STARK OFFICIALLY OUT.

Commandant at Port Arthur Relieved on Account of "Illness."

ST. PETERSBURG, March 17.—Official orders have been published relieving Vice Admiral Stark from the command of the Port Arthur division of the navy, ostensibly on account of illness. No successor will be appointed, Vice Admiral Makaroff having determined to serve as squadron commander as well as commander in chief of the entire Russian naval force in the far east.

Captain Schchensnovitch, commander of the battleship Retvizan, has been decorated with the cross of St. George for repelling the last Japanese torpedo attack and sinking the Japanese fire ships.

The talk of "pyroxiline" (poisoned) swords having been left behind by the fleeing Japanese is based on the mistranslation of a Russian technical term. General Zilinski, chief of staff to Viceroy Alexeieff, in a telegram said that pyroxylin had been found in the form of small torpedoes, which the Japanese intended to use in bestrewing the road over which the Russians were expected to pass in order that the explosions resulting from the impact of the horses' hoofs might cause a stampede. These torpedoes were disk shaped and six inches in diameter. As the road between Anju and Pingyang is a very narrow one, the hoofs of the horses of the Russian cavalry and artillery and the wheels of the wagons would be certain to explode the torpedoes, resulting in the bolting of the horses and the causing of great confusion.

The government has been apprised that Japan has more than 2,500 secret emissaries at work in Russia and Siberia, principally along the route of the Siberian railroad.

Twelve Japanese spies, disguised as Cossacks and having in their possession a large amount of dynamite, were captured on the railway bridge over the Volga a short time ago. It was believed that they were about to blow up the bridge.

The government did not announce what was done with these twelve spies, but it is believed they were put to death.

Korea Considered a Belligerent.

SEOUL, March 17.—The Korean superintendent of trade at Kyonghung, on the Tumen river, has received a note from the general in command at Vladivostok saying that since Korea has joined Japan Russia considers Korea as belligerent and will act accordingly. Two thousand Korean troops now at Seoul will be sent to the north next week. The Japanese have ascertained definitely that a strong force of Russian field artillery is on the north bank of the Yalu river and that earthworks have been thrown up. Advices from Chonju, a town northwest of Anju, say that the people are in a state of panic owing to the treatment of women and the seizing of grain by the Russians.

Russian Movements Unknown.

TOKYO, March 17.—Tokyo is unadvised regarding the naval plans and movements of the Russians and is in doubt whether the remnant of their fleet is still at Port Arthur or is en route to Vladivostok. Late yesterday a telegram reached the navy department saying that seven Russian ships had been reported as passing Fort Lazareff. The report did not give the character of the ships or the direction in which they were sailing. It is anticipated that the Japanese by their activity will speedily determine the whereabout and intentions of the Russians.

Advancing From Vladivostok.

PARIS, March 17.—The Temps' correspondent at St. Petersburg asserts that a Russian army corps is descending from Vladivostok toward Korea. He adds that Port Arthur has a garrison of 30,000 men and is provisioned for a year. The Russian ministry of marine, the Temps' correspondent further asserts, claims that Japan's losses since the opening of the war are four cruisers and five torpedo boat destroyers and the machinery of a 12,000 ton battleship seriously injured.

Quiet at Port Arthur.

PORT ARTHUR, March 17.—Everything is quiet here. There is no sign of the enemy. Advices from Fenghauncheng, about forty-five miles northwest of Wiju, say the Russian troops are showing an admirable spirit in surmounting the difficulties and hardships of the march over the frozen tracts of east Manchuria. Grand Duke Cyril, cousin of the emperor, has arrived here.

NEGRO QUESTION UP.

Spight of Mississippi Compares Lynchings North and South.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—In the house during the discussion of the postoffice appropriation bill Mr. Spight (Miss.) discussed the negro question and declared unjust the attacks on the people of the south, who had been charged with brutality and barbarism toward the colored race.

Comparing the lynchings and burnings at the stake which had occurred in the south with those in the north, he said that the people of the south in meting out punishment to a negro who had committed a fiendish crime never followed it up with violence toward defenseless women and children, as had been done in the north. He declared that President Roosevelt by inviting Booker Washington to dine at the White House had done more to inflame the passions of the negro and to give him a perverted idea of his importance and his near approach to social equality than anything that had been done for the last ten years.

Subsidies to railroads for special mail facilities came in for considerable criticism by Mr. Robertson (Ind.) and Mr. Gaines (Tenn.), the latter characterizing them as "a legalized steal."

Rural mail carriers found many friends on the floor, who advocated increased pay for them and the privilege of acting as agents for newspapers and trades people.

Mr. Flood (Va.) denied that Perry S. Heath was entitled to credit for inaugurating rural free delivery. He said Heath made the claim "notwithstanding the fact that he had not yet emerged from the postoffice scandal with a name as unsullied as the Alpine snows thrice bleached by northern blasts."

Another entire day of the senate was devoted to consideration in executive session of the nomination of General Leonard Wood to be major general. Senator Blackburn, resuming his speech begun Tuesday, occupied a little more than two hours and was followed by Senator Quarles, who consumed the balance of the day. It is predicted now that a vote will be reached before adjournment tomorrow. In addition to the set speeches which will be made by Senators Teller and Foraker, Senator Alger, formerly secretary of war, will take fifteen or twenty minutes in defense of General Wood's executive ability. He will speak from a personal point of view.

Pioneer Lumberman Dead.

PORT HURON, Mich., March 17.—Nelson Mills, a pioneer lumberman and capitalist, is dead at his home in Marysville, aged eighty-one years. Mr. Mills built up one of the finest summer resorts on the lakes at Stag island, in the St. Clair river, which he leased from the Canadian government for a hundred years. He controlled lumber yards at Cleveland, Toledo, Marysville and in West Virginia. Recently he promoted and completed the deal for the purchase of the Lansing street railway and the St. Louis and St. Johns interurban line in this state.

Rev. Schell Wins Libel Suit.

BOSTON, March 17. — A superior court jury has returned a verdict in favor of Rev. E. A. Schell of Chicago in his suit for libel against Dr. Charles Parkhurst, editor, and the Boston Wesleyan association, publishers of Zion's Herald. The jury fixed damages at $24,000. The suit arose over statements printed in Zion's Herald in 1899 regarding the publication by Mr. Schell in collaboration with E. O. Excell of Chicago, a composer, of a sacred songbook.

Oyster Packers Burned Out.

TILGHMANS ISLAND, Md., March 17.—Fire here destroyed the oyster packing plants of the Tilghman Island Packing company, the Avalon Packing company, Howerth & Co. and Carrington & Co. The freight sheds of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railroad company were also destroyed. The total damage will reach about $40,000, which is covered by insurance.

British Columbia Statesman Dead.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 17.—Dr. Thomas McInnes, formerly senator from British Columbia and subsequently lieutenant governor of this province, is dead of heart disease. He was a pioneer in British Columbia.

Speaker of Colorado House Dead.

DENVER, March 17. — Dr. James Brownlee Sanford, speaker of the Colorado house of representatives, is dead of appendicitis, aged thirty-five years. He was born at Penn Yan, N. Y.

NEW PENSION RULING

Old Soldiers on Disabled List at Sixty-two.

COMMISSIONER WARE EXPLAINS.

All Claimants Under Act of June 27, 1890, to Be Considered Disabled One-half at Sixty-two Years and Allowed $6 Per Month.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Commissioner of Pensions Ware, with the approval of Secretary Hitchcock, has promulgated the most important pension ruling that has been issued in a long time. It directs that, beginning April 13 next, if there is no contrary evidence and all other legal requirements have been met, claimants for pension under the general act of June 27, 1890, who are over sixty-two years old shall be considered as disabled one-half in ability to perform manual labor and shall be entitled to $6 a month. Those over sixty-five years shall be allowed $8, over sixty-eight years $10 and over seventy $12, the usual allowances at higher rates continuing for disabilities other than age.

Commissioner Ware just before leaving for a trip south for his health spoke as follows regarding the order, which, he said, would save both the old soldiers and the government a great deal of money and time.

"There has long been in the bureau a rule fixing a maximum age limit at $12 for seventy-five years. This was made during Mr. Cleveland's administration by Commissioner Lochren, now federal judge in Minnesota.

"The sixty-five year minimum limit has been a long while in force in the bureau, but I am not advised by whom it was established, nor is it particularly material since it met with general acquiescence.

"The act of congress which was passed in the latter part of January, 1887, and approved by President Cleveland put all the Mexican war veterans on the pension roll thirty-nine years exactly after the end of the Mexican war. The Mexican war ended officially by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, Feb. 2, 1848, although hostilities had ceased before that time, according to the capture of the City of Mexico.

"It would seem that if thirty-nine years after the expiration of service a Mexican war soldier was entitled to a pension at sixty-two years and no other requisite for drawing a pension should exist except age that to soldiers of the civil war, who fought vastly more and longer, at least as good a rule ought to apply.

"The Mexican war limit of sixty-two years was probably brought about by the well known army limit of sixty-two years, at which officers are retired.

"The order could not have been issued earlier because it is only now that the thirty-nine years fixed by the congressional limit has been reached. The civil war ended April 13, 1865, and in enlistments in the loyal states those who enlisted after that time are held to have no pensionable service during the war of the rebellion; hence the thirty-nine years expire on the 13th of next month, and it is very proper that the order should be issued fixing the sixty-two years as the minimum age limit and the Biblical threescore and ten as the maximum.

"There is an advantage and saving to the government in the use of this order, because every old soldier who has reached the age of sixty-two years is able to prove almost without possibility of doubt that he is one-half disabled from earning his support by manual labor. This being so, it seems unwise to put a soldier to the expense of time and transportation to go to a place where a medical board can examine him to find that fact out, and, on the other hand, it seems unnecessary for the government to keep boards established and then pay $6 for the examination of a soldier when the result of the examination can be so accurately foretold.

"I am of the opinion that this order will save the government a good deal of money. Of the 200,000 examinations in the last year, if one-fourth of them were saved it would make $300,000 and perhaps an equal amount in time and transportation to the old soldier who would have to go and be examined."

Postal Robberies Confessed.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Edward Kerlin, arrested here, has confessed to stealing hundreds of letters from mail boxes in Hyde Park in the last three months. He says that after forging indorsements on checks and money orders he cashed them, chiefly in department stores. Kerlin, who is thirty years of age, was released from the Joliet penitentiary last October at the expiration of a three years' sentence for robbing mail boxes.

Bay State Democratic Convention.

BOSTON, March 17.—The Democratic state committee has completed arrangements for the annual Democratic state convention, which will be held at Tremont temple, this city, on Thursday, April 21. The meeting of the state committee was held at the Revere House, Congressman William S. McNary of South Boston, the chairman, presiding, and out of sixty-five members fifty-two were present.

SWACKHAMER'S BILL PASSES

ASSEMBLY TAKES FAVORABLE ACTION ON TEACHERS' RETIREMENT FUND.

Mr. Swackhamer has succeeded in passing the teachers' retirement fund bill in the House at Trenton. The Assembly chamber was packed Tuesday with people from all parts of the State interested in the passage of the measure. It came up on third reading early in the afternoon and the fight lasted till time for adjournment. In his plea for the bill, Mr. Swackhamer showed that the law creating the teachers' retirement fund was passed in 1896. It was intended that the State Treasurer should administer the fund without charge to the fund; that by technicality this intention had been frustrated; that this fund which now amounts to $75,000 and upwards has been created by the teachers paying in 1 per cent. of their salary each year; that the object of the fund is to provide for broken down and aged teachers who have rendered good service in the public schools; that in all other States where teachers' retirement funds have been established, the funds are administered by the State; that it is for the benefit of the State, that bright, active and enterprising young people should be encouraged to enter into the profession of teaching; that by the creation of this fund and its free administration, an inducement is held out to such persons; that the State school fund is a public fund and should be administered at public expense. The bill was opposed by several members, but it had more friends than enemies and was passed by a vote of thirty-two in favor and twenty against.

THE LADIES favor painting their churches, and therefore we urge every Minister to remember we give a liberal quantity of the Longman & Martinez Paint toward the painting.

Wears and covers like gold.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy other paints in a can with a paint label on it.

8 and 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight of L. & M., and mix 6 gallons pure Linseed Oil with it, and thus get paint at less than $1.20 per gallon.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of Linseed Oil mixed therewith.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

March 20: "Little Things Made Great."—1 Cor. i, 25-29.

"God chose the weak things of the world that He might put to shame the things that are strong."

Paul had heard that there were cliques forming in the church at Corinth. This church was made up of most diverse elements. It was situated in a commercial metropolis and naturally attracted people from all parts of the world and of most varied occupations, traits of character and habits. Greeks in large numbers were there resident and, being so near Athens, would be influenced by the views and practices of that most cultured of Greek cities. The temples of Corinth were noted throughout the east for their wealth, luxury and licentiousness. Jews and gentiles mingled on the streets almost as promiscuously as in Rome itself, and all the social problems which could arise in such a complex condition of society seem to have come to the surface in the life of the early Christian community. Some of these appear to have been referred to the judgment of Paul, the founder of the church, for his advice. His answers are in the two letters which form the Epistles to the Corinthians in the New Testament.

The origin of the little circles or groups into which the church was fast dividing seems to have been in the different views held by the leading Christian teachers on some points of belief and practice. Some claimed to be Paulists, others Apollusites, Peterites or Christites.

Paul corrects this tendency to schism by declaring Jesus to be the only Saviour and all others are co-workers to establish His kingdom. He reveals the double tendency of human nature as displayed in Jewish and Greek national traits of mind and shows how God has in the gospel of Jesus Christ met and answered the questions and needs of universal human nature and provided a world Redeemer; all of this in a far simpler manner than any one could have imagined possible and by this simplicity forever reaching all human need. The Jews and orientals in general, particularly those of Semitic race, are attracted by the wonderful in religion. Signs, prodigies and trances are valued as sure evidences of divine revelation. They looked for a Messiah who should be a world conquering hero and by miraculous powers overcome all enemies. The supernatural ever appealed to them. All nature was manifestation of Jehovah's power, but the unusual displayed it most convincingly.

The Greeks were religious in a different way. The reason was most emphasized with them. They had far less of the mystical and more of intellectual habits of mind.

Jesus performed prodigies, and yet so differently from what the Jews expected that crucifixion resulted. Then came resurrection, the most wonderful sign that all the ages have seen. But Messiah crucified was and is to the Jews a stumbling block and rock of offense.

To the Greeks this same story of "the cross" is the height of unwisdom, and its proclamation is folly. So it remains to the present time to two great classes of people.

But to those who accept the Crucified One and are transformed in soul purposes and feel the impulse of new life He becomes power of God and wisdom of God. The truth is simplicity itself, but reveals depths of divine grace and glory beyond all imagination.

The Lord and the Word.

The very humanness of the Lord in His earthly life, the very limitations of the nature which He took from men, brought Him near in sympathy to those whom He would help. They made Him approachable, they made Him intelligible as He could not have been if He had not been the Son of Man. The same is true of the written word. A word in divine language, in forms of thought foreign to men in their weak, suffering life, would not be useful. Men could not approach it. They could not understand it. They could not receive comfort and strength and healing from it. Therefore, the Lord has made His word also to be the Son of Man.—Helper.

The Safeguard Against Temptation.

The safeguard against temptation is not seclusion, but self culture. As it is not disinfectants which will most certainly secure one against infection, but a sound constitution, so it is not rules of life which will strengthen one against temptation, but a strong soul. One must build up his moral constitution by the habit of noble deeds and high thinking, by fellowship with pure women and honorable men. The chief aids in this regimen are literature and friendship.—Ian Maclaren.

It Changes Not.

Infidelity has its fashions, but its root changes not. An evil heart is at the bottom of all its manifestations. It takes on divers forms at different eras and under different circumstances, but it still shows that its vitalizing source is a permanent heart of unbelief. Nothing but grace can change the unrenewed soul and give clear and saving apprehensions of divine truth.—Presbyterian.

True Sayings.

There is but one failure, and that is not to be true to the best one knows.

When thou wouldst help another, study to please not thyself in the doing, but him thou servest. So shalt thou be unselfish indeed.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 20.

Topic.—Little things that Christ makes great.—I Cor. i, 25-29.

On one occasion during the Centennial exposition of 1876 at Philadelphia suddenly the machinery of the great exhibition stopped. The wonderful Corliss engine that furnished the power for all the various departments was examined, and it was found that one of its smallest parts was disarranged, and yet it brought everything in the exposition to a complete standstill! Thus we are taught that the day of small things is not to be despised. In nature and in human history God constantly emphasizes the fact that little things can become great and are of great importance. An acorn becomes a giant oak. The constant falling water wears away the stone and makes the mighty Niagara falls. The falling of an apple led to the discovery of the law of gravitation, the spider's web across a pathway suggested the suspension bridge, and the escaping steam from a boiling kettle furnished the idea of the application of steam as a power in the industrial world. What wonderful results from such feeble beginnings! Yet the hand of God was in it, and from it all we can learn that God can make little things great.

The history of the Christian church proves the ability of God in Christ to make greatness from littleness. Gideon with 300 men overcame a great army of the Midianites. David with a sling and pebble conquered the Philistian giant and led to Israel's great victory over the ancient enemy. In the early history of the Christian church the same fact is richly illustrated. Not many men wise in human wisdom, not many men occupying exalted positions, not many men of distinguished family history were called to establish Christ's kingdom. Instead, Christ called humble, unknown, unread fishermen and tradesmen that the world might know that Christianity was divinely and not humanly established—"that no flesh should glory in His presence."

The church and Christian people often need to recall the fact that God and Christ can make small things great. Cicero says that the Corinthians were "famous not only for their luxuriousness, but also for their wealth and philosophic culture." The Corinthians therefore needed this lesson. They may have been inclined to trust too much in the wisdom, luxury, wealth and culture of men rather than in Christ, and hence Paul tells them that these things are nothing to God and that His method is to use foolishness rather than wisdom, men of low degree rather than men of high degree, the base things, the despised things, of the world, and yet out of them to make great men and great things, because He is God. The Christian church today tends to pander to worldly wisdom, wealth and culture. The wise are honored overmuch. The rich too often lord it over the church simply because of their riches, and culture is given a larger place in the church than simple and humble piety. Individual Christians also need to be reminded of this lesson. There are many unused talents in our churches because they are not great talents, many little deeds undone because they are not great deeds, many helpful words unspoken because they cannot be eloquently spoken. Christ can make little things great—the little word, the little deed, the little talent. Therefore consecrate it to Him and let Him use it for His glory, and not only will it redound to His honor and glory, but also to your own good, for not even a cup of cold water given in His name is without its reward. Therefore despise not the day of small things, for Christ can make the little things great.

The Forward Movement.

In October and November 141 new societies were reported at Christian Endeavor headquarters. Of this number fourteen came from New York and Indiana, thirteen from Michigan, nine from Massachusetts, nine from Oregon, eight from Texas, seven from Maine and six each from Kansas, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Endeavor In Micronesia.

Two new societies, of separate languages, are reported by Dr. C. F. Rife of Kusaie, Caroline islands, one of forty members in the Gilbert Islands Training school at Kusaie and the other of thirty for the Kusaians. The first society in Micronesia was organized in 1895.

News Notes That Stir.

Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, the new Chinese minister to this country, has uttered words of highest praise of the Christian Endeavor society and Young Men's Christian association in that country, and particularly of the medical missionaries and hospitals.

The German Christian Endeavor union has offered to support one or two German missionaries in the Caroline islands under the care of the American board, thus filling the places of the English speaking missionaries whom the German government removed.

In nine months the Congregational society of Griggsville, Ill., has raised $50 for missions, to be divided equally between home and foreign work. It has seventeen active and three associate members, and, besides this, the members who give the best in the Christian Endeavor society are the heaviest givers in another people's missionary society and give to the young church. During its life as a society it has carpeted and seated the chapel and bought a new organ and books for it without once dropping mission work.

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

WOMAN IN JAPAN.

Feminine Education a Strange Mingling of the Old and New.

Until the reign of the present mikado the status of woman in Japan was that laid down by Confucius for China. Her code of conduct was comprised in two words—obedience and silence. With the opening of Japan to the outside world ancient traditions of woman's sphere were shaken. The Jap alone of orientals has sense enough to see that no nation can become great unless its mothers are intelligent. When the new public schools for boys were founded, schools for girls were started too.

Even among the ranks of the royalty and high nobility of Japan it is understood that school is better for girls than mere instruction at home, because association on equal terms with other girls broadens her intelligence and strengthens her character. In this respect the Jap has more common sense than some shoddy American aristocrats, who on no account would let their daughters be taught by anybody but tutors and governesses at home.

The kindergarten is a mixed institution in the mikado's land. He himself decrees what the school instruction of his subjects shall be. When he got the temporal power in his own hands, with one stroke he cut through many of the old traditions. No theological creed should be taught in the public schools, he decreed, only in lieu thereof a system of ethics devised by himself. Love and duty toward country and parents sum up the mikado's code of ethics.

From the time she leaves the kindergarten at the age of six till she quits school altogether at the age of eighteen the Jap girl hears day in and day out the preaching of the doctrine of love of country. No wonder the Japs are patriotic. The splendid patriotism the schoolgirl learned she in turn inculcates into the heart and soul of her own sons and daughters. How many American mothers systematically teach love of country to their children? In this respect many a time the "heathen" Jap mother puts them to shame.

After leaving the kindergarten the little brown girl enters the elementary school, where she remains four years. Then she is graduated to the grammar school. Four years of that, then the young lady who is going in for more education continues on through the high school and college. At school a girl learns reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, Jap grammar and history and some science. There are special lessons in singing, too, though Jap singing sounds queer to a western ear. There is a vigorous system of physical culture in the schools, under which the girl learns the athletic games and exercises common among women students of western colleges. The Japanese schoolgirl must learn to draw and paint too.

The education here outlined is that of the girl belonging to the well to do middle class. There is little of a future for her except marriage, and her training from her mother at home is conducted in a way to fit her for domestic duties. It used to be that the girl married at sixteen. Now the average age of marriage for girls is nineteen or twenty. At home preparatory to entering "woman's sphere" the young lady learns cooking and all domestic duties. One part of her home education might well be imitated in western lands. Strenuously is it enjoined on little Miss Jap that she must be ever good tempered and polite, ever low voiced and gentle. She has also many lessons in the arrangement of flowers, a very important matter among such a flower loving race as the Japanese. They excel all others in floriculture.

Japanese flower painting and flower embroidery have been greatly admired in the western world. Because the little brown people love flowers so they excel in the floral treatment of art. Among their most beautiful holiday observances are their flower fetes. Before the women wore the western dress on high festal days they were accustomed to appear in silken and velvet kimonos embroidered richly in the flower that was in season at this special time. At the emperor's annual chrysanthemum fete they wore chrysanthemum kimonos, and in the cherry blossom season their flowing robes were sprinkled all over with the rare pink bloom.

The darkest blot on Japan's civilization is that parents are still permitted to sell their daughters for a given term into servitude.

MARCIA W. CAMPBELL.

A young woman was recently arrested for bigamy, although on investigation the charge was found to be unjust. But in the court she said: "I'm sorry now I ever married at all. I've never had a day's luck since. Maybe I could have liked Kraft better if he had not thought so much of bridges."

THE STARVING BIRDS

Deaths from Hunger and Cold That Might Be Avoided.

A Severe Winter Has Cut Off Their Usual Food Supply—How the Suffering May Be Quickly Alleviated.

Our wild birds are dying by hundreds and thousands, and they are dying chiefly from lack of food. In many cases they are perishing literally from starvation, but more often the death is caused by cold, which they could stand well enough if they were sufficiently fed. Every bird may be likened to a small furnace, the fuel for which is the food it eats, and the nonconductor, its covering of feathers. When there is plenty of fuel, the little furnace is warm—warmer by some degrees than a man or a horse—but when fuel becomes scarce the furnace burns low, and presently goes out. When food is plentiful, birds have little to fear from the most intense cold. A turkey buzzard which I have in captivity at this time is a case in point. The vulture is an inhabitant of the southern states, and seldom comes as far north as New York city, even in summer or autumn. But the individual I have here has been exposed to biting winds when the thermometer registered 20 degrees below zero, yet he walked about in the snow, spread out his wings to the sun, and preened his plumage with as little concern as though he had been perched on a chimney in Charleston, S. C. The secret was simply an unfailing supply of food.

The chief cause of the present great mortality among our wild birds at this time is the unusual amount of sleet and snow which have fallen this winter. Many of the birds depend for food entirely on the seeds which they gather from the tops of the weeds in the fields and along the roadsides, or which they pick up from the ground beneath these weeds. The snow has covered both the ground and the weed tops and cut off their food supply. The rest of the feathered population depend on berries and buds, or the insects' larvae, etc. But the sleet has come, and the berries, buds and the tree trunks are sheathed in ice, and these birds, too, are dying. It is a sad fact that hundreds and thousands are already gone, but if we, who love them, will strive to prove our love at once, we may yet save many thousands more.

Perhaps the best and the quickest way to alleviate the suffering is through the children of the schools. Most of these children have an intelligent love for the birds, and will gladly give up an afternoon, or a day, for that matter, to assist in distributing food for their feathered friends. As my own first experience may be of assistance to those who desire to try a similar experiment, I will relate it. As soon as I knew how serious the conditions were, I wrote a letter to the local superintendent of schools, asking him to kindly cooperate with me in an effort to feed the birds in and around his town, by urging the boys in the public and high school to help in distributing food the next afternoon. I requested that all who could bring bird seed, grain, suet, bread or table scraps, or anything else which birds could eat, would do so, and that the others would come provided with bags or baskets to distribute such food as my friends and I would have ready for them. The letter was sent by a messenger, and in two hours I received word from the superintendent that 34 students from the high school would be at the school building and ready to assist me at half-past two on the following day. On my arrival I found the students awaiting me, provided with baskets of broken nuts, barn-floor sweepings, and all manner of bird food. The boys were divided into squads of four or five, under the leadership of one who knew well some particular bit of woodland or stretch of open country. There were eight squads, and they marched away in orderly fashion, each in a different direction, with instructions to cover about one-eighth of the country immediately surrounding the town. Each squad had at least one shovel, and in open places, such as fields and meadows, good generous spaces were cleared of snow and covered with seed and grain, scraps of meat and the like. Had the food been simply thrown on the surface of the snow it would soon have been buried and inaccessible, but on bare ground in the middle of an otherwise snow-covered field, it attracted the attention of every passing bird.

In every squad there was at least one boy who could climb, and the suet, in generous lumps, was tied to the branches of trees, where it was likely to attract the birds, but where it was to attract the birds.

ERNEST HAROLD BAYNES.

GOOD NAVAL RECORD.

Admiral Evans' Fleet Sailed 8,500 Miles Without a Mishap.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The navy department has published a report from Admiral Evans in which he invites attention to the record made on the recent trip of the battleship and cruiser squadrons from Yokohama to Honolulu and thence to Cavite, covering a distance of practically 8,500 miles in midwinter. The admiral says:

"During the run from Yokohama to Honolulu the seas were the worst I have ever experienced and continued practically throughout the entire run. The weather conditions from Honolulu to Cavite were better, and, on the whole, the trip was an easy and comfortable one. During this run of practically 8,500 miles to Cavite no repairs or overhauling were done on the engines of any of the vessels by any outside force, and only such was done by the force on board each vessel as could be taken in hand during the short time of the stay of the vessels at Honolulu when not occupied in coaling.

"The speed maintained by the battleship squadron from Yokohama to Honolulu was twelve and one-half knots. The battleship squadron arrived in Cavite after this run of 8,500 miles in as good condition as when it started out from Yokohama and was ready for any service that it might be called on to perform. The same could be said of the cruiser squadron, with the exception of the Cincinnati, which needed a new airpump rod."

NO MINE STRIKE.

Overwhelming Vote For Acceptance of Wage Reduction.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 17.—At the national headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America estimates on the vote of the miners have been computed by the national officers. They are positive the scale has been accepted, and there will be no strike.

Of the 190,000 miners in the states voting it is estimated that about 135,000 voted, and of these 88,500 voted for the scale, and about 46,500 voted against it and in favor of a strike.

Maryland did not vote, not being sure it was entitled to vote. West Virginia reports are meager, and no estimate is made. Indiana cast 10,000 votes, a majority of 2 to 1 for the scale. Illinois cast 30,000 votes, with a majority of 2 to 1 against the scale and in favor of a strike. Pennsylvania cast 50,000 votes, with a majority of 2 to 1 for the scale. Kentucky had a small vote, with 3 to 1 for the scale. Iowa cast 10,000 votes, with a majority for a strike. Michigan cast a small vote for the scale. Ohio cast 35,000 votes, with 4 to 1 for the scale.

Carnegie Aids Kenyon College.

CLEVELAND, O., March 17.—Last December the late Senator Hanna wrote to Andrew Carnegie for a contribution to Kenyon college at Gambier, O., an institution in which Mr. Hanna was much interested and to which he had contributed the sum of $50,000 several years ago. Mr. Carnegie learned of Senator Hanna's gift and decided to give a like sum, notice of which has just been given through a communication from Mr. Carnegie's secretary to President Peirce of Kenyon. The gift is in the form of 5 per cent bonds worth at market price something over $60,000.

Colombia Legation Closed.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Colombian legation in this city has been closed, and Dr. Tomas Herran, who for a long time has been acting as charge d'affaires, will leave the United States for his former home in Medelin in two or three weeks. Future communications between the Colombian government and the state department will be conducted through Consul General Arturo de Brigard at New York. The closing of the legation is the direct result of the events ending in the secession of Panama and the negotiation of the present isthmian canal treaty.

Farmer Kills Wife and Self.

CHAPMAN, Kan., March 17.—Robert Kenney, a wealthy young farmer, shot and instantly killed his wife, Alice, at their home here and then killed himself. Two years ago Kenney was sued for breach of promise by his wife, and a judgment of $6,000 was rendered against him. The suit was compromised by his marrying her, but recently she sued him for divorce, alleging cruelty.

Making Money For Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—The Examiner says that the San Francisco mint is making United States coin for the Japanese government, gold being sent here for coinage into money which will be used in the purchase of food and other supplies for the army and navy. The last two steamers from the orient have each brought $2,000,000 worth of gold bullion from Japan.

Three Quarrymen Killed.

EASTON, Pa., March 17.—Three men have been killed in quarries in the Bangor slate district. Depue Ace and Martin Zelkey were killed by a slide of ice in the Pen Argyl valley quarry at Pen Argyl, and Nicholas Totto was killed by a blast in the Star quarry at Bangor.

Yale Basket Ball Team Beaten.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The Yale varsity basket ball five was defeated by the team representing the west side branch of the Young Men's Christian association at the latter's gymnasium by the score of 22 to 17.

Munroe Wins Wrestling Match.

RICHMOND, Va., March 17.—Jack Munroe, the Butte miner, who recently defeated Tom Sharkey in a pugilistic encounter, won in a wrestling match here with M. J. Dwyer. He outclassed the latter.

STATE EXPENSES GROW.

New York Appropriations Increased $754,000—Senator Malby Explains.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 17.—The appropriation bill reported to the senate shows a total of $18,177,000, an increase of $754,000 over that of last year.

Speaking on the bill, Senator Malby, chairman of the committee, said:

"The increase may be readily explained. In the first place, the increase in the appropriations for the state hospital for the care of the insane amounts to $400,000; that for the support of the common schools is $100,000; that for public and educational institutions $50,000, and there is a new provision made for $245,000 in excise rebates this year. All this amounts to $195,000, which proves that there is a real net decrease in the general appropriations this year of more than $40,000.

"We are to have added 1,200 beds in the hospital for the insane, which indicates the growing population of the state hospitals. We believe that there should be established in New York city a hospital for the treatment of acute diseases of insanity. This will cost $300,000, but I believe it will be a good investment. Many persons are sent to asylums who might be treated and cured in a few weeks in a detention hospital.

"A large item is for the common schools. For every teacher $100 is appropriated, and there has been an increase of 1,000 in the number of teachers, there being 700 more teachers in New York city alone, so the addition in this appropriation amounts to $100,000.

"The national guard appropriation is increased $37,000 and the naval militia appropriation $9,000. The metropolitan bureau of elections will receive $100,000, the same as last year.

"There is a reduction in the state department appropriations, an instance of which is the cut from $50,000 to $20,000 for special attorneys and legal expenses for the excise department."

Matinee Audience In a Panic.

PITTSBURG, March 17.—A small sized panic at the Alvin theater resulted from the announcement that Virginia Harned refused to appear in her advertised part. Fully 2,000 people, mostly women, had been seated for the performance at the usual "bargain matinee" (50 cents for any seat in the house), and when the announcement was made that Miss Harned refused to appear before such a cheap house a grand rush was made for the box office to get money back. The theater officials were powerless to check the rush, and many women were hurt, but none seriously.

Crusade Against Gambling.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 17.—For two days policy shop gamblers have defied the authorities, who have sought under the state law to seize the gambling paraphernalia and close the doors. Hundreds of arrests have been made, and still the policy gamblers continue openly to do business. It is claimed the game does not come under the present state law, and Governor Cummins will be asked to draft an amendment for the legislature covering that character of gambling.

Farmer Tortured and Robbed.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 17.—Three burglars entered the home of James Pickenpaugh, a farmer living at Cheatneck, near here, and after torturing their victim secured $1,100 in gold and silver and escaped. Pickenpaugh had no faith in the stability of the banks and carried the money, which represented his savings for twenty years, strapped about his waist in wallets.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Hammering Swackhamer.

The handle appears to have fallen out of Mr. Swackhammer's hammer.—Trenton State Gazette.

Ye Bakers.

Years ago, when wheat was never worth less than a dollar a bushel, five cents was the fixed price of a loaf of bread. Now, when wheat has only temporarily reached the dollar price, the bakers of the large cities feel impelled to raise the price of bread per loaf because of the increase in the price of flour. It is all very funny.—Clinton Democrat.

HINTS FOR BRIDEGROOMS.

There Is Plenty of Advice for Brides, But Not a Word for the Poor Men.

A thoughtful young man of Washington was heard to decry the other day the fact that while there is a deluge of "don'ts" and "dos" for the bride to follow, the bridegroom must shift for himself, says the Post.

"There is absolutely nothing to guide a man but his own awkward self. It isn't fair," he said. "From the time a girl is old enough to detect sound she understands the importance of having things done properly at a wedding, while the prospective groom is only something necessary to complete the picture. Nothing short of inspiration can get a man through a marriage ceremony gracefully.

"In order to impress the bride and spectators that he is enthusiastic about it, he appears with a sort of frozen grin on his face that you expect to melt at any moment and run down his collar. If he is too frightened to respond in a loud voice some of the bride's girl friends will whisper that 'it was plainly evident he was unwilling from the start.' Again, if he replies in a loud, stern voice, another bunch in another direction of the church will huddle together and express how glad they are that they are not marrying him, while the attitude of many is that they are signing away their life and all worth living for. So I, for one, think it high time that somebody wrote a few hints on how to behave, that we men may appear enthusiastic about being married, without being ridiculous and proving a target for the world in general to knock at."

EXECUTION OF AN INDIAN.

Condemned to Death for Murder of Brother-in-Law--Faced His Fate with Composure.

Daniel Davis was the name of the culprit, and he was condemned to death for the murder of his brother-in-law, says the Coweta (I. T.) Courier. On the day of the execution his coffin had been placed on two chairs under a big oak tree, which still stands in the old courthouse yard at Coweta. He requested them to let him see the coffin, and he stood by its side, gazed sadly into it, and said it was all right. A chair was set at the head of the coffin; he took his seat, pulled off his boots, and said he was ready. Capt. Childers, the sheriff—now dead—pinned a small blue ribbon on the lapel of Davis' vest over the heart. The prisoner viewed all this with composure and unconcern. Two men, one with a double-barreled shotgun and the other a Spencer rifle, took their places about 20 feet away. The command was given, ready, aim, fire! Both shots were simultaneous; the blue ribbon was hit; a convulsive tremor, and poor Daniel Davis was no more. Old men wept and many were the tears that were shed for this poor full-blood Indian who had taken the life of his erring brother-in-law.

SENATORS FROM KANSAS.

Hoodoo Which Seems to Attach to Line of "Fated Succession"—Bad Luck Follows Them.

John T. Ingalls' "fated succession" is vividly recalled to mind by the present trouble in which Senator Burton finds himself. The brilliant Atchison statesman so designated the line of Kansas United States senators that started out with Gen. James H. Lane.

Those in the "fated succession," says the Topeka Capital, were James H. Lane, Edward G. Rees, Robert Crozier, Alexander Caldwell, James M. Harvey, Preston B. Plumb, Bishop K. Perkins, John Martin, Lucien Baker and the present Senator J. Ralph Burton. Lane committed suicide. Ross committed political suicide by voting against the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, and was driven out of his party. Crozier, who served about a year by appointment, died without leaving a single mark by which his brief senatorial career can be remembered. Caldwell resigned after two years' service to escape investigation.

Harvey, although he had been governor of his state and had made a fairly good reputation as such, made a very insignificant senator, and was, after three years' service, defeated for reelection and dropped out of political life. Plumb died in office at Washington. Perkins served a brief term by appointment and is scarcely remembered as a senator. Martin served two years, and left the senate poorer in purse and with less prestige than he possessed when he went in. Baker was almost a total failure, and his crushing defeat for reelection at the hands of Burton is still warm in the memory of the people of Kansas.

DISEASE NEEDS WATCHING.

Whooping Cough Not Simple Little Affair Many Suppose—Nearly as Fatal as Scarlet Fever.

Eliza H. Root calls attention, says the Woman's Medical Journal, to the fact that this disease is too little dreaded by the medical profession and that it is by no means the simple affair that many seem to suppose.

From the United States census of 1900 we find that 663 died in New York from whooping cough and 549 from scarlet fever. In Chicago 141 died from whooping cough and 373 from scarlet fever; Philadelphia, 179 from whooping cough, 182 from scarlet fever, and so on in the different cities. Death from whooping cough occurs most frequently from pneumonia as a complication that induces heart failure, or a bronchitis may occur that ends in suffocation. Asphyxia or marasmus due to the continued ejecting of the food or loss of appetite may cause death.

Even when death does not occur, severe disturbance of the nervous system may remain, as weakness of the intellect and memory, imbecility. Visual defects, strabismus, blindness and deafness, partial or complete, and even deaf-mutism may remain. Whooping cough, it is evident, should be under the control of health authorities, subject to quarantine and other preventive measures as much as scarlet fever.

NO "DAY OFF" FOR A JUDGE.

Barristers in Great Britain Can Apply for Injunctions at Any Time and Place.

Illustrating the proposition that a judge never puts aside his judgeship, the Westminster Gazette has the following:

"Yesterday Mr. Justice Bucknill was surprised on the links by a barrister who presented an urgent request for a certain injunction. His lordship suspended his game, and after due consideration of the facts made the order, which was at once telegraphed to Cardiff, and no doubt took effect the same afternoon.

"On another occasion a barrister on a similar quest is rumored to have found his quarry bathing at Brighton. With a commendable devotion to his client's interests, he hired the next bathing machine and rapidly joined the judge in the water. The judge's surprise at being suddenly accosted in the well-known formula, 'I have an application to make, my lord, in a very urgent matter,' may be imagined. The law sometimes atones for its proverbial delay by these lightning injunctions."

Falconry in Turkestan.

In a remote part of Turkestan Dr. Sven Hedin, the explorer, a few years ago discovered the ancient art of falconry in full flower. "Among the horsemen were eight falconers," he writes, "two of whom carried eagles, the others falcons, all duly hooded. In this part of the world falconers form an indispensable adjunct in any formal parade or procession. Later in the day they gave us an exhibition of their birds' powers by letting them kill four hares and a deer, all of which were presented to me."

Telephone Girls Become Bald.

A large proportion of telephone girls employed by the big companies in New York give up their places rather than incur the risk of becoming partly bald. This effect of the steel band or hood which telephone operators wear over their head is plainly noticeable in the case of those who have scanty hair. On boys who act as telephone operators it is even more noticeable than with girls.

POLITICAL GOSSIP IN REPUBLICAN CAMP

G. P. Mellick or J. F. Buckle May Become Standard Bearer in the Mayoralty Fight.

RUNYON TO BE RENAMED

FREEHOLDERS HUBBARD AND WESTPHAL LIKELY TO BE RENOMINATED.

Charles F. Abbott Will Probably be Selected Again as a School Director—It is Said That Runyon Can Have Any Office He Desires.

Political machines are always at work, and though the next city election is too far off to enter the mind of the average citizen, the politicians are already busy figuring on the make-up of the slate to be presented at the Republican convention. A lot of importance will attach to the election, for successors to Mayor Jenkins, City Judge Runyon, Freeholders Hubbard and Westphal, and School Commissioner Charles F. Abbott are to be elected.

There seems to be little likelihood that Dr. Jenkins will run again for the mayoralty. He is serving his second term, and his practice is said to make it impossible for him to consent to renomination without making a great personal sacrifice. It is understood that he will be offered a renomination, but it can be safely said that he will not accept it.

With the Mayor's probable refusal to run again in mind, the slate-makers are casting about for the man most likely to be named in his stead. Most prominent among those who are said to have lightning rods up are James F. Buckle, former president of the Council, and Former Councilman George P. Mellick. Both are men of marked executive ability, have a large knowledge of city affairs, and possess a wide popularity. Either one would make a strong candidate and a splendid official.

It is a settled thing that Judge Runyon will be again renominated. He can have anything in the gift of the city organization, and has declared his desire for another term. That disposes of that office, unless the Judge changes his mind between now and the time of the convention. There is no more popular man than the Judge in or out of the organization, and there will be no thought of a change on the city magistrate's bench as long as he may continue to want the berth.

Freeholder Hubbard has become an institution in the board, and his renomination is as certain as election day itself. Mr. Hubbard has been freeholder for nearly two-score years, most of the time in the director's chair, and he will go on the ticket as long as he may wish to serve. Up to the present time no suggestion that Freeholder Westphal be retired has been made, and it is generally believed that he will be put up for another term. Mr. Westphal has been a most active official, and is regarded by his colleagues as a highly valuable member of the board.

AUDIENCE APPRECIATED MUSIC

THE DANNREUTHER QUARTETTEE PRESENTS A PLEASING PROGRAMME.

The Dannreuther quartette of instrumentalists, which has pleased New York audiences so greatly during the past winter, gave a concert last night at the Casino. Miss Jeanie Rogers May, teacher of music at the Plainfield Seminary, arranged the concert, and was pianist. Gustav Dannreuther, first violin; F. Lorenz Smith, second violin; Josef Kovarik, viola, and Emil Schenck, violoncelo, composed the quartette.

The audience was large and reverenty appreciative. The music was beautiful. Sensitive in their interpretation of fine shades of musical meaning, adequate in their conception of the scope of their selections, the members of the quartette, all musicians of a high order of talent, held their hearers completely under a spell. Miss May's piano selections were received with high approval. She was presented with a bouquet of beautiful flowers.

The ushers were Robert Abbott, Hugh Baldwin and Charles Perkins.

MRS. J. G. GILLESPIE'S TALK

MISSIONARY ADDRESS TO MARK ANNIVERSARY OF KING'S MESSENGERS.

In connection with the observance of the organization's fifteenth anniversary, Mrs. J. G. Gillespie, of Elizabeth, delivered a mission talk to the King's Messengers, a junior missionnary society of the First Presbyterian church, last night.

Mrs. Gillespie told of the work that is being done in the Eastern field, describing with interesting detail a trip she took through Japan, India and China. To illustrate the costumes of some of the people she saw in the three countries, she draped native dresses that she had brought over about several members of the Messengers. Among the costumes was one worn by a Japanese priest, the only one, she said, in this country.

A ST. PATRICK'S SOCIAL

ENTERTAINMENT HELD UNDER AUSPICES OF BAPTIST ENDEAVORERS.

A social in which there were features appropriate to St. Patrick's Day, was held last night under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society, of the First Baptist church. The affair was held in the Sunday-school room of the church and it attracted an unusually large attendance. The programme was opened with recitations by Miss Hazel Grant and piano solos by Miss Carro Bird.

Then the young people engaged in a study of the arts. A number of common everyday articles were arranged on a table and the person guessing the greatest number correctly received a prize. N. Douglass Drake was successful. "The colored waiter" was represented by a black tray. "Old Ironsides," flat-irons; "An absorbing subject," a sponge; "The four seasons," salt, vinegar, mustard and pepper; "Something to adore," a key; "The Light of Other Days," a candle; "One Hundred Years Ago," 1804.

The guessing match was followed by a Shamrock hunt. Hundreds of Erin's symbol were hidden all over the room and the one finding the greatest number received a prize. Miss Josephine Serrell secured the prize.

This concluded the programme and the rest of the evening was spent in sociability, during which refreshments were served. The affair was in charge of the social committee of which Miss Hattie Mattison is chairman. The other members of the committee are Miss Bessie TenEyck, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, Miss Velma Oakley, Miss Grace Oakley, N. Douglass Drake and J. Henry Crane.

MISSION WORKERS.

First Presbyterian Church Home Missionary Society's Sewing Department Meets.

An unusually interesting and well-attended meeting of the sewing department of the Home Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church was held at the home of Mrs. W. W. Dunn yesterday afternoon.

The feature of the session was the report of the year's work by the Superintendent, Miss Kendall. The department has had a most successful year. Donations have been sent to several schools, chiefly among the "mountain whites" and the Indians.

Refreshments were served after the meeting, and a social time was enjoyed.

In Mrs. Douglass' Honor.

A birthday anniversary surprise party in the nature of a house-warming was tendered Mrs. O. A. Douglass last night. She has just returned to the borough from Port Richmond, S. I., where she has lived for some time past. One year ago yesterday her sixty-sixth birthday was celebrated at Port Richmond by a reception given her by Beacon Light Chapter, 75, Order of the Eastern Star, and about two hundred members of Richmond Lodge, No. 66, F. and A. M. Mrs. Douglass was first matron of Beacon Light. Both orders were represented at the surprise party last night.

Lodge's Anniversary.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., met last night and completed arrangements for the celebration of the twenty-first anniversary of the lodge to be held Thursday night, March 24. Frank Putnam is chairman of the committee in charge and a programme of unusual excellence has been prepared.

—Fred Yost, of Newark, was arrested for drunkenness Wednesday by Patrolman Myers. Judge Runyon fined him $5 yesterday morning.

HORSETHIEF BROWN COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Bucks County Man Arrested Here, hanged himself in States Prison at Trenton.

CONFESSED HIS CRIMES

BECAME DESPONDENT AFTER CONVICTION IN UNION COUNTY COURT.

Used a Piece of Jute to End His Career—Stole Many Horses in This Locality—Left a Wife—Sentenced for Five Years.

With a rope around his neck attached to the head of his bed, Charles Brown choked himself to death in the State prison at Trenton, Wednesday night. He is the man convicted of wholesale horse-thieving in several counties, the credit for his capture belonging to the local police. He was sentenced a few weeks ago to serve five years in jail.

Chief Kiely told a reporter this morning that Brown had been despondent from the time he was taken from this city for his trial at Elizabeth. The hard work and prison fare at Trenton added to his moroseness. He made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide almost as soon as he entered the State prison on February 16 last.

Brown obtained a rope from one of the prison shops and strangled himself while covered over with the bed clothes so that the night watchman could not perceive what was happening. His death was not discovered until he failed to come out of his cell yesterday morning.

Brown worked in No. 1 shop in the prison, his duty being to untie and tie up heavy rolls of mats with large pieces of jute. A piece of this jute he must have slipped into his pocket. When he retired he tied one end of the jute to the head of the bed and tied the other end around his neck. Then pulling the bedclothes over himself he deliberately pulled on to the rope with his head and body until he died.

Brown was forty-four years old, born in Georgia, and leaves a widow working in Trenton. He accused Jacob Rabinowitz, of Perth Amboy, of being an accomplice at the time that he was arrested. On February 25 he was taken to New Brunswick, where he appeared as a witness before the Grand Jury of that place against Rabinowitz. While in that city he had a sensational meeting with his wife at the depot.

STOLE $200 COLLIE.

Prize Dog Belonging to Samuel Metzger, of Sycamore Avenue, is Missing.

Somebody with an eye for valuable dogs stole a $200 collie pup from the yard of Samuel Metzger, of Sycamore avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Metzger was watching the pup playing about the yard, but took her eyes from him for a short time. When she looked again the dog was gone. So was a water pail that had been set out to catch rain, and the inference is that they both went together. The dog's mother is a champion of this country and his father is champion of England. Mr. Metzger will pay a reward for the return of the dog without question.

PLAINFIELD BENEFITTED BY P. S. C.'S PURCHASE

M. and S. Traction Co. Having Been Acquired; Through Cars to Brunswick.

A LINE TO METUCHEN

CONNECTION WITH PERTH AMBOY VIA NEW BRUNSWICK.

Metuchen to be a Centre of Power Distribution—Million to be Spent in Improving the Middlesex and Somerset System.

Confirmation of the rumor regarding the purchase of the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company by the Public Service Corporation that appeared exclusively in The Daily Press last week has been followed by the announcement of big improvements to be made as a result of the deal.

Of particular interest to the people of this city is the promise to build a line from Metuchen to Plainfield. Through cars from New Brunswick to this city will follow.

It is probable that before next summer a through system between Perth Amboy and New Brunswick will also be working. Plans are being made for a line from Perth Amboy, along the shore, to Carteret and Elizabeth.

Metuchen is to be made the power station for the ends of the road furthest from New Brunswick. The plant of the Central Electric Company, of Metuchen, recently acquired by the P. S. C., was built to admit of enlargement along the proposed lines.

Metuchen is to be made the center of power distribution, superseding New Brunswick.

Altogether something like a million dollars is to be spent in improving the new purchase. It is understood that the P. S. C. has taken over all the bonded indebtedness of the M. and S. and the underlying issues, amounting in all to about three-quarters of a million dollars.

COAL BARRENS CELEBRATE

FEAST AT THE EXPENSE OF JOHN A. O'KEEFFE ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Barren in name, but far from barren in good fellowship and jollity, the redoubtable Eleven that call themselves the Coal Barrens held another of their dinners last night. John A. O'Keeffe was the host, and the affair wsa held at his house.

Ten of the Barrens were present: J. J. Kenney, Bro. I; William J. O'Keeffe, Bro. II; C. J. Ward, Bro. III; J. A. O'Keeffe, Bro. IV; M. J. Cashin, Bro. V; D. C. Carney, Bro. VI; A. E. Kenney, Bro. VII; Joseph F. O'Keefe, Bro. VIII; J. Russel Knowlton, Bro. IX; M. J. Whelan, Bro. X. J. H. Hillman, Bro. XI, who lives in Flatbush, could not attend.

The menu was elaborate, and the table was strikingly decorated. The menu cards at Barren dinners are always printed as "The Twelfth Member," the official publication of the organization. The "twelfth member" is the wife of the host, elected for the evening only. The menu cards last night was printed in green, to mark the day.

All the Barrens spoke. All of them tried to sing and several succeeded, notably M. J. Cashin, C. J. Ward and J. R. Knowlton.

Municipal Contracts Awarded.

Contracts for the supply of crushed stone and flagging were awarded last night by the committee on streets and sewers ist a meeting in the Council chamber. N. B. Smalley was awarded the stone contract, at ninety-five cents and $1.05 a ton, delivered on the streets. J. Y. Wilson was the only other bidder against him. Andrew Boach received the flagging contract for culvert and crosswalk work.

EULOGIZED ST. PATRICK AND THE IRISH RACE.

Roman Catholic Priests Lectured on Ireland's Patron Saint and His Life.

IN LOCAL CHURCHES

FATHER CLIFFORD AND MONSIGNOR O'GRADY THE SPEAKERS.

Congregations of St. Mary's and St. Joseph's Parishes Heard Eloquent Men—St. Patrick the Apostle of a Race.

"Although the Irish may have failed to achieve their dreams of nationality, they have achieved something far greater. They have produced a new race, more catholic than ever, more sturdy, more self-reliant and knit together with a closer unity." This estimate of what Ireland has accomplished was made last night by Father Cornelius Clifford, of Englewood, in a lecture on "St. Patrick and the Irish in History" at St. Mary's church.

Father Clifford said that St. Patrick's life was involved in obscurity; that there are two authentic documents from which we can reconstruct and build an outline of his career and his relations to the times and place in which he lived. These are the Confessio and the Epistle to Coroticus. In Trinity College library, Dublin, there is a manuscript of the confession of St. Patrick's which is more than 1000 years old. Scholars have accepted the truth of the view that this dates from the fifth century because it describes and fits admirably what is known from other sources of political and eccesiastical conditions of the time.

As to St. Patrick's birthplace, Father Clifford contended that it was probably in Scotland in the region about the Clyde. His father was Calpurnium, a deacon, and his grandfather Popitus, a priest. He was carried into slavery at the age of sixteen and became a swineherd of King Milchar in Dansraide in northwestern Ireland. He was seven years in captivity before he escaped. After studying for thirty years, according to authentic information, with St. Germanus in Auxerre in Gaul, he returned in middle life to his career of evangelical conquest.

For a parallel of St. Patrick's career, one must go to the life of St. Paul. St. Patrick was the apostle not merely of a nation but of a race.

Ireland's history in the consciousness of the world begins with the persecutions of Henry VIII and Elizabeth, the quarrels continuing with intervening breathing spaces until the first part of the nineteenth century. Then there developed a new Ireland in Australia, the United States and Canada.

Another lecture on the patron saint of the Emerald Isle was delivered by Monsignore O'Grady, of New Brunswick, at St. Joseph's church. His subject was "Ireland, the Land of Scholars," but he dwelt to a great extent upon the life and influence of St. Patrick.

The Monsignore's address was a brilliant one, and held the close attention of the large audience. He told of the scattering of St. Patrick's followers by the invasion of Ireland, and how the establishment of many monasteries and schools resulted in Germany, Spain and France.

BUSINESS SESSION AND BANQUET UNDER AUSPICES OF THE ENCAMPMENT.

Among those present were nearly all of the officers of the Grand Encampment of the State of New Jersey, and interesting speeches were made by them at a banquet following the routine business of the meeting.

Reports were received showing that the fifth district, as well as the others in the State, is in a flourishing condition numerically and financially. The banquet given by the members of Noah's Dove Encampment was in charge of a committee of which Stephen H. Schleif was the chairman.

JUNIOR ENDEAVORERS' AFFAIR

YOUNG MEMBERS OF TRINITY REFORMED ENJOY AN ENTERTAINMENT.

With a programme of unusual merit, the entertainment of the Junior Society of Christian Endeavor of Trinity Reformed church scored an unqualified success last night. It was heard by an audience that filled the lecture room to the limit of its seating capacity.

The programme was long and varied, and every number was good. Every one of the young entertainers was rewarded with rounds of deserved applause.

Chief among the features of the bill was a humorous little sketch called "The Sniggles Family." There were Mrs. Sniggles and eight very funny daughters, in costumes that were jokes in themselves. The characters cleverly recited in keeping with their parts, which were enacted as follows: Mother, Anna Randall; coquette, Ida Tier; hay fever patient, Violet VanWinkle; Edna Cole; prima donna, Helen Smith; Edna Force, Cora Gano, Ida VanArsdale; baby, Edna Dilts.

Included in the other numbers of the programme were: Dialogue, William and Edson Day; piano solo, Melville Roseberry; recitation, Elsworth Bennett; piano, Ernest Stevens, Harold Schenck; recitation, Ida VanArsdale; song, Hilda Bennett; piano duet, Clarence and Arthur Hoffman; essay on corn, Earl Huff; song, Miss Florence Bennett, the choir soloist; recitation, Edith Leek; song, William VanWinkle; piano solo, Cornelius Schenck; recitation, Harold Storr; recitation, Adelaide Cole; song, Violet VanWinkle; recitation, Clifford Cole; song, Paul Buzby; recitation, Mildred Creamer; song, Pansy Luckey.

WESTFIELD BOWLERS CAPTURE THE TROPHY

The Daily Press League Tournament Ends With the Westfielders Winners.

ROSELLE IS SECOND

HANDSOME CUP THE PRIZE OFFERED IN THE CONTEST.

The Park Club Finishes Third and Cranford Brings Up the Rear—Westfield Won the Final Series From Cranford Team.

The last series of games in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament were rolled last night between the Westfield Club and Cranford Casino, on the alleys of the latter. Westfield, the sure winner of the tournament, captured two of the three games and finished with a total of 26 wins and 10 lost games. Roselle is second with 23 wins and 13 lost. The Parks are third, they having won 14 games and lost 22, while Cranford is fourth with 10 games won and 26 lost. Westfield, as a result wins The Daily Press trophy, the prize becoming its permanent property.

In last night's series Westfield took the first game by a score of 810 to 791 and the third by a score of 819 to 769, while Cranford won the second game by a score of 803 to 756. The individual scores were all excellent. Westfield used eight men throughout the series, some rolling three, two and one games. The Cranfords rolled the same men throughout.

Twice the number of games rolled last year were scheduled this year and the extra games resulted in more interest and enthusiasm. As for local pride, it is regretted that the Parks did not make a better showing, but the team has worked earnestly for success and the efforts put forth were honest endeavors toward landing in first position.

The scores were: Westfield, 810, 756, 819; Cranford, 791, 803, 769.

This is the standing in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament:

	Won.	Lost.
Westfield	26	10
Roselle	23	13
Parks	14	22
Cranford	10	26

YELLOWSTONE ILLUSTRATED

JAMES R. JOY TOLD OF GRANDEUR OF THE FAMOUS TRAIL.

Notable success attended the entertainment and sale of the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace M. E. church last night. It was well attended and the receipts swelled the society treasury to a material extent.

James R. Joy's lecture on the "Yellowstone Trail" furnished the entertainment. Mr. Joy's description of his trip, and the wonderful array of pictures he took, seem to increase in interest each time they are presented. His hearers listened to the graphic discourse with rapt attention, and gave every indication of great enjoyment.

After the lecture the sale was opened, and a sociable time of informal nature was enjoyed. One side of the church was prettily decorated with green crepe paper, and a shaded light shed a homely glow over a fancy goods tables, a cake table and several ice cream tables. The cakes and fancy articles sold rapidly, and the cream tables were constantly in demand.

Mrs. Andrew Lutkins presided over the fancy goods, with Mrs. Isaac Sheppard and Mrs. M. F. Gano assisting. The cakes were sold under the direction of Mrs. C. C. Nelson. The committee in charge of the ice cream was made up of Mrs. E. A. Vermeule, Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, Miss Stella Vermeule, Miss Alice Vermeule and C. H. Lippincott.

BRISTOW TESTIFIES

Assistant Postmaster General Explains His Report.

QUESTION BRINGS IN ROOSEVELT

Practically Clears Members of the House From Clerk Hire Charges. Objection Made to Bringing the President's Name In.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow in testifying before the house special committee on the postoffice report claimed for himself responsibility for only the first seven pages of the report which was sent to the postoffice committee and said the other portions of the document were the work of other officials of the department.

The clerk hire section, he said, was prepared in the office of the first assistant postmaster general and that part relating to leases by inspectors and others in his own department.

Mr. Bristow's testimony threw considerable light on all phases of the inquiry. He practically cleared members of congress from the clerk hire section of the report by stating that it was the duty of the first assistant's office to ascertain the condition of the work in an office where an increase had been recommended.

Representative Bartlett (Ga.) asked General Bristow if in determining the three cases which General Bristow had reported himself as "technical violations of the statutes" he had not found it necessary to review all of the cases included in the report. The answer was that certain inspectors—a half dozen—in his office had gone through the lease cases and had selected those where it appeared from the record an excessive rental had been paid without proper reason, and such cases were included in a report which was itself made the subject of an investigation.

"That report was made to you yourself?" inquired Mr. Bartlett.

Mr. McCall interrupted to ask whether the report before the committee was not the work of at least some of these same inspectors who made up the original cases which were afterward made the subject of investigation. This was the case, replied Mr. Bristow.

"Do you know whether or not this report came directly from the hands of the postmaster general without going into some one else's hands for inspection or perusal before it was sent to the postoffice committee of the house?" asked Mr. Bartlett.

"I don't know. I have been told, but I have no knowledge of it," answered Mr. Bristow.

"Have you ever had any conversation with the president that would lead you to believe"— asked Mr. Bartlett.

"I don't think you ought to ask that question," interrupted Mr. Burton. "It is not within the scope of our investigation."

"Well," broke in Mr. Bartlett, "we cannot get the president here, and there have been hints in the newspapers about this."

"Ought we not to inquire into whose hands it went?" asked Mr. Richardson of Alabama.

"I understood General Bristow to say he did not know. It would be only hearsay evidence," declared Chairman McCall.

"It is entirely outside of the scope of our investigation," remarked Mr. Burton.

"Do I understand the chairman to suggest that I should not ask that question?" inquired Mr. Bartlett.

Mr. McCall intimated that without attempting to restrain Mr. Bartlett he thought the question should be considered by the committee in executive session. He declared the matter left open until the committee should go into executive session.

"I will not pursue it further at present," concluded Mr. Bartlett.

The committee then went into executive session.

The questions of Mr. Bartlett involving the president were not touched on during the executive session of the committee. Chairman McCall said the committee had begun to realize that the task before it was larger than at first anticipated.

The committee adjourned until Monday, when Mr. Bristow will resume his testimony.

SKORI HITS A MINE

Russian Destroyer Blown Up by Harbor Stopper.

CZAR'S SHIPS SEEM UNDER HOODO

Linevitch Inspects Defenses of Newchwang—China Will Be Strictly Neutral—Japanese Use No Unfair Explosive Shells.

LONDON, March 18.—A Chefu dispatch says the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Skori, while entering the harbor of Port Arthur, struck a submarine mine which had drifted out of place at the harbor mouth and was blown up and sunk. Only four of her crew of some fifty men were saved. It is thought that most of the men were killed by the force of the explosion; otherwise they could have been saved by sister ships close at hand.

The charges against the Japanese of violating the rules of civilized warfare in using explosives forbidden by The Hague convention find no echo in responsible circles here. The Japanese are acquitted on that score by a high naval officer who holds a very responsible position and who said:

"The accusation against the Japanese of using explosives to produce poisonous gases is based on a misconception. They are employing the same explosives as other armies and navies. It is notorious that the bursting of a melinite shell between decks generates fumes from which the men are liable to asphyxiation, but the Russian shell is no better and no worse than that used by the Japanese. We have not complained in this respect, whatever we may think about the manner in which Japan began hostilities."

The wife of Grand Duke Constantine is preparing 17,000 Easter eggs in order to provide each sailor in the far east with a souvenir. Each egg will contain a portrait of the emperor, a book, soap and towel, a tobacco pouch, note paper, etc., wrapped in a handkerchief bearing pictures of Peter the Great's boat and of Russian naval victories. The eggs will be sent to the far east next week in order to arrive there in due season.

The patriarchal General Linevitch, who was accompanied by General Kondratonovitch, after a survey of Newchwang and its defenses, which had been prepared for his inspection, returned to his command at Liaoyang. He also visited Kiaochow and points affecting the protection of the general coast and the health of the zone along the main line of the railroad opposite Newchwang. Although disclaiming any apprehension of the Japanese landing here, the authorities are satisfied to have foreigners understand that the Russians are prepared for any local emergency, and the arrival of an additional battery of artilley and also 150 scouts is significant of coming events.

It is apparent that both civil and military strategists and the diplomats at Mukden apprehend a collision with the Chinese, probably fearing that the increasing number of their small bands of scouts operating between the Liao river and the great wall are the surest instruments for their entanglement in a conflict, particularly as this zone is in the nature of a no man's land on account of having been abandoned by the powers and also because the Chinese jurisdiction is incompetent. Russians able to judge profess to regard General Ma's attitude as dangerous to the peace of Russia and China.

Advices from St. Petersburg say United States Ambassador McCormick has communicated to the government a memorandum containing the assurance received by United States Minister Conger from the Chinese authorities at Peking pledging the neutrality of China while the neutral territory is respected by the belligerents. Satisfaction is expressed here at this new assurance of China's neutrality. The Russians deny that they have any intention of going west of the Liao region. The railroad from Peking west of the river from Newchwang and to Sinmintin Russia considers neutral territory and beyond the sphere of operations unless the Japanese invade it.

China has 20,000 men guarding the frontier of Manchuria. This force is intended solely to maintain order and to prevent either of the belligerents entering her territory. The talk of the foreign newspapers about General Ma making common cause with the Japanese is nonsense. Should the Japanese attempt a landing on the coast of China they will be resisted.

A detailed account from a Russian source of the Chemulpo fight says that the Variag fought till every gun was dismantled. It does not mention the Vicksburg offering succor to the Russians. Viceroy Alexeieff announces that for military reasons he is going to Manchuria, leaving General Stoessel in command at Port Arthur and Liaotung. The viceroy's farewell order to the garrison, confirming previous reports on the subject, says he is convinced they will fight to the last man and repeat the heroic defense of Sevastopol.

Will Be With His Family.

The silence in North Plainfield is awful. Two whole days, and not a single political clash!

The Mormons consider Apostle Smith a martyr. Some pessimest may think it's because he is much married.

When they get through with that inquiry into the Smoot case, wouldn't it be a good thing to continue the investigation along the same line among other grave and reverend Senators?

The printing of statistical tables, intelligable only to business men and bookkeepers, can do very little in building up the business of the bank. The common people care nothing about the balance of figures and the amounts to the right of the decimal, but they do care everything about general figures and strong expressions. The advertising of the savings bank should tend towards the educational. It should do good and bring business to the bank. It should encourage systematic saving and tell the people how to save.—Fowler's Publicity.

AMUSEMENTS.

Harry Ellsworth, lecturer, will present his elaborately illustrated story of "Oberammergau, its Play and its People," every Sunday night for the remainder of Lent, at the Majestic Theatre, New York city. Singularly appropriate to the season is this lecture as it is elevating and also instructive. There are two hundred and thirty superb colored views, illustrating every part of the Passion play and selections from the original music will be rendered at various intervals during the lecture. Mr. Ellsworth, who has lived for years at Oberammergau, is a particularly interesting speaker. The prices are 75c., 50c., and 25c. The second lecture will be given Sunday night, March 20.

Henrietta Crosman and "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" are now advancing toward their 200th performance at the Belasco Theatre, New York. They turned the century mark Saturday, and as usual the house was crowded to the doors. While other attractions in New York are claiming their "hundredth night," it should be noted that they include preliminary out-of-town engagements, whereas the Belasco "hundredth" means that Miss Crosman's appearances in this delightful new comedy have reached this high record in New York city alone. As Mr. Belasco and Maurice Campbell have concluded to retain both star and play in their present abode indefinitely, they will score doubtless the record run of the year. The charm and power of Miss Crosman's art become more evident with each performance. The sparkling wit, the pointed epigram, the dramatic force of Mr. Belasco's drama have earned the unanimous opinion that "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" displays perhaps the finest work of his brilliant and versatile pen. Pictorially, the Belasco play is another example of that exquisite art, that subtle beauty, that impressive reality of which he is the acknowledged master. But all these have long been accepted facts at the Belasco, the only theatre in New York which seems to bear the stamp of "personality."

—In connection with the change of ownership at Isaac Lederer's dry goods store, all of the present corps of clerks is expected to remain.

—Edward Nelson, of West Front stree, has accepted a position as bookkeeper for John Johnson, the coal dealer on South avenue.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN'S HOME

BOROUGH LADDIES SECURE HEADQUARTERS IN THE SEE BUILDING.

Quarters for their proposed social club have been secured by the ex-volunteer firemen of the borough in the old Peter See building on Somerset street.

They have rented the second story, consisting of two big rooms. Possession will be taken some time between now and the first of the month.

Plans are being made to turn the place into attractive and cosy club rooms. Comfortable furniture will be installed, the walls will be decorated, and other features of like character will become actualities in a short time.

While the men have finally decided what the organization is to be in general character, the final details of formation have not yet been accomplished. A meeting for this purpose will be called very shortly. At that session the name of the organization will be fixed upon.

TO FIX CONVENTION DATE.

Acting Chairman Stokes Calls Meeting of Republican State Committee.

A meeting of the Republican State committee has been called by the acting chairman, former Senator E. C. Stokes, for Monday night, to be held in Trenton. The meeting has been called to fix the date for the State convention to name national delegates.

It is expected that the convention will be held about the first week in May. It has been settled that Governor Murphy and United States Senators Dryden and Kean will be three of the four delegates-at-large, and State Assessor David Baird, of Camden, it is said, will be the fourth.

MAKING PRECIOUS STONES.

Chips of the Ruby Turned Into Stones of Commercial Size---Are Pronounced Genuine.

Rudolph Oblatt, a chemist and expert on precious stones, is reported to have invented a process for the fusing of particles of ruby, known as ruby waste, into stones of a commercial size. The stones which he has produced have received considerable attention from local geologists and are pronounced genuine. He selects, says the New York Commercial, from the small, rough, genuine ruby particles whose colors and qualities are practically the same. One chip he places upon the top of a U-shaped platinum tube. He then applies the heat, which is concentrated by a special process and forced upon the ruby with an air pressure of 800 pounds. As the chip is melted he adds other chips until he has built up a genuine ruby whose weight varies from five to ten carats. The operation requires from one to two hours.

After the ruby has been produced a difficult task remains—that of cooling of the stone, which is at a tremendous heat. This is accomplished by a scientific process which prevents cracking. The ruby is sent to the precious-stone cutters, where it passes exactly through the same process as a stone from the Burmah mines.

New Dry Cell Battery.

A new German patent relating to galvanic batteries of the class which is composed of a series of separate dry cells has been issued. The improvements cover the production of a battery which is capable of being kept in store, of being transported in an absolutely dry condition and of being rendered fit for use at a moment's notice by the introduction of a suitable liquid into the separate cells constituting the battery. The space between the two electrodes of the cells is filled up with blotting paper or other suitable material, capable of absorbing the electrolyte. When required for use the covers are removed from the cells and filled with the blotting paper soaked with any convenient electrolyte, such as ammoniac solution. The covers are then replaced, and the batteries are ready for immediate use.

In Cases of Suicide.

Dr. Waldo, city of London coroner, said in a lecture recently that a weapon in the hand of a man who had been murdered is always tightly grasped, so that the fingers sometimes have to be severed before it can be released. In the cases of suicide there is no grasp at all.

Miss May Roberts, of Martinsville, is spending some time with relatives in this city.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The miniature lake in front of Walpole's Hotel near the trolley, is no credit to the town. The culvert has frozen up and every time there is a little rain all the water backs up until it is forced to run over the roadway. Several nights ago a party not knowing of the lake, in getting out of their carriage landed both feet in over a foot of water.

The domino fever still rages in town. Every night the members of the club gather together to enjoy their regular game of block or muggins. Several are boasting of holding the local championship.

FRANKLY OWNED HIS FAULT.

Incident of Recent Occurrence Illustrating French Army Discipline —A Grenadier's Offense.

Although there has been complaint of late about a growing lack of discipline in the ranks of the French army, the demoralization has not, it is believed, progressed seriously, as the following incidents, coming from a French naval port, will illustrate:

A general holding a high command made his appearance a few days ago at the barracks of an infantry regiment, which, in obedience to his orders, was promptly drawn up in the yard. Then he explained the reason in a brief address. He said that as he was walking in the town attired in mufti on the previous day a man belonging to the corps, who was the worse for liquor, accosted him rudely and asked him to stand him a drink. "Let him step out of the ranks," he concluded.

Immediately a bugler emerged, and, saluting, said: "It is I, mon general." The incident is characteristic and apropos of it one is reminded of such an adventure which befell a certain French marshal. A grenadier, who was exasperated at some injustice that had been done him, pointed his pistol at him and pulled the trigger, but it did not go off. Without moving a muscle, the veteran cried: "Four days in the cells for keeping your arms in a bad state." The bugler's honesty can scarcely have failed to be an extenuation of his offense in the eyes of the general.

DANGERS OF CIVILIZATION.

Bashful Young Man Has a Streak of Hard Luck at His Best Girl's Home.

A young man from Silver Lake called to spend the evening with a Castle Rock girl the other night, says the Castle Rock (Ore.) Advocate. A storm came up and the girl's father asked him to remain over night. He was a bashful young man and the next morning when he was invited to a seat at the table he very reluctantly accepted. He was very nervous and agitated. He sat opposite the mirror and discovered that he had forgotten to comb his hair. Then he dropped his fork on the floor and as he stooped to pick it up he upset his coffee. Matters went from bad to worse until the young man quit eating and put his hands under the table.

The loose end of the tablecloth was lying in his lap and when he touched it he turned pale. He thought it was his shirt and in his nervous excitement while dressing he had forgotten to put the garment inside his trousers. There was no time to lose. He hurriedly stuffed the supposed shirt inside his trousers. Two minutes later when the family arose from the table there was a crash. The dishes lay in a broken mass on the floor. The young man pulled three feet of the tablecloth out of his pants and fled through the door. He is now hiding and the girl is looking for a less bashful lover.

THE CHRISTIAN churches at Constantinople, Turkey, and Yokohama, Japan, have long used the Longman & Martinez Paints for painting their churches.

Liberal contributions of L. & M. Paint will be given for such purpose wherever a church is located.

F. M. Schofield, Harris Springs, S. C., writes, "I painted our old homestead with L. & M. twenty-six years ago. Not painted since, looks better than houses painted in the last four years."

W. B. Barr, Charleston, W. Va., writes, "Painted Frankenburg Block with L. & M., shows better than any buildings here have ever done; stands out as though varnished, and actual cost of paint was less than $1.20 per gallon. Wears and covers like gold."

These Celebrated Paints are sold by Woolston & Buckle, Plainfield; H. C. Meyer, Scotch Plains.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THE NEW WOMAN

She Is Moving the World

ONE of the fashionable women's clubs in New York city lately had this proposition as a topic for discussion: "All Progress Is by Sacrifice and Suffering." I use the capital letters because the club report uses them. The ladies remarked on the proposition with such unanimity that we may consider it as almost their club motto. "All Progress Is by Sacrifice and Suffering." The organization has the name of being the most fashionably gowned woman's club in New York city, and that is saying much. The ladies have their luncheons in one of the swellest and highest priced restaurants. Good gracious, the furs the women wear, and the laces and diamonds! How they step out of their carriages, arrayed like Solomon in all his glory! Yet these ladies are absolutely certain all progress is only made through sacrifice and suffering—they, who probably know the least of what they are talking about of any women in America. What do they know of the agony of life beyond what they manage to manufacture for themselves in a sentimental way? Their pronunciamento is womanish sentimentalism run to seed. Womanish sentimentalism is the sickest, most mawkish manifestation of artificial feelings that ever a shallow, empty mind invented. We do not go on to higher planes because of our sacrifice and suffering. We go on in spite of them. But the notion of salvation by giving up and suffering has tinged the whole feminine sex with this false sentimentalism. It has caused woman to make a merit even of a toe ache and to pose as a martyr and a victim till she ought to be ashamed of herself. It has caused her to submit to injustice and imposition, whining and martyring herself all the while, when she ought to have stood up like a man and kicked—yes, kicked vigorously and persistently till the oppression was removed. It's all humbug, this female martyr business. The woman who makes the least of her "sufferings" is the right sort.

The stoic teachings give us a noble philosophy of life. They are brave, robust and cheerful. They bid us make the most of all that is bright, happifying and comforting and the least of the ghastly, the burdensome and the unpleasant. Even in the midst of severe physical suffering the dictum of Marcus Aurelius is, "Say to yourself, 'It is nothing; it will soon pass.'"

In this country there ought to be a woman's daily newspaper, conducted by women.

The secretary of the Woman's National Council of Australia is Mrs. Watson Lister, who recently came to the United States to investigate the status of woman here. In all Australia women now have full suffrage. Of the effect of this on manhood's chivalry Mrs. Lister says: "A woman has to endure more jostling in one street car ride in New York or Chicago than she would in a score of political meetings in Australia. In Australia I have never seen a woman standing up in a street car." Think of that last!

Are you acquainted with the young lady who quotes "mommer?" If so, you have probably observed that the "mommer" habit grows and that the older the young lady is the more infantilishly she quotes "mommer."

Countess Ann de Montaigu of the St. Louis exposition press department, though an American, has lived in Paris so many years that she knows the French language well enough to speak and write it fluently. She sends contributions concerning the fair to a French magazine, "La Vie Heureuse" (The Happy Life). That is an uncommonly good title for a magazine.

Last year the national federations of labor, of miners, typesetters and garment workers, all passed resolutions indorsing woman suffrage.

There is a Smith college for girls, and a good one. But now comes another Smith, a millionaire, whose front name, let us say, is John, and declares he is going to found and endow a seat of the higher culture for females and call it the "John Smith College For Women." Then we shall have not only the female Smith college, but the John Smith College For Females running opposition to it, sending the name of John Smith ringing down the corridors of time. It will then rest with the girls whether they will get learning under the college colors of Smith or John Smith. Who would think a Smith could have so much vanity over his name? Why could not John Smith give his millions to some of the fine co-ed universities that are doing such brave work in giving woman a fair chance? Many of these co-ed. schools are struggling against insufficient means.

Don't try your hand at this, that and the other task, whatever strikes your fancy—that is, not unless you wish to fritter away and eventually destroy your mental power. Choose very carefully and thoughtfully the one aim that seems within your ability to achieve and that you wish to achieve, then stick to it. Concentration and perseverance are at least two-thirds of the battle.

Human beings are sometimes too young to learn, but they are never too old.

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

DIETRICH HITS BACK.

Has Promise From Roosevelt to Remove Summers on Conditions.

WASHINGTON, March 18. — The president will probably order the dismissal of Williamson S. Summers as United States attorney for the district of Nebraska. He gave this assurance to Senator Dietrich.

Mr. Dietrich wants revenge because Mr. Summers brought about his indictment by the grand jury on the charge of accepting a bribe.

The president told Senator Dietrich that if the senator was exonerated by the senatorial committee now investigating his conduct he would dismiss Summers. The court before which Dietrich was brought for trial decided that the prosecution could not proceed since the offense, if any, was committed before Dietrich took the oath of office, although subsequent to his election as senator.

H. C. Lindsay will probably succeed W. S. Summers. He is at present in hospital too ill to hear the news of Summers' promised removal. Lindsay is Senator Dietrich's candidate for the office.

LABAREE'S DEATH.

Veteran Missionary and Servant Killed by Persian Robbers.

URMIA, Persia, March 18.—An investigation into the death of the Rev. Dr. Benjamin Labaree, the American missionary, shows that Dr. Labaree, whose son is superintendent of the American mission here, was returning from Koia to Urmia on horseback, accompanied by a servant, when both were found dead by the roadside. Their bodies had been stripped and mutilated and had numerous stabs. The horses and effects of the travelers were missing.

Dr. Labaree leaves a widow and four children. Steps have been taken to discover the assassins.

Dr. Labaree was one of the best known Presbyterian missionaries in the Asiatic field, having been stationed in Persia since 1860. He was nearly seventy years old, and one of his two sons, the Rev. Benjamin W. Labaree, was assisting the deceased in his work in Persia. Dr. Labaree came from Massachusetts and graduated from Middletown college, Vermont.

Colombia Would Recognize Panama.

COLON, March 18. — The United States cruiser Olympia has left here for Porto Bello, where she will coal. The cruiser is expected to sail for the United States next week. According to news received from the coast, it is rumored that Colombia has given up the idea of invading Panama. Public opinion in many parts of the republic, especially in the department of Cauca, favors the recognition of Panama. The Colombian gunboats Cartagena and General Pinzon are now in the harbor of Cartagena. President Marroquin is on board one of the vessels.

Major Bean a Suicide.

OMAHA, Neb., March 18.—Major W. H. Bean, U. S. A., chief commissary, department of the Missouri, committed suicide here by shooting himself through the head. Three weeks ago Major Bean was ordered to the Philippines for service. No thought of his suicide had been entertained by his friends. It is stated that Major Bean had been suffering from an attack of stomach and nervous troubles. His act apparently had not been premeditated. He had expressed a wish to go to the far east.

Robber Caught a Tartar.

ALBERT LEA, Minn., March 18.—A big pistol instead of money is what President Freeman of the Security National bank pulled out of the cashier's drawer when a man entered the bank, shoved a revolver through the window and demanded all the cash in reach. Mr. Freeman, who was alone at the time, held the would be robber safe until help arrived. The highwayman is now in jail, but refuses to give his name.

Nine Persons Hurt by Explosion.

PRINCETON, Ind., March 18.—Nine persons were injured, Mrs. Francis Rogers fatally, in a fire caused by the explosion of a lamp in the Morley Novelty store, which destroyed the building. Morley and his family, together with members of a vaudeville company, occupied rear rooms and were shut off from escape except by rushing through the flames.

Ice Might Move Clubhouse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 18.—Workmen are now engaged in breaking up with dynamite the ice about the Syracuse Yacht club house on Onondaga lake. The ice is twenty inches thick, and it was feared that it would in case of heavy wind smash the expensive structure or in a thaw move it into the lake.

Mme. Norelli In Buffalo.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 18.—That the last remaining victim of the Iroquois theater fire in Chicago is not Mme. Jennie Norelli is proved by the fact that Mme. Norelli's husband, Dr. Ernest Barton of this city, has received a letter from her written in Buffalo, March 12.

General Miles' Wife Dying.

WASHINGTON, March 18. — Mrs. Nelson A. Miles is critically ill at her home in this city, and there is little hope of her recovery. Members of the family have been summoned to her bedside, and it is announced that her condition is very serious.

Rev. J. W. A. Haas Made President.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 18.—The Rev. Dr. J. W. A. Haas of New York has been elected president of Muhlenberg college, succeeding the Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Seip, deceased.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY HANDICAP.

De Reszke Was an Easy Winner of the $1,085 Stake.

NEW ORLEANS, March 18.—Rainland and Stella Allen, both of whom outclassed their fields, were the only winning favorites. A heavy rain and hail storm came on after the fifth race, and in the sixth race horses and colors were only distinguishable as they passed the stand. The east scored again in the St. Patrick's Day handicap, worth $1,085 to the winner, De Reszke winning easily in the colors of M. L. Hayman. Morning Star was a strong favorite, but was never prominent and quit altogether in the run home. Roue, the second choice, made the running to the last eighth pole, where De Reszke, who had been cleverly nursed along by Matthews, went to the front and won easily by four lengths. Summaries:

First Race — Rainland won, The Brown Monarch second, Triple Silver third.

Second Race — Tommy Foster won, Hemlock second, Lady Contrary third.

Third Race—Stella Allen won, Delaval second, Golden Flower third.

Fourth Race (St. Patrick's handicap) —De Reszke won, Frank Bell second, Roue third.

Fifth Race — Macbeth won, Mauser second, Deer Hunter third.

Sixth Race—Burke Cockran won, Lou Woods second, Midshipman third.

Agnes Mack, 50 to 1, a Winner.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 18.—An immense crowd attended the Ascot park races and saw an attractive St. Patrick's day programme run off. Agnes Mack, against whom as good as 50 to 1 was laid, won the third race over the Clauson course by half a length from Thisbe, the favorite.

Hagerdon Won In the Mud.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Rain fell continually at Oakland, and the track was very muddy. Favorites succeeded in winning four of the events. The feature of the card was the last race, five and a half furlongs. Hagerdon led all the way, winning easily from Albula and Daisy Green.

Boy Will Get Life Imprisonment.

BUFFALO, March 18. — Herman Heimberger, seventeen years old, one of the four boys who killed Fernando Balzano, a Walden-avenue grocer, was last night found guilty of murder in the second degree. The only punishment provided by law is life imprisonment, and that sentence will be imposed by Justice Rich. The defense admitted that the fatal shot was fired from Heimberger's revolver, but claimed that the gun was accidentally discharged while one of the other boys was taking it out of Heimberger's hand. Before Heimberger learned what his fate was he was asked if he was ready to die. "Sure thing," he replied. "A feller's got to die some time. I don't give a d— what they do with me."

Filipinos Want Silver Certificates.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Secretary Taft continued his discussion of Philippine matters before the house committee on insular affairs. The Cooper bill, amending the civil government act, was the basis of discussion. In addition to the provisions in this bill Secretary Taft suggested an amendment to the coinage law, so as to authorize the Philippine treasury to issue silver certificates in denominations of 2, 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 500 and 1,000 pesos, instead of denominations of from two to ten pesos. The silver certificates were very popular in the Philippines, he said.

Friendly to United States.

BUENOS AYRES, March 18.—The government has categorically denied the statement published in New York that an alliance has been formed of South American nations against the United States. President Roca also has expressed his dissent from the statement referred to and declared that Argentina is tranquil and content to continue on terms of amity with the United States.

Press Congress at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, March 18. — The programme for the national and international press congress at the world's fair, beginning May 16, has just been completed. It is expected that 4,000 newspaper men will be in attendance, and of these more than 100 will be editors of leading foreign papers. The others will be members of thirty or more press associations.

Lover Killed Girl and Himself.

NEMAHA, Neb., March 18.—David Carroll, aged thirty years, shot and killed Anna Maxwell, a sixteen-year-old girl, and then killed himself. Carroll was employed by Miss Maxwell's father as a farm hand. Carroll is said to have been a rejected suitor of Miss Maxwell, and the double tragedy resulted from her refusing to accept his attentions.

Duke of Cambridge Dead.

LONDON, March 18.—The Duke of Cambridge, cousin of Queen Victoria and formerly commander in chief of the army, has died peacefully at Gloucester House, his Georgian residence on Park lane, aged eighty-five. He was commander in chief of the British army for forty years.

Irishmen Honor St. Patrick.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Forty thousand Irishmen, with forty bands and shamrocks in profusion, paraded in honor of St. Patrick. The parades were followed by outdoor games in the afternoon and banquets and a grand ball in the evening.

Lord Curzon Going Home.

CALCUTTA, March 18.—Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the viceroy of India, will sail from Bombay, homeward bound on a holiday trip, April 3.

Senators Amused Themselves With the Cuban Game.

WAS FRANCHISE GRANTED GAMBLERS?

Patterson Spent a Day Studying Testimony and Found Nothing Against Wood—Senator Foraker to Speak In Defense.

WASHINGTON, March 18. — With the paraphernalia for playing jai alai, a game which figures conspicuously in the contest against the confirmation of General Leonard Wood to be major general, the members of the United States senate amused themselves for more than an hour, protected from the gaze of the public by the closed doors of an executive session. A lively interest was manifested in the game. It was stated by members of the committee that the game will be introduced at the St. Louis exposition. Senators Proctor, Cockrell, Quarles, Foraker, Teller, Scott, Pettus, Blackburn and others, who participated in the hearings before the military affairs committee, where the game was explained by experts, were the exponents of jai alai.

Senators Cockrell and Foraker, who have paid extensive visits to Cuba while the "pelota" season was at its height, explained that the gambling features of the game are not essential to its adoption by the Cubans, while Senators Blackburn, Scott and Teller contended that without the betting privileges the jai alai company would not have made application to General Wood for the concession to erect a building as headquarters for the game. The spectacle of senators grasping the basket rackets in their hands and gesticulating in their efforts to illustrate the manner of throwing the "pelota" ball in real play was so unus

THE PLAINFIELD TRUST CO.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Aeolian baseball team at Garwood has decided that this year nearly all of their games will be played away from home, owing to the limited accomodations at Garwood.

A number of youthful Plainfielders have organized a club for baseball purposes to be known as the A. O. O. Club. Gordan Stuart, of 819 Park avenue, is the club's manager and is desirous of booking games with other teams averaging fourteen years of age.

The baseball loving people of New Jersey are now watching the work of Minnihan, of Orange, who has joined the pitching department of the New York Nationals, who are now at Birmingham. Wednesday he pitched a portion of a game for his team against the local team at Birmingham. During his part of the contest he made one run, put out two men, had two assists, gave two men bases on balls and struck out four men. There seems to be no doubt but what he will continue with the team.

GOLF.

The work of improving the Hillside Tennis and Golf Clubhouse and building is progressing favorably.

Employes at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club are beginning to prepare the course for play, which will probably open during the latter part of April or the first of May.

While it is not definitely known, it is believed that the season at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will open a little later this year than last and will close a little earlier. Last season the schedule exended into cold and disagreeable weather, making competitions unpleasant.

It is the general opinion that the prospects for a strong golf team at Princeton University this season are particularly bright. Frank O. Reinhart and J. Whitney Baker, of this city, will, with others form the nucleus for a varsity team in the season's matches. Baker has been a member of the team for three years and may be relied upon for consistently good form. Reinhart is the present intercollegiate golf champion and is certain to give a good account of himself in college matches. A call will be made for early practice and a schedule of matches with other teams is now being prepared.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The tenpin tournament will close at the Park Club Saturday night, March 26, the eight highest to qualify for the finals. Considerable interest has been manifested in this tournament and the finish will be closely watched.

Five entries have already been secured for the proposed bowling tournament next month for the Y. M. C. A. championship. They are Maurice Sutphen, Frank Neal, Louis Menzenbach, C. B. Koons and George Whitley.

BASKET BALL.

Along the line of general development into the championship class the Business Men's basketball team has acquired a yell, thus: "Don't make such a fuss! Don't make such a fuss! It's no disgrace to be beaten by us!" And they believe it.

ROD AND GUN.

Suckers are running heavy in Stoney brook. Clarence Thorn, Spiel Walsh and Clarence Huff caught thirty-two big ones at the Clinton avenue bridge Wednesday.

Conductor Nathaniel Warman was in charge of the wrecked train.

At the Reform Club.

A billiard and a pool table have been added to the furniture of the Young Men's Association of the Reform Club. It is planned to have the billiard table cut down to make another pool table.

Interest in the reorganized association is growing among the young men whom it is designed to reach. There are forty members at present and the organization is growing. Besides the new attractions, there are shuffleboards, a miniature bowling alley, a punching bag, boxing gloves, various games and magazines.

Anti-Pigeon Shooting Bill Passes.

Largely through the efforts of Assemblyman Swackhamer, the pigeon bill, designed to prevent trap shooting with live birds, passed the lower house of the Legislature yesterday on its third reading. Mr. Swackhamer made a forceful speech against the so-called sport, denouncing it as cruel and degrading. The measure passed by a vote of 33 to 10, Assemblyman Hague and Moffett, of Union, lining up in support of the Somerset member.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

There will be a special musical programme at the Reform Hall meeting tonight. A piano, clarinet, violin and cornet will make the music notable.

Rev. C. J. Greenwood, of Westfield, will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The subject will be: "Men of Straw or Men of Strength." The Y. M. C. A. Male Quartette will sing.

These officers have been elected by the teachers of the First Presbyterian church: Superintendent, Eugene M. Cave; assistants, Leroy Gates, Miss Jennie Abbott; secretary, Edgar D. George; assistant, F. R. Hazeltine; treasurer, Freeman J. Shotwell; librarian, Warren Townley; assistant, F. C. Knight. There are now 308 members in the school and every department is in excellent condition. During the past year the receipts were $154.24 and $20 was used in purchasing books for the school library. The disbursements for benevolent purposes were equal to those of last year. An encouraging feature of the reports was that during the year a number from the school united with the church.

WELER, A CROOK.

Some of His Booty Brought to This City by Detective Totten for Identification.

Detective Totten, of Somerville, came to this city this morning with a number of articles found in possession of "Jack" Weler, the man against whom are charged the burglaries committed for months in this city and surrounding towns. Mrs. Nath'n Lewis, of Arlington avenue, identified a gold ring, microscope and pocketbook.

The local police, though relieved that Weler has been caught, are disappointed that his capture was not made in this city. From the time the first burglaries were committed Chief Kiely has had the hotels and boarding houses of the city searched for persons unable to account for themselves properly. The Rosell Hotel, where Weler stayed, was watched and the proprietor questioned but he evidently saw nothing in Weler's actions to warrant suspicion. Mr. Rosell states that Weler was in the habit of playing the races.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE.

The loss to clothes in the rear of the building was $100 and to the building itself $150. M. Gaiman runs the store and the building is owned by the Stevenson estate. The chemical engine extinguished the blaze.

Americans Beat Off Thieves.

Two Kentuckians—a Mr. Johnson and R. Jefferson—after dining late were accosted by three women at the Porte Maillot gate of Paris. While standing there talking four men appeared armed with knives and bludgeons and attacked the Americans. The two stood back to back, and used their fists with such good effect that the two aggressors were brought down, seeing which the others decamped. The Kentuckians then picked up their injured assailants and confided them to a policeman when one was found.

Rice Culture in America.

With our improved machinery, there is no known country where a dollar will produce as many bushels of rice as in the United States. In Japan one-third of an acre is a reasonable rice farm for a man. In China and India one man can with the use of the water buffalo cultivate from one-half to two acres. In Texas a man with a four-mule team can plant and harvest 100 acres of rice.

THE JEWELL TRIAL.

Senator, on the Stand In His Own Defense, Said He Refused Bribe.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 18.—In the Jewell trial here Senator Jewell took the stand in his own behalf and in detailing the interview with J. W. Hess, the Chicago baking powder representative, denied the latter's statement that he (Jewell) had solicited a bribe for three votes to secure the repeal of the baking powder bill.

"Hess said," testified Senator Jewell, "that he could get me some money and make some for himself. He said he could get $9,000 from his house to influence legislation and that he would keep $1,500 himself and give me the rest. I should have knocked him in the face, but he was smaller than I, and, besides, he was in a maudlin condition from drink.

"What did you do then?"

"I went back to my office," Senator Jewell said, "and never saw Hess again until I saw him here in the courtroom."

The trial closed with a disagreement of the jury, and they were discharged.

DEATH OF HENRY T. THURBER.

Private Secretary to Cleveland During Second Term.

DETROIT, March 18.—H. T. Thurber, a well known attorney of this city, who was private secretary to President Cleveland during his second term, has died in the hospital here. He was operated on for appendicitis two weeks ago.

Mr. Thurber was born in Monroe, Mich., a little over fifty years ago, and graduated from the University of Michigan with the class of 1874. He then spent a year in Indianapolis, coming to Detroit in 1875, where he entered the law firm of which former Postmaster General Don M. Dickinson was a member. When Mr. Cleveland was re-elected for his second term Mr. Thurber was suggested for private secretary by Mr. Dickinson and appointed.

It was while Mr. Thurber was in the office that it was changed from private secretary to secretary to the president. Mr. Thurber is survived by five children, ranging in age from eight to twenty-one years. Mrs. Thurber died five years ago.

General Thomas Dropped Dead.

CHICAGO, March 18.—General Horace Thomas, until recently United States appraiser in Chicago, speaker of the Illinois house in 1881 and at one time a state senator, dropped dead in the office of Attorney J. E. Abell. General Thomas was seventy years old. It is thought that his feeble health, together with his grief at being removed from office a few weeks ago, brought on his death. He was appointed appraiser of the port of Chicago by President McKinley seven years ago. He was removed after extensive correspondence with Secretary of the Treasury Shaw. He charged the loss of his place to politics.

STREET SPRINKLING CONTRACT AWARDED

Council Accepts Bid of John E. Keely Who Offers to Do the Work for $667 Per Month.

TO USE EIGHT CARTS

PUBLIC LIBRARY ASKS FOR SLIGHTLY INCREASED APPROPRIATION.

Charles W. Smith Appointed Engineer on Call in Fire Department to Succeed Frank Schuck —Crushed Stone Bid Accepted.

Aside from the important question of the municipal collection of garbage as outlined by a joint committee from the Common Council and the Board of Health and presented at the adjourned meeting of the Council last night, and published in another column, there were several other matters considered. President Tolles and Councilmen Tyler, Lee, Murphy, Gloak, Bullock, Wilson, Higham, Daniel and Garrigues were present.

A communication was received from John E. Keely offering to do the street sprinkling during the coming season for $667 per month. The contract price last year was $500, but two extra sprinkling carts have been purchased for this year, making eight in all, hence the increase in cost. Mr. Keely offers to furnish horses, harness and give care and oversight to the business under the supervision of the street commissioner and to his satisfaction, sprinkling such streets as may be decided upon and furnish a $1,000 bond, with two sureties, for the faithful performance of the work.

Mr. Gloak, as chairman of the street committee, moved that Mr. Keely's proposition be accepted and the motion was unanimously adopted.

As was expected the directors of the Public Library and Reading Room presented a petition in which they asked for an increased appropriation from the city. The sum asked for is $4,060, an increase of $600 over last year. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

The resignation of Frank Schuck as engineer on call in the city fire department was received and on motion of Mr. Lee, chairman of the fire committee, was accepted, and the appointment by Mayor Jenkins of Charles W. Smith to fill the vacancy, was confirmed. Mr. Schuck was recently appointed engineer of the North Plainfield Fire Department, and could not very well hold both positions. He lives in the borough.

On motion by Mr. Gloak the bids of Newton B. Smalley for crushed stone and that of Andrew Roach for culverts and crosswalks, were accepted and they will furnish these materials during the coming year.

Mr. Daniel as chairman of the finance committee, being desirous of getting the reports from the various committees early so that the tax ordinance can be introduced at the April meeting, took occasion to speak of the matter and urged a little more haste on the part of the chairmen of the committees.

ANNOUNCES ITS PURCHASE

P. S. C. TOOK RARITAN TRACTION CO. TO SUPPLEMENT MIDDLESEX LINE.

The Public Service Corporation announced yesterday it had supplemented the purchase of the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company property and franchises with the acquirement of the Raritan Traction Company, and the lines which it controls, and that the latter lines would be operated as a part of the system of the former.

The Raritan company has a trackage of 8.7 miles, and controls the Perth Amboy Railroad Company, whose tracks extend over a distance of a little more than three miles. The system runs through Perth Amboy to Metuchen, and its acquirement is described by the Public Service officials as the natural result of the purchase of the Middlesex and Somerset system, and gives the corporation complete control of the trolley lines in the eastern part of the State.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the First Presbyterian church, gave a social last night in the church parlors. The guessing of well-known advertisements pictured in tableaux was the feature, Pear's soap, Pearline, Rubifoam, Kodaks and Sapolio, being a few of those presented. The affair also partook of the nature of a St. Patrick's social, questions concerning the life of the saint finding more or less correct answers. Two Irish selections, "The Last Rose of Summer" and "Kathleen Mavoureen" were given by Miss Beatrice Miner. Among those who had a part in the tableaux were Miss Helen George, Alyah Dunham, Clyde Slater, Miss Bertha Hill, Miss Marion Englehart, Miss Jessie Pruden, Miss Bessie DeForrest and Miss Belle Williams. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Ralph Miner, chairman; Mrs. Roy Gates, Miss DeForrest, Mrs. Russell Bond, Mrs. Harry Williams and Mrs. Alvin Hoagland.

POLITICS IN UNION COUNTY

REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MAY HOLD SPECIAL MEETING.

The Republican county committee may hold a special meeting this month to decide about issuing a call to elect delegates to the National convention. The holding of the meeting will depend upon the date set by the State committee for the State convention. The State committee will meet in Trenton Monday.

This district, the fifth Congressional, is allowed two delegates and two alternates to the National convention and one elector. The probability is that Union County will have one delegate and one alternate allotted to her, with one delegate and the elector for Morris County and one alternate for Warren. Union has had the elector at the last two presidential elections leaving Morris in line for it this year.

The district convention will be held at Trenton probably on the morning of the day of the State convention. Unless the special meeting of the Union County Republican committee is held this month, the next regular meeting will be held the second Tuesday of next month, April 12.

MALINDA'S TROUBLES.

Colored Tenant Seeks the Strong Arm of the Law to Help Her Out of a Dilemma.

Malinda Jackson, colored, rents a house on Jackson avenue from William Newcorn, Esq., and sublets a portion of it to Jessie Carr, also a pronounced brunette. "Dat Carr puhson," according to Malinda, refuses to vacate or to pay her rent and adds insult to injury by padlocking the front door and refusing to let Malinda in. Trouble has been the natural result. Landlord and tenant proceedings have been instituted by the wrathful Mrs. Jackson in Justice Huff's court, the cost of instituting the cause being summarily deducted from the rent due Mr. Newcorn. Summons has been issued, returnable Wednesday, March 23, the case presenting a comedy aspect so unusual as to lead Justice Huff to consider the advisability of charging admission to the trial.

COMMON COUNCIL RECEIVES REPORT

Joint-Committee on Municipal Collection of Garbage Presents Favorable Findings.

CITIZENS TO BE HEARD

NO ACTION TO BE TAKEN UNTIL THE APRIL SESSION.

Complete Text of Committee's Report—Most Thorough Investigation Had and the Result is Unanimous for Adoption of System.

Following a thorough investigation of the subject of the municipal collection of garbage disposal, the joint committee from the Common Council and the Board of Health, last night, presented at the adjourned meeting of the Council the anticipated report on the question, giving the result of the committee's investigation. Dr. B. VanD. Hedges and F. W. Dunn, members of the Board of Health, and Health Officer Leon R. Thurlow were in the lobby as interested spectators.

Mr. Tyler, who is a member of the joint committee, presented the report, and after it was read, he suggested it be laid on the table until the regular April meeting, at which time all local citizens interested in the subject may have an opportunity to speak for or against the proposition. Accompanying the report were a number of letters from local physicians and a telegram received recently from Charles J. Fisk, who was in Boston, and who could not attend the meeting of the Council early in the month. Mr. Fisk as well as the physicians spoke heartily in favor of municipal collection of garbage, declaring that the present system is a menace to the health of the city. Every one of the physicians cited some reason why a change from the present system should be made.

The physicians who communicated with the Council last night were Drs. F. C. Ard, A. F. VanHorn, E. W. Hedges, T. H. Tomlinson, P. J. Zeglio and W. H. Murray.

Mr. Tyler thought it would be wise to let the people know that any communications on the subject of garbage disposal, either for or against the proposed plan, would be accepted and appreciated. Such communications can be sent to Health Officer L. R. Thurlow, 149 North avenue.

There was also received a communication from Theodore D. Smith, who is interested in the system of garbage disposal as proposed in the report. He agrees to place the defunct Plainfield Sanitary Company's crematory in first-class working order and give a sixty-days' demonstration, the result to be decided upon by three men, one selected from the Council, one from the Board of Health and one from his company, for the sum of $3,950. The cost of the sixty-days' demonstration is to be borne by the city. The communication was placed with the report from the committee and the letters from the physicians and will be accessible in the office of the city clerk as suggested by Mr. Daniel, who thought some people might want to examine these documents later on.

This is the report of the joint committee and copies of it can be had by applying at the office of the city clerk:

Plainfield, N. J.,
March 18, 1904.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Plainfield, N. J.

Gentlemen: The question relating to the collection and final disposal of the garbage of our city, which was referred to this joint committee by your honorable body, has been thoroughly studied and investigated. Much of the work has necessarily been done by letter, correspondence being held with cities all over the United States as to their methods of handling this very important problem. The cities of Trenton, N. J., Yonkers, N. Y., New Brighton, S. I., and Scranton, Pa., were visited by the committee, the detail methods of garbage collection and disposal in these cities thoroughly investigated and their crematories inspected.

As a result of our study and investigations in this matter we submit the following recommendations, the committee being unanimous in the opinion that they are the best means of meeting the local requirements of our city:

First, that the land and building formerly owned by the Plainfield Sanitary Company, situated on Dunellen avenue at the head of DeKalb avenue, be purchased, and the crematory at present located in the above building be put into working order.

Second, that a thorough system of garbage collection be established, the necessary wagons, horses and equipments be purchased. To do this work it will require three single-horse metal carts and six men. The garbage can then be collected from each house in our city every other day.

The estimated initial cost of putting the above crematory into working order and installing the collection system is $10,000, which is divided as follows:

Land and building	$ 2,100
Crematory	3,950
Carts, horses and harnesses	1,400
Stable and stable equipments, repairing building and grading	2,100
Unforeseen miscellaneous exp.	450
	$10,000

The estimated cost of maintaining the above system when installed would be $6,000 a year, divided as follows:

Stable expenses	$ 720
Labor	3,840
Coal and repairs	1,000

Cremation is the only real sanitary method of disposing of the garbage, and after investigating the experiences in other cities, the committee is convinced that a crematory properly operated is in no way a nuisance.

The site chosen by the committee as being the best was formerly owned by the Plainfield Sanitary Company. In 1897 this company established a garbage disposal system on the above property at a cost of over $15,000, the land and building alone costing $7,000. The crematory installed was known as the S. G. Smith or Vivarttas Refuse Destroyer and is, in the opinion of the committee, one of the best, most efficient and most economical garbage furnaces. After a few months of activity, this company, through financial difficulties, failed, and the plant can now be purchased for $2,000 and can be put into its original condition for $3,950; so that for $5,950. we can obtain a plant whose original cost was over $15,000.

The amount—$3,950—which is given as the cost of restoring the crematory to its original condition, is not in any way an estimate but the actual bid of the builders.

The present method of garbage collection and disposal, besides being unhealthful, unsanitary and inconvenient, is also very expensive; over $12,000 is spent yearly for the removal, at irregular intervals, of the refuse from less than one-third of our houses. What the committee proposes is to have the refuse from every house in the city removed at stated intervals, and disposed of in a sanitary manner at one-half of the above cost —$6,000. Such a system would not be a burden on the taxpayer, but a saving.

The committee has made inquiries concerning the legal method of raising money to buy lands and erect and equip buildings for cremating garbage and refuse matter. Section No. 1 of Chapter XL of the Laws of 1895, p. 101, authorize Common Councils to purchase all necessary lands and real estate and erect thereon a building or buildings and equip the same with all appliances necessary and suitable for the cremation of such garbage and refuse matter. The next section of the act provides for the issue of bonds to bear interest at not exceeding 5 per centum per annum and redeemable in not more than twenty years from date of issue.

The committee, in investigating this subject, has received special encouragement from the almost unanimous sentiment of our leading physicians with respect to the importance to the health of the citizens of our city, that the present unsanitary methods of collecting and disposing of the garbage should be replaced as soon as possible by a safe, sanitary system of garbage collection and disposal under the direct control of the city authorities.

It is worthy of notice that, after studying this question thoroughly and investigating the practices in other cities with a view of suggesting the best means of handling this problem in our own city, the members of the committee have unanimously arrived at the conclusions outlined in the above report. QUESTION OF LEGALITY OF MAYOR'S APPOINTMENTS

Alleged That Mr. Smalley's Act in Voting on a Tie, Makes His Appointments Void.

EFFECT ON FIRE DEPT.

HIS RIGHT TO CAST DECIDING BALLOT SERIOUSLY QUESTIONED.

Lawyers Say the Contention is Not Sound—What a Citizens' Party Leader Has to Say on the Subject—Question of Principle.

Hunting for a chance to wrest all the control possible from Mayor Smalley's hands, his political opponents, or a goodly number of them, are questioning the legality of his action in casting the deciding votes on the confirmations of appointees opposed by the Citizens. It is charged that his action is in excess of the meaning of the law, and many of the anti-administration men think they have hit on a weak spot in the Mayor's armor.

According to the argument advanced, the tie vote gives the Mayor the chance to confirm his own nominations, a power that the law was expressly designed to prevent.

This has been eagerly seized by many of the Citizens' followers. In the possible success of the charge the ex-volunteers see the death of the new department appointments. The other appointments of the Mayor could be filled by hold-over officials, serving until their successors are legally named, but the fire offices, having had no previous existence, are not covered in this way. It is contended that the department, being illegally constituted, has no lawful existence, and the borough is without a real fire organization.

Several lawyers to whom the question has been submitted, however, say the contention is not good in law. They say that the Mayor is a member of the Council by the provisions of the borough act, and no accident of circumstances that gives him the power to cast the deciding ballot on his own appointments can deprive him of his right to vote. Moreover, it is not simply the Mayor's vote that decides the confirmation, but that three other councilmen have everything to do with it.

One of the leaders of the anti-administration party was asked his opinion of the question by a reporter for The Daily Press yesterday. "The Mayor's action is wrong in principle," he said. "He makes the appointment, and naturally is known to be in favor of them, and you can see that it is wholly wrong in principle that he should decide the confirmation of the appointees." The leader would not commit himself to the opinion that the Mayor's action was illegal.

WOULDN'T FILL CONTRACT

HITCH IN THE WORK OF RE-PAINTING WATCHUNG AVENUE BRIDGE.

Work on the repainting of the Watchung avenue bridge over Green brook has been held up for several weeks by the refusal of the contractor to fulfil the agreement. The hitch was removed yesterday by Freeholder Westphal, who succeeded in getting another contractor to do the work.

Arrangements were made to have the Watchung avenue, Madison avenue, and Sycamore avenue bridges repainted, and the jobs were awarded to two different men. William Snell put in the lowest bid on the Watchung avenue structure, and received the contract. Then, to the surprise of Freeholders Westphal and Lutkins, who acted in the matter for Union and Somerset's joint committee, he refused to execute the order. He said he couldn't do it at the price. The boards could have held him to the contract, but decided to let him go, and asked the local freeholders to find a substitute. Yesterday Mr. Westphal secured I. N. Wyckoff's agreement to do the work. Mr. Wyckoff put in the bid next to that of Snell, but he did not take advantage of the position of the board, and held to the price he submitted. Both the other bridges are far ahead of the Watchung structure in the repainting. The Madison avenue bridge has been completed, and the Sycamore avenue bridge will be rushed to a conclusion just as soon as the weather permits.

—A. S. Vendenberg and family, of Brooklyn, will move April 1 to Brook avenue.

CHURCH SOCIETIES' AFFAIR

JOINT SOCIAL HELD UNDER AUSPICES OF MONROE AVE. ORGANIZATIONS.

A joint social was given by the Epworth League and Ladies' Aid Society, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, last night in the Epworth room of the church. The programme consisted chiefly of vocal and instrumental music. Instrumental selections were given by Miss May Brouwer and Miss Sadie Brouwer, and several numbers were presented by a male quartette consisting of John W. Daub and John P. Thompson, tenors; and David W. Jones and Juan Babcock, bass. Miss Daisy Houston was accompanist. Refreshments were served. The committee from the Ladies' Aid Society included Mrs. I. P. LaRue, chairman; Mrs. F. Wenzel, Mrs. J. C. Pierson, Miss Annie Stafford, Mrs. J. W. Daub, Mrs. J. E. VanArsdale and Miss Mary Brouwer. The Epworth League committee consisted of W. N. Sortor, president; Miss Beulah Kline, Miss Mary Cumberson and Clarence Brouard.

GARFIELD'S SON TO SPEAK

PROFESSOR AT PRINCETON COLLEGE TO ADDRESS YOUNG MEN HERE.

Arrangements have been made by the young men of the Crescent avenue Church for a series of informal receptions during the year. Four will probably take place this year, with a prominent educator or other eminent men to speak to the gathering on each occasion.

Next Tuesday evening the first of the affairs will be held. Prof. Harry A. Garfield, of Princeton, will be the speaker. The reception will be in charge of the following committee: D. M. VanVliet, Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, James P. Murray, George M. Griffin, James E. Kimball and L. R. Hopton.

Prof. Garfield is the oldest son of James A. Garfield. He recently gave up an important position in Cleveland, O., of which he was a foremost citizen, to take the chair of politics at Princeton, in succession to Prof. John H. Finlay, who has assumed the presidency of the college of the city of New York.

Prof. Garfield's appearance here will be one of the first at public gatherings in this State.

SITUATION IN SCHOOL BOARD

ANTI-ADMINISTRATION IN CONTROL, JOY LIKELY TO SUCCEED HIMSELF.

Results at the school election on Tuesday have given the anti-administration forces control of the North Plainfield Board of Education, five to four. Counted for the administration are President Joy and Commissioners Valiant, Woodruff and Townsend. The opposition is represented by A. V. D. Honeyman, Dr. Cooley, R. M. Fountain, H. E. Needham, and E. A. Overton.

Monday night the Board will meet for organization, and there is a lot of speculation as to how the offices will be filled. Mr. Joy would probably accept a re-election as president, but it is said that Mr. Honeyman, the leader of the majority, has given him no intimation as yet that he will be supported. Mr. Joy has made a most successful and efficient member of the Board, and as the presiding officer has familiarized himself with every department of the work. He is especially well posted on the question of a new school, the most important bit of work that the Board has to face.

In several quarters the impression prevails that Mr. Honeyman will be elected to succeed Mr. Joy. There is no doubt that he have the office if he intimated his desire for it.

To Elect Directors.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association will be held Monday night, March 28, at which time directors will be elected and a new series will be opened to be known as the eleventh series. Persons wishing to take shares can do so by applying at the office of the association, Liefke & Laing, 146 Park avenue, or at the office of the treasurer, W. R. Codington.

Want Second Trial.

The case of Lena Cinguage against Victor Roach, in which the plaintiff brought serious charges, will probably have a second trial, as the defendant has made application to have judgment opened. Six hundred dollars was awarded the plaintiff in the Supreme Court by a sheriff's jury. William Newcorn, Esq., represents the plaintiff.

JAMES CLARK'S HEIRS MAKE GENEROUS GIFTS

Handsome Donations to Local Charities, to Supplement Liberal Contributions.

IN AGGREGATE $29,000

MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL RECEIVES FIFTEEN THOUSAND.

Announcement Made Today—Children's Home Given $8,000 and Y. M. C. A. $2,000—Mr. Clark a Charitable Man.

Believing that death cut short plans for further gifts to local institutions, the heirs of James Clark have supplemented his donations with generous sums in his memory. Mr. Clark's will left everything to his wife and two sons, Frank L. and James E., but they were certain he had intended to give more to the religious and charitable institutions had he lived a little longer, and unhesitatingly fulfilled his wishes. To Muhlenberg Hospital, $15,000 is given for the endowment fund. The Board of Governors is authorized to devote $5,000 of the donation to the building of the proposed nurse's home if they see fit. To the Children's Home endowment fund, $5,000 is given and $3,000 to its building fund. Shortly before his death Mr. Clark gave the Home $10,000, making the total donation $18,000.

Mr. Clark's own gift to Warren chapel's building fund was $5,000. This is supplemented by $3,000 by the heirs.

The Y. M. C. A. is given $2,000 for the boys' department building fund. The first gift was $5,000.

To Camp Wolff, the children's summer home at Westfield, the heirs give $1,000.

James Clark was one of the most charitable men of wealth in this city. His gifts were made quietly, with no parade or publicity, and much of his help to eleemosynary and religious work was not known outside of those benefitted.

HOPE'S MINSTRELS HONORED

Y. M. A. TENDERED DINNER TO PERFORMERS AT CLOSE OF PERFORMANCE.

After a three-nights' run of immense success, the Hope Chapel Minstrel Show came to an end last night. There was a full house, and everything went off with the proper spirit of snap and finish.

As on the other two nights the house was swept continually by gales of laughter, and bursts of applause. The quips and cracks and songs furnished unlimited enjoyment, and all the soloits and specialists were persistently recalled. Matt Sweeney made a great hit with facial play, particularly in the march in the "Essence of Ole Virginny."

After the performance the troupe and the ushers paraded to Timbo's restaurant for a supper tendered by the Y. M. A. The marchers carried red fire, and John Galvin, cornet; Charles Pawson, flute; and Edmond Texier, drum, furnished martial music. John Cose led the parade.

At the restaurant a bounteous supper was enjoyed, in an informal spirit. Minstrel songs of last year and the latest show were sung by the troupe to relieve their pent-up feelings.

It is estimated that the show cleared between five and six hundred dollars. The Junior O. U. A. M., of Bound Brook, has asked the troupe to appear there for the benefit of the Somerville hospital. It is probable that the request will be complied with.

Mission Band Elects.

These officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Boys' Mission Band held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, yesterday afternoon: President, Francis Foster; treasurer, Malcom Strong; secretary, Donald Greenleaf. Mrs. Isaac L. Miller, who has charge of the organization, came out from New York to attend the meeting. The reports were encouraging and showed progress. Following the business, the members discussed the subject of Japan.

John Harvard's Sons.

Harvard men in this city have received invitations to a dinner to be held in Newark on March 26, at the Cafe DeJianne. Harvard men from all over the State will attend.

AMUSEMENTS.

Maclyn Arbuckle, who plays Hon. Jim Hackler in "The County Chairman," at Wallack's Theatre, New York, has been attracting much attention through the exhibition of his paintings at the McIntosh studio. These paintings are made with grease paints such as actors use in making up the stage, and leading artists are much interested in the new process. Meanwhile, George Ade's quaint comedy continues to keep crowds laughing to the side splitting point at Wallack's.

"Out of the Fold," the new pastoral melo-drama which is at the American Theatre, starts its second week Monday and its run promises to be a record-breaker from a standpoint of patronage. It scored a hit from the first and the press praises it highly. The play itself concerns a beautiful young girl who works out her own salvation after being turned adrift by society. There is considerable of the comedy element worked into the story which has the happy faculty in relieving the tension on the nerves of the spectator. Scenically the play is described as wonderful.

—The insurance on the shoemaker's shop of Morris Deutsch in the Martine building on West Front street has been settled through William Newcorn, Esq., attorney for Deutsch.

VICTORY FOR WOOD

Senate Confirms His Rank of Major General.

LONG, HARD FOUGHT CONTROVERSY

Late Senator Hanna Was Opposed to Promotion, as Charges of Maladministration in Cuba Were Made, but Lacked Proof.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—By the action of the senate in executive session General Leonard Wood becomes a major general, taking the rank from Aug. 8, 1903, the day President Roosevelt made the promotion. The contest against his confirmation has been a notable one, beginning Nov. 19, 1903, soon afer congress convened in special session and continuing through the present session until the present time, when by a vote of 45 to 16 the nomination was confirmed. The late Senator Hanna was recognized as the leader of the forces opposed to General Wood, and had it not been for his death before the disposition of the case it is conceded that the vote would have been much closer. It has not been believed at any time since the contest opened, however, that the fight against confirmation would have been successful.

Some Republican members of the senate, placing their confidence in the judgment of Senator Hanna, would have stood by him in his opposition to the promotion of General Wood, but when death removed the late senator from the conflict only two Republicans remained in the minority. They were Senators Scott, a member of the military affairs committee, who opposed the nomination while it was pending in committee, and Senator Kittredge.

Five Democratic senators voted with the majority in favor of confirmation. They were Senators Cockrell and Pettus, members of the military affairs committee, and Senators Patterson, Clarke (Ark.) and Dubois.

Dependent upon the confirmation of General Wood were 167 promotions for other army officers. These have been held up since their nominations were made by the president, but now will be confirmed without opposition. They include twenty colonels promoted to be brigadier generals on the retired and one brigadier general on the active list and officers ranking from colonels down to second lieutenants. All these nominations as well as that of General Wood were sent to the senate at the beginning of the special session in November and lapsed when that session closed. They were sent to the senate immediately at the beginning of the regular session.

A controversy arose as to whether or not they were recess appointments and also as to whether the promoted officers were entitled to the rank and pay of the grade to which they were nominated. As all no doubt will be speedily confirmed according to military authority, they will take rank and pay from the time they were first appointed to fill vacancies.

TO KNOCK OUT TRUSTS.

Bill Introduced In Congress by W. R. Hearst of New York.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Representative Hearst of New York has introduced a resolution providing for an investigation of the trust question by a committee of five members of the house. The resolution contains ten clauses, reciting the evil effects of the trusts upon the country, among them being the following:

"Numerous illegal combinations, known as trusts, have been formed to absorb or eliminate competition and establish virtual monopolies with a view to controlling production and raising the price of their products."

"Such extortionate trusts as the beef trust and the coal trust and the ice trust have arbitrarily increased the cost of the necessities of life to the public."

"Such speculative trusts as the shipyards' trust and the steel trust have inflated their stock to many times its actual value and sold to the public, transferring the people's money from banks and legitimate investments into the pockets of trust promoters and speculators."

"Industrial unrest has been fomented by the increased cost of living and by the consequent necessary effects on labor to make its wages keep pace with the increased cost of living."

"Such trusts as the steel trust, in spite of the increased cost of living, have ruthlessly cut down the wages of hundreds of thousands of employees in order to pay dividends on watered stock, and other trusts have wholly collapsed, throwing hundreds of thousands of workmen out of employment."

"The purchasing power of the community has been diminished by the increasing demands of the trusts, by unsound and reprehensible methods which have misled the people, swindled them and robbed them of their savings."

"All classes of the community are being made to feel the evil influence of the unrestrained greed and lawless practices of the trust."

The committee is directed to inform the house fully on the trust situation to the end that more effective laws may be prepared and passed by congress regulating and restricting combinations.

Stead May Speechify.

JOHANNESBURG, March 19.—The report that Lord Milner, the British high commissioner in South Africa, had canceled the permit issued to William T. Stead, the English writer, to travel in South Africa owing to the character of the speeches recently delivered by Mr. Stead is officially denied.

CONDITION OF TRADE

The Sully Failure Without Serious Effect.

COAL MINERS WILL NOT STRIKE.

Vote to Accept Reduction In Wages Averts Paralyzing Struggle—New York Building Trades Trouble Will Probably Be Settled.

NEW YORK, March 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Improvement in trade and industry continues, favorable reports largely outnumbering adverse influences. The most important event of the week was the two-thirds vote by bituminous coal miners to accept the proposed reduction in wages. This will probably prevent a serious struggle that would paralyze manufacturing just when it is beginning to revive. Similarly it is expected that tin plate workers will agree to a lower scale, which will reopen idle mills. Several minor labor controversies are progressing less satisfactorily. Revival of activity and a higher level of prices in the stock market indicated that the Northern Securities decision was not unexpected. Complications have arisen in the local building trades that retard structural work, but a settlement is anticipated, and the open weather is stimulating outdoor work at other points.

The Sully failure in the cotton market was without serious effect.

Retail distribution of Easter goods steadily expands, and dealers' stocks are being depleted because of conservatism in initial purchases. This promises large supplementary jobbing and wholesale orders as the season advances. Traffic delays are still causing complaint, and the movement of exhibits to the St. Louis exposition provides a temporary feature of importance. Railway earnings thus far available for March show a decrease of eight-tenths per cent as compared with last year's figures. Money is abundant, and rates are low, gold exports to South America being partially offset by receipts from Japan. Bank exchanges at this city for the last week were 25.1 per cent smaller than a year ago and at other leading cities 1.9 per cent less.

Another week has brought no check to the progress in the iron and steel industry. Improvement does not come suddenly, nor is there any inclination to advance prices by bounds, as in the boom four years ago. This conservatism will bring beneficial results if continued.

Lower quotations are recorded in all the markets for the leading farm staples, greatly improving the prospect for normal domestic consumption and shipments abroad. No developments are reported in the cotton situation, but heavy liquidation of option contracts produced a reaction in prices and considerable activity in speculation. Brighter crop prospects for winter wheat started a decline at Kansas City, which was quickly communicated to the other markets. Corn and provisions sympathized to some extent. Interior receipts of wheat were 3,409,095 bushels, against 2,884,317 in the same week last year, and exports were 1,772,712 bushels, flour included, compared with 2,026,356 bushels a year ago, and 4,657,625 in 1902, when the movement was more nearly normal. Arrivals of corn at primary markets were only 2,484,115 bushels against 3,463,000, and Atlantic coast shipments amounted to 1,482,609 bushels, compared with 3,344,322 in the same week last year.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for March aggregated $5,522,869, of which $2,441,521 were in manufacturing, $2,460,716 in trading, and $620,632 in other commercial lines. The total for the same time last year was $6,492,756. Failures this week numbered 229 in the United States, compared with 220 last year, and 21 in Canada against 22 a year ago.

Lion, Bereft of Mate, Starves.

ST. LOUIS, March 19.—A lion is starving itself to death in a zoological exhibit headquarters here because its mate was taken away last Monday. Since then the lion has refused all food and all day and night has kept walking around the cage in a ceaseless vigil, occasionally giving vent to a low growl. The carcass of an ox, killed but a few minutes before, was refused by the lion, the beast simply walking over the carcass and through the blood, apparently without notice. The mate was taken to a Canadian zoological garden at the request of a representative of King Edward.

Family Lost Their Home.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 19.—Poverty led Frank Hughes to rob the collection box of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, and this resulted in Hughes' wife and two small children being turned from their home. The sexton discovered that the collection box had been robbed of 20 cents, saw Hughes leaving the building and gave chase. Hughes ran, with a crowd in pursuit, but was caught and sent to the county prison for ninety days. The man's family have been turned out of their home for nonpayment of rent.

Eight Attempts to Wreck a Safe.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 19.—Five men made eight attempts to blow open the safe of the bank at Randleman, N. C., but were unable to penetrate the inner door. They held a negro who was seen passing a prisoner for three hours.

ROCHESTER BENCH SHOW.

Frank F. Doyle of New Haven, Conn. Won All Along the Line.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 19.—The awards in the Rochester Kennel club's show are now completed. Big classes were judged in bull terriers and beagles. Frank F. Doyle of New Haven, Conn., won all along the line in the bull terrier classes, and Alfred Delmont of Devon, Pa., handling for the Windholme kennels of Islip, N. Y., and the Waveland kennels of Madison, N. J., secured seven blue, four red and winner's ribbons in classes for beagles, besides landing several special cups.

Though the show closes tonight, the dogs will remain here over Sunday and will be shipped to Buffalo on Monday.

Kid Sullivan Won Bout.

BALTIMORE, March 19.—Kid Sullivan of Washington was given the decision over Tommy Daly of Brooklyn in their fifteen round sparring bout before the Eureka Athletic and Social club on points, the agreement being that the contest should be to a decision. The Washington boy did most of the fighting throughout the battle, Daly clearly awaiting an opportunity to land a telling blow. While Daly was floored three times by the Washington man, he on each occasion came up smiling.

New Delivery a Puzzle.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 19.—Though the practice of the New York Giants here was somewhat curtailed by the rain, enough was shown to make McGraw look very happy. "Red" Ames is developing far beyond any one's expectations and promises to be one of the sensations of the year. The Ilion player showed a delivery which puzzles all the batters.

Three Favorites Won.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 19.—Three favorites won at Ascot, which is the best the talent has been able to pick for several days past. Golden Rule once again was made favorite in the six furlongs high weight handicap and, following the rule when he is favorite, ran second. Colonel Bogey won handily, with Ragtag third.

I Do Go Won.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Horses quoted at long prices were again successful at Oakland. Only one favorite finished in front. I Do Go upset calculations by taking the fourth race at odds of 15 to 1 from Rimrock, an outsider.

Newport Naval Reserves Won.

The Hanna Memorial Chair.

CLEVELAND, O., March 19.—The names of six of the twenty trustees of the Hanna chair for political science to be established at Western Reserve university in this city are announced. They are: Governor Herrick of Ohio, United States Senator Dick, Governor Durbin of Indiana, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; Elmer Dover, secretary to the late Senator Hanna, and Rev. J. S. Rutledge of Cleveland, who suggested this method of perpetuating the senator's memory. The remaining fourteen trustees will be named next Friday. They include prominent men in cities from Washington to Indianapolis. The scope of the contributions, however, will be national, and $150,000 instead of $100,000, as previously stated, will be sought.

Result of Miners' Vote.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 19.—Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson of the United Mine Workers of America has announced that the count of the referendum vote of the miners on the operators' compromise proposition, which provides for a reduction of 5.55 per cent from the present wage scale, has resulted in a majority of 31,140 in favor of accepting the two years' contract with the reduction. The total vote cast by the miners' local unions in Indiana, Ohio, western Pennsylvania, Michigan, Kentucky, West Virginia and Iowa was 165,887, of which 98,514 voted in favor of accepting the reduction, while 67,373 voted in favor of a strike.

Fatal Fire at Geneva, N. Y.

GENEVA, N. Y., March 19.—One life was lost and property valued at $25,000 was destroyed in a fire in the center of the business district. When the fire broke out in the Smith block, at the corner of Seneca and Linden streets, a strong south wind threatened to sweep the flames through the entire block. A thick fire wall aided the firemen, however, and the blaze finally was controlled. Inez J. Bonnell, a music teacher who lodged in the second floor of the block, was overcome by smoke in her apartments and suffocated.

Forger Was a Morphine Fiend.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 19.—James M. Webb, alias John Dodge, a veteran of the civil war and formerly a clerk in a government office at Washington and an officer in the secret service, pleaded guilty to forgery here and was sentenced to state prison to from seven to ten years. Webb obtained money from various school principals in New England by using fraudulent checks. In court he ascribed his downfall to the constant use of morphine.

Russian Patrols Report Mikado's Troops Near Anju.

PORT ARTHUR NOT BADLY DAMAGED

Stories of Russian Soldiers Frozen to Death at Lake Baikal Cause Mirth—Mikasa Badly Damaged. Many Japanese Wounded.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 19.—Viceroy Alexeieff has cabled to the emperor from Mukden as follows:

"General Mishtchento reports that Pingyang is occupied by Japanese infantry with some guns and that Korean carts are carrying their supplies. The enemy's cavalry is not visible in large bodies, and only isolated horsemen are seen. Their horses are poor.

"Our patrols discovered the presence of the enemy's infantry on the banks of the Chengcheng river five versts (about three and one-third miles) from Anju. The enemy opened fire and killed one of our horses."

A Port Arthur report says:

"Despite the various bombardments at Port Arthur the external aspect of the city remains unchanged, although the enemy fired an enormous number of projectiles. The marine monsters in the harbor look like enormous black hulls, and the battleships and cruisers bear marks of the fighting. The black clouds of smoke vomited from their stacks overhangs the town. The cruiser Pallada stands almost ready in the dock.

"Near the entrance of the harbor can be seen the charred wrecks of the Japanese fire ships. Aboard one of the farthest out was found the body of a Japanese officer who had shot himself. Beside him lay a chart showing the course of the fire ships and the spot where they sank.

"Six hours of firing by the heaviest guns during the last bombardment did not demolish a single building, but cost a few lives. The husband and child of the Baroness Frank, who was decapitated by fragments of shell flying in through the window, were unharmed.

"The enemy in endeavoring to stand as far as possible outside the range of the Russian batteries rendered their own fire ineffective. The people are getting used to the bombardments, and the Japanese squadron cruising in the offing causes little alarm."

A Mukden report says the stories of soldiers frozen to death while crossing Lake Baikal provoke mirth there. The men are not suffering from the cold. Huts at intervals of a few versts provide warmth and refreshment, and the weaker men are driven across in sleighs, well wrapped up in furs. Others march the distance, forty versts (about twenty-six miles), comfortably in a day and are glad of the opportunity to stretch their limbs after the railroad journey.

During the fighting at Port Arthur the Japanese battleship Mikasa was struck by ten projectiles and seriously damaged, two Japanese battleships and two cruisers have been docked for repairs at Nagasaki and Sasebo, and 2,000 wounded men are said to be in the Japanese hospitals.

All the Russian wounded and sick at Port Arthur are making good progress toward recovery.

Bulgarian Amazon Volunteers.

ODESSA, March 19.—A Bulgarian girl, Zorka Illieva, who fought and was wounded in the ranks of the Macedonian insurgents, has arrived here and volunteered for service in Manchuria. She wears masculine attire, is an expert horsewoman and handles rifle and sword. The girl saw General Kaulbars, the commander in chief here, who promised to indorse her application. She brought with her a full campaign equipment.

France Worries the Pope.

ROME, March 19.—The pope, in receiving the members of the sacred college, who called to offer the pontiff their greetings on his name day, the feast of St. Joseph, made a speech, during which he strongly lamented the fact that the French government did not consider his recommendations on the subject, but continued to persecute the clergy and religious orders with increasing violence and was now citing before the law courts bishops who did their duty in calling the attention of the country to the injustice from which the clergy and members of the religious orders were suffering.

New York Woman Robbed.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 19.—Mrs. J. A. Dwyer of New York, on her way from New Orleans to her home, while in a Pullman car in the Union station here was robbed by a newsboy of a valuable diamond ring, a diamond incrusted watch, $75 in cash, a gold mounted locking glass and all her trunk checks. The young thief snatched her purse which contained these valuables from her belt while she was in the act of paying him for a paper. Mrs. Dwyer continued on her way home.

Paper Mill Burned.

FITCHBURG, Mass., March 19.—No. 1 mill of the Fitchburg Paper company, owned by Herbert I. and Senator George R. Wallace, was gutted by fire last night, and many expensive machines used to make high grade wall papers were ruined by fire and water, entailing a loss estimated by Herbert I. Wallace at between $50,000 and $60,000. The fire started in the engine room and spread rapidly through the machine and beater rooms.

BULL LEADER FAILED

Panic on Floor of New York Cotton Exchange.

CAUSED BY D. J. SULLY SUSPENSION

Was Thought to Have Made Millions Recently In Great Upward Movement In Price of Bale Cotton, But Has Lost Five Millions.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Daniel J. Sully, the cotton bull leader, has suspended. Immediately after the suspension was announced there was a panic on the floor of the exchange, in which cotton dropped from 250 to 283 points.

Members of the firm, employees and counsel for the company were busy at the company's offices far into the night trying to get affairs in such shape that a statement could be made public. All inquiries brought the same answer—that not until the firm's accounts had been gone over could any information be obtained.

Mr. Sully, when seen for a moment, said that he wished it distinctly understood that his firm has not made an assignment. He declared that when the firm's affairs have been untangled he will be able to pay dollar for dollar. To do this he must have time to realize, he said. He said the firm will undoubtedly resume business.

With Mr. Sully was George H. McFadden of the Philadelphia firm of George H. McFadden & Bro., who is said to have sold much cotton to Mr. Sully. He was said to be assisting in the preparation of the schedule for settlement.

A member of the Cotton Exchange estimated Mr. Sully's total holdings at 300,000 bales, on which his loss in the last week or ten days probably was in excess of $5,000,000.

Sully is also a member of the Stock Exchange, and his failure was announced there. The announcement came as a complete surprise, but caused only a slight decline.

The stock market held firmly at first, as many traders supposed that the firm was one of the many on the short side of the market. It is stated, however, by friends of the firm that it has practically no outstanding contracts on the Stock Exchange. Its business was all cleared.

There followed promptly liquidation of long stocks which might come out at any time, but which did not do so as the market showed nothing but strength.

Sales were estimated at 1,500,000 bales. It is understood that the Sully contracts outstanding will be settled on the basis of today's average price.

The announcement of the suspension had but little effect on the coffee market, in which Sully is interested.

Cotton Panic In New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, March 19.—The announcement of the failure of Daniel J. Sully, the "cotton king," of New York created the greatest panic ever seen on the floor of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange. Prices melted away until they were $9 and $10 a bale lower than Thursday's close, and every moment the fear was that local firms would go to the wall. When the panic was over and the commercial integrity of the local cotton trade was found intact a great sigh of relief went up from the room, although scores of small operators were wiped out and heavy longs had lost fortunes.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch 19, 1904.

McAdoo is much ado just at present.

"The most unkindest cut of all" is J. J. Hill's endorsement of Grover Cleveland's candidacy.

"What is the origin of graft?" asks a correspondent of the New York Sun. Dead easy—"It is the root of all evil."

J. H. Tillman, of South Carolina, announces his withdrawal as a candidate for Congress. Most people acquitted of murder are satisfied to go on the stage.

The purchase of the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company system by the Public Service Corporation has revived the report that a trolley line is to be established between this city and Metuchen. Such service would enhance the value of property along the route and would be beneficial to this city in many ways.

It would be a Godsend to the Democratic party if William Jennings Bryan and William Randolph Hearst would lead their regiments into the Populistic camp and abandon all claim on the army which is true to the principles expounded by Thomas Jefferson. Neither of these "journalists" would be tried for treason.

The Common Council invites you to attend its April meeting and express your views on the proposed scheme of municipal collection and disposal of garbage. Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity of voicing your sentiments in favor of the proposed improvement, and in that way show that you are interested in the advancement of Plainfield.

Every citizen interested in the welfare of Plainfield should be glad over William N. Runyon's announcement that he will be a candidate to succeed himself as city judge. During his incumbency he has discharged his duties in a highly creditable manner and the experience he has gained in the performance of his duty makes him particularly valuable to the municipality.

The war in the Far East gives many suburban newspapers an opportunity to fill space with pictures which are of little or no interest to the general public. In the suburban district people buy a local newspaper to get the home news and they expect to find it. For what is going on in the world, outside of their own little sphere, they depend upon the metropolitan dailies.

This is the day of the man in the street—the common man. And the press is the voice of the common man, speaking a little more clearly, and a little more highly than the man speaks in his person but representing his aims and his interests. The faults of the press are known to itself, and there is a steady betterment. It is a betterment that keeps pace with that of its public. With all its admitted shortcomings, the press is right; it stands for health, safety, honor, progress, liberty. It does so, because the man in the street stands for exactly that. The newspaper that dared to stand for anything else—but it could not and would not; it would be the quickest mode of suicide. The newspaper represents all interests, not equally, but in such supposed measure as its clientele demands, and at base it must be true in all things.—Press and Printer.

We devote much space today in giving the full text of the report on municipal garbage collection and disposal, presented by the joint committee to the Common Council at its meeting last night, feeling sure that every citizen interested in the welfare of the municipality will give it attention. A careful and thorough investigation has been made of this important subject by a competent committee of men, representing the Common Council and the Board of Health, and it is gratifying to learn that favorable action on the much agitated subject is unanimously recommended. It is very encouraging to know that the committee spent much time in getting at the needed facts and figures concerning the various systems of municipal collection and disposal of garbage. These men deserve the thanks of the public for the interest they have taken. There is every reason to believe that the Common Council will adopt the scheme at its regular April meeting and that the system will be in running order at an early date.

WOODHULL & MARTIN'S.

THE LADIES favor painting their churches, and therefore we urge every Minister to remember we give a liberal quantity of the Longman & Martinez Paint toward the painting.

Wears and covers like gold.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy other paints in a can with a paint label on it.

8 and 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight of L. & M., and mix 6 gallons pure Linseed Oil with it, and thus get paint at less than $1.20 per gallon.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of Linseed Oil mixed therewith.

These Celebrated Paints are sold by Woolston & Buckle, Plainfield; H. C. Meyer, Scotch Plains.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

It begins to look as though the members of Fanwood Council, R. A., would win the special prize banner offered them by Grand Regent Washburn, if they would initiate ten new members during March. There are prospects of twelve taking the class initiation on Tuesday night. The Council has one of the handsomest banners in the State, presented to them by the Grand Council for the work done last year.

The members of the Bucket and Engine Company have purchased a new hose cart to take the place of the antique supply wagon which has done service for a number of years. The new cart is expected some time during the coming week.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The House passed a concurrent resolution fixing the date of sine die adjournment for Friday, March 25.

In a special message to the Legislature Governor Murphy recommends that all the legal work of the State as affecting any of the many departments and bureaus be done by the attorney general's department and that the law be so revised as to accomplish this end.

Among the bills passed in the Senate this week is one making the terms of clerks of the boards of freeholders three years in counties having between 150,000 and 225,000 population; another authorizing the treasurer of the State to acquire six hundred acres of land adjoining the State camp at Sea Girt; one extending the seasosn for duck-hunting a month; and an anti-cigarette bill that makes it illegal to sell to persons under 14 years old, and provides for fine and imprisonment of the seller. Senator Cross withdrew his bill providing for the division of the State into nine judicial districts.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

MEN PROMINENT IN NATIONAL POLITICS DISCUSSED.

TRAITS OF PARTY LEADERS

The Cost of Conducting National Campaigns — National Committee Chairmanships Not Enviable Positions.

Washington.—A great many people are surprised that Senator Hanna's available wealth at the time of his death should have been only $3,000,000. In some way the impression had gone out that he was worth a great deal more than that. But impressions about money are pretty sure to be exaggerated in these days when men talk about millions as they used to talk about thousands ten years ago.

The Late Senator Hanna.

Senator Hanna, of course, was a successful man of business, just as he was successful in everything else he undertook, but after he had accumulated enough to insure his own financial permanency and the permanency of his family's financial interests, he was indifferent to whether any more came to him or not.

He never cared for money in itself, nor cared to pose as a man of wealth. What he did prize was the feeling of security and power which the possession of money gave him. And still more he prized the fact that his own business success enabled him to command the confidence and friendship of far wealthier men and through them to accomplish results in business and politics which would have been impossible for one whose own business experience did not inspire respect.

It was this reputation for business acumen which stood him in good stead as chairman of the national republican committee, but it had an even greater influence upon his career in the senate; for it gave impressive weight to the opinions he expressed in debate upon such distinctively business propositions as the ship subsidy bill and the Panama canal.

Something Like Hanna.

Former Gov. Crane of Massachusetts, whose name has been mentioned more frequently than any other as Hanna's probable successor in the chairmanship of the republican national committee, is in some respects like Hanna—in others strikingly unlike him.

Ex-Gov. Crane.

Like Hanna, he is a successful business man, whose own success and recognized acumen have given him unusual influence among men of greater wealth and of more far-reaching personal interests. Like Hanna, he has never met with failure in any undertaking, and, like Hanna, he is intensely loyal. Like Hanna, he inspires the confidence of laboring men as well as capitalists, and some of his most important achievements have been in the direction of bringing labor and capital to a better understanding.

It was Gov. Crane who first suggested to President Roosevelt the idea of inviting the coal operators and the representatives of the Miners' union to Washington to talk over their differences—an invitation which resulted in bringing the anthracite coal strike to an end, when it had reached its most threatening stage. The suggestion came to him from his own experience as governor of Massachusetts when he brought the striking freight handlers and their employers together for a conference in the state house and ended a strike which had tied up the business of Boston.

Unlike Hanna, Gov. Crane will never develop into an effective debater or stump speaker. He has an unconquerable aversion to public appearances of that kind, and it is characteristic of him that the few public offices he has held have been forced upon him by other party leaders against his own inclination and in spite of his protests. He has a genius for politics, is absorbed in it, and is recognized by men who stand very high in public affairs as a wise and safe political adviser, but he hates above all things the idea of holding a political office. He likes to accomplish results, but he doesn't care at all for the glamor of the reputation for having done it.

Didn't Want the Job.

Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, was asked by President Harrison to be chairman of the republican national committee in 1892 when Harrison was running for reelection. Harrison asked him first by wire and Spooner declined by wire. Then Harrison asked him to come to Washington and he came. But no pleading could induce him to take the place. Finally Harrison asked him why.

Senator Spooner.

"I'll tell you," said Spooner, frankly. "In order to run a campaign now the chairman of the national committee in either party has to raise so much money that if he wins he is sure to be called a boodler. If he loses he is called a chump. I don't care for either reputation."

Upon that Harrison let him off without further urging.

It is a fact that a great deal more money is used now in the legitimate expenses of a national election than was the case in the earlier days.

Of men now living, probably, William E. Chandler has had more experience in the management of national campaigning than anybody else. He was connected with the national republican committee continuously from 1860 to 1880, and during a good part of that time he was secretary of the committee. He was especially active in the historic campaign of 1876. Yet in all his experience he never heard of a campaign fund approaching a million dollars.

Prior to 1880 the largest fund raised was by Henry J. Raymond, chairman of the committee in 1864. He is understood to have had $500,000 with which to manage the campaign for the reelection of Abraham Lincoln. The fund for Garfield's election in 1880 was somewhat larger than this, and in 1884 both national committees had funds which were regarded as generous in comparison with what had gone before.

The first fund running up into the millions, however, was in 1888, when M. S. Quay, as chairman of the republican national committee, induced the great manufacturers of the country to contribute generously to prevent the reelection of Cleveland. In 1892 the democratic committee had a campaign fund larger than the republicans had in 1888, while the republican fund was very small. In 1896 and 1900, the republican fund mounted high, but even in those years with Bryan as a candidate the democratic fund was larger than any republican fund had ever been before. The republican campaign fund in 1904 promises to be small.

The Case of Senator Hoar.

Senator Hoar is greatly concerned lest he shall be charged with criticising the administration when in reality he intended simply to call attention to certain transactions which he thought needed looking into.

Senator Hoar.

There is probably no other man in public life who would draw so fine a distinction between an attack on an administration policy and an attack on the administration itself. But Senator Hoar is a law unto himself and his fellow senators are coming to recognize that his treatment of public questions is not to be considered exactly as it would be in the case of anybody else.

Senator Hoar has two distinct points of view for every political problem that comes to the front. First he looks at it from the viewpoint of the historian, then from the viewpoint of the practical statesman of to-day. Not infrequently he finds that the results do not harmonize and then he generally acts in accordance with the apparent necessity of the hour, while placing himself on record according to his judgment of the verdict of history.

He is getting to be an old man now, and he appreciates the fact that he will probably not long remain on the public stage. He does not want the closing years of his career to be stained by what he fears his biographer may regard as a questionable act. And so he places himself on record in such a way that after he is gone there can be no doubt about his own personal views without regard to what he may have been impelled to do in a national or party emergency. In what he says there is no personal feeling and there is no politics in the ordinary sense of the word. He does not think, for an instant, how any position he may assume will affect the political prospects either of himself or of anybody else—even his most intimate friends.

Ages in the Senate.

There are some wonderful old men in the senate. Hoar is one of them. Platt, of Connecticut, is another of a distinctly different type — hard-headed, practical, far-seeing, progressive. Morgan and Pettus, of Alabama, each in his own way, is a marvel. Morgan even now having passed his eightieth year has limitless endurance, and Pettus, the oldest man in the senate, is one of the youngest in his disposition. Then there are men whom we never think of as old—Quay, who is over 70; Platt, of New York, and Chauncey M. Depew—of equal age, each past his three score years and ten. Frye and Hale, of Maine; Proctor, of Vermont; Cullom, of Illinois, and Allison, of Iowa, are all in the class of 70—but they class themselves as youngsters.

Platt, of Connecticut.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

HOW TO KEEP SERVANTS.

Also, by Way of Contrast, a Few of the Simplest Ways of Losing Them.

"Did you ever hear the story of the Chinese servant who was discharged? He went away muttering vengeance. The next Chinaman who entered the kitchen came out in ten minutes, with his belongings in his hand. He gave no reason; simply said he wanted to leave, and he did leave. The next one stayed half a day. Then he, too, went. That happened twice more. Then the mistress of the house, panic stricken, begged the last cook as he was going out to tell her what was the trouble. After a good deal of urging and some coin he led her solemnly to the sink, and there scratched on the stonework were some cabalistic Chinese signs which were in the nature of a hoodoo on the character of the mistress, the house and everything. Of course she effaced the marks, and all was well."

"I wonder Mrs. Brown doesn't investigate for signs herself."

"I know one, and there isn't anything mysterious about it either. She has a dark kitchen. Now, how can you expect a girl to remain shut in there day after day without having blues? Give a servant a cheerful kitchen, with the right conveniences in the way of pots and pans, and she will be contented and do her work well. Then Mrs. Brown's servant rooms are fitted up with the broken furniture of the house. There is no bathroom for the servants. They have to wash as best they can in a bowl. The hours are irregular, meals never on time, and the mistress of the house is always tacking on some extra work, so that the poor maid's labor is never done. There is no method, no fixed lines. One servant does the work of two and work for which she is not fitted. I am sure it is not impossible to keep a maid if you treat her justly, like a human being; if you give her some definite work to do and don't expect her to do the work of six, and if you give her decent food, a decent room and a little time to herself Above all, too, if you don't nag her."

GRACE BENTLEY.

THE PIANO.

Some Suggestions on Locating It and Taking Care of It.

In the first place, don't put it near the radiator—that is, if you don't want a cracked sounding board—and don't place it near the window during the winter for the same reason. When the maid sweeps the room be sure to have her close the piano. These little things insure a good tone. A piano should be tuned once a month.

Of course a grand piano is more decorative, and there is little or no trouble in placing it in a fairly large room, but if you choose an upright piano, with a low top instead of one of the high, Noah's ark affairs, and if you hang a tapestry back of it, you will get a very pretty effect.

The picture shows a piano which has been placed across a portion of the room. The back is draped with a tapestry hanging, against which is placed a settle. The rest of the room is in old English style. The bay windows have greenish curtains with a dull yellow figure.

R. DE LA BAUME.

OUR CHICAGO LETTER

WAR IN THE EAST AFFECTS THE LAKE CITY.

MARS AND THE GRAIN PITS

Russia Finds Friends in an Unexpected Quarter—An Echo of the Iroquois Fire—Marrying at a Minimum.

Chicago.—Mars came to the aid of the bulls on the board of trade, and did what they had failed to do without assistance, sent the price of wheat to close to $1.10 a bushel for May delivery.

No Bears in Sight.

The fact is that for the past four months Armour has been operating extensively in May wheat, and opposed to him were the greater part of the professionals of the board. Armour was on the bull side of the market, and he had the public with him, though the professionals against him. Ninety-cent wheat was the product of Armour manipulation, and in all probability 90-cent wheat would have been about the limit for the market, had not the war in the far east taken the whole thing out of the hands of the manipulators. Last Thanksgiving day May wheat was selling for around 76 cents. I know a small trader who held 30,000 bushels bought at that price. It went up half a cent, dropped back a quarter, and he became frightened and sold. Had he held his small holdings it would have netted him a profit of close to $10,000. Armour got into the market at even a smaller price, and has been buying all the way from 73 cents up to above 90. On every bushel he purchased he has made a profit, and his total to the good in these operations will amount to very close to $1,000,000. The most of this great amount has been taken from the professionals on the board, instead of from the general public, who have, as a rule, followed the Armour lead, and bought. The occasional "shake-outs" have caused some losses on the part of the outside public, but not to a great extent.

Friends of Russia.

One would not naturally look for Russian sympathizers in the ghetto district of any large city, and yet some of the most enthusiastic supporters of the Russian cause, and the most ardent wishers for Russian victory in the far east are to be found in that section of Chicago given over to a conglomeration of the poor of all nationalities. What is more, these supporters of Russia are yet subjects of King Edward. They are French Canadians, and it is not because they "love Russia more, but that they love England less," that they wish for Russian success, believing that such a success would mean a reverse for England.

Where Russia Is Popular.

The French Canadians, whether at home or in the eastern provinces of Canada, or in the states, are not loyal subjects of the government to which they owe allegiance. At home they know nothing but the traditions of France; they will not permit their children to attend the public schools in Canada, but send them to the parochial schools maintained at their own expense where nothing but French is taught. In the poorer sections of Montreal or Quebec one may see more French flags than union jacks displayed on the cottages of the people. They have their own feast days and holidays, and though they are law-abiding citizens, the Canadian government seems to have no hold upon their sentiments.

In Chicago these days one may find a French and a Rusian flag waving side by side from the windows of the cottages of these emigrants. Nearly 200 years have passed since Wolf stormed the Plains of Abraham, but that the territory was once under the protection of the lilies of France has not been forgotten.

No More Theater Passes.

An echo of the Iroquois fire came at a recent meeting of the theatrical managers of the city a short time ago, when a strong organization for mutual protection was organized.

They All Pay Now.

One of the first steps taken by the new organization was to bar passes to politicians. For years the theaters have in this way paid for courtesies extended them by the city fathers and the heads of executive departments. While it was known the city ordinances were being violated constantly, the violations were winked at, so it is said, in exchange for orchestra seats. Now that the terrible catastrophe of last December has been followed by a tidal wave of reform, and violations are no longer permitted, the passes are stopped.

It would not be fair to attribute this action of the theatrical managers entirely to this one reason, however. The fact is the demand for passes has been abused to such an extent that often half the audiences were present on "paper." With the strict enforcing of the new ordinances the seating capacity of nearly every theater has been materially reduced, and if they are to continue to be operated at a profit the seats must be sold and not given away. Then, too, the managers have been doing a little figuring recently, and they find it is cheaper to comply with the laws than it is to buy leniency at such a cost as has been demanded of them. Some managers claim that it has cost them in the past $200 a day or more for "protection," which in the end proved to be no protection at all, as all have finally had to comply with the laws or remain closed.

Another item of expense which has been cut off is that of show window advertising which was paid for in tickets. In future theatrical advertising in Chicago will be confined to the columns of the newspapers, and such bill boards as are owned or controlled by the houses using them. This will mean a saving—in tickets—to each house of from $200 to $500 a week.

Love at a Minimum.

What salary is necessary to permit a man to support a wife in Chicago?

The question is being discussed in store, office, home and factory, and the discussion is the result of an order issued by one of the city banks that its employes shall not marry on less than $1,000 a year.

Love on $500 a Year.

From the answers to the question that have been printed in the city papers it would seem that very much depends upon the girl. The social butterfly certainly cannot meet the demand upon her purse for $1,000 a year, while, on the other hand, the girl who is willing to do her own washing, who would not need a nurse girl for the children, who does not want a brown stone front on the avenue for a residence, who can make her own gowns and her husband's shirts, who is willing to wear calico in the kitchen, who will gather the firewood from the alleys, and deny herself the pleasure of a theater party every night, might manage to eke out an existence on $500 a year.

The fact is the majority of the authorities on domestic economy who have been quoted on the subject have failed to provide for any of the extraordinary expenses which are almost sure to arise in every household, but it may be that papa-in-law was expected to meet these with occasional donations.

Hundreds of young couples are married each year whose love dreams have failed to include such practical affairs as rent, groceries, clothing, doctors, etc. Hundreds of women who were parties to such marriages may be found to-day behind the counters of the State street stores, or operating typewriters in La Salle street offices. They found they had set too low a minimum for love to exist upon, and preferred to seek their old positions, rather than submit to the drudgery of housework.

The Women Workers.

One reason for the extravagant tastes that have placed a ban upon Dan Cupid may be found in the number of girls and women who find profitable employment in the stores, factories and offices of the city, and who find sufficient interest in the trades unions to which they belong to compensate them for lack of husband and home.

She Belongs to a Union.

In no other city in America has trades unionism taken such a hold upon women workers as in Chicago. The city has 35,000 organized female wage-earners, embracing practically every calling in which large numbers of women are employed, save those of stenographers and house maids. The school-teachers have a union, and so have the scrub women, and both are organized on much the same lines.

That they find their unions interesting is proven by the large attendance at the meetings, and that the women are capable organizers and managers is proven by the orderliness of these large assemblages and the lack of discord in them. That the management of the "lady president," and the "lady walking delegate" is efficient, is proven by the increase of wages, the reduction of the working hours and the improvement in shop conditions in the various lines in which they are employed.

That they have no use for husbands may be proven by the statement elicited by Miss Richardson, of the Leslie Magazine staff, from Mrs. Mary McDermott, walking delegate of the Scrubwomen's union:

"You are the only married woman I have met so far in the movement," Miss Richardson remarked.

"Sure, and that's one to many."

"You don't seem to approve of husbands?"

"Husbands!" sniffed she, as she folded across her stomach two plump, honest hands, hands no longer red, thanks to her salaried job. "Husbands! There ain't no good husbands but dead ones."

SOLDIERING IN TIBET

What the Britisher Is Called Upon to Endure There.

The Expedition to Lhasa Attended with Many Hardships, and the Endurance of Intensely Cold Weather.

The advance of the British expedition into Tibet is calling forth considerable criticism from certain quarters in England, because of the hardships through which the soldiers will be called to pass. Much of the marching will be along roads at extreme elevations, and the weather is intensely cold, the temperature being below zero most of the time. Then all the supplies and munitions, and equipments have to be transported upon the backs of yaks, the beast of burden of Tibet.

Sir Henry Cotton, who has just returned to England after 33 years' service in India, is bold to denounce the sending of troops into the country of Tibet as "a moastrous thing, an outrage and a blunder." The "whole move is abominable from end to end; and more than that, it is stupid." He declares that the journey from India to Tibet is enormous and extremely difficult, and that much of the way, the packing of baggage, etc., will have to be done upon the back of the mountain sheep, the road being too difficult for the larger beast of burden, the yak.

RELIEVING GUARD AT FORT GNATONG, 12,300 FEET ABOVE THE SEA.

But Lord Kitchener, and those immediately in charge of the expedition do not see any such insurmountable difficulties, and minimize the hardships through which the soldiers will be called to pass. Sir Joseph Hooker's observations, it is declared, do not warrant the drawing of any such dark picture, and the reports of the Pundits expressly state that winter is a favorable season for travel in the Gyantse district.

The British frontier camp is at Gnatong, an elevated point 12,000 feet above the level of the sea. But in spite of its elevation it is said to be a considerable town. It is necessary for the soldiers at this post to be clad with special clothing and Crimean helmets to protect the head and face from the fierce wintry blasts which sweep over this lofty spot. Blue goggles have to be worn constantly to protect from the glare of the sun. The sentries at their posts have oil stoves with which they keep some of the intense cold away and manage to perform their period of active guard duty.

Chumbi is two marches or twenty-one miles below Gnatong, on the Tibet side. It has an elevation of 9,500 feet. This place instead of Gnatong may be designated as the winter base of the British force, which has been ordered to advance across the frontiers of Tibet and which will probably start early next year. This place is said to be a delightful spot. An English writer declares that its dry climate, its bracing air, its pleasant groves and streams and frequent farms qualify it to become the Engadine of Bengal. From Chumbi, it is a two days' march to Phari, formerly the chief trading mart of southern Tibet and is still a place of 300 houses and many shops. The road up the valley is rugged and fortified by a series of walls. Beyond Phari the country is more open and the passes though in the neighborhood of the gigantic Chumalhari are easy of passage.

TIBETAN YAK USED FOR TRANSPORT.

In the expdition of 1888 it is said that the native troops suffered from the effects of wintering at high altitudes, bronchitis and pulmonary diseases being common, but it is probable that the Ghurkhas, or native soldiers, will bear the climate as well if not better than an English regiment. What the outcome of the controversy will be and how the troops will stand the expedition remains to be seen.

STRUCK BY CRAZED HORSE

GEORGE GUNTHER NEARLY KILLED BY HOOFS OF MADDENED BEAST.

Enraged by an attempt to administer medicine to him, a spirited horse owned by W. J. Buttfield attacked the latter's coachman, George Gunther, Thursday night and inflicted severe injuries.

As the medicine touched its tongue the animal reared and struck Gunther a terrific blow on the forehead with a front hoof. Gunther was felled to his hands and knees, and the horse instantly leaped forward and beat him down with a rain of blows from his forefeet.

Edward Uhrhahn, who was in the stable, rushed into the stall, and braving the flying hoofs, drove the crazed animal away.

Gunther was unconscious and remained insensible for some time. His hand was hurt badly by the hoofs, and he was severely bruised all over. Dr. Adams attended him.

PUZZLE: FIND A. TAYLOR

JURY COULDN'T DECIDE WHETHER ANNIE OR ABRAHAM WAS "IT."

Who is A. Taylor? That is a question that puzzled the jury yesterday afternoon in the case in Justice Huff's court of Myer Goldberg against Annie Taylor. Annie Taylor is the wife of "Barney" Taylor, as he is generally known, or "Abraham" as it suited his convenience to call himself yesterday. Taylor was at one time employed at L. Sternberg's store as manager, leaving to start in business for himself. He bought goods to the value of seventy odd dollars from Goldberg, a New York milliner, and received credit under the name of "A. Taylor" When he refused to pay up, action on contract was started against Annie Taylor in whose name Taylor, it is said, claimed that the business was done. When the case was brought into court yesterday afternoon, Taylor claimed that the name "A. Taylor" on the business cards did not represent Annie Taylor but himself, "Abraham" Taylor. In consequence, the jury was obliged to return a verdict of no cause for action. Suit was immediately started against "Abraham B." Taylor and summons issued from the same court. William Newcorn, Esq., represented the plaintiff and W. G. DeMeza, Esq., the defendant.

California's Western Empire.

Few people realize that the State of California has an area as great as eight of our principal Eastern States, and that it is the great land of opportunity today. The New York World, with its issue of Sunday, March 20, will publish a special California supplement, entitled "California, the Empire State of the West," and handsomely illustrated in colors. The cleverest writers of the Pacific Coast have contributed to this issue of The World, and every story is written in a popular vein, with none of the characteristics of boom literature. Among the contributors are Gov. Pardee, ex-Mayor James D. Phelan, of San Francisco; Dr. Bernard Moses, of the Philippine Commission; President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the California State University, and many others. Every topic of interest to Eastern people treating of California industries and opportunities is presented readably. This supplement will be valuable to you for the information it contains of a part of our country worthy of your thought and knowledge. It will be interesting and attractive, and may present just the opportunity you the looking for to improve your financial condition. No part of the Sunday World has been sacrificed for this supplement, but it is carried in addition to the regular features.

SWACKHAMER FIGHTS FOR EQUAL TAXATION

Individuals Unjustly Burdened by the Present Laws Which Are Partial.

ARGUMENT IN HOUSE

NO INCREASE IN RAILROAD COMPANIES TAXES IN TWENTY YEARS.

Somerset's Assemblyman Warns Assembly of Grave Responsibility Resting Upon Members for Not Taking Action on Bills.

An effort was made in the Assembly last week to compel the committee on railroads and canals to report Bills No. 29 and 31, which provide for the taxation of railroad companies the same as individuals are taxed. Among those who spoke in favor of the bills was S. S. Swackhamer from Somerset County. He appealed with great earnestness and force of reason to the members of the Assembly to vote in favor of these bills which are to equalize taxation and compel railroad companies to stand on a par with ordinary citizens.

Mr. Swackhamer showed that the valuation placed upon railroad real estate by the State Board of Assessors is the same as was placed upon it twenty years ago, though this property has vastly increased in value and similar property owned by individuals has been valued much higher; that while citizens are taxed from $20 to $30 on the $1,000, the railroad companies are taxed but $5 on the $1,000 on one kind of property and $15 on the $1,000 on another; that by the exemption which the railroad companies are enjoying under the present law, the burden of the individual tax payers is enhanced to the extent of 25 per cent.; that the old law permits the taxation of the first class property of railroads at the rate of only one half of 1 per cent., and second class property at 1, ½ per cent.; that there is $181,000,000 worth of first class property and $41,000,000 worth of second class property; that if the individual citizens were the owners of this property, it would yield a revenue of several million more per annum than it now yields; that the railroad companies now own about one fourth of the real estate in Jersey City and a large amount in other sections of the State and are constantly increasing their possessions; that this condition of affairs is bearing heavily on the large cities, and that the burden will be increased unless relief is obtained by law; that a strong public sentiment is demanding the passage of these measures, and that the argument presented at the hearing was apparently unanswerable.

Mr. Swackhamer said that the committee was assuming a grave responsibility when it refused to report the bills; that sixty members had been elected to the General Assembly to consider, discuss and vote upon the measures which are introduced in the Legislature. He claimed that the delay in reporting the bills was sure to defeat their passage and that each member of the House was resting under a tremendous responsibility in declining to act upon a question of such vital importance. "What caused the inertia of the committee? Are the railroads more potent than the people? Are the interests of the companies more sacred than the interests of the people? Shall the people's representatives bow to the behests of the companies and turn a deaf ear to the citizens who ask this relief? By what subtle influence has the action of this committee been paralized? Can the members of this House resist the mighty current of public opinion, silence the voice of reason, ignore the dictates of conscience, stolidly decline to give a reason for inaction and then go back and face their constituents?"

He said that the principle of equal taxation had been at the root of revolutions and by the imposition of unjust taxes, kings and tyrants had lost their heads; he claimed that it was monstrous to permit the railroads to shirk their just burden of taxation when the citizens all over the State are compelled to bear theirs, and that those who vote against these bills would go down on the record as the friends of the railroads and the enemies of the people; that there is no principle of justice upon which an advantage can be given to the rich and the strong as against the poor and the weak, and that he who willingly permits the continuance on an unjust discrimination in favor of one class as against another is as reprehensible as if he had created the wrong. He declared that he considered it a supreme opportunity to advocate a measure which appeals so powerfully to conscience and reason and which is founded upon the principles of justice.

BISHOP CRANSTON DELAYED

CONSEQUENTLY NO UNION SERVICE OF METHODISTS IN THIS CITY.

Through the slowness of the steamboat service from Porto Rico, the Methodists of this city were prevented from hearing an address by Bishop Cranston yesterday.

Some time ago Bishop Cranston signified his willingness to deliver a sermon in Plainfield, and yesterday was the date set for the occasion. A little later the Bishop went to Porto Rico to preside over a conference. He hoped to be able to get a vessel that would bring him here in time to address the Plainfield Methodists, but only slow steamers were obtainable, and his arrival in this country will not take place until this afternoon at the earliest.

When the Bishop agreed to preach here, arrangements were made for a union service of the three Methodist churches in the First M. E. church. The upsetting of the plans has caused a lot of disappointment among the Methodist people of the city and nearby places.

Bishop Cranston will be the presiding officer of the Newark Conference, and make the appointments to the various churches.

THIS CROOK A PROFESSIONAL

BELIEVED THAT METZGER BURGLARY WAS NOT DONE BY A "RAFFLES."

None of the silverware stolen from Samuel Metzer's home on Sycamore avenue was found in the possession of Jack Weler, the gentleman burglar of Bound Brook. That job is believed to have been done by a thorough-going professional.

This is the view taken by the burglar insurance company which covers the Metzger house. The corporation has allowed the claim, and arrangements have been made to pay the loss in full. Usually the insurance company puts its own detective on the case, but in this instance no such action will be taken. The burglar left not the faintest clue for the officers to work on.

He took things that it will be impossible to trace. Most of the swag was solid silver, which can be melted down and sold without dimination of value by weight. Among the things the thief took was a $600 sable coat belonging to Mrs. Metzger. but even this cannot be traced if the thief rips out the lining and the other identifying marks, and sells the coat as a pelt.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS MARRIED

MR. AND MRS. FRANK WYNKOOP CELEBRATED THEIR SILVER WEDDING.

After completing a quarter-century of happy married life, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wynkoop, of Dunellen, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Saturday night by entertaining about thirty relatives and friends, at an informal reception at their home where they received hearty congratulations and best wishes. The evening was passed delightfully in playing games and in listening to a musical programme. "Pit" and "flint" were the games that provided most amusement. Several delightful solos were rendered by Mrs. Robert Giddes, of Philadelphia, and instrumental selections were contributed by Miss Emma Nelson, of the borough. Dainty refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening ended with an old fashioned Virginia reel. Gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Wynkoop included many handsome ones in cut glass and silver. Guests were present from Dunellen, Plainfield and surrounding towns.

Daughter of the American Revolution, Her Father Having Been a Continental Soldier—Husband Died in 1876.

In her one hundred and first year, Mrs. Letitia Swartout-Remsen died at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at her home at 25 Sandford avenue, where she lived with her son, Abram G. Remsen. Old age was the cause of her end.

Mrs. Remsen celebrated her centennial anniversary on September 1 of last year, greeting large numbers of her descendants in an informal reception. She appeared in the best of health and to the last of her life retained a remarkable degree possession of her physical and mental faculties.

Born at Fishkill, N. Y., September 1, 1803, Mrs. Remsen was the youngest of nine children. Her father was Jacobus Swartout and her mother, whose maiden name was Martha VanWyck, was connected with the family of which former Mayor VanWyck, of New York, was a member. Her early life, Mrs. Remsen spent at the old home in Fishkill. In 1824 she married Augustus Remsen, of Brooklyn, living a happy married life until 1876 when Mr. Remsen died. Twenty-seven years ago she came to this city to live at the home of her son.

Mrs. Remsen was the mother of nine children, three of whom survive her. She had nine grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren, all of whom attended her hundredth birthday anniversary celebration last fall. She was a Daughter of the Revolution, her father having been a Continental soldier. She distinctly remembered the stirring times incident to the War of 1812, in which her two brothers served. When a young woman she became a member of the Strong Place Baptist church, of Brooklyn, and had always retained her membership. She was a faithful attendant of the First Presbyterian church, of this city.

REV. MR. M'MURRAY BIDS A FAREWELL

Thanks Congregation and the Public Press for Loyally Supporting His Work Here.

A SPECIAL SERMON

EXPECTS TO BE TRANSFERRED TO ANOTHER PLACE.

Bishop Likely to Assign Him to a Larger Field—Appointment to be Announced at Annual Conference in Newark This Week.

Words of farewell were spoken by the Rev. John McMurray, of the Monroe Avenue church, last night, at the conclusion of his sermon. Rev. Mr. McMurray expects to be transferred to another church by the Conference that meets this week in Newark, and if he is, yesterday will have been his last Sunday in his old pulpit.

The pastor thanked his people for their support, and for the harmonious effort they have made during his pastorate to help him advance the church and help the community. He expressed thanks to the newspapers of the city for courteous and kindly treatment. It was with regret, he said, that he faced the prespect of leaving the Monroe Avenue church and Plainfield.

After the service Rev. Mr. McMurray's flock crowded about him to bid him good-bye personally. Many expressions of keen regret over the expected departure were expressed.

During his stay here Mr. McMurray has made a strong impression on the public as an aggressive and fearless fighter against sin and evil conditions. He has been an unrelenting foe of liquor traffic and will be long remembered here as the leader of the forces that brought about the recent rout of the West End speakeasies and the defeat of John Goff's attempt to secure a license for a saloon at Clinton avenue and West Front street.

BIT BABE'S EAR.

Rodent Injures Mrs. Wm. Johnson's Four-Months-Old Child.

Wails of pain and terror from her four-months' old baby woke Mrs. William Johnson, colored, of West Fourth street, early yesterday morning. Mrs. Johnson hastily sprang up to investigate and a big rat jumped from the child's crib and scurred away with a squeal.

Blood was pouring down the child's face, and a torn ear showed where the rodent had been trying to feed on the helpless little pickaninny when its screams brought assistance. Johnson made a search for the rat, but could only locate its hole. That was directly under the baby's bed.

The hole has been stopped up, and as a further precaution Johnson has bought a half a dozen traps to put about the infant's crib.

Played for the President.

Ward Stephens, formerly organist at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, and well-known in musical circles here, has met with great success in his work as a pianist. He recently completed a tour of the West and a few weeks ago played at the White House for President Roosevelt. So well pleased was the President with his work that he has been secured to play there again at a reception to be given. Mr. Stephens has just signed a contract to make a trans continental tour with Campinari, the noted tenor soloist. It is generally believed that he is destined to become one of America's foremost pianist.

Mr. Meeker to Build the Road.

Included in the "model city" to be an attraction at the St. Louis Exposition, will be a section of New Jersey's model macadam road. Robert A. Meeker, of this city, State supervisor of roads in this State, will leave tomorrow for St. Louis to superintend the construction of this piece of road which is to be exhibited in the interest of the Good Roads' Association, of America.

Good Friday's Union Service.

Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, who is chairman of the committee appointed to arrange for a Union Good Friday service, is now engaged on the details for that service. It has been decided to hold it in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. As in former years the various Plainfield pastors will speak and there will be special music.

—Neuman Brothers have just received a large supply of fresh-roasted Java and Mocha coffees, the finest in the market.

SURPRISED H. W. MARSHALL

FRIENDS GATHERED TO CELEBRATE HIS BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

St. Patrick and H. W. Marshall were honored Saturday night. The latter by a surprise party and the former by the color of the decorations at the affair.

Mr. Marshall's birthday was the event observed by the party. Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Emmons arranged it, with the assistance of Mrs. Marshall.

At 9 o'clock Mr. Marshall was summoned home hastily from his business, by a story that his horse was sick in the barn. He arrived in a surprisingly short time with a veterinary surgeon. He sent the veterinary away when a score of friends crowded about him with congratulations, and acknowledged that it was a real surprise.

The house was prettily decorated, wholly in green to mark the season of Ireland's patron saint. Green favors were presented.

Whist was played by the guests, and handsome prizes were given to the winners. John P. Emmons and Mrs. John Whitenack won first prizes and Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Emmons won second prizes. Each of the women guests received a souvenir in the shape of a box of candy and the men received photographs of Mr. Marshall.

Mr. Marshall received a big birthday cake. It was covered with beautiful icing of innocent appearance, but the recipient is suspicious of its contents. It is to be cut and distributed later.

Among the guests present at the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Emmons, Mr and Mrs. J. P. Emmons, Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Tolles, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitenack, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Woolston, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Buckle, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Baker.

Hand Crushed.

Henry Ireland, of East Front street, has just returned to work in New York after three weeks' detention at home by injuries received at his place of business. Mr. Ireland works in a bookbinding establishment, and his hand was caught in one of the machines and severely hurt.

ROMANCE OF THEIR MARRIAGE

H. C. SMITH ELOPED IN SEPTEMBER WITH MISS GRACE M. CODDINGTON.

After a romantic elopement terminating in happy marriage on September 22, 1903, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clifford Smith, of this city, have just made announcement of the event to their astonished parents, relatives and friends. Not until yesterday were the families of the couple made aware of the union, and as a consequence all concerned were kept busy yesterday extending and receiving congratulations and making explanations.

The bride was Miss Grace M. Coddington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Coddington, of Terrill road. The groom is well known and popular among the young men of city and borough. He was the star halfback on the Orange Field Club football eleven last fall and managed the team. He also played on the Orange F. C. baseball nine. He is in business in New York city.

The ceremony was performed in Westfield, September 22, the youthful lovers eluding the watchful eyes of parents long enough to drive to the residence of Rev. C. J. Greenwood, who, with Mrs. Greenwood as witness, made them man and wife.

BROOKLYN BOYS WINNERS

LOCAL Y. M. C. A. IS EASILY DEFEATED AT BASKET BALL.

Undefeated in basket ball this season, the Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A. maintained its record Saturday night against the Plainfield association five, winning by a score of 54 to 14. The game was played on Broolyn's floor. The home team played fast ball during the opening parts of each half, running their opponents off their feet. Plainfield bunched their play, and Brooklyn kept two or three men away from the scrimmages, their tactics giving them many shots for baskets without interference, Smith did most of Plainfield's scoring. Brooklyn made many fouls. The first game between the teams was played in this city February 29 and was won by Brooklyn, 37 to 20. The line-up:

Brooklyn Central—A. Behrens and Bogg, forwards; B. Behrens, centre; Bogle and Salman, guards. Plainfield—Smith and Whitford, forwards; Cahoone, centre; Neal and Scull, guards. For Plainfield, Smith scored three goals from the floor and Whitford one. Cahoone scored six goals from fouls. Hepborn was referee; Denton and Heinecke, referee and umpire.

MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS

FINISHING TOUCHES BEING PUT ON BOROUGH HALL AND FIRE HOUSE.

Finishing touches are rapidly being put on the new Borough Hall and fire house. All the main contracts have been completed, and only the pointing and touching work is to be done.

Furniture from the old Council rooms is already being moved to the new chambers. It is practically certain that the place will be ready for occupancy by the firemen on April 1.

In its fire department features, the building is one of the most up-to-date in the State. It has several that even the department headquarters on this side does not possess. One of the striking arrangements is a device that will automatically light the house and release the horses at the first tap of the bell at night.

Lieutenant Campbell and his assistants are working hard to get the new department into shape for good service. Every bit of apparatus has been carefully inspected and polished, and oiled, and the Lieutenant is training the new team to respond to the taps. Both horses have responded readily to the training, and promise to become one of the best fire teams in the State.

Evangelistic Services.

The special evangelistic services at the East Third Street chapel began last evening. The auditorium was well filled with a congregation that thoroughly appreciated the stirring appeal of Mr. Leggett and the music, instrumental and vocal of the Misses Burnet. This evening Mr. Leggett will speak on "Christian Heroism, Past and Present." Elmer D. Cutting will sing.

Physician's New House.

Dr. VanHorn has plans for the erection of a residence on the South side of Central avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, which he will occupy when completed. He will remain at his present place of residence until the new home is finished

EXAMINATION IN CERTIORARI CASE

Special Series of Questions Propounded to Recorder Doud by Goodwin's Counsel.

MAGISTRATE ANSWERS

REPLIES FILED WITH THE SUPREME COURT JUSTICE.

Sixteen Queries in All Are Put—Five Regarded as of Great Importance by Counsellor S. S. Swackhamer.

In accordance with a rule issued by the Supreme Court, Recorder Doud has just filed answers to a series of questions put him by Assemblyman Swackhamer in the certiorari proceedings in the Goodwin case. The questions were put, according to Mr. Swackhamer, for the purpose of bringing out the alleged fact that Mr. Goodwin, at the time of his arrest, was standing on the property of the First Church of Christ and that he merely acted to prevent a trespass on that property.

Sixteen questions in all are asked in the special examination. Five of these are regarded by Counsellor Swackhamer as of prime importance in establishing his contentions. These five, with the Recorder's answers, are as follows:

Q. Was it not testified to by Andrew Love, Sr., a witness produced by the Prosecutor (Goodwin), that the Prosecutor at the time of his arrest was attempting to prevent the street commissioner from placing logs or timbers on the church lawn or lot of the First Church of Christ, of which prosecutor was at that time a trustee?

A. No, except as certified by me in return to the rule to certify entered in said cause February 16, 1904.

Q. That the street commissioner did, on the seventh day of November, cart upon and place on said church grounds, certain logs or timbers referred to herein as obstructions removed from said Grove street?

A. No. There was no evidence to that effect.

Q. Whether it was not proved that the prosecutor at the time of his arrest attempted only to prevent the said commissioner from removing obstructions from said Grove street to and upon said church property?

A. No. Nothing of that character was proved.

Q. Whether or not at said trial there was an entire absence of evidence on the question whether the street commissioner had given notice to the person or persons who had placed said obstructions in said Grove street, to remove the same therefrom?

A. No; the evidence on that point was as certified in the return to the rule entered February 16, aforesaid.

Q. Whether there was any evidence at said hearing showing to what place the street commissioner was attempting to remove said logs or timbers at the time of the prosecutor's arrest, and if so, to what place?

A. No, there was no evidence showing to what place the street commissioner was attempting to remove the said logs or timbers at that time, except that he had hitched to a timber lying near the middle of the street, and started to pull it to one side. The team was connected to the timber by a chain, and was started toward the side of the street, and Goodwin seized them. Goodwin testified that he was standing on the church lot when he seized the team, and that the latter had crossed the sidewalk onto said lot, and that he believed the street commissioner intended hauling the timber onto said lot. From the testimony of the other witnesses, already certified in the return to the rule of February 16, it was shown that the street commissioner was attempting to remove the timber from the roadway of the street, and had just started the team to pull when Goodwin ran out and seized them. Goodwin and the team were wholly on the roadway of the street at the time, and there was no proof as to the place to which the street commissioner was intending to remove or place the timber, except that he was attempting to haul it toward the gutter.

The proceedings will be continued at the next term of the Supreme Court, unless it is argued on briefs, which is unlikely. It is probable that Counsellor Swackhamer will move that all the certificated evidence, of which the above is part, and which both sides have called into the case, be struck from the records.

CALL FOR CONVENTION.

Democratic State Committee to Meet Thursday to Fix Date.

Secretary William K. Devereux, of the Democratic State committee has issued a call for a meeting of the committee to be held Thursday at the Jeffersonian Club in Newark.

The meeting is called for the purpose of fixing a date for the State Democratic convention at which delegates to the National conveniton at St. Louis will be elected. The convention will probably be held next month.

Four delegates at large will be elected and those who should know say that they will be Former United States Senator James Smith, E. F. C. Young, president of the First National Bank, of Jersey City; William B. Gourley, chairman of the State committee, and Former Senator Johnston Cornish, of Washington, N. J.

It has always been the custom to send uninstructed delegates to the National convention and in all likelihood the delegates this year will not be instructed. It is believed, however, that they will favor Grover Cleveland as the Democratic nominee. Gourley and Smith are both admirers of Cleveland and their likes and dislikes are of prime importance.

There is reason to believe that the Public Service Corporation will, in the near future, decide to run the main line cars through Dunellen, thereby giving the people of that borough the benefits of a fifteen minutes' schedule.

$25,000 for Jersey at Fair.

Senator McKee introduced a bill appropriating $25,000 to be expended by the Governor for the expenses of having the State properly represented at the St. Louis Exposition with such escort as he may select. The Senate has passed the bill.

—F. O. Herring, of Park avenue, lost a pair of eye-glasses. He advertised his loss in The Daily Press. A sister of Dr. N. W. Currie found the glasses, saw the advertisement and returned them to the owner.

SWIMMING CONTESTS.

C. M. Daniels Clips the Record For 500 Yards.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Two records were smashed at the swimming championships of the Metropolitan association, held in the big New York Athletic club tank, C. M. Daniels, the lithe Mercury foot racer, clipping several seconds off the "four-forty" and easily eclipsing the previous figures for 500 yards. Daniels put clear water between himself and his nearest competitor in two lengths of the tank and was obliged to make his records absolutely without pace.

In addition to these brilliant performances he won the "two-twenty" with yards to spare, simply loafing home in the lead. There was only a fair crowd around the tank when the star performer began his record breaking trip, but when the time at the halfway mark was announced there was a rush for the galleries, and when the swimmer finished every foot of space was occupied by members and their friends.

Relay races, one of which furnished a stirring finish between Yale and Pennsylvania; short "dashes," the liveliest sort of a water polo game, in which Yale handily disposed of Columbia, and the regulation plunge for distance rounded out an unusually interesting programme.

E. H. Adams won the opening event, the plunge for distance, covering 62 feet 6 inches on his third trial and after the contest had looked safe for George W. Van Cleaf, who made the creditable distance of 61 feet on his first attempt.

Yale Won at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, March 21. — Yale won the two mile relay race at the Seventy-fourth regiment indoor meet, defeating teams from Cornell, Pennsylvania and the Seventy-fourth Regiment Athletic association. The last three finished in the order named. The time for the distance, 7 minutes 59 seconds, establishes a new mark. The previous indoor record was 8 minutes 9 4-5 seconds, made by Yale at Madison Square Garden.

New York Women Fencers Won.

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—Philadelphia, New York and Annapolis women met here to fence for the honor of their respective cities and incidentally for a silver cup offered by the Philadelphians. The competition was to decide the championship of the three cities. Mrs. Ethridge, Miss Margaret Stinson and Miss Delafield, the New York team, won 9½ points and the cup in twenty-one bouts, Annapolis got 7 and Philadelphia 4½.

Kimball Won Handicap.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., March 21.—Golfers were out in full force at the Country club links. The course is in excellent condition for this season of the year. F. P. Kimball won the handicap with 91, and a liberal handicap of 10 gave him the best net score. Mr. Kimball has been playing steadily here all winter.

Canada Will Increase Her Army.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 21.—Even Canada is providing for war. A bill which is to be put before parliament for the purpose of providing for an army of 200,000 men has been drafted and no doubt will go through without a hitch. The idea is to take such steps, by means of central depots and training schools, as to have always 46,000 volunteers on hand. This number can be easily increased in time of war by calling out country reserves to the number of 100,000. In addition to this there is to be a nucleus for a second line of defense of another 100,000.

SUBMARINE WRECK

Destroyer A1, Sent to Bottom, Found by Divers.

"HOLE IN HER SIDE, FULL OF WATER"

Attempt Made to Signal the Crew by Knocking on the Vessel's Steel Shell, but There Was No Response—All Thought Dead.

LONDON, March 21.—The wrecked submarine destroyer A1, struck while under water by the liner Berwick Castle and destroyed, with the loss of all hands, has been discovered, but not raised from the bottom of the sea. She is lying in fifteen fathoms of water off the Nab lightship, Portsmouth.

A telegram just received from Portsmouth says:

"The grim forebodings are fulfilled, and it is established beyond all doubt that the eleven men in the submarine are dead. The wrecked submarine has a hole in her side and is full of water. Divers say they found her lying on the port side, right in the fair way where vessels pass.

"The vessel cannot be raised as yet, and salvage operations are perforce postponed."

The divers were not able to get inside the boat, but in order to make sure whether by a miracle any living person was cooped up inside it they worked all around its hull, tapping the steel shell in various places. To these calls, however, there came no answering signal.

The cap of the submarine's conning tower will have to be wrenched off, as it was securely screwed down by the crew before the vessel dived. The work of removing the bodies from the wreck is expected to be an unusually difficult and unpleasant one, but it will be the first thing done after the boat has been got to a place of safety.

The king has telegraphed to Sir John Fisher a message expressing his deep sympathy, and similar messages have been received from the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught.

No hope was felt that any of the unfortunate officers and crew could have lived, but it is pointed out that men can live for three days in a submarine, provided the boat remains intact and that she is not overturned so that her gasoline tank overflows.

From what can be gathered at official sources the lost boat was struck by the liner when it passed her as she lay below the surface waiting for a battleship.

It is surmised that the liner struck the submarine's conning tower and heeled the boat over.

The disaster has thrown all the men engaged on submarines into a state of consternation and has seriously discounted the value of submarine ships.

FIGHTING THE MOROS.

General Wood Inflicts a Defeat on the Mindanao Natives.

MANILA, March 21.—News of an important military engagement has just been received from Cottabato, capital of the province of Mindanao.

Detachments of the Seventeenth and Twenty-third infantry, Troop B of the Fourteenth cavalry and Gately's battery, in all 450 strong, under command of General Leonard Wood, have attacked and captured the cotta (fort) which was held by the Datto Ali, who resists the antislavery law. Two thousand Moros have made their retreat with a loss of 100. The Americans sustained no losses.

Twenty-four cannon, forty-six lantacas (native artillery) and a large quantity of ammunition were captured and the fortifications reduced.

Major Truitt and Captain MacCoy pursued and captured the Datto Iybangun and his retainers. Troops are now trailing Ali.

Disastrous Prairie Fires.

HEMINGFORD, Neb., March 21.—Disastrous prairie fires have swept the range country. The ground being dry, the fire burned the roots of the grass in the ground, destroying it for grazing for three years. One strip burned is six by twelve miles, another is more than twenty miles long and very wide, while another strip, still burning, north of the Niobrara river, seems to have been more extensive. Ranch sheds, barns, groves on timber claims and property along the railroad have been destroyed. Several narrow escapes from death are reported from the ranches.

Redmond's Home Rule Scheme.

MANCHESTER, England, March 21.—John Redmond, the leader of the Irish party, addressing an Irish demonstration here, said that the first business of the party was to strike down the present government and then to see that no government was put into office which would not grant home rule to Ireland. He said it was ridiculous for Liberals like Herbert H. Asquith to call home rule an "academic question."

Congressman Thompson Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Representative Charles W. Thompson of the Fifth Alabama district is dead here of pneumonia. He had been sick just one week. Accompanied by his one son, Charles W. Thompson; the Rev. F. J. Prettyman, his pastor, and the congressional committee, the remains will leave here today for Tuskegee, where the interment will take place on Wednesday.

Sully's Assignee.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Daniel J. Sully & Co., the cotton firm whose suspension has been announced, have placed their affairs in the hands of Joseph H. Hoadley of the International Power company and General Carriage company, as the assignee.

REPORT A VICTORY

Russians Said to Have Won a Battle on the Yalu.

EIGHTEEN HUNDRED JAPS CAPTURED

Chefu Hears of Defeat of Mikado's Troops—Railway Between Harbin and Vladivostok Destroyed by the Japanese.

LONDON, March 21.—A dispatch from Chefu says a private message received there states that a battle has taken place on the Yalu, in which the Russians declare they captured 1,800 prisoners.

Advices from St. Petersburg say Russian troops continue to pour into north Korea. They are in excellent condition.

It is said here that typhus fever is raging among the Japanese forces.

Staff orders issued at Harbin, which have just arrived here by mail, show that Chinese troops have moved much farther north than was supposed, General Tin Cheng having concentrated 8,000 men at Bodune, which is only 100 miles west of Harbin, General Ma having 10,000 at Kaupantze, while another 5,000 are at Tsimintun and 10,000 at Ichau, all points bordering upon the zone of Russian military operations.

Vice Admiral Makaroff has reported the miraculous escape of four sailors from the torpedo boat destroyer Stereguschtchi, which foundered during the naval battle off Port Arthur March 9. The men escaped by swimming when the boat sank and succeeded in keeping afloat until they were picked up.

The metropolitan archbishop of St. Petersburg has sent an icon to the torpedo boat Roshitelny, which, in the conflict of March 9, managed to elude the Japanese fire. This icon, it is believed, will safeguard the boat from further harm.

Vladivostok is strong by nature, and it has been rendered impregnable by the fortifications which command the entrance and channel to the harbor. The garrison in January amounted to about 15,000 to 20,000 men of all arms, mostly artillery. After the news of the disaster to Russian arms at Port Arthur Jewish merchants were ordered to get out as quietly as they could. The Russian warships in the harbor always seemed to have steam up, ready for sea. But they have never left the harbor.

The whole sea front of Vladivostok is a network of submarine mines. The Russians appeared to be greatly worried when it was learned that the railway between Vladivostok and Harbin had been torn up and dynamited.

Apparently no attempt was being made to repair the damage. The whole ocean around the islands for hundreds of miles seems to be patrolled by Japanese torpedo boats, which on sight of a strange vessel bear down on her at thirty knots an hour.

One hundred war correspondents were preparing to leave Yokohama for the front.

Advices from Tokyo say the emperor, attended by the crown prince, personally opened the special session of the diet there.

In his speech from the throne he said: "We hereby open the imperial diet and address each and all the members of the house of peers and the house of representatives. We announce with high satisfaction that our relations with the treaty powers are steadily growing in cordiality and understanding. Prompted by an earnest desire to maintain a permanent peace in the extreme east, our government by our command entered into negotiations with Russia, but we regret that, owing to an absence of sincerity on the part of Russia in her peaceful professions, we have been compelled to appeal to arms, and, having taken that step, we cannot hesitate until the object of the war is attained.

"Our forces in the presence of unwonted hardships and privations are now displaying their steadfast loyalty and valor, and we hope that all our subjects will co-operate in perfect unity for the enhancement of the glory of the empire.

"We trust that you will, in compliance with our will, fulfill the duty incumbent upon you and give cordial consent to these budgets and bills which are specially urgent in connection with the situation and which we have ordered the ministers of state to lay before you."

A Vladivostok dispatch says: "The Russian military plans are proceeding satisfactorily here along the main coast and at Sakhalin island. Many inhabitants continue to migrate to Khabarovsk and Nikolsk, and some women and children are returning to Russia.

"The first detachment of the Red Cross from Russia has arrived and has been distributed among the field hospitals. More than a hundred nurses have been sent from here to Manchuria and Korea."

From Liauyang comes news that General Linevitch is securing a friendlier attitude on the part of the Chinese by his stringent observance of property rights. He has ordered the Russian troops to treat the natives with consideration and to pay cash for everything. Purchases of provisions, cattle and forage are now made without difficulty.

The bulk of the Chinese troops have moved to the west of the Liao river, and the population is reassured.

A report from Newchwang says the foreign consuls have officially notified their governments that the Russian commander of the garrison has forbidden foreigners to go beyond the mud walls of the native city, with the single exception that they are allowed to use the river bank between the foreign settlements and the foreign gunboats. This exception is made solely on account of the presence of the United States gunboat Helena and the British cruiser Espiegle, which otherwise would be entirely cut off from communication with their respective settlements.

The Russian order particularly forbids visiting the forts on the Liao river and also Wutaitzu, a village two miles south of the fort. The above order is declared to be a necessary military measure on account of the arrangements being made for the defense of the coast.

Foreigners still have access to the west and north shores of the Liao and use the railway and telegraph, although the Chinese managers of the telegraph line have instructed their employees to withdraw to Thienchuangtai in the event of hostilities. This action and also the threatened withdrawal of the railway staff is severely condemned on account of their being outside of real danger.

The German consul at Tientsin in an official statement says the purpose of his visit here is to investigate the causes of alarm and the danger to German residents.

The Russian authorities have given notice that no consular communications on affairs originating in or connected with Dalny or Port Arthur will be received.

Responsible Russians here have a well defined impression that American or other consuls will not be allowed at Mukden, Antung or elsewhere in Manchuria.

Vladivostok Merchants' Story.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 21.—The Boston steamship company's steamer Shawmut has arrived from Manila, via China and Japan. Among her passengers were August Libby and Cornelius Hoff, Jewish merchants of Vladivostok, who received twenty-four hours' notice from the Russian military authorities to leave the country. As egress by sea was blocked and the railway between Vladivostok and Harbin destroyed for a considerable length, they were compelled to travel by sledge more than 1,000 miles to the nearest port on the Korean coast. They were arrested at the Siberian-Korean frontier. No sooner had they got into Korea than they encountered the special service officers of the Japanese war department. They endured many hardships until they joined the Shawmut of Yokohama.

CARNEGIE FOR SKIBO.

Would Not Discuss Politics or His Latest Gift of $5,000,000.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Departing from his usual attitude of affable communicability, Mr. Andrew Carnegie would not discuss either public issues or his latest reported private benefaction of $5,000,000 to the Pittsburg Technical institute as he stood on the promenade deck of the American liner St. Paul just ready to sail for England.

All he would say was that the two besetting sins of the American people seemed to be drinking and gambling. He made a pun about the cotton market break, saying it was hard for nervous, ambitious Americans to keep "unsullied" and laughed heartily when he uttered the word.

"I am just going away for my usual vacation," said Mr. Carnegie. "After spending a few weeks in London and on the continent we shall all go to Skibo for the summer. Probably I shall not return until late next fall, in time to vote of course."

"For whom, do you think?" asked one questioner.

"Oh, I'm not going to talk politics or anything else this morning. I said I had nothing to say, and I've said it, haven't I?" he retorted, with a twinkle in his eyes.

His little daughter was scampering around the deck, and she proved an easier target for the interviewers. She corrected one who asked her if she was glad to go to Skibo, saying: "It's Skee-bo, not Sky-bo. Don't you know that? Of course I'm glad to go. Oh, yes, I've got a lot of dollies in the trunk with me. I didn't leave all of them here."

"Have you seen your $5,000 lion at the zoo lately?"

"Yes. Isn't he a beauty?"

"What would you do if your father gave you a million dollars?"

"Oh, I do not know. I don't know anything about money, except that my papa is the wealthiest man in the world."

"Wealthier than Mr. Rockefeller"

"Mister who? I don't know him. But there, I must go to Nana." And the flaxen hair stood out almost straight behind the well set head as the heiress to the Carnegie millions danced down the companionway and across the deck to the group where her parents stood.

Loving Cup For President Eliot.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 21.—Surrounded by members of his family and of the college faculty, who brought many tokens of their love and esteem, Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard university since 1869, celebrated his seventieth anniversary in a happy mood here. President Eliot was invited to University hall, where he met the faculty and was presented with a loving cup.

John Mahnken Charged With Fraud In Claiming Iroquois Victim.

CHICAGO, March 21.—John Mahnken, charged with claiming the body of Mrs. Frank R. Greenwald, an Iroquois fire victim, and burying it as that of his aunt, has been arrested and locked up at the Central station. It is alleged that he assumed the name of John Kounthes and was preparing to sue the theater company.

The day after the Iroquois fire Mahnken went to a morgue to claim the body of Mrs. Mueller of Milwaukee, which was numbered 34. On the woman was found $500, which, it is asserted, Mahnken endeavored to secure.

Before the man's return from the coroner's office Mrs. Mueller's relatives found her body, and it was removed. Mahnken then, it is charged, took possession of Mrs. Greenwald's body and had it buried in Elmwood cemetery. Mahnken gave his residence as 907 Amsterdam street, New York.

PEACE DECLARED.

Senator Platt and Governor Odell Reach an Agreement.

NEW YORK, March 21.—At a conference held here between Senator Thomas C. Platt, Governor Odell, Colonel Dunn, chairman of the Republican state committee, and many other prominent Republicans, after a full exchange of views and statements by Senator Platt and Governor Odell, it was unanimously agreed that Senator Platt should remain, as he has been in the past, the active leader of the party.

It was further agreed that Governor Odell should be selected as chairman of the state committee to be chosen at the approaching convention in April.

It was also agreed that where there were local contests for leaderships in the party there should be no interference in favor of or against any one either by Senator Platt or Governor Odell.

RULERS AS LIFE SAVERS.

German Kaiser and Spanish King Said to Have Rescued a Boy.

BERLIN, March 21.—Emperor William and King Alfonso figure as life savers in a story told in Das Kleine Journal. According to this paper, the two monarchs were cruising about the harbor of Vigo on the gunboat Vasco Nunez de Balboa, when, owing to the awkward maneuvering of a fishing steamer named the Meliton, the two vessels came into collision.

A twelve-year-old boy fell between the two vessels and would inevitably have been crushed but for the intervention of the monarchs, who personally dragged him to the gunboat. The Meliton was seriously damaged, and it is considered almost a miracle that her boiler did not explode, which in view of the position of the two craft would have been extremely dangerous to the gunboat.

Electrician Attempts Suicide.

LENOX, Mass., March 21.—Thomas P. Barney of Providence, R. I., an electrician en route for Rochester, N. Y., attempted suicide in the rear of the Catholic church here. The man, who is about thirty years old, arrived in Pittsfield Saturday from Springfield, where he spent the night and came on to Lenox. He appeared in St. Anne's churchyard during the celebration of mass and first attracted attention by kneeling on a pile of snow which was heaped up in the churchyard. Later he went into the church and spoke with the sexton. The man implored the priest to save him from his persecutors. A little later Mr. Grace was summoned from the rectory by the sexton of the church, who informed the priest that the man had attempted suicide.

Peachblow Vase Brought $710.

NEW YORK, March 21.—At the American Art galleries Mr. Thomas E. Kirby has concluded the sale of a collection of old Chinese art objects selected from the collection of the late A. D. Startseff, a well known art connoisseur of Tientsin, China. Collectors and art lovers filled the galleries. A tall mottled peachblow, bearing the six marks of the Kang-he era, with a metal cap and carved teakwood stand, was sold to an unknown buyer for $710, the highest price of the sale. This sale recalls the excitement caused in past years by high prices obtained for peachblows, notably the famous $18,000 vase of the Mary J. Morgan collection.

Victor Emmanuel and Kaiser.

ROME, March 21.—King Victor Emmanuel has ordered the royal yacht to be sent to Naples on March 26 for his meeting with Emperor William of Germany, who will remain there four days. It is semiofficially announced that the meeting of the monarchs will have no political significance, although the sovereigns wish to have a verbal exchange of views concerning pending international questions.

Filipinos For St. Louis.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Three hundred natives of the Philippine Islands, bound for the St. Louis exposition under charge of Dr. Hunt, formerly governor of the province of Northern Luzon, and Dr. Healy, have arrived here on the steamer Shawmut. Three of the party were dying when they reached here owing to the confinement aboard.

Captor of John Wilkes Booth Dead.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 21.—William Collins of Albion, a veteran of the civil war, is dead at Willard asylum at Ovid. It is claimed that Mr. Collins was one of the captors of John Wilkes Booth and received part of a reward offered by the government.

UNLUCKY NEW YORK

American Liner Aground and Then In Collision.

RAMMED AN ENGLISH TROOPSHIP

Transport Held 500 British Soldiers Bound For Bombay, India—Gap Torn In Her Side and Bulkhead Filled With Water.

SOUTHAMPTON, March 21. — The American line steamship New York, Captain Young, from New York for Plymouth, Cherbourg and Southampton, met with two mishaps, grounding off Cape la Hague, France, in the early morning and later coming into collision in the English channel with the Peninsular and Oriental steamship Assaye, under contract to the British government and used as a troop ship, bound for Bombay with 500 troops on board.

The New York grounded while approaching Cherbourg early in the morning during a fog. The sea was smooth, and the tide was rising, and an hour and a half after she grounded the vessel was floated without assistance. Her bottom was damaged, and there was water in the holds, but she was able to proceed.

During the voyage up the channel a dense fog descended. When off Hurst castle, England, the Assaye suddenly appeared, and it was found impossible to avoid a collision. The New York's bow crashed into the Assaye's starboard bow, tearing a great gap in that vessel. The New York's bowsprit and figurehead were carried away, and the latter was smashed into fragments.

There was great excitement, but no panic on either vessel. The boats of the Assaye were lowered, and the troops were mustered, but the bulkhead of the troop ship saved her. Both vessels were able to enter Southampton, and the New York was docked for temporary repairs. It will be impossible to estimate the damage to the New York until she has been put into drydock.

It is believed that both vessels have been somewhat seriously injured. Another troop ship will replace the Assaye.

TWENTY-TWO PERISHED.

German Bark Mona Sank the Lady Cairns Off Dublin Bay.

DUBLIN, Ireland, March 21.—The German bark Mona collided with and sank the English bark Lady Cairns off Dublin bay. The Lady Cairns sank a few minutes after she was struck, and her crew of twenty-two were drowned. The Mona, which was much damaged, was assisted into Dublin harbor.

The Lady Cairns was a three masted iron ship, was commanded by Captain T. Evans and was bound from Liverpool for Timaru, New Zealand. The Lady Cairns was built at Belfast in 1869 and was owned by L. Tulloch of Swansea.

The Mona was commanded by Captain Schwarting and was last reported at Ardrossan.

New Pensions Costly.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—According to calculations made by Commissioner of Pensions Ware now on file in the senate committee on pensions the service pension order just issued will add to the list entitled to pensions at least 321,000 soldiers. These are all more than sixty-two years old, and by the lowest scale provided for in the order, $6 a month, this would amount to $23,112,000 to be added to the annual list of pension appropriations. This, according to the estimates, is the lowest figure, for the order provides that after the veterans become sixty-five years old they shall receive $8 a month, after sixty-eight $10 and after seventy $12.

An Actor's Suicide.

DETROIT, March 21.—Robert Leeland, an actor and writer of several melodramas, has been found dead in his room in a lodging house here. He had committed suicide by stuffing up every crack and crevice in the room and then turning on the gas. Leeland, who was thirty years of age, is said by one of his friends to be the son of a wealthy banker in Salt Lake City, Utah, named Smedley. He left a note on the table in the room saying: "My only request is that I be buried here at the expense of the city. I have no money. Don't notify my parents; it is unnecessary."

Germans Suffer Defeat.

BERLIN, March 21.—Colonel Leutwein, governor of German Southwest Africa, reports severe fighting there. The Germans were forced to retreat with the loss of seven officers and nineteen men killed and three officers and two privates wounded. Commandant Glasenapp, with a staff of officers and thirty-six cavalrymen, advanced ahead of his main body and overtook the enemy's vanguard, which unexpectedly had received re-enforcements. Glasenapp was forced to retire.

Crew Were Saved by Jumping.

ELMIRA, N. Y., March 21.—Two fast freights on the Lackawanna railroad collided near Bath. Four cars of flour were derailed, and the train caught fire from a fire in the caboose. The Bath fire department worked three hours extinguishing the fire. The crews of both trains saved themselves by jumping.

Beresford Entertains Wilhelm.

GIBRALTAR, March 21.—Vice Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, commanding the channel squadron, entertained Emperor William at dinner on board his flagship here, the squadron meanwhile displaying brilliant illuminations and searchlights.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 21, 1904.

Robert A. Meeker has been chosen to supervise the construction of the roads in the model city, which is to be an attraction at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. Plainfielders visiting the Exposition should be forgiven if they boast that a man from the Queen City of New Jersey supervised the construction of those roads.

The Hope Chapel Young Men's Association minstrel show last week was the best yet given by that organization and is generally admitted to be the greatest production of its kind ever given in this city. There have been many professional shows of the type which are nowhere near as good as the Hope Y. M. A. attraction.

From time to time we are asked: "Do 'want ads' bring results to the advertiser?" On Saturday 114 "want ads" were published in The Daily Press. The class is a restricted one and yet in this small city on Saturday 114 persons inserted such notices. This is not an unusual number, but it shows that the public values The Daily Press "want ads."

The departure of Rev. John McMurray, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will be regretted not only by his congregation, whom he has served faithfully during his stay here, but by the general public. The civic pride displayed by the minister in his unrelenting warfare against the liquor traffic has made him an especially valuable man in the municipality and his work has been appreciated.

WM. EARL DEAD.

Former Proprietor of a Scotch Plains Hostelry Dies in Sanitarium.

William Earl, who for about a year past was proprietor of what was known as Earl's Hotel, Scotch Plains, died yesterday in a sanitarium near Paterson. Mr. Earl was in poor health when he went to Scotch Plains and it was with the idea that a change would be beneficial that he left Rahway and went to the 'Plains. He afterwards grew worse and it became necessary for him to go where he could get special treatment. This did not help him, however, and eventually his death was only a question of a short time. He is survived by a widow.

Mr. Earl's home was in Newark. From that city he went to Rahway, conducting the hotel opposite the Pennsylvania Railroad station in that place. He was there a few months when he moved to Scotch Plains. He was a genial personage and was one of the few persons who successfully conducted the old hotel at that place. He was 35 years old. It is expected that his remains will be received at the 'Plains today, when arrangements will be made for the funeral.

Funeral services for Mr. Earl will take place from the late residence in Scotch Plains tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. The interment will be in Fairmount cemetery, Newark.

Abel Laing Dead.

Abel Laing, one of the oldest residents of Oak Tree, died at his home there last night, aged seventy-six years. He has been ill about a month. Mr. Laing was a farmer and for many years resided at South Plainfield. He was a brother of the late Drake Laing and the father of T. C. Laing, of South Plainfield. The funeral services will be held from the late home at Oak Tree Park, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The interment will be at Metuchen.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The Promotors of the Sacred Heart League, of St. Mary's church, met in regular monthly session yesterday afternoon.

Bertram F. Tallamy, of West Sixth street, sang a bass solo very acceptably during the offertory in Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning.

Mrs. J. G. Gillespie will repeat her talk on the Orient here. Boys and girls dressed in appropriate costumes will illustrate the people of India, China and Japan.

Eight new members were added to the roll of the Monroe Avenue church at the communion service yesterday morning. Three were admitted by certificates of faith and the balance by professions of faith.

"The Crucifixion," a musical cantata, will be rendered at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday night, March 30, under the auspices of the choir. The regular quartette will be augmented by a large number of voices from the First Baptist church.

Yesterday was the banner day of Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school, the number of pupils and teachers attending being 435. The steady and healthy growth of this school is a source of much pride not only to the officers and teachers, but to every member.

LEAL'S JOINS.

Plainfield's Private School a Member of Interscholastic Athletic League.

An interscholastic athletic league has been formed to be composed of these five preparatory schools: Newark Academy, Montclair Military Academy, Carteret Academy, of Orange; Leal School, of this city, and Pingry School, of Elizabeth. This organization will foster athletic sports and the major portion of the interest will be with the schools represented in the league. A conference between the heads of the schools represented will be held to determine any matter of athletics that may come before them.

It is proposed to arouse interest in more general athleticism, besides the usual football, track and baseball events. There will be a much shorter schedule and midweek games. It is expected that a schedule of events will be arranged shortly.

A DRUNK STABBED.

Italians Resent Being Jostled—Excitement for West Front Street.

In jostling a group of Italians on West Front street, near Madison avenue, Saturday afternoon, a drunken man, whose name could not be learned, called down on himself a lot of trouble that included a stab wound in the shoulder.

When he bumped into one of the excitable foreigners, the latter struck a blow that stretched the drunk upon the sidewalk. The drunk struggled to his feet and attempted to strike back at his assailant. Another of the Italians drew a knife and stabbed him in the shoulder.

All the Italians and the injured man took to their heels and fled across the line into the borough. No further trouble was reported. The stab did not appear to be serious.

Chief Kiely heard of the trouble and sent two of his men to the scene, but the excitement was all over when the officers arrived. The name of the man alleged to be the drunk involved was turned in at police headquarters. The man made no complaint.

Necklace Recovered.

A necklace belonging to Mrs. M. C. VanArsdale and stolen from her house several weeks ago, was recovered by the local police Saturday. It was found in the possession of Mrs. Carrie Slover, who is serving a fifty days' sentence in the county jail for keeping a disorderly house. Jack Weler, the supposed wholesale burglar, is said to have given it to Mrs. Slover, the fact that he had been intimate with her during his stay in this city leading to the investigation which brought the necklace to light.

Undertaker Dead.

John Runyon, aged eighty-four years, for over fifty years a resident of Dunellen, died at his home in that place on Friday. For many years he was in the undertaking business and afterward sold the business to Walter G. Runyon. A widow and two children, a son and daughter, survive him. The funeral services will be held this afternoon from the late home.

Approaching Nuptials.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The interest manifested by the children of the village in the Industrial School, recently organized, is very encouraging to the promoters. The attendance at the Thursday afternoon meetings held in Myers' Hall is increasing each week. At last Thursday's meeting ninety-five children were out, all eager to take advantage of the chance offered them to learn some useful occupation. During the two months that the school has been organized, the girls have become apt scholars with the needle and are interested in the work. The boys are fast learning the mysteries of basket making and the work done by them is creditable. The school is undoubtedly one of the best public works ever done in the village. Anyone who is interested in the work being done is invited to attend the weekly sessions.

The attendance at the weekly meet of the gun club held Saturday afternoon was small, only a few of the members being out to enjoy the work at the traps. As soon as the baseball season opens the trusty guns will be laid aside until fall and the members will begin the more nerve racking sport of rooting for the local baseball team.

The Suburban bowling team met defeat, Friday night, at the hands of the Bound Brook team. The visitors taking two out of the three games. The two teams will bowl a return match in the near future, and the Suburban's promise to redeem themselves.

FISH STORY WITH SEVERAL THRILLS

It Tells of an Eagle That Was Drowned, a Salmon That Was Boiled and a Liar Who Has No Equal.

REFILLING his pipe, the old trapper said to a New York Herald reporter: "You know, boy, I allus' carry thet old gun o' mine, whever I goes. As I wuz a sayin', I wuz out fishin' fer bass, when lookin' up into the sky—I allus keeps an eye out fer squalls—I sees a bald headed eagle swoopin' down right fer me. Seizin' Old Ben, I aimed straight fer the critter's heart! Bang! went the old gun! An' thet air eagle wuz hit! Down inter the water he flopped. I wuz jist about ter pull over ter git him, when one of the fish lines I had overboard commenced to run out. I tuk hold on it an' tried to pull in. But nary an inch could I budge it. 'It's a salmon,' says I. And makin' the line fast to an eye bolt forrad I settled down fer a good smoke.

"I know salmon! An' the only way is to let them pull an' tug till they gits tired; then you kin yank them in.

THINGS WERE GETTING WARM.

Suddenly the boat began to move; thet air salmon wuz a pullin' the boat; jest at that air moment, I heerd a noise behind me; I looked an' there wuz thet eagle a risin' outen the water; my hair stood on end, fer a wounded bald eagle is wuss than a grizzly.

"I grabs 'Old Ben' agin, but jist as I wuz about to take aim, the doggoned boat took a suddent plunge ahead, and flat I fell inter the bottom and overboard goes the old gun. I cud have cried, but there want any time, fer that eagle war a comin' fer me, lickety split.

"He war only usin' one wing; my shot hed bruk the other. Things wuz a gittin' highty warm; thet salmon wuz a pullin' me through the water like a locymotive.

"The sweat wuz a bubblin' on my forehead, fer thet eagle wuz only a few feet back! Closer and closer he came. I cud hear him breathin', cud hear the wind a whistlin' through his pin feathers. Boys, it war turrible! Somethin' must be dio. I did it. I tore off my mocassions, my pants, my coat, all my clothes, throwin' each of them aforesaid articles at that voracious 'bald head,' hopin' to gain a little time. But, boys, we wuz goin' so fast thet the wind tore 'em out of my hand afore ye cud say 'Jack Robison.'

"To the 'pelt' stood I, jist as nater made me. The wind chilled me to the marrow, and I soon begin to feel numby all over.

"By the Great Horn Tout! I war freezin' to death! What should I do! Jump overboard; No! That eagle would git me! Stay where I was! No, I'd freeze to death. Suddenly the eagle tuk a spurt and got its nose over the starn! I makes a quick lep an' grabs it by the neck, but my toes got caught under the starn seat and held me fast. Thar I wuz, stripped naked, with all my body over the back of the boat a-holdin' on to thet eagle.

"He wuz a-flyin', the boat wuz a-flyin', and I wuz half flyin', half floatin' and darned near hull fruz! I cudn't git one or tother. Soon I hear the roar of the falls. I felt my time had come, fer that salmon wuz makin' dead fer 'em! We would all drown tergither! Nearer an' nearer sounded the roar! I could see the eddies and rapids as we rushed through them! I expected every moment to be dashed agin a rock! When suddenly thet air boat began to jump upward! And the bird and I fell down'ards. I felt me ankles crack, but me trusty toes held on.

"The eagle's body was under the water thet came pourin' down on us, exceptin' his mouth, which was open, gaspin' fer breath! Higher and higher we went, till suddently we war in smooth water again, still a goin' at top speed.

"Boys, thet air salmon hed clim them air falls.

"My body stood out over the end of thet boat as stiff as a flagpole. Wuz I to die this way? Suddenly I begins to feel warmer! I thought sure I war freezin' fer good, 'cause you allus feel warmer when you're about to friz. It kept gittin' hotter and hotter! Sez I, 'I'm dead an' nearin' t'other place.' The heat limbered me up. I pulled myself back into the boat, still holdin' on to thet eagle. I expected him to make a fight, but nary fight—he war dead. Its mouth bein' open as we wuz towed up them falls it got drowned.

"Suddenly somethin' red hot landed on my back. The water was a hissin' an' a b'ilin all around me. I knew then I wuz dead and in torment. GHOST REVEALS CASH

Portion of New Jersey Miser's Hoard Discovered by Aid of a Supernatural Visitor.

When William Berlin, an eccentric old miser, residing at Little Silver, N. J., died a few years ago a search was made for the money he was known to possess, but not a penny could be found.

William Wainwright, however, could not give up the hope of finding the money and obtained permission from Joseph V. Holmes, owner of the house, to tear it down. Every stick of timber was carefully examined as it was razed. No money was found, but Wainwright felt sure it was somewhere about the place.

He says that a few nights ago he had a dream, in which the ghost of Berlin led him to the ruins of the old house and pointed out to him under the chimney a tin spectacle case.

When Wainwright awoke in the morning his dream was still vivid, and he dressed in a hurry, went to the spot and found the spectacle case in the place pointed out by the miser's ghost. He opened it and $187 in bills fell out. Wainwright is not yet satisfied and believes he will have more dreams.

WOMEN FIGHT A BEAR.

Vicious Animal Is Killed After Hand-to-Hand Encounter Lasting Several Minutes.

Three Christine (Cal.) women, Mrs. E. H. Irish, and Misses Willie Moore and Minnie Boyd, had a hard fight with a bear the other afternoon, and came out proudly victorious.

The bear, the largest of his kind probably ever killed in Mendocino county, had been making inroads on the flocks in the vicinity of Christine, and a trap had been set for him. The ladies in question were out for a stroll, Mrs. Irish being armed with a 32-caliber Winchester. They found the animal had been trapped. In his rage he had eaten through a side of the trap, and his head and shoulders were free of the cage. Fearing that he would escape, Mrs. Irish took aim and fired. The charge only infuriated the beast, however, and matters began to look serious for the ladies. There were no men near at hand, so it fell upon them to protect themselves. One of the ladies blocked the side of the trap that the bear had torn down. Two of them engaged the attention of Bruin at the strong side of the cage, while Mrs. Irish fired the fifth bullet. This lodged in the animal's heart. Mrs. Irish retains the skin as a memento.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

ST. LOUIS WORLD'S FAIR

Rest While Sight-seeing

FOR the first time in the history of a world's fair ample provision will be made at the Louisiana Purchase exposition for resting as well as for going around and gazing. The board of women managers has taken care that weary mothers themselves may not only repose, but also have their babies taken care of.

First of all, the babies, bless them! Within the exposition grounds is a model street, and on that model street a model nursery. Mothers may safely bring their children to the fair, certain that they will be taken care of for a moderate charge, while the mothers themselves go about seeing things and improving their minds.

The model nursery is a pretty building, long and low, with departments graded according to a child's age, from that of the babe a few months old to those for good sized boys and girls. For infants is a creche, or day nursery, fitted with everything needed for the scientific care of a baby. Indeed, one purpose in establishing the creche was to give mothers an object lesson in nursery hygiene and sanitation. Trained infant nurses will attend the creche, and while the mothers are away seeing the fair these nurses will feed the babes on sterilized milk and scientific infant foods. A laboratory kitchen will be attached, where the mothers may learn how to prepare the scientific baby food. For older children are playrooms, with plenty of toys and childhood's amusement machines. A novel idea is the fitting of these infant rooms with glass partitions so that visitors may look in on the children amusing themselves without disturbing them. Thus the American baby's nerves are considered. This model nursery will be one of the sights of the great show.

On the second floor of the nursery a model kindergarten will be in operation. If a mother wishes to take her baby around with her instead of leaving it at the creche, she may hire an infant perambulator for 25 cents an hour, and there you are! There are provided rest rooms for the mothers, too, and a roof garden for taking the air while reposing.

A permanent addition to the architectural comeliness of St. Louis will be the building occupied on the fair grounds by the board of lady managers. It is constructed in the Tudor-Gothic style. Here, too, women will find rest. In truth, the woman's building is called Rest House. Clubwomen are expected to make themselves at home here. There are rooms for writing. An emergency hospital with trained nurses will provide for woman sick as the rest of the house provides for her in health.

There are now in the country thousands of women belonging to the benevolent and other fraternities. At the Buffalo exposition one of these sisterly organizations made a creditable showing with its pretty lodge headquarters, where members from all parts of the Union met and exchanged greeting. At St. Louis the fraternity idea appears in enlarged and improved edition. There is to be the Temple of Fraternity, a neat and most comfortable structure, where members of the orders may find welcome and rest. A special board of fraternity women managers will preside over the temple and its affairs. The president of this board is Mrs. Ginevra Miller.

The model nursery and rest structure, the woman's building proper, where the board of lady managers presides, and the Temple of Fraternity constitute a trio of rest houses for feminine visitors. In all are lavatories with the newest and best conveniences, where woman may cleanse the travel dust from face and garments and brush her hair and repose till she feels fresh and good as new.

A unique feature of this fair is an inn within the grounds in which rooms may be hired by the day, and the occupants may retire to them at any time.

There will be forty-three state buildings, in which of course women will be as welcome as men. Some of the state buildings are almost as luxurious as a well appointed clubhouse, being even fitted with bathrooms. All will have inviting reception rooms and easy chairs.

The Christian Endeavorers will conduct a hotel of their own. Various other organizations, fraternal and benevolent, will likewise have homes of rest for members and their families. In the warm summer climate of St. Louis these various rest houses will be much welcome.

THE STORY OF A PIN.

IT SAVED INNOCENT PRISONER IN ITALY.

He Would Drop It and Then Hunt for the Little Thing for Hours, Thus Diverting His Mind from His Misfortune.

From a Boston gentleman comes the story of an unusual experience, which owes much of its charm to the fact that it is literally true. A few years ago this man met in Boston a lady, and he observed that while otherwise dressed beautifully, she always wore a brooch, peculiar, because, while it was encircled with handsome diamonds, the center was a common dressing pin covered with glass. On her most elegant toilets—and they were many—this pin was boldly in evidence among pearls, diamonds, emeralds or whatever jewels the caprice of the wearer suggested.

As the man and woman became friends he remarked that his attention had been attracted to her by this queer brooch, with its strange center, and asked if there was not some history connected with it.

She replied: "You are right, there is. This common little pin is very sacred to me, and for that reason I had these fine jewels put around it and always wear it.

"My husband and I were traveling in Italy, gay, light-hearted, without a care in the world, when, not very far from Rome, some gendarmes approached and without warning arrested him, saying: 'You are the man who committed this murder, and you are our prisoner.' Nothing but these few words!

"Imagine my anguish and despair when I saw him shackled and led away to be incarcerated in a dungeon in Egyptian darkness and perpetual silence.

"I summoned up all my courage and lost no time in seeking the American consul, as well as every other man from America whose voice could be heard in my behalf. After almost superhuman efforts they secured his release. When he returned to me, pale and haggard, almost the ghost of his former self, he told me this story:

"In moving his hands restlessly one day, or it might have been night for all he could tell in the darkness of his tomb-like cell, his fingers touched a pin on the lapel of his coat and it fell on the floor. He stooped to pick it up, and it seemed as if for awhile his thoughts were distracted from himself. Then it occurred to him that this simple pin was a godsend. It would prove a diversion and perhaps save him from madness. Again and again he would throw the little pin down and then go on his knees and grope about. It might be for more than an hour at a time he played thus in the Stygian blackness of the living tomb. The act of throwing it away followed often by prolonged search, the intense anxiety for fear he might not find it, took his mind completely off himself and his desperate situation. It was a lafter day and, of course, very unpoetical and unbeautiful version of 'La Picciola,' but it saved my dear husband's reason, and I would sooner part with my diamonds or any jewel I have than this little, unconscious messenger of mercy, a little, insignificant, common looking pin. Do you wonder at me?" Then, with an arch smile, she said: "There must be something interesting about the pin, for you have never asked me what ground these officers had for arresting my husband. In a nutshell, the real murderer's picture was enough like him to convince them that they had found the real criminal. C'est tout!"

Cured by a Glove Button.

Somewhere upon British soil there is a young doctor who has within the last few days learned a lesson which should be invaluable to him in his future practice. Having accompanied his betrothed to a theater, while the house was in semi-darkness she suddenly complained of feeling faint. The doctor took something out of his pocket and whispered to her to keep the "tabloid" in her mouth, but not to swallow it. She did as she was told, and soon felt all right again. The tablet, however, showed no signs of dissolving, and in the end, being curious to discover what the tasteless, indissoluble substance that had proved so efficacious could be, she slipped the undiminished substance into her glove for future inspection. When she got home she took it out of her glove again and examined it. It was a bone glove button.

THE POWER OF LOVE

TENDER PASSION STILL MOVES HEARTS OF OLD AND YOUNG.

Love for Mother Transferred to Her Young Daughter—Travels 3,000 Miles to Wed—Brave Death in Elopement.

Marie Burger was born in Germany, and lived there until she was 18 years old. Then her mother told her to come to the United States, go direct to St. Paul, Minn., and marry John Leitner. Marie was a dutiful girl, and did as she had been told. She had never seen John Leitner until he met her at the railway station at St. Paul. Two hours later they were married. And it was one of the prettiest romances the newspapers have chronicled for many a year.

Twenty-five years ago John Leitner was 20 years old, and he, too, lived in Germany. It was there that he fell in love with his bride's mother, and they were betrothed. Two months before the wedding day, however, they quarreled, and John Leitner came to the United States. The girl married another man, and thus became Mrs. Burger.

To Mr. and Mrs. Burger there came in due time a daughter, and it was this daughter, Marie Burger, who came to St. Paul and married John Leitner. She is already in love with her husband, although he is 45 years old, and she is only 20. The marriage was ararnged by her mother.

Marie traveled across the Atlantic alone and was met at the station by her husband to be.

"Like her mother, for all the world," said Leitner, as the couple wended their way through the crowded station.

"I would have known her in a thousand," Leitner declared to the deputy who made out his marriage license and listened to the story of the farmer's romance.

Mr. Leitner and Miss Burger were married in St. Paul, and will make their home in Barnes county, N. D.,

BRAVE DEATH WHILE ELOPING.

where Leitner owns much valuable land.

Love led Margaret Kavanaugh, a pretty Dublin girl, 3,000 miles across the Atlantic to wed the man whom she had known when he was almost a boy. She arrived in New York on the Etruria. Her baggage already had been placed on the pier—two steamer trunks and a Gladstone bag. Friends had decorated the baggage with white ribbons, and each trunk bore the sign, "To be married."

Naturally a big crowd waited around the white beribboned steamer trunks to catch a glimpse of the bride. She came soon, a pretty, blushing girl, on the arm of a stalwart, broad-shouldered man. The crowd gave three hearty cheers.

Several years ago M. S. Leahy, a prosperous young insurance broker of New York, met Margaret Kavanaugh in Dublin. Upon his return to New York he decided that she was the only girl in the world for him. He hadn't the courage to propose, but a friend in Dublin proposed for him and the girl accepted. She traveled across the Atlantic, and drove directly to the church from the pier.

Here is a thrilling episode in the romance of a young Kentucky couple whose names are unknown. They were running away to Georgetown, O., to be married. When they arrived at Marysville, Ky., on the opposite side of the Ohio, the girl's parents were in close pursuit.

The broad Ohio river was full of huge cakes of floating ice. But love can always find a way. The young man and his fair lady decided to cross the river at all hazards. They finally succeeded in employing two boatmen, who agred to row them across in a small skiff.

A great crowd assembled on the river bank and cheered the elopers as their boat pushed off from shore. After battling with the ice floes, every minute fraught with danger, the frail boat finally reached the center of the stream. Here it lodged in the huge blocks of ice, and was swept down the broad current of the Ohio, out of sight of the crowds of watching people on shore.

All hope of their being saved was abandoned, but after being carried two miles down the river by the ice the eloping couple and the two boatmen were picked up by a river steamer and safely landed on the Ohio shore.

ARGENTINA'S CORN

The South American Country Making Big Strides as a Producer.

Her Soil and Climate Provide Just the Conditions Needed for the Successful Growing of Maize.

It has long been known that Argentina was a great wheat producing country, and was giving the United States a lively brush in the competitive markets of Europe, but the American farmer has believed himself practically secure in his supremacy in the raising of Indian corn, or maize. However, he will now have to look to his laurels, for the great grain growing country of South America has entered the field and is rapidly coming to the front with big yields from her vast farms. According to statistics prepared by the Argentine department of agriculture, the only ones available, 3,473,722 acres were planted in corn in 1901, and the total yield was 84,018,265 bushels, or an average of 24.18 bushels per acre. Of this crop the custom house statistics show an exportation of 46,843,282 bushels. Owing to the system of preparing these statistics, this amount is probably slightly in excess of the amount actually exported, but only slightly. This crop was grown between September, 1901, and March, 1902, and 90 per cent. of it was marketed between March and October, 1902.

Argentine exportation of corn from 1886 to 1902, inclusive, has been as follows, with the valuation in United States money:

Calendar years.	Quantity.	Value.
1886	9,119,970	$4,490,551
1887	14,345,035	6,983,595
1888	6,389,699	5,253,908
1889	17,030,168	12,523,501
1890	27,944,175	13,650,542
1892	17,555,505	8,261,588
1893	3,327,135	1,523,296
1894	2,160,370	1,009,327
1895	30,904,504	9,936,571
1896	61,827,888	15,434,756
1897	14,760,664	5,286,963
1898	28,230,887	8,949,600
1899	43,945,394	12,596,479
1900	28,079,045	11,516,006
1901	42,788,911	18,226,288
1902	46,959,122	22,185,283
1903 (estimated Nov. 5)	78,750,000	31,500,000

The countries to which Argentina sends this corn are the United Kingdom, to whose market in 1902 she sent 11,658,815 bushels; Germany, who took

ITALIAN COLONISTS HOME.

4,738,985 bushels; Belgium almost as much, and France, Italy, Spain, Brazil, smaller quantities.

The production of maize, or Indian corn, in the Argentine Republic, while it has been going on for many years, is only now developing into a great industry. It is just growing out of the primitive methods that have been holding it back and which still prevent farmers from realizing much more than half what they might. The results they achieve are due to the marvelous fertility of the soil and the perfect climatic conditions, which, in spite of bad methods, neglect, and general ignorance, give bountiful harvests to men who would utterly fail in the corn belt of the United States if they farmed as they do in Argentina; and these men cannot long continue in this manner where they are.

Every colonist wants at least 100 hectares, equal to 247 acres, and sometimes he succeeds in getting more. This is, however, the usual limit for a family, unless there are several large boys. The rule on some large corn farms is that 25 squares or about 104 acres, shall be allotted to every able-bodied working hand. Farming as they do, a man can work that amount of land in corn until the gathering is upon him, when he must have help or suffer heavy losses.

Most of these "colonists," or renters, are from the north of Italy, and are very industrious and thrifty. They work and live under conditions that would not be endured by the poorest farm hand in our country. Yet they have here a chance that they could not have at home, and most of them become well off in a few years.

The Italian renter builds a mud house with a zinc roof, all the materials being furnished by a "patron," the owner of the land. Several hardwood posts are set in the ground and small boards nailed across the top. The sheets of zinc are then spread over the frame for a roof, with a slight pitch. Wire is tied from post to post and cornstalks are woven in, the wire holding them up. Mud is plastered on both sides of the stalks and soon dries. A hole is left for a door, and perhaps, but not always, a smaller hole for a window, and the house is done.

Planting of corn may begin as early as August 15, but generally not until three or four weeks later, and it may be as late as January 15, though generally it is not considered quite safe to plant later than December 20. On an 18,000-acre place at San Jose de la Esquina some planting was done as late as January 12 last year and a fair crop secured. The early planted corn was ripe at the end of January, but harvesting was not commenced until the latter part of February.

MRS. HALL TELLS OF HER FATHER'S LIFE

Daughter of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe Returns From Lecture Tour in Pennsylvania.

HER TALK INTERESTING

DWELLS ON GREAT ACHIEVEMENTS OF DR. SAMUEL GRIDLEY HOWE.

A Philanthropist and Educator—A Benefactor of the Greek—A Generous Helper of the Poor and Blind.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall has returned from a lecture trip to western Pennsylvania. At Meadville, she gave a talk on the life and work of her father, the late Dr. Samuel Gridley Howe, famed for his works as a philanthropist and educator.

Mrs. Hall touched briefly on his romantic career in the Greek Revolution, where he suffered many hardships. Toward the close of this war, he returned to America, where he succeeded in raising over $60,000, in addition to a quantity of clothing. He superintended heroically the distribution of these supplies sent from the United States to the suffering people of Greece. They revived from actual starvation, a large part of the peaceful population, who learned to bless the news of America.

She spoke also of his pioneer work for the blind, and of his successful efforts in having the Bible printed for their use. He persuaded the American Bible Society to contribute the necessary funds. He printed the New Testament in 1836, the Old Testament in 1840. Mrs. Hall described the first steps in the process of educating Laura Bridgeman, Dr. Howe's famous pupil. She was the first blind deaf mute ever taught the use of language and the methods used in her case are still the standard ones. Helen Keller and many others, having been taught in accordance with them.

His work in establishing in Boston, in 1848, the first school for idiots and feeble-minded children, was also mentioned. Dr. Howe was greatly ridiculed at the time for this undertaking.

Mrs. Hall spoke of her mother's latest works, that of organizing the public charities of Massachusetts. The system which he formulated while chairman of the State Board of Charities was not only adopted in that State, but is now used in every other State and in Europe. While believing primarily in the organization of charitable works, he believed in personal ministry to the poor and unfortunate. In his first report he said:

"That our work may be well done, it must be by the people themselves directly, and in the spirit of Him who taught that the poor ye shall always have with you—that is, near you—in your hearts and affections, within your right and knowledge; not thrust far away from you and always shut up alone by themselves in almshouses and reformatories, that they may be kept at the cheapest rate. The people cannot be absorbed from their duties of charity which require knowledge and sympathy with sufferers. There can be no vicatious virtue, since charity is not done by deputy." In these words, written nearly forty years ago, Dr. Howe struck the keynote of modern thought on this subject.

It is hoped that Mrs. Hall may give this lecture in Plainfield. The Meadville paper (Washington Star) reports it at length and calls it "a deeply interesting talk."

Mrs. Hall gave "Personal Reminiscences of Distinguished People" before the Woman's Club, of Titusville. The Titusville Herald says: "Her lecture last evening was, perhaps, as edifying a talk as it has been the good fortune of the Woman's Club to hear during the whole history of the organization," a period of about fourteen years.

REV. JOHN P. MORRIS GOES TO HIS REWARD

Former Pastor of St. Mary's Church Dies at Home of His Niece in Nutley.

BUILT CHURCH HERE

HIS LABORS WITHOUT ANY PECUNIARY COMPENSATION.

Sketch of Pious Man's Career—Sixty-Three Years of Age—Funeral Tomorrow Morning—Well-Known Here.

The Rev. Father John P. Morris to whom the Roman Catholics of this city and Dunellen owe much, died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Emil Le Bel, in Nutley, Essex County, yesterday, after an operation for diabetes. For twenty-five years he had been pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church at Nutley.

Father Morris was born in Paterson, July 14, 1841 and secured his preparatory education at St. Charles College, Ellicott City, Md., after which he went to Rome and pursued his theological studies at the American College there, being one of the first students. He was ordained there at the same time as Bishop Wigger. Returning to this country he became the assistant pastor at St. Peter's and St. Mary's churches in Jersey City and later the assistant pastor at St. Patrick's church, Elizabethport.

He came to Plainfield in 1870 as assistant to Rev. John J. Connelly, who was then pastor of St. Mary's church, and who at that time was ill. In 1871 he succeeded Father Connelly and while in this city he built the handsome edifice now used by St. Mary's church, as well as the parsonage. This church was dedicated September 8, 1880, the late Archbishop Corrigan being present. He also built the Roman Catholic church of St. John the Evangelist at Dunellen, that edifice being dedicated October 24, 1880. He was pastor of St. Mary's church from 1871 to 1883 and was succeeded by Rev. Father Smyth, the predecessor of the present pastor, Rev. Father Egan.

Father Morris never drew any salary from the church. He had a private income, more than sufficient to provide for his needs, and it is known that he gave freely for benevolent and charitable purposes. He was of a pleasant and jovial disposition and beloved by all who knew him. He was a talented musician and while he never became the author of any musical works, he always devoted much time to the art.

The funeral takes place tomorrow morning.

ORANGE TROUNCES PLAINFIELD

VISITORS PUT UP A GREAT ARTICLE OF BASKET BALL.

Plainfield lost a hard-fought game of basket ball to Orange Y. M. C. A. on its own floor last night, by a score of 25 to 15. Lack of team work was the explanation. The local boys braced strongly towards the end of the second half when it was too late. Orange's forwards did fine work. Summary:

Goals from the floor, Chapman 2, Shorter 4, Pornham 4, Wright, Hand, Smith 3, Scull, Neal 2. Goals from fouls, Pornham, Patten 2, Neal.

Referee and umpire, C. B. Morse, of Plainfield, and A. M. Chesley, of Orange. Scorer, John H. Doane. Timer, Fred Martin.

FEDERATED CLUB'S WORK EXPLAINED

Miss McKeen Addressed the Members of Monday Afternoon Club in the Casino.

TASKS ACCOMPLISHED

Dwelt on Child Labor Bill—The Opinions Held by Woman Who is the Leader of the Clubs in the State.

In her characteristic way, Miss Mary McKeen, president of the Federated Clubs of New Jersey, gave an interesting talk on "Club Matters" before the Monday Afternoon Club at the Casino, yesterday afternoon. Miss McKeen reviewed briefly the work done by the State Federation, representing ninety-eight clubs, literary, civic and philanthropic.

Miss McKeen declared that clubs are broadened by contact with each other, as the individual is broadened by association in the club. She spoke at some length on public matters that had interested the Federation, forestry, the preservation of the Palisades, kindergartens, educational problems, questions of sociology like the George Junior Republic, the betterment of the reformatory at Jamesburg, town improvement schemes and household economics.

Miss McKeen believes that there is a renaissance in the care of the home, the old-time vigilance in looking after the household being revived in the present day when women are devoting time and scientific thought to the sanitation of their homes and the well being of their loved ones.

In closing her remarks on the child labor bill controlling, which is in the Legislature, Miss McKeen gave as her opinion that every girl should be taught to cook and sew and every boy be taught a trade thus qualifying them for useful citizenship, culture to follow.

R. C. A. A. IN GOOD SHAPE

ABUNDANCE OF MATERIAL FROM WHICH TO CHOOSE A GOOD NINE.

The Reform A. A. expects to enter the baseball arena this spring in rejuvenated form. The association has forty-eight members from whom Captain William O'Loughlin expects to be able to select a strong and representative nine. The old Reform Club is backing the team management.

George Myers is manager of the nine and wants to hear from Orange Field Club, Dunellen Athletic Club, Y. M. C. A., West End Field Club and Clinton Avenue A. C. He already has several dates fixed and expects to complete his schedule within a week or two. The Myrtle avenue grounds in North Plainfield have been secured and will be fitted up for practise and games.

J. J. Higgins is president of the association and Leo DeCourcy vice president. George Lindsay is secretary and Edward Smith is treasurer. Bowling is also a feature of the association's activities and James Scott is captain. The basement of Reform Hall has been adequately fitted up as a gymnasium with trapezes, punching bag, pool and billiard table, shuffle board and a full set of lockers. Business meetings of the association are held every Friday night. The gymnasium is open for members every week day night, and is governed by new rules and by-laws.

It is planned to hold a series of entertainments in Reform Hall early in April for the benefit of the club. If the association meets with success in its efforts this year, William C. Smith, president of Reform Club, promises that a swimming pool will be built in the gymnasium the following summer.

Wants Coal.

When the borough Board of Education ordered coal last summer it did not figure on the extremely old-fashioned winter that the weather man handed out. So the janitor at the Watchung School has asked the authorities for more coal. He says he needs it badly, and the school board believes him. The coal will be ordered.

—You will find Neuman Brothers' White Label Brand whole asparagus a most delicious dish.

—Emil Dembowsky, of Harrison avenue, has planned to remove to Bound Brook.

CONFEDERATE VETS PLAN ORGANIZATION

Report That the Old Johnny Reb Fighters Propose to Form a Post Here.

FEW IN THE VICINITY

SOCIAL ORGANIZATION TO REVIVE MEMORIES OF STIRRING TIMES.

Time Has Erased the Bitterness That Once Existed—Some of Those Who Fought in Uniforms of Gray.

Among the several veterans of the Confederate Army that live here there is some talk of organizing a camp similar to the ones that are so plentiful in the secession states. There are at least six of General Lee's veterans here; some of those interested say the number is greater, but six is the estimate of Col. John F. Wilson, the most prominent of the old Johnny Reb fighters.

For some time the Southern warriors have been discussing the advisability of getting together like their Union friends, to keep alive the memories of wartime. Nothing very definite has been done, but it is said that the plans for the proposed camp have now reached a stage where it begins to look like an accomplished fact. Sylvester Scribner, of the borough, and Charles P. Bull, of East Ninth street, are mentioned as the men most active in working for the formation of the organization.

Col. Wilson was interviewed in regard to the proposed association this morning by a reporter for The Daily Press. "I haven't heard anything about it," said the Colonel. "I have never been approached on the subject."

As far as Col. Wilson knew there was no number set as the minimum of membership for a camp. The promotors of the idea are considering the admission of nearby towns into the camp, however, so even the comparative fewness of the Confederates here need not operate against the establishment of an organization.

Much interest in the proposed camp is taken by the G. A. R. men. Time has destroyed the bitterness of feeling that existed between the two sides in the great struggle, and the veterans of the blue ranks would feel no unfriendliness toward the organization of their one-time foes.

TROUBLE OVER FIRE ALARMS

NORTH PLAINFIELD'S PAID DEPARTMENT ANNOYED BY FALSE CALLS.

Ever since the North Plainfield volunteer fire department went out of existence a week ago the alarm bell has frequently sounded one or two blows, particularly at night. The authorities have been trying to locate the trouble, but without success.

Chief Woolston is of the opinion that some of those in possession of release keys or those who have tappers in their houses are responsible for the trouble. The possessor of a tapper can ring the bell by bringing the wires together. As a measure of precaution against a possible continuance of the annoyance, Chief Woolston is having all private tappers taken out.

Keeping Wires Cleared.

Chief T. O. Doane, of the fire department, had charge of a gang of men who were at work last week clearing away branches of trees which interfered with electric light and fire alarm wires. The Chief says that many trees in the city are heavily charged with electricity because of carelessness in keeping the wires away from branches, and that serious accidents are always possible as a result.

Miss VanFleet Entertains.

Miss May Van Fleet, of East Third street, entertained a number of friends at her home last night. The chief amusement of the evening was euchre, there being three tables. Miss Pittinger won the first prize for women and Stephen Aldrich the first prize for the men. Edward Hardingham won the booby prize. A social time with refreshments was enjoyed after the game.

Held for Grand Jury.

Edward Verity, charged by Joseph Sutherland with assault and battery, was arrested in Scotch Plains yesterday and held in $100 bail by Justice Clark to await trial by the Grand Jury. The complaint against Verity was made in Justice Hand's court.

COMPRESSED AIR AND ITS VALUE

Andrew J. Kenney Describes Its Uses to the First Presbyterian Men's Club.

A FEW EXPERIMENTS

GREATLY FACILITATES MINING AND RAILROAD WORK.

Carpets Cleaned by It—Has Been Used for More Than Fifty Purposes—The Lecture a Good One—The Committee.

The uses of compressed air and a history of its development as a power in moving machinery were described last night by Andrew J. Kenney, of North Plainfield, in a lecture before the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Kenney was formerly associated with the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Company.

Mr. Kenney sketched the history of compressed air from the time it was first used in diving bells one hundred years ago. He spoke of its value in caissons. Few great machine shops are without a large number of machines for compressing air. All great mines are supplied with them. The greatest development in the uses of compressed air has come in railroad shops where there are as many as fifty different means of employing it. One use illustrated was its power of cleaning carpets without taking them up. Mr. Kenney admitted that electricity was a more efficient means of performing work. He gave a few practical experiments, showing the power of compressed air, and illustrated its uses with drawings and pictures.

The committee in charge of the entertainment consisted of L. R. Hazeltine, chairman; A. V. Searing, Jr., C. E. Braider, L. H. Gates and C. E. Hazeltine.

Eminent commander, Robert A. Meeker; generalissimo, George M. Macintyre; captain general, Otto Mueck; senior warden, Robert Rushmore; junior warden, Thomas Hazeltine; prelate, B. Conkling; quartermaster, Edward Nelson; assistant quartermaster, L. B. Woolston; sentinel, Caspar Bolsterle; trustees, Dr. D. C. Adams, Nelson Y. Dungan, Henry Woodland; representative Masonic Hall Association, Jacob Kirkner.

Following the election the officers were installed by Eminent Sirs Jacob Kirkner and Nelson Y. Dungan.

EASTER WEDDINGS.

Invitations have been sent out by James Gardner Greene for the marriage of his daughter, Georgia Louise, to Ernest Salisbury Suffern on Wednesday, April 6, at noon. The ceremony will take place at All Angels' church, West End avenue and Eighty-first street, New York. Mr. Suffern is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Suffern, of Sycamore avenue.

The wedding of Miss Catharine Dudley, daughter of the late Bishop Dudley, of Kentucky, and sister of T. U. Dudley, of North Plainfield, to Sherman Richards will take place in the chantry of Grace church, Broadway and Tenth street, New York, on Easter Monday, April 4. Mr. Richards, with his bride, will sail for Europe on the day following the marriage.

After Business House.

One of the prominent Front street business houses has been officially notified by Health Inspector Addis to correct unsanitary conditions that make part of the establishment unsightly and dangerous. This is the second action of the sort in the same place that the authorities have had to take within half a year.

Miss Booream Won Prize.

Miss Anna W. Booream, of Liberty street, a teacher in the Washington School, had a prize print in last Saturday's issue of the New York Mail. The picture, a winter scene, was taken in the vicinity of West End avenue.

It will be welcome news to the citizens of Plainfield to learn that the Public Service Corporation will inaugurate their advent into the local gas field by reducing the price of gas used for illuminating purposes to that charged for fuel and reducing the gross rate from $1.50 to $1.35.

This reduction will take effect on April 1st, and will apply to March sales which will be issued on that date.

The new rate will be $1.35 per 1,000 cubic feet, with a further reduction of 10 cent per 1,000 if bills are paid prior to the 10th of the month in which they are rendered.

This new rate offers the public an excellent opportunity to use gas as a fuel, as well as an illuminant. In this age of progress no home or kitchen is complete without a gas range or a gas water heater.

The Public Service is making many improvements in their local gas plant, installing new mains, enlarging old ones and making a general betterment of the service throughout the entire system.

Service connections will be made in the homes where gas will be used free of cost. The most efficient appliances for both light and fuel will be sold to the consumers at absolute cost. Only appliances that have been tested and found economical are sold by the Public Service. Stores and houses, without gas connection, will be piped at cost, meters installed free, and every effort made to meet the demands of the consumers.

The policy of the Public Service, being so liberal, their consumers can use gas economically thereby bettering the conditions of the home.

THE BOROUGH CONTRACTS

WERE AWARDED TO J. Y. WILSON AND J. W. MANHATTAN.

Contracts for the year's supply of stone for street work were let by the borough councilmanic committee last night.

J. Y. Wilson was awarded the order for crushed stone for roadway repairs. There were no bidders against him. He will receive ninety-five cents a ton for No. 2 stone, and $1.05 for dust, delivered on the street. This is the price the city pays the Smalley quarry for the same supplies. As an officer of the borough Mayor Smalley could not bid on the work.

J. W. Manhattan received the contract for flagstones. Fifty-one cents is the price on stone for sidewalks, and eighty cents and a dollar will be paid for crosswalk slabs. There was one other bidder.

TROUBLE FINDING OFFICERS TO ELECT

Borough School Board Has Hard Time Getting Willing Candidates.

DECLINATION BY JOY

REFUSES RENOMINATION FOR PRESIDENCY AGAINST UNANIMOUS URGINGS.

Vice Presidency Goes Begging Too—E. A. Overton Finally Elected President, and James R. Joy, Vice President.

Offices went begging at the organization meeting of the borough school board last night. Pretty nearly all the members were nominated for either president or vice president, and everyone declined with an anxiety to escape the cares of office that did not seem at all feigned. The presidency was finally fastened on E. A. Overton, and James R. Joy assumed the vice presidency after declining the presidency and attempting to avoid the secondary office.

Mr. Joy had to combat the unanimous sentiment of the board to escape a re-election as president. When nominations were called for, A. V. D. Honeyman began a nominating speech in slow and careful phrase. Before he reached a name, Mr. Valiant, with characteristic terseness, interjected:

"I nominate Mr. Joy."

Mr. Honeyman looked mildly surprised. "I was about to do that myself," he said, "but I'll second the nomination made by Mr. Valiant, with pleasure." No other nominations were made.

Mr. Joy thanked the gentlemen for the honor, but declined to stand. "I appreciate the honor of being renominated, coming as it does with considerable backing, but I have thought over the matter thoroughly, and am confident the work of the board can be better done if it is in other hands. I must positively decline to serve."

"I hope Mr. Joy will withdraw his declination," said Mr. Honeyman earnestly. "All the members of the board are unanimous in desiring to have him serve again, and there is no one who could fill the office better. If there was any feeling of dissent it would be different, but the desire to see Mr. Joy re-elected is wholly unanimous. I mean that," he added significantly.

"I have not reached this conclusion suddenly," explained Mr. Joy, "but after careful consideration. There are good reasons, which need not be published, for my refusal. It will be better for the interests of all concerned if the work is in other hands."

Samuel Townsend then nominated Mr. Overton, referring to him in complimentary terms as the senior member of the board.

Mr. Overton begged to be excused. He thanked Mr Townsend for the honor, but he didn't think he was capable. He echoed Mr. Joy's statement that the office would be better administered in other hands.

"You know you've always had your eye on that chair, Overton," said Mr. Joy with a laugh, and then Mr. Honeyman asked for the question. The call was taken up, and before Mr. Overton could protest further was unanimously elected.

Then the hunt for a vice president was begun. Mr. Valiant, the incumbent, Mr. Needham, Mr. Honeyman and Mr. Joy were nominated and all of them refused the honor. Mr. Needham was urged to accept the office for some time, but he determinedly refused to consider it, on the ground that he was a new member and unfitted to assume office. Mr. Joy was finally induced to reconsider his declination and a unanimous vote made him Mr. Valiant's successor

There was no trouble over the election of the district clerk, R. M. Fountain being returned to the office. Mr. Fountain was not present, which may have accounted for the ease with which the position was filled.

The attitude of Mr. Honeyman toward the election of Mr. Joy, and all the other actions of the regnant antis, are taken to mean the indication of a determination on the part of the majority to maintain harmony in the board and avoid friction just as far as possible. All through the session there was not the faintest suggestion, aside from Mr. Joy's declination of the presidency and the statements it called forth, of the lines that separate Messrs. Honeyman, Cooley, Overton, Fountain and Needham,

DOCTORS ENDORSE GARBAGE INCINERATION

Local Physicians Approve of the Establishment of a System of Garbage Disposal.

A MENACE TO HEALTH

TELL COMMITTEE THAT THE PRESENT METHOD IS MOST UNSANITARY.

Specific Reasons Given Why Condition is Detrimental, and Why Improvement Suggested is for the Best Interests of the Community.

These communication from prominent physicians, advocating a system of municipal collection and disposal of garabge, have been received by the joint committee, which has made its report on the subject to the Common Council:

I understand that the subject of disposal of garbage is under consideration by your committee and I assume that you desire an expression of opinion from taxpayers on the subject.

It is my conviction that the present method of collecting garbage is a menace to the public health and should be abolished. The method under consideration by your committee so far as I understand it is sanitary and effectually disposes by incineration of material which should be disposed of in np other way. I hope it may be considered favorably as we have learned from experience that any work undertaken by the city authorities is always well done.

Yours truly,
F. C. Ard.

604 Park avenue.

With your kind permission I would like to give a few reasons why the city should assume the charge of the collection and disposal of garbage.

First. There would be greater regularity in the collection of garbage, for certain hours could be set wherein garbage should be collected, instead of having it done at any hour or the day as is done at present.

Second. The collecting wagons could be kept in a condition whereby they would be less offensive to sight and smell.

Third. Under municipal control the collection of garbage would be more thorough, as there would be less temptation for the poorer classes to throw their garbage in cesspools or mix it with ashes from their stoves, and anything that will make the sanitary condition of these classes better will be of benefit to the city, for it is the children of the poor who suffer from unsanitary surroundings during the heat of summer.

Fourth. The establishing of a crematory for the disposal of garbage would provide the cleanest and most effectual method, as thereby all disease germs would be destroyed, and there could be no danger of polluting air or water.

Yours truly,
A. F. Van Horn, M. D.

The proposition recently brought to your attention for the city to collect and burn the garbage, meets with my warmest approval.

I believe that the public health would be benefitted by such a plan, and that the expense incurred would be more than offset by the improved sanitation and increased attractiveness of our city.

Yours respectfully,
E. W. Hedges, M. D.

703 Watchung avenue.

I am of the opinion that the present method of collection and disposal of garbage in our city is decidedly unsanitary; and the sooner it is systematically collected and cremated, under municipal oversight, the better it will be for the health and happiness of our citizens.

Yours truly,
T. H. Tomlinson, M. D.

With regard to the collection and disposal of garbage, speaking from a sanitary point of view I would say that the present method in vogue in Plainfield is very unsatisfactory; first, because it is necessarily incomplete, and second, because it it not satisfactorily disposed of. Decaying animal and vegetable matter lying about the streets and the back yards of thickly settled communities is a constant menace to the public health as it presents the exact conditions which favor the development and growth of disease germs.

In my judgment the only safe way to deal with the subject is the thorough and systematic collection, prompt removal of all waste organic matter and its complete destruction by incineration or cremation.

Very respectfully,
P. J. Zeglio, M. D.

48 Somerset street.

It is with great pleasure that I note that the City Council and Board of Health are seriously considering the question of municipal collection of garbage. Permit me to say that I think such system of collection is practically imperative in a community as large as our own. Without this system it is impossible to maintain proper sanitary conditions, to say nothing of the impossibility otherwise of properly protecting the public from unpleasant sights and unhealthy odors.

Trusting that this system will be promptly adopted, I am

Yours very truly,
Wm. M. Murray, M. D.

737 Watchung avenue.

EIGHT DAYS LONGER

New Emigration Law Causes Great Dissatisfaction.

SAID TO FAVOR THE CUNARD LINE

Emigrants Must Travel to United States by Way of Fiume, Hungary, Which Is Eight Days Longer.

VIENNA, March 22.—The new Hungarian emigration law, which has for its purpose the diversion of travel to the United States from German ports over to Fiume, Hungary, is causing great dissatisfaction throughout the country. The act becomes formally effective April 1 next, but for some time past it has been provisionally enforced, the officials obliging emigrants to go via Fiume, although they had already purchased steamer tickets via Bremen and Hamburg and in many instances had forwarded their baggage in advance. After April 1 emigrants will only be granted passports to leave the country upon the payment of a deposit of $8 each for a steamship ticket via the Fiume route.

It is complained that the new route is eight days longer than from German ports and that the act benefits neither the state nor any Hungarian navigation company, but only benefits the Cunard line, which has been given a concession to operate between Fiume and New York.

A special agent of the Cunard line has arrived in Vienna and will visit Syria, Bulgaria, Macedonia and Servia, which countries have recently shown a considerable increase in the emigration movement to the United States.

TICKET FORGER SENTENCED.

Callahan Sent to Auburn Prison by Judge Emery.

BUFFALO, March 22.—In the county court Judge Emery imposed sentence on Charles H. Callahan, the ticket scalper convicted of forging transportation tickets. Callahan was sentenced to be confined in Auburn prison for not less than one year and not more than three years. Sentencing of Joseph Kelly, Callahan's partner in ticket scalping, who pleaded guilty to a similar charge, was deferred until next Friday. Kelly is sick.

The conviction and sentence of Callahan marks the culmination of the efforts of railroad officials to break up dishonest ticket scalping. The courtroom was filled with prominent railroad men who came to town to witness the end of the case, which is regarded as establishing an important precedent.

Poison Candy Trial Opens.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—The second trial of Mrs. Cordelia L. Botkin, charged with the murder of Mrs. John P. Dunning at Dover, Del., by means of poisoned candy sent from San Francisco, has been resumed here. Judge Cook ordered from the room all children and minors. After the opening statement of the prosecution Miss Elizabeth L. Kemp, a clerk in the postoffice at Dover, Del., was the first witness called. She testified to taking the package of candy addressed to Mrs. Dunning from a mail pouch and calling Postmaster Gooden's attention to it. She described the wrapper, which was one of the exhibits in court. Harry C. Pennington, a nephew of Mrs. Dunning, testified to receiving the package at the postoffice and giving it to his aunt.

The wife of Mr. Grace, his two sons, his three daughters and his brother, Michael P. Grace, were at his bedside when he died. The cause of the death of Mr. Grace was an attack of pneumonia.

EARTH TREMBLED.

New England Shaken In All Sections by Earthquake.

HARVARD NOTED THREE SHOCKS

Buildings Were Rocked, Chimneys Tumbled, Windows and Dishes Broken—The Bar Harbor Fire Bell Was Sounded.

BOSTON, March 22.—All of eastern New England, with Boston as a center, have been at work tracing the effects of an earthquake that shook this region soon after 1 a. m. yesterday, bringing city and country folk out of their beds and doing considerable damage to buildings.

Detailed reports indicate that the earthquake shock was felt in nearly all sections of New England and in the province of New Brunswick. The extent and severity of the disturbance, astronomers say, make it the most remarkable in twenty years.

The motion of the earth was most violent apparently in eastern Maine, where from three to seven distinct shocks were felt. Bar Harbor noted seven shocks of a violence sufficient to cause the fire alarm bell to strike several times. Calais, Me., reported that buildings were rocked so as to shake pictures from the walls. From this point to Hartford, Conn., including all parts of New Hampshire and Vermont, as well as Massachusetts and Rhode Island, the trembling of the earth was noted.

At Harvard observatory three shocks were noted. The direction of the earth's movement was not recorded by the instruments. Professor E. C. Pickering, head of the observatory, with a corps of assistants, is studying the prenomenon.

Professor Pickering made the following statement:

"About all that we could do was estimate the duration of the disturbance. We found that the shock started at one hour four minutes and ten seconds after midnight and that it lasted several seconds. There were two strong shocks and a third lighter vibration. The strong shocks were greater in some respects than any earthquake I ever experienced."

The earthquake rocked buildings here, tumbled chimneys over and caused many windows to be broken.

At Augusta, Me., chimneys were shaken down and crockery smashed. In Boston the trembling of the earth lasted several seconds and frightened many people. Dishes were thrown from shelves, and many chimneys were knocked down.

The rattle of the dishes and the noise of the falling chimneys caused alarm, and telephone operators in the exchanges were kept busy answering inquiries from anxious subscribers.

The earthquake shocks are said by officials of the Harvard observatory to have been the most severe experienced in this section of the country since the memorable seismic disturbance of 1884.

The earth waves were very perceptible. In the photographic darkroom of the observatory the water tanks, which were nearly filled, were shaken to such an extent that a considerable quantity of water fell upon the floor.

A number of windows were broken in Cambridge, and one man declares that his wife was thrown from her bed by the shock.

At Worcester people were aroused by a distinct jar of their homes and a rumbling sound. They called newspaper offices by telephone to ask if there had been an explosion in the city.

Convention Resulted In Bolt.

FRANKLINVILLE, N. Y., March 22.—The Democratic convention in the First assembly district of Cattaraugus county resulted in a bolt and the election of two sets of delegates to each of the state conventions. Thomas Troy and his followers, who favored uninstructed delegates, walked out of the hall after the report of the committee on contested seats had been read. The Hill-Parker faction, under the leadership of Thomas Dowd of Olean, which remained in the hall, adopted resolutions indorsing Judge Parker for president.

Sailors Complain of Poor Grub.

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 22.—The cruiser Brooklyn, which sailed from San Juan several days ago, has arrived in port and begun coaling. Reports from the ship are to the effect that considerable disorder occurred there Sunday night, the men stating that they were given only one piece of hardtack for supper, though they had to coal the ship the following day. Trouble was averted by the officers taking prompt and vigorous measures. The battleship Texas completed her target practice and came into port.

Ex-Sheriff's Sudden Death.

TRENTON, N. J., March 22.—Ex-Sheriff Ralph Ege of this county died suddenly last night at the home of Surrogate Cornell. He was apparently in good health and called at the Cornell residence to see Mr. Cornell, who was sick. While in the parlor talking to Mrs. Cornell Mr. Ege suddenly fell to the floor unconscious and died before a physician could be summoned. Apoplexy was the cause of death.

Suicide of Woman's Club President.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 22.—Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, widow of Dr. M. T. Scott of Louisville and daughter of President Bassett of the Fayette National bank, has committed suicide at her home by shooting. Mrs. Scott had been subject to spells of depression since the death of her husband about ten years ago. She was president of the Woman's club of central Kentucky.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 22, 1904.

Sully met the same fate that overtook Leiter. No regret should be felt for men of their type.

New England reports an earthquake. Guess it was only the reaction of the Hearst noise in Rhode Island.

Official advices stated long ago that perfect peace reigns in the Philippines, so you must not mind the cable dispatches regarding continual uprisings.

The business of the bulk of advertising is to intensify and direct interest in the things which people are already interested in in a general way. —Jed Scarboro.

Read the letters from prominent local physicians approving of the proposition to establish a sanitary system of garbage collection and disposal. They are published in this issue.

After forty-seven years of effort on the part of progressive citizens in Perth Amboy that municipality is at last assured that the Government will erect a postoffice building there. The efforts on the part of the local Board of Trade to obtain a structure for such purposes in this city which would conform to the needs are commendable. The Plainfield postoffice is patronized by at least 30,000 people. This city has all the modern improvements and there is no more up-to-date municipality in the State, no not even in the entire country. But the postoffice accommodations are a disgrace. Let the Board of Trade inform Congressman Fowler of the condition that he may use his good offices in obtaining such an appropriation as would be necessary for the erection of a suitable structure. Plainfield wants a new postoffice and it should have it.

Whenever business combinations are formed there is always a great hue and cry about "trusts" and the concerns are made the target for much abuse from many ill informed persons. It must be admitted however, that in numerous instances the attacks are justified, but that this is not always the case is shown by citing the Public Service Corporation. That gigantic concern has purchased from time to time many run-down plants and systems of various types. Trolley lines and gas companies have been bought up in all sections of Northern New Jersey and one with the least grain of common sense can realize what an enormous outlay of capital and what necessary expenditure of time is necessary to bring the plants up to the standard. The excuses given Plainfield people for not improving the trolley lines are reasonable ones and we believe that the S. P. C. should not be too harshly criticised until a reasonable time has elapsed for it to make the improvements it promises. In today's issue we publish the S. P. C.'s announcement of a big cut in the rate for illuminating gas. It is all the more welcome because the action is entirely voluntary on the part of the company. If you look upon the S. P. C. as a monster, then "give the devil his due," for it has done something that means a saving to every householder in Plainfield.

—F. M. Maroley had charge of the classes at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday in the absence of Physical Director Heywood.

—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Plainfield Gas Light Company, for election of directors to serve the ensuing year, will be held at 110 East Front street, on Tuesday, April 5 at 9 o'clock in the morning.

DUNELLEN.

A warrant for the arrest of Jack Weler or Waller has been issued by Justice H. P. F. Von Minden. The action was taken as a precautionary measure so that, should accident free Waller from the custody of the Somerset county police, his arrest would be possible in Middlesex. A sharp lookout is being kept for goods stolen by Waller and persons receiving them knowingly and not returning them are liable to trouble. Several articles were recovered Saturday for Dunellen people. Some of them belonged to Mrs. Abbott and others to Linden H. Apgar, in whose name the complaint warranting Waller's arrest is made out. It is thought that Waller is at the present time wearing a suit of clothes which are the property of Percy R. Abbott, of the borough.

RUSSIANS FALL BACK

Outposts Abandoned Anju on Approach of Japanese.

JAPS ADVANCING TO YALU IN FORCE

At Pingyang Brigadier General Allan, United States Military Observer, Was Ordered Not to Proceed to Outposts of the Troops.

LONDON, March 22.—Advices say General Zhilinski's official confirmation of the reports that the Russian out posts abandoned Anju upon the approach of the Japanese in force causes no surprise here, as such action is in perfect accord with the Russian plan of campaign. The Russian skirmishing and advanced posts were thrown forward solely for the purpose of harassing and worrying the Japanese outposts, falling back as the main body of the enemy moves forward until the strong positions at the Yalu river are reached. The fifty miles of country between Anju and the Yalu are very difficult for the movement of a large force. There may be some lively skirmishing as the Japanese advance progresses, but the Russians are resolved to avoid a decisive engagement until certain of victory.

It is reported from Chefu that the Russians have withdrawn practically all their forces from the south side of the Yalu river before the Japanese advance, which is making rapid headway under command of Lieutenant General Kodama, vice chief of the general staff.

Sixteen thousand Japanese troops are now on the north side of the Chongchang river, within three days' march of the mouth of the Yalu.

The Japanese army has made surprisingly adroit moves along the Chongchang river, moving north from Pingyang.

The road has been made clear to the Anju by the Japanese cavalry, which has been working along the north side of the river for a week. At a given moment the Japanese army moved forward. So splendid was the move that the correspondents who have arrived here are lost in admiration.

The soldiers began breaking camp in the morning, the commissary department being first out, and the entire force is now well under way toward Anju.

The soldiers that had been encamped on the heights back of Chemulpo were put on transports and taken north into the bay or Orea, probably to be landed either at Chenanpo or at the mouth of the Chongchang river, at Kasan, where there is a good harbor, now free of ice. Three cruisers of the second class were with the transports, and probably 30,000 troops will be sent north of the river. This indicates to the army officers here a swift blow against the Russian lines, although it is not believed that the men hurried toward the Yalu will be the invading force. It is taken here to indicate that the two main divisions of the Japanese army are ready for their great offensive operations and that stirring scenes on land will soon be reported from Manchuria.

A Russian officer commanding a battery on Electric hill during the last bombardment of Port Arthur has sent the following vivid account:

"It was a clear sunlit day, and there was a gentle swell on the water. A little spot appeared through the haze on the far horizon and then another and another until these spots were increased to fifteen. Nearer and nearer they came, and larger and larger they appeared until, when six miles off, there was a tiny puff of smoke and all in the battery wondered where the projectile was going to fall.

"Forty fathoms below the cliff where we were stood the battleship Peresviet. Bang! A shot burst under her bows, splashing the decks with spray. There was another puff, and a projectile whistled overhead, crashing on the rock behind us. Then came a third. It was a moment of terrible suspense. There was a terrific explosion overhead. They had got our range exactly.

"It was the signal for us to open fire, and ten shore batteries and twelve warships joined in the reply.

"What followed is indescribable. The sea underneath where we stood fairly boiled with the swish and plunge of projectiles, and words of command were inaudible to the gunners. I tried vainly to shout my orders while 150 guns were belching in a prolonged roar and shells were bursting overhead with a hellish crash. The smoke and dust blinded us.

"I did not experience excitement, and only that my teeth began to echo there was a strange sensation of contentment amid the scenes of death which had no terrors after the first shell had exploded. Suddenly a white faced gunner pointed to a battery of quick firing guns halfway down the hill which had been placed there to prevent the Japanese from landing. I ran down and found the scene one of the wildest. There was a battle orgy of bursting shells and whistling fragments, the smoke stench reeking the earth.

"One shell had burst among the gunners. A soldier was lying disemboweled, and another had his skull crushed. A third soldier was delirious, and there were splinters in his head. One gun had been broken like a reed.

"It was a dreadful sight, with blood everywhere.

"After the battle was over Lieutenant General Stoessel, commander at Port Arthur, pinned the Cross of St. George on my breast. But what does it matter—I am in the hospital."

At Pingyang the Japanese stopped Brigadier General Henry T. Allen, chief United States military observer with the Japanese army, requesting him not to proceed nearer their outposts.

A Mukden report says: "According to reports received from the frontier guards on the Eastern Chinese railway everything is in order there. At Udyini station Captain Uksmoff, with seventy cavalrymen, has driven off a band of 100 chunchuses (Chinese bandits).

"The occupation of the towns of Anju and Pingyang by a large force of the enemy's infantry and artillery is confirmed. An increased movement of troops and transports on the road between Pingyang and Anju is noticeable.

"Thirteen of the enemy's transports recently unloaded at Chinampho.

"According to reports there have been no preparations for landing on the coast of Caoljao or opposite Kinchow."

It is surmised that the Russian Vladivostok squadron has gone to attack Mororan, in Ishikari bay, and Otarunai, in Volcano bay, both on the Japanese island of Yeszo, where an excellent quality of coal from the Yeszo mountains is supplied to the Japanese warships.

A Tokyo dispatch reports the Japanese occupation of Port Arthur after a combined land and sea attack. It is asserted that a division of Japanese landed on the Liaotung peninsula and engaged the Russians near Port Arthur while the fleet bombarded from Saturday evening until Sunday morning.

KANSAS TORNADO.

Fifty Buildings Wrecked at Higginsville, Mo.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 22.—A special from Higginsville, Mo., says fifty buildings were partly wrecked, one man was mortally wounded and several others were hurt, the town is in darkness and the streets are strewn with debris as the result of a tornado and hailstorm which swept over Higginsville last night.

The hail on the streets was a foot deep within five minutes after the storm began, and some of the stones were as large as hen eggs. Dozens of trees in the town were blown down, and several horses were killed on the street.

Wind and hail came first and was followed with a terrific downpour of rain, which flooded nearly every cellar in town. The storm came from the west. It kept within a narrow path, only about two blocks of the business quarter being damaged.

Corder and Alma, Mo., are said to be considerably damaged. According to meager reports, several houses in both Corder and Alma were wrecked.

J. W. Ensely's grocery in Higginsville was wrecked. John Holzen, a clerk, was mortally injured.

Owing to the fact that the electric light wires are all down and the electric plant is damaged Higginsville was in darkness all night.

GOT HASSEN.

Pursuing Troops Kill Treacherous Datto Chief.

MANILA, March 22.—The Datto Hassen, who wounded Major H. L. Scott during an engagement in Jolo in November last, has been killed by pursuing troops. All the other dattos aided the troops in finding Hassen.

Everything is peaceful now, with no opposition of any kind to the American rule on the island of Jolo.

Ladrones have attacked a surveying party ten miles north of Calamba, wounding A. S. Perkins, a surveyor. One private of the constabulary was killed and another hurt.

Victim Had a Bad Record.

BOSTON, March 22.—Officers of the police department identified the body of the man who was killed by a train at Orange on Saturday as that of Louis Steele, a notorious criminal who was known as "Burglar Fred." Steele was also known as Fred Lee, John Scott and Joseph Everson. His portrait and Bertillon measurements have been in the rogues' gallery for years. Steele had served two prison sentences, one of two years and another of three months, for burglaries in this vicinity.

New York Badly Injured.

SOUTHAMPTON, March 22.—The American line steamship New York, which was aground for half an hour near Cherbourg and was afterward in collision with the troopship Assaye in Southampton harbor, leaked considerably during the night, and her cargo is much damaged by water. She went into drydock at noon. The injuries she received by grounding are more serious than those she sustained in the collision.

Wage Scale Signed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 22.—The miners' wage scale has been signed by the joint subscale committee, consisting of two miners and two operators of each of the four states forming the central competitive district. No change was made from the original proposition of the operators which was voted upon by the miners. The next joint conference will be held at Indianapolis Jan. 25, 1906.

Jersey State Convention.

TRENTON, N. J., March 22.—The Republican state committee met here and fixed upon Trenton, May 10, as the place and time for the state convention to elect delegates to the Republican national convention. Major E. J. Anderson, for twenty-four years a member of the committee, resigned on account of illness.

Hendricks Will Contest Wife's Claim

CHESTER, Vt., March 22.—Dr. Charles C. Hendricks, whose wife is seeking through the courts to regain possession of her son Thomas, has left here for Boston. Dr. Hendricks declared that he would contest his wife's claim for control of the boy.

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

NEW FASHION FEATURES.

Long Shoulders Becoming Marked. Boleros and Skirts.

Little coffee jackets of embroidery and lace are spring necessities. They are worn with pale blue or pale pink silk petticoats. Often the loose hanging jacket and the skirt match, in which case crepe de chine or soft taffeta is pretty when plentifully trimmed with lace.

Evening dresses of spotted net, flounced all over from the decolletage down, are very chic for slender figures.

The longer the shoulder the more fashionable the garment, so say the tailors, but this long shoulder must not stick out; it must follow closely the outline of the arm.

Little boleros are eased in at the neck and allowed to fall in soft, graceful folds, something after the fashion of a cape. The skirts are eased in similarly at the hips, so that nothing but the wide belt follows closely the figure.

Tiny bows and rosettes of taffeta are used not only on reception and evening gowns, but even on tailor mades. They are usually placed down the front of the bolero and at the back seam of the skirt.

A smart evening gown of yellow chiffon designed for an early wedding is trimmed with shirrings run through with bronze ribbon.

The illustration shows a wedding gown of white chiffon cloth trimmed with alencon lace.

MATERIALS AND STYLES.

Hopsacking For Street Costumes. Pink and Black Popular.

For tailor mades and practical frocks hopsacking of every description will be used even more than cloth. Some spotted and checked alpacas will be seen also, while the most popular tweeds will be of a rough and hairy description.

Taffeta is again being used as trimming on almost all the smart gowns and wraps. It is of a softer make than ever and for that reason will wear better.

Pink and black is a favorite millinery combination just now, especially in black chantilly and pink roses.

There is a great fancy this season for the cream underdress covered with black chantilly, black net or some other soft, light black fabric.

With a gray cloth skirt a gray mousseline de sole waist with a yoke worked out of lace can be worn. This is made up over a thin silk or satin slip. The very full puffs of crepe de chine sleeves are both tucked across and shirred to form additional fullness.

Spotted taffetas in black and brown are being revived and trimmed with quaint old fashioned applications of silk and chenille, but these must be very carefully managed in order not to look dowdy.

Tailor made suits of black and navy blue taffeta will be worn this summer over very full blouses of needlework and embroidery.

In the picture is shown a white linen shirt waist tucked and heavily embroidered. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FUNERAL OF THE DUKE.

Body of the Late Commander In Chief at Westminster Abbey.

LONDON, March 22.—The body of the Duke of Cambridge, cousin of the late Queen Victoria, has been removed from Gloucester House in Park lane to Westminster abbey preparatory to the funeral services.

The body is in a massive oak casket, on the lid of which is carved the crossed batons of a field marshal. The casket is draped with the union jack and arrived on a gun carriage drawn by six horses and escorted by a squadron of the Royal Horse guards. The gun carriage was followed to the abbey by the members of the duke's family and his suit in carriages, and thousands of persons who lined the streets from Gloucester House to the abbey stood with heads uncovered as the impressive cortege passed.

The abbey was reached at 9:30 o'clock, and the coffin was borne in by eight men of the King's company of the Grenadier guards. It was received by the dean of Westminster and the clergy and placed in St. Faith's chapel, where a detachment of the guards are on duty.

Prior to the removal of the body a brief service was held in the state dining room at Gloucester House, which was attended by King Edward, Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the royal family as well as by the immediate relatives of the duke and the members of his household.

AT HONOLULU.

Princess Kawananakoa Has a Son. Would Be Heir to Throne.

HONOLULU, March 22.—A son has been born to the Prince and Princess David Kawananakoa. The boy is the first male heir of the Kalagaua line to be born for many years, and if the monarchy were still in existence he would be heir apparent to the Hawaiian throne.

Edwin Morgan, who has been appointed United States consul to Dalny, is in Honolulu. He is waiting instructions as to how and when he shall proceed to his post under present conditions in the far east.

Andrew Brown, for eleven years superintendent of the Honolulu waterworks, has resigned at Governor Carter's request as a result of developments following the alleged embezzlement of money of the department by H. V. Richardson, chief clerk. The governor decided that Brown had not been strict enough with Richardson, who is held under $5,000 bond. Governor Carter is taking a personal interest in the case.

CLAN GRANT BEACHED.

Liners In Collision Off North Stack, Anglesey.

LIVERPOOL, March 22.—The steamship Clan Grant of the Clan line was in collision with the American line steamship Merion, bound from Liverpool for Philadelphia, off the North Stack, Anglesey.

A large hole was stove in the starboard side of the Clan Grant abaft the bridge. She filled with water forward and immediately steamed for shallow water in the roadstead, being apparently in a sinking condition. She was beached north of the mail jetty.

The Merion after the collision put about and made for Liverpool, seventy miles away.

So far as could be seen from shore the American liner had sustained no damage.

The White Star line steamship Georgic and the Calabria of the Anchor line were in collision here. Both vessels have been docked.

Sully Company's Bail $200,000.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—Through Attorney John G. Johnson a foreign attachment has been issued by Frederick Zeragn & Co. to use of George H. McFadden & Bro. against Daniel J. Sully & Co. of New York. Bail was fixed at $200,000, and McFadden & Bro. are also summoned as garnishees.

TO "MORGANIZE" SOCIETY.

New York Financier, It Is Reported, Will Hereafter Be a Social Light in London.

Like most London houses there is nothing in the exterior of 13, Prince's Gate, just off Hyde Park, to indicate that it is not a most ordinary and stuffy dwelling. It is one of a solid block, all exactly alike, and separated only by the party walls.

But appearances are deceptive, for the house is the London home of Pierpont Morgan, and contains most of those wonderful old masters for which Mr. Morgan has been paying unknown hundreds of thousands of dollars in the last few years, with the expectation of taking the pictures over to the United States eventually when he can come to terms with the customs authorities.

Although the house is always ready for use at a moment's notice it has been little occupied. Such dinner parties as the financier has given there were not strictly society functions, the guests being less interested in bridge than in larger forms of gambling. But now Mr. Morgan is to blossom forth, following the example of the Bradley-Martins in buying the house adjoining his own and knocking the two into one. This move is especially interesting, for Mr. Morgan's next door neighbor at 14, Prince's Gate, was Mrs. Schenley, of Pittsburg, whose death recently resulted in the dispersion of a huge property among her relatives here and in America.

MORGAN'S LONDON HOUSE.
(It Contains Some of the Rarest Art Works in Existence.)

Rumor credits Mr. Morgan with the intention of spending more time over in England in the future and going in for society on a larger scale than he has ever dreamed of doing before. He was present at the dinner given by Mr. Choate to the king and queen through a personal expression of the king's approval, and with this and other royal recognitions on the one hand, and with his financial connection with so many of the British aristocracy on the other hand, Mr. Morgan could fill his house with the social elect without having to stop the gaps with any nonentities. It seems to be the understanding that he has lately acquired rather a taste for this sort of thing.

VICE ADMIRAL SKRYDLOFF.

Selected by Czar to Take Command of the Russian Fleet in Far Eastern Waters.

The early reverses in its war with Japan have suggested to the St. Petersburg government the necessity of changing its commanders in the far east. Admiral Stark, who allowed his fleet to be surprised in the harbor of Port Arthur, is the first to be displaced, and indications point to the appointment of Admiral Skrydloff as chief naval commander in Asiatic waters. Viceroy Alexieff has already been relieved of the supreme command of the land and naval forces in Manchuria and Gen. Kuropatkin, former head of the Russian war office, has assumed command of the land forces in the field. Admiral Skrydloff is reputed to be an excellent officer and administrator and earned many laurels while commander of the Black sea fleet. He was a close observer of events at the time of the Chino-Japanese war and is supposed to be acquainted with the fighting tactics of the mikado's navy. Admiral Skrydloff is in the prime of life, being only 45 years of age.

"IN A BAD WAY."

Many a Plainfield Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Here is local evidence to prove it:

Mrs. M. A. Hall, of 219 Prescott place, says: "For several years I had a dull aching pain across my back at times extending to my hips. I was compelled to lie in just one position all night and stooping, lifting or bending forward aggravated the pains. Although I used different remedies that were recommended to me, I obtained little, if any relief. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly endorsed in our daily papers and procured a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. It was not long before I felt great relief and I was surprised how quickly the pain in my back disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

JUMBO'S HEART IS ON FILE.

Treasured by Cornell University Which Has No Glass Jar Large Enough to Receive It.

The largest heart in the world, which once beat in the generous bosom of Jumbo, the great elephant, is one of the treasures of the museum in the department of neurology at Cornell university, says the New York World. The heart is so large that there is no glass jar large enough to receive it, so it cannot take its place in the ranks of other hearts which stand on record in the museum. Instead, it rests in a barrel stowed away in the cellar of the museum waiting its turn for dissection. When it is finally dissected by the students it will be destroyed.

Jumbo's heart is 98 times as large as the average human heart. It now weighs 36½ pounds, after having stood several years in alcohol. A human heart, which weighs a little more than a pound, soaked in alcohol for the same length of time, weighs ten ounces.

The human heart is less than six inches long. Jumbo's is 28 inches long and 24 inches wide. The ordinary heart will go inside the main artery of Jumbo's heart. The walls of the artery are five-eighths of an inch thick and the walls of the ventricle are three inches thick.

A Japanese Soldier's Luggage.

Lieut. G. S. Turner, Tenth United States infantry, who accompanied some Japanese troops in a three days' reconnoissance south and east of Peking, says: "Each soldier carried on his person 100 rounds of ammunition, an overcoat for bedding, a haversack, water bottles and three days' rations. The ration consisted of rice and dried fish. The soldiers, however, depended mainly on the country for their subsistence. I am of the opinion that in a country where there was no foraging the amount of food carried would be insufficient. Before leaving camp each morning the food for dinner is prepared and packed in a ration box made of lacquered wood, similar in shape to our meat ration can, and consists of rice, dried fish and sometimes small pieces of mutton or beef."

Clever Dog Thief.

It was found the other day in London, that a stolen dog, which failed to identify its owner, had been dosed with aniseed by the thief. Aniseed destroys the sense of smell temporarily. The dog did not recover for two or three days.

ARKANSAS JOCKEY CLUB.

Opening of the Spring Meeting at Little Rock.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 22.—The spring meeting of the Arkansas Jockey club opened with perfect racing weather and a fair track.

The Capitol Hotel stakes for two-year-olds, at four furlongs, was the inaugural feature. A very ordinary field performed in the stakes. H. C. Bateman of Little Rock and J. E. Martin of St. Louis officiated as placing judges, while A. B. Dade was the starter.

Angelo Cella of Chicago is the Western Jockey club steward. Jockeys Robbins and Aubuchon arrived from New Orleans. Nearly all the horses here are from Hot Springs. Summaries:

First Race—Boomerack won, Dick Risley second, Gus Lanka third.

Second Race—Joe Martin won, Countess Clara second, Budweiser third.

Third Race—Maverick won, Bondello second, Ora McKinney third.

Fourth Race—Fay Templeton won, Tommy O'Hara second, Miss Lagman third.

Fifth Race—Imbodel won, Jimalong second, William Wright third.

Sixth Race—Dawson won, Belmudea second, Inspector Shea third.

Harvard Oarsmen on the Charles.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 22.—For the first time this year the candidates for places in the Harvard varsity crew engaged in practice on the Charles river. Two crews were sent out. Both boats went short distances up and down the river, using a slow stroke, and the men practiced getting into good form on the recovery. At the conclusion of the trial Head Coach F. D. Colson expressed himself as much pleased with the work the oarsmen had done. The river is entirely free from ice, and from now on practice will be held on the water daily.

Racing at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—Favorites fared bardly at Oakland, Galanthus being the only one to land in front. A feature of the card was the seven furlongs' event for three-year-olds. They were sent away to a good start, and Celebrant went to the front, Solanus passed Lord Wadsworth on the back stretch and in the last quarter assumed command. Celebrant hung on gamely, and Martin was forced to ride Solanus hard to beat Celebrant half a length.

Giants Down Birmingham.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 22.—The Giants crossed bats with the local Southern league team for the third time since they came here from Savannah to continue spring training operations and beat them by a score of 9 to 3. Mathewson and McGinnity were due for a spring trying out in the pitcher's box, but McGraw was requested to reserve "the iron man" for a debut in next Wednesday's Vulcan statue benefit game.

Did Hart Lose Heart?

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—Marvin Hart failed to put in an appearance at the Lenox Athletic club for his six round bout with Gus Ruhlin last night. The club officials, not having heard from Hart, kept the doors of the club shut and returned the money to those who had purchased tickets in advance. Ruhlin was present and was quite indignant at the nonarrival of Hart.

Americus Defeated Tremblay.

BALTIMORE, March 22.—Americus (Gus Schoenstein) of this city defeated Eugene Tremblay, champion welterweight wrestler of Canada, catch-as-catch-can style. Americus pinned the visitor to the mat in 15½ and 13½ minutes.

Ryan Won In Six Rounds.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Orange A. C., under the name of the Murray Hills, will play the Westfield team at Westfield in June.

The Orange Field Club is now filling its schedule for the coming year. Address all corresponndence to H. C. Smith, 68 Westervelt avenue.

The second reception and dance of the Suburban Athletic Club, of Fanwood, will be held at the clubhouse on April 14. There will be prize bowling and other attractions for the men and women.

Driscoll, the ball player well-known to many Plainfielders, has signed with Manager Phil. Daab's reorganized Hoboken team. He will play first base. It is expected that Linderman and Lamar will be the battery. These three men helped last year to represent St. Mary's team in a game against Alis.

"Red" Waller, who expects to be the slab artist for Manager Denman's colts at Westfield, this season, has written home from Porto Rico, where he has been spending the winter, that he is in fine condition. Recently, he says he pitched six innings and struck out eighteen men, a feat that was looked upon as remarkable by the natives.

Reach's official American League baseball guide will soon be out for the general public. An advance copy has been received by The Daily Press from the A. J. Reach Company and, as usual, contains a wealth of information. As the official guide of the American League the Reach Guide contains in completed form everything of interest, both official and unofficial. But while it is a distinctly official guide for the American League, it has not discarded any of the features that have hitherto made it a valuable general guide.

There is some interesting baseball chatter in the last issue of the Westfield Standard, evidently from the pen of that clever manager, Charles Denman. Regarding the Plainfield side of the game the article says: "Alis, of Plainfield, seems to be the real proposition from up the line. Some time ago word was passed around that they were sure of playing the cream of the Manhattan College team, including Duff, O'Brien Cotter and Zimmerman. This sounds too good to be true, but Manager Mumford is a shrewd and thoroughly experienced ball man and is always careful and free from exaggeration in what he has to advance. The Aeolians get the first chance at the Union County championship, starting May 31 against Westfield. Another five game series for county honors has been arranged with Alis, the first try to be at Plainfield July 4th morning. By that time the Alis-Manhattan combination will have the opportunity to be fast enough to give Westfield a good and strong rub. After floundering around on both sides of the fence Scotch Plains now asserts they will have a team if their people will support it to the extent of assuring players good enough to beat Westfield. And so its to be merry sport all along the line from start to finish."

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Plainfield High has received a challenge to an outdoor athletic meet with Rutgers Prep. Acceptance is possible.

Plans for a big shoot on Decoration Day have been made by the Independent Gun Club. Annie Oakley, the crack shot, has been invited to attend.

The East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association has been elected to membership in the National Lawn Tennis Association, and August 30 was fixed as a date for an open tournament to be held at Elizabeth.

HANDBALL.

The handball tournament for the Y. M. C. A. championship will begin Thursday and continue through Friday and Saturday.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

There will be a bowling match tomorrow night between Saengerbund and the Y. M. C. on the association alleys.

CHANGE IN ELECTION LAWS.

Bill in Legislature to Place Spring Elections in Board's Control.

In line with the movement to simplify all the election matters, and center control of them in the hands of the regularly constituted county boards, a bill has been introduced into the Legislature in supplement to the measure turning over the spring elections. The new bill provides that the election boards have control of the primary elections, just as at a general election. At present city and township clerks superintend them.

As with the main bill, this supplemental measure is heartily endorsed by the boards. One of the reasons advanced for the passage of it is that it will insure imparticality in the distribution of printing and other contracts. The election board is nonpartisan, and for that reason the plums will have to be divided. With the clerks in control, the friends of the party in power get everything to give out.

John Runyon Buried.

Funeral services over the body of John Runyon were held at the late home yesterday afternoon. Rev. Frank Fletcher, of the First Baptist church, officiated, assisted by Rev. A. F. Todd and Rev. J. A. TROUBLE FINDING OFFICERS TO ELECT antis, from Messrs. Joy, Valiant, Woodruff and Townsend, administration supporters.

There are not many changes in the make-up of the committees. President Overton announced them as follows:

Teachers and text books—Joy, Valiant, Honeyman; supplies—Woodruff, Cooley, Fountain; grievances and truancy—Townsend, Woodruff, Needham; buildings and grounds—Cooley, Townsend, Needham; audit—Valiant Woodruff.

Superintendent Wightman called the attention of the board to the necessity of action in preparing for the commencement exercises, which are to occur on June 17. Messrs. Townsend and Woodruff were named as a special committee to arrange the affair, and secure a speaker.

Discussion over the best place for the exercises arose, and the suggestion that the First Baptist church, which is used by the city department, be hired was made. The exercises have usually been held at the Y. M. C. A. Hall. It was generally admitted that the church would afford more room, and an effort will probably be made to secure the edifice for the occasion.

AMUSEMENTS.

William Gillette is now in the last two weeks of his successful engagement at the New Lyceum Theatre, New York city. When he gets through there on the evening of April 2d, he will have appeared in J. M. Barrie's delightful comedy, "The Admirable Crichton" for over five months and will have played to capacity audiences during that entire time. All the playgoers who have seen Mr. Gillette in the character of the wonderful irresourceful butler, who is the hero of the comedy have been more than delighted with the artistic work of the star and the cleverness with which this subtle character is presented. They have enjoyed the charming comedy itself for its beautiful sentiment as well as its novel amusing scenes, and also for the rarely attractive quality of its production. The remaining performances are but few, and any New Yorker who has not yet seen Mr. Gillette in "The Admirable Crichton," should not fail to accept one of the remaining opportunities of seeing this play.

Sam. S. Shubert and Nixon & Zimmerman are offering to the local public at the Academy of Music, New York, for a limited engagement with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, the No. 1 "A Chinese Honeymoon" Co., which, without doubt, is the musical hit of the last two years. The opera is now in its third year in London. The book and lyrics are from the pen of George Dance, while Howard Talbot has furnished the music. "A Chinese Honeymoon" is in two acts—the scenes being laid in Ylang-Ylang, which is represented as an Imperial seat in the flowery Kingdom. Of course, the management has gathered together an organization of talent which may truly be said to be remarkable in the field of musical comedy. They are as follows: Katie Barry, May DeSousa, Mabelle Baker, Julia Sanderson, Mary Louise Gibben, Evelyn Dunmore, Gene Luneska, Fred W. Mace, Wm. Pruette, Ben. Howard, Geo. Broderick, Joseph Miller and eight stunning bridesmaids and a chorus and ballet of 100. Among the popular pieces of the comedy are the following: "Roly Poly," "A Paper Fan," "I knew At First Sight That I Loved Her," "The A La Girl," "Twiddley Bits," "I Want To Be a Lidy," "Martha Spanks the Grand Pianner," and "A Little Street In Heaven That They Call Broadway."

Talk on Schools.

Superintendent Homer J. Wightman, of the borough schools, will deliver an address before the Men's Assembly, of Grace M. E. church, Friday night. Mr. Wightman's subject will be "The Meaning of a Public School Education Today." He is thoroughly posted on his subject and a valuable talk is looked for by the members.

To Go on the Road.

Manager Runyon, of the Hope Chapel Minstrel Show, is considering a short tour of the production through nearby towns. The troupe is enthusiastically in favor of the idea. So much has been written and said of the show that it would undoubtedly attract a lot of attention on the road in this vicinity.

Special Club Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the Independent Gun Club tomorrow night to discuss details of the purchase of a range and club house on Maple avenue.

Exhibition of Prints.

A fine exhibition of prints will be shown in the rooms of the Plainfield Camera Club today, tomorrow and Thursday to which the public is invited.

INDIAN RELICS TO BE PRESENTED TO LOCAL TRIBE OF RED MEN.

All the braves of Wetumpkah Tribe, Improved Order Red Men, are looking forward to Thursday's meeting with unusual interest. Dr. Merriman is to present the organization with a number of rare and valuable relics of the real red men.

Dr. Merriman is the adopted child of one of the chiefs of a powerful Indian tribe, and is well posted on Indian matters. He has just returned from a six months' trip, during which he visited his old friends of the forest. They gave him many mementoes and relics of the tribe, some of which are far more ancient than the civilization of the continent, and several of the more valuable curios he will present to Wetumpkah. He has already given the tribe a number of notable relics.

In honor of the presentation and the doctor's return, the tribe will hold a public reception. A long bill of entertainment will be presented, and "corn and venison" is to be served.

L. V. F. RANDOLPH ON MERGER DECISION

President of Consolidated Exchange, Discusses U. S. Supreme Court's Opinion.

NO DISTURBING RESULTS

FINANCIER DECLARES ANTI-TRUST ACTIONS WILL PROCEED SLOWLY.

Says That Politics Cannot Push Prosecution Against Mergers—Reverses in Financial Community Not Feared.

L. V. F. Randolph, of this city, president of the New York Consolidated Exchange, has subjected the judgment of the Supreme Court in the Northern Securities case, and likewise the several divergent opinions of the individual members of the court, to a more careful and far-reaching scrutiny, from a market point of view, than perhaps any other man in Wall street. He has hesitated to express an opinion of the ultimate effect of the pronouncement until after mature reflection, and this fact, added to his long experience in the management of large corporations as treasurer of the Illinois Central Railroad, as a director in several important concerns and as a trustee of the Tilden and other large estates, gives his ideas on the subject unusual interest. In answer to a question from a reporter for the Commercial as to the market significance of the decision in this presidential year, President Randolph said yesterday:

"It has been said that the decision opens the way to a kind of political agitation that will be peculiarly upsetting to the market, but I am convinced that such an impression is wrong. The decision cannot have the effect of making the trust question any more acutely a political issue. On the contrary, the decision of the court would seem to have robbed the Democratic party of an issue.

"It is argued that Democratic leaders will demand of the government that it bring actions against scores of other corporations which happen to have brought two or more railroad lines under one ownership, and against all the industrial combinations; but that is not likely, for those who are most insistent in demanding the regulation of corporations is best made slowly and that it will not do to ruthlessly tear business concerns apart. The attorney-general's statement that the government does not propose to 'run amuck,' was well phrased.

"But the important thing to bear in mind is that Justice Harlan's opinion, though delivered as the opinion of the court, does not represent the opinion of the majority of the court. Justice Brewer concurred only in the judgment of the court, not in its opinion. In his own opinion he makes it clear that he concurs in the findings only so far as they apply to the particular case in hand. For that reason this decision does not establish a precedent along the lines laid down in Justice Harlan's opinion. It is very clear that in any case in which the government's side was a little less strong than it was in this, Justice Brewer would be found voting with the four present minority members, three of whom, by the way, are Democrats.—The New York Commercial.

FIRST M. E. WOMEN MEET

ELECTION OF OFFICERS BY FOREIGN MISSION SOCIETY.

On account of the inclement weather there was not a large attendance of members at the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Mission Society, of the First M. E. church, held in Vincent chapel, yesterday afternoon. These are the officers chosen for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Winter; first vice president, Mrs. W. C. Snodgrass; second vice president, Mrs. E. Clark; third vice president, Mrs. D. E. Davis; recording secretary, Miss Sharp; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles Shupp; treasurer, Miss Susie Jackson.

The reports of the secretary showed the society to be in an excellent condition financially and spiritually, there being an increase in membership, contributions and interest. After the business session there was an informal discussion regarding the mission work in China, in which all of those present had a part.

Miss Ethel Walsh, of Lee place, has recovered from her recent illness.

MUHLENBERG GOVERNORS TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

The Board's Number to be Twenty-Four Instead of Nineteen as at Present.

REASONS FOR CHANGE

MOVE IS TO GET NEW BLOOD IN THE INSTITUTION'S MANAGEMENT.

Amendment to By-Laws is Passed—Reorganization of Board to be Made at Annual Meeting Which Takes Place in May.

Increase in the amount of work and detail, the result of the growth of the institution, has made it necessary for the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital to enlarge the governing body. From nineteen, the Board of Governors is to increase in membership to twenty-four.

Action on the change was taken by the Board at its meeting last night, when the amendment to the by-laws, necessary to bring about the enlargement, was passed.

New members will be elected for one, two and three years, and after the change has been inaugurated eight vacancies will be filled at each election annually. At the May meeting of the Board the body will be re-organized and the new members will then be chosen. The regular annual meeting will not occur until June.

It is the desire to get new blood into the Board as much as anything else that inspired the increase of membership. The management of the new hospital, with its wider scope and improved facilities, would make the change necessary in itself, but the Governors feel that there is something more than the present status ahead of the institution. It is not believed that the hospital is to remain where it is as a medical and surgical center, and the impulse of new ideas and fresh vigor is desired to help the institution along the lines of advancement.

INTEREST IN GOODWIN CASE

BOROUGHITES AROUSED OVER THE PROCEEDINGS INSTITUTED.

Interest in the arrest of John Goodwin and the subsequent proceedings has been revived in the borough to a surprising extent by the publication of Recorder Doud's replies to the questions submitted to him by Counsellor Swackhamer in the certiorari action. Many of the North Plainfielders who oppose Mayor Smalley and particularly those who have condemned his course of procedure in this case, were discussing the Recorder's answers yesterday.

Exception is taken to his statements that the testimony did not show that the timbers or logs were on the First Church of Christ property. It is claimed that the logs were undoubtedly there, and that no denial of that can consistently be made.

Among those who expressed surprise at the tenor of the Recorder's replies was Rev. W. E. Honeyman He intimated that the Recorder's statement was not correct, and said several boroughites had discussed the matter with him.

A Daily Press reporter called Recorder Doud's attention to the talk that was going on, but he did not appear to take it seriously. "I was asked a number of questions regarding the testimony in the case," he said, "and answered them rightly in accordance with the evidence presented." This was the only comment he would make.

It is generally believed in the borough that former Senator Reed, the borough counsel, advised the Recorder as to the construction of his replies.

COST OF POWER.

Subject of Evangelist's Address at East Third Street Chapel Last Night.

A much larger congregation gathered at the special services at the Third Street chapel last evening. Mr. Leggett's address on "The Cost of Power" was interesting and forceful. Whitney Frazee's cornet solo, "Will There be Any Stars in My Crown," was well rendered. The choir is greatly aided by two violins and a cornet. This evening Mr. Leggett will speak and Elmer D. Cutting will sing.

A. I. Smalley, of the borough, has recovered from his recent illness.

UNION'S REPUBLICANS READY FOR CONVENTION

Majority Party Men in the County to Select Delegates to Assemble at Trenton.

ENTITLED TO 51 VOTES

TO CHOOSE REPRESENTATIVES OF STATE AT NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Chicago the Place and June 21 the Date to Select a Presidential Candidate—Roosevelt is New Jersey's Choice.

In a short time the Republicans of Union County will be called upon to elect delegates to the State convention that in turn is to name the delegates-at-large and alternates to the Republican National Convention.

May 10 is the date, and Trenton the place of the State convention. Four delegates-at-large and four alternates are to be named. The National Convention is to meet in Chicago on June 21.

The basis of representation at the Trenton convention will be one delegate for each 200 Republican votes cast at the preceding gubernatorial election, and one delegate for each fraction thereof exceeding 100 votes. The number of delegates to which each county is entitled under the present call has been fixed. Union County has fifty-one, Somerset County has seventeen, and Middlesex County has thirty-eight.

It is understood that the delegates to the National Convention will go to Chicago as Roosevelt men. The local organization is understood to be in favor of the President's nomination, and men favorable to his cause will go to Trenton from here.

One of the city leaders said yesterday that it has not been the custom to send instructed delegates to such conventions, but there is little doubt that the men who go to Trenton from Plainfield will feel impelled to work for the election of Roosevelt men to the Chicago delegation.

Judge Runyon was asked as to the attitude of the city organization toward President Roosevelt's aspirations, but he was non-committal to a large extent. "Nothing has been said about it yet," he said, "but I suppose Roosevelt is favored."

"Are you personally in favor of Roosevelt?" he was asked.

"Yes," was the unhesitating reply. "Although I would have preferred Hanna had he lived," he added.

The call for the local convention has not been decided upon as yet.

HARVEY FISK BADLY HURT

A SON OF CHARLES J. FISK INJURED WHILE COASTING AT ANDOVER.

Harvey Fisk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, had a narrow escape from being killed while coasting at Andover, Mass., two weeks ago. He is now under treatment at Boston, and it will probably be two or three weeks before he can return home.

Young Fisk is a student at Phillips-Andover Academy and two weeks ago he was coasting with a number of other students. There were sixteen students on the bob when the unfortunate trip was made, and among them was Mr. Fisk. While going down a long hill at a high rate of speed one of the runners struck a deep rut, upsetting the bob. Mr. Fisk was found beneath the sled and all the other fellows were on top. It was quickly discovered that he was seriously injured and medical aid was summoned. The young man was taken to Boston, where an examination was made and it was learned that his leg and hip were badly crushed, but fortunately no bones were broken. The muscles and tendons of the leg were severely sprained and twisted, making the young man a prisoner for the time being. C. J. Fisk, who just returned from Boston, says that his son is now improving steadily.

DISCONTENT IN JR. O. U. A. M.

AGITATION FAVORING WITHDRAWAL FROM THE STATE COUNCIL.

A story has been in circulation about the State that several Jr. O. U. A. M. Councils intend withdrawing from the State Council and joining the National Council from which the State Council seceded. Action for this is said to be due to the fact that members of the State Council in travelling through the West find that they cannot affiliate with Councils located there and this has been a hinderance to them.

A reporter for The Daily Press in conversation with a prominent member of one of the local Councils, brought forth some facts concerning this report. It is a fact that two-thirds of the entire membership of this country is embodied in the five states that seceded—New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and the District of Columbia, and the remaining one-third comprises the membership of the other States. The chief reason for secession was that the States in the West having a comparatively small number of members wanted as large a representation in the National Council as those States having many times their number. For instance in the whole State of Nebraska there are but 154 members and yet those Juniors wanted just as many representatives as New York, New Jersey or even Pennsylvania, the latter State having 170,000 members. This caused a division and the ultimate affirmation of the action by the courts.

In view of this it would be foolish for members of the New Jersey Council to withdraw, when they are now identified with more than half the entire membership. At any time the National Council will adjust the representation in an equitable manner, the seceders stand ready to return, but until it does, the Councils in the five Eastern States will maintain their present position.

AGITATING HIGH LICENSE

BOROUGH COUNSEL PREPARING FIGURES TO ASK COURT TO CHANGE FEE.

Renewal of his wholesale liquor license was granted Henry Haurand yesterday by the court at Somerville. F. J. Blatz represented Mr. Haurand in making the application.

Of the number of applications presented from various sections of Somerset County, Mr. Haurand's was the only one that went through without protest. There is a lot of opposition to the granting of wholesale license in Somerset this year, particularly around Somerville and Raritan, and many arguments were presented against the applicants from about those places yesterday.

There appears to be a general disapproval of further leniency toward the liquor traffic in the county, and the movement is watched with interest by the North Plainfield officials. They are all pledged to work for an increase of the liquor license in the borough to $600, and are anxious to bring the advance about. In the general opposition to the trade that has sprung up, which cannot but influence Judge Schenck's attitude toward the license increase, to some extent at least, the borough advocates of a higher fee see greater hope for success in their campaign.

Arrangements are being made for the appearance of a delegation before the Court next term to urge the advance for the borough, and Borough Counsel Reed is busy getting figures and arguments together to present a convincing appeal to Judge Schenck, or whoever may be on the bench. Among the general public of the municipality there is no indication of anything but approval of the proposed advance. If a tenth of the people who express an active interest in the matter attend the hearing, an impressive delegation, headed by Mayor Smalley and several Councilmen, will appear to urge the change upon the court.

CRITERION CLUB'S DANCE.

Young People Have a Pleasant Night at the Casino.

Young people from a number of other towns and cities were the guests of the Criterion Club at a delightful dance at the Casino last night. The affair was well attended, and passed off with the usual measure of success that attends Criterion functions. A Newark orchestra played.

Among the guests were residents of Elizabeth, New Brunswick, Somerville, Brooklyn, Dunellen and New York. The committee in charge consisted of Clarence Brokaw, chairman; Albert Clark and Louis Gardner.

THE HOSPITAL BOARD TAKES IMPORTANT STEPS

Governors of Muhlenberg Arrange for the Early Construction of Nurses' Home.

TO COST ABOUT $14,000

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE FOR THE BUILDING OF ISOLATION WARDS.

Pass Resolution of Thanks for Donations Made by Heirs of James Clark—The Location for the Nurses' Home.

Considerable business of importance occupied the attention of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, at a special meeting held last night at the Public Library. The question of building a nurses' home near the new hospital came up for discussion and it was decided to go ahead at once and erect the structure. Preliminary plans, showing the two floors, were presented and adopted and the architect, Evarts Tracy, was instructed to get them in shape, and prepare specifications for the reception of bids.

It is proposed to make the building a frame one. It will be two stories high and contain eight double and thirteen single rooms, accommodating twenty-nine nurses. It is generally anticipated that the structure will cost in the neighborhood of $14,000 and the Board of Governors believe that there is now about $10,000 in sight, including the recent bequest of $5,000 from Mrs. James Clark, her sons, Frank L., and James E. Clark, who gave $15,000 for the endowment fund, with the understanding that $5,000 of it could be used towards building the nurses' home.

The location for the home was not decided upon last night. The building will be such that it can be placed anywhere on the land owned by the hospital. However, the probability is that it will be located either on Park avenue or on Randolph road, east of the hospital. It will be in every way in keeping with the hospital as to architecture and improvements.

The members also discussed the question of building the isolation wards, the erection of which has been made possible by a generous donation from Mrs. Milliken, her son in New York and Mr. and Mrs. James DeGraff, of this city. The plans for the wards were discussed and the building committee was authorized to see those who are to pay for their construction and ascertain whether they have their approval. If so the architect will also prepare the necessary specifications for the reception of bids and go ahead with the work.

A communication was received from Mrs. James Clark and her sons, Frank L., and James E. Clark, informing the Board of the donation of $15,000 to the hospital endowment fund and stating the object of the same. The communication was received and resolutions expressing the hearty thanks of the Board for the generous donation were unanimously adopted, and a copy will be sent to the family.

BOROUGH COUPLE ELOPE ON SUNDAY

Florence Baker, of Somerset St., Secretly Weds Oscar Waldron, of Chatham St.

A BRIDE OF FIFTEEN

AFTER CEREMONY TAKES PLACE IN DUNELLEN COUPLE DISAPPEAR.

Bride's Parents Opposing the Marriage Unable to Frustrate the Plans—The Groom is Employed in New York.

Miss Florence Baker, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baker, of Somerset street, and Oscar Waldron, of Chatham street, were married Sunday night last by Rev. Samuel K. Doolittle, pastor of the M. E. church, Dunellen. The marriage took place at the home of Mr. Doolittle.

The parents of the bride were unaware of the marriage until after the ceremony had taken place and the present whereabouts of the couple is not known, as they did not return home. She was home on Sunday, attending Sunday-school in the afternoon. At night she accompanied her mother to the home of a sick woman, it having been arranged that she was to remain with the sick person that night. This she failed to do, but instead left the house and met Mr. Waldron. The couple made the trip to Dunellen, where they were wedded.

While Miss Baker's parents had knowledge of her companionship with Mr. Waldron, they did not approve of it and the marriage took place without their consent. They did all that was possible to restrain their daughter from meeting Mr. Waldron. The mother is greatly worried about her daughter and has been making every effort to ascertain where she is, but without avail. The groom is a mechanic employed in New York and both he and his bride are well-known in the borough.

TO APPOINT THE TEACHERS

ANNOUNCEMENT OF BOROUGH'S CORPS TO BE MADE MONDAY NIGHT.

Next Monday night the borough Board of Education will hold its first regular meeting of the new fiscal year. One of the features of the meeting will be the announcement of the complete list of teachers for the year. There will be several changes in the force, as a number of the instructors have signed contracts with other boards. Superintendent Wightman has their successors in view.

It is extremely probable that the question of the new school building will come up. From unofficial hints given by a prominent member of the board it is believed that another vote on the question will be ordered.

AS A THEATRE.

Music Hall in West Front Street Being Held for That Purpose by An Estate.

Stillman Music Hall, owned by an estate which is represented by William M. Stillman, Esq., will not be used as a storage place as reported recently, but the property is still in the market to be used as a theatre. The owners would like to dispose of the property, guaranteeing to give a good title and a desirable entrance to the hall. If the right party should get hold of this hall and improve the same, bringing it up to the requirements of a modern theatre, there seems to be but little doubt but that the hall would pay as an amusement place.

EXHIBITING PRINTS.

CITIZENSHIP'S DUTIES, SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

Prof. H. A. Garfield, of Princeton University, Talks to Crescent Ave. Men's Club.

DEAD PRESIDENT'S SON

HONESTY AND EFFICIENCY REQUISITES OF GOOD GOVERNMENT.

The Public School An Effective Institution—Spasmodic Reform of No Avail—A Scholarly Address by a Learned Man.

Professor Harry A. Garfield, of Princeton University, departed from his rule to address none but Princeton audiences last night, by delivering a lecture on the obligations of American citizenship to the Men's Club of the Crescent Avenue church. Mr. Garfield had a large and attentive audience and his address was excellent. He was introduced by Dr. B. VanD. Hedges.

In opening his remarks, Prof. Garfield explained his departure from his custom by the fact that the request for his speech was made by his collegemate at Williams, Rev. J. S. Zelie. He then discussed the duties of citizenship in a general rather than specific way, holding that conditions so differed in different municipalities that it was unwise for a stranger to advise concerning them.

He compared the politics of today with conditions of 1787 when the constitution was drawn up. The life of that early time in United States history lacked the complexity of today. Everyone had leisure to devote to a consideration of questions of public moment.

He asked if the constitution had changed in meaning in the century that has passed and answered that the meaning is the same if you follow the spirit and not the same if you follow the letter. The constitution still stands for the fundamental truth in American political life and is the compass and chart to guide in mapping out present day politics.

What are the obligations of a citizen? asked Mr. Garfield, and how is he to meet them? He must first know conditions, then be able to think concerning the best method for attacking problems that present themselves and, thirdly, must be able to act courageously. In addition he must be able to feel sympathy with elements and classes not his own. He must have an appreciation of their view-point.

Honesty and efficiency are prime requisites in the government of a republic, said Mr. Garfield, but there are degrees and different standards of efficiency. The object should be to get on a common ground in judging efficiency and create the sympathy between classes that leads to knowledge. As an illustration of the efficacy of this idea he mentioned the experience of a municipal club of Cleveland, composed of representatives of the well-to-do and laboring classes with socialistic and labor-union elements included.

The public schools, said Prof. Garfield, should not be encroached upon by private institutions. It is better for a boy to learn his lessons in company with boys of other grades in society than his own. In this he learns sympathy.

Mr. Garfield showed the ineffectiveness of sporadic attempts to sweep a municipality clean of some particular evil. Reformers should lay a deep and broad foundation for their reforms or they are likely to produce more temporary results. This was illustrated by the experience of New York city, first with Tammany Hall and then with the Reform. Are not? Mr. Garfield asked, evolutionary methods better than revolutionary. Isn't it better to build upon conditions as they are rather than to overturn completely all existing methods?

Prof. Garfield is a pleasing speaker and has a forceful and entertaining way of making things clear. At the conclusion of his address refreshments were served. The programme was in charge of a committee consisting of Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, J. P. Murray, L. R. Hopton, D. M. VanVleit, G. M. Griffin and J. E. Kimball.

NOTICE TO GAS CONSUMERS

P. S. C. NOTIFIES ITS LOCAL PATRONS OF BIG REDUCTION.

It will be welcome news to the citizens of Plainfield to learn that the Public Service Corporation will inaugurate their advent into the local gas field by reducing the price of gas used for illuminating purposes to that charged for fuel and reducing the gross rate from $1.50 to $1.35.

This reduction will take effect on April 1st, and will apply to March sales which will be issued on that date.

The new rate will be $1.35 per 1,000 cubic feet, with a further reduction of 10 cent per 1,000 if bills are paid prior to the 10th of the month in which they are rendered.

This new rate offers the public an excellent opportunity to use gas as a fuel, as well as an illuminant. In this age of progress no home or kitchen is complete without a gas range or a gas water heater.

The Public Service is making many improvements in their local gas plant, installing new mains, enlarging old ones and making a general betterment of the service throughout the entire system.

Service connections will be made in the homes where gas will be used free of cost. The most efficient appliances for both light and fuel will be sold to the consumers at absolute cost. Only appliances that have been tested and found economical are sold by the Public Service. Stores and houses, without gas connection, will be piped at cost, meters installed free, and every effort made to meet the demands of the consumers.

The policy of the Public Service, being so liberal, their consumers can use gas economically thereby bettering the conditions of the home. adv

AMUSEMENTS.

Henry W. Savage's new comic opera production "The Yankee Consul," with Raymond Hitchcock in the star part, is the musical sensation of the season in New York, where it is playing to the capacity of the big Broadway Theatre every night. This popular playhouse, wherein so many notable plays, musical and dramatic, have enjoyed extended runs, has seldom had a more attractive offering than the present one. Alan Dale, New York's distinguished dramatic and music critic, commenting upon the season's musical productions in last Sunday's American and Journal, says: "There have been twenty musical productions here since September. Of these, how many have succeeded? You can think of 'The Yankee Consul;' that 'caught on' because it was clever and good. The others—most of them—fell by the wayside." The company in its entirety is one of the best that has ever appeared in New York, and a particularly large and well drilled chorus is a feature of the production. "The Yankee Consul" will begin its sixth week on Monday evening, March 28. Matinees are given at the Broadway on Wednesday and Saturday during this engagement.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCE FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

It's a fact that you can obtain the best cuts of meat at J. W. VanSickle's store on North avenue.

There is a right way of wiring your house and a wrong way. John H. McCullough, of West Front street, does it the right way.

A Kane, of Filmore avenue, is prepared to fill any orders for second hand lumber. He has just bought in a large supply of the best.

S. Hirsh, the ladies' tailor, of Watchung avenue, has opened the season with an attractive line of imported models. His work is expert.

There is no use in complaining about inferior drugs or medicines. Take the only proper remedy. Trade at Nagle's drug store, West Front street.

Don't keep the old records forever. New and up-to-the minute phonograph records can be purchased at New York prices at Harry K. Lister's store on North avenue.

The work of Titus H. Laury, the contractor and builder, has always stood the test of time. He uses only the best materials and employs only experienced mechanics.

Quick lunch does not always mean a cheap New York restaurant. Many housewives often feel the need of making a "quick lunch" for unexpected guests. Then is R. W. Barnes, the delicatessen dealer, the man of the hour.

Let us give you a bit of advice. When you want pure, fresh, sweet milk, notify the Lindsay dairy, of Mountain avenue. Try it once and you will be sorry you didn't try it earlier. The process of preparing Lindsay's milk eliminates all possibility of the use of preservatives or coloring.

Jacob Fass, proprietor of the Paris Cloak Company, is making extensive arrangements for the spring and summer trade. He will have in stock an exceptional line of cloaks, women's tailor-made suits, waists, both plain and fancy, and as soon as he takes possession of his new store these goods will be displayed in an attractive manner.

In your plans for spring house furnishing do not forget those pretty Chinese and Japanese mattings that make rooms and halls so pretty at slight cost. Lederer's are closing out their stock preparatory to the change in ownership, and matting of new designs are being sold far below the usual prices. There are many other opportunities for bargains.

FORMS A NEW PLAN

Northern Securities Company Reduces Its Capital Stock.

PROVIDES DIVIDEND OF 99 PER CENT

President Hill Makes an Explanation to Stockholders—Claims Acts of Company Were Not Obnoxious to the Federal Laws.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Following a day of great excitement in the stock market and numerous conferences among the leading financial interests, the new plan of the Northern Securities company has been made public. In substance it provides for a stock dividend of 99 per cent, this to be effected by a reduction of that amount in the capital stock of the Securities company.

For every share of Northern Securities stock surrendered the company will deliver $39.27 stock of the Northern Pacific Railway company and $30.17 of the Great Northern Railway company. The shares of the Northern Pacific company which were taken over by Northern Securities at 115 and those of Great Northern at 180 will be distributed on this basis.

The other assets of the Securities company, consisting chiefly of its Chicago, Burlington and Quincy holdings and Northern Pacific coal lands, will remain in the treasury of the company until some plan for their distribution has been evolved.

Official notice of a new plan, which is signed by President Hill under this date, was sent to Northern Securities stockholders in a circular letter, which says in part:

"Since the formation of your company with a view of promoting, developing and enlarging the commerce and traffic of the country served by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railway companies and by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad company the traffic and earnings of the three railways have largely increased. The rates paid by the public have been materially reduced. The respective railways have been extended and their condition and facilities improved and increased.

"The stock of the Northern Securities company was issued solely for the shares of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railway companies and other properties purchased by it. In forming the company and disposing of its shares no commissions were paid nor has the company incurred any expenses save those necessary for obtaining its charter and for the economical conduct of its affairs.

"The company's acquisition of Northern Pacific and Great Northern shares was made in the full belief that such purchases were in nowise obnoxious to any law of the United States, an opinion which has received the approval of four justices of the supreme court of the United States—namely, Chief Justice Fuller and Associate Justices Edward D. White, Rufus W. Peckham and Oliver Wendell Holmes—in the suit brought by the United States against the right of the company to hold and vote the shares. However, the majority of the court, disregarding as irrelevant any beneficial increase of commerce, was of the opinion that as a matter of law your company's holdings of the stocks of the two railway companies in itself constituted a restraint of interstate commerce prohibited by the so called Sherman act of 1890. Accordingly the railway companies have been forbidden to permit your company to vote or to collect dividends on the shares held by it.

"Therefore your directors at a meeting have, under the advice of counsel, decided that in order to fully and promptly comply with the decree in this suit it is necessary to reduce the capital stock of the company and to distribute to its shareholders the shares of stock of said railway companies now held by it.

"To this end they have adopted resolutions recommending to the stockholders:

"First.—That the capital stock of this company be reduced from 3,954,000 shares, now outstanding, to 39,540, being a reduction of 99 per cent.

"Second.—That said 99 per cent of the present outstanding shares be called in for surrender and cancellation.

"Third.—That against each share of the stock of this company so to be surrendered there will be delivered $39.27 stock of the Northern Pacific Railway company, $30.17 stock of the Great Northern Railway company and proportionate amounts thereof for each fraction of a share of stock."

To Try Scarlet Fever on Apes.

JEROME TRIUMPHED

Senators Attack New York's District Attorney.

GAMBLERS MUST HUNT TALL GRASS

Malby Said Gamblers Did Not Play Fair Game; Thief Was Proper Title For Them—Marshall Scored Brackett.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 23.—The Jerome witness bill, so called, introduced by Senator Dowling at the behest of District Attorney Jerome of New York with intent to abrogate the privilege of persons who have participated in gambling, which the law makes a felony, of refusing to testify on the plea that such testimony would tend to degrade or incriminate them, has been passed by the senate after nearly five hours of the most sensational debate of the present session.

The vote was: Yeas, 27; nays, 20. The bill as passed is in the original form to take effect immediately. The proposed amendments designed to defer the operation of the act until Sept. 1 and to declare it inapplicable to any pending case or proceedings were defeated.

The closing debate on the bill, which gives the courts the right to force persons who have entered gambling houses to testify against the proprietors thereof, was marked by the bitterest attacks on District Attorney Jerome of New York, who is the father of the bill. Mr. Jerome wants witnesses against Richard Canfield, the noted alleged gambling house keeper, and he has openly asserted that he particularly desired to find out what Reginald Vanderbilt and Jesse Lewisohn knew about Canfield's. At the first hearing of the Canfield case Mr. Jerome attempted to make Lewisohn testify, but the court of appeals decided that Lewisohn need not testify if he didn't want to.

Senator Elsberg briefly recited the history of the Lewisohn case before the court of appeals and drew a vivid picture of the abuses which might arise under the proposed law. He characterized it as both vicious and unconstitutional.

Senator Brackett finally withdrew his original amendments and substituted one providing that, while the act should take effect immediately, it should apply to no pending case.

Senator Malby, while disclaiming any concern with Mr. Jerome, spoke in favor of the bill. He said that at Canfield's and other gambling houses a man had "no show" whatever for his money; that the term "gambler" was elevating as applied to such, whereas "thief" was the proper word.

Senator Malby said he could see no reason why the bill should not be made to "take effect immediately."

"This bill if passed," said Senator Grady, "will apply to all cases, all witnesses and all district attorneys, and the intent to make it applicable to the case of Richard Canfield or Reginald Vanderbilt has nothing to do with the matter at all. This bill is a threat against the fundamental rights of the individual."

Senator Malby said he wasn't sitting up at nights worrying about the rights of any witness who had been participating in the crime of gambling.

Senator E. R. Brown referred to the case of Reginald Vanderbilt, "a young man twenty-one years old," and asked how Senator Malby would feel if he were his own son or the son of a brother senator.

In terms not unlike those of Senator Brackett, Mr. Jerome was denounced by Senator E. R. Brown. He further said that Mr. Jerome was anxious on any terms to keep his name associated with that of the Vanderbilt family.

Senator Marshall, on the other hand, scored Senator Brackett for his alleged relations with Canfield. He said the senator had consumed an hour in an attempt to prove himself an honest man.

The vote was then taken on the amendment that the bill should take effect immediately, but should not apply to any pending case.

The amendment was lost by a vote of 16 to 31. The main question was then put to vote and the bill passed.

A GREAT WATERWAY

Roosevelt to the Panama Canal Commissioners.

WILL BE RECORD ENGINEERING FEAT

A Work That Will Reflect High Honor Upon the Nation and That Will Be a Benefit to the Whole Civilized World.

WASHINGTON, March 23. — The president has sent the following message to the isthmian canal commissioners:

"I have appointed you as the commission which is to undertake the most important and also the most formidable engineering feat that has hitherto been attempted. You are to do a work the doing of which if well done will reflect high honor upon this nation and when done will be of incalculable benefit not only to this nation, but to civilized mankind.

"As you yourselves must individually know, I have chosen you with reference to nothing save my belief after full and patient inquiry that you are among all the available men of whom I have knowledge those best fitted to bring this great task to a successful conclusion. You have been chosen purely because of your personal and professional reputations for integrity and ability. You represent the whole country. You represent neither section nor party. I have not sought to find out the politics of a single one of you, and indeed as to the majority of you I have not the slightest idea what your political affiliations are.

"I believe that each one of you will serve not merely with entire fidelity, but with the most efficiency. If at any time I feel that any one of you is not rendering the best service which it is possible to procure I shall feel called upon to disregard alike my feelings for the man and the man's own feelings and forthwith to substitute for him on the commission some other man whom I deem capable of rendering better service. Moreover, I shall expect if at any time any one of you feels that the work is too exhausting and engrossing for him to do in the best possible manner that he will of his own accord so inform me in order that I may replace him by some man who to the requisite ability joins the will and the strength to give all the effort needed. But so long as you render efficient service of the highest type in the work you are appointed to perform you may rest assured of my hearty support and backing in every way.

"As to the details of the work itself I have but little to say. It is to be done as expeditiously as possible and as economically as is consistent with thoroughness. There is one matter to which I ask your special attention, the question of sanitation and hygiene. You will take measures to secure the best medical experts for this purpose whom you can obtain, and you will, of course, make the contractors submit as implicitly as your own employees to all the rules and regulations of the medical department under you. I presume you will find it best to have one head for this medical department, but that I shall leave to your own judgment."

Cause of the New England Quake.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 23.—Professor Henry Shaler Williams of Yale, who was recently elected head of the geological department of Cornell university, states that the earthquake felt in New England was undoubtedly caused by a slip in a crack of the earth's surface. Down deep in the crust one of the two faces of a crack moved against the other, causing the jarring. By the readjustment of the two faces tension was relieved, and there is no immediate danger of a recurrence of the shock.

A Filipino Double Wedding.

TACOMA, Wash., March 23.—Two hundred and thirty-five natives of the Philippines who arrived on the steamship Shawmut have left for the St. Louis exposition in charge of Dr. Hunt, governor of the province of Northern Luzon. Most of the members of the party are married, but there are two single men, and arrangements are being made for a double wedding after the party reaches St. Louis.

Payne and Mrs. Miles Better.

WASHINGTON, March 23. — Postmaster General Payne is now able to sit up for a time. The gout in the right foot is still troubling him some, but that in the left has improved considerably. The progress toward recovery is tedious. Mrs. Miles, wife of Lieutenant General Miles, retired, is reported to be improving. She had a comfortable day.

Did General Crook Business.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 23.—A man giving the name of L. Ivey has been arrested here by federal authorities on the charge of robbing postoffices and altering money orders. He has been partially identified as the man who robbed several Milwaukee residences of diamonds last year. He is held for trial.

Five Hundred Girls on Strike.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Five hundred bindery girls employed in the large printing and publishing establishments here have struck for a 10 per cent wage increase. The girls are members of the Bindery Women's union and have been earning from $6 to $10 a week.

Bubonic Fatal to Eighty-two.

JOHANNESBURG, March 23.—Up to date the total number of deaths from bubonic plague is forty-two white and forty colored persons.

When the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital decided last night to increase its membership an important and wise step was taken, which means for the institution more than is at first supposed. There has been some feeling in certain quarters that the hospital, so far as its government is concerned, is a close corporation. We do not claim this ourselves but merely report it as prevalent talk. The plan to make it a more representative body is therefore a good one for if proper selections are made, and we are sanguine that they will be, it will put an end to such contentions. The Daily Press respectfully suggests that the Common Council of Plainfield and the Council of North Plainfield be given representation in the membership of Muhlenberg Hospital.

CENTENARIAN BURIED.

Funeral Services Held Over Remains of Mrs. Swartout-Remsen.

Nearly all of the living descendants of Mrs. Letitia Swartout-Remsen, who died Saturday in her one hundred and first year, gathered yesterday afternoon for the simple funeral services at the residence of her son, Abraham S. Remsen, at 25 Sandford avenue. The tributes of flowers were many and there were relatives present from Brooklyn, N. Y., to Richmond, Va.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, of the Trinity Reformed church, in the absence of Mrs. Remsen's pastor, Rev. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church. "Abide With Me" was sung by Elmer E. Runyon. The body was taken today to Cypress Hills, N. Y., for burial.

WILLIAM E. EARL BURIED

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER THE REMAINS OF A FORMER BONIFACE.

Funeral services of the late William E. Earl were held from his late home last night at 7 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, of Plainfield, officiating. The double parlors of the hotel as well as the other rooms of the old hostelry were filled with the friends who had gathered to pay their respects to one who had only been a resident of the town for a year, but during that time had made many friends. Dr. Schenck spoke words of comfort and sympathy to the sorrowing family in their bereavement. The floral offerings, which were many, were silent testimonials of the sympathy and love of friends. Interment will be made today in Fairmount cemetery, Newark

Mr. Earl has conducted the old hostelry on the corner for the past year, purchasing the business from Fred Ivamy. During that time the hotel has been conducted so as to meet with the approval of all and the famous old landmark had regained much of its former prestige under his management. Several months ago his health, which had been very poor for sometime, began to fail rapidly. Specialists were consulted and he was advised to give up active business and take a special course of treatment. This was done but it was of no avail as he continued to sink and for several weeks his death has been expected.

Last week Mrs. Earl received a message stating that the end was near. She hurried to his side and was with him until he passed peacefully away at 8 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the sanitarium. For the present, William Sullivan, who has acted as manager during Mr. Earl's illness, will continue the hotel business.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

It is given on good authority that the terminus of the street car line from Elizabeth and Plainfield will be changed to Taylor's corner within a short time, the idea being to run the cars from Plainfield through the centre of the borough. Officials of the P. S. C. were in the borough yesterday looking over the ground preparatory to making the change, which would mean, of course, that the terminus for the Bound Brook cars would also be Taylor's corner.

Rev. L. E. Livermore, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church next Sunday morning in the absence of Mr. Doolittle, who will be at the Newark conference. F. H. Martin, of Plainfield, will speak at the evening meeting.

There will be several boroughites in attendance at the wedding of Asa C. Huff and Miss Mabel VanFleet in Somerville this afternoon. Mr. Huff was formerly a resident of the borough. Among the guests will be Miss Edna Huff, the groom's cousin.

The delegates to the Methodist laymen's association meeting at Newark, P. C. Smith and P. R. Apgar, alternate, will leave Friday. L. H. Gise or I. J. Stites, delegate and alternate to the lay electoral conference, will leave on the same day.

Theodore Eisbush held the bowling record for last week. He made a score of 214 Saturday night and preceded it by scores of 208, 215 and 222 during the week, most of his other totals reaching 190.

The young men of the borough will give a dance in Apgar's Hall Thursday night, March 31. It will be in the nature of a return affair for the recent leap year dance.

Daniel Moody, who has been spending several weeks here recuperating from an illness, expects to return soon to Newport News.

FOR THEIR MIKADO

Japanese Squadron Has Another Shy at Port Arthur.

MUST HAVE ORIENTAL GIBRALTAR

Eleven Battleships and Eighteen Destroyers Pour in Their Fire—Russians Made a Sortie—Five Russians Killed, Nine Wounded.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 23.—The emperor has received the following telegram from Viceroy Alexeieff:

"Lieutenant General Stoessel reports that early on Tuesday morning Japanese torpedo boats were discovered outside of Port Arthur by our searchlights. The guard ships and fort batteries opened fire upon them, the firing lasting for twenty minutes. At 4 o'clock in the morning the attack was renewed.

"At daylight four of the enemy's battleships appeared from the south, followed by the whole squadron of eleven ships and eight torpedo boats. Our squadron left the roadstead to meet and engage them.

"At 9 o'clock the enemy's battleships opened fire on Liaotishin, after which they took up a position behind the rocky eminence of Liaotishin and bombarded Port Arthur.

"According to Lieutenant General Stoessel the enemy's fleet consisted of six battleships and twelve cruisers. During the attack the Japanese fleet divided, the battleships and torpedo boats taking up a position between Liaotishin and Golubinaia bay (Pigeon bay), while the cruisers formed up in two divisions to the south and southeast of Port Arthur.

"The battleship Retvizan opened fire over the crest of Liaotishin against the enemy's battleships, which replied by firing on the town. Meanwhile our fleet formed up in line in the outer roadstead.

"At 7 o'clock our squadron left the inner harbor, the cruisers leading, with the Askold flying Admiral Makaroff's flag at their head, and the battleships following.

"The enemy's battleships approached Liaotishin and fired 100 shells from their twelve inch guns at Port Arthur and 108 shells at the environs of the town.

"Our shells, fired at a range of eighty cables, were well placed. About 10 o'clock a Japanese battleship was struck by a shell and retired.

"About 11 o'clock in the morning the cannonade slackened, and the Japanese fleet reuniting drew off slowly to the southeast and at 12:30 had disappeared.

"During the bombardment five soldiers were killed and nine were wounded."

Viceroy Alexeieff further reports under date of March 22:

"General Mistchenkow reports that our scouts approached Anju and observed on the left bank of the Chengcheng river, opposite Anju, intrenchments made by the enemy. Up to that date the enemy had not appeared at Yongpyon, fifteen miles northeast of Anju. It is supposed that there is one Japanese division at Anju and that the remainder of the First army corps is close to Pingyang.

"In consequence of the report that two squadrons of the enemy's cavalry had arrived at Pakchon, fifteen miles northwest of Anju, 200 of our cavalry were dispatched for the purpose of preventing the enemy from crossing the Pakchon river. Our cavalry found three Japanese squadrons on the left bank of the river, but they withdrew toward Anju on the arrival of our detachment without fighting.

"A party of our Cossack dispatch riders encountered a Japanese patrol between Kazan and Chenchu, northwest of Pingyang. The patrol opened fire, but our troopers escaped unhurt.

"According to a report 3,000 of the enemy's cavalry occupied Yongpyon, and the material for pontoon bridges has been placed in readiness north and south of Anju."

General Mistchenkow reports that the Japanese have taken the precaution to erect earthworks near Anju, which are being held by a division until the remainder of the First army corps comes up from Pingyang, about forty miles away. The advance of the Japanese shows that they are losing no time and that they are more rapid than the Russians expected. Nevertheless the fortification of Anju shows the Japanese operations are accompanied by all proper military precautions.

So far as the Russians are concerned they have no intention of attacking Anju, but the province of the 5,000 or 6,000 cavalrymen under General Mistchenkow will be to harass and retard the Japanese in every way possible.

The authorities here believe that it will be only a matter of a short time now when active land operations begin, but at first these will take the form of skirmishes, as the main Russian force remains in occupation of strategical points on the Yalu river.

The Russian government has, since the outbreak of the war, sent exactly 100,000 troops to the far east by the Siberian railway.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS!

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED!

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

FOR DRESSY WEAR.

Chiffon Cloth Has Come to Stay. Black and White Effects.

The chou will soon have to give way to the little double bow which is being seen on so many waists and gowns.

In jeweled effects bluish and greenish tints are favored, and these are mounted in dull rose gold. Green in all its shades is becoming once more popular, and it is a good thing, for few other tints look as well for spring and summer wear.

Chiffon cloth has come to stay, for it is dainty as well as serviceable and can be finely tucked and shirred. Chiffon dresses are now being made of faint colorings in dull browns and moleskin tints. Shirring is the almost invariable trimming. Dyed lace forms a frequent trimming, and a bertha or cape collar of this is always handsome.

The black cloth gown made of very fine material is extremely chic, particularly when it is trimmed with openwork embroidery which allows glimpses of a bright taffeta lining to be seen, such as a deep red or green. Among the smartest novelties are Monte Carlo toques in the long pointed shape, all covered with fruit—currants, raisins, plums even—and draped with lace.

The beauty of many of the new gowns consists in their carefully shaded trimmings.

The black hat trimmed with black and white ostrich feathers is always smart, whether in summer or winter.

The illustration shows a white straw hat trimmed with a single black feather.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FRILLS AND FASHIONS.

Trimmings Are Horizontal—Smart Gowns For Evening Wear.

Nearly all the trimmings now are horizontal.

The old fashioned shawls can be turned into very pretty evening wraps, and the same is true of wedding veils, which are made up with chiffon over soft satin.

One of the prettiest evening gowns seen recently was of black spotted net over white chiffon and silk. The waist was almost covered by a deep bertha made of three narrow ruffles. The skirt had a shirred hip yoke, and from the knees down was a mass of ruffles; each ruffle was bound with a narrow black velvet ribbon. The short sleeve puffs were decorated with tiny velvet rosettes and the velvet sash had fancifully knotted ends.

Another evening dress was of heavy white lace and chiffon. The chiffon skirt, accordion plaited, had a very deep yoke, almost an overskirt, of the lace. The waist was of the full plaited chiffon with a front piece and puffs of lace. The decolletage was outlined with tiny white rosebuds.

A pale green taffeta which is being made for a smart woman has its skirt arranged in heavy plaits from the waist. Above the knees are enormous tucks headed with ruches. Around the waist is a swathed band with knotted ends and little taffeta roses. These roses also ornament the pelerine collar and are intermingled with shades of pale pink and heliotrope.

White frocks will be worn quite as much as ever this spring and summer, and they will be supplemented by the white cloth coat and the white broadcloth trimmed with a feather or white [illegible].

The illustration shows one of these white cloth coats. It has a cape collar coming well down over the shoulders. It is trimmed with black and white braid.

LA MORNA FOUNDERED.

Wreckage Found Afloat Believed to Be From Ill Fated Steamer.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 23.—The Dominion government steamer Quadra reached Clayoquot Monday night, but reported nothing of the missing steamer Queen City. She is going on to Quadino, inquiring along the coast. Ucculet Indians found packages of documents floating near Cape Peale Sunday afternoon, among a lot of ship wreckage, and took them to Bamfield Creek cable station. The operator there refuses to divulge the contents of the papers, but it is understood that they are from the Scotch steamer La Morna, which, it is believed, foundered in the southwest hurricane a week ago Thursday.

The La Morna last reported sheltering in Clallam bay March 1. She put to sea just in time to encounter the hurricane, which prevented her beating out and drove her toward the rocky coast.

Marine men here are inclined to think both the Queen City and the La Morna are lost with all hands.

The Missing Queen City.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 23.—It was reported here that the missing steamer Queen City was on the rocks at Hesquoit bay, west coast of Vancouver island. Indians were said to have seen the vessel there, but this report is not accepted by shipping men.

"Kid" Morgan Under Arrest.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., March 23.—Charles Morgenstein, better known as "Kid" Morgan, a local prize fighter, has been arrested, having been indicted by the grand jury on the charge of offering to give testimony favorable to the Fonda, Johnstown and Gloversville Railroad company in an action brought against that corporation by John Lonergan for damages. It is charged that Morgenstein offered to give the kind of testimony the company wanted if he could get $300, and the offer was overheard by two witnesses, one of whom was a stenographer and who took down the words of the offer.

Poisoned by Hog's Liver.

NEW LONDON, Conn., March 23.—Charles J. Champion and Mrs. Champion are in a precarious condition from the effects of ptomaine poisoning, and there is little hope for the recovery of Mrs. Champion. On Monday night they had a supper of hog's liver, and both became ill during the night. The family physician administered antidotes, and Mr. Champion has shown signs of recovery. His wife is not expected to live through the night.

Admits a Grewsome Plot.

CHICAGO, March 23.—A grewsome plot to get valuables found upon victims of the Iroquois fire has been admitted to the police by John Mahnken, who was arrested several days ago and who was accused of seeking to get possession of the body of Mrs. Amelia Mueller of Milwaukee and also that of Mrs. Frank R. Greenwald. On Mrs. Mueller's body was $400. On Mrs. Greenwald's fingers were several valuable rings.

Ameer Has Been Poisoned.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 23.—A dispatch received from Ashkabad, the capital of the Russian Transcaspian territory, says a rumor is current there that the ameer of Afghanistan has been poisoned. Habibullah Khan, the ameer, succeeded to the throne on the death of his father, Abdur Rahman Khan, Oct. 1, 1901. Poisoning is the favorite method of changing the sovereign in Afghanistan.

Rock River on the Rampage.

JANESVILLE, Wis., March 23.—Damage to the extent of $100,000 in Rock county has resulted in the last twenty-four hours from Turtle creek overflowing its banks. Rock river is also on the rampage, and in the low lying factory districts in this city the damage has been extensive. The Monterey dam is weakening and if it breaks will cause much damage by floods.

Cashier and $100,000 Wanted.

RIVERSIDE, Cal., March 23. — A warrant charging embezzlement of amounts said to aggregate over $100,000 from the Orange Growers' National bank of Riverside has been issued for the arrest of H. T. Hays, former cashier of the bank, but he has not been apprehended. Hays formerly was the purchasing agent of the Salt Lake railroad at this place.

Poison Suspect an Epileptic.

CINCINNATI, O., March 23.—Agnes Massie, whom the police suspect of poisoning the family of Daniel Bowdle, resulting in the death of Mrs. Bowdle and the illness of three others, was adjudged an epileptic by Probate Judge Nippert. She was ordered sent to the epileptic hospital at Gallipolis.

Trolley Binghamton to Ithaca.

NEVER IS FOUND NAPPING.

Congressman Babcock of Wisconsin Is High Priest of the "Get There" Cult.

Joseph Weeks Babcock, of Wisconsin, who has managed the republican congressional campaign for five campaigns, is known as the "Sage of Necedah." This does not indicate the silvered locks and snowy beard that are supposed to be the outward signs of ripened wisdom. There is no silver about "Bab," as he is more familiarly known among his congressional colleagues. He has the outward appearance of a prosperous, well contented business man. He is of stocky build, generous girth, florid complexion and wears a black mustache and chin whiskers and a full suit of black hair. He has a Teutonic cast of countenance, but there is no German strain in his blood. He comes of an old New England family, and first saw the light of day at Swanton, Vt. He is rather proud of his connection with the old New England family of Weeks, and prefers to be called by that name instead of the more familiar Joseph.

JOSEPH W. BABCOCK.
(Wisconsin Congressman, Who Runs Congressional Campaigns.)

Mr. Babcock is a living exponent of the gospel of "get there." He is a successful business man with a decided taste for politics and a faculty of landing in any position he wants. Asked if he can do anything, Babcock always answers: "I reckon I can." When the time came to elect representatives to the Fifty-fourth congress, the republican leaders went to Babcock and asked him if he could act as chairman of the campaign committee. "I reckon I can," was the answer. "Can you elect a republican house?" was the next query. "I reckon I can," was the brief response. How well he performed his duties was shown by a republican majority of some 40 in the house.

THE VISCOUNT DE HAYASHI

Japanese Ambassador at London Is Considered Prince of Oriental Diplomats.

Mouern Japanese diplomacy has won many notable victories. It is therefore but natural to conclude that the mikado wants to strengthen his diplomatic corps in every way, especially at this time when several European nations have not yet made up their minds whether to sympathize with Russia or Japan in the present conflict in the far east. By reason of the importance of London as a diplomatic center it is highly essential that Japan should have a representative of the highest attainments at the court of St. James. And such a person is Viscount Tadasu Hayashi, Japanese ambassador to Great Britain. He was ennobled for his distinguished services at the Japanese foreign office during the war with China. Viscount Hayashi was born at Sakura, Shimosa, Japan, in 1850. He went to England in 1866 to study, and while still a young man began his official career in his own country. He was first governor of the province of Kobe.

Romance in a Hospital.

A case of appendicitis started a romance in the lives of Miss Elizabeth Branderstein, of New York, and Dr. George H. Reichers, of Brooklyn. Miss Branderstein, who is young and pretty, was a nurse at the German hospital, and was herself attacked by appendicitis. Dr. Reichers performed the operation which saved her life, and, having saved it, she gave it to him to guard forever.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

"Smiling Jimmie" Montross, who will pitch for one of the teams in the A. J. & G. New York State League this summer, has left the city to join his team.

A report has been in circulation that the baseball management of the Alis and Westfield Clubs have entered into an agreement whereby the Scotch Plains team will be shut out of games with these clubs. As for the Alis Club the report is denied absolutely. No such agreement has been made by that club; furthermore it is claimed none will be.

Manager McGraw, of the New York Nationals, has decided not to use Minnihan with his usual pitching staff this season, but he will be "farmed out" and be kept under contract. McGraw declares that Minnihan is a good pitcher, but hardly comes up to the big league requirements. Both he and Lynch will be played somewhere else.

BASKET BALL.

The game between Leal's School and the Y. M. C. A. business men's class will start in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tonight at 8:15 o'clock. It will be the final game of the season for Leal's.

FIGHTS FIRES IN NEW YORK

ISAAC GILES, FORMER PLAINFIELDER, A VALIANT LADDIE.

Isaac Giles, a former resident of Lake street, where his parents still live, is a member of the New York fire department. He has been in the department nearly two years.

He was among the men who went to Baltimore to assist in the battles with the big conflagration, and, like all the New Yorkers, worked at the forefront of the line. He is attached to the company in the Ludlow street house, where more alarms come in than at any other house in the metropolis. One week last year Giles went with his company to ninety-one fires. Giles is one of the most popular men in his company, and has been commended by his superiors several times for valiant service.

In District Court.

Charles Jensen's attempt to recover on a promissory note for $150 from Robert Gardner, of this city, came up in the district court at Elizabeth today on appeal from Justice Huff's court. The court non-suited Jensen on the ground that testimony proved part of the debt to have been for liquor, for which there is no recovery under the law. The counsel for Jensen could not separate the accounts covered by the note, so the whole amount was cast out. Counsellor W. S. Angleman appeared for Gardner, and Counsellor F. J. Blatz represented Jensen.

Mud, Mud, Mud.

Complaints have been made of the poor condition of the sidewalks and roadway of Norwood avenue in North Plainfield. The mud is said to be several inches deep on the walks in front of the house of a member of the Borough Council, who is also a member of the street committee.

The Sunday-school teachers of Hope chapel will meet at the home of Superintendent H. C. Squires, of Watchung avenue, tonight. Prof. Hodge, of Union Theological Seminary, will address the teachers on "How to Study the Bible." A social time will be enjoyed after the meeting.

The contest for new members which was started by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church on Feb. 15 last, is a great success thus far. The contest will end on April 13 and about April 20 the defeated side will give a luncheon in Vincent chapel to the winning side and the new members. Just now there is unusual interest in the work of securing new members and a large accession to the roll is anticipated.

ALARM WORKING OVERTIME

FIREMEN OF BOROUGH CALLED OUT BY PROBABLE CROSSED WIRES.

Meaningless toots of the alarm bell, that sounded several times around 10 o'clock last night, called the new paid fire department of the borough out for its first run.

Chief Woolston said this morning that he believed the trouble to be the result of crossed wires. There were some more disconnected toots this morning that strengthened his belief. He said he did not accuse any of the ex-volunteers. He has all the release keys that were in thei possession, and all the private house tappers have been disconnected.

Just as soon as possible the whole alarm system of the borough will be overhauled and put into first class shape. It is probable that the keyless device will be put on all the boxes.

After such a club is formed, application will be made for membership in the National Automobile Association.

There are at least one hundred owners of automobiles in this city and if a majority join the local club it will make it one of the strongest in the State. It is expected that a meeting will be held soon to effect an organization.

MISSION TALK.

Illustrated by Young People Dressed in Foreign Costumes—Mrs. Gillespie at Warren Chapel.

At Warren chapel last night, Mrs. John Gillespie, Mission Field Secretary of the Presbyterian Church, delivered her talk on the missionary work of Japan, China and India. Despite the weather, there was a large attendance.

Mrs. Gillespie's talk was similar to the one she gave at the First Presbyterian church last week. Several young people of the church were dressed in native costumes illustrating the different classes of people of the countries talked about.

The young people who illustrated the classes of the different countries were Harry Seader, Alice Smith, Ida Wilson, Ida Wheeler, Sadie Wilson, Edna Green, May Seader, Isabel Conover, Edith Wheeler. Benson Hartney carried a lighted candle to the costumed group, symbolic of the carrying of the light of Christianity to the heathen people of the Orient.

The Y. P. S. C. E. conducted the affair, with Mrs. Lewis C. Ely in direct charge.

Barnett conducted the hotel and lost a great number of valuable medals which he had won in bicycle racing. Albert Moffett, brother of Assemblyman Charles L. Moffett, of this city, formerly had charge of the hotel. The explosion of a lamp caused the fire.

FROST LIFTED UP TOPS OF STREETS

Phenomenon Brought About by the Rigorous Winter Weather.

EXPLAINS EARTHQUAKE

THE STREET DEPARTMENT MAKES INTERESTING DISCOVERY.

One Thoroughfare Lifted Up Four Inches—Manhole and Flush Tank Wrecked—The Foundations Wobbled About.

When the earthquake question was agitating the city last winter, at the time a tremor was felt early one morning, a fugitive suggestion that the shake might have been the effect of frost in the ground was thrown out. Nobody paid much attention to it, but since then the street department has come across a lot of evidence that points to that theory of the shock as the true one.

Not long after the shock was felt Street Commissioner Gavett's men discovered that water was pouring into the manhole at South and Leland avenues, through a breach in the brickwork three feet below the surface of the street. The gap was four inches high all around. It was thought at the time that some of the brickwork had fallen out. The cover of the manhole was flush with the street, and there was no indication anywhere on the surface that anything else had caused the break. The breach was stopped with blocks of wood and burlap to keep out water and gravel, and the street department gave no particular thought to the occurrence.

About a month ago the manhole caved in. The top of the manhole was left sticking about four inches in the air, and the department experts only took a short time to discover that the manhole had been broken by the lifting action of the intense cold in the ground.

Apparently, the whole surface of the street, as far as could be seen, had been lifted four inches above the normal level by the frost. There were no surface breaks anywhere, and in the opinion of the street commissioner there is scarcely any doubt that the top of the earth at that particular place rose up something like the crust of a loaf of bread. There is a lot of water that runs down the gutter of Leland avenue, and when the rise occurred, with the consequent break in the manhole, the water was diverted below ground and into the hole. The whole manhole will have to be rebuilt from the breach up.

There is no telling how many other street sent up in the air from the same cause. Probably a good many of them, all over the city, and that frost-heave would undoubtedly give the general effect of an earthquake. In extremely cold countries, like northern New England, surveyors and other outdoor workers have frequently heard the earth crack with loud report and accompanying shock, when the frost was tightening the ground.

One of the city flush tanks, at New and Fifth streets, was burst by the frost action, and many owners of houses on which ells have been built on foundations not quite so low as the main part of the house have reported that the additions give evidence of wobbly experiences during the winter.

COAL DROPS.

The Price of Anthracite to Fall to $6.00 Per Ton on April 1,

Local coal dealers have received notice that on April 1 there will be a drop of fifty cents in the price of anthracite, making the price $6 per ton. This is in accordance with the custom in previous years. During the winter the price has been $6.50. After the month of April it is said that the coal companies will advance the price ten cents per ton a month until the price again reaches $6.50, which will be next fall. One of the leading dealers said yesterday that there is little or no prospect of the price going below $6 this season.

To Prevent Collisions.

One of the latest improvements made by the Public Service Corporation in the operation of the through line trolley cars is to place two red lights on the rear end of every car, similar to the arrangement on the steam railroads. These lights should be a means of preventing rear-end collisions.

—The annual meeting of the Hope Y. M. C. A. will be held on Tuesday night, March 29.

A WINTER CROP OF BEANS

"LIMERS" GROWING IN WM. THOMSON'S GARDEN DESPITE THE COLD.

There have been fewer winters more severe than the one that has just taken its reluctant departure, but bad as it was it couldn't harm a little family of lima beans that grew in the garden of William Thompson, of West Fourth street. That, at any rate, is what William Leland and George Mehl, truthful men of exemplary habits, solemnly stated yesterday afternoon.

Two weeks ago, it appears, Mr. Thompson noticed some lima bean vines that seemed to be more chipper than the rigorous circumstance of the climate warranted. He investigated with wondering mind, and found that the vines were doing their duty nobly just as though winter had never blown a blast. He picked more than a pint of fine, white beans, and none of them showed any trace of frost. He ate them at dinner the Sunday following, and found them sweet and tasteful. Mr. Leland said he had some of them.

Just why the beans were not frozen, none of the agricultural experts know. It is supposed the water in them was all dried out, and the skins kept other moisture out.

TO ATTACK MILITARY BILL

SWACKHAMER GETS HIS RESOLUTION THROUGH THE HOUSE.

Assemblyman Swackhamer, of Somerset, is accumulating ammunition for an attack on the new military bill when it comes up before the House. He is opposed to the bill on general principles, and says he does not believe in the enlistment of all the citizens of the State, as he insists the new law proposes to do.

He has offered in the House a resolution calling upon the quartermaster-general to transmit to the House a statement showing the actual cost of the annual encampment of the National Guard for the year 1903 and the estimated cost of the encampment and march, including the cost of the new bureau of enrolment, provided for in the new military bill, after making due allowance for such sum as may be received from the National Government under the Dick law. The resolution was adopted.

PLAN FOR PICNIC GROUND

SCHEME TO ESTABLISH AMUSEMENT RESORT AT SOMERSET ST. TERMINUS.

With the purchase of the Middlesex County suburban lines, and other general moves in the line of advancement and enlargement, by the P. S. C. has come the revival of a plan for the establishment of an amusement park at the end of the Somerset street trolley line. This scheme was broached by James Sutherland, of New York, last year, when the rumors of the big deals that the P. S. C. afterwards made began the rounds of the papers, but the idea came a little too late in the season for execution.

Mr. Sutherland is one of the men who have made money out of Coney Island attractions for a number of years, and at one time was prominent in the Surf A. C., where some big prize fights were pulled off. He ought to know a good scheme of the kind when he gets one, and he is sure that a picnic resort within a very short distance of Plainfield would pay. He is certain that the P. S. C., anxious to increase its receipts as far as possible, to carry some of the immense issues of stock, will meet him more than half way in bringing the scheme to fruition.

It is Mr. Sutherland's idea to conduct the resort on clean lines, rigidly excluding everything of an objectionable nature. There will be swings, a merry-go-round, a dairy restaurant, a band, and other simple attractions of that character. Tables will be placed plentifully about the grounds, for the accommodation of basket parties. The band would play all day, and give concerts every night.

Small-Pox Victim's Condition.

Alexander Stills, the small-pox patient, expects to leave the isolation hospital on Saturday and return home. He is now practically well and Dr. Lufburrow, the city physician, is arranging for his departure.

Installing X-Ray Machine.

A large new X-ray machine was placed in position at Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday. A similar machine was used at the old hospital, but this was not large enough for the new institution.

PALM SUNDAY SERVICES IN LOCAL CHURCHES

Special Programmes for Day Which Marks the Commencement of Holy Week.

DAY'S SIGNIFICIENCE

EPISCOPAL AND ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCHES OBSERVE IT.

Palms to be Distributed — The Order of Music in the Various Churches — Christ's Fateful Ride Into Jerusalem.

Holy Week, the last seven days of Lent, will begin next Sunday. The latter day is set apart in the church calendar as Palm Sunday, to commemorate Christ's fateful ride into Jerusalem, when the women and children of the city cast palms in his path.

In the ritualistic churches the day is observed with special services, and sermons in keeping with the beginning of the most solemn week of the penitential season. All the local Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches will hold services of special character, with musical programmes of unusual elaborateness.

As is customary, the Roman Catholic churches will distribute strips of palm to the congregation. These strips are usually formed into tiny crosses by the church members, and worn on the outside of the dress to mark the significance of the day.

St. Mary's and St. Joseph's churches will celebrate special masses. At the city church the musical programme will be of notable character.

A feature will be the rendition of "The Palms" by William Holmes.

All the Episcopal churches, Grace, St. Stephens, Holy Cross and Heavenly Rest, will hold the regulation service, with appropriate music. At the Church of the Holy Cross the music will be especially fine. Mrs. W. L. Saunders, who has a particularly rich voice, will sing "The Palms."

The order of music at the Church of the Holy Cross will be: Morning—Processional hymn, No. 90; venite, Randall; Te Deum, short in D, Buck; Benedictus, Arnold; offertory, "The Palms," Faure, Mrs. William L. Saunders; recessional hymn, 359; evening—processional hymn, 91; magnificat, Roberts; nunc dimittis, Roberts; male quartet, "God is Love, Shelley Morse; hymn, 102; offertory, "Praise ye the Father, Gounod; recessional hymn, 90.

BOWLING ON Y.M.C.A. ALLEYS

THE ASSOCIATION AND SAENGERBUND TEAMS SPLIT EVEN IN GOOD CONTEST.

The Y. M. C. A. and Saengerbund bowling teams broke even last night, each winning one of the two games played. In the first game Saengerbund had a walkover, leading by more than 100 pins and making the excellent total score of 812. Rummel, in this game, reached the highest mark for the night, going four better than 200. The second game was a hot one and no one knew which had won until the last ball had been rolled. Y. M. C. A. was five pins to the good, the score 719 to 714. Whitley made the best score in this game and the highest of both games for the association. His mark was 181. The Y. M. C. A. men worked consistently, as shown by their totals, 704 and 719.

TRADING STAMP BILL.

House Ways and Means Committee Reports It After Hearing Persons Interested.

As chairman of the ways and means committee, Assemblyman Thomas R. Layden Tuesday reported in the House at Trenton, a substitute for the Shaw trading stamp law. The new bill provides that municipalities may by ordinance license trading stamp companies or persons engaged in the trading stamp business. The governing body is to fix the amount of the tax.

ARRANGING FOR Y.M.C.A. NINE

ENTERTAINMENT TO RAISE FUNDS TO BE HELD THURSDAY, APRIL 21.

A Y. M. C. A. baseball team is assured. Permission to make arrangements for the season has been given by the physical work committee of the association and the work of preparing a schedule and attending to all details will be put through after a meeting Monday night. A captain and manager will be elected at this time and discussion given to the subject of dates for practise, playing grounds, desirable teams to meet, and an entertainment for the benefit of the team. This benefit will take the form of an entertainment by out-of-town talent and will be similar to the events in the Y. M. C. A. Star course. It will take place Thursday, April 21. The proceeds will be devoted to buying supplies for the team and meeting other necessary expenses of the season.

The aim of the association will be to put forward as strong a strictly amateur nine as Plainfield can get together and to pit it against other strong Y. M. C. A., school and amateur club nines in the vicinity. In addition to the dozen candidates whose names have already appeared in The Daily Press, eight or ten other members of the association have signified their intention of coming out for practise.

LEAL'S TEAM LOST.

Y. M. C. A. Business Men's Basket Ball Aggregation too Quick for Them.

Outweighed and forced to the defensive, Leal's basket ball team lost a snappy game to the business men's five of the Y. M. C. A. last night. The score was 14 to 6, 8 to 4 at the end of the first period. Team work was not prominent in either five's game. There were few fouls made and no goals from fouls.

Goals from the floor, Whitford 2, Heicker, Spicer, Clark 2, Utzinger, Perkins, Doane, Strong.

The summary:

Business Men—Spicer and Whitford, forwards; Lott, centre; Utzinger, Clark and Heicker, guards. Leal's—Doane and Chapman, forwards; Strong, centre; Haughey and Perkins, guards. Referee—C. B. Morse. Umpire — Heinecke. Scorer — Sebring. Time—20 and 15-min. periods.

The fast playing of two of the younger members of the business men's team was noted particularly, the explanation being the presence of three of their young women friends in the gallery.

TEA AND SALE.

Socially and financially the affair was successful. Candy, cake and useful articles were sold at tables decorated with cut flowers. Mrs. William D. Murray, Mrs. Roger F. Murray, Mrs. J. M. McNaughton, Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Mrs. G. H. Condit, Mrs. J. C. Peck, Mrs. George T. Rogers and Miss Sophie Elliott were the committee. Tea and chocolate were poured by Mrs. H. M. Maxson and Mrs. Stephen Cahoone. The waitresses were members of the Cup Bearers Circle, King's Daughters, Miss Lucy Buglong, Miss Alice Titus, Miss Katharine Titus, Miss Gladys Peck and Miss Ruth VanVliet.

GUN CLUB RECONSIDERS.

Independent Men May Decide Not to Purchase Maple Avenue Range.

Discussion of another site besides the one on Maple avenue for its new range and clubhouse has been started by the Independent Gun Club. The matter came up at a special meeting of the organization last night.

At a previous meeting it was about decided to purchase the Maple avenue property, but questions regarding its accessibility and other features have arisen since and the club is not sure that it wants to locate on Maple avenue. There is talk of finding a range on Greenbrook road, somewhere near the points reached by the trolley. Some of the members, however, hold that in the nature of things the club range must be in the outskirts of the town, because of the danger attendant on rifle shooting.

CHURCH'S LAST RITE OVER FATHER MORRIS

Great Throng Fill St. Mary's Church, at Avondale, While Priests Celebrate Mass.

FATHER EGAN THERE

VICAR-GENERAL AND CHANCELLOR PAY TRIBUTE TO THE DEAD.

Quartette From St. Patrick's Cathedral, Newark — Sermon by Father Kelly, of Hoboken — Interment in Paterson.

The remains of Rev. John P. Morris, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church at Nutley, and formerly pastor of St. Mary's church in this city, were laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the Cemetery of the Holy Sepulchre, in Paterson, after ceremonies at the church that were attended by many of the clergy of the diocese, members of the congregation, a goodly representation of towns-people of other than the faith, and visitors from this city and neighboring places.

At the close of the church services the crowd that overflowed the little edifice was allowed to view the body, which was on a bier at the head of the centre aisle and at the entrance to the sanctuary. It was in a casket covered with black velvet, with silver bars and plate. The departed pastor was robed in the vestments worn at the mass.

Among the parishioners who slowly filed up the aisle to take their last look at the face of the rector whom they loved so well there was many a tear dimmed eye. On the outside they waited with bowed heads while the casket was borne to the Avondale Station of the Erie Railroad, close by, from which it was taken to the Silk City by train. The members of St. Mary's Lyceum acted as an escort, and many of the congregation also accompanied the remains to the cemetery.

The services began with the chanting of the office for the dead by Rev. M. A. McManus, of St. Aloysius's church, of Newark, and Rev. Andrew M. Egan, of St. Mary's, of this city. The responses were made by the priests, who occupied places within the chancel rail.

The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Dean McNulty, of Paterson; the deacon was Rev. Patrick Cody, of St. James's church, of Newark. Rev. Frank O'Neil, of St. Mary's, Elizabeth, acted as sub-deacon; Rev. Monsignor Sheppard, the vicar-general of the diocese, and Rev. Thomas A. Wallace, the chancellor, were among the priests who occupied places of honor. Many of the other priests of the diocese who were expected to attend were unable to do so, as they had previously made arrangements to be present at the funeral of Rev Edward Hart at Jersey City, which also took place yesterday morning.

A quartette from St. Patrick's Cathedral, of Newark, sang Madonna's requiem mass. It was composed of Mrs. Sarah Martin-Gribbin, soprano; Miss Clara Scanlon, contralto; Emil G. Zeh, tenor, and William Thompson, basso. Professor W. H. Hattersley presided at the organ.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Charles J. Kelly, of the Church of Our Lady of Grace, Hoboken. He paid an eloquent tribute to the life work of Father Morris.

The body was removed late Tuesday afternoon from the residence of Father Morris's niece, Mrs. Etienne Le Bel, on Walnut street, to the church. At 7 o'clock the doors were opened, and from that time until they closed at 10, there was a steady stream of visitors, who paid their last respects to the pastor. The members of the lyceum formed the guard of honor that watched at the side of the bier until the hour for yesterday morning's services.

Priest Plans Trip.

Father Delabanty, the assistant of Father Egan at St. Mary's church, will go to Europe after Easter, for the benefit of his health. Father Delabanty has made himself highly liked by the people of the parish, and even a temporary departure is looked to with regret by all the congregation.

Fitting Up Council Chamber.

All the furniture of the Borough Council has been moved from the old room to the new chambers in the fire house. The room will be set to rights next week, and the Councilmen will find everything snug and ready for the April meeting.

MANY ATTEND THE REVIVAL

MUCH INTEREST BEING TAKEN IN EAST THIRD STREET CHAPEL MEETINGS.

A large congregation gathered at the East Third chapel last evening to attend the third in the series of evangelistic meetings. Some of the features were different from the usual ones found in revivals. Mr. Leggett believes that music can preach as well as words, so he has introduced what he terms "sermons in music" and intends that every evening music shall occupy a prominent place. He also believes that brevity is the life of an evangelistic service, no one has therefore an opportunity to become weary.

Last evening after a brief song service, the Misses Clyde and Marguerite Burnet, with violin and piano accompaniment, sang "Jesus Leads," followed by an autoharp solo, "Home Sweet Home," by Mrs. Leggett. Mr. Leggett's picture of the Palace of the King, was graphically beautiful, passing thro' the chambers of the palace, ending with a description of the beauty of Heaven. Elmer D. Cutting sang "The Homeland," a delightful conclusion to the sermon. Tonight there will be special music. Mr. Leggett will preach on "Redemption" and Elmer Cutting will sing "The Ninety and Nine."

METHODIST WOMEN GATHER

OBSERVE THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY OF MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The thirteenth anniversary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, of the First M. E. church, in which similar societies from both Grace M. E. and the Monroe Avenue churches joined, was observed last night in Vincent chapel. There was a large attendance of the women and their friends. George M. Rittenhouse presided.

The feature of the service was an address by Miss Lamb, of Woodbridge, the regular evangelist of the Home Missionary Society of the M. E church. She is now engaged in evangelistic work in Baltimore. Her talk was purely of an evangelistic character and was the means of reviving the interest of the women in this work which is being carried on so successfully.

During the service, two soprano solos were given by Miss Mitchell, of Philadelphia, a talanted vocalist.

METHODISTS IN CONFERENCE

BENEFICIENT FUND RECEIPTS $2,675 IN TWELVE MONTHS.

Rev. Dr. Chambliss Acts as Moderator—Dr. J. B. Probasco Reports for the Poor Fund Committee.

Considerable business of interest to the members of the First Baptist church was transacted at the annual meeting held last night. Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor, occupied the chair as moderator, and O. B. Leonard, church clerk, acted in his capacity. There was a large attendance of members to listen to the various reports and take part in the general business.

Clarence S. Johnson, formerly of this city, and a member of the church, was given a letter of dismissal to the Baptist church, of Roselle, where he is now living, and two members of the Baptist church at Doylestown, Pa., were received by letter. Miss Mary Thickstun was re-elected a manager for the Baptist Home for the Aged at Roseville.

The terms of George F. Brown, George H. Batchelor and L. W. Randolph, as deacons, having expired, they were all re-elected for a term of five years. O. B. Leonard, treasurer of the beneficient committee, reported receipts of $2,675.25 for the year and a present balance of $6.45, the difference having been expended in support of foreign missions, the Salvation Army, Home for the Aged and various other worthy objects.

Samuel Case reported for the Sunday-school. He stated that the receipts for the year were $1,113.03, all of which has been expended with the exception of $179, the present balance. N. Douglass Drake, the new president of the Christian Endeavor Society, presented an interesting report, showing what the various commitees have been doing. The membership is sixty-one, all but ten being active.

L. W. Randolph, superintendent of the East Third Street chapel, presented his report, showing a membership of 140 in the Sunday-school, with an average attendance of 90. During the year the aggregate attendance at the Sunday night meetings was 2,841 and 1,348 at the mid-week prayer meeting. The receipts for the year were $653.05 and the balance in the treasury is $14.21.

Miss Elizabeth Wilson gave a report for the Young Ladies' Missionary Society. During the year there was raised $257.75 and $109.93 disbursed, leaving a balance of $147.82. The report for the Temple Builders, given by R. W. Barnes, treasurer, showed total receipts of $128.49 and a balance of $28.49. The difference was contributed to mission enterprise.

Dr. J. B. Probasco gave the report of the poor fund, showing total receipts of $452.96, disbursements of $209.40 and a balance of $243.46. The accounts were audited and approved by L. H. Biglow, Jr., and T. S. Armstrong.

Following the business meeting five persons were received from the East Third Street chapel for membership, after baptism.

The affair was the second of a series of luncheons to be given at the club at this season. Another one will be given at the club on Wednesday, April 20.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

These are the lines of the catchy topical song which made a hit at the Hope Chapel Y. M. A. Minstrels last week. The words and music are by Judge Runyon.

"There are many, many things in life that I would quickly change
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I see a lot of things around I'd like to rearrange
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
On the Jersey Central Railroad trains would nevermore be late,
I'd have a set of public baths, the finest in the State,
And I'd make John Kean and Fowler eat their dinner off one plate
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
Chorus:
If he only had the proper sort of pull, pull, pull
This town with big surprises would be full, full, full
For his notions they are warm and we'd see some great reform
If he only had the proper sort of pull, pull, pull.
I'd organize a regiment of kids from ten years down
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd make the census taker wonder what had struck the town
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
And when I had them nicely drilled and up in all the rules
I'd start them out across the brook to shoot those peaky mules
Who just for spite were mean enough to down the public schools
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
Until I had a park in town I'd never, never stop
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd have a lake and pretty boats and sell nice ginger pop
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd have a landscape artist and I'd have a lovely zoo
I'd have a flock of billy goats and little wagons too
And a statue of the man who owns the North Plainfield Review
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
For President I'd nominate that crazy Willie Hearst
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
But I would make him pony up two million dollars first
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd knock Dave Hill and Murphy out when once I took the reins,
The N. Y. Journal's little boom would show enormous gains
And I'd hide the fact that little Willie hasn't any brains
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd have a baseball team in town to play some rattling ball
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd have a crowd of winners tho' it cost my little all
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd tackle every team around and roll them in the dirt.
I'd make a meal of Somerville with Scotch Plains for dessert.
When I got thro' with Westfield I'd have Charlie Denman's shirt
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd copy Carrie Nation and the crowd I'd go for first,
If I only had the proper sort of pull,
Would be the Public Service crew with which our town is cursed
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
No more they'd run their ancient cars so dark and freezing cold,
No more they'd send their motormen to death for sake of gold.
I'd see how many officers the County Jail would hold
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
For Governor I'd boom our friend Swackhamer tried and true,
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd introduce him 'round the State as Lincoln No. 2
If I only had the proper sort of pull.
I'd make him wave the flag and tell a new joke every day,
I'd have the borough firemen stand around to yell "Hooray,"
I'd get him every single vote from Sussex to Cape May
If I only had the proper sort of pull."

"IN A BAD WAY."

Many a Plainfield Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Here is local evidence to prove it:
Mrs. M. A. Hall, of 219 Prescott place, says: "For several years I had a dull aching pain across my back at times extending to my hips. I was compelled to lie in just one position all night and stooping, lifting or bending forward aggravated the pains. Although I used different remedies that were recommended to me, I obtained little, if any relief. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly endorsed in our daily papers and procured a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. It was not long before I felt great relief and I was surprised how quickly the pain in my back disappeared."

CAMPAIGN OPENED.

Republicans of Rhode Island Hear Shaw and Aldrich.

CLEVELAND AND TRUST LEGISLATION

Senator Aldrich Spoke For Careful Organization and Free and Full Discussion of All Measures of Political Parties.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 24.—The Republican national campaign in Rhode Island was virtually opened last night by Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, who were the principal speakers at the banquet of the Young Men's Republican club in Infantry hall.

Trust legislation, its progress under several administrations and the attitude of former President Grover Cleveland in regard to such legislation constituted the principal points of Secretary Shaw's address, while Senator Aldrich tried to impress upon his hearers the necessity of organized effort in order to insure party success.

There was a large attendance at the banquet. George H. Webb, president of the club, spoke briefly and was followed by Lieutenant Governor George H. Utter. Senator Aldrich was then introduced. He said in part:

Rhode Island gave her electoral vote to John C. Fremont in 1856. In each successive presidential election since that time she has given her support to the Republican candidate. Her representatives in the electoral college of 1904 will vote for Theodore Roosevelt. Whether the victory we are to achieve shall be such in character and significance as to settle all doubts as to the Republicanism of Rhode Island for a generation will depend largely upon your determination and efforts.

The necessary work of organization and education, which you inaugurate under such auspicious conditions, must be carried forward without cessation. The character and spirit of this meeting furnish evidence that the Republican campaign in this state is to be both active and aggressive. In this connection you should constantly bear in mind two essential elements of success: First, there must be a complete and careful organization of the party in every voting precinct, and, second, every community in the state must have the benefit of the freest and fullest possible public discussion of the questions now dividing political parties. There is nothing in the record or purposes of the Republican party that calls for concealment or evasion. Its principles and acts, past and present, will bear the closest possible scrutiny.

We must impress upon every patriotic and intelligent citizen of the state the fact that the principles, aims and candidates of the party are better suited to meet the exacting requirements inseparable from the successful government of a great people than are those of our opponents. The record of Republican achievement in the past forms an epoch of American history the most remarkable and brilliant for development in every direction—material, intellectual and artistic—in the world's annals.

There is one portion of this record, recounting a series of notable triumphs for American diplomacy in the world's field, which is peculiarly gratifying to us. They were secured under the leadership of John Hay, whose affectionate regard for his alma mater, our ancient university, and for this state, its history and traditions, makes him a Rhode Islander in everything except the accident of birth.

May Be a Murder, Not Suicide.

DANBURY, Conn., March 24.—Relatives of George C. Rockwell, the young farmer of this city who was found dead beneath a railroad bridge in New Haven a few nights ago with a bullet wound in his head, are wholly satisfied that the case was not one of suicide and will probably take steps to have a further investigation made. Just before the body was buried on Monday persons who viewed the remains discovered discolorations that had the appearance of finger marks on the man's throat, and these gave rise to a suspicion that he had been assaulted and possibly murdered.

Guilty of Perjury.

WATERBURY, Conn., March 24.—A verdict of guilty of perjury was returned by a jury in the superior court against Willis V. Vandemark, who was formerly a trolley man employed by the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company. During the street railway strike last year a nonunion conductor and motorman of a car were viciously assaulted by a crowd of masked men in Waterville, and Vandemark, who was a striker, was one of the men arrested for alleged complicity in that affair.

Result of High Priced Sugar.

HAVANA, March 24.—As a result of the operations of the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Cuba and the steady upward price of sugar, scarcely any of the sugar crop will be held in the storehouses, as was formerly the rule, the planters shipping the entire output.

Gave Church a Chime of Bells.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., March 24.—Philip Corbin, president of the American Hardware company, has announced the gift of a chime of fourteen bells to the South Congregational church of this city as a companion gift to the $2,000 organ presented by him a few years ago.

Plague in Transvaal.

PRETORIA, Transvaal, March 24.—The bubonic plague has appeared here. One death has occurred.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 24, 1904.

After weeks of delay the Legislature is going to take an important step to morrow—it's going to adjourn sine die.

Advertising is like ironing, too—can't do it with a cold iron—got to keep up your enthusiasm.—Printers' Ink.

The itching palm is a new disease reported to be epidemic on the west side in New York. The policemen and wardmen of the east side have been afflicted with about the same trouble for many years.

In his frankly worded letter to Governor Murphy, Mayor Mark Fagan, of Jersey City, has the courage to say simply what other honest citizens think. His opinion of the Legislature, or rather of the members who control its machinery, is not at all complimentary but it at least contains the essence of truth.

PLAINFIELD'S DRAG - HUNT

PACK OF HOUNDS GOTTEN TOGETHER FOR THE SPORT BY LOCAL MEN.

A small pack of hounds has recently been gathered in this city to provide sport for those fond of riding. The sport indulged in is a drag-hunt which has, in some respects, the advantage over a real fox-hunt, especially in a district where there are many obstacles to free cross-country riding.

In a drag-hunt the course is not dependent on the vagaries of a wily fox running for its life and scheming only how to make pursuit as puzzling and difficult as its wits can devise, leading hounds and riders over, in, or through fences, ditches, hedges and streams. On the contrary a suitable course can be chosen, with care, and people unaccustomed to hunting can follow with confidence. There is generally an opportunity to take fences for those keen to do so but as there are always gaps arranged too, jumping is a matter of choice rather than of necessity.

The little pack of hounds has afforded many invigorating runs this winter and many more are anticipated during the spring. It is no easy task to get together a pack of hounds without great expense but by buying up mostly untrained ones, the outlay has been comparatively small and enough money has been subscribed, by just a few people interested, to start them going.

Dr. M. O'M. Knott, of this city, has entire charge of the hounds and by dint of hard work has put them into good shape, though of course time and practice are required to make them perfect in their work.

A regular hunt is held every Saturday afternoon, and as the weather improves, it is hoped that more people will become interested in helping to improve and enlarge the pack.

—A. A. Stryker is remodeling and making numerous alterations in the house of F. C. Langhorne, of West Front street.

—Charles Stranzenbach, of Park avenue, has taken a position as salesman for the International Provision Company of Brooklyn. He started upon his new labors this week.

—Full rehearsal of the band concert minstrel show will be held in the I. O. T. Hall tonight. Manager Greenwood has the whole show planned out now, with the exception of one or two specialties, and everything connected with the preparation for presentation is going smoothly.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Father Dolan, of Cranford, spoke at St. Mary's church Tuesday night.

Rev. Gilbert Lovell will deliver a lecture on Corea at Warren chapel tomorrow night. Mr. Lovell will shortly enter the mission field in the Orient.

The annual meeting of the Home Mission Society of Hope chapel will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. M. J. Gildersleeve, of Elizabeth, will speak.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chamblies will conduct the Christian Endeavor Society meeting at the First Baptist church tomorrow night. The subject will be one of especial interest to young people.

In place of the customary Christmas union service of the Sunday-schools of the Crescent Avenue church, Warren, Hope and Bethel chapels, which was omitted last year, the four schools will gather together in the mother church on Easter Sunday afternoon.

William MacClymont, who is organist and choirmaster of Holy Trinity church, Harlem, New York, conducted a recital of Stabat Mater in the church Monday night. A number of the members of St. Mary's church choir singers attended the recital.

There will be an important meeting of the vestry of St. Stephen's church within a short time at which time the question of securing a rector will be decided. Rev. William R. Harris, of this city, was engaged after the Rev. William Vincent Dawson resigned to serve the church until Easter.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 27.

Topic.—Jesus' work for His own country; what can I do for mine?—Matt. iv. 23-25; xxiii. 27.

There are some countries in the world that have had a peculiar power to arouse the love of their sons and to inspire them with a deep spirit of patriotic self sacrifice. Scotland is such a country. The Scotchman the world over still loves his native land. Two gentlemen being introduced, one said to the other, "Are you a Scotchman?" The other instinctively drew himself up, raised his hand to his forehead, saluted and replied, "I have that honor, sir." America has also been a land characterized by the intense patriotism of its people. So also was ancient Palestine, the land of God's chosen people. The ancient Jews fondly loved their native land, and the modern ones, scattered worldwide, still look with longing eyes toward the sacred land of their fathers. David sang, "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget its cunning and my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy," and Paul wrote, "I could wished myself accursed from heaven for my brethren's sakes, who are Israelites."

1. Christ felt the spell of Jewish patriotism and first of all loved His country. This love was specially manifested in His exclamation as He contemplated the future destruction of Jerusalem, the holy city, "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens beneath her wings, and ye would not." In these words we have the passionate cry of the lover of his country. We should imitate Christ in His patriotism. First of all, a man must love his land if he would serve it.

2. Christ lived for His country. His public ministry was largely spent in Palestine. He went about teaching, healing the sick and doing good. He gave His life to the uplifting of His people philanthropically, educationally, socially, morally and spiritually. In these ways we can be of use to our country. We can live for it, do all we can to extend goodness, morals and religion, for as these things exist or cease to exist a country becomes strong or weak.

3. Christ obeyed the laws of His country. In every instance where Christ came into contact with law He obeyed it and upheld it. He paid taxes to the despised Roman government and urged the people "to render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's and unto God the things that are God's." If we will respect, uphold and obey the laws of our land and encourage others to do so we will greatly serve it. Every lawbreaker is an enemy to the best interests of his country, while every one who holds the law sacred and complies with it is the friend and supporter of his land.

4. Christ died for His country. Christ died for the world; but, first of all, He died for His country, for His own people. He came first "to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." If called upon to die for our country we should be willing to do so, and in days of peace we should always be willing to practice a spirit of self denial toward the land that protects and guards us. Let us love and serve and pray that God may always bless our land and make it more and more Immanuel's land.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ez. vi, 8-10; Neh. ii, 1-5; Ps. ii, 18; cxxxvii, 20; Prov. xiv, 34; Jer. xxix, 7; Matt. xvii, 24-27; xxii, 15-21; I Tim. ii, 1-3; Heb. xi, 8-16.

The Keystone President.

The Pennsylvania state union has a new president in the person of Rev. Dr. Allen R. Bartholomew. Dr. Bartholomew is the secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Reformed church. He is a long time Endeavorer, thoroughly conversant with its principles, and his executive ability, so well recognized in his own church, will make him a fit leader for the Endeavorer hosts of the Keystone State.

DR. A. R. BARTHOLOMEW.

Endeavor In Great Britain.

The British Christian Endeavor year book shows 423 new societies registered last year, of which 123 are Primitive Methodists, 71 Congregational and 68 Baptist.

Empire State Convention.

The next New York state convention is to be held in Buffalo July 5, 6 and 7. Many noted speakers are being booked for the gathering.

For Prayer Meeting Participants.

The following, clipped from the Christian Endeavor World, has more than a passing worth to Endeavorers:

Call for some one who does not like to go alone and so get a double blessing.

Pray daily for the meeting—seven times for it to once in it.

Talk up the meeting to every one you meet.

Never make flippant remarks on the way home about persons or parts taken in the meeting.

Greet your fellow Endeavorers before or after the meeting; never whisper salutations after it has begun.

Bring with your Bible a happy face.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

March 27: "Messages From the Mission Fields."—Acts xvi, 9-16; Matt. xxviii, 18-20.

Three great missionary conventions recently held mark the beginning of a new era in the work of world evangelization. The Cleveland convention was probably one of the most influential gatherings of its kind ever held. It could not be repeated because conditions similar will never occur again. It thrilled the church to the ends of the earth. The reports of the inspiration there experienced read like the account of Pentecost. Philadelphia and Buffalo student conventions were each in its own way of great worth. The address of Bishop Fowler was most notable, and its influence on the church must be marked. Less dramatic in phraseology, but no less impressive in matter, were the utterances of Bishop Thoburn, who seems of all men in the Methodist church gifted with the spiritual vision of an old time seer and the tongue of an old world prophet of Jehovah.

These addresses should be read in every chapter of the league in America. It is advisable to devote one or several evenings to the public reading and discussion of these great addresses. They can be had at the mission rooms and Methodist book depositories. Bishop Fowler's address has been issued in book form at a low price. Every part of our mission field sends out its hail of good cheer and call for helpers. Money and men are the needs of the hour. We have abundance of both. Oh, for the power of the Holy Spirit to fall on the church of the United States as He came on the church of Antioch when He said, "Set apart Barnabas and Saul!"

This year 1904 should make our ears more attentive to the cry for help that becomes more insistent from our "far flung battle line." Our local chapters should once a month have a service at which extracts from letters of missionaries and extracts from newspaper and magazine articles shall be read. Many chapters are taking up the course of study of missions and by maps, essays and addresses are becoming intelligent upon and interested in this branch of our work. Many localities can have the use of a stereopticon. All such places can have the use of pictures of scenes in all our mission fields at small expense. Some of our preachers and laymen have for several years been gathering photographs from the different missions and have prepared sets of slides showing life in various fields. The missionaries have heartily co-operated in this work. Sets on Africa, China, India and Japan are available. Bishops McCabe and Hartzell have given personal aid. "Worldwide Missions" will give articles suitable for such services, and the written lectures with the slide sets will allow their use where no one can be found willing to write an original paper. The use of the stereopticon is increasing in public schools, and many departments in colleges are regularly equipped with them as necessary pieces of apparatus. Why should not the church, and especially the league, make more use of this means of information? Rev. Walter J. Yates, Ph. D., of Bangor, Me., has been a pioneer in this work and willingly gives all possible help. The missionary secretaries refer applicants to him.

Helping the Young Men.

One of the many valuable features of the work of the Young Men's Christian association is that it opens a free reading room and place of resort to all young men where they may spend their evenings under good influences. Among other things, the association offers social parlors, evening classes, entertainments, lectures, gymnasiums, employment bureaus, boarding house lists, classes for Bible study, young men's meetings, etc. All these privileges are offered at so small a fee that no young man need feel debarred from them. The state executive committees of the Young Men's Christian associations are pursuing an admirable plan by which towns not ready or not large enough to organize an association may still be accorded some of the benefits of such a work. It is the appointment in these places of an officer known as a "corresponding member" of the committee. He seeks out young men who are leaving home and provides them with notes of introduction to the associations in the business centers, where they will be cordially received and helped in securing employment, if needed, good homes and Christian fellowship in the church of their choice, or, if they go to the smaller places, he will introduce them to the corresponding member there, who will give the same assistance. In the state of Illinois there are over 800 corresponding members, in New York nearly 400 and a number in most of the states. If names and addresses of young men leaving their homes to reside elsewhere are sent to the state office of the Young Men's Christian association in any state, at once efforts are made to be of service to them.

The Destroyer of Selfishness.

Hardships and sorrows are oftentimes the fires which burn out the dross of selfishness from human hearts. —Universalist Leader.

A Bit of Eternity.

The day is long and the day is hard;
We are tired of the march and of keeping guard;
Tired of the sense of a fight to be won,
Of a day to live through and of work to be done;
Tired of ourselves and of being alone,
Yet all the while, did we only see,
We walk in the Lord's own company.
We fight, but 'tis He who nerves our arm;
He turns the arrows that else might harm.
And out of the storm He brings a calm,
And the work we count so hard to do
He makes it easy, for He works, too.
And the days that seem so long to live are His.
A bit of His bright eternities, and close to our need His helping is.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

EVENING FASHIONS.

Louis XVI. Effects—Pointed Girdles and Flowered Silks.

The return of the old fashioned brocades and the tiny wreath of roses on hats point to the Pompadour influence. These small roses have been worn in the hair for some time past as well as on debutantes' ball gowns. Little straw roses have been a feature of some of the new flat hats recently imported from Paris.

There is a decided Louis XVI. appearance to many of the ball gowns made of beautifully flowered silks and brocades. The pointed corsage effect appears as well in many reception gowns showing the velvet coat effect. The vest and revers to go with this effect are handsomely embroidered and the neck is finished with an old lace jabot.

The pointed waistbands now so much in vogue are as hard to make as a bodice; they have to be so beautifully draped and fitted.

For chiffon frocks ivory gray and pale bronze are favorite colors, and a good deal of gold and silver embroidery is used.

Taffetas this spring will be softened by the addition of lace or embroidered lawns, which are in keeping with the period when taffeta was first introduced.

The picture shows an evening dress of chiffon trimmed with bands of silver embroidery and worn with a wreath of silver in the hair.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SPRING FASHIONS.

The Wide Belt—Picturesque Effects In Flowered Silks.

All shades of pink are popular for evening wear, especially Rose du Barry, an exquisite pastel shade. Taffeta frocks are being made of this shade of pink beautifully embroidered and trimmed with a Marie Antoinette fichu and pointed bodice.

The distinguishing features of the new costumes are the full skirt and the wide belts. Soft bodices are made so full that they seem to be held in place by the deep Marie Antoinette corsage. This is pretty and graceful for evening wear. With bodices of this description some kind of a draped or elbow sleeve with a wide frill is the proper thing.

Elbow sleeves are rapidly coming in again. This was always a pretty style and suitable for semidressy occasions. Some of the new dresses have sleeves simply composed of a skillfully draped puff ending in a frill of lace.

Taffeta is certainly both smart and popular just now. It is often a good plan to have silk chiffon and mull gowns made with a guimpe arrangement, which can be removed so that the gown may either be worn decollete or not, as one chooses. This has almost become a necessity for the woman with a small income now that so many dainty gowns are being worn at restaurants, just as they are at private houses, with the exception that they must be high necked.

White muslin both in plain and in fancy makes will be very much worn this summer, and so will dainty flowered effects, particularly those of the Pompadour period.

The illustration shows a flowered silk waist made with a long shouldered V shaped yoke and a wide belt of panne. JUDIC CHOLLET.

RUSSIAN SHIP SUNK

Tokyo Claims a Victory In Fight Off Port Arthur.

JAPANESE CLOSING AROUND THE CITY

Newchwang Americans Want Warship For Protection—Pingyang Position Enormously Strong and Secures Seoul From Attack.

LONDON, March 24.—By the sinking of one battleship and the bottling up of the rest of Admiral Makaroff's warships the entire Russian fleet at Port Arthur has been put out of action, according to dispatches from Tokyo.

These dispatches and others report that fourteen Russians were killed or wounded, that seven Japanese were killed and that the Russians are ready to evacuate Port Arthur and will burn the town on the first sign of danger from the Japanese.

A dispatch from Koje, on the southern coast of Korea, confirms the news of a fierce battle outside Port Arthur harbor and says a Russian battleship was sunk in the engagement.

An informal meeting of the foreign consuls stationed at Newchwang has been called for the purpose of discussing means for securing the protection of the property of the neutrals in view of the fact that Newchwang is now surrounded by large Russian forces, having breastworks and batteries established at the railway station on the east side of the river Liao and also at the fort on the west side. This situation exposes the treaty port to the danger of cannon fire should the Japanese come up the river.

On account of the fear that the United States gunboat Helena will be withdrawn American residents here have telegraphed to United States Minister Conger at Peking requesting the presence of an American man-of-war in constant communication during the continuance of the war for the purpose of especially protecting property during the disorder that it is expected will attend the interregnum between Russian and Japanese occupations.

The Japanese hold two enormously strong positions at Pingyang and on the Miokaksan range between Hwangju and Seoul. The latter is probably impregnable and secures Seoul from land attacks from the northwest.

In the event of defeat it is intended to hold the passes at Kazan, thus protecting the Pingyang valley. The Japanese troops are suffering from dysentery and pneumonia, and many of the cavalry horses have died, but the army is full of spirit.

There probably are 20,000 Japanese at Pingyang, which might easily have been taken when the Russian scouts first advanced to the town.

The Russians are preparing to prevent the Japanese landing at Pakchon, twenty miles west of Anju. The Japanese sailors admit that Port Arthur is so protected by mines and torpedoes that it would mean death to approach it.

Russian officials admit their fear that Japan is about to land on the peninsula to cut off Port Arthur and to begin a general bombardment and siege.

In Manchuria the Russian first line of defense is said to extend from Fenghuangcheng to the north thirty miles. The second line has formed from Mukden to Haicheng. Troops are being massed at these points.

The Russians intended to make Anju their base, but owing to the delay in the arrival of re-enforcements they were afraid they would be cut off and so retired. Meanwhile the Japanese advanced to Pingyang by forced marches, the troops being almost without equipment.

Advices from St. Petersburg say the reports printed in Europe and the United States to the effect that a state of siege such as has been proclaimed in Siberia and in Saratoff province, in southeastern Russia, through which the Siberian railroad runs, will be extended to the whole of European Russia is officially declared to be absolutely false. No such measure has even been contemplated, it being considered quite unnecessary.

The authorities express the greatest satisfaction with the internal situation of the empire. The hearty patriotic response which the war with Japan has met with in all parts of Russia has profoundly impressed the emperor.

A Seoul dispatch says the Tong Haks are giving trouble in the northeastern part of Korea and are making overtures to the Russians.

A detachment of Japanese from Gensan engaged a body of Tong Haks near Samung, with the result that twenty-four of the Tong Haks were killed or wounded and thirty-five were captured.

Elaborate preparations have been made by the Japanese for landing troops and advancing them through Korea. Pontoon bridges and stables are built wherever they are found to be necessary. The greatest difficulty facing the Japanese is the commissariat, as owing to the poor food supplies of Korea it is only possible at present to maintain 90,000 men there.

A Tokyo dispatch says the special session of the diet entered upon the business for which it was called. M. Hatsura, the premier, and M. Komura, the minister for foreign affairs, addressed the house. The premier said the diet had been summoned at an unparalleled moment in the annals of the country. He counted it a great honor to share with the members the duty of upholding the noble policy of the emperor for the maintenance of Japan's position. Russia not only had failed to meet the Japanese proposals, but defiantly resorted to actions calculated to injure the national rights of Japan, and Japan was compelled in self defense to terminate the negotiations and take independent action. He was confident the world would recognize the justice and patience uniformly exercised by Japan in carrying forward the negotiations with Russia. The minister said he was anxiously desirous of peace, being mindful of the woeful consequences which war brings to mankind.

Jap Cruiser Watches the Mandjur.

SHANGHAI, March 24.—The Russians continue to evade the carrying out of the agreement to dismantle the gunboat Mandjur. A Japanese cruiser remains at Woosung, ten miles from here, at the mouth of the Woosung river, watching her.

PARDON FOR AQUINO.

Grave Doubts Now Exist as to Guilt of Filipino Insurgent.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The secretary of war has submitted to the president for action the record of evidence taken in the court martial proceedings against Brigadier General Serviliano Aquino, an insurgent Filipino officer, for giving an order for the shooting of five American prisoners, resulting in the death of three of them. The secretary reviews the case at considerable length and recommends that Aquino, who has now been confined for three years, receive a full pardon.

The prisoners were in the custody of a Filipino named Guerrero in Aquino's command, who was said to have resembled Aquino in appearance. The surviving prisoners claimed that Aquino himself gave the order for their execution, but Aquino when charged with the crime insisted that it must have been Guerrero who gave the order. He produced a number of native soldiers to support his contention and also claimed to have had Guerrero tried by court martial for having executed the prisoners. Guerrero was found guilty and executed by Aquino's command. A strong point made in Aquino's favor was that he had surrendered to the Americans knowing that he was to be tried on a charge of having murdered the prisoners. He was convicted by the court martial and sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

Fine Imposed on Groff.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The police trial board has decided to recommend that a fine of $40 a month pending an appeal of the case in the courts be imposed upon Policeman Samuel A. Groff, who was recently convicted and sentenced for conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the postal frauds. Since the indictment of Groff last summer he has been under suspension on full pay of $90 a month. He was about to be retired as a police officer, and the trial board did not feel justified in dropping him from the rolls pending final disposition of his case in the appellate courts.

She Would Not Shoot.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 24.—Sensational stories have been circulated at the capitol about a woman, said to be a Mrs. Ellsworth of New York city, who has been endeavoring for the past three days to get an interview with Victor Shanley, lawyer, for the purpose, it was said, of shooting him. He had heard of it, and when he met her he says he asked her: "Is it true that you have a pistol and intend to shoot me? If so do it now." He says that she replied that she did not have a pistol and did not intend to shoot him. The woman left for New York city.

Wrecks on Sierra Nevada Range.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—Wrecks, landslides and snowslides in the snow shed region of the Sierra Nevada mountains have impeded progress on the Central Pacific, carried away telegraph wires and cut off telegraphic communication with the east. The overland passenger trains are stalled at Reno and will be from fifteen to twenty hours late reaching San Francisco. The trains that left for the east yesterday morning will also be tied up between Sacramento and Truckee until the wreckage can be cleared away.

Queen Badly Damaged by Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The Pacific Coast Steamship company's steamer Queen after lying outside the Heads all night arrived at Broadway wharf, showing the ravages of the fire that devastated her on her last trip and caused loss of life. From the engine bulkhead aft to her stern the upper works are completely wrecked. After an inspection is made the Queen will be taken to the Union Iron works for a complete overhauling.

Hotel Blown Up at Littleton.

WHEELING, W. Va., March 24.—An explosion of natural gas wrecked the Sharpe hotel in Littleton, an oil town. The body of William Lawson of Pittsburg, a pipe line employee, has been recovered from the ruins. The hotel was filled with oil men, and it is feared that four or five others have lost their lives. Immediately after the explosion the building caught fire and was destroyed, together with a number of other structures.

Payne Grows Stronger Daily.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Postmaster General Payne had a comfortable day. He sat up for a considerable part of the time and for the first time in a week attended to some departmental matters. His physicians say Mr. Payne is bright and cheerful and that he is growing stronger every day. It is now expected he will leave the city early next week to recuperate.

Long Branch Now a City.

TRENTON, N. J., March 24.—The house has passed bills incorporating the city of Long Branch, authorizing Asbury Park to expend money for the improvement of its beach front, loaning $50,000 to the Passaic valley sewerage commission.

CODY'S COMPLAINT.

Buffalo Bill Was Sick From Christmas Dinner.

WIFE SAID SHE WOULD "FIX ME UP"

Claims She Fixed Him Up a Dose of Poison In Lieu of a Proper Remedy and Almost Finished His Distinguished Career.

DENVER, March 24.—Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) has made a deposition before a notary in this city in the action for divorce which he has begun in Big Horn county, Wyo. Colonel Cody will sail for Europe shortly and will be absent from the country when his suit is tried. In the proceedings Colonel Cody was interrogated by his own attorney and was subjected to cross examination by counsel for Mrs. Cody.

"Mrs. Cody tried to poison me three years ago," the colonel testified. "She had frequently threatened to do it. We were visiting in Rochester, N. Y., during the holidays of 1900, and the day after Christmas I was ill. I supposed the turkey and plum pudding did not agree with me. She said she would fix me up. She pretended to give me medicine. It was poison. It almost finished me, for I was unconscious for some time. I think it must have been an overdose, for it made me vomit, and I suppose this saved my life."

Colonel Cody relates many instances of his wife's having humiliated him at his "former home" in North Platte by her conduct toward his guests.

"She drove my friends away," he said. "When they were no longer welcome in the handsome residence I built and elaborately furnished it was no longer my home."

The witness recited many specific instances of his wife's alleged discourtesy to his guests.

Mrs. Cody's counsel inquired into the character of the guests to whom she objected and into their conduct while at her home. The purpose of the inquiry was to show that the men whom he brought to the house were a fast and riotous set and behaved in such a manner that she had a right to object to them.

Trade League of Importers.

CHICAGO, March 24.—Chicago importers are being invited by Alfred Petschow to join an association formed by 150 New York importers. The purpose is to guard the interests of traders in foreign goods. "Within the last three months," said Mr. Petschow today, "the Middle European league, embracing manufacturers and business men in Germany, Austria and other countries, has been organized to discourage the importation of products from the United States. If this government does not make some change in the policies that answered its purpose ten or more years ago the spirit of retaliation will grow, and the export trade of the United States will be affected immeasurably."

Viceroy Curzon to Leave For Home.

LONDON, March 24.—In the house of commons Mr. Brodrick, secretary of state for India, said that Lord Curzon, the viceroy, was coming home. By so doing he would vacate his appointment. The statute provided that whenever such a vacancy occurred the governors of Madras and Bombay should act in place of the governor general. No successor to Lord Curzon, Mr. Brodrick said, would be appointed immediately. It would be open to the king to reappoint Lord Curzon, who would leave India at the beginning of May and remain in England till September. The law did not allow for any period of absence.

Pesant Must Pay the Penalty.

CHICAGO, March 24.—Louis Pesant has been sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Mrs. Mary Spilka. Pesant strangled the woman to death to procure $300 which she possessed. There are now seven condemned prisoners in the county jail, a number that has been equaled only at the time of the anarchist trials. There are twenty-nine men in the jail awaiting trial for murder, which is a greater number than has ever been in the jail for this crime since the foundation of the city.

Bubonic Plague at Bombay.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The secretary of state has received a telegram from William P. Fee, United States consul at Bombay, India, saying that his daughter was dead of the bubonic plague and that his wife was stricken. The Fees have been in Bombay for the past five years. Mr. Fee is from Warren, O., and was mayor of that place for two years. In March, 1893, Mr. Fee was appointed consul at Cienfuegos, Cuba, but a month later the Spanish war was begun.

Brother Shot Ten-year-old Sister.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Katherine, the ten-year-old daughter of Gilbert W. Sanborn, died during the night from the effects of a wound received through the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of her brother. The charge entered the child's back. The boy, who was a year older than his sister, was cleaning the weapon when the accident occurred.

Governor of Iowa Ill.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 24.—Governor Albert B. Cummins is seriously ill with an attack of grip and is threatened with pneumonia. The governor has been ill for about two weeks, but has persisted in attending to his duties at the statehouse. His physicians have succeeded in bringing his temperature down to 100.

DR. MATTHEWSON'S LAUNCH

DESCRIPTION OF OCEAN CRUISING BOAT BEING BUILT FOR PLAINFIELDER.

The New York Herald yesterday contained a cut of the ocean cruising launch being built at Mariner's Harbor, S. I., for Dr. Charles Brenton Matthewson, Rhode Island Yacht Club, and a resident of this place. The launch will be used principally in Narragansett Bay, but next winter her owner will take her to Florida. She is fifty-six feet, three inches in length, constructed of yellow pine, white oak, white cedar, quartered mahogany and white pine and she is to be copper bottomed and riveted throughout.

She will be equipped with a twenty horse power Standard engine and the speed of the boat will be about twelve miles an hour.

The house is thirty-one feet in length, handsomely fitted and of mahogany. The launch will be completed in early May.

TRAINING FIRE HORSES.

Getting Borough Department Team Accustomed to Calls.

Under the tutelage of Lieutenant Campbell the borough fire team is rapidly becoming trained to the work required of it. The horses respond to the taps quickly now, and a few more weeks of training will put them in first class shape. Lieut. Campbell is enthusiastic in the training work, and brings the horses out at frequent intervals day and night. A reporter for The Daily Press heard him coaching the animals into quick action sometime around 11 o'clock the other evening.

Birthday Party.

Raymond, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cutter, of Sandford avenue, celebrated the seventh anniversary of his birthday yesterday afternoon in a pleasant manner. There were about twenty young friends present, all of whom joined in congratulating the young celebrant and wishing him many returns of the day. The afternoon was spent in playing games, after which refreshments were served. Master Cutter received a number of presents, marking the occasion as a happy one.

The Garbage Question.

There appears to be considerable agitation in favor of the proposed plan for municipal collection of garbage. All citizens are invited to attend the meeting of the Common Council, Monday night, April 4, and express their views. It is necessary that the Common Council should learn something of the sentiment of the people before voting on the proposition.

PROF. HODGE ON THE BIBLE

AN UNION THEOLOGICAL PROFESSOR TALKS TO HOPE'S TEACHERS.

To hear Professor Hodge, one of the prominent members of the faculty of Union Theological Seminary, the Sunday-school teachers of Hope chapel met at the home of H. C. Squiers, their superintendent, last night.

Professor Hodge is an authority on Bible study. To the teachers gathered to her him, he delivered a highly interesting and suggestive talk on the subject. He outlined the different courses and methods of study, telling, in his own way, a number of Bible stories as he proceeded.

The talk was listened to with close attention, and the Professor was called upon to answer a number of questions.

After the lecture a social time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

OLD-STYLE FOURTH.

Albert G. Perry is Planning a Glorious Celebration in Borough.

North Plainfield is likely to have an old-fashioned celebration of Independence Day next July. Albert Perry is at the head of a movement among the residents of Prideville to conduct the affair.

According to Col. Perry's ideas, the celebration will be held in the western section of the borough, where the old-time spirit, as differentiated from the twentieth century rush, is supposed to be livelier. It is the Colonel's idea to have patriotic addresses by prominent men, music of appropriate character, and a programme of old-time sports, such as pig chase, foot races and tug-of-war.

Mr. Perry has interested Antietam Command, U. V. U., in the plan, and expects to secure the co-operation of the G. A. R. men.

Sale of Property.

Under foreclosure proceedings instituted by the mortgagee, F. W. Happel, of Scotch Plains, a piece of property on Terrill road, belonging to the estate of the late Joseph Brick, was sold yesterday at auction. The sale was attended by a number of Fanwood people, and bidding was spirited. The property finally went to Mrs. Emily R. Checkett, of Brooklyn, one of the heirs of the estate, who bid it in for $1,040. This is $30 in excess of the mortgage, costs and interest, something unusual in such sales. George Ball was solicitor for the complaint. Mrs. Checkett announced her intention of making extensive improvements about the property. It includes a house and barn and four acres of land.

Telephone Bill Killed.

The bill permitting the merging of telephone companies was lost in the Assembly, at Trenton, yesterday, after the vigorous opposition of Mr. Swackhamer. He contended that it sanctioned a monopoly which would ruin patrons of a telephone company, since it would take away from the people the opportunity that comes from sharp competition and thus ties their hands. The bill, it was insisted, was to permit a gigantic foreign telephone company to gobble up similar rival companies against the desire of the minority stockholders.

Invitation Dance.

Invitations were out today for the dance to be given by the I. C. T. Club Thursday, April 7. The committee from the club consists of V. W. Nash, Jr., chairman; Burlin Banks, Raymond McVoy, Leonce Texier and Edmond Texier.

Miss Carrie Mehl, of West Second street, is seriously ill.

—The Fourth Ward Social Club will hold a dance in T. A. B. Hall on Easter Monday night, April 4. Eugene O'Reilly will furnish music.

PYTHIANS OBSERVE THEIR ANNIVERSARY

Unity Lodge Holds Celebration to Mark Its Twenty-One Years of Existence.

LILLIPUTIANS THERE

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE LAIBLE AMONG THOSE TAKING PART.

Knights of Columbus Hall Was Crowded—Good Programme—Refreshments and Speeches—The Committee in Charge.

The twenty-first anniversary of Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., was observed in the new lodge rooms in Knights of Columbus Hall, last night, in a manner appropriate to its attaining its majority. A programme of excellence was prepared by a committee and for over an hour the members, their wives, sisters and sweethearts, as well as friends, were entertained.

Orchestral music by a trio, Messrs. Comes, Smith and Cuttle, discoursed popular selections throughout the evening, after opening the programme with the "Knights of Pythias March." There were vocal selections by the Apollo quartette, of Westfield, composed of Messrs. L. Reger, H. Johnston, A. Stokey and G. VanBuskirk. They gave "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Robin Adair," and other familiar songs of old-time popularity.

Perhaps one of the most enjoyable features of the programme was the appearance of Add Hoyt, of New York, who gave humorous selections, including many funny stories and not a few of the latest songs. His witticism provoked hearty laughter and he was recalled several times. Assisting him on the piano was City Judge William N. Runyon, whose accompaniment added to the pleasure.

Another feature was the first public appearance of the Har Moni Cajew Sharp orchestra, composed of Messrs. William N. Runyon, Jeremiah VanWinkle, Jr., A. D. Pope, Ephraim Compton and Frank Putnam. The orchestra gave several selections from well-known composers, eliciting much applause.

The programme was concluded with a domestic sketch by Mr. and Mrs. George Laible, the Lilliputians, who recently returned to their home in Dunellen from a successful trip through the country. Their sketch was exceedingly funny and included both solos, duets and dialogue parts.

After the entertainment all were invited to the banquet room, where a repast was served under the direction of the committee in charge, consisting of Frank Putnam, chairman; H. J. Martin, S. E. Humpston, J. W. A. Bauersachs, William A. Dow.

Unity Lodge is one of the most prosperous secret organizations in the city. It was organized twenty-one years ago and ever since has continued to grow until today it ranks among the leading societies not only in the city, but the State, and is recognized as an influential body in the Grand Lodge.

SCHOOL HONORS.

At the chapel exercises in the High School today, it was announced by Principal I. W. Travell that Miss Anna J. Broadnacks had won the honor of delivering the valedictory address at Commencement and that Miss Anna Randall would be salutatorian. The appointments are based on scholarship.

Hearst Club Booming.

A large attendance was present at the meeting of the W. R. Hearst Club last evening at its headquarters, 430 Watchung avenue, and a number of enthusiastic speeches were made by local members of the club. A special committee was appointed to arrange for a large public mass meeting, and nine new members were enrolled. The club meets again on Thursday evening, April 14.

Found Guilty.

James Carter, arrested by Patrolman McCarthy yesterday morning on a charge of helpless drunkenness, was found guilty and released on suspended sentence by City Judge Runyon.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. William Gaddis, of Regent street, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Grace E. Gaddis, to Robert L. Guttridge, of South avenue.

—Wesley Messersmith, of North Plainfield, has taken a position in Dudley Miller's pharmacy.

TO FEEL THE PUBLIC PULSE

BOARD OF TRADE ARRANGES MEETING FOR DISCUSSION OF TIMELY SUBJECTS.

To obtain as general an expression of public opinion as possible on the advisability of the proposed method of garbage disposal, the Board of Trade will hold a special meeting next Thursday night. The meeting will be open to the public and anyone who has views on the plan of buying up the disposal plant and adopting the method of incineration is urged to express them.

Another object for holding the meeting will be to encourage a sentiment in regard to the building of a government postoffice in this city. The members of the Board have already, at their last meeting, advocated such a building. Next Thursday night's meeting is arranged by a committee for the purpose of having a public discussion with the city officials of the best means of bringing influence to bear so as to make possible a government postoffice, under the provision, of course, that the people want it.

COLUMBIA BOYS ENTERTAIN

COLLEGE MEN SING AND PLAY TO A DELIGHTED AUDIENCE.

The concert by the Columbia Glee and Mandolin Clubs at the Casino last night drew a large crowd. The clubs were well drilled and did some effective work particularly in their humorous selections. "Poor Willie," a sad tale of a small boy who died, was becomingly rendered by the glee club quartette, and "A Continuous Performance," an up-to-date version of "Mother Goose" by the entire glee club, was another favorite. The club also invested their rendition of Shattuck's "Marching Song" with a lot of vim and swing. The mandolin club's numbers were popular. George S. Parsons, the monologist of the clubs, was unable to appear. Closing the programme, the Columbia College song was given.

This was the programme: "Where Would I be," Glee Club; "Symphia Waltz," Halzman, Mandolin Club; solo, R. M. Crawford; "Poor Willie," Glee Club Quartette; "A Continuous Performance," Gottschalk, Glee Club; Marching Song, Shattuck, Glee Club; "Tale of a Sea Shell," Luders, Mandolin Club; Medley, Glee Club Quartette; "Sans Souci," Glee Club.

There were recalls for every number on the programme. R. M. Crawford's tenor solos were among the most loudly applauded. The concert was given for the benefit of the athletic association of the borough High School, the committee from the school including W. Messersmith, L. H. Banker, Leonard Mantz, William Nischwitz, Carl Steiner and E. R. Powlison. Dancing followed the entertainment, with music by Suhr's orchestra.

Leave Tomorrow for Venezuela.

Former Congressman Alvah A. Clark, of Somerville, and his daughters, Mrs. Charles A. Reed and Mrs. Mack, accompanied by Former Senator Charles A. Reed, will sail tomorrow for Venezuela. Mr. Reed is called away on business and those accompanying him take the trip chiefly for the benefits of the sea air. During the whole trip they expect to be on land about one day.

Mt. Olive Church Affair.

The entertainment given at Mt. Olive Baptist church last night under the auspices of the Missionary Society, was a successful affair. The programme consisted of literary features. The choice selection of the evening was a dramatic recital, "Lost," given by Mrs. M. Lomax. Mrs. P. H. Brown is president of the organization.

Magnificent Display.

The International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa., has opened a temporary exhibit at 215 West Front street. Citizens are cordially invited to call and have explained to them their methods of teaching by mail of the largest educational institution in the world. You will not regret your time spent, day or evening.

Suit for $5,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Clark, of this city, through their attorney, J. P. Owens, have brought suit against the Public Service Corporation for $5,000 damages. Mr. and Mrs. Clark received injuries last December while riding in a trolley car in the vicinity of Terrill road.

—Mr. and Mrs. Perrin, of West Front street, will change their residence April 1 and the house now occupied by them will be taken by a New York family.

LODGE RECEIVES PRESENTS

INDIAN RELICS ARE GIVEN TO WETUMPKAH TRIBE, I. O. R. M.

Dr. Merriman's Indian relics were presented to Wetumpkah Tribe of Red Men at a special public entertainment last night. The collection included many valuable arrow heads, flints, necklaces and so forth, some of which could not easily be duplicated. Dr Merriman claims that the relics were handed down from generations of his Indian ancestors. In behalf of the tribe, Richard Osland accepted the gift and presented the Doctor with a handsome bouquet of flowers.

A speech was made by Robert Humphrey, and a song and talk given by James Clark. A. E. Willard did musical stunts, the Aeolian quartette, of Garwood, sang, Miss Edgar, of Westfield, performed at the piano, and David Dreier rendered violin selections.

The meeting was attended by delegations from Mjantonomo and the tribes of Westfield and Roselle. There were many women friends of the order present. John Clark, A. E. Willard and Richard Scott formed the committee in charge of the entertainment.

HOPE CHAPEL WOMEN MEET

MRS. LAWRENCE R. HOWARD PRESIDENT OF CHAPEL ORGANIZATION.

At the annual meeting of the Hope Chapel Women's Home Mission Society yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. L. R. Howard; vice president, Mrs. Struthers; secretary, Mrs. George Radford; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Brown.

Excellent and encouraging reports were handed in by the treasurer and secretary. More than the usual sum was expended for mission work by the society during the year and the membership increased by eight. It was voted to change the meeting day from the last Thursday in the month to the last Wednesday.

Mrs. Gildersleeve, president of the Women's Home Mission Society of the Presbytery, delivered an address on "Home Mission Work." She dwelt particularly on the labors of the missionaries in Alaska and among the Indians.

Refreshments were served after the session.

OFFICER ACCOMMODATED HIM.

Chicago Man who Asked McCarthy for Money Got a Night's Lodging.

James O'Brien, who says he comes from Chicago, spent yesterday telling people in this city how much he needed money to get something to eat. Among those he attempted to touch was Patrolman McCarthy, who in his citizen's clothes was not recognized as an arm of the law.

"Gimme a quarter," said Jimmy. "I'm starvin'."

"Sure," said the officer, "come with me." And James received a night's lodging instead.

On a charge of vagrancy, O'Brien was found guilty this morning by City Judge Runyon. "Back to Chicago," said His Honor, and sentence was suspended.

AN ACTIVE CAREER

FORMER MAYOR OF BOROUGH OF NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Responsible for Great Growth of Concern of Which He Will be the Head—Formerly Vice President of Company.

By the unanimous vote of the directors, William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, was elected president of the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Company yesterday afternoon. He succeeds former Mayor William R. Grace, New York's Democrat and financier, who died last week.

Mr. Saunders was the logical choice for the place. He has been connected with the big corporation for twenty-two years, for seventeen of which he has been highly prominent in its workings.

He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania as a mining engineer, at the age of twenty, in 1876. In 1882 he entered the employ of the Drill Company. He rose rapidly in the corporation, and in 1887 was on the board of directors as secretary of the company. Ten years later he was vice president, the position he filled at the time Mr. Grace died

As president of the concern, Mr. Saunders has full and direct control of the vast selling department of the corporation. The vacancy among the vice presidents created by his promotion was filled by the election of George R. Elder, manager of the manufacturing department.

In North Plainfield the new head of the great company is known as ex-mayor and an active leader among the Washington Park Democrats. He takes an active interest in public questions, and fought for annexation and the establishment of a sewage disposal plant. He is prominent in the Park Club and the social life of the borough.

MYSTERY OF A HUMAN FOOT

A PEDAL EXTREMITY FOUND ON RAILROAD TRACKS AT DUNELLEN.

The mystery of a human foot is agitating Dunellen. Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock a crushed, shoeless foot, which had evidently been torn from its owner's body some time ago, was discovered along the railroad tracks not far from the Dunellen station by one of the crew of train No. 115. The foot is at present in Walter Runyon's undertaking rooms awaiting possible identification. Claims Agent John K. Large said last night that he had received unofficial information of the find.

It may have belonged to some victim of a recent accident, but, if so, there is a strangeness about the fact that its owner has not made his loss known. It has been suggested that someone may be attempting to perpetrate a ghastly joke merely for the sake of stirring up a mystery.

Tracks Sink.

On account of the poor condition of the roadbed of the street car track beyond Giraud avenue to the Dunellen terminus, the heavy Elizabeth-Dunellen cars were taken off this morning, passengers being transferred to lighter cars at Giraud avenue. The mud and rains have made the tracks wobbly. A gang of men is at work on the tracks, and Division Superintendent Maguire states that he expects the trouble to be remedied before the day is over.

Druggist Drops Dead.

James U. Case, oldest druggist in Somerville, and a prominent man there, dropped dead last evening while conversing on the telephone.

Mrs. A. J. Stiglitz, of East Front street, has been visiting Brooklyn friends.

Miss Lizzie Crosby, of East Sixth street, spent yesterday with friends in Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Samuels, of Somerville, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. Leichtentritt, of West Front street.

R. M. Chambliss, son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, of East Front street, has returned to his home at Brownsville, Tenn., after a visit with his parents.

LEE MENTIONED FOR OFFICE

HIS NAME BEING CONNECTED WITH THE TAX COLLECTORSHIP.

Councilman Robert Lee is mentioned for the office of tax collector in the event of Frank H. Smith's election as first registrar of deeds. It is said that Collector Smith can have the registrar nomination if he wants it.

It was said this morning by one of the prominent Republican workers that none of the leaders had spoken in favor of Mr. Lee yet in connection with the possible vacancy. Collector Smith said the same thing. In reply to a question put by a reporter, he said he would like to be the registrar of deeds, but that as far as he was concerned the matter of the nomination was far from being fixed.

"I would accept the nomination if offered to me, if the conditions were right. I would not consent to go up as a target for Kirk's friends in Elizabeth and Rahway."

Collector Smith said Councilman Lee would make a fine collector.

"He is energetic, has a lot of push, and has clerical training."

James F. Buckle, former president of the Council, also said that Mr. Lee would be a good collector.

HAD $1,200 WORTH OF BOOTY

WALER DISPOSED OF STOLEN GOODS IN PHILADELPHIA.

The value of the property recovered by County Detective Totten, of Somerville, from "Jack" Waler is said to approach $1,200. Some of the jewelry and valuables were found among Waler's effects and others from women with whom he associated and in pawn shops.

Waler, it is said, posed as a Southerner of means. A number of pawn tickets were found on him at the time of his arrest which showed that he was in the habit of disposing of goods in Philadelphia. It is said he will probably plead guilty and that he has already made something of a confession to Totten.

It is alleged that Waller has operated principally in the West though claiming Richmond, Va., as his home. He is known to have arrived from the West in Allentown, Pa., this winter, whence he drifted to this city.

A TAILOR'S BILL.

Judgement Recovered Against John Kitchen, Who Failed to Pay Defunct Firm.

Although he never received the suit of clothes, John Kitchen, of this city, was obliged to pay for one which he had ordered of the Cashin, Gough Company last fall. Suit for the value of the clothes was brought by the company, William Newcorn, Esq., assignee, and the case was tried yesterday before Judge Atwater in the District Court.

It was shown by the testimony that the suit of clothes in question was to be ready for the defendant on the week of November 2, 1903. On Monday, Nov. 2, the company made an assignment. The claim was that he went to the store on Wednesday, Nov. 4, and was unable to get the clothes, whereas the testimony for the plaintiff indicated that the clothes had been held in readiness for the purchaser during the entire week. The judgment entered was for the full amount, eighteen dollars, and costs. F. J. Blatz, Esq., represented the plaintiff, and W. G. DeMeza the defendant.

New Cars.

North Plainfield, as well as other parts of the P. S. C. territory, is to be favored with new cars. Inspector Maguire said this morning that improved conveyances were expected for the Somerset street line every day. The Netherwood short line is to be similarly favored. The new cars will not be of the heavy type. The track will not permit it, and besides, the traffic is not heavy enough to demand that sort of car. The type to be used is about two windows longer than the present cars, fitted in the newest style.

TABLEAUX A FEATURE OF ENTERTAINMENT AT ALL SOULS' CHURCH.

Under the auspices of the Unity League of All Souls' church an entertainment was given in the church, last night, consisting of an imaginary magazine, pictured in a series of tableaux. First the cover was represented, then the advertisements and then one of the stories. The presentation was both clever and amusing. Those who took part in these tableaux were Miss Edna Nicholl, Miss Mabel Powell, Miss Stephanie Krom, Miss Laura Walker, Frank Thompson and Henry Wells.

An after-piece, entitled "A Strike in the Nursery," was given by Cora Bender, Osgood Sewall and Mildred McAuliffee. Following the entertainment there was chafing dish refreshments and a social time. Howard Riley was chairman of the committee in charge. There were nearly fifty persons present and the affair was an entire success.

BIG TIME FOR SHRINERS

PLAINFIELD ARABS TO JOURNEY OVER SANDS TO THE OASIS AT NEWARK.

Another joyous pilgrimage is ahead of the nobles of Salaam Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, who live in Plainfield. They have been notified to travel over the sands for a meeting and banquet in Kruger's Auditorium, which is located in the oasis of Newark, the biggest spot of its kind in the Desert of New Jersey. The tribe will assemble Wednesday, March 30.

Many things of unusual character—usual enough to the nobles—are promised for the occasion. For one thing, according to the notice, there is to be a "mournful solemnization." Of what, the notice says not. When the nobles get tired of that, they will have "the martyrdom of Hussein" to interest them. Also some "sorrowful mysteries," "grand processions," "Dervish ordeal," "ritualistic representations," "solemn chantings," and a "glorious apotheosis." If all that doesn't convince the nobles they are getting all that is coming to them, they will have the wonderful and inexplicable "zikers on the son of Ali."

All of these things are promises in cabilistic phrase by the notices sent out by the officers. When one of the nobles was asked what they all meant, he looked awed and solemn, and waved the questioner mysteriously away.

It is not to be doubted, however, that the Temple is going to have a good time, and all the Plainfielders in it will attend.

At the meeting Julius Williams, of Trinity Commandery, is to be put through.

VIOLIN NIGHT.

Term Applied to Revival Service at East Third Street Chapel.

The auditorium of the East Third Street chapel was filled last evening, it being "violin night," the time allotted to music was given to Messrs. Malin and Bonner, violinists, who occupied it in a most interesting way. Mr. Leggett's discourse last evening was "Redemption." As one remarked at the close of the service, "He grows better every evening." Elmer D. Cutting sang "The Ninety and Nine." This evening, music will be a special feature. Sermons in song and instrumental music will be preached.

SHAKESPEARIAN LECTURE.

Mr. Abbott's Dissertation on the Bard's Greatest Tragedy, Hamlet.

An instructive lecture on "Hamlet" was given at Truell Inn yesterday morning by Edgar O. Abbott, a relative of Dr. Lyman Abbott, of Boston. Mr. Abbott reads Shakespeare with understanding and appreciation and succeeded in interesting all his hearers in his subject. The lecture was one of a series of three lectures and recitals by Mr. Abbott on Shakespeare's great tragedies. His subject next Thursday, March 31, will be "Othello," and on April 7, "King Lear."

Illness Postpones Trial.

In Justice Huff's court this morning, the case of Meyer Goldberg against Abraham Taylor was continued to tomorrow morning at the request of W. G. DeMeza, Esq., counsel for the defendant, who said his client was suffering from a hemorrhage. The suit is on contract and was at first brought against A. Taylor, the defense claiming that A. Taylor meant Abraham instead of Annie, his wife, as indicated. William Newcorn, Esq., represents the plaintiff.

MOTHER-IN-LAW ENDS THE DOMESTIC BLISS

John Biddolph Flees When His Spouse's Maternal Ancester is About to Enter.

WIFE NOW REPENTANT

BETTER HALF SEARCHING FOR HER MISSING HUSBAND.

Mr. Biddolph Takes Their Child With Him and Writes That Wife Can Sell the Furniture—Mrs. Biddolph Seeks Squire's Aid.

Panic stricken over the prospective visit of his mother-in-law, John Biddolph, of Scotch Plains, abandoned his wife and home Wednesday afternoon, taking his seventeen-months' old baby with him. The wife is frantically searching for him and the infant, but no trace of them has been discovered.

Mrs. Biddolph applied to Justice Clark for assistance in searching for the missing husband Wednesday night. She said that Biddolph had become implacably angered by the receipt of a letter from her mother, notifying them that she would visit their house shortly. Biddolph said he would not remain in the same house with his mother-in-law, and told his wife to choose between them. As for as is known, Biddolph had no particular fault with his wife's mother, except the general reputation of mothers-in-law who stay at the homes of their married daughters.

"If your mother comes to see us," said Biddolph, "I shall get out. The same house will not hold the two of us." Mrs. Biddolph did not take the threat seriously, and insisted on receiving her mother.

True to his word, Biddolph promptly packed up his clothes, and taking the baby with him, left the house a short time after the spat. Mrs. Biddolph thought he was bluffing to frighten her, and allowed him to go without protest. As the evening wore on without any sign of the husband, Mrs. Biddolph became frightened. She went about the town searching for a trace of Biddolph, or the child, but no clue to their whereabouts was discovered.

Next day she received a card from Biddolph telling her curtly that he had the child and intended to keep it. "You have made your choice," wrote Biddolph; "I have the child and will take the best of care of it. As for you, take the furniture and sell it or do as you please with it, as we are through." The message closed with the hope that she would enjoy her mother's society.

There was no clue to Biddolph's whereabouts in the message, and it is believed that he will carefully cover his trail to whatever point he may decide to go. The Scotch Plains authorities gave the distressed wife but little encouragement, for there appears to be no way for them to serve a warrant for desertion. Mrs. Biddolph told Judge Clark that she intended to hire a lawyer and institute a general search for her husband, in order to regain the child.

Have Located Daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baker, of Somerset street, now claim to know the whereabouts of their daughter, Florence, who was married last Sunday to Oscar Waldron, of the borough. What action they will take has not yet been decided upon.

10,000,000 COLLECTORS.

The confidence of these shoppers—ten million of them are now busily engaged in collecting these little "Thrift Makers"—is secured and maintained by three principles:

1st—Meeting the wants of the buying public.
2d—Unhesitating redemption of every book of stamps.
3d—Premiums of unquestioned value.

No other stamp company can afford to give such premiums and such guarantees as we do. We can afford to give nothing else.

P. S. C. HOLDINGS IN NEW JERSEY

It Practically Owns Every Trolley Line, Gas and Electric Light Plant in the State.

PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

BENEFITS WHICH PLAINFIELD DERIVES FROM ITS TROLLEY SYSTEM.

Report of Its Connection With the U. G. I. C., of Philadelphia—No Trolley to Metuchen for Some Time.

The Public Service Corporation now has the distinction of owning and operating every trolley system and horse-car line in the State of New Jersey, as well as every gas and electric lighting plant, with the exception of the one in Elizabeth which is owned by Senator John Kean. The corporation would have had the Elizabeth plant had any other man but Senator Kean been the owner. The fact is that the Senator is too wealthy for the corporation and is able to hold fast to his property. In a majority of cases the corporation has been too strong for other companies which have submitted to a forced surrender.

Just what the outcome of all the concentration of trolley, gas and electric light companies will be is hard to tell at present. It has been confidently expressed by men of affairs that the big corporation will soon become too large to handle satisfactorily. If conditions improve and the public is given the kind of service that they have a right to expect, no doubt the corporation will succeed.

Now that the Public Service Corporation controls the trolley and lighting companies of the State, it is said that its identification with the United Gas Improvement Company, of Philadelphia, marks it as one of the gigantic corporations in the United States.

The corporation is planning to improve all of its trolley lines and is especially anxious to secure through service to Trenton so that a bid may be made for traffic to the Inter-State Fair next September. According to the latest reports it is frequently receiving new cars of the most approved pattern. Some of these are scheduled to run between Newark and Trenton. So far as can be learned there is little prospect of a line being built between Plainfield and Metuchen this summer, although strong influences are at work to secure this extension.

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, as well as those interested in the trotting at the Plainfield Driving Park are anxious to have the trolley extend, believing that it would be a general benefit to both organizations. There is no doubt but what the line will be extended within the coming year, but the chances for this summer's business are not bright.

A fact not to be overlooked in the operation of the main line cars through Plainfield is that people as far down the road as Cranford as well as in Westfield and other nearby towns are brought to this city to do their shopping. This can now be accomplished without a change of cars.

New cars are promised within a very short time for the Somerset-Fourth street line, as well as the Netherwood line, and the old cars will be consigned to the scrap heap, from whence it is hoped they will never return. This report about new cars is positively stated as a fact.

PERSONAL.

E. A. Tichenor, of Newark, formerly of this city, was a recent visitor in town.

Edmund W. Pack, of Park avenue, is detained at his home with an attack of grip.

Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, of West Seventh street, will return this week from a trip to Ashaway, R. I.

Charles McNabb, of Westervelt avenue, who has been detained at home by illness, is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Auten, of Somerville, have been visiting Mrs. Auten's parents on Central avenue.

Mrs. George Pratt, of New York, is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Williams, of West End avenue.

R. M. Fountain, of Jackson avenue, clerk of the district school of the borough, is convalescing from a severe illness.

Dorothy Auten, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Auten, of East Front street, has recovered from a recent illness.

Evelyn Hillman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hillman, of West Fourth street, who has been dangerously ill for several months, is able to sit up for a few hours each day.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

One of the strangest pastimes that has ever engaged the attention of the youth of Plainfield is the most recent one "fishing" for rats. A gang of messenger boys and newsboys frequently gather in some dark passage way along North avenue bait a big hook with a piece of cheese and let it fall in the entrance to some cellar. Then Sir Rodent makes his appearance on the scene, scents the cheese, takes a big nibble and is lifted to his death like a fish out of water. The line is then lowered again ready for the next victim. This provides no end of sport for "de gang" headed by Willie Mullin and appeals also to property owners by doing away with the necessity for the office cat.

One of the odd features of life in Plainfield is to be seen every Saturday morning in front of the Organized Aid Association on West Front street, when the society holds its weeky sales of clothing. Italians crowd the walk at those times, searching for the bargains that are pretty sure to be found at the sales. More often than not the olive-skinned foreigners are accompanied by their wives and children, and the bright colorings of the dresses and the excited chattering in the Neapolitan dialect go to make a scene that is oddly strange to New Jersey suburban life. The officers of the Aid Association are not quite happy over the popularity of the sales with the Italians. The primary aid is to afford the deserving poor of the city a chance to purchase clothing and such things at nominal prices, and it does not seem just right that the transient dwellers from the Sunny Land, who are only here for the accumulation of enough to enable them to get back to Italy, should snap up the articles offered.

Mrs. Abram Angleman, of West Front street, is very ill.

Mrs. Smith, of Duer street, who has been quite ill, is now convalescing.

Miss Laura Runyon, of Madison avenue, has gone to Philadelphia to spend some time with friends.

James Manning, J. D. Loizeaux and A. D. Thompson have returned home from a pleasant trip to Cuba. The party did not remain long on the island, preferring to spend most of the time on the water.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Wizard of Oz" is at home again at the Majestic Theatre, New York city, rejuvenated and as interestingly as funny as ever. Opening night a packed house welcomed back the "Scarecrow" and "Tin Woodman," Fred. Stone and Dave Montgomery, Anna Laughlin, Bessie Wynn, Lotta Faust and all the other favorites. With a heartiness that drew tears to the artists' eyes. In brief one of the New York daily papers gave the following gratifying criticism of the second edition of the extravaganza: New York Herald: "'The Wizard of Oz' returned to the Majestic as popular as ever and the 'Scarecrow,' 'The Tin Woodman,' 'Trixie,' 'Dorothy,' the Lion and Cow renewed their old time hits. Talk about receptions: The most exacting grand opera singer could not expect bigger ovations than were tendered the favorites and the pretty chorus."

As a curtain raiser to "Man Proposes" the clever little one act comedy "Frederic Lemaitre" is presenting at the Hudson Theatre, with Henry Miller in the role of the great actor. The play is no longer a novelty, of course, but it has lost none of its hold the public. Theatrical shopkeepers will note that here is a play with plenty of heart interest. Mr. Miller has been seen in it in New York before, and it was written by Clyde Fitch for the late Felix Morris, who made a hit in it at Daly's Theatre some years ago. It is practically a one part play, and the sort of a part that an actor dearly loves to play. It is not one of those parts, however, that "plays itself." The plot is a mere trifle—the story of how the great actor Frederic Lemaitre taught a stage struck young milliner that an actor was something more than a parrot. By the way, what an excellent play this is for the matinee girl to see, or for the thousands of young women who imagine that a career awaits them upon the stage. Mr. Miller plays the title role with sincerity, and always in the right key. He looks the character, too. Miss Claire Kulp, as Madelene Flewry, a little stage struck milliner, is effective, and so, too, is Walter Allen as the old servant.

On Monday, March 28, the Grand Opera House will be turned over to the classic drama, a change that should be heartily welcomed after so many comedies and musical plays. Thomas E. Shea, an actor of renown outside of New York, will make his metropolitan debut in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and later during the week he will appear in "The Bells" and "Cardinal Richelieu." Mr. Shea believes that a cycle of the classics would be much appreciated in New York after the poor quality of most of this season's dramatic offerings and he has selected the Grand Opera House in preference to other New York theatres on account of the discriminating tastes of its numerous patrons.

Forbes Robertson and Gertrude Elliott and their London company will end their engagement in "Hamlet" at the Knickerbooker Theatre Saturday evening, April 3d, and will be followed on Monday evening, April 4th, by Wright Lorimer, the young romantic actor, in his own new production, "The Shepherd King," a Biblical play with David as its centre of interest. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott will end their first American tour most auspiciously. Their production of "Hamlet," and especially Mr. Robertson's interpretation of this character, has firmly established them in the good opinion of American theatre-goers and their return to America next season under the direction of Klaw & Erlanger will be most heartily welcomed. Their last appearance in America this season will occur at Sander's Theatre, Harvard College, where they will present two special performances of "Hamlet" at the conclusion of their Knickerbocker Theatre engagement.

The Wednesday matinees at Wallack's Theatre, New York, are designed for the special accommodation of suburban patrons who find it inconvenient to patronize the evening performances of "The County Chairman." An additional advantageous feature of these mid-week afternoon representations of George Ade's immensely diverting comedy is the fact that the prices are very materially reduced from the schedule in operation at night. This enables persons living within striking distance of the city to visit Wallack's of a Wednesday afternoon and pay their railway and street car fares out of about what it would cost them for theatre tickets alone upon other occasions—an item of some importance. "The County Chairman" is still far in the lead of all funny plays of the metropolitan season.

A Show You Must Visit.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis is, in all respects, the greatest and most comprehensive ever undertaken in any country. It is more than ten times the size of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo in point of floor space in the exhibit palaces; twice as large as the Columbian Exposition at Chicago; about three times larger than the last Paris Exposition, and twenty or more times larger than the Exposition at Omaha, Nashville, Atlanta, SanFrancisco or Charleston. It will present a new and important development of the Exposition idea, showing the evolutions of the raw materials through all the processes of manufacture to the finished product. It will be a grand exhibition of life, color, motion and demonstration in every part where practicable. The builders of the St. Louis Exposition have profited by experience gained in the construction of former expositions. Thus it has been possible to construct more buildings, with greater dimensions, of more approved design, at a less cost and in a quicker time than was done in Chicago. The enormous proportions of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition may be in a measure appreciated when the official statement is given that 88,000 horse-power is required to drive the machinery. At Chicago 12,000 horse-power was all that was utilized. The New Jersey Central is one of the best lines to St. Louis and the rates offered are reasonable and cover circuitous routes. If you are thinking of visiting the Fair write to W. O. Walsh, Jr., District Passenger Agent at Newark for information.

To Commemorate Deeds.

Another tribute has been paid to New Jersey's Revolutionary heroes by the passage by the House of Senator Cross's bill appropriating $5,000 for the erection of monuments and tablets to mark points of special interest on the Revolutionary battlefields of Elizabethtown, Connecticut Farms and Springfield, in Union County. The work of marking the points is to be done by a commission of three, appointed by the Governor.

In each of the pay envelopes of 180 employes of the Ingersoll-Sergeant drill works, last week, accompanying the cash, was a ticket of dismissal. All are high paid skilled mechanics. No previous notice had been given that the force was to be reduced, and the wholesale discharge, together with the manner in which it was announced, created great surprise. Later a few of the dismissed men were informed that a falling off in business, with a very unpromising outlook for the immediate future, made necessary a reduction in operating expenses.

HARBOR IS BLOCKED

Japanese Sank Seven Steamers as Channel Stoppers.

RUSSIAN FLEET NOW POWERLESS

Strong Fortifications at Harbin and Liaoyang—Japs Reported About to Invade Chinese Neutral Territory—Togo's Report.

LONDON, March 25. — A dispatch from Tokyo says:

"On the night of March 22 the Japanese fleet renewed the attempt to bottle up Port Arthur. Sixteen warships escorted seven merchant steamers to the mouth of the harbor, and under cover of the bombardment the steamers ran in and were sunk in the desired positions. Three thousand Japanese officers and bluejackets volunteered for this duty."

A great Japanese force has been massed for an advance on Harbin, starting from the mouth of the Tumen river below Possiet bay. This is at the northeastern junction of Korea and Manchuria.

Heavy columns are also concentrated north of Pingyang for an offensive move on the Yalu river.

A St. Petersburg report says that the Japanese deliberately contemplate a violation of their pledge to respect neutral Chinese territory and will land troops at Shanhaikwan, according to reports received by the minister of war here. The presence of disguised Japanese soldiers acting as spies along the Shanhaikwan road has been established, and Russian agents report that there is every indication of an intended landing on the west coast of the gulf of Liaotung. The information conveyed by these agents seems to coincide with other information indicating a complete change in the Japanese plan of campaign or of its entrance into a second stage practically involving the abandonment of further heavy landings of troops in Korea.

According to advices received by the government there are only about 70,000 Japanese troops in the Hermit Kingdom at present. It is considered possible that the Japanese reckoned on a complete mobilization there much sooner, but that the difficulties met with in transporting troops from Japan and over the roads in Korea proved more serious than expected, and the Japanese found themselves unable to deliver a frontal attack in Manchuria before the Russian troops arrived in sufficient force to check them. At any rate the latest advices indicate that the Japanese will not send many more soldiers into Korea. They may make a diversion at Possiet bay in the direction of Vladivostok, but their main objective henceforth will be in the gulf of Liaotung.

If the information received is correct the Japanese have discovered that landing on the peninsula is too hard a nut to crack and have elected to land on the Chinese side, where there will be no army to repel them. The only two points feasible for landing are Thinwantao and Tienkiaucheng, which are connected by rail respectively with Shanhaikwan and Kaukiau, on the Peking railroad. A landing at either place would give the Japanese possession of a splendid strategic line by which to strike the Russian flank and if desired to hold Peking in subjection.

The Russians have little faith in the Chinese Generals Ma and Mu, who might disregard orders from Peking and join forces with the Japanese.

The Russian military authorities have felt themselves compelled to consider the foregoing possibility and to take the necessary precautions. The international complications which might arise out of a Japanese landing on neutral Chinese territory have also received careful consideration, for, although it is specifically declared that it is not believed Japan would dare to violate the agreement made in response to the note of United States Secretary of State Hay as well as in Japan's other public professions, there is reason to affirm that the Russian line of conduct in such a contingency has already been decided upon in principle. The assurances obtained from Peking require that the Chinese authorities should oppose with their army such a step on the part of Japan.

A high Russian official states that "it would have worse consequences for other powers than Russia if Japan should enter neutral territory, for such a step would obviously be for the purpose of inveigling China into the fight. If Japan should be successful in this there would be an uprising against foreigners which would be tenfold greater than the Boxer affair. The mere possibility is pregnant with all sorts of dangers, but we can hardly believe that Japan will venture to violate the neutrality of China as she did that of Korea."

It is learned that the Russian military attache at Peking is now at Newchwang watching the movements of the Chinese troops.

Strong fortifications have been erected for the defense of Harbin and Liaoyang.

The construction of batteries at Newshwang continues to be feverishly pushed, and it is believed that that place will shortly be in a condition to resist even a determined assault by the Japanese.

Vice Admiral Togo's report of the fifth attack on Port Arthur has reached Tokyo and is as follows:

"The combined fleet acted according to the plan arranged. Two flotillas of destroyers were outside Port Arthur, as instructed, from the night of the 21st until the morning of the 22d. Although during this time our destroyers were under the fire of the enemy, they sustained no damage. The main fleet arrived off Port Arthur at 8 o'clock on the morning of the 22d.

"I dispatched a part of the fleet in the direction of Pigeon bay and ordered the battleships Fuji and Yashima to make an indirect bombardment against the inner side of the port. During the bombardment the enemy's ships gradually came out of the harbor and at the time when the indirect bombardment stopped, which was about 2 o'clock, the number of Russian ships was five battleships, four cruisers and several destroyers. We believed the enemy was trying to make a movement of their fleet to draw us near the forts. The enemy's ships shelled us indirectly and many of their shots fell near the battleship Fuji, but our ships sustained no damage."

Kuropatkin at Irkutsk.

IRKUTSK, March 25.—General Kuropatkin has arrived here. It is expected that he will cross Lake Baikal immediately on his way to Mukden. The entire population of this place and the troops under General Chichago gave the general an enthusiastic welcome. He is accompanied by Colonel Khorvat, superintendent of the Transsiberian railroad, with whom he has been conferring with relation to the prompt transportation of troops and supplies.

Wireless For Lake Baikal.

BERLIN, March 25. — Russia has purchased the Telefunken system of wireless telegraph apparatus for use in connection with the transportation of troops across Lake Baikal. The apparatus has already been shipped.

Russia Gets New Warships.

BERLIN, March 25. — The Fuerst Bismarck and the Kaiser Friedrich have been sold to the Russian government, the crews having already been engaged. They will be used as cruisers after receiving their armaments.

IN THE SENATE.

Indian Appropriation Bill Has Been Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The senate has passed the Indian appropriation bill. After the routine features of the bill had been disposed of Mr. Bacon again raised the question of civil service appointments, basing his remarks upon the statement made by Mr. Hoar that senators from states of political faith different from that of the president should be consulted in the matter of appointments to office.

Mr. Bacon contended that the southern states were practically disfranchised under a Republican administration and said that this condition of affairs was contrary to the intention of the founders of the government.

Sold Stolen Railway Tickets.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 25.—George W. Welles, a ticket scalper, was found guilty in the criminal court here of obtaining money by trick and fraud in disposing of railway tickets that had been stolen from the Santa Fe depot at Princeton, Kan., which was burned to the ground to hide the robbery. M. M. Letts, the depot agent, disappeared, and later the complete set of tickets, with perforators and rubber stamps, were found in Welles' possession. Many of the tickets, regularly made out, were sold. It is estimated that the supply was worth upward of $100,000. Agent Letts, who was arrested after Welles' apprehension, has twice escaped and is now at liberty. Welles was given two years in the state penitentiary.

The Poison Candy Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—In the Botkin murder trial Mrs. Tuchler, the clerk in the dry goods store who had testified that she sold Mrs. Botkin the handkerchief that was inclosed in the fatal box of candy, was closely cross examined. She was questioned regarding her family affairs and associates until she wept and appealed to the court for protection. Mrs. Alvira Reuff, a trained nurse, testified that while she was attending Mrs. Botkin the latter had asked her regarding the effects of arsenic. She also identified the address on the box of candy as the handwriting of Mrs. Botkin.

New York to Be Laid Up.

LONDON, March 25.—The American line steamer New York, Captain Young, from New York March 12 for Plymouth, Cherbourg and Southampton, which grounded on the 20th inst. off Cape La Hague, near Cherbourg, and afterward collided in Southampton water with the British troopship Assaye, necessitating her being placed in dry dock at Southampton, was so badly damaged by grounding that she must be taken to Belfast for repairs, which, it is said, will take several months. The Germanic will replace her.

Murdered Girl and Drowned Himself.

GEORGETOWN, O., March 25.—The body of George Kelch has been found in Straight creek, near Georgetown. The body of Isa Mathews, who had rejected Kelch, was found in a well near here last Monday. Kelch had compelled her to accompany him in a buggy last Sunday night at the point of a revolver. It seems evident that Kelch murdered the girl and drowned himself.

Express Sideswipes Locomotive.

PITTSBURG, March 25.—The Pittsburg express, eastbound on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad, sideswiped a locomotive in the yards at Crestline, O. The engine was wrecked and the engineer and fireman slightly hurt, but none of the passengers was injured, as the train did not leave the rails.

Kansas Gets Long Needed Rain.

SALINA, Kan., March 25.—The only rain of consequence in months fell throughout central Kansas, thoroughly soaking the ground. Wheat was badly in need of the moisture.

NOW THE THREE H'S SUPPLANT THE 3 R'S

Homer J. Wightman Speaks on "The Meaning of a Public School Education Today."

TALKS TO MEN'S CLUB

LACK OF AN EDUCATION THE WORST HANDICAP, HE SAYS.

The Three H's Include the Training of the Head, Hand and Heart — Society's Two Classes.

Some highly interesting addresses have been delivered at the meetings of the Men's Brotherhood, of Grace M. E. church, but probably the most notable ever given before the association was that of Homer J. Wightman, superintendent of the borough schools, last night.

Mr. Wightman spoke at length on "The Meaning of a Public School Education Today." His address was full of suggestion and information on the general character of the popular educational idea of the day, and the contrast between it and the old-time schooling was brought out clearly. In substance, Mr. Wightman said:

"There is a vast difference between the schools in which you and I learned to read, write and cipher and the schools of today. There have been great changes from the three R's to the three H's, the education of the head, the hand and the heart. The three R's today form the skeleton of the work of the schools, or rather the back-bone of the work of the schools, or at least in the best schools this is the case. The old school with its limited curriculum turned out a good product. We have examples of it all around us, but will that limited curriculum meet the needs of the coming decade for which the schools are now aiming to prepare? I answer 'no.'

"The world is moving. We cannot go back to the tallow candle and the primative modes of business and travel of our fathers. We may deplore the rapid strides of this old world of ours, but it will do no good to sit on the tail of progress and shout 'Whoa.' The education that sufficed for you and me is not going to be adequate for your children and mine. The ox-cart no longer sets the pace for commerce, neither can the three R's with a little juiceless geography set the pace for a practical education. The law of the 'survival of the fittest' still holds true. We must prepare for the 'push.' Every new day is the birthday of larger responsibilities. When puplis step from school life into life's school they have got to face these responsibilities and they succeed or fail as they are fit. The lack of an education is the worst handicap that can be placed upon a young man or a young woman who is to become the guide and companion of her children. Childhood must be the time to prepare for manhood and womanhood. 'We might as well go gunning for the quails that whistled last year in the meadow or the robins that caroled in the sky as to try to fetch down and bag one of the past opportunities of our lives.'

"There are two things in this rapid progress that are to be deplored from the educator's point of view. First: The extravagance of the times. We need plainer food, simpler dress and less bric-a-brac. Many people are living beyond their means. Second: The impatience to achieve. The school of today recognizes that the field of desirable knowledge has so enlarged that any one person can become proficient in only one line. We realize that there is a mass of information that is essential for every field and all fields.

"It is probably better to build castles in the air than simply huts in the mud, but it is better still to be able to build practical buildings on earth. Our knowledge must be in such shape as to be put to practical use. Here is the original cry for the education of the hand. Manual training is no fad. Manual training teaches boys to use tools. That is not the chief object. Manual training teaches boys and girls to be useful. That is not the main object. Manual training teaches them to apply their mathematics in a practical way. That is not the chief purpose. Manual training accomplishes something far more important than these incidental results. Manual training produces habits, habits of exactness, habits of carefulness, habits of persistence—habits that will tell in everything undertaken. Manual training teaches nobility of labor. It is democratic.

NO MORE TELEPHONE GRANTS

COUNCIL NOT LIKELY TO TAKE ACTION ON ANY APPLICATION THIS YEAR.

The Common Council is not likely to consider favorably this year any application by a telephone company for a franchise. It is known that influences have been at work in an endeavor to bring before the Council the application of the Central Jersey Telephone Company. This company some time ago applied for a franchise and the Council gave a public hearing on the question. At that time several citizens spoke for and against the proposition.

The Common Council referred the matter to a special committee of which W. S. Tyler was the chairman. An exhaustive investigation was made with the result that the committee reported that it did not believe the time had arrived for the granting of another telephone franchise. This apparently ended the matter for the time being, but the company seeking the franchise has been continuing its efforts.

One strong argument presented by the committee against favorable action was that the Central Jersey Telephone Company showed no disposition to furnish facts and figures which were sought after by the committee. Mr. Tyler at that time said that unless the company would give the information asked for it could scarcely hope for favorable action on the part of the Common Council.

It has recently been stated that the company is not willing to state exactly when work will be commenced installing the system in this city even if a franchise is granted to it. The Council would require any company to commence the work within a specified time and finish it within a certain time.

OVERCOME BY ESCAPING GAS

JAMES HARDING RENDERED UNCONSCIOUS FOR TWO HOURS AND A HALF.

James Harding, an old employe of the Gas Department, was overcome yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock by escaping gas which rendered him unconscious for nearly three hours. The accident occurred while he was making a service connection in a trench at the Martine building.

Harding had removed the machine which had just been used to tap the main, and finding the screw-plug which he attempted to fit would not enter properly, he reattached the tapping machine in order to check the gas which was flowing in great quantity from the inch and a quarter hole. In doing this he was compelled to inhale considerable gas and he collapsed in the bottom of the four foot trench just as he succeeded in shutting off the flow.

One of the laborers lifted Harding into fresh air. Dr. Pittis was called upon to restore him, and he was removed to his home on West Fourth street. He was, however, insensible for two hours and a half and was very cold and weak when revived.

Harding, who was seen this morning by a Daily Press reporter while he was engaged in completing the job which nearly caused his death, said that in his twenty-two years' service with the local company he had never before called for medical assistance in an emergency of this sort in spite of the fact that he has been overcome by gas eight or ten time. "The half of a lemon or better yet, some pure vinegar, is better than anything else on earth when you've swallowed too much gas," said he, and he surely ought to know.

THOMAS STEVENS WED.

Miss Helen Ponton the Bride at a Marriage on March 9.

Announcement has just been made of the marriage of Miss Helen Ponton, of Park avenue, and Thomas Stevens, of East Fourth street, the event being celebrated on Wednesday, March 9. The marriage was performed by Rev. Dr. Parks, formerly pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, at his home in the 'Plains.

The bride is a native of Scotland. She came to this country two years ago and has since lived in this city. The groom has been a resident of Plainfield all his life. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will continue to reside here.

Changes in Residence.

Among some of the recent residential changes in this city are these: John Hummer, from 1077 Arlington avenue to 251 Somerset street; Walter Webb, from 525 East Sixth street, to 522 West Second street; Joseph Dennis, from 331 Cottage place, to 515 East Sixth street; F. E. Quipp, from Codington avenue, to Westfield.

DRAGGED ABOUT BY HER HAIR

TREATMENT BIDDOLPH IS ALLEGED TO HAVE ACCCORDED HIS WIFE.

In addition to his objection to mothers-in-law, John Biddolph, of Scotch Plains, it is alleged, has a brutal habit of abusing his wife that distinguishes him from model husbands. According to Mrs. Biddolph's statements to a representative of The Daily Press this morning, her husband has beaten her during months of married misery in Scotch Plains. "It was a great habit of his to drag me around by my hair," she said, "and no one occasion he threatened to brain me with an axe. I don't care whether he comes back or not, but I do want the baby back." Mrs. Biddolph thinks that her husband is in Westfield, though unable to locate him exactly. She says he is a machinist. He formrely worked for Fred Hoffman, of Scotch Plains.

Mrs. Biddolph prepared this written statement for The Daily Press: "My husband has been very abusive to me since we have been living at Scotch Plains and when I tried to stop him from taking my baby away he took me by the throat and threw me down. It was a great habit of his to drag me around by my hair. I wish to say that my mother never sent me a letter saying that she would visit me. I merely asked my hubsand if my mother could come to see me." Mrs. Biddolph admits that this request was refused with considerable emphasis and even violence.

BIG FIRE IN NEW YORK.

Flames Starting at 61 Broadway at Noon Today Cause a Conflagration.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New York, March 26.—Fire broke out in the Adams Express Company's building at No. 61 Broadway, near Rector street, at 11:45 this morning and the flames quickly spread to the adjoining buildings. The firemen are battling with the fierce flames, which are not yet under control. A general alarm was turned in and companies from all the fire houses in that section of the city responded.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Daniel Riley Dead as Result of Injuries Received on Railroad Track.

Daniel Riley, a former resident of South Plainfield, lies dead at the home of his brother, William Riley, at that place, as the result of a railroad accident on the tracks of the Lehigh Valley Railroad in Newark.

Riley was struck by a locomotive at Frelinghuysen crossing, where he worked for the railroad. Both legs were run over, and he died from the effect of his injuries three hours later. The remains were carried to his brother's house.

The dead man was twenty-nine years old. His funeral will be held from his brother's residence tomorrow afternoon.

Suspended Sentence on Conkling.

For throwing a stone at the proprietor of the Rushmore Dynamo Works and acting otherwise in a disorderly manner, Fred Conklin was arrested yesterday afternoon. Mr. Rushmore said that he did not care to prosecute the charge, merely emphasizing the fact that such practises must stop. City Judge Runyon suspended sentence this morning after giving Conklin a severe reprimand.

Talked on Korea.

Conditions that govern Korea were described last night by Gilbert Lovell in a lecture at Warren chapel. The meeting was the regular monthly missionary gathering at Warren chapel. Mr. Lovell described the customs that prevail in Korea and its need for mission work. He expects to leave soon for the East to take up mission work himself.

Sheriff Coriell Can't Hang You.

The "hangman's bill," which provides that all executions in the State of New Jersey shall take place at Trenton, passed the Legislature last night. The bill is one of the most famous of the session and was bitterly opposed by Trenton which dislikes the idea of being called "Hangtown." The Legislature adjourned last night sine die.

A $100,000 POSTOFFICE

Senator Kean Introduces a Bill in Congress for a Federal Building in Plainfield.

ACTION UNEXPECTED

Agreeable Surprise to Plainfield Which Wants Postoffice Structure—Measure to be Considered at the Next Session of Congress.

Action on Plainfield's demand for a government postoffice building has been taken by Senator Kean in the upper branch of Congress. He introduced a bill in the Senate yesterday authorizing an appropriation of $100,000 for the erection of a government structure here.

Chances that the bill will go through at the present session are exceedingly slim, but next winter will probably see the measure passed, without the usual clipping that docks most of the postoffice appropriations in committee. It is understood that there are to be no bills for public buildings reported at the current session, and Senator Kean is not likely to attempt to upset the accepted plan of his colleagues and the Administration, but he will do his utmost to get he measure through next winter.

Senator Kean is convinced that the general desire of Plainfield, as expressed in the action of the Board of Trade on the matter, is for a government building, and he recognizes the right of the city to the structure it asks for. Many western towns of seven or eight thousand inhabitants, with postoffice receipts far less than those of Plainfield, have government buildings, and Senator Kean will insist that this city, with a profitable and growing postoffice and all the prospects of general civic growth, suffer no discrimination at the hands of the National government. The Senator will have the co-operation of Representatives Fowler and Lanning in the matter, and they will undoubtedly do all in their power to further his measure in the lower House.

It is a matter for congratulation for the men who are working for the postoffice here that Senator Kean has come out so strongly in favor of the project. Senator Kean is one of the most influential men in the upper House, and is a close personal friend and relative of President Roosevelt. He will undoubtedly enlist the influence of the latter in the matter, and if the Executive makes it known that he would like to see the Plainfield appropriation go through it will pass both houses.

THAT HUMAN FOOT.

Part of Man's Anatomy Found at Dunellen, Believed to be That of a Philadelphian.

Probable explanation has been found for the presence of the human foot along the railroad tracks in Dunellen. On Wednesday night of this week a young man of about twenty-three, named Alfred Blumenthal, was instantly killed by a train at Skillman and his body horribly cut. When it was picked up, it was discovered that the foot was missing. It is thought that it was thrown upon the steps of the train and carried to Dunellen, twenty miles away.

The finding of the foot has been reported to Blumenthal's parents in Philadelphia by Dr. S. O. B. Taylor, coroner of Somerset county.

Lecture on Orient.

Arthur C. Maclay, of West Seventh street, who has made a study of Japan and China and who is an author of several books, gave an illustrated lecture yesterday afternoon in Franklin School Hall on the subject of China. It was of unusual interest on acccount of recent events in the Far East. Some weeks ago Mr. Maclay gave an illustrated lecture before the pupils of the High School on Japan.

PRESBYTERIAL SOCIETY MEETS

TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES GATHER IN FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Plainfield members of the Women's Presbyterial Society were hostesses yesterday at the first meeting of the Elizabeth district branch of the society held in this city for some time. The meeting took place in the First Presbyterian church, a cordial welcome to the 200 delegates being extended by Rev. John S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church, who officiated in Mr. Herring's absence. Sessions were held morning and afternoon.

The response to Dr. Zelie's address in the morning was made by the president, Mrs. M. J. Gildersleeve, of Westfield. Mrs. E. C. Miles, of Roselle, conducted the devotional exercises. A solo was rendered by Mrs. R. K. Miner, accompanied by Andrew Carpenter. The report of the corresponding secretary was read by Mrs. J. A Frazer, of Elizabeth; for young people, Mrs. Adrian Lyon, of Perth Amboy, reported; report on the work among freedmen was submitted by Miss Ella Beale, of Roselle; the literary secretary's report by Miss Meeker, of Elizabeth; the treasurer's report by Mrs. J. E. Keron, of Elizabeth. An address on "Freedmen" was delivered by Mrs. Stover, of Pitssburg.

In the afternoon, a report on the conference on young people's work was presented by Mrs. Lyon. An address on "Alaska," by Rev. J. W. Kirk, of that territory, and one on "The Field" by Miss Petrie, of this city, were the other features of the afternoon session.

GAMBLING DEFINED.

Special Officer "Butts In" With a Definition at Trial in Police Court.

Because he threw a billiard ball in Peter Simmons' pool room on Madison avenue, Eugene Brittin, colored, was arrested on Simmons' complaint and haled to court this morning. Brittin made a counter-charge that Simmons was running a gambling "joint," the loser in the pool games being obliged, he said, to set up "soft" drinks for the crowd. This, according to Brittin, was the main source of revenue for the place. The case was a lively one, Special officer James Babbitt "butting in" with the remark that playing for "soft" drinks was not gambling and bringing down upon himself thereby the wrath of Brittin. Judge Runyon suspended sentence.

BOROUGH STREET WORK.

Much Work to be Done on the Roads During the Present Season.

Chairman Arnold, of the borough street committee, is planning for the usual spring overhauling for all the streets. Contracts for stone have been let, and deliveries will begin in a short time. Early in May, when every trace of frost is out of the ground, and the heavy spring rains are a thing of the past, the thoroughfares will be scraped and patched and put in first-class shape for the summer traffic.

Flagging work will be extended during the year, and a number of new crosswalks will be laid. Some of the new streets accepted last year will be put in condition.

Clue to Robbery.

A pocket book containing a commutation ticket signed with the name, Samuel Metzger, was found along the Central Railroad tracks this morning by Michael Kenney, a light tender in the employ of the road. The book contained valuable papers which might lead to the recovery of diamonds and other jewelry which had evidently been disposed of in New York. Mr. Metzger's house was entered recently and a large number of valuables stolen. It is thought there may have been some connection between the robbery and the find this morning.

Mayor Leases Crusher.

Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of the borough, has leased his stone crusher in the "Notch" to Frank Mobus and George Sheller for a term of two years. The purchasers are well-equipped to carry on this business as they have been engaged in the business for some time.

Mail-Carriers Increase.

A bill increasing the salaries of rural free delivery carriers from $600 to $720 was passed in the House at Washington yesterday. The bill also authorizes the employment of a purchasing agent at $5,000 to buy all supplies for the Postal Department.

CHAMPIONS DEFEATED HERE

THE PARK CLUB BOWLERS WON FROM WESTFIELD AGGREGATION.

The Westfield Club bowling five visited the Park Club last night and rolled a series of games with the Parks. The local team had the satisfaction of taking two out of the three games, even though they failed to win The Daily Press League tournament. The first game they lost by a score of 930 to 850, but the second game they took by a score of 835 to 760 and the third by a score of 882 to 879. The Parks were in good condition and they rolled in championship form. Individually the series was noted for several high scores, some of the members duplicating their scores in the series.

The series does not count for any special tournament, it being a friendly contest between the two clubs, just to show that although Westfield won the tournament, she still has the kindest regards for her worthy opponent, the Parks.

Lieut. Campbell at Work.

The borough is treated to something every day since the new fire department has been in existence. Each morning Lieutenant Campbell takes the horses up and down Somerset street for exercise, attached to the hose cart. The horses are sleek and velvety and the cart shines like the traditional new pin, and the people on the borough main street usually suspend everything to look at the glittering little parade. Lieutenant Campbell has direct charge of the apparatus, and it is his energy that makes the apparatus look so bright and New York-ish.

FORMER MAYOR FISK ON GARBAGE DISPOSAL

President of Board of Health in Addressing the Public Advocates a Sanitary System.

A LETTER TO CITIZENS

PRESENT METHOD DANGEROUS TO HUMAN LIFE, HE DECLARES.

His Answer to Qustion "Shall We Or Shall We Not Have Garbage Collection at the General Expense of the City?"

To bring the necessity for a garbage disposal plant directly before the householders and citizens generally, President Charles J. Fisk, of the Board of Health, has written an open letter calling attention to the question and the fact that it is to be acted upon by the Common Council at its April meeting. In this letter, President Fisk brings out the salient features of the arguments in favor of the plant, and points out where the present system of handling the refuse matter of the city is dangerous, unwholesome and unsatisfactory.

Interest in the matter has grown steadily since the question was broached, and citizens on every hand are speaking emphatically in favor of the establishment of a municipal plant. It is believed that the general circulation of the letter President Fisk has written will awaken practically unanimous sentiment in favor of the plan and evoke such strong and general expressions in regard to it that the Common Council will have no doubt that it is the people's will to establish the system.

President Fisk's letter was sent out today. It goes to every house in the city, and by tomorrow morning practically every citizen of Plainfield will have the need of municipal disposal of garbage strongly impressed upon his mind. It is hoped that many will attend the councilmanic hearing on April 4 to speak for it.

The letter is headed: "Shall we or Shall we Not have Garbage Collection and Disposal at the General Expense of the City?" In opening his communication, Mr. Fisk calls attention to the fact that the joint committee of the Council and the Board of Health, which thoroughly investigated the matter, has unanimously decided that the city should establish the system, and that the action should be taken with as little loss of time as possible.

"Garbage allowed to accumulate and not properly disposed of," says Mr. Fisk, "becomes a serious nuisance, not only detrimental to health, but fills the air with impure and nauseous odors and also forms breeding places for flies, mosquitoes and insects of various kinds."

Garbage, Mr. Fisk points out, is everything that the law defines as a nuisance when it is not properly cared for. "It is dangerous to human life and health. In the heat of summer it becomes the breeding place for insects that carry and spread such diseases as malaria, low fevers, etc., besides being very annoying. Garbage in this State fed to hogs, pigs or chickens is returned to the city in the shape of pork or meat of unhealthful nature, the eating of which results at time in producing dangerous diseases.

"Shall we," asks Mr. Fisk, "maintain and continue to maintain at our very doors such a decided and dangerous nuisance when it can be removed and gotten rid of entirely in an orderly, sanitary manner, and at much less expense than it now costs to handle the garbage from only a portion of the houses in the crude, unsanitary and unsafe manner we are now obliged to submit to? Most decidedly and emphatically—No!!"

The communication is followed by extracts from the joint committee report, regarding the price of the innovation and its maintenance.

Resignation Not Accepted.

The resignation of Mayor Newton B. Smalley as a director of the First National Bank still lays on the table where it was placed at the time it was offered. It was expected that action on it would be taken at a meeting of the directors this week, but it was deferred to another time.

Municipal Improvement.

Editor, The Daily Press:

No improvement of recent years is of more value to our city than the proposition of Street Commissioner Gavett, looking to the widening and deepening of Cedar brook. The development of our city in the East End has been instrumental in filling up large areas, thus sending water which formerly found an outlet in other directions rapidly to Cedar brook. Also the grading of new streets from the Netherwood district, has added much to the value of that stream, frequently overflowing the same to the loss and inconvenience of many citizen. From a sanitary point of view this improvement is doubly demanded. Our authorities should lose no time in backing up this most practical and laudable effort of Mr. Gavett for the city relief and improvement. J. E. Martine.

The High School Honor.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Please allow me to congratualte Miss Anna Broadnax for her successful intellectual victory achieved as valedictorian of her class, the senior of the High School. Not only do I congratulate Miss Broadnax, who has merited this honor, but also those impartial teachers, especially Principal Travell, who looked not upon the color of the skin, and the texture of the hair, but the capability of the individual. This well merited honor demonstrates to us that the negro is not refused honors and positions by the white race as a whole, because of his color, but inability. I want to thank Mr. Travell on behalf of the better people of my race in this city, this honor conferred upon one of my race, gives inspiration to others to aspire to be great in the intellectual world. E. E. Jackson.

Next Sunday's World.

We have never known much of the real beauties among the women of Japan, our acquaintance having been with photographs of the Geishas. For practically the first time the American public will have a chance to see how the ladies of the higher classes, the princesses and noblewomen look, in a page of pictures of the Japanese fighting princes and their brides. Another interesting feature of Sunday's World will be an account of the great $5,000,000 auto parade that will soon start for the St. Louis Exposition. It will be a wonderful thing, this parade, and well worth reading about. The continuation of B. Fletcher Robinson's thrilling detective story, "The Peril in the Snow," an article by a Barnard College girl on Life at Barnard, an account of How Hearts Are Really Broken, and the weekly theatrical feature page will be among the good things to be found in Sunday's World magazine.

Military Bill Defeated.

By a vote of 29 to 21 the Assembly Thursday defeated the military bill, which provided that every male citizen of the State between the ages of eighteen and forty-five would become a member of the State militia. Assemblyman Swackhamer vigorously opposed the measure. Assemblyman Colby changed his vote from aye to nay, giving him the privilege of moving to reconsider it at any time.

To Sit at Paterson.

It is generally believed that James J. Bergen, who has just been appointed Vice-Chancellor by Chancellor Magie, will sit in Paterson in the new Chancery chambers recently completed. His appointment was largely due to the demands of the bar associations of the Northern section of the State that they have a Vice-Chancellor easy of access.

To See the Capitol.

Rev. T. E. Davis, of West Fifth street, will escort a party of tourists to Washington next week. Among the Plainfielders who are going are Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Randolph, of Myrtle avenue. The party will be away just a week.

NOTICE TO GAS CONSUMERS

P. S. C. NOTIFIES ITS LOCAL PATRONS OF BIG REDUCTION.

It will be welcome news to the citizens of Plainfield to learn that the Public Service Corporation will inaugurate their advent into the local gas field by reducing the price of gas used for illuminating purposes to that charged for fuel and reducing the gross rate from $1.50 to $1.35.

This reduction will take effect on April 1st, and will apply to March sales which will be issued on that date.

The new rate will be $1 35 per 1,000 cubic feet, with a further reduction of 10 cents per 1,000 if bills are paid prior to the 10th of the month in which they are rendered.

This new rate offers the public an excellent opportunity to use gas as a fuel, as well as an illuminant. In this age of progress no home or kitchen is complete without a gas range or a gas water heater.

The Public Service is making many improvements in their local gas plant, installing new mains, enlarging old ones and making a general betterment of the service throughout the entire system.

Service connections will be made in the homes where gas will be used free of cost. The most efficient appliances for both light and fuel will be sold to the consumers at absolute cost. Only appliances that have been tested and found economical are sold by the Public Service. Stores and houses, without gas connection, will be piped at cost, meters installed free, and every effort made to meet the demands of the consumers.

The policy of the Public Service, being so liberal, their consumers can use gas economically thereby bettering the conditions of the home. adv

"The third H, the training of the heart, is the most important of all. Education makes either a man or a monster. To teach a child to read and not give him a taste for good literature may be a curse. To teach a child to write, if he uses his skill to forge a note or check, may be a curse. To teach him to figure, if he use his knowledge to cheat his neighbor, may be an injury. The intelligent man unless his character is sound, is simply more able to work evil than the unintelligent man. To give the child knowledge without giving him character is enlarging his possibilities for evil as well as for good. Character is the key stone of the educational arch and the whole structure is useless and a failure without it. Character training is the highest aim of the teacher today. It has been said that without a goodly use of the rod, it is impossible to make some boys smart. There are occasional cases where physical force seems for the best, but these cases are very few, and I believe that one of the greatest points of superiority of the modern school over the old school is the absence of corporal punishment and the close sympathy between teacher and pupils.

"Society is made up of two classes, the working class and the shirking class. The schools must teach the doctrine that hard work is the only cure for hard luck. With the kindergarten, we can now get hold of some children at the impressionable age of four. This year from four to five tells mightily in all future work of the pupil. Oliver Wendell Holmes, when asked when we should begin to educate the child, replied, 'One hundred years before he is born.'

"There are a great many subsidiary matters connected with the modern school, for which thorough preparation is demanded. Lord Kelvin says, 'Education should be first to earn a living and then to make life worth living.' Some of the things that make life worth living are called the frills of education.

"One of the hardest problems is how to give the most help to the twenty per cent. of pupils who are 'born short' in some particular (especially where we have to deal with such large classes as at present.) These square pegs that will not fit into the round holes require a great deal of thought. Those children who are not furnished with all the conveniences for thinking are hard problems. The education today is being rationalized and made practical so far as the practical will give the right habits and power and adaptability and reasonable breadth. The utilitarian idea, the real bread and butter education is applicable more to high school work where courses today permit of large freedom of choice, so that pupils can follow their interests and natural tendencies. A study that is food for one will be medicine for another and schools in no sense should be pathological institutions. The high school is a necessity today. What are luxuries in one age are necessities in the next.

"In our own schools of twelve hundred children each with a father and a mother or a step-mother or a guardian to please, it is not one long sweet song. We have to deal with their most precious and sensative possessions. Mark Twain, in a speech in London sometime ago, said that he was coming to this country to run for President of the United States. He was going to purify politics. He said that his policy was that he believed in everything that everybody believed in. That a President who pleased only half the people was only half a President. If this last statement is true, the school superintendent is yet to be found who is a whole superintendent. I have long since given up the idea of pleasing everybody or even anybody. There is but one person that I aim to please and it is impossible to do that satisfactorily. Josh Billings has said that if we wish to please everybody we must travel on the back road. It is beyond the power of mortal. Put your trust in God and aim to please yourself.

"The old school taught subjects. The new school teachers children. The old school made knowledge of first importance. The new school makes character of first importance. The old school made Jonas of the bad boys. They were whaled. The new school reaches these through interest and kindness.

"The school of the future will give more attention to the individual and must train home makers and bread winners without loosing sight of culture."

Before and after Mr. Wightman's address there were musical selections by D. W. Meeker, voilin, and Vincent Sokol, piano. The committee in charge of the affair was made up of C. R. Harden and D. W. Winkler.

THE SULTAN OF JOLO

United States Finds Him an Unassimilable Proposition.

Peculiarities of This Mohammedan Ruler and the Portion of the Philippines Which He Governs.

According to a report which has just been sent to the United States senate, the sultan of Jolo is no longer a worthy object of American's tender solicitude and generous dealing, for five years of American control in the Philippines have demonstrated that he is insincere in his expressions of loyalty and treacherous in all his transactions. Uncle Sam has been as patient as Job, as wise as Solomon, as tender as a mother, and as persistent as a bill collector in his effort to work the new world-famous benevolent assimilation process (special American patent) upon his sultanship, but apparently with as little effect as a midsummer breeze would have in an attempt to shake the Rockies, and he is about ready to give up the task. He feels that his dusky and tricky adopted child of the far off eastern island possessions has forefeited all the rights guaranteed him, and congress may be asked to discipline or expell this pesky little disciple of Mahommet.

The Jolo islands is the central group of the four which go to make up the archipelago of Jolo. These islands lie to the south and west of the island of Mindanao. The principal island is Jolo, containing a population estimated at about 120,000, made up of Quinbajanos, or inhabitants of the mountains; Malay or Visayan slaves; Samales, an inferior race, though not slaves, and the true Moros, who trace their origin from the Mohammedan invaders, and who dominate the other inhabitants. It is to this latter group that the Sultan belongs. He is rather the spiritual head of the region than the political ruler, for the tribal system prevails throughout the islands and the chiefs, or dattos, are the real rulers, while they recognize the spiritual supremacy of the sultan, who has made the pilgrimage to Mecca. Maibun, on the south coast of the island, dirty and insignificant as it is, is the official city of Jolo and the home of the sultan. It was to this place that Gen. Bates and his party went when the treaty with the sultan was made, and which treaty has been so severely criticised in many quarters because it recognized and continued the practice of slavery in the islands. By those who have met the sultan, he is described as "not a noble character and is neither greatly loved nor greatly respected by his people." The dattos may or may not accept arrangements which the sultan makes and it is becoming more and more apparent that the United States would probably do better to treat with the individual dattos than with the sultan.

Jolo, the principal city of the island, used to be the ancient resident of the sultans, but with the coming of the Spaniards it ceased to be such. It is a beautiful spot, the cleanest city in the archipelago, made so by the Spaniards. A brick wall surrounds the city, and the Moros are shut out of the town, because of their treacherous dispositions. The Spaniards established the custom of requiring them when entering the town to leave without the gate of the city their krises and barongs (knife and sword weapons), and this rule has been wisely continued by the Americans. The streets of the city are wide and straight and well shaded. The houses are all painted or whitewashed on the outside.

The Moslem fanaticism of the Moros has resisted 350 years of effort made by Jesuit, the Dominician, the Augustinian and the Franciscan. They are not only unresponsive, but dangerously hostile to missionary efforts, and insincerity and treachery is marked in all their contact with Christianity and the people of a Christian nation. What policy the United States will adopt in dealing with the sultan in the future is uncertain, but one thing is sure, he is a tough proposition for even the Americans.

LAKE REGION FLOOD

Michigan Suffers Immense Damage by Rising Waters.

ESTIMATED LOSS NOW A MILLION

Lansing Alone Figures $200,000—Two Lives Lost—Michigan Central, Pere Marquette and Grand Trunk Trains Abandoned.

DETROIT, March 26.—Conservative estimates of the damage caused by the flooded rivers and creeks of lower Michigan during the past twenty-four house place the property loss at more than $1,000,000. At Lansing alone the figures are placed at $200,000. Two lives have been lost, those of an unknown Armenian who was standing on a bridge at Lansing when it collapsed and was washed away and a boy who was drowned in a flooded street at Owasso. Reports from many places tell of a steady downpour of rain, with no sign of a letup.

All trains have been abandoned on the Michigan Central railroad between Jackson and Saginaw. On the Michigan Central's main line, between Jackson and Niles, conditions were such at Battle Creek and Wheatfield that this part of the line was abandoned, and through trains are being run from Jackson to Niles over the Airline division, cutting off Marshall, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo entirely for the present as far as this road is concerned.

Trains between Jackson and Grand Rapids on the Michigan Central have also been abandoned. Officials of the road state that with one or two exceptions there have been no washouts and that traffic will be resumed as soon as the water subsides.

The Pere Marquette is blocked at Flint and was blocked for a time near Lansing. Passengers were transferred at the latter point, however, and in this way traffic over the Detroit-Grand Rapids division was maintained, though delayed several hours.

No trains have moved west from Battle Creek on either the Grand Trunk or Detroit, Toledo and Muskegon railroads.

From Kalamazoo comes the report that every bridge for fifty miles along the Kalamazoo river has been swept away. In Kalamazoo 3,000 people have been thrown out of work. Houses in that city have been swept from their foundations, and portions of the tracks of the Lake Shore Michigan Traction company and Chicago, Kalamazoo and Saginaw railroads have been washed away.

At Lansing many manufacturing plants that escaped the flood were compelled to shut down by the breaking of the feed wire connecting them with the Platt power plant. About 250 residences at Lansing have been flooded, and the Kalamazoo and Logan street bridges have gone out. Four fires resulted from the flood at Lansing, and it is estimated that the total damage will aggregate $300,000.

At Owasso the water is three feet deep around houses where it was never known to reach before. Much damage has been done at Jackson.

At Saginaw the river is open, but filled with floating ice. A new $2,000 footbridge went out, and other bridges were saved by the use of dynamite.

At Flint twenty stores on the main street were flooded. Near Flint the Shiawassee river is 1,000 feet wide, and three feet of water is pouring over the tracks of both the Grand Trunk and Pere Marquette railroads.

The loss at Flint will be very heavy.

CHICAGO FLOODS.

Rescues by Boat In Suburban Homes at Dauphin Park.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Rescues by boat from homes in Dauphin Park, partly submerged by Thursday night's storm and previous floods, were attended with exciting incidents.

Many families of this Chicago suburb fled in panic from their houses, which the tornado had rendered uninhabitable. Minor mishaps in effecting escape by boats were numerous, and there was much suffering from exposure.

Business in the town was suspended and schools closed, the saving of life and relief of suffering getting the first attention.

The freight car shops of the Nickel Plate railroad were the center of a miniature tornado. The large building used as repair shops was partly wrecked, the roof being hurled against an adjoining building. Freight cars were thrown from the tracks, while others were unroofed.

The Illinois Central station platform and roof were also torn up at Dauphin Park and thrown across the track.

Flooded Mohawk Valley.

FONDA, N. Y., March 26.—The flooded condition of the Mohawk valley is threatening. The weather was mild, with much rain west of here, which has caused the water in the Mohawk river to rise considerably. Hundreds of acres of lowlands are inundated, and much damage is reported from the western part of the state. The village of Fort Hunter, east of here, is partially submerged owing to the ice gorge at Akin causing water to back up. The river bridge there is in danger. The West Shore railroad has experienced much trouble from landslides.

Warm Days Better Than Dynamite.

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., March 26.—The warm weather and rain of the past two days have forced the ice out of the Hoosac river, breaking up the gorge at the dam of the W. A. Wood Machine company, which for fifteen days resisted all attempts to loosen it with dynamite.

SWAYNE IMPEACHED

Congress Committee of Investigation Scores the Judge.

GUILTY OF MISBEHAVIOR IN OFFICE

For Such Actions No Judge Should Be Allowed to Escape Punishment on the Plea That He Made a Mistake of Law.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—"Resolved, That Charles Swayne, judge of the district court of the United States in and for the northern district of Florida, be impeached for high misdemeanor."

This is the recommendation of the house committee on the judiciary to the house in the report of the committee filed by Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania, chairman of the subcommittee which investigated the case against Judge Swayne. After discussing specifically the charges in detail against Judge Swayne and giving the findings in each case, the report concludes as follows:

"Upon the whole case it is plain that Judge Swayne has forfeited the respect and confidence of the bar of his court and of the people of his district who do business there. He has so conducted himself as to earn the reputation of being susceptible to the malign influence of a man of notoriously bad character. He has shown himself to be harsh, tyrannical and oppressive, unmindful of the common rule of a just and upright judge.

"For all those reasons Charles Swayne has been guilty of misbehavior in his office of judge and grossly violated the condition upon which he holds this honorable appointment. The honor of the judiciary, the orderly and decent administration of public justice and the welfare of the people of the United States demand his impeachment and removal from the high place which his conduct has degraded.

"For such high misdemeanors in office no judge should be allowed to escape just punishment on the plea that he made a mistake of law. If allowed there is no arbitrary abuse of discretion, no disobedience of law, no oppression or outrage upon the rights of liberty or property that could not go unwhipped of justice."

The case of W. H. Hoskins the report terms one of "peculiar hardship." Hoskins was advanced in years and unable to read and write. He had accumulated property to the value of $40,000 and owed debts to the extent of $10,000. "The evidence is full and convincing," the report says, "that a lawyer named Boone conspired with one Calhoun to put Hoskins in bankruptcy in order to plunder his estate."

The details of this case are given at length in the report. Calhoun sent a man to sieze Hoskins' books at one of his branch stores, Hoskins being a dealer in turpentine. He found a certain book belonging to the firm of Hoskins & Bro. which had been left for a bookkeeper to make up. This book was taken away by a young son of Hoskins after he had stated that it contained nothing about his father's business. Contempt proceedings were begun before Judge Swayne and the young man adjudged guilty, although, the report says, evidence was offered to show that the book contained nothing whatever bearing on the bankruptcy case. Young Hoskins went into hiding to escape arrest and stated that he would rather die than go to jail. When the charge was not dismissed, he killed himself.

Poisoned Candy Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—In the Botkin murder trial here former Lieutenant of Police Colby testified that the various exhibits in the case were carefully guarded by him during the time they were in the possession of Chief Lees. Professor Price, the chemist who examined the chocolates received at Dover, said that there is no arsenic in verdigris from candy maker's copper kettles, which Attorney Knight intimated might have poisoned the candy.

Shotguns and Whips at St. Clair.

St. Clair, Mo., March 26.—Forty masked men, many of them carrying shotguns, broke into the jail here and, securing Winn Davis, arrested on the charge of highway robbery, took him from the jail, whipped him nearly to death and then released him. Deputy Sheriff S. P. Weatherford attempted to stop the mob from entering the jail, but shotguns were leveled at him, and he was forced to step aside.

Morales Executes Rebel General.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—United States Minister Powell cables the state department from Santo Domingo city that President Morales has captured and caused to be promptly executed General Nicholas Arias, the insurgent leader who was tried by drumhead court martial and convicted of killing Machinist Johnson in the steam launch of the United States ship Yankee a few few weeks ago.

Ham Pleaded Guilty.

BOSTON, March 26.—Wallace H. Ham, formerly manager of the Boston office of the American Surety company of New York and treasurer of St. Luke's Home For Convalescents, pleaded guilty here to indictments charging the larceny of $238,000 from those institutions.

An Amicable Settlement.

BALTIMORE, March 26.—An amicable adjustment of the proposed new schedule between the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and its telegraph operators was reached satisfactory to both parties.

Plainfield, N. J., Mch. 26, 1904.

Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City—the Jerome of New Jersey Republicanism.

If they keep up working that "lid" in Gotham, its hinges will wear out and "hell" will be wide open.

A man passing through Whitehouse the other day declared that he had walked 10,000, and he wasn't an actor either.

Senator Kean has outwitted Representative Fowler, who claims Plainfield as his stronghold. "A friend in need——."

What benefit will Plainfield derive from that bridge scheme of Representative Benney? This municipality does not hold any trolley stock.

A Wisconsin man was arrested fifty-five times in Porto Rico for violating the libel laws and he thinks he holds a record. This claim must amuse some Metropolitan editors.

It is not to be wondered at that the Russians are ready to credit reported victories of their forces on land and sea when it is considered that the people are great smokers of cigarettes.

A New Brunswick paper declares that some women in North Brunswick township actually kept a secret, but then you know what funny things do happen in Middlesex county according to the papers published over there.

It is said that the Hearst boomers plan to capture the Union County Democratic convention and send a delegation, favoring that poor and meek journalist, to the State convention. Talk about "the crime of '73" and "suffering Kansas"—think of poor Union County's danger.

The manager of the largest mail order establishment in the West (in Chicago) says he depends largely on "the clean city newspaper of wide circulation" to reach people in the country. "A house, like an individual, is known by the company it keeps, and we believe in mediums which everybody respects and trusts."—Philadelphia Record.

It is reported that Mr. Hearst and his friends are willing to contribute $1,500,000 to the Democratic National Executive Committee's Campaign Fund provided the "fearless leader" is nominated for the Presidency. We submit this startling announcement to Arthur Brisbane as a subject for a New York Evening Journal editorial on corruption.

The man who doesn't advertise in prosperous times, because he doesn't need to, nor in hard times, because he can't afford it, is like the Arkansas man who explained that he didn't repair his leaking roof in fair weather because he didn't need any roof. And, of course, he couldn't work in the rain.—Folder from American Lumberman, Chicago.

The Newark Evening News and the Trenton Times join hands in denouncing the Senate bill appropriating $35,000 for an official junketing trip to the St. Louis Fair. Only $35,000? Why good lands, the people ought to be willing to put up ten times the amount to get rid of some of the official-politicians for a time. Send the "lawmakers" out there in a body.

Homer J. Wightman delivered an address before the members of the Grace M. E. church Men's Club last night which is of general interest. His theme was "The Meaning of a Public School Education," and his depth of thought on the subject is shown in the able way he handled the topic. A report of his remarks will be found on the first page of this issue.

This is an extract from a political catechism issued by the First Hearst Club of Elizabeth:

"Q. Who is the Hon. W. R. Hearst?

"A. He is the greatest journalist and newspaper man the world has produced."

This is profane when you recall such names as Greeley, the elder Bennett, the elder Dana, Halstead and Watterson. Pray when did Hearst become a journalist?

The progress of the negro race in New Jersey is a subject which has been going the rounds of the State press recently. Supplemental to the encouraging facts brought out in that report, we are glad to note that Miss Anna Broadnax, a bright young colored girl, has been chosen valedictorian of the Plainfield High School's senior class. Race prejudice has a bitter foe in brains in these days of progress.

Plainfield's Want Ads—

Municipal system of garbage collection and a crematory for disposal. (Joint committee report approval by Common Council at its meeting on April 4.)

Model High School Structure. (Appropriation of $125,000 has been made by Common Council; site has been purchased and contracts are about to be awarded.)

Handome post-office Building. (Senator Kean has introduced a bill in Congress asking for an appropriation of $100,000 for the purpose.)

By advancing former Mayor William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, from the vice presidency to the presidency of the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Company, the directors of that big manufacturing concern have acted in the interests of their stockholders and at the same time paid a deserved tribute to the general worth of a man endowed with extraordinary executive ability and sound business judgment. The story of the company's growth during the last twenty-two years of its existence is linked with the career of William L. Saunders and the remarkable increase in its business is indeed pleasant to the friends of this progressive and enterprising citizen of North Plainfield.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

J. W. Graham, J. J. Hines and A. E. LaPorte, of Watchung Council, K. of C., attended the fifth annual meeting of the International Catholic Truth Society, held Thursday evening at the Catholic Club, in New York. The meeting was very largely attended by members of the society of New York and vicinity. The principal address of the evening was delivered by Rev. Dr. James Pace, of the Catholic University at Washington, D. C.

"It was once the pride of Masonry, that in an age of oppression and licentiousness, it was the refuge of the weak, and the asserter of the equality of man under the Supreme Divine power. It taught the universality of mankind; the protection of the helpless, and the defiance of oppression Within its fold have been gathered the greatest and the humblest members of society, all upon the same level, and all upon the same terms. Today matters are different. The three degrees of Ancient Free and Accepted Masonry are often but the necessary and irksome steps to ancillary orders and degrees which range from fuss and feather, and swords and helmets, to downright buffoonery and license, and the latest manifestation is to make the degrees of a Master Mason, a gift in the hands of a temporary Grand Master, to be bestowed upon all who may be affected by the compliment. "The Masonic Grand Lodge never did a more effective work than to censure this sort of proceeding, and to recall the noble principles which have made Masonry a great and lasting institution."—Trenton True American.

A writ of ejectment was issued in Justice Clark's court several days ago in the landlord-tenant case of Walpole-Anon. Twenty minutes after the writ was served the defendant's furniture was loaded and left for parts unknown. This is the case in which the Judge refused to issue an ejectment writ two months ago when there was over a foot of snow on the ground, the defendant promising the court at that time to remove as soon as the weather would permit but he failed to do so.

NOT TO HELP JAPAN

Chinese Empress Dowager Against Plan of Generals.

RUSSIA HAS INVADED NEUTRAL CHINA

Japanese Parliament Gives Enthusiastic Thanks to Admiral Togo and the Navy?-Russian Troops Pillage Country Around Anju.

LONDON, March 26.—A dispatch from Shanghai says the Chinese empress dowager has negatived a proposal made by General Yuan Shi Kai and General Ma that China conclude an open alliance with Japan in view of Russia's repeated violations of Chinese territory west of the Liao river.

Late semiofficial advices from Tokyo say the house of representatives listened to a significant speech by M. Yamamotp, the minister of marine, and passed with enthusiasm and without a dissenting voice a vote of thanks to Vice Admiral Togo and his officers for their services to the country. When the vote was taken the members of the house arose and cheered the navy.

In his remarks the minister of marine said it was no new thing to be prepared for emergencies in time of peace, but that since last October the Japanese navy had been under the necessity of increasing its strength and had been constantly ready for action on account of the actions of Russia. This the minister regretted.

It had been manifest to every observer that Russia had constantly increased her strength in the far east and that had Japan not purchased the cruisers Nisshin and Kasaga from Argentina her naval strength would have been below that of Russia.

Referring to the result of the work of Vice Admiral Togo and his fleet, Yamamoto told the house of representatives that to block a port successfully the blockaders should be at least twice as strong as the defenders of the port. He said the latest reports showed that the Russians had four battleships, five cruisers and ten torpedo boat destroyers afloat at this time, from which it must be concluded that the work of repairing at Port Arthur was being carried forward efficiently.

The latest attack on Port Arthur had enabled the Japanese to observe the actual strength of the enemy.

Continuing, the minister of marine said that while he hoped for a speedy termination of the war he must warn the members of the house not to be oversanguine. The united efforts of Japan's soldiers and of civilians of high degree, he concluded, would surely carry the war to a glorious and successful termination.

A Seoul report says two detachments of Russian troops, one estimated to number 500 and the other 200 men, are reported to be pillaging the country around Anju, forty miles north of Pingyang and about sixty miles south of the Yalu river. The natives in fear are fleeing south.

Russian Captain a Traitor.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 26.—Captain Irkorff of the Manchurian commissariat service, who was arrested on the charge of having sold information in connection with the quartermaster's department to Lieutenant Colonel Akashi, formerly military attache of the Japanese legation here, has been tried by court martial and found guilty. He has been sentenced to twenty-five years' penal servitude. It transpires that Captain Irkorff had the most friendly relations with Mr. Kurino, the former Japanese minister to Russia, and with other members of the Japanese embassy here. Captain Irkorff has petitioned for clemency on the ground that the information sold to the Japanese legation was not important, as it consisted only of details of the Russian commissariat service during the Boxer uprising and that he received only $250 for it.

Carrie a Salvation Army Lass.

DETROIT, March 26.—Carrie Hamilton, the Saginaw girl whose disappearance from home caused the arrest of Barney Rose in Chicago and who was supposed to have been abducted, has been discovered at the Salvation Army barracks in Detroit by a Saginaw detective. The girl exonerates Rose.

Jackies Ashore Fight Police.

HAVANA, March 26.—The newspapers of Guantanamo are asking for increased police protection and also for the stationing of rural guards at Caimanera and Guantanamo on account of conflicts between sailors from the United States warships and the Cuban police.

Negro Killed Two Companions.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 26.—As the result of a quarrel over a game of cards in a saloon Sidney Powell shot and killed William Smith of Brownsville, Pa., and John Reesby of Virginia. All the men are negroes.

Two Hundred Steel Workers Out.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 26.—Two hundred and fifty employees of the billet mill of the Pennsylvania Steel works quit work because a recent reduction of the working force caused additional work.

To Consider Cotton Gambling.

MANCHESTER, March 26.—At a meeting of representatives of the cotton trade here it was decided to convene an international congress to consider the question of gambling in cotton.

Death From Pin Scratch.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., March 26.—Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, ninety-two years old, is dead here from blood poisoning caused by a pin scratch on a little finger.

AT BENNINGS.

Dr. Swartz and Paul Clifford Won the Features.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Only two favorites, Dr. Swartz in the second and Paul Clifford in the fifth race, won at Bennings, the calculations of the talent having been upset in the remaining four events. The fields were small except in two of the events. The attendance was only fair. Jockey Shaw, who was reinstated two weeks ago, rode his first winner, Pompano, and the crowd gave him an ovation. Summaries:

First Race—Belle of Milford won, Moorhen second, Gold Ribbon third.

Second Race—Dr. Swartz won, Incense second, Girdlestone third.

Third Race—Princelet won, Mr. Pickwick second, Alpaca third.

Fourth Race—Pompano won, Scotch Thistle second, St. Juvenal third.

Fifth Race—Paul Clifford won, Tom Kiley second, McWilliams third.

Sixth Race—Red Light won, Coy second, Clarence third.

Negro Held Gans' Hands.

BALTIMORE, March 26.—Joe Gans was given the decision on points in his fifteen round bout with Jack Blackburn of Philadelphia last night before the Eureka Athletic and Social club. The Philadelphian was apparently ten or fifteen pounds heavier than the lightweight champion, although the men were to have weighed in at 140 pounds each, it being understood that it was not to be a championship battle. Gans did most of the fighting, while the colored man from the Quaker City devoted most of his efforts to holding the former's hands and was repeatedly warned by the referee to desist.

Axminster Got Up In Time.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—Well played horses were successful at Oakland, and several races resulted in close finishes. One of the best contests was the fourth at a mile and 100 yards. Thanks to superior riding of J. Martin, Axminster, the favorite, got up in time to beat Pierce J. a neck. Jockey Bell has been restored to good standing and will go to New York to ride.

Piloted Three Winners.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 26.—Another large crowd turned out on the race track here. Jockey Aubuchon distinguished himself by piloting three winners to victory. Martius won the feature event from Ingolthrift. Tommy O'Hara won his second purse of the meeting, defeating Fay Templeton, the filly which beat him Monday in the Capitol Hotel stakes.

Beat the Ascot Record.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 26.—Pinkerton, Barney Schreiber's crack two-year-old, took up 118 pounds and ran half a mile at Ascot park in 48¼. This is better than the previous record over the Ascot park track for that distance by a half second. The black youngster won handily from Belle Kinney, the heavily played second choice.

Carter Knocked Down Repeatedly.

PHILADELPHIA, March 26.—Kid Carter and George Cole met at the Lenox Athletic club for a six round bout, but Cole punished Carter so severely that the referee stopped the fight in the fifth round. Cole knocked Carter down repeatedly in the third, fourth and fifth rounds.

Body of Anna Newkirk Found.

SALEM, N. J., March 26.—The body of Anna Newkirk, who disappeared from her home at Hancock Bridge on Jan. 12, has been recovered from Alloway creek, about six miles from here. When the girl disappeared it was thought she had eloped, but later this theory gave way to others of murder and suicide. Alloway creek was dragged several times, and dynamite was used to break the ice which covered the stream all winter. No motive for suicide is known.

Miners' Strike Will Continue.

TRINIDAD, Colo., March 26.—The coal miners' strike in District 15, United Mine Workers of America, consisting of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming, will be continued to the bitter end, according to a unanimous vote of delegates of the several unions in convention assembled here. The troops have arrested several men and captured 150 rifles and a quantity of dynamite from the strikers at Segundo.

Negro Kidnaper In Jail.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 26.—Elmer Pierce, a negro, was arrested here and locked up in the jail at Goshen charged with kidnaping Robert Sherwood, aged twelve years, of 18 East Twentieth street, New York, and Archie Weidling, aged fifteen years, of 277 Thirtieth street, Brooklyn. Pierce is said to have kept the boys prisoners in his cabin at Mount Adam, Orange county, for nearly two years. The boys have been restored to their parents.

College For Women Abandoned.

GENEVA, N. Y., March 26.—It is announced that for pecuniary reasons William Smith, the millionaire nurseryman of this city, has abandoned the establishment of the William Smith College For Women which he founded last July. The excavations for the building had been completed.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

SPRING MILLINERY.

Two Styles of Hat For Dressy and For Tailor Made Gowns.

Millinery is now occupying our minds, and it can be divided into two classes—the chic and the picturesque.

With the walking skirt and garments of a tailor made order the sailor hat holds its own. It can be made of almost any material, including canvas or sailcloth and the finest of fine straw trimmed with a scarf of lace drooping slightly in the back.

The really dressy hats have lace brims and falling curtains of chiffon and lace with wreaths of flowers.

The shepherdess shape covered with dainty flowers is pretty, but trying to any woman who has passed her first youth. Some of the most effective of these hats are of silver gray chip, the brims veiled with deep cream imitation chantilly or alencon lace and trimmed with pale pink roses and parma violets.

The pointed floral toque is well suited to the French face, and it is very fashionable over on the other side.

Crinoline hats, which have been so fashionable for the last few years, are now giving place to leghorns.

The majority of the best millinery models abroad have the brims veiled with black, which is most becoming to the face.

The illustration shows a tailor made French hat of lavender satin straw trimmed with chiffon of a darker shade and foliage.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT IS WORN.

The Ever Popular White Gown. Dresses of Thin Wool Materials.

The white reception frock continues to be a favorite. It is very pretty in the new crepon de soie made up with Irish lace or coarse maltese lace.

A white cloth gown smartly but simply made is not such an expensive gown and can be worn on a multitude of occasions.

Skirts are very full, but there is no need to exaggerate them. The fullness can be held in at the waist and hips and allowed to flare out gradually. Coarse canvases, hopsacks and voiles all lend themselves admirably to plaiting.

The blouse jacket or very fancy bolero mounted over a wide belt and worn with a full skirt will be the smart thing for street wear this spring.

For bodices and blouses a careful selection is of the utmost importance. The slight figure looks well in the closely fitted bertha, which goes well over the sleeves or in the fichu arrangement—anything, in a word, which detracts from severity of outline.

Voile de soie, crepe de soie, eolliennes, crepe de chine and chiffon voiles will be leading fabrics for dressy gowns this spring.

The new skirts are so full that they often measure six or seven yards around. This fashion is becoming to the lean, lanky woman, for it rounds her out and gives a certain grace to all her movements. The plump woman should adopt a yoke effect around the hips and hold the fullness in gores until almost the bottom is reached. This full skirt demands a petticoat carefully cut so that it will fit very smoothly around the hips and flare around the bottom. Nothing bunchy in the way of strings or misplaced fullness can be tolerated with the present style of dress.

The illustration shows a gown of [illegible] veiling over red taffeta. It is trimmed with narrow black and red [illegible] braid. The undersleeves and chemisette are of ecru mull.

BURTON TRIAL.

Senator Takes the Stand In His Own Defense at St. Louis.

ST . LOUIS, March 26.—Previous to the defense resting its case United States Senator Joseph R. Burton of Kansas took the stand in his own behalf in connection with the charge of having illegally accepted fees from the Rialto Grain and Securities company of St. Louis. When he had concluded he was excused from the stand without cross examination by the government.

Senator Burton testified that he had accepted the offer of the Rialto company to act as its general counsel because he had lost heavily in a financial panic and needed the $500 a month for which his contract called.

"I was assured by the company," he said, "that my services would not be needed in Washington in any capacity. It was explained that Major Dennis, president of the Rialto company, had become involved in trouble growing out of the operations of the Brooks Brokerage company and that part of my duties would be to defend him in any criminal action that would be brought against him.

"The Rialto company was also to have the use of my name, and my services were to have been used in connection with a securities department of the Rialto company which at that time was projected. I expected to familiarize myself with the condition of the corporations offering the securities for sale and become acquainted with the officers of the trust companies which make a specialty of handling securities of that character."

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Storms and Floods Have a Bad Effect on Business.

NEW YORK, March 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Little net change in trade conditions is noted for the past week. Storms and floods did much damage to property and threatened agricultural prospects at the start, but subsequently the weather improved and the outlook brightened. Spring trade is expanding, although still backward to some extent, and new labor controversies have added to the number of unemployed despite an amicable arrangement of the sheet and tin plate scales. Building operations would be vigorous if employers and wage earners could adjust differences. Inquiries for structural material are out of proportion to new permits, which is probably due to the fact that there is much resumption of postponed work.

Insurance payments have supplied Baltimore with much money, and business is rapidly recovering, although freight congestion is causing trouble.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for March aggregated $8,789,955, of which $4,276,725 were in manufacturing, $3,682,129 in trading and $831,101 in other commercial lines. Failures this week numbered 226 in the United States against 214 last year and 12 in Canada compared with 26 a year ago.

Miners Fired Upon.

DAYTON, Tenn., March 26.—A train load of miners returning from the mines of the Dayton Coal and Iron company has been fired on and four or five men wounded. The attacking party was concealed in the rocks and bushes, and it was impossible to determine how many were in the crowd. The assailants used shotguns and Winchesters. The volley was returned by officers on the train, and one of the assailants was wounded. The attack grew out of friction between union and nonunion men because the latter have refused to join in a strike that has been pending several months.

Indorsed Parker.

OSWEGO, N. Y., March 26.—First Deputy Attorney General Bulger retained his leadership of the Oswego Democracy in the caucus here last night. The opposition was led by Mayor Mansfield, who carried two out of eight wards. Resolutions indorsing Judge Parker for president were adopted.

Thirty Miners Imprisoned.

BRAZIL, Ind., March 26.—The breaking of a dam at the Excelsior clay works here flooded the mine and imprisoned thirty miners. The mine is filled with water, and it is believed that the men have all perished. Up to a late hour nothing had been done toward reaching the men.

Negro Died Without Fear.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 26.—Bob Stone, a negro, has been hanged here. While serving a life sentence for murder Stone killed a guard in an attempt to escape. He had threatened to give trouble, but he went to the scaffold quietly and died without manifestations of fear.

Stole $6,000 From Cienfuegos.

HAVANA, March 26.—Senor del Rey, the municipal tax collector of Cienfuegos, is being prosecuted for the embezzlement of $6,000 of the funds of that city. Senor Arguelles, who was city treasurer until a month ago, has been arrested on a charge of theft.

Took Sentence Like a Man.

TOLEDO, O., March 26.—Albert Fisher, recently convicted of the murder of William Marshall, a bartender, has been sentenced by Judge Tyler to be electrocuted on the morning of July 7. Fisher thanked the judge for his kindness and fairness in the case.

Fast Time on the Central.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., March 26.—The Twentieth Century limited of the New York Central road ran the seventy-four miles from Syracuse to Little Falls in seventy-one minutes, including a three-minute stop at Utica. This is the fastest time ever made over the Mohawk division.

SHE SENT ALL THE NEWS.

John's Wife Tells Him in a Few Words What an Interesting Time She Was Having.

Knowing the aversion of her husband to letter writing, the wife of a Chicagoan thus admonished him on his departure on a recent eastern trip:

"Now, John, as neither I nor the children can accompany you, you must be eyes and ears for us, and drop us an occasional postal card, telling us anything of interest you may see and hear. Don't forget, will you?"

As husbands, do, says the Chicago Tribune, the husband promised, and took his departure. The next morning

"WE ARE STILL IN CHICAGO."

but one his wife received a postal card containing the following message: "Dear Wife: I reached Pittsburg all right. Yours aff."

Though disappointed, she excused the brevity of the communication on the ground that her husband was doubtless pressed for time. Two days later, however, another card arrived, bearing the startling announcement: "Here I am in New York. Yours ever." Still later came another: "I am indeed in New York. Yours—"

The wife swallowed her disappointment, and, being good at retaliation, seized her pen and wrote: "Dear husband, the children and I are in Chicago. Yours—"

A few days later she wrote again: "We are still in Chicago."

In her next communication she grew a little more enthusiastic. She wrote:

"Dear Husband: Here we are in Chicago. I repeat it, sir. We are in Chicago.

"P. S.—We are, indeed."

In due time John reached home, and fearing perhaps that his poor wife was afflicted with some sort of dementia, hastened to ask the meaning of her strange messages. For answer she slipped into his hand his own three postal cards.

"What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," she said.

It is to be hoped that John profited by the lesson.

SHE MUST WASH HER FACE.

Unique Punishment Meted Out to Female Vagrant by a Western Police Magistrate.

An Omaha (Neb.) correspondent states that a penalty unique in the annals of the police court was imposed on Kitty Williams for vagrancy and neglect to wash her face. The woman was sentenced to the city jail for 20 days and ordered to take a bath every day.

Kitty's appearance as she stood before the bench brought a scowl to the magistrate's face.

"You remind the court of the advertisement: 'I used your soap ten years ago and have used no other since,'" said Judge Berka. "When did you wash your face?"

HATED SOAP AND WATER.

The woman admitted that it was about three months ago; she had lost track of the exact date.

She didn't like to wash in cold water when the thermometer registered below zero.

"The sentence of the court will be that you be provided with a warm cell for 20 days, a scrub brush and a cake of soap," said the judge, "and further that the jailer see to it that you take a bath once a day."

Is Beginning Life Anew.

A remarkable case is that of Mrs. Rosa Perkins, of Huntington, Mass. Her age is eighty-five, and she has been almost totally blind for several years. Within the past three months she has regained her sight, and is now able to read without glasses. Her hair which had been gray and had fallen out to such an extent as to leave her almost bald, has taken a fresh start, and her head is now covered with a luxuriant growth of glossy black.

REYES GOING HOME

President of Colombia Outlines His Plans.

HAS OPPOSED WAR THROUGHOUT

Differences Between United States and Colombia Can Be Arranged In a Manner Honorable to All Concerned.

PARIS, March 26.—General Reyes, lately elected president of the Colombian republic, has sailed from Bordeaux for Colon en route to Bogota. Before his departure the general outlined the plans he will follow when he reaches Colombia. Concerning the Panama controversy he said:

"I have been opposed to war throughout, and I feel I accomplished a great deal in avoiding actual hostilities. I return with the same pacific spirit, feeling that it is for the benefit of civilization. There will be no recourse to war, and I am also desirous of avoiding placing any obstacle in the way of building the canal and otherwise carrying out the canal project, which will result to the benefit of Colombia by increasing business activity in that section and inducing the investment of American capital.

"Concerning the differences between the United States and Colombia and Columbia and Panama, I hope and believe they can be arranged in a manner honorable to all concerned. The manner of adjustment is a question for the future, but it will be my policy if I accept the presidency to seek an honorable adjustment. Secretary Hay's idea of a plebiscite in Panama seems to be a good plan. I do not doubt that some way of arriving at a settlement will be found."

Asked whether he would accept the presidency of Colombia, General Reyes said:

"I declined to be a candidate, but they have voted for me during my absence, and I may feel it to be my duty to accept the responsibilities. But in any event I shall seek the maintenance of peace and the strengthening of friendly relations with Venezuela, Ecuador and other countries and the avoidance of placing obstacles in the way of an adjustment of the canal differences, as such a policy seems best calculated to serve the interests of civilization in general."

The general mentioned the fact that the presidential inauguration occurs Aug. 7, and, although he was not willing to say positively that he would accept the presidency, he gave the impression that he was likely to accept it and carry out a pacific policy of adjusting the Panama controversy.

New Trial Claimed on Novel Plea.

UNION, Mo., March 26.—Upon the novel plea that the 1803 treaty with France for the cession of the Louisiana purchase to the United States is involved, a motion for a new trial has been made to save George Collins from execution here today for the killing of Detective Schumacher. The claim of Collins' attorney is that the treaty with France guarantees to the inhabitants of the ceded territory full protection of the constitution of the United States. The fifth amendment to the constitution provides that no person shall be held to answer for a capital crime unless on due presentment or indictment by a grand jury. It is alleged that the information filed against Collins lacked supporting affidavits.

Mickey Will Be Governor.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 26.—W. H. Harrison of Grand Island has withdrawn as a candidate for governor. This leaves Governor Mickey with no opposition.

DIAMOND DUST.

The meeting to elect a captain and manager of the Y. M. C. A. baseball nine has been postponed from Monday night to Tuesday night.

"Warry" McLaughlin says that his work as pitcher for the Star A. C., of Elizabeth, will be chiefly on Sundays and holidays. He will return to New London, where he played last season.

Harry Noyes, formerly of the New London team, who played third base in several games for Alis last season, will probably play that position for Manager Daab's re-organized Hoboken team this season.

All but two of the baseball dates on the city High School schedule have been filled. The first game takes place Thursday, April 5, with Westfield High. The team has held no regular practise as yet owing to the soft condition of the ground.

The baseball management of Leal's School has arranged games with Newark High School, Montclair High School, Montclair Military Academy and Brooklyn High School. Some of the games will be played here and others on the grounds of the opposing team.

The Newark Academy baseball team has completed its schedule for the coming season, and included in the contests is one with Plainfield High School on Orange Oval for April 18, and another game with Leal's School team this season is believed to be the strongest in all departments that the academy has had in years.

Early in the season Frank Remsen, manager of the East Millstone baseball team, endeavored to secure "Smiling Jimmie" Montross as a pitcher for this season, but the Plainfield lad had an opportunity to get bigger money in New York State and decided not to play at East Millstone. Manager Remsen now has lines out for another pitcher.

Among the aspirants for baseball honors in this vicinity next summer will be the Suburban A. C., in which Netherwood young men are prominent. The organization has a lot of strong material for a nine, and arrangements for the formation of one are being made. The team will measure up to the strongest amateur aggregations hereabouts. There is a chance that the club will put a semi-professional combination in the field, but this step will not be taken unless the amateur nine scores an absolute failure, which is highly improbable. The club is all for amateur sport, and professionalism will be tried only if everything else fails.

BICYCLING.

Coincident with the revival of wheeling as a sport in other parts of the east, Plainfield riders are beginning to talk bicycling with something of the old-time spirit. Indications point to a greater interest in wheeling in this city next summer than has been in force since the days of the old Crescent Wheelmen. One of the things that the bikers are talking about is the revival of the road races that were once so popular in this city. Charles Fuchs, who did a lot of racing in the palmy days of the sport, is agitating that particular matter, and he is sanguine of bringing the old contests back. The course that would be used is twenty-five miles long, four laps from East Fifth street at Richmond street to Fanwood, through to Front street and back to the starting point. Charler Embleton, a Westfield crack rider, is said to be interested in the project also.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Mrs. Clifford W. McGee now holds the bowling record at the Park Club for the season among the women bowlers. Her high score is 178, one pin more than that rolled by Mrs. William McCutchen.

DESIRABLE HOUSES FOR SALE AND TO LET.

HERE are opportunities too good to pass by. We have some exceptionally fine houses for sale and to rent—located in Plainfield's desirable residential section—convenient to station.

Like to See Them?

We shall be pleased to show you these nice homes. The prices at which they are offered are so reasonable that we would advise an early decision, before they are taken.

STORY IN CURRENT NUMBER OF POPULAR MAGAZINE BY LOCAL WRITER.

"The Forelock of Opportunity," is the subject of a quaint and picturesque short story of an artist's surprising adventure in Flanders, appearing in the April number of Metropolitan magazine, from the pen of George Wharton Edwards, of Franklin place. The contribution, which is illustrated by the author, has a peculiar interest, especially to lovers of short stories.

It tells of the adventures of an artist who has many exciting experiences while seeking a valuable piece of antique iron work, which he accidently discovered, and for which he paid a fabulous price. The relic caused the artist no end of trouble, making him lose his steamer for home, with the final result of being obliged to give up his find. In compensation he received what he paid for it and arrangements were made for his passage on another steamer.

ANNUAL MEETING REPORTS SHOW A PROSPEROUS CONDITION.

Orra S. Rogers the New Superintendent of the School—Yearly Meeting of the Church to be Held Next Sunday.

After a service of twenty years as superintendent of the Seventh-Day Baptist Sunday-school, David E. Titsworth resigned his position at the annual meeting held last night at the church. Mr. Titsworth said he thought the time had arrived for a change and in retiring he presented a general report covering his period of service. It was with reluctance that the resignation was accepted.

Dr. Frank S. Wells was chairman of the meeting and Clarence Rogers was the secretary. Miss Luella Clawson, secretary for the school, gave a report showing the progress made during the year, and Miss Ernestine C. Smith, as treasurer, gave a report of the money expended, including contributions to all of the local charities, leaving a good balance on hand. Charles Neagle presented a report as librarian. All reports were encouraging to the school. From the balance in the treasury a sum was appropriated for the purchase of library books and $10 was contributed to the Children's Home, making the school a sustaining member.

These officers were chosen for the year:

Superintendent, Orra S. Rogers; first assistant, Henry M. Maxson; second assistant, Asa F Randolph; secretary, Miss Kizzie Neagle; treasurer, Miss Ernestine C. Smith; librarian, Charles Neagle; pianist, Miss Mabel Maxson; chorister, David E. Titsworth; auditors, Mrs. F. J. Hubbard and Mrs. W. C. Hubbard.

BASKET BALL TEAM'S RECORD

RESULTS OF A Y. M. C. A. AGGREGATION'S SEASON.

Winning seven games out of eleven played, the basket ball team from the business men's class of the Y. M. C. A. completed a most successful season last week. The team is composed of the best players the Y. M. C. A. can produce outside of the first five or evening class team. Although obliged to confine their practise to two or three nights a week, the men have developed a surprising amount of team work. Individually they have played consistently well throughout the season. Arthur J. Spicer has captained the team and its line-up has included Paul Whitford, J. H. Doane and Heicker, forwards; A. J. Spicer and W. E. Lott, centre; Albert Utzinger and George Clark, guards. A summary of the season follows:

Evangelistic Service.

The second week of the series of revival meetings was begun last night at the East Third Street chapel under the auspices of Rev. Lester Girard Leggett. The half hour service of sermons in music by violin, cornet, autoharp, piano and the human voice, was exceedingly good. The Y. M. C. A. quartette rendered two selections. The Misses Clyde and Marguerite Burnet, with violin and piano accompaniment, sang and played. W. Frank Malin, violinist and Whitney Frazee, cornetist, contributed to the half hour. Mrs. Leggett's solo on the autoharp, gave as a solo, "Nearer My God to Thee." Elmer D. Cutting sang. Mr Leggett spoke upon "Eternity—Where?"

Married Twenty Years Ago.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thom, of Summit avenue, celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their wedding, on Friday night. There were about twenty-five relatives and friends present to join with the bride and groom in making the event a pleasant one. The couple received many presents. Mr. and Mrs. Thom were married in Paterson twenty years ago and for several years they resided at Fanwood. They have been residents of the borough about six years.

Elaborate Easter Service.

The musical programme at the Easter celebration in St. Joseph's church next Sunday will be very elaborate. M. A. The big children's orchestra that will assist in the service practiced its part yesterday afternoon.

Building Trade Improving.

The building business has improved to some extent during the present month. Eleven permits were issued by Building Inspector Doane, six for new frame dwellings and five for alterations. During the winter months the frost in the ground forced a lull in the builder's trade.

CHRIST'S ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM OBSERVED

Palm Sunday Services Held in Many Churches in the City and the Borough.

MEANING OF THE DAY

ELABORATE SERVICES HELD IN THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

Sermons Preached by Local Pastors—Good Music in Several Edifices—The Distribution of Palms.

Palm Sunday was observed by churches of all denominations to a greater or less extent in this city yesterday. Although the morning was raw, and not at all spring-like, large congregations were the rule, and the first spirit of the approaching Eastertide was felt.

While not confined to them to a very decided degree, the observance was more elaborate and solemn in the ritualistic churches. Special music, decorations and sermons marked the celebration in the Episcopal churches, and solemn high mass, with processions, and the distribution of blessed palm branches, were the features of the Roman Catholic services.

Yesterday was the beginning of Holy Week, the week set apart to commemorate the closing scenes in the earthly life of our Lord. Its observance dates back to the early day of Christianity and is mentioned by Irenaeus toward the end of the second century, while Eusebius believed that the custom of keeping Holy Week dated from Apostolic times. It was frequently spoken of by ancient Usiiers as the Great, the Holy Week, the Week of the Holy Passion. The first day of the week is called Palm Sunday, as on that day Jesus Christ entered Jerusalem upon an ass, and the multitudes in their enthusiasm cut down branches from the trees and strewed them in the way, crying out, "Blessed is He who cometh in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest!"

The chief feature of the day in the Roman Catholic churches was the blessing and distribution of the palms before the High Mass. The palms are placed near the epistle side of the altar, and the celebrant, in violet cope, sprinkles them first with Holy Water and then incenses them. They are delivered first to the clergy and choir, who walk in procession through the church and pass outside. Then the cantors enter the church, leaving the rest outside. The hymn, "All Glory Laud and Honor," is sung, both parties—those within and those without—taking part. At the last the sub-deacon knocks at the door with shaft of the processional cross, and the whole body march up the church. The processional crucifix is covered with a purple veil, and the music is of a solemn character. Before the procession, the palms are distributed throughout the congregation, who hold them in their hands.

St. Joseph's R. C.

There was an imposing procession by 150 child choristers as the opening and most impressive feature of the Palm Sunday celebration at St Joseph's Roman Catholic church yesterday morning. All the children bore big branches of palms. James Bailey, the head of the choir, sang a solo version of "The Palms" arranged by Father Miller, the rector, the children and the main choir supporting him. The rendition was exceptionally fine.

As in all the other Roman Catholic churches throughout the world, the main part of the service proper consisted of the reading of the solemn Passion from the Gospel of St. Matthew. There was no sermon.

The palms were blessed and distributed to all the worshippers. The congregation was one of the largest in the history of the church.

St. Mary's R. C.

Worshippers in large numbers attended the celebration of Palm Sunday at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church yesterday morning. The service was marked by a solemn high mass.

Before the mass was celebrated the palms were blessed and the altar boys and priests marched in solemn procession about the church. Father Delahanty was the celebrant of the mass, with Father Egan as deacon, Father Federici, of Bloomfield, sub-deacon, and William O'Keeffe master-of-ceremonies. The Passion was read as the chief feature of the mass, as in all other Roman Catholic churches.

William Holmes sang "The Palms," as a solo. After the service the blessed palms were distributed

In the evening, Father Delahanty preached a sermon appropriate to Holy Week.

Trinity Reformed.

Palm Sunday was observed at Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning by a special sermon of the pastor and by appropriate music. Dr. Schenck preached on the subject, "Hozanna to the Son of David." He spoke of Christ's life as a child; what His life meant to children; and what children meant to Christ. He referred to the intuition of childhood and to the child's instant and instinctive knowledge of who is its friend. Man must be as a little child in order to enter the Kingdom, must have the child's faith and the child's nearness to God.

"Jerusalem," by Parker-Rees, was sung by the regular church choir, and "The Palms" was sung as a solo by Bertram Tallamy. A. J. Titsworth was organist.

St. Stephen's Episcopal.

Special music, decorations of palm branches and sermons appropriate to the day marked the observance of Palm Sunday at St. Stephen's church. Two services were held, morning and afternoon.

Rev. William R. Harris, the rector, preached strong sermons upon the meaning of the day and its solemnity of Holy Week. The full choir was out and sang anthems and chants with fine effect.

The decorations were of notable character, and transformed the church interior. They were hung by the members of St. Ann's Guild.

Grace P. E.

Palm Sunday services attracted very large congregations to both service at Grace P. E. church. Special music was sung, and sermons appropriate to the beginning of Holy Week were preached by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, the rector, in the morning; and the Rev. Charles Fiske, of St. John's church, Somerville, in the evening.

Palms in profusion were hung about the altar, with striking effect.

The musical programmes were unusually good. In the morning the processional was "All Glory, Laud and Honor," and benedicite by Barnaby was sung, and Garret's benedictus. The offertory anthem was "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," by Maker. It included an excellently rendered solo by Mrs. Theodore Mantz, and quartette work by Miss Ada Clark, contralto; Mrs. Mantz, soprano; William Tallamy, tenor; Arthur Chamberlain, bass. In the evening the feature was Tozer's anthem "Weary of Earth and Laden with My Sin." Solo parts were sung by Mrs. Mantz, Mr. Tallamy and Mr. Chamberlain. Mrs. William Freeman, the organist, was in charge of the music at both services.

Warren Chapel.

A special sermon on Palm Sunday was preached by Rev. J. O. McKelvey at Warren chapel yesterday morning. There was special music by the choir.

Hope Chapel.

Three special events marked Palm Sunday at Hope chapel. In the morning Rev. L. R. Howard, the pastor, preached a sermon upon the observance, a spectacular lecture on missions in China, Japan and India was delivered to the Sunday-school in the afternoon, and several members were added to the church at communion service in the evening.

In his sermon Mr. Howard contrasted the triumphal entry of the Saviour into Jerusalem with the dark tragedy of the Crucifixion. Both this service and the evening one were largely attended.

Mrs. John Gillespie, who has travelled extensively through the Orient in the cause of missions, delivered the talk to the Sunday-school. She illustrated the dress of the Eastern people by draping native costumes about eight Sunday-school scholars: Hannah Brandt, Esther Brandt, Agnes Leighs, Willie Hunter, Harry Kenny, Elsie Rimmer, Ruth Kenny.

At the evening service the pastor preached the last of a special series of sermons on the Christian life. "Man shall not live by bread alone," was his text, and he dwelt at length upon the absolute supremacy of the spiritual life. Five new members were admitted to the church: Miss Annie Porter, Miss Emily Duvier, Miss Minnie Hartfelder and Wallace Morton by confession of faith; and Mrs. Samuel Kratzley, by letter from the Muscatong Valley church.

Holy Cross.

At the Church of the Holy Cross Palm Sunday was marked by music and decorations of much beauty. Mrs. W. L. Saunders sang "The Palms" in the morning and Gounod's "Praise Ye the Father" in the evening.

FEAST OF PASSOVER COMMENCES TOMORROW

Celebration of Israel's Delivery From Egyptian Bondage to be Observed.

EXPENSIVE FESTIVAL

FAITHFUL PARTAKE OF PASSOVER WINE AND THE MATZOTH.

Peculiar Customs of the Season—Time of Family Reunions and and Other Social Gatherings—To Use New Dishes.

Passover, the great Jewish feast which commemorates the delivery of Israel from bondage in Egypt, will begin tomorrow.

The local Hebrew congregation will observe the feast, special services having been arranged.

The burden of many preparations falls upon the housewives. Every utensil used in the feasts, all crockery and glassware must be new or must never have been used for any food in which there is leaven. Then, every one who can afford it desires to wear new clothes at Passover, so the stores share in the general stir of preparation.

Not only must certain household goods be new at Passover time, but every housewife takes special pains to clean house at this great season of the year and to have as many new articles of furniture as she can afford.

It is the most expensive festival of all the many in the Jewish calendar, and at the same time perhaps the merriest. It is the season of family reunions and of social parties of all sorts. A general atmosphere of good will emanates from the Passover. Even Christians participate, as special pains are taken by Jews to have their Christian friends partake of the Passover wine and the matzoth and other delicacies and peculiarities of the fare of the festival.

The baking of Passover bread goes on for months before Passover. It is prepared according to the peculiar laws regulating the making of unleavened bread for the feast.

In every one of the matzoth bakeshops there is a representative of the rabbis, who is called a Mazgiach. His duty it is to see that the matzoth is made in compliance with rabbinical law. Thus even the big factories must not mix the matzoth dough in large quantities. Only a certain small quantity of flour and water may be mixed at one time. There are many rigid requirements to be observed.

The business constitutes an industry in itself, which employs hundreds of people in New York, because most of the matzoth used throughout the United States and Canada comes from New York. Several wealthy concerns are devoted entirely to the industry, although only once in the year are the matzoth in demand.

The traditional method of preparing the matzoth has suffered from modifications. According to the law, when the small quantity of dough permissible is mixed, it must be rolled out at once under the direction of the superintendent, who gives each woman standing about the table a small quantity to roll and make into a cake. The cakes are supposed to be four cornered.

Many bakers roll out the dough by machinery. Another is the utilization of the small particles of dough left from each piece in the process of cutting it into a cake. These are supposed to be thrown away, but the economical bakers use the dough again. They also make the matzoth round, finding that easier, but a special make of four-cornered matzoth is prepared for the use of the pious.

EXPLAINED R. C. DOCTRINES

FATHER MILLER ANSWERED QUESTIONS SUBMITTED TO HIM.

Father Miller, pastor of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, last night preached the final discourse in a special series of "question box" sermons. Every Sunday night during Lent the priest has preached in answer to questions submitted by members of the congregation and others interested in church doctrine and policy.

Father Miller asked his parishioners and all others who might wish to do so to put to him any query that puzzled them. During the week he considered all the questions and answered them from the pulpit in the course of his sermon on the following Sunday night. The last of the answers was preached at the evening service yesterday, the priest expounding particularly upon the salvation of souls.

Much interest was taken in the "question box," and many queries relating to doctrinal matters and the administration of the church were propounded. There was an average of twenty questions every week.

One of the features of the service last night was a solo by Mrs. Olmstead, of New York, one of the prominent members of Prof. Walter Damrosch's choral society, who sang Gounod's "Ave Maria."

INSPECTED SCHOOL.

Asbury Park Teachers Saw Practical Work at Borough Manual Training Department.

Miss White, supervisor of manual training in the Asbury Park schools, inspected the manual training department of the borough High School this morning. She was accompanied by Miss Emery, an old borough teacher, who is now associated with Miss White in the Asbury Park system.

Under the guidance of Superintendent Wightman, who is one of the recognized authorities in that department of education, the manual training system of the borough has come to be known as the most unique and notable in this State. Teachers from all towns and cities within reach are sent here steadily to inspect the department. Miss White, as all who have preceded her in visits, expressed the warmest admiration for the school.

Mr. Coriell was born on November 11, 1820. He married Margaret Giles, his first wife, on his twenty-first birthday. Their union was blessed with three children, of whom but one is living, Andrew S. Coriell, collector of Bound Brook. Fifty-five years ago he married Catherine Blue, then eighteen years old. Eleven children were born to them and eight lived to help celebrate the anniversary Friday. They are Mrs. M. R. VanKeuren, of Eatontown; Mrs. B. G. Elliot, of Scotch Plains; Mrs. Clarence White, of Red Bank; Charles A., and Abner S., Jr., of Dunellen; George W., William L., and Katherine A., of New Market.

DOMESTIC MISSIONS.

Rev. Dr. Kingsbury's Talk on Christian Work in the Western States.

At the Congregational church yesterday, Dr. Kingsbury, one of the field secretaries of the Congregational Home Missionary Society, spoke morning and evening. Dr. Kingsbury has charge of the mission work in Montan, Idho, New Mexico and other Rocky Mountain states and he described interestingly the conditions that prevail in his field of work. The need for the work and the good it is accomplishing were dwelt upon. In the rough mining camps there is frequently not the least chance for religious services. The people are eager for churches and Christian work and appreciate the advances that have been made of late years.

A Missionary Address.

Rev. Dr. C. L. Rhoades, who is associated with the Baptist Board of Missions in New York, occupied the pulpit at the First Baptist church yesterday morning and made an address on foreign missions. He gave a wonderfully clear idea of the progress of missions in foreign lands, showing the encouraging and discouraging features. At the close he made an appeal for money to assist in this work.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pauline Hall, the famous comic opera vocalist, will be the bright and shining star of the all-astral aggregation of vaudeville artists billed to appear at Keith's during the present week. Always a great favorite, ever since she was the prima donna of the McCall forces at the New York Casino, no vocalist on the stage today is in better voice and more popular.

"The County Chairman," at Wallack's Theatre, New York, passed its 150th performance on Broadway on Tuesday evening, and the fact was looked upon so much as a matter of course that no special effort was made to attract attention to it. There were no souvenirs and no demonstrations other than those of unrestricted merriment which always follow the progress of George Ade's delightful droll comedy of rural life in the West. "The County Chairman," as a fact, now seems as far from the end of its vast popularity in New York as it was when the first night audience, convulsed with nearly three hours of laughter, gave it a rousing demonstration of approbation. Wallack's is still crowded every performance, and the advance demand for seats and boxes extends as far as May.

—J. P. Powers has had the interior of his pharmacy on Somerset street remodelled. A bright new lattice partition has been erected over the rear of the store, adding greatly to its attractiveness. The woodwork is to be enamelled in white, and striped in black and gold.

—All springs are being taken from the switches along the New Jersey Central, in accordance with a recent order. This means that when a car or an engine runs through a switch that is not turned properly, the switch will be broken. Formerly the spring would throw the switch back again and the violation of the rule forbidding the running through switches until they are thrown properly, would not be known to the officials.

JAPS' SHIPS SUNK

Torpedo Flotilla and Four Ships at Port Arthur.

THEY MET A HOT RECEPTION.

Destroyer Stilni Struck Foremost Channel Stopper With Torpedo.

SEVEN KILLED, THIRTEEN WOUNDED

Plucky Russian Destroyer Fought Six Japanese Torpedo Boats—Makaroff Sailed Out, but Togo Declined the Combat, His Attempt to Stop the Channel Being Entirely Unsuccessful.

LONDON, March 28.—A St. Petersburg dispatch says Vice Admiral Makaroff, commanding the Russian naval forces at Port Arthur, has sent the following official report to the emperor:

"On Sunday morning before daylight another daring but unsuccessful attempt was made by the Japanese to block the entrance to Port Arthur and bottle up the Russian fleet by sinking four stone laden steamers in the entrance to the harbor. The steamers were convoyed by eight torpedo boats.

"As the Japanese fleet, consisting of sixteen ships, neared Port Arthur they were soon discovered by our torpedo boats acting as scouts. When the four steamers approached the harbor they were sunk by the guns of the forts and the Russian ships Bohr and Otranjuy lying in the outer harbor, which opened a terrific fire.

"Fearing the enemy's ships might break through, Lieutenant Krinizki, commanding the guard torpedo boat Stilni, attacked the enemy and destroyed the bow of the foremost Japanese steamer with a torpedo. This steamer turned to the right and was followed by two others, with the result that the three were stranded to the right of the entrance. A fourth steamer went to the right of the enemy's ships and likewise sank to the side of the fairway. The Stilni then battled with the enemy's six torpedo boats. Engineer Artificer Swyereff of the Stilni and six seamen were killed, and the commander and twelve seamen were wounded.

"At daybreak the enemy's battleship and cruiser squadrons appeared, and I proceeded with the fleet under my charge to meet the enemy. The torpedo flotilla was followed at a considerable distance by the battleships, which opened fire on the forts, supporting the action of the fireships and torpedo boats.

"Owing to the heaviness of our artillery fire and the boldness of our torpedo boats the fireships did not reach the entrance to the harbor. Two of them grounded on a reef under Golden hill, another sank behind the first turn of the channel, struck by a torpedo from one of our boats, and the fourth sank, its bow touching a Japanese steamer sunk in the previous attempt off Majatschnaja Goroda. The entrance to the harbor remains clear.

"A Hotchkiss one inch caliber quick firer was found aboard one of the sunken steamers from which a fire had been kept up on our torpedo boats.

"A boat left each of the sunken ships carrying their crews. One of these is believed to have been picked up.

Toward 4 o'clock a. m. the enemy's torpedo boats retired, and the bombardment ceased. I at once proceeded in a steam launch to inspect the enemy's sunken steamers.

"The enemy's torpedo boats reappeared at 5 o'clock. They were sighted south of Port Arthur, and the batteries reopened on them. Toward 6 o'clock the enemy's squadron again appeared on the horizon, and our ships steamed out to meet it. At 6:30 the batteries opened fire. Our ships' batteries soon ceased, the Japanese drawing off to the southeast, evidently declining an engagement. At 10 o'clock they disappeared below the horizon."

It is believed that the Japanese lost two torpedo boats in the attempt.

It is acknowledged that one Russian torpedo boat was sunk in the engagement, but it is thought the vessel can be refloated.

When Vice Admiral Makaroff with his fleet sailed out to engage the enemy Vice Admiral Togo decided to decline the issue and drew off.

Among all classes the gallantry of the Silni and her commander is the subject of high praise, but above all the moral effect of Vice Admiral Makaroff's willingness to engage the enemy, showing that he considered himself strong enough to fight, produced a big impression.

In high official circles this new effort is looked upon as meaning only one thing—namely, that the Japanese are preparing for a heavy landing of troops in the gulf of Liaotung, either at Newchwang or on the west coast of the Manchurian neutral zone, to effect which in safety the immobility of Vice Admiral Makaroff's fleet is absolutely essential while the transports are being convoyed around the southern end of the peninsula. If the attempt had succeeded it would have required several days at least to blow up the steamers and clear away the wreckage, during which time the Japanese would be assured of noninterference in the carrying out of their purpose. The failure of the Japanese yesterday morning may seriously hamper their plans, as the ice in the Liao river is going out, and when the river is free from ice its mouth can be easily mined.

The conviction continues to grow here that the Japanese have concluded it inadvisable to make a direct frontal attack on Manchuria from Korea against the whole Russian army and that it will be necessary to land a flanking column in the gulf of Liaotung to divide the attention of the Russians and if possible to seize the railroad and cut off Port Arthur. The ground above Newchwang is perfectly familiar to the Japanese, who occupied it for a year during the Chino-Japanese war.

It is officially announced that the Russians have proclaimed Newchwang under martial law.

The rumors of disaffection and mutiny among the Chinese imperial troops on the border, which have been current for several days, are absolutely unfounded. Colonel Muenthe of Viceroy Yuan Chi Kais' staff, who was sent to Port Arthur ten days ago to remove the Chinese from that city, has returned to Tientsin, having satisfactorily terminated his refugee mission.

MARQUIS ITO LEAVES KOREA.

The Japanese Statesman's Visit Has Fully Reassured the Koreans.

SEOUL, March 28.—Marquis Ito and his suit, including General Ijichi, the former Japanese military attache here, has left for Tokyo after having had a farewell audience with the emperor. The departure of the Japanese dignitaries was attended by all the principal officials of the government and by the foreign diplomatic representatives.

Marquis Ito dined with the emperor and the crown prince and was shown the most distinguished consideration during his stay here.

The visit of the marquis has resulted in fully reassuring the Koreans, allaying all doubts as to the intentions of the Japanese government and paving the way for the extension of Japanese influence in Korea. The marquis has continually advised careful deliberation on the part of the Koreans and against any increase in the army and the gradual adoption of the reform measures suggested, and the acceptance of Japanese advice is now beyond question.

From a political standpoint the mission of Marquis Ito has lessened the political friction and has made easier the task of those who ultimately may advise the Korean government.

The Koreans will send a return mission to the mikado, but the ministers desire that Yi Chi Ying Ep, minister of foreign affairs, should go to Japan as Korea's representative. The hesitancy of this minister in accepting the appointment is not due to his identification with the pro-Japanese party in Korea.

Americans In Korea.

SEOUL, March 28.—The American miners in north Korea find themselves in a most difficult position. Their ability to continue work, notwithstanding the outbreak of hostilities, is dependent upon their strictly minding their own business and exercising great caution to avoid offending either of the combatants. They have practically ceased sending out any private correspondence in fear that some chance expressions therein might be construed into evidence of partiality. United States Minister Allen is exerting pressure to secure the release of their special train, as the delay is causing embarrassment. The Korean laborers will not accept bullion in payment for their services, while the rice merchants demand specie. A party, including the bride of Dr. Stryker, the physician of the mine's hospital, is at Chemulpo, desiring to go to Unsan, where the mines are located, but has been advised to wait, as Mr. Allen cannot guarantee the safety of women.

China Getting Into It.

CHEFU, March 28.—It is stated on reliable authority that Vice Admiral Makaroff's report of his reconnoissance of the Elliot islands contained the startling statement that he captured a junk filled with Chinese regular troops, which was being towed by a Japanese gunboat. A report from Vladivostok says that a mine has been discovered under the fortress with wires leading to a Chinese house in the town.

Kuropatkin With His Army.

MUKDEN, March 28.—The mobilization of the Manchurian army is now complete. General Kuropatkin, having stopped at Harbin to visit the fortress there, has reached his headquarters here.

Russian Naval Hoodoo.

ALGIERS, March 28.—The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Buini while entering this port went aground and sustained extensive damage. The vessel must be docked.

General Osborne Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Brevet Major General Thomas O. Osborne of Chicago, for many years United States minister to the Argentine Republic, who came to Washington a few days ago with his niece, Mrs. C. I. Haskins of Des Moines, Ia., for a visit, is dead here of apoplexy. It is expected that in view of General Osborne's distinguished services in the United States volunteers during the civil war full military honors will be accorded.

Three Maids Leaped; One Killed.

QUINCY, Ill., March 28.—Fire broke out in the Newcomb hotel annex shortly after midnight, and the main building was soon filled with smoke. Two women employees of the hotel leaped from a third story window, and Rose O'Donnell, a [illegible], was killed. Three others were [illegible]. The guests in the [illegible] part of the building are all believed to be safe and accounted for.

CORBETT IN TEARS.

Claims That Decision In Late Fight Was Most Unjust.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Young Corbett was bitterly disappointed at the decision in the twenty round fight with Britt, saying that it was most unjust to him. When Corbett reached his dressing room after the fight he burst into tears. Commenting on the decision, he said: "I am a stranger in this city, and I have been badly treated. I was warned before I came here that I would be treated as I have been, but I did not believe it. I was deprived of the decision unjustly. I was stopped from fighting according to Marquis of Queensberry rules. At the end of the nineteenth round they had to carry Britt to his corner, yet he was given the decision."

Harry Tuthill, Corbett's trainer, announced that he would match Corbett against Britt, the fight to come off in three weeks, winner to take all.

Britt said it was a "clean cut victory."

Britt was badly marked up, while Corbett was unmarked with the exception of a cut over his eye. Corbett claims to have injured his right hand and forearm during the contest, but he does not know in what round. It is thought that a small bone was injured. This deprived him of the use of his right.

Hanlon Tired O'Neill.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—Eddie Hanlon of San Francisco and Jack O'Neill of this city fought six fast rounds before the National Athletic club Saturday night. O'Neill showed to advantage in the early rounds, having Hanlon in trouble in the third and fourth. The latter, however, finished strong, while the local boy was visibly tired at the finish.

A PULPIT SENSATION.

J. Alford Fisher's Congregation Engaged In Disorderly Scenes.

CLEVELAND, O., March 28.—The pastorate of Rev. J. Alford Fisher of the Franklin Avenue Congregational church was terminated in a sensational manner. Mr. Fisher has since coming to the church last November been charged with too liberal views in his pulpit utterances, and he had been asked to resign. His contract, however, extends for three months longer. The congregation is willing to pay him for that period if he resigns immediately. Mr. Fisher was to have preached twice, morning and evening. The morning services terminated in disorderly scenes when Mr. Fisher made a reference to the manner in which many people regard the Bible. He declared that it had been made a fetich. Thereupon Deacon Thomas Henderson arose in his seat and said that Mr. Fisher came to the church under false pretenses and that he had accepted the pastorate as a minister of the gospel.

The congregation then took sides with and against the minister, and a number of persons moved toward the pulpit, which Mr. Fisher had just left. He was not allowed to enter it again during the morning service.

Mr. Fisher will leave Cleveland on Thursday and states that he will never again accept a pastorate and that he will devote his time to lecturing. Mr. Fisher came to Cleveland from the church of the late Dr. Scudder of Brooklyn and is widely known.

Woman's Sad Death by Fire.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 28.—Mrs. Fannie Watrous, who formerly lived here, but who has lately lived in Maine and New Hampshire, burned herself to a crisp at the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Charlotte Watrous. She came here two days ago, and since then had acted very queerly. Flames were discovered bursting from a shed at the rear of the home of Mrs. Watrous, and a fire alarm was sent in. The firemen turned a stream on the building, and as the flames became subdued one of the firemen discovered the body of a woman on the floor. As soon as possible it was pulled out of the shed, but it was unrecognizable, being a mass of charred flesh and bone. The building was saturated with oil, and it is believed that Mrs. Watrous poured oil all over her clothes and then set fire to herself.

Loubet's Visit to Italy.

ROME, March 28.—Newspapers here publish an interview with M. Combes, the French premier, in which he says that the forthcoming visit of President Loubet to Rome is not only a courtesy from the president of the French republic to King Victor Emmanuel, but that it is a visit "from a friend called France to a friend called Italy," the relations of which countries are now as close as possible. M. Combes added that President Loubet never dreamed of visiting the pope.

Ice Carried Lawyer Out to Death.

RICHFORD, Vt., March 28.—While standing on the bank of the Missisquoi river watching the breaking up of the ice H. E. Rustedt, a prominent Franklin county lawyer, was carried out into the rushing waters and drowned. Two other men who were with him on the same ice cake managed to leap ashore. Hundreds of people, powerless to aid, saw the unfortunate man go to his death in the swirling waters.

Preached From St. Paul's Pulpit.

ATHENS, Greece, March 28.—Rev. John Potts of Toronto preached on the Hill of Mars yesterday to the delegates to the world's Sunday school convention. The ministers and delegates repeated St. Paul's address to the Athenians. All the members of the party from the United States are well and will proceed to Jerusalem, where the meeting of the convention will be held.

WAR AGAINST EVIL

William J. Bryan's Address at New Haven Church.

INVEIGHED AGAINST WAR IN FAR EAST

Society's Danger Is In Conflict Between Rich and Poor—Philosophy of the Nazarine Would Harmonize Labor and Capital.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 28.—William J. Bryan delivered an address here before the People's church in the Hyperian theater on "The Prince of Peace." The theater was well filled.

Mr. Bryan said that in this day of materialism it is a great and widespread error that teaches that cultured men and women have outgrown the need of religion. He quoted Tolstoi's remarks to him on that subject during their conference when Mr. Bryan was in Russia last December. He then took up the question of war and inveighed against the present war between Japan and Russia, saying that he hoped there would be a general demand made to find out the cause of that warfare. Knowing the exact cause, the world would then be enabled to form a judgment as to which side has justice in its contentions. He deprecated the prevalence in this country of training boys and young men in the arts of warfare. The only warfare that man ought to wage, said he, is the warfare against evil in all its forms.

Mr. Bryan considered the subject in its bearings not only on warfare between armies and navies, but in commerce and business. The failure on the part of rich men and poor men, on the part of employer and the employee, to appreciate the fact that all are brothers is the cause of social unrest and economic warfare. Said Mr. Bryan:

"Society is in danger because of the terrible conflict that threatens between the rich and the poor. Shall we say that the outcome will be a warfare between class and class, to end only in the rule of that class which can take the upper hand and rule because it has the strength? How much better to follow the philosophy of the Nazarene and the laborer and capitalist recognize that each are brothers. Recognition of that doctrine will not rob life of bravery, it will not make us cowards, for it takes a brave man to live righteously before men in the strenuous world of today. It requires bravery to preach the gospel in the presence of others who would silence the preacher and to stand for righteousness when others surrender. It requires a brave man to stand up against error in his own political party and to maintain a righteous principle."

MEYER WAS HONOR GUEST.

Kaiser Wilhelm Holds an American Dinner.

NAPLES, March 28.—On the invitation of Emperor William Ambassador Meyer came to Naples from Rome and dined with his majesty on board the German imperial yacht Hohenzollern. The ambassador sat at the right of the emperor, on whose left was Father Boniface Krug, formerly of the Benedictine abbey at Beatty, Pa., and now abbot of the abbey of Monte Cassino. The ambassador and the abbot were the only guests of the emperor, who jokingly said that it was an American dinner.

At the request of the emperor Ambassador Meyer accompanied him and Father Krug to Monte Cassino, where they visited the abbey and admired the work of restoration of the famous mosaics there.

Speaking of the condition of the emperor, Ambassador Meyer said:

"Emperor William looks extremely well, just as he did when I saw him at Kiel last summer. His voice is as strong as ever, and he is in excellent spirits."

Panic In New Haven Church.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 28.—A panic occurred at the morning service in St. Michael's Italian church in Wooster street, in which almost a score of persons were injured. Four, two women and two children, were taken to the New Haven hospital, but it is not believed that the injuries of any of these are fatal. Some one in the congregation yelled "Fire!" during a prayer, and with hardly a second's delay the great majority of the worshipers arose and rushed for the door at the rear of the church, the only exit. Women and children were trampled upon and dragged along the floor by the others in their endeavor to get out of the building.

Odell May Resign.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Governor Odell, it is asserted by the Herald's Albany correspondent, has informed his most intimate friends that it is his intention to resign from the governorship, probably in September, so that he may be free to devote himself entirely to the management of the Republican state and national campaigns.

One Payne Better, the Other Worse.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Postmaster General Payne rested very comfortably and sat up for some time. He is gradually getting stronger, but is not yet able to leave the city. General W. H. Payne, the distinguished Confederate leader, who is seriously ill here, had a restless day. He is perceptibly weaker.

Election Frauds Cause Arrest.

HAVANA, March 28.—Telegrams from Santiago report that all the members of the provincial electoral board of scrutiny have been arrested on the charge of falsifying the results of the elections for congressmen.

Don't fail to see the Essex and Hudson two-ring circus. You can hear the elephant roar.

The Republican party should donate the funds for Mr. Hearst's boom. It is the only fair thing for it to do.

Again the Japs have failed to bottle up Port Arthur. There seems to be too much snap about that Arthur brand to cork it.

The crack shots of the Riverton Gun Club killed the pigeon bill and some people seem to think that "dough" was their only ammunition.

Should the $100,000 postoffice building come to pass, it will be a monument to Senator Kean's political shrewdness as well as an ornament to Plainfield.

Despite his cleverly worded statement that he has no particular choice, there are at least a few people in Union County who believe that John Moody is a Hearst man, and yet those who know the Cranford man can hardly believe it of him.

The experience of a manufacturer is interesting: "If I could get my monthly mailing card into the right hands, I could afford to rely on it mainly for my advertising. But there's the rub. I found it expedient to use the newspapers in order to get the right persons to apply for the cards. Then I found I could include the essential matter in my newspaper advertisement. Hence, while my card is still valuable, my newspaper announcements are indispensable."—Ex.

Former Mayor John Briest, of that city, who is the editor of the Sunday Courier, will be the editor-in-chief. He promises a lively paper, which will be called the Courier-News. Friends of Mr. Hearst believe that he is in the lead for the presidential nomination and that only a few more delegates are necessary in order to secure him that honor. It is expected that general attack will be made on the old leaders under the domination of "Jim" Smith, who is trying everything known in politics to be returned to the United States Senate.

Mrs. J. W. VanSyckel, of Whitehouse, is visiting her sister in this city.

FLOODS INCREASE.

Conditions on Grand River Are Very Grave.

UNPRECEDENTED SINCE YEAR 1844

Much Suffering From Cold and Starvation—All Traffic Is Demoralized, and Grand Rapids Is In Darkness—Thousands Are Idle.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 28.—Conditions in this city and nearby towns along the Grand river are very grave as a result of the unprecedented flood that has swollen the stream far out of its banks for the past three days. At 9 o'clock the river gauge here showed a depth of 19.3 feet. This is three feet above the previous high water record, that of 1844. The water has risen six inches since 6 o'clock. It is falling slightly, however, the drop in temperature having checked the small streams and surface drainage.

The inhabitants of flooded houses are suffering greatly from cold and lack of food. There has been no loss of life thus far, but there is great suffering, and a vast amount of sickness will, it is feared, follow the exposure sustained by many of the flood victims. There is grave danger of an epidemic of typhoid fever following the flood as a result of the insanitary conditions that the lowering of the waters will expose.

Interurban cars are running only over portions of the roads out of Grand Rapids. Steam railway traffic is demoralized. Practically no trains are adhering to schedule on the roads that have their lines open. The city lighting station is entirely cut off and out of commission, and the city is in darkness again. Many of the west side churches are surrounded by water and were unable to hold services. All schools on the west side will be closed until further notice.

The work of rescuing inhabitants of the flooded houses has continued throughout the day, a squad of local militia assisting the rescuers. It is conservatively estimated that the loss to property and business on account of the flood will exceed $2,000,000.

Fifteen thousand men are unable to work owing to factories being compelled to close because of the high water. Two thousand homes are flooded on the west side.

The flood conditions at Ionia, Lowell, Portland and other points along the Grand river are reported to be slightly improved, the waters having begun to fall. These towns are practically isolated by reason of the bridges across the Grand river going out, and it will be many days before anything like normal traffic with the outside world will be established. The flood loss at Ionia is estimated at $100,000.

Niles reports that no trains have been run on the Michigan division of the Big Four as a result of the St. Joseph river flood, that the greater part of the north end of the city is flooded and that sand bags are being placed on the dam across the river at that place to keep it from going out.

Waterworks and Trolleys Tied Up.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 28.—The city street railway and interurban system are without power because of the flooding of the power houses near White river. Communication with north and west Indianapolis is cut off by the flood, which has swept away bridges. The city is still without water owing to the flooding of the waterworks pumping station. Many houses have been carried down White river and shattered against the stone bridges which connect the city proper with the suburbs. Kingan & Co., the Indiana furniture factory and the Indiana Foundry company are closed down because of the flood.

South Suffers From Storms.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 28.—Since the civil war the south has never been so completely isolated from the north as it is now. Destruction or paralysis of telegraph facilities is so widespread and unparalleled that not a wire was working south through Richmond, Nashville, Memphis or any of the great centers of electrical control on either side of the Alleghanies from the Atlantic westward far beyond the Mississippi. Eight persons were injured and extensive damage was done to city and suburban property by the storm which swept over this city. The wind attained a velocity of sixty miles, and the rain fell in torrents, accompanied by a vivid pyrotechnic display. The entire city was for a time flooded.

Canada Suffers From Floods.

CHATHAM, Ont., March 28.—Serious flood conditions exist in Kent county. All the low lying portions of the city are under water, and many factories have closed down. Residents had to be removed from their homes in boats. At Prairie Siding, ten miles out, the tracks of the Grand Trunk are washed out for miles, and traffic is stopped. The country around Wallaceburg is flooded several feet deep. Traffic on the Pere Marquette is suspended, and it has been necessary to anchor the bridge at Wallaceburg with coal cars.

Many Trains Tied Up.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., March 28.—The water in the Mohawk river is subsiding, but railroad trains on the roads entering this city are tied up because of the flood conditions to the west of here. All of the fast trains that do not stop here used the detour recently built fr Athens Junction to Rotterdam Junction. The Twentieth Century limited the Southwestern limited trains u the Delaware and Hudson road to Sydney, whence they took the Ontario and Western to Syracuse. The Continental limited on the West Shore and the New York Central trains were sent over the West Shore road.

Springfield Lost Bathhouse.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 28.—The city bathhouse has been swept from its moorings in the Connecticut river by the high water and floated down the stream. Its roof was torn off as it passed under the bridge at Thompsonville, Conn., but it continued over the Thompsonville dam and on down the river. It will be a total wreck. It cost about $3,000.

Train Service Demoralized.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 28.—A marked drop in temperature which carried the mercury well below freezing point delayed, if it has not averted, a serious flood here. All train service between here and the west has been demoralized for thirty-six hours by the flood conditions in the Mohawk valley.

Susquehanna Rising Again.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 28.—The Susquehanna river has been rising rapidly, and the stream is twenty-three and a half feet above low water mark. The lowlands on the west side of the river are inundated. The ice from the New York state tributaries has not reached here yet.

A REPLY FROM LEOPOLD.

Facts In Regard to Kongo Free State Sent to America.

LONDON, March 28.—The following telegram was sent to King Leopold II. of Belgium at Brussels:

"The press of the United States would be happy to have any statement your majesty might see fit to make in relation to the charges against the government of the Kongo Free State regarding atrocities committed upon the natives made to President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hay by a delegation from the missionary congress.

"The American press is anxious to hear both sides of the case and would welcome any reply from your majesty to the allegations of the missionaries that their rights are not respected and that the natives are now in a worse condition than under the Arab slave regime."

King Leopold has replied as follows through his secretary:

"The king attaches great importance to the impartial sentiments of the American press and has mailed official documents from the Kongo Free State in which will be found all the facts essential to a full and truthful statement of the case."

Representatives of the American Baptist, the Southern Presbyterian and the Disciples of Christ African missions called upon President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay and described the affairs in the Kongo country as viewed from the missionary standpoint. The principal feature of the conferences between the president and the secretary and the missionaries consisted of stories by the latter of atrocities practiced on the natives by their Belgian rulers. The missionaries said that their work was rendered nearly valueless by the attitude of the Belgian officials, who monopolized all the food supplies, making it difficult for the missions to procure vegetables or fowls or anything to eat from the natives, who were obliged to turn their produce into the hands of the officers. Then, by the cruelties practiced upon the natives, the latter were driven away from the missions, and the schools were emptied. In addition it was pointed out that no respect was shown for the property rights of the missionaries, and it was on this last ground that the delegation thought the United States government might interfere.

Secretary Hay asked the missionaries to reduce their views to a written memorandum, which he said he would consider, though he could not hold out any definite promise of relieving the situation so far as the natives were concerned, because the United States was not one of the signatories to the treaty under which the Kongo Free State came into existence. A statement of the events leading up to the present condition of affairs was subsequently prepared by the delegation for transmission to the state department, in which it was declared that as a result of the absolute power of the king of the Belgians the freedom of trade guaranteed by the conference of Berlin was now a thing of the past.

The president promised to give the subject laid before him by the missionaries careful consideration and requested that he be supplied with an accurate and detailed statement of it.

Detroit Lady Burned to Death.

DETROIT, Mich., March 28.—Miss Bertha E. Vanderkamp Green, daughter of a former prominent attorney of Syracuse, N. Y., and a very well known young woman in the cities of central New York, was burned to death in her home on Woodward terrace here. She had gone down into the basement before daylight and, it is supposed, ignited her clothing with a match. She lived but a few hours. Miss Green was a grandniece of Horatio Seymour, the war governor of New York.

Dowie Insulted King Edward.

ADELAIDE, Australia, March 28.—In consequence of a speech insulting King Edward the government has refused the use of public buildings to John Alexander Dowie. The mayor of Adelaide wrote to Dowie telling him he was a disgrace to his nationality.

Curzon to Succeed Salisbury.

LONDON, March 28.—It is officially announced that Baron Curzon of Kedleston, viceroy of India, has been appointed lord warden of the Cinque Ports in succession to the late Marquis of Salisbury.

IN WOMAN'S REALM.

Black Chantilly Dresses Are Always Practical Wardrobe Investments.

Parisians just now are affecting gowns of nunlike simplicity in cashmere fastened with an art nouveau belt at the waist and a collar and cravat of fine plisse muslin or embroidered lawn.

Black chantilly lace dresses are being made for afternoon wear, and these are among the most practical investments in the way of dress a woman can make. Accordion plaited slips of chiffon add much to the beauty of these lace gowns. A smart chantilly gown seen recently was made over an accordion plaited underdress of cream chiffon. It was worn with a black and white toque of finely shirred white chiffon trimmed with a fall of black chantilly and two white roses.

Black chantilly will appear on parasols as well as on dresses during the coming season. It will be combined with white silk, pale pink or pale blue.

The pelerines or fichu stoles will be very smart made up in any material which is pretty. They are far more elegant than the square stoles of last season.

Parisians always dress simply when walking on the street, but reserve their gorgeous gowns and coats for carriage and reception wear.

The picture shows a house gown of rose veiling with a short jacket trimmed with narrow fringe, worn over a loose accordion plaited blouse. The collar is of handmade lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NEW DESIGNS.

New Belts—A Novel Shade of Dark Blue—The Fad With Green.

Belts this year will be well worthy of notice. Chief among these are the bands of gold braid headed top and bottom by tiny pipings of pale leather. Tooled leather belts will be seen with the walking costumes and black leather belts tooled in gold are very smart indeed. These black and gold belts are particularly effective with pale colored gowns. One was worn recently with an eggshell blue frieze suit, and the note of black and gold was further carried out in the hat, which was a black and gold tricorne.

There is a strong leaning toward navy blue, which is almost black, and this is relieved by touches of grass green. A costume of this sort seen lately at a fashionable tailor's had the skirt made in three tiers, the bolero being very loose and trimmed with braid and fringe in black and green. Green enamel buttons also added another touch of color.

We must all of us have at least one tea gown a season, and the prettiest model I have seen in a long time was of accordion kilted crepe de chine with a fichu effect and long frilled stole ends of yellow lace.

The draped blouse is novel, and it is exquisite in chiffon velours or in the richer makes of crepe mousseline. Blouses draped or gauged from the shoulder are very effective, and the trimming of lace or embroidery is arranged to cover the shoulder seam and connect the folds. Very deep yokes are quite fashionable, and many run off into shaped emplecements or form tabs over the fullness below.

The cut shows a dainty French child's gown of batiste and lace over pale blue silk. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE RIVAL FLEETS

A Glance at the Sea Power of Russia and Japan.

Mere Figures Place Them About Equal in Naval Fighting Strength, But the Mikado Has the Best in Many Ways.

It is no exaggeration to say that everybody's attention is being concentrated just now on the fighting value of the Russian and Japanese fleets in the far east. Ship for ship, there is perhaps not so much to choose between the two navies. Mere numbers, however, are not everything in maritime warfare—discipline, training, men, guns, armor-plating, speed and coal endurance together with a host of other factors bearing on the ultimate issue of any struggle for sea supremacy have to be taken into consideration as well. In all of these the advantage is distinctly on the side of Japan. Thus, while the displacement of the seven battleships belonging to Russia and under the orders of Admiral Alexeieff at Port Arthur is 83,650 tons, that of the six Japanese battleships in the same waters is 84,950 tons. Then the gun protection of the former is less by at least one-third than that of the latter, while they also steam a knot slower per hour. Altogether, as far as battleships are concerned, Admiral Togo (who commands the mikado's fleet) has not much to fear at the hands of Admiral Alexeieff (representing the czar). With regard to armament, he can rely upon 24 12-inch guns; whereas his potential enemy has four guns fewer of the same caliber. His six-inch armament, however, is inferior. In armored and protected cruisers, together with destroyers and torpedo boats, Japan has the advantage all the way round.

The principal Russian vessels of each class in the far east are the Caesarvitch, Retvisan and Peresviet (battleships); the Gromoboi and Rossia (armored cruisers); and the Bogatyr, Askold and Varyag (protected cruisers). The first-named vessel was built at La Seyne, as was also one of her cruisers, while the Retvisan was launched at Philadelphia. The Caesarvitch, which has only recently arrived at Port Arthur, has a normal speed of 18 knots, and her guns enable her to throw a total weight of 3,516 pounds. The next heaviest broadside is that of the Peresviet, 2,622 pounds, but her armor plating is not considered satisfactory. This drawback also attaches to the majority of Russia's cruisers. Another circumstance that tends seriously to diminish the efficiency of the fleet in a combined action is that several of her bigger battleships have their guns arranged in a different fashion.

Some of the cruisers which Admiral Alexeieff is supposed to have at his disposal are at Vladivostock, where they are likely to be ice-bound for some time, and others at Chemulpo, Newchwang, and elsewhere, instead of being at Port Arthur. As, however, there are no docks suitable for their accommodation at the last-named place their absence is a matter of necessity.

Admiral Alexeieff, who is now looming largely in the public eye, has an excellent reputation both as a sailor and as a diplomatist. The expansion of Russia across Asia has been his fond endeavor for years past. A great impetus was given his ambition by the result of the Boxer rising of 1900. At one time he commanded at Vladivostock, being subsequently transferred—first, to the Russian Pacific squadron, and secondly, to the governorship of Manchuria. He may now be regarded as viceroy for the czar in the far east.

In supreme command of the Japanese fleet is Vice Admiral Togo, an officer who, it is interesting to note, was at one time a cadet on board the British ship Worcester. Two of the vessels at his disposal, the Chin Yuen and the Hei-Yen, were captured by Japan from China during the late war. They are not particularly valuable assets, however, as one of them is 24 years old and the other 16. The coal capacity of the latter is also very inferior. Practically all Admiral Togo's other ships, however, are quite equal to any that Russia can range against them. The principal among them have been launched since 1898, and are quite in accordance with modern requirements. Of the first-class men of war, ten were built in England, one in France and one in Germany.

The salmon leaves the sea and enters fresh water in order to breed, while the eel leaves fresh water and enters the sea for the same cause.

DIRECTS JAPAN'S ARMY.

Field Marshal Yamagata, Chief of the Mikado's Supreme Council of War.

The generals who are leading the Japanese armies against Russia are men who have proved their skill and efficiency.

The first on the list in order of service is Field Marshal Yamagata, who is not only first in rank, but easily first in the esteem of the Japanese public and in the judgment of the government. He is a veteran of many wars, having begun service in the struggle that restored the emperor to power in 1868. In the following year he visited Russia and France studying things military. In 1872 he became assistant secretary of war—a position which in Japan is always held by a general officer of the army. In the following year he was made lieutenant general, and two years later secretary of war.

The next year saw Japan in the throes of a fierce civil war. The rebellion was led by her greatest soldier, Field Marshal Saigo, who had with him some 50,000 of her best-trained samurai. The government was compelled to put forth its greatest strength. An imperial prince was appointed to the nominal command, but as chief of staff Yamagata was the real general in chief and led the forces which crushed the rebellion.

When war started with China in 1894 Yamagata was immediately given command of the first army that invaded Manchuria. Those who were with the army at the time describe the immense enthusiasm with which his coming was greeted by his soldiers.

After the war Yamagata was made a marquis and the new military rank of field marshal was established to which he was promoted. The active interference of Russia, which deprived Japan of the fruits of victory, led the government to try to come to some understanding that would preserve the independence of Corea. Yamagata was appointed special ambassador for this purpose and proceeded to St. Petersburg, where he effected the treaty which is the basis of Japan's latest demands upon Russia. Not trusting altogether to this, Japan proceeded to double her army and greatly increase her navy. Several officers were promoted to the rank of field marshal in the army and an equal rank in the navy and organized into a supreme council of war.

Of this Yamagata was made chief, a position which he still holds. Considering the season of the year and the fact that he is over 65 years old and rather frail physically, it is improbable that he will take the field in person, but in any case he will occupy much the same place in this war that Von Moltke did in the Franco-Prussian war.

LIFE-SAVING MASK.

It Prevents Shipwrecked Persons from Swallowing Salt Water and Contains a Whistler.

A German inventor has decided that many persons come to their death through drowning at sea, even though they are able to swim or are prevented from sinking by the wearing of life belts. He maintains that the deaths are due to the fact that the waves breaking over the wearer force salt water into the mouth and nose, often resulting fatally to the victim. To eliminate this danger he has invented a life-saving mask, preferably made of some elastic material, as, for instance, rubber, shaped to conform to the modeling of the face. In the lower portion of the mask are openings covered with wire netting to reduce the water pressure, and prevent its ready entrance into the interior of the mask. Short tubes inside cover these orifices, and are provided with a hollow ball-valve adapted to automatically close the orifices against the entrance of water, without restricting the freedom of breathing. A whistle is provided to enable the wearer to signal when desired.

CUPID FOUND A WAY.

INDIAN ROMANCE ENDS IN AN UP TO DATE ELOPEMENT.

Chief Red Fox and Pretty Ball Woman Surprise Their Folks—Railroad Men Help Dusky Couple Along.

Cupid's darts never sped truer to the mark than did the shaft sent by Chief Red Fox, of Lame Deer Indian agency, Montana, when he drew a bead on Ball Woman, the pretty Pottawatomie squaw with whom he eloped from Indian territory. He met her at the Cheyenne frontier day festivities.

They were both at the Union depot in Denver the other night, chief and squaw, happy as eloping lovers can be. They had a section in a Pullman over the Burlington out of Denver, for Chief Red Fox is a sly old Reynard and has valuable ponies on a wide stretch of hills in Montana. He was paying his way with a lavish prodigality, and the section the two occupied was provided with nuts, candy and fancy pieces of gayly colored cloth which he had bought en route for his pretty squaw wife.

The Denver Republican says that many passengers were amazed to see an Indian traveling first-class. When Indians travel they have to bear credentials. Uncle Sam does not allow them to roam at will from the reservation. Chief Red Fox was equipped with a passport from Agent Clifford, of the Lame Deer agency in Montana, which said he left that place a month ago to pay a "friendly visit" to the Pottawatomie reservation, in Indian territory.

Ball Woman had a passport, too. Hers was signed by Agent John H. Seger, of the Pottawatomie reservation, in Indian territory, and was only good for 60 days. This passport was secured upon the representation that she was merely going to the Lame Deer agency on a visit. But as soon as she was safely on the way she was joined by Chief Red Fox, and the two were married in Wichita, Kan.

Chief Red Fox was unsuccessful in his open and above board wooing of Ball

RED FOX PAID HIS WAY.

Woman, for the reason that she is an heiress and her title to an immense stretch of land in Illinois is still in the courts. The chief of her tribe used what influence he had to break off the match, and as a result of his interference Chief Red Fox and Ball Woman planned an elopement, which was carried out fully as well as the romances of their pale face brothers and sisters who skip by the light of the moon.

Joe Bush, one of the best known Indians in the middle west, was the father of Ball Woman, and through him descended to her whatever title to lands in Illinois her grandfather, Shawbenee, died possessed of.

The Indians had two modern suit cases in which they packed their belongings.

Their dress was a combination of the picturesque costumes of the nomads of the plains and of that of the civilized Indians. Chief Red Fox wore "citizen's clothes" and had a broad sombrero to distinguish him from other passengers. His hair was cut short and his feet were encased in shoes. His bride wore moccasins, small and ornamented with beads. She wore a Navajo blanket and there was little to distinguish her from the border savage. Yet inside the blanket her dress was that of the civilized woman. She wore the blanket and moccasins merely as a traveling costume. She was educated in the Indian school on the reservation.

Whether the government will take steps to stop the runaway couple is not known. Their passports are regular and the railroad men who knew they were eloping were apparently anxious to see them get to their destination in safety.

Put Their Wives in Pawn.

Wives and daughters are utilized in a curious way in some parts of India. If a man wants money he puts these members of his establishment in pawn, and his creditor detains them until the debt is discharged. The custom varies in different localities. In Mellore the Yercalls pledge their daughters to creditors who may either marry or give them away, and a man who has to go to jail deposits his wife with another family of her tribe until his return. In North Arcot unmarried daughters are frequently mortgaged and become the absolute property of the holder until liquidation.

The Joy of Pole Chasing.

Commander Peary, the Artic explorer, was asked to account for the enduring enthusiasm for pole chasing. "Because," he sententiously answered, "it is full of the pleasure and anticipation, unmarred by the disappointment of realization."

They will be sent out as the weather demands, doing away with the annoyance experienced by passengers in past summers, when rainstorms and sudden drops in temperature found the company unable to change the style of car without transferring motors from one type to the other, which took up too much time to be done oridnarily.

FIRE IN THE BOROUGH; THE LOSS IS $7,500

Partial Destruction of Residence of Samuel Metzger, at Linden and Sycamore Aves.

FIREMEN'S GOOD WORK

PAID DEPARTMENT RESPOND TO FIRST CALL AND BATTLE SUCCESSFULLY.

Property Owned by David McMurtrie—Loss on Household Goods, $5,000; on House, $2,500—Origin is a Mystery.

Responding to their first real alarm, the new paid fire department of the borough had a hot and busy time at the home of Samuel Metzger, at Linden and Sycamore avenues, yesterday afternoon. A fierce fire gutted the front of the interior from top to bottom, causing a loss that is likely to reach $5,500. The new department made a fine showing, and won words of praise in several official quarters.

Just how the fire started is unknown. There was nobody home when it was discovered by the driver of a laundry wagon at 2:25 o'clock. Mrs. Metzger went out, leaving the place vacant, a half hour before, and she says there was not the slightest indication of fire when she left. When the laundryman went to the door he saw thick columns of smoke issuing from windows on the upper floors. He jumped down the steps to give the alarm, and the first man he met was Capt. William Barry, of Hose Co. No. 2, who was passing the house. Capt. Barry pulled box 154.

The alarm rang the wrong combination, but the engine house tapper registered right, and within three minutes the firemen were on the scene. They reached the spot before the last round of the gong ended. Chief Woolston was in front of the engine house with his rig when the bell sounded, and he was with his men from the start to direct the battle.

When the men attacked the flames, within five minutes after the alarm, the hallway in the forepart of the house was a roaring furnace. Fire filled the house from the first floor to the roof, and it looked for a time as if the place was doomed to complete destruction.

Chief Woolston and his men worked with fierce energy, and for a time there was a battle royal between the raging flames and the fire fighters who not only struggled for the mastery of their foe but for vindication as an organization. And the men won out.

Playing three lines of hose, everywhere and all over the fire, the firemen overwhelmed the flames and beat them back into submission within three-quarters of an hour after the fight started. There was plenty of hot, hard work to do after control was gained, but there was no more danger of a spread. Working splendidly and intelligently, the firemen drowned out every spark, and when the recall sounded at 4 o'clock they returned to their quarters a victorious band that had won their spurs.

The lower hall of the house was completely wrecked, and all the floors were burned through the center. The flames worked right through the shingle and slate roof, eating a big hole that showed how the fiery column had raged up from the cellar. Some of the furniture, which was of costly character, was saved, but most of it is a total loss. Mr. Metzger estimates the whole damage, house and furnishings, at $5,000 or more. The damage to the house, which is owned by David McMurtrie, of New York, is placed at $2,500. All the loss is covered by insurance.

Examination by Chief Woolston and Mr. Metzger failed to disclose any satisfactory explanation of the fire's start. There was a furnace burning in the cellar, where it is supposed the flames had their origin, but there was nothing to indicate that this furnace caused their start.

A big crowd watched the firemen work, anxious to see how they would acquit themselves. Nothing but praise was heard.

Chief Doane went over to see the new men in their first battle, and watched them carefully. He was warm in his praise of them after the fight, and congratulated Chief Woolston on the showing.

"They did fine," he said; "I couldn't have done better with my department."

To a reporter for The Daily Press Chief Woolston and Mayor Smalley said later that they were extremely Second Word—"Verily, I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise," Rev. John Sheridan Zelie.

Fifth Word—"I thirst," Rev. A. E. Finn.

Sixth Word—"It is finished," Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson.

SPRINKLING THE STREETS

CONTRACTOR KEELY GETTING READY TO BEGIN WORK TOMORROW.

Springtime dust is beginning to fly in the streets, and Contractor John Keely, the man at the head of the municipal street sprinkling system, has planned to start his wagons going tomorrow. The general work of sprinkling is not supposed to start before April 15, but the March winds are sending an annoying amount of dirt through the air, and the city authorities have decided that the main streets must be watered without delay.

Wagons will cover the business section, beginning tomorrow morning. If the condition of the streets is such as to demand it, Contractor Keely will put his wagons to work generally throughout the city before April 15, but in any event they will be out in force by that date, and continue without intermission all summer.

Contractor Keely has learned a lot about the sprinkling business since he first took the job last year. His initial season taught him much regarding the best methods of keeping the dust down, and he believes he has got the work down to a perfectly satisfactory system.

He has two more wagons than last year, eight in all, and the city will be better covered. He has bought four new, big horses especially for the additional cart. His equine force is a fine one.

Union Man Wants Job.

Senator Kean has indorsed the application of Charles D. White, of Summit, for appointment as secretary of the United States legation at Copenhagen. His appointment as secretary of the legation at Buenos Ayres was somewhat of a surprise. Mr. White is a young man of exceptional abilities and a splendid linguist, speaking several foreign languages. He was highly recommended by President Wilson, of Princeton University.

Nonagenarian Buried.

Funeral services for David Smalley, the nonagenarian who died Saturday were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. K. Vail, of Plainfield avenue. Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel, conducted the services. The body was taken to Samptown for burial, four of the dead man's grandsons acting as pall bearers.

Dance Postponed.

The Non-Commissioned Officers' Association of Company K has postponed its initial dance from Easter Monday night to the Monday night following.

WESTFIELD CLUB CELEBRATES VICTORY

Members of Daily Press Bowling League as Guests of the Winners of the Cup.

ROUSING GOOD TIME

WALTER C. DOBBINS PRESENTS CUP IN BEHALF OF THIS NEWSPAPER.

Speeches Made by S. C. Greves, Charles H. Denman, President Tuttle and Representatives of Elizabeth and Westfield Papers.

Genuine enthusiasm and good-fellowship the various clubs representing The Daily Press Bowling League were entertained in a royal manner by the Westfield Club, winners of the tournament, last night. It was a great time for the league, the spirit of the occasion being inspired by the successful close of the tournament covering a period of five years and the success of the popular Westfield Club in winning the handsome trophy presented by The Daily Press, three years in succession, thereby obtaining permanent ownership.

Every member in the league was well represented, except the Park Club, Dr. Charles R. Thiers, the veteran bowler, being the only one present from the organization "across the brook." In addition to the members of the bowling teams, there were many friends present including several officials from Westfield.

The entertainment was provided by the Westfield Club and a sumptuous spread was served. There was plenty of good things to eat, and while the guests were feasting, the occasion was enlivened by popular songs, including several solos, all joining in the chorus. President Tuttle, of the Westfield Club, together with the officials of The Daily Press Bowling League, occupied seats at the head of the table. After the inner man was well filled, President Tuttle in a short speech referred to the object of the gathering and while he incidentally recited the successes of the winning club, he did not fail to speak of the feeling of harmony existing between the clubs, and it was with no little pride that he referred to the fact that the trophy had been won from true sports. He expressed the hope that this feeling of harmony and good-fellowship would continue and grow and that another year would see the league continued even stronger than during the past. Pleasant words were spoken by Mr. Tuttle for The Daily Press and three rousing cheers were given for its editor-proprietor.

In response to a request from Mr. Tuttle, the trophy was presented to the winning five by Walter Collins Dobbins, secretary-treasurer of the league, who performed the honor in the name of A. L. Force, editor and proprietor of The Daily Press. H. R. Forster, captain of the team, accepted the trophy in a short speech, in which he thanked the donor and referred to the uniform courtesy extended by the other clubs in the league. He stated that Roselle Casino won the trophy in 1900 and 1901, while Westfield had won it in 1902-'03-'04.

Then followed speeches by S. C. Greves, president of the league; Charles H. Denman, manager of the Westfield Baseball Club, and representatives of the other bowling teams, as well as representatives of the Elizabeth Journal and Westfield Leader. It was nearly 12 o'clock when the happy affair terminated, but all agreed that the evening had been profitably spent.

RESIGNS AFTER LONG LABOR

JOHN VALIANT A SUNDAY-SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT FOR TWELVE YEARS.

John Valiant tendered his resignation as superintendent to the Sunday-school of Grace M. E. church Sunday afternoon. The letter declaring his desire for retirement was read at the regular session of the school by Assistant Superintendent Wilson.

In the preamble to his resignation, Mr. Valiant referred to his recent recovery from severe illness, and intimated that it was on account of his health that he wished to step aside. He has been at the head of the school for twelve years.

The letter was received with many expressions of keen regret and unwillingness to accept it as final. Resolutions expressing warm appreciation of his services and requesting him to reconsider his decision to retire were unanimously passed. A committee was appointed to wait on Mr. Valiant and urge him to retain his position. This committee will report to the Sunday-school tomorrow night.

EQUAL SUFFRAGISTS ACTIVE

HOLD MEETING AT THE HOME OF MRS. GEORGE H. BABCOCK.

Many important events in the history of women's equal suffrage were noted with considerable interest at the fifth annual meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George H. Babcock, of West Eighth street. There was a large attendance and Mrs. David Prescott Hall presided.

On motion it was decided to invite W. H. Riley and H. C. Durar to be present at the next meeting to be held April 25, to report the number of women paying taxes in this city and North Plainfield. The meeting was concluded with an animated discussion and a delightful social tea.

N. P. H. S. Honors.

Commencement honors have been conferred by the borough High School. Miss Ethel Quipp will be the valedictorian and Miss Edith Daggett will deliver the salutatory. The boys were outclassed in the race for honors because the school confers them as much for quantity as for quality of work done, and both the girls took the heaviest courses.

RESIGNS AS TRUSTEE OF HILLSIDE CLUB

Albert H. Atterbury Also Relinquishes the Secretaryship of the Tennis and Golf Club.

TEN YEARS A MEMBER

LEIGHTON CALKINS IS NAMED AS HIS SUCCESSOR.

Mr. Atterbury's Work is Largely Responsible for Present High Standing of the Organization Which He Has Served Faithfully.

Albert H. Atterbury, of West Seventh street, for ten years a member of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, has resigned as a trustee, and also as secretary of that organization. He will continue as an active member of the club.

Mr. Atterbury became associated with the old Hillside Tennis Club many years ago before golf was introduced as a pastime in Plainfield, and in 1896 became a trustee of the club. He has held office ever since. Those members who have been in close touch with the working affairs of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club know full well of the untiring efforts on Mr. Atterbury's part to further the interests of the association in every possible way. His sound judgment as a trustee and his conservative ideas as to keeping down expenses have been clearly shown and it is thought by many that no one has aided more toward bringing the club to its successful condition that it enjoys today than has Mr. Atterbury.

As secretary, with all the work incidental to this office, Mr. Atterbury has with utmost care and efficiency fulfilled the duties of this position and it is a sincere regret on the part of all the trustees that private interests has caused him to seek release from the duties as secretary.

Leighton Calkins, of 929 Madison avenue, succeeds Mr. Atterbury as a trustee and secretary.

MAYOR'S NEW SPECULATION

LEASES STONE CRUSHER, IT IS SAID, TO ENGAGE IN OTHER BUSINESS.

Much interest has been aroused in the borough over the lease of Mayor Smalley's stone crusher. His political opponents are wondering and his friends want to know why.

It was learned yesterday that the Mayor desired to retire from control of the business because he expects to go into another big deal that will require a lot of time and undivided attention. What the new business is to be could not be discovered, but the reporter's informant, who is one of the Mayor's closest confidants, said it would take him away from home for almost six months of the year. The business is in this country, but not in New Jersey.

Mobus & Shelier have leased the crusher for two years only, but they have the right to purchase at the end of that time. Those who are familiar with the conditions back of the deal, believe that they will buy the plant when the lease expires. The crusher is one of the largest in the business, and has a big daily output. Two big machines are worked. The business done is large, and an exceptionally good year is before the plant.

It has been running for twelve years. Mayor Smalley and his brother A. I. Smalley started the business, which grew rapidly. The Mayor took over entire control three years ago.

New Law Offices.

William Newcorn, Esq., and Justice Fred Huff started today to move to their new quarters in the Scheuer building. The offices are four in number well situated as to light. Mr. Newcorn's main and private offices adjoining each other in the southeastern corner of the second floor and leading into the stenographer's and Justice Huff's office. The rooms have been papered in an attractive shade of green and present a handsome appearance. They will be lined with a new set of book shelves to contain Mr. Newcorn's extensive law library. Justice Huff's office will be furnished in a way that will make it possible to convert it into a court room at short notice.

NEIGHBORS QURRREL OVER BUILDING MOVING

Lewis Chandler's Attempt to Place His Store Back Arouses Joseph Haurand.

MAYOR AS PEACEMAKER

RESIDENTS IN MANNING AVENUE, NEAR WATCHUNG, STIRRED UP.

Disputants Finally Discuss the Matter and Come to An Amicable Agreement—The Cause of the Strife.

Trouble that threatened excitement a good deal like the Sebring matter stirred up Manning avenue, in the neighborhood of Watchung avenue, Sunday morning. The fuss arose over a dispute between Lewis Chandler, the owner of a small grocery store near the corner, and Joseph Haurand, whose house is directly behind it, regarding Chandler's right to move the store back.

Chandler's store stands right on the sidewalk line, and he wants to put it back ten feet. This would put it up against Haurand's structure.

Chandler made preparations to move the store back Sunday morning. Haurand heard of the plan and immediately protested. He objected on the ground that it would put his fire insurance rate up, and insisted that Chandler had no right to back his store into contact with his building. He said flatly that he would not permit the store to be placed against his house.

There was a warm wordy battle that attracted a crowd, and things promised to be highly interesting for a time. Mayor Smalley hurried to the scene to settle it. He counselled the two men to declare a truce until both were cooler. The belligerents were quieted somewhat after a while, and Chandler allowed his building to stand where it was.

Yesterday, however, he declared that he would move the store immediately. He was getting ready to do it, and Haurand was looking interested, when some friends advised Chandler to go slow, and succeeded in persuading him to leave the store where it was. Later in the day Chandler and Haurand talked the matter over more amicably than on Sunday and it is believed that it has been settled to the satisfaction of both of them.

PLAN HEARST MASS-MEETING

SUPPORTERS OF THE EDITOR-CONGRESSMAN TO AROUSE SENTIMENT.

A special meeting of the Hearst Club last night was for the purpose of making arrangements for a public mass meeting to be held within the next ten days. Final preparations were made with the exception of the choice of a hall, which, together with a list of speakers, will probably be announced tomorrow.

Speeches were made by John McAleer and Frank Shattle, both of whom endeavored to impress the importance of making the public realize the fact that the local Hearst Club has no connection with the alleged Hearst "barrel." Mr. McAleer read a clipping from an Ohio Republican newspaper which asserted that, though it intended to support the Republican party and candidates, yet it did not believe in the personal abuse which newspapers opposed to Hearst are heaping upon him. There were about twenty-five members of the club present.

COMMERCIAL POO-BAH.

John E. Keely's Latest Business Venture is Retailing Coal.

John E. Keely, successful in the management of many enterprises in this city, will, tomorrow open a coal yard at the corner of South avenue and Berckman street. A fine yard has been established alongside the railroad and it is Mr. Keely's intention to sell the best coal at lowest market prices. The concern will be known as the Keely Coal Company.

In addition to this latest effort Mr. Keely conducts a livery business; he has the contract from the city to sprinkle the streets during the season and he also delivers the meats and provisions from the beef houses to the local retail dealers.

COMMENCEMENT DAY BOTHERS THE BOARD

North Plainfield School Directors Undecided Where to Hold Annual Exercises.

CHOICE FOR SPEAKER

PROF. LOUIS BEVIER TO BE ASKED TO MAKE THE ADDRESS.

Y. M. C. A. Auditorium Likely to be Chosen in Preference to First Baptist Church Edifice—Agitation Over an Aquarium.

Most of the business done by the Borough Board of Education at its monthly meeting last night was transacted behind closed doors. The Board went into executive session shortly after the meeting started, mainly to discuss the make-up of the teaching force for next year.

In the open session details of the commencement exercises were discussed. The question of a hall, which lies between the Y. M. C. A. auditorium and the First Baptist church, was referred to the commencement committee, with power. The church will want double the rate that the Board has been in the habit of paying to the Y. M. C. A., and it is extremely probable that the latter place will be engaged again.

Prof. Louis Bevier, of Rutgers College, was mentioned as one of the possibilities for commencement speaker. He is a member of the State Board of Education, and is highly gifted as an orator. The commencement committee will write him in regard to the matter.

Chairman Valiant, of the finance committee, asked the Board the authorize warrants for $115—$14 for the manual training department fund, and $101 for the general fund.

Chairman Cooley, of the building committee, reported that he had ordered the janitor to put a new rope on the school flagpole, each year. This course will do away with the necessity of having a man climb the pole, which must be done every few years when the Board waits until the rope breaks.

After considerable debate as to whether the school needed a $3.50 aquarium or a $4.50 one for its nature study classes, and whether it really needed an aquarium at all, it was decided to get the $4.50 tank. Dr. Cooley, of the building committee, recommended the $4.50 one because the $3.50 kind comes in one piece of glass and has to be thrown away when something happens to its contour. The $4.50 kind has removable sides that can be replaced if anything happens to it when the children are studying nature.

AN ORNITHOLOGIST'S ADDRESS

A. R. DUGMORE SPEAKS UNDER AUSPICES OF N. J. AUDUBON SOCIETY.

Under the auspices of the New Jersey Audubon Society, a lecture on "Birds" was given in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church last night by A. Radcliffe Dugmore, an ornithologist of prominence. Mr. Dugmore presented some care views of birds, picturing their habits, their modes of nesting and rearing their young. The illustrations of the bird's skill in so building his nest as to escape detection in self-preservation were particularly good as were also the pictures of the birds themselves. The views represented a great amount of care and study as well as patience in awaiting an opportunity to snap the songsters in their nests. Many of them were beautifully colored. The speaker was rewarded by a large and immensely interested crowd in attendance.

Randolph, of Myrtle avenue, went ahead of the party for the purpose of visiting Lauray Caverns, but they will meet the others in Washington.

It restores the inflamed tissues to a healthy state without drying all the life out of them and it gives back the lost senses of taste and smell. The sufferer who is tired of vain experiments should use Cream Balm. Druggists sell it for 50 cts. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York, will mail it.

S. J. Conklin, traveling salesman for a New York confectionery house, 134 West Front street, says: "I was subject to pain in the back and hips which at times I felt in my side. I tried different kinds of kidney cures but received little or no relief. I read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and I went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. On Monday the company will play a two week's engagement in Philadelphia and then close the season. Miss Rehan will sail in April for England, where she will spend the summer at her bungalow. Mr. Varey will spend the warm weather at his home. He says the patronage accorded the three productions during the past season has been phenomenal.

Richard Mansfield will end his four weeks' run at the New Amsterdam Theatre next Saturday evening and will be followed on Monday, the 28th, by A. M. Palmer's great revival of his wonderful success of thirty years ago, first presented at the Union Square Theatre December 21st, 1874—"The Two Orphans." Holland, Jameson Lee Finney, Grace George, Margaret Illington, Clara Morris, Annie Irish, Elita Proctor Otis, Clara Blandick.

JAPS CLAIM VICTORY

Cossacks and Mikado's Infantry Clash Near Chongju.

AMERICAN AND BRITISH FLAGS DOWN

Russians at Newchwang Under Pretext of Martial Law Remove Ensigns—All Consular Jurisdiction Is Annulled.

LONDON, March 29.—A Seoul report says that in an engagement between a force of Japanese infantry and several squadrons of Cossacks between Anju and Chongju the Japanese were victorious, but lost fifty killed.

Details of the Russian action in placing Newchwang under martial law show that American and British flags were removed by the Russian military from the property of citizens of American or British nationality.

Viceroy Alexieieff's order placing the city and port of Newchwang under martial law, which is drastic in its terms, is in some quarters regarded as an apparent challenge by Russia to neutral powers, especially to China, on account of the appropriation of her territory.

It is also interpreted by some as rendering the United States gunboat Helena and the British cruiser Espiegle liable to an order to leave port.

The foreign consuls had a conference with the civil administrator, when the latter informed them that the full intention of Russia's order was to proclaim martial law and also to annul consular jurisdiction and that the same already was annulled.

The British consul interpreted the order as not declaring martial law.

The other consuls are unable to comprehend Russia's complete intentions.

The administrator agreed with the consuls to suspend a rigid enforcement of said order until the foreign governments act in order to lessen the complications.

The Americans here call attention to the apparent defeat of American aims regarding placing consuls in Manchuria by the execution of Russia's order.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says the Russian government will substitute gray for white uniforms throughout the entire army for the coming summer campaign in the far east. Unfortunately the commissariat department, like the United States war department during the war with Spain, has no suitable khaki attire for a summer campaign, and hundreds of thousands of gray uniforms will have to be manufactured, although it is well known that Viceroy Alexeieff as far back as 1901, when he was on the Liaotung peninsula, declared that the white uniform was too conspicuous.

The general staff announces that for the present no more volunteers will be accepted. About 60,000 men have volunteered for service in the far east, of which number 15,000 have been selected. It must be understood that those who have volunteered are men who are not subject to military service.

In diplomatic circles at St. Petersburg the possibility of a new triple alliance between Russia, Britain and France, with farreaching consequences, attracts considerable attention, the opinion being that it is not so fantastic as at first appeared. There is an intimation from a well informed quarter that King Edward, who is now practically his own prime minister, sincerely harbors a desire to compose the long standing differences between Great Britain and the empire of his nephew and that while the time is not yet ripe for the satisfaction of this desire the way is being paved for its consummation. A prominent diplomat at St. Petersburg said:

"A thorough understanding between Russia and Great Britain would be the greatest possible guarantee of the world's peace, and there is no reason why the spheres of their ambitions should not be delimited. The mistrust of each other's purposes imposes upon both countries enormous and useless burdens. Russia keeps three army corps and she has built three railroads in order to exert pressure on Great Britain in India, although it is patent that Russia could not conquer India without the mastery of the sea. Great Britain is compelled to keep a strong garrison at Peshawar and to fortify the Indian frontier in order to offset the Russian forces in central Asia. The maintenance of these armaments involves what Cobden called 'panic expenditure,' equivalent to a capitalization of £100,000,000. Great Britain has repeatedly tried to come to an agreement with Russia, but thus far something has always come in the way of such an agreement. Lord Salisbury used to say that Great Britain and Russia were like the fairy prince and princess whom the wicked magician always kept apart, or like two men groping in a dark room anxious to shake hands, but unable to meet each other. Personally I think that there can be no new triple alliance for the present, but sooner or later it is bound to come."

It is reported that the Vladivostok squadron, under the command of Captain Reitzenstein, has returned to port with several prizes, including a Japanese warship.

Morton McMichael's Sudden Death.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—Morton McMichael, a prominent banker of this city, died suddenly from heart disease at his home. Mr. McMichael was sixty-eight years of age and leaves two children—Morton McMichael III., a journalist, now in Europe, and Mrs. Henry M. Hoyt, wife of the solicitor general of the United States. Deceased was a brother of Postmaster Clayton McMichael, for many years publisher of the Philadelphia North American.

Tailor-made suits, walking or dress skirts, jackets and coats, silk, linen or washable shirt waist suits, and so we might enumerate ad lib.

Special Silk Lined Voile Suits—Were particularly fortunate in securing this lot to sell for just about one-third less than the price for which the manufacturer had expected they would retail. Very fine quality voiles, in black, brown or blue, made up with full train, high kilted skirts, all with handsome silk drop skirts, bargain at 33.50, extraordinary value at 25.00

Misses' and Children's Wear.

The experience of years was well utilized in the gathering of these stocks. Most mothers have fixed ideas as to how their children should be dressed, and not infrequently the little folks have opinions of their own. These assortments are the substantial result of observation as to the requirements of one and desires of the other, and believe there will be no difficulty in absolutely pleasing both. Wash or wool fabric dresses, suits and guimps, including genuine "Buster Brown" sister suits, for which we are the manufacturer's sole representative in Newark. Silk coats of black and colored taffetas, Peau de Soies, Pongees, and a full line of rain coats and jackets.

BURTON CONVICTED

Senator From Kansas Guilty of Accepting a Bribe.

MAY LOSE HIS SEAT IN THE SENATE

His Letters Showed That He Was Using His Influence to Prevent Issue of a Fraud Order Against Rialto Company.

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—Joseph Ralph Burton, senior United States senator from Kansas, has been convicted by a jury in the United States district court of having accepted compensation to protect the interests of the Rialto Grain and Securities company of St. Louis before the postoffice department.

The jury deliberated forty-one hours.

When the jury first came in Judge Adams discovered they had failed to dispose of the third count in the indictment. Judge Adams told the jury to go back and consider the third count.

Then came the announcement that the verdict was guilty.

A motion for a new trial was immediately filed by counsel for the senator. Judge Adams thereupon ordered that Senator Burton appear in court either in person or by proxy from day to day until the court has heard the arguments for a new trial.

If the verdict be sustained Senator Burton will lose his seat in the senate and forever be prohibited from holding any office of public trust.

Senator Burton went directly from the courtroom to his hotel after the verdict was rendered. He spent some time in the lobby talking with friends. When asked if he had anything to say concerning the verdict he said: "I refer all inquiries to my attorneys. I have nothing to say."

The evidence adduced against Senator Burton may be summarized as follows:

He accepted a proposal to become general counsel of the Rialto Grain and Securities company, a concern whose operations at the time were under the scrutiny of the postoffice department.

Burton demanded $2,500 for his services, but he was satisfied to be paid in monthly installments of $500 each.

Soon after his employment it developed that the federal grand jury was investigating the Brooks Brokerage company, with which Major Hugh C. Dennis, president of the Rialto company, had been associated.

Numerous letters written by Burton showed that the senator was using his influence to prevent the issuance of a fraud order against the Rialto Grain and Securities company.

Burton submitted regular reports to the Rialto people, telling them how matters were progressing at Washington, advising them of complaints filed at the postoffice department and closing with the assurance that "if you look after things at your end of the line I will attend to matters here."

Senator Burton's recourse is an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals, which body is the final arbiter in his case.

Reference to a compilation of senate election cases from 1789 to 1903 shows no case of expulsion of a senator for conviction of a crime, though there have been instances where members of the senate have resigned before action on charges. The first expulsion from the senate for any cause was that of William Blount, who was a senator from Tennessee from 1796 to 1799.

The prisoner made a voluntary confession of his wrongdoing and subsequently pleaded guilty, but more than sixteen months elapsed between his arrest and sentence.

By the way, we want that postoffice building a little quicker than Elizabeth got that library building.

Some Jersey reporter must have been hard up for copy when he invented that story about some fresh eggs which she had bought were made of wood. It is the old nutmeg story in a new dress.

Governor Murphy says that for what was done at the one hundred and twenty-eighth session of the Legislature the law makers should be given credit. But how about the debit side when the record is balanced?

John Lovejoy Elliott, of New York, advises young men to read Emerson, Carlisle and Marcus Aurelius. Judging from what comes from the pulpit and commencement day platform, we have a little idea that too many people have these three for a steady literary feast.

Read the Plainfield Public Library notes published in The Daily Press on Thursdays. Once a week some special feature of the institution and its collection of books, the third largest in the State of New Jersey, is dwelt upon and the articles are always interesting. Some Books on Flower Gardens will be the topic this week.

pleased with the way the men acquitted themselves. "The service was perfectly satisfactory," said the latter, "just as we expected it would be."

The firemen worked under a good deal of personal discomfort. The Council has not yet fitten them with full equipment, and there were hardly any coats and boots for them. Among the whole force there were only two pairs of the latter.

Troubles of the Crudups.

Christianity among the colored Baptists of Atlantic Highland, N. J., is undergoing a severe test, and is showing signs of warping. Members of the St. Paul Baptist church are divided on the question of retaining the Rev. T. T. Crudup as shepherd of the flock. According to the dominie, he has twenty faithful followers and the "very black sheep" have only fifteen. The ministerial portion of the family is having a difficult time to develop men and women spiritually. The Atlantic Highlands dominie's brother, the family of Rev. Essex J. Crudup, pastor of the Filmore Baptist church, of this city, narrowly escaped death it is said two weeks ago after eating cake sent in by a parishioner. The minister declared that the "loving remembrance" was poisoned.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

A case in Justice Warden's court which drew a large crowd yesterday afternoon was that on contract in which M. Watson Payne was plaintiff against Jacob Wagner. Payne claimed that the defendant owed him $20.29 for mason's work, the defendant alleging that the work was not well done and that for that reason the account was incorrect. When the plaintiff's day book was produced as evidence, the Justice rather astonished the crowd in attendance by stating that though he didn't believe the books were correct, he would have to admit them as evidence. His Honor made another hit, when witness for the plaintiff asserted that the work had been done well, by stating his belief that the man was not telling the truth and at the same time generously admitting that he didn't want to call him a liar.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The public school will probably not be represented on the baseball diamond the coming season. In the seasons of the past the boys have had plenty of material to select from and a strong team has generally worn the local colors, but this season material is scarce, unless the promoters draw upon players outside of the school, and this they do not care to do.

The monthly meeting of the Epworth League will be held tonight in the Methodist church. The first part of the evening will be given up to the study of the Bible, after this the members will enjoy a talk and study upon the lives of the women of the Old Testament.

Some of the boys in town are carrying their pranks a little too far. Several nights ago the well curb on Front street was upset, leaving the well an open trap for pedestrians. Unless these petty nuisances are stopped the authorities will be called upon to suppress them.

The discourse was timely and appropriate and resulted in bringing souls to Christ. Elmer Cutting sang "The Beautiful City." The meetings continue tonight. RECORD SNOW TIEUP

Northern Pacific Trains Blockaded For Four Days.

WAS EIGHTEEN FEET DEEP IN CUTS

Six Transcontinental Trains Start Together, Being the First From Pacific Coast For Nearly Ninety Hours.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 29.—The Northern Pacific expects soon to reach St. Paul with the first of the delayed transcontinental trains. These will be the first trains from Portland, Ore., for four days.

The blockade, which has existed for four days in North Dakota and Montana, was lifted early when a message saying that the line had been cleared was received in St. Paul. Subsequently other messages were received from points along the line, in the storm district saying that trains would be started.

This closes one of the most remarkable snow blockades of recent years.

Coming at the close of March, when other portions of the country are well advanced toward spring, the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Soo lines were tied up as tightly as they could have been in January. One remarkable feature of the blockade was that a comparatively meager amount of snow caused the trouble. But, as a railway official said, this snow for fifty miles around searched out the railroad cuts and refused to go farther. As a result, the cuts were in some cases filled to a depth of eighteen feet, while the surrounding country in spots would be almost bare.

Six transcontinental trains, which had been blocked in the snow district, were ready to start at sunup. These trains being only partially filled were consolidated into three trains, the first of which is due about midnight, the others an hour or two later. These are the first trains to arrive from the Pacific coast since last Friday morning, leaving an interval of nearly ninety hours between trains.

Grand Rapids Has 14,000 In Distress.

DETROIT, Mich., March 29. — Encouraging reports from Lansing, Battle Creek, Flint, Kalamazoo and other towns where flood damages have been estimated up in the hundreds of thousands of dollars show that the danger and distress are largely centralized in the Saginaw valley and around Grand Rapids, in the valley of the Grand river, and at Grand Rapids, too, a marked improvement is noted. At Saginaw, however, the Shiawassee, Cass, Flint, Tittibawassee, Chippewa and other feeders of the Saginaw river are bringing down torrents of water, the escape of which into Saginaw bay is blocked by ice gorges at and below Bay City. At Grand Rapids it is estimated that 14,000 people are in distress, and at Saginaw a large portion of the business section of the city is flooded.

Seventeen Miles of Wire Down.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., March 29.—One of the first trains over the Great Northern railroad which arrived here after being stalled by the terrible storm of last week brings reports that seventeen miles of telegraph and telephone poles between Devil's Lake and Larimore, N. D., were blown down by the wind. The gale was so strong that the poles were snapped off like pipe stems. As an instance showing how completely lost some of the trains were one of the belated coast trains rolled into Larimore to the surprise of the train dispatcher, who supposed the train was west of Minot.

Twelve Hundred Families Homeless.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 29.—Northern and central Indiana have probably seen the worst of the flood and are now repairing the damage. Cities and towns at the headwaters of the Wabash and the White rivers have only slime and mud left by the receding flood to contend with, but southwestern Indiana has yet to see the worst. The crest of the flood will reach the Ohio river in two days. The damage in Madison county will reach $2,225,000, and northern Indiana has suffered a loss of $1,000,000. In Indianapolis 1,200 families were driven from their homes.

Plattsburg In Peril.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., March 29.—Ice gorges and floods are causing considerable damage in this county. Iron bridges at Wood's Mills and at Cadyville were carried away and many rods of sidewalk and fences were torn up and smashed by the ice. Dynamite was used in attempts to break the ice jams in this city, but with very little success, and men are still at work. At Champlain an ice gorge caused the highest water in eighteen years. The Chazy river rose ten feet there in as many minutes, flooding all the stores, hotels and many residences.

Erie Canal Suffers From Flood.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 29.—Superintendent Boyd of the state department of public works has advices that about 800 feet of the towpath embankment of the Erie canal between locks Nos. 28 and 29, west of Amsterdam, has been entirely washed away by floods of the Mohawk river. The bank is gone from the towpath level to the bottom of the canal. Some 2,000 feet of the canal between Amsterdam and Fort Plain have been damaged to some extent, and very serious conditions exist as far west as Little Falls.

Cold Wave Saved Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 29.—The cold wave of the past twenty-four hours has saved this city and a goodly portion of the Wyoming valley from a third flood this spring. Since early morning the water in the Susquehanna river has been gradually receding, and the river is twenty-one feet above low water mark. The lowlands were covered by water, and some of the railroads suffered considerable damage.

People Brought In Boats.

VINCENNES, Ind., March 29.—The flood has already caused a loss of $75,000 to roads and bridges in this county. The reservoir dam at Olney, Ill., has broken, causing $35,000 loss. All roads near here are covered with from three to ten feet of water. People in the lowlands are being brought here in boats.

The Genesee Receding.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 29.—Water in the Genesee river is receding, and no further damage is anticipated. Though the tracks of the Erie railroad are under water, no interruption of train service has resulted.

The Mohawk Falling.

FONDA, N. Y., March 29.—The high water in the Mohawk valley has receded nearly three feet since yesterday morning, owing to the drop in temperature. The New York Central railroad is still blocked, and the ice in the river is intact.

DIED WITH THEIR CAT.

An Aged Couple, Losing Their All, Turned on the Gas and Died.

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—After earning and losing $500,000 in New York city John B. Altman and his wife when about to lose their home in St. Louis decided to die together, turned on the gas and were found dead.

The pair left a note saying that they had agreed to die after chloroforming a pet cat, which was all they had untrammeled by debts. The cat's body was found in the cellar. Altman, who was sixty-eight years old, and his wife Julianna came to the United States fifteen years ago. They accumulated $500,000 by speculation in New York city, lost nearly all their fortune by signing notes for friends and, removing to St. Louis, purchased a home with the remnant of their fortune. This home was mortgaged, and the mortgage was about to be foreclosed.

Jealousy Caused Double Crime.

PITTSBURG, March 29. — Timothy Sullivan, a mill worker of McKeesport, shot and instantly killed Cecilia Farrell and then put the pistol to his own head, inflicting a fatal wound. The crime was committed at the home of Miss Farrell on Fulton street, this city. Sullivan was engaged to marry the young woman, but she had tired of his attentions and declined to marry him. Driven frantic by jealousy, Sullivan sought the woman at her home and before the astonished household could interfere had committed the double crime.

No Time to Get Her Clothes.

DENVER, March 29.—"Mother" Jones, who was deported by the military from Trinidad, left Denver for Crested Butte and will work among the miners of Gunnison county, where martial law has not been established. She said that the militia did not give her time to get her clothes before leaving Trinidad. She has telegraphed to President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers concerning the treatment she received and has asked him to take her case before President Roosevelt.

End of Genero Castaldi.

SOUTHINGTON, Conn., March 29.—Genero Castaldi, seven years old, fell into the Quinnipiac river and disappeared. He had been playing with a boy named John Smith, who said that after waiting ten minutes for his playmate to come back decided not to wait longer and went to the home of young Castaldi's father and there told them what had happened. The boy's body has been recovered.

Trust Company Fails.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 29.—The Commercial Trust company has closed its doors in anticipation of a suit brought in the superior court by Auditor of State Sherrick for the appointment of a receiver. C. C. Pierce, Jr., president of the company, said that his company would be able to pay the depositors 100 per cent, though the stockholders would suffer losses.

Crocker's Sister Dead.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., March 29.—Mrs. Caroline Robinson, a sister of General M. M. Crocker, commander of the famous Crocker brigade, is dead at the Soldiers' home. She was the only woman ever committed to a soldiers' home. Action in her case was through a special resolution of the legislature in 1896. The reason was her relationship to the general.

Will Go Through British Territory.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—On the recommendation of Quartermaster General Humphrey the secretary of war has decided to use the White Pass and Yukon route, part of which is in British territory, for the transportation of officers and men and emergency supplies, such as perishable provisions, from Puget sound to points in Alaska, principally Fort Egbert.

Kidnaped His Own Daughter.

NEW CANAAN, Conn., March 29.—Charles Bellwood, who kidnaped his daughter Emeline last week, has been arrested here. He kidnaped his daughter from the home of her aunt and for several days had eluded the police. The girl is now with her mother.

W. G. Sears Elected Mayor.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., March 29.—W. G. Sears, Democrat, has been elected mayor of Sioux City by about 1,600 plurality over W. E. Cody, Republican. Most of the Democratic ticket was elected.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

DETAILS OF DRESS.

Wise Women Do Not Purchase Many Dress Accessories at Once.

Gowns of all over lace are made with broad berthas or yokes of tucked chiffon and very full undersleeves of the same delicate material. The full skirts are sometimes decorated with wide bands of different lace, edged top and bottom with a tiny ruching of the chiffon.

Very often the lace gowns are made up over some very delicate shade of chiffon and silk and are embroidered with silk of the same color or else enriched with tiny chiffon roses.

In regard to the little accessories of dress, it is never a good thing to buy many at once. Do not accumulate neckwear which you may need at some time or other. A couple of pretty collars are sufficient and when these are worn out others can be purchased which will be fresh and of a newer style. The woman who buys much at a time is always mussy and a month or so behind the fashions.

The chiffon stole and muff will be seen during the spring months, but this is a fashion which requires very smart dresses and, above all, dry weather, as at the first suspicion of dampness the entire effect is ruined.

Coats are of all lengths from the tiny bolero to the long three-quarter affair reaching nearly to the bottom of the skirt. Width across the shoulders and a certain amount of fullness are the only essentials.

As long as early Victorian fashions last we shall be faithful to taffeta.

The illustration shows a new spring hat. It is a three cornered shape of yellow straw trimmed with pink roses.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHION HINTS.

The Ever Popular Taffeta—Unlined Gowns a Feature of the Moment.

Some very simple and yet smart gowns are made of flowered brocades. They are made with a plaited skirt, a wide fancy belt and a plain bodice half hidden under a soft chiffon fichu. Such a gown requires no lining, and indeed the vogue at present is for unlined gowns both for day and evening wear.

GREEN CLOTH GOWN.

Carefully fitted corsets and petticoats display the figure wherever it is required. The underskirt is a matter of the greatest importance. It is composed of countless rufflings and ruchings, together with laces and festoons of ribbon work. Stiff taffetas, brocades, silks and satins are used in shades to harmonize with the gowns.

White petticoats showing a great deal of ruffling and hand work are also in vogue.

Nowadays it is quite possible to have one gown do for two occasions. This is often the case with the taffeta frock, where two bodices, one high and the other low necked, do duty for home and restaurant dinners.

A handsome wrap seen recently, which would do duty equally well during the summer months, was of accordion plaited mousseline de sole and alencon lace, with puffed sleeves, finished with choux and stole ends of yellow satin.

Pipings of black velvet on taffeta are among the prettiest of the spring effects.

Hats seem to be growing less deep than heretofore, and even when they appear perfectly flat they are not so. In reality, for they are filled on with bands.

In the illustration is shown a green cloth gown trimmed with lace and embroideries of [illegible] silk.

HORSE BEAUTY SHOP.

UNIQUE INSTITUTION RECENTLY OPENED IN PHILADELPHIA.

Electric Massage, Pedicuring and Tooth Bleaching Applied to Aristocratic Steeds—Fashionable Gaits Taught.

A beauty parlor for horses has been established in Philadelphia. Here horses have their coats electrically massaged, their hoofs manicured and their teeth filed and whitened; and here they learn to stand properly and to move in all the fashionable gaits.

Beauty and a correct, graceful carriage are qualities as essential to horses as to women—they are qualities that increase a horse's value and insure him a good home—and therefore this equine beauty parlor of Philadelphia, which lacks no means that will aid a horse in his quest after better looks and a better deportment, is an institution both necessary and beneficent.

Probably the most interesting and novel operation to witness at the equine beauty parlor is the electrical massaging of a horse's coat. The electrical massage has the same effect on the coat of a horse as on the scalp of a man; it makes the hair thick and fine and glossy, and, where the skin has been rubbed bare, it brings on a new growth.

On a tray of sterilized nickel a number of very bright, clean instruments were spread—a horse's manicure set. There were odd-shaped knives for cleaning out the hoofs, files for smoothing off horny excrescences, polishing files and brushes for applying oil and powder.

"A good horse," said the operator, "should have his hoofs manicured every day. Then he won't go lame; his feet won't get diseased; he will look well and he will carry himself well."

The operator then described the process of teaching a horse certain ways of standing and certain gaits.

"You know how a horse should stand?" he said. "The forelegs planted firmly, apart and forward? Well, we teach this attitude with the whip. I don't mean by beating—I mean by touching. The whole thing is accomplished by setting the horse's feet in the proper position, then moving him a bit, and when he stops touching his legs with the whip till they fall into the proper position

A HORSE IN TRAINING.
(The Spectacle Hood, Used in Teaching High Stepping.)

again. It is a simple matter, but it requires a good deal of patience.

"Among gaits, the most difficult to teach is high stepping. This is done sometimes with the whip and sometimes with the spectacle hood. The spectacle hood is employed in the case of stupid horses. It consists of a hood with lenses covering the eyes. These lenses make the ground seem very near to the horse—make it seem almost up to his knees—and in order to advance he raises his feet very high, for at each stride it seems to him as though he were going over a step. Wearing this hood for a few months, he acquires the habit of throwing his forelegs up and out, and after the hood is taken off him he still sticks to the high-stepping gait.

"But the favorite way to teach high-stepping is with the whip. The horse acquires, one at a time, three movements or positions. First is the position of the leg up and stiff; second, the leg out, up and bent at the knee; third, the leg up and bent at the fetlock. These three movements, which we teach with gentle taps of the whip, compose high-stepping, and after a horse has learned them he is a high-stepper."

The operator took out a card containing the rates that are charged at his beauty parlor. The rates were:

Electrical massage, course of ten treatments	$ 25 00
Manicuring, per treatment	2 50
Teeth-cleaning, per treatment	2 50
Course in deportment (including standing position, walking and high-stepping)	100 00

The proprietor of the beauty parlor is a veterinary surgeon of repute. The most expensive and fashionable horses of Philadelphia are numbered among his clients, and whenever an aristocratic wedding is to take place he can hardly attend to the multitude of fine horses that are brought to him to be burnished up.

Deepest Known Gold Mine.

What is believed to be the deepest gold mine in the world is being worked at Bendigo, Australia. The mine in question, which is called the New Chum Railway mine, has sunk its main shaft to a depth of 3,900 feet, or only 60 feet short of three-quarters of a mile. The chief problem is how to keep the tunnels and general workings cool enough for the miners to work in at such a depth. It is usually about 108 degrees, and, to enable the men to work at all, a spray of cold water let down from above has to be kept continually playing on the bodies naked from the waist upward—of the miners. Even then they cannot work hard, or they would faint from exhaustion.

BRYAN AND MRS. BENNETT.

Philo S. Bennett's Will Case Opens at New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 29.—William J. Bryan appeared in the superior court to prosecute his appeal from the decree of the probate court excluding as a part of the will the "sealed letter" in which Mrs. Grace Imogene Bennett, the widow, is directed to pay to Mr. Bryan $50,000 mentioned in the will of Philo S. Bennett, formerly a resident of this city and merchant of New York. Mr. Bryan is an executor under the will, and the objection to the "sealed letter" on the part of Mrs. Bennett is based on the allegation that Mr. Bennett was unduly influenced in the drawing up of the document by Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, who had knowledge of its contents, while Mr. Bennett was visiting in Lincoln, Neb. In the "sealed letter" Mr. Bryan is asked to keep "$25,000 himself, to give $10,000 to his wife and to invest $15,000 for the benefit of his three children. If Mr. Bryan declines to accept the sum mentioned or any part of it he is asked to distribute it among educational and charitable institutions.

Mr. Bryan has as personal counsel H. G. Newton and Harrison Hewitt of this city and former Senator Charles A. Towne of New York, the last named having been asked by the appellant to sum up the case should it reach the jury. Mrs. Bennett is represented by former Judge Henry Stoddard and other counsel. Judge Gager presides, and a large number of talesmen have been summoned.

Arrangements were made in the courtroom for the accommodation of the unusually large number of spectators. This is considered to be one of the most notable civil suits ever brought before the courts of this state.

Mr. Towne arrived early and took part in conferences of counsel for Mr. Bryan. Mrs. Bryan came with her husband, as she is to be a witness, having copied the will at Lincoln for Mr. Bennett.

Miss Anderson's Verdict $75,000.

NEW YORK, March 29.—A sheriff's jury took testimony upon which to determine how much of $75,000 demanded by Eleanor L. Anderson from James N. Abeel he can afford to and ought to pay her for engaging to marry her under the name of J. Ogden Goelet. Miss Anderson sued him for $75,000 for breach of promise of marriage. The young man failed to answer the complaint. Testimony was given to show that Abeel had a contingent interest in a large estate left by his grandfather and a prospective interest in the estate of his father, who is wealthy. The jury assessed the defendant for the full amount claimed.

Y. M. C. A. to Rule Military Athletics.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—A hearing was held in Secretary Taft's office at the war department on the project of placing military athletics in the hands of the Young Men's Christian association. Among those who were heard were Mr. Millard, the international secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of New York; Chaplain Pierce and General Chaffee, who is in favor of military control of army sports. Secretary Taft, who has the matter under consideration, is in favor of the project, but it is strongly objected to by the chaplains, who assert that it would be unwise to introduce civilian influences in the military service.

RACING AT BENNINGS.

Little Woods Won the Feature From All Scarlet.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The notable feature of the day's racing at Bennings was the winning of three long shots, Julia M., at 10 to 1; Little Woods, at 12 to 1, and Mohican, at 20 to 1. Two favorites were successful, Conkling in the third race and Nine Spot in the fourth. Unterock, at 3 to 1, took the remaining event, winning in a big field, in which Charley Moore, the favorite, finished eighth. There was only a small field in the third race, and Conkling, the favorite, easily won by four lengths over Tol San. There was a bad start in the big field which lined up in the fourth race, and Nine Spot, the favorite, was among the last to get away, but he gradually drew up and won by two lengths. There was a good crowd present. Summaries:

First Race—Julia M. won, Andratus second, Athlana third.

Second Race—Little Woods won, All Scarlet second, St. Resolute third.

Third Race—Conkling won, Tol San second, Monson third.

Fourth Race—Nine Spot won, Punctual second, Miladi Love third.

Fifth Race—Unterock won, Love Note second, Jessielyn third.

Sixth Race—Mohican won, Mammon second, Mr. Churchill third.

Wellnoeser Defeated Beck.

BALTIMORE, March 29.—Anthony Wellnoeser ("Columbus") of this city defeated Emil Beck of Washington, the featherweight champion wrestler of the world, in their bout last night at the Lyric. "Columbus" won the first fall in thirty-one and a half minutes. Beck took the second fall in forty-seven minutes, and the local man pinned the champion's shoulders to the mat for the third fall in three and a half minutes. The men weighed in at 128 pounds.

Little Scout Got Montgomery Stake.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 29.—Before one of the largest crowds that ever gathered at Montgomery park and on a track lightning fast the four-year-old colt Little Scout, owned by George C. Bennett & Co. of Memphis, easily won the Montgomery handicap at a mile and a sixteenth, McGee, carrying the colors of Ed Corrigan, finished second, three lengths back, with J. F. Davis' Luralighter a close third. The time was 1:49.

Forest King Ran Foul.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Forest King, a heavily played favorite, won the fourth race at Oakland, but was disqualified for fouling and placed second. Lacy Crawford was given first money. Forest King swerved into the rail, bumping Lacy Crawford. Bonner pulled his mount and again hit the Schreiber horse. Forest King was a neck in front at the finish, but Mountain's claim of foul was promptly allowed.

Found Mother After Many Years.

APPLETON, Wis., March 29.—Mrs. James Vanderlinden, after a search of forty-three years for her mother, has learned that her parent lives in Schuylkill, Pa. Mrs. Vanderlinden since her third birthday has not seen her mother. Her father and mother separated in Jefferson county, Wis. She went to live with her father, who has married three times since. The mother has married twice. Mrs. Vanderlinden recently wrote to the postmaster in Cheboygan, Mich., for the address of an aunt, who was found in this way in Newport, Wash. From this aunt Mrs. Vanderlinden obtained the address of her mother. Mrs. Vanderlinden also learned of a full sister who was born after her father and mother separated and of ten half sisters born to her mother by later husbands.

Alice de Bourbon's Necklace.

PARIS, March 29.—Princess Alice de Bourbon has been robbed of a historical necklace. The necklace is said to have been fraudulently obtained from a Paris jeweler to whom it had been intrusted for repairs. The person who obtained the necklace is a Belgian who acted as a false intermediary between the princess and the jeweler and who persuaded the latter by showing correspondence that he had authority to receive it. It is believed that the Belgian, who disappeared, passed the necklace to persons in England.

A Hundred Fathoms Down.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 29.—The steamer Mermaid, valued at $20,000, is 100 fathoms deep on the bottom of Jervis inlet, 100 miles up the coast. She sank as a result of running on the rocks in daylight. The crew and three passengers took to the ship's boats, and the Mermaid sank shortly after they were clear of her.

Lion Wanted to Die.

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—After starving itself for almost two weeks because its mate had been taken away, a lion at the zoological headquarters here is dead. A live sheep was recently placed in the cage and bleated in terror, but the lion merely paced back and forth, and the sheep was unharmed. The lion was valued at $3,000.

Eighth Death From Floods.

MADISON, Ind., March 29. — The body of Samuel Stevenson has been found in Big creek. He had been missing since Sunday, when he was endeavoring to save some flood covered property. This is the eighth death loss from the present flood in Indiana.

Hotels Burned at Little Fork.

LITTLE FORK, Minn., March 29.—Five buildings were destroyed and two others damaged by fire here. Two of the buildings were hotels. The loss represents the greater portion of the business part of the town and is about $50,000.

The baseball team from the Westfield High School will open the season on Wednesday, April 6, with the Plainfield High School team in this city.

Pitcher Warrie McLaughlin will begin his campaign with the Star A. C., of Elizabeth, on April 17, in Elizabeth. His arm is in good shape, and he expects to pitch a shut-out game.

All those who are interested in the formation of a Y. M. C. A. baseball nine will meet in the Y. M. C. A. rooms tonight at 8 o'clock to elect a captain and manager and make other arrangements preliminary to the season.

The Bradhurst A. C. baseball team, amateur junior champions of New York city, would like to arrange games with teams in Plainfield and vicinity averaging seventeen years. Teams wishing a good attraction and guaranteeing full expenses for ten men, address E. A. Harvey, 9 West 29th street, New York city.

George Dupee, who made an enviable reputation as an amateur baseball pitcher, during the days of the city amateur league, has decided to give up playing entirely. Dupee assisted largely in winning the championship for the Y. M. C. A. team in the city league and he afterward did good work for the Alis team.

The baseball management of the Alis Club is arranging to start the work of putting Crescent Oval in condition for baseball. The diamond and outfield will be improved and better arrangements made for patrons who go to the games in carriages. It is possible that increased grand-stand accommodations will be made.

HANDBALL.

The entry list for the Y. M. C. A. handball tournament has been increased by two, Frank Neal and W. V. Caroline, Jr.

Play in the Y. M. C. A. hand-ball tournament was begun Saturday evening, Sebring losing to Koons by a score of 21 to 18, and Mundy meeting defeat in his match with W. E. Neal, the score being 21-10.

In the Y. M. C. A. handball tournament Neal and Mundy will meet again Friday, April 1, and Sebring and Koons will play Saturday, April 2. There will be matches Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

It is quite likely that the Park Golf Club will open the season during the latter part of April, the same as in previous seasons.

The new addition to the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club is about completed. The house committee, of which L. G. Timpson is the chairman, is planning for a very active season of social events.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Y. M. C. A. five will bowl the Reform Club team tomorrow night on the association alleys.

Plainfield Y. M. C. A. won three straight games from the Westfield Saturday Night Club on its own alleys last night. The scores were 687-574, 675-625, and 615-589. The teams will meet again at Westfield Friday night.

James McGinnes, of Grant avenue, who has been convalescing for the past week, has returned to work at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant.

James Gray, of West Third street, was among those who were laid off at the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Company's plant Saturday. Mr. Gray has taken a position at the Scott Press Company's works.

There will be a meeting of the Master Painters' Association tonight, at which time it is expected that a delegation of painters from other parts of the State will be present to discuss matters of interest to the trade.

Two hundred and fifty employes of the billet mill of Pennsylvania Steel Works at Harrisburg, Pa., quit work last week because a recent reduction of the working force caused additional work. The company immediately closed the mill.

The ribbon weavers of the Union Ribbon Company's works, of Paterson, who left their work last week, returned yesterday, having been granted an increase of five per cent., although they demanded ten per cent. when they walked out. The firm has made a promise that by next May the remaining five per cent. will be granted and the strikers are convinced the promise will not be broken.

Harry Busby, of West Front street, has just returned from Elmira, N. Y., where he has been erecting a press at the American Sales Book Company's plant. This is the second machine the Potter people has installed in the Elmira publishing house. The press, which was set up by Mr. Busby about a month ago, was the first 5" sales-book Webb ever built, and has proved to be a great success. Running at a high rate of speed this machine will turn out 7,200 salesbooks an hour.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jenkins and Miss Ida Roeap, who have been spending the winter at Daytona, Florida, returned home yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Jeckins will soon go to Patchogue, L. I., for the summer.

Another official of the New Jersey Central, B. P. Flory, associated with the mechanical engineering department of the road, will take up his residence in this city April 1. He has leased through Elston M. French, of North avenue, the residence at 1216 Putnam avenue, corner of Webster place.

En Route Home.

A party of Plainfielders who have been spending two months at the Lakeside Hotel, Lakeview, Fla., will head for home this week. Mr. and Mrs. James Clawson with Mrs. Clawson's sister, Mrs. A. P. Tomlinson, left this city in January avoiding the severe winter here. They are at present in Daytona, where they are spending a few days prior to making brief stops at St. Augustine and Jacksonville. They will leave for home tomorrow. Mr. Clawson is a brother of L. T. Clawson, proprietor of the Lakeside Hotel and of the Hillside Inn at Bethlehem, N. H.

Cheaper Ice.

It seems to be the general opinion that ice will be a little cheaper this summer than last. One dealer remarked yesterday, that if the local icemen have opposition, which is now talked of, the price would probably drop from forty-five cents to thirty cents a hundred, but otherwise, the price might remain where it is. The great quantity of ice gathered during the winter apparently has nothing to do with the price.

David Adelman's Funeral.

The funeral of David Adelman, of Vine street, who died yesterday after a long illness, will be held from the house Thursday morning. Burial is to be made in Fairmount cemetery, Newark. A delegation of members of the Junior Order will attend the funeral, and accompany the body to the grave.

Coddington Avenue Astir.

Petty thieves have been raiding the clothes lines of the houses about Coddington avenue during the past few weeks. The thief has confined himself to women's garments.

COACHMAN INJURED IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Patrick Sullivan Fell Beneath Frantic Horses' Feet and Was Kicked and Trampled Upon.

HIS KNEE TORN OPEN

W. P. SMITH'S SON RECEIVED BUT SLIGHT HURTS.

The Whiffletree Broke and Horses Bolted on Park Avenue, Near the Railroad—Eight Stitches Taken in Sullivan's Wound.

Patrick Sullivan, a coachman in the employ of W. P. Smith, of Belvidere avenue, was severely injured in a runaway accident on Park avenue yesterday afternoon, shortly after 3:30 o'clock. William Smith, the seventeen-year-old son of his employer, who was with him in the carriage, was also hurt.

Sullivan and the boy were in a high two-wheeled cart, the latter driving. Just beyond North avenue the horse, a spirited little animal, became frightened at the railroad bridge and leaped forward suddenly. The whiffletree broke and the horse bolted, uncontrolled, at breakneck speed.

Directly in the path of the runaway was one of William Hand's big moving vans. The horse swerved sharply to clear it, and the cart turned completely over. Sullivan was jerked over the dashboard and landed under the horse's heels. He was kicked and trampled before the animal broke from the tangled harness and continued its dash down the street. Eyewitnesses said afterwards that Sullivan's escape from death or terrible injuries was remarkably narrow.

John Praed, a tailor, before whose shop the accident occurred, carried Sullivan into his place, and sent for Dr. Jenkins. The boy was thrown clear of the cart and escaped with a cut and bruised face.

Sullivan was dazed, his left knee was torn open, and the side of his head was cut. Eight stitches were required to close the wound. Dr. Jenkins said he was badly, but not seriously hurt, although he will feel the effects of his injuries for some time. He was taken home in a carriage.

The horse was caught at Randolph road, before any further damage was done. The cart was only scraped.

SIMMONS RE-ELECTED CAPTAIN

Y. M. C. A. PLAYERS MET LAST NIGHT TO ARRANGE FOR SEASON.

Baseball interest was enthusiastic at the Y. M. C. A. last night, a special meeting to arrange for the work of the season calling out a large number of prospective candidates. William Simmons was elected manager of the nine, and will begin work on his schedule directly after the meeting next Tuesday night. The choice of a captain was held over until Tuesday, when it is probable that a permanent choice will be made.

Lindsay Best opened the meeting and after stating its purpose turned it over to Mr. Simmons. It was decided to hold an entertainment for the team's benefit Thursday night, April 21 and, if possible, to secure the services of the New Century Trio, which provided such an excellent entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. Hall New Year's night. A committee was appointed to book the Trio if possible. A. R. Humble, F. K. Armstrong and Maurice Sutphen were named as the committee, and they will report the result of their investigation Tuesday night.

Some discussion was given to the question of grounds for practise and playing and it was decided that the Myrtle avenue grounds were the most available. After the next meeting, active work will begin towards getting the grounds into proper shape for play.

TO INTEREST YOUNG PEOPLE

SPECIAL MEETINGS TO TAKE PLACE AT HOPE CHAPEL COMMENCING TONIGHT.

Young people of Hope chapel will hold the first of a series of special religious meetings tonight. A sociable will follow the meeting.

The series is designed to revive the regular weekly meeting of young people that was formerly a feature of the chapel religious activity. Some months ago interest in the meetings died away and they dropped from the church calendar. Rev. L. R. Howard, the pastor, is anxious to make the meetings a regular feature again and he has arranged the gathering tonight to perfect plans to that end.

F. L. Janeway, of Union Theological Seminary, a recent Princeton graduate, will speak tonight. Other interesting speakers have been engaged for a number of Wednesday night meetings to follow, in order to re-awaken interest in the mid-week prayer service.

WHY COX WAS MARRIED HERE

CHAPTERS OF A LOVE AFFAIR WHICH LEAD TO A MARRIAGE IN PLAINFIELD.

The marriage in this city, March 9, of Theodore Cox, of Lakewood, N. J., and Miss Eugenie Norwood, daughter of Carlisle Norwood, of 45 West 55th street, New York, was the fruit of a highly romantic courtship with its scenes variously laid in convent, stage and divorce court.

When, in September 1896, Theodore Cox, a well known clubman and politician, was wedded to Miss Catherine Gage, of Haverhill, Mass., a society girl of beauty and wealth, Miss Eugenie Norwood was studying at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Paris. The monotony of the conventual life palled upon the young girl and she returned to this country to dazzle with her beauty the worldly-wise clubman, who, as a friend of her brother, visited at her home.

Cox had been a good friend to Carlisle Norwood, Jr., having helped him to go to Africa to escape his father's displeasure and fight for England in the Boer War. But a thoughtless act of young Norwood, it is said, brought about an estrangement.

Last November, Mrs. Cox sued for divorce and young Norwood's testimony at the trial to the effect that he had seen Cox with a woman not his wife was largely instrumental in securing a decree of absolute separation including a clause which forbade Cox to marry again in New York.

This provision led to the romantic ending in this city of Cox's attachment for Miss Norwood in their marriage by Rev. A. C. Nickerson, of All Souls' church, Miss Norwood giving up an intended life on the stage to become a wife. The couple before going to Mr. Nickerson requested another local minister to perform the ceremony, only to have their request refused.

CONFERENCE'S APPOINTMENTS

LOCAL PASTORS AMONG THOSE OBTAINING PLACES ON COMMITTEES.

Among those selected for various committees at the session of the Newark Conference of the M. E. church, yesterday, were Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass and J. W. Jackson, conference board of home mission and church. Among others chosen members of standing committees were these:

HOPE Y. M. A. DECIDES TO GIVE UP BASEBALL

No Team to be Placed on the Diamond This Season, Club Opposing Professionalism.

RUNYON, PRESIDENT

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN AT ANNUAL MEETING OF ASSOCIATION.

Minstrel Show to be Given for the Benefit of Reform Club—Club in a Prosperous Condition—The Proceedings.

There will be no baseball team to represent Hope chapel on the diamond this year. Considerable discussion, which has been going on among the members for several months, ended last night when the Y. M. C. A. at its annual meeting, decided that it would be undesirable to put a nine in the field.

One of the first things that came up before the meeting was a letter from O. B. Leonard, the owner of the Hope field, notifying the association that the use of the grounds was withdrawn. This and other conditions made the prospect of a team so unfavorable that it was agreed that no attempt to get a combination together be made. The association is against professional ball, and refuses to consider paid players.

Among the younger members of the organization there is an ardent spirit of baseball that refuses to be balked by the conditions confronting the management of the regular team, and it is probable that a junior combination will be formed. This nine, however, would not be conducted to uphold the standard of the chapel as the teams of the past few years did, and all the fans that follow Hope will have to transfer their affections to another team.

Another letter of peculiar interest was received from W. C. Smith, of the Reform Club. Mr. Smith asked the association if it would be willing to present the minstrel show again at Reform Hall. It was voted to give the show whenever the Reform Club requested it.

This action will be communicated to the club at its meeting next Tuesday night, and it is expected to bring the request immediately. It is probable that the show will be put on the Reform Hall stage in about three weeks.

Two new bowling alleys will be built for the association next summer. The condition of the present alleys was discussed, and a unanimous sentiment in favor of two new and better ones was expressed. A committee was appointed to report on the cost of the alleys and the changes in the extension that is to house them.

Another committee was appointed to revise the constitution and by-laws. The members voted to attend the Easter service at the Crescent Avenue church in a body on Sunday afternoon.

Officers were elected as follows: President, William N. Runyon; vice president, J. Fred Wharton; secretary, George E. Firstbrook; treasurer, V. William Nash—all re-elections. The following committees were appointed:

House—J. F. Wharton, chairman; James Peny, George McComb, William Dilts, Hugh Gray. Membership—Leonce Texier, chairman; Raymond McVoy, Matthew Sweeney.

Excellent reports were handed in by the treasurer and the secretary. The treasury is very strong and there are seventy-five members in active standing.

Church Society's Affairs.

The annual election of officers and reception of reports by the Ladies' Aid Society, of the First Presbyterian church was postponed yesterday afternoon until next month's meeting, Tuesday, April 26. Regular routine, monthly business was transacted yesterday, the meeting being at the home of Mrs. Howard A. Pope. Plans were made for decorating the church for Easter Sunday. The hand-shaking committee for April was appointed: Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, Mr. and Mrs. John Burroughs, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar George and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pope. Refreshments were served and a social hour passed. The society will meet next month probably with Miss Boss.

Social Club's Dance.

The committee for the dance to be given Monday night by the Fourth Ward Social Club consists of H. J. Wierenga, Clinton Shannon and Eugene O'Reilley.

MISS C. M. HALL'S WORK SHOWN IN PARIS

Daughter of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall Has Paintings on Exhibition.

A PUPIL OF MASTERS

THREE OF HER WORKS IN OIL ARE ON DISPLAY.

Spending Her Time Abroad Improving Her Exceptional Talents in Art—Granddaughter of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe.

Miss Caroline Minturn Hall, of Plainfield, N. J., who is in Paris studying art, is exhibiting three paintings, "The Cypresses," "The Pines on the Hill," and "The Pines by the River," at the winter exhibition of the American Women's Art Association, of Paris.

Miss Hall, who is a granddaughter of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, is a New Englander by birth, having spent her early years at Newport, R. I. She is a great favorite among the American Girl Art Students in the Latin Quarter of Paris, and is the secretary and treasurer of the American Women's Art Association, whose exhibitions are visited by artists of all nationalities, not only in Paris but from all the artistic communities within touch of the French Capital.

Last year Miss Hall studied at the Delacluse Academy, and later worked in a landscape class in the Bois-de-Boulogne under Fritz Thanlow, the famous Norwegian painter, whose pictures in the Luxembourg gallery are so well known.

During the summer Miss Hall went to Brittany to work, studying near St. Malo, and this winter is studying at Colarossi's Academy de la Grande Chaumiere, working under the criticism of Messieurs Mesnard and Prinet. —Pittsburg (Pa.) Gazette.

CITIZENS ENDORSE SCHEME

ANSWERS TO BOARD'S QUERY SHOW FEELING FAVORABLE TO PLAN.

Of the 900 circular letters sent out by the Board of Health, in an effort to ascertain how many people favor the municipal control of the garbage question, 331 answers have been received up to noon today. Of this only twelve persons have expressed themselves against the proposition. This would indicate a strong sentiment in favor of the plan and it is very gratifying to the Board of Health as well as all others who are interested in seeing the plan adopted by the Common Council.

Map for Use at Trial.

To secure proof of important contentions in the suit for $30,000 against the Central Railroad for the death of Theodore Merle at one of the Dunellen crossings, the plaintiff's lawyers have hired Civil Engineer Harry VanEmburgh to survey the scene of the accident. It is claimed that the depot and freight house near the crossing are so situated as to shut off the view of westbound trains from anyone approaching the crossing on foot or in a wagon, and the surveyor is expected to establish this contention as a fact. Mr. VanEmburgh began his survey yesterday.

Easter Flowers.

Eastertide is not properly celebrated unless one has beautiful flowers and the display of flowers and plants at Miss A. E Lincoln's conservatory on Park avenue, is one that will delight everyone who loves flowers. The assortment is large and the prices are very reasonable. Miss Lincoln also takes orders for all kinds of floral decorations, personally giving the work her supervision.

Y. M. C. A. Social.

A social was held in the Y. M. C. A. small hall last night for the members of the educational department of the association. Music was provided by a male quartette led by Leonard Gavett. Henry W. Rankin did many clever feats of leger de-main and Mr. Gavett also did some mysterious sleight-of-hand work. Charles Case recited an interesting selection.

Mrs. Newmiller's Purchase.

Mrs. William L. Newmiller has purchased the property, No. 15 Vine street, from John Adelman and will remove April 1. John C. Kinney, of Grandview avenue, has rented the house now occupied by Mrs. Newmiller, No. 33 Vine street.

THREATENED STRIKE IN PAINTING TRADE

The Bosses Flatly Refuse to Grant Demand for Increase In Their Wages.

MAY GO OUT FRIDAY

JOURNEYMEN ARE HOLDING SECRET MEETINGS.

Employers Firm in Their Stand—Master Painters Form An Organization for Protection Purposes.

Unless the temper of the workmen changes very radically, there will be a strike in the painting trade in this city on Friday. Demand for increase of wages has been met with flat and determined refusal from the bosses, and prospects of trouble are strong. Both sides say they are firm in their stand, and neither will make any concession.

Agitation for an increase began among the journeymen some time ago When the dissatisfaction took shape a demand for forty-one cents an hour and half-holiday on Saturday was presented to the masters. The present rate is 34½ cents an hour, the net increase, deducting the cost of the half-holiday, being twenty-five cents a day.

After consideration of the conditions the bosses decided that the demand could not be entertained. A notice to that effect, signed by practically all the boss painters in town, was sent to the men. The latter refused to entertain the idea that conditions made it impossible for the employers to raise wages, and they insisted on getting the increase.

Since then strike talk has been growing more and more general and positive, and both sides have come to regard a tie-up as certain. The men have kept their deliberations secret, but the bosses have received intimations that the journeymen will go out on Friday, the first of the month.

The bosses are determined to oppose the increase, and are prepared to fight the controversy to a finish. In preparation for the impending trouble they organized an association, to be known as the Master Painters, last night.

Most of the big firms and contractors of the city met over Woolston & Buckle's store, and formally entered into a protective agreement. This association will be permanent. There are similar organizations of masters in other cities of the State, and big delegations from those in Newark, the Oranges and Elizabeth were here last night to help the local bosses combine.

James Hansen was elected president, and J. M. Cahart was made secretary. The first thing the association did after organizing was to vote formally to sustain the communication of refusal sent to the journeymen. After the organization work, the bosses and their visitors enjoyed a social hour with refreshments and cigars.

L. B. Woolston, of Woolston & Buckle, speaking for his associates in the organization, said this morning that the bosses would concede nothing. "This demand is ridiculous," he said; "There is no cause for it. If conditions in the trade were different they would get their twenty-five cents a day advance without trouble, but as matters are now there is no warrant for an increase. It is impossible, and we will not recede from our position, strike or no strike."

Quick and Good Work.

The value of the right man in the right place is shown in Representative W. M. Lanning, of the Third Congressional district of New Jersey. Jan. 5, 1904, Congressman Lanning introduced a private bill to increase the pension of Dr. W. E. Mattison, late Assistant Surgeon Third Regiment New Jersey Volunteer Infantry. The bill passed both houses of Congress and became a law on March 16 by receiving the signature of the President. This shows the influence of our Representative. Increase from $12 to $20 per month.

To See the Show.

When "She Stoops to Conquer" is presented by the Century players at the Princess theatre, New York, a theatre party will be made up of members of the cast in the production of the play by the class of 1904, High School. Saturday, April 23, has been decided upon as the date for the High School production. Miss Lena Baes and I. W. Travell are doing the coaching.

—The members of the High School battalion will begin to drill with guns after the Easter holidays.

ICE AT THIRTY CENTS A 100

DECIDED REDUCTION IN PRICE FOR THE COMING SEASON.

Plainfielders will be able to purchase ice for household use this summer for 30 cents a hundred. This announcement has been made by Frank T. Ostrom, who formerly was associated with the combination ice dealers in this city. The Natural Ice Company, composed of those dealers controlling the local output of ice including the product of the hygeia ice plant, has not yet announced its rate for this season. The company previously sold hygeia ice to Mr. Ostrom, but the latter has now made arrangements to secure hygeia from out of town and also natural ice from Scotch Plains. The Natural Ice Company will probably reduce its price to 30 cents. Mr. Ostrom will erect an ice house alongside the railroad near Johnston's coal yards on South avenue, and that will be a distributing point.

P. H. S. READY TO PLAY BALL

PLENTY OF MATERIAL FOR AN ALL-AROUND GOOD NINE.

About twenty-five candidates presented themselves for the Plainfield High School baseball team on Monday, the first day of practise. Among them were two or three former members of the nine who will form a nucleus about which to gather what is expected to be as strong a school nine as any in the vicinity. The one thing that is likely to handicap the team is the fact that several prospective members are on the danger line in their studies.

The school battery will probably be Smith, a South Plainfield boy, pitcher, and Davis, catcher. Other prominent candidates for battery positions are Strong and Hansen. Craig is likely to be a fixture at short stop and Thompson is booked for another of the infield positions. Collier's height and playing ability make him a likely first baseman.

Harry Thompson is temporary captain, elected for two weeks until the weeding out process enables the members of the nine to choose their own leader. The team will play its first game a week from today with Westfield on Crescent Oval, where the boys hold their practise regularly. The other games scheduled by Manager Koons are: April 9, Brooklyn High School at Brooklyn; April 13, Newark Academy at Newark; April 20, Leal's; April 23, South Orange; April 27, Cedarcroft. May 11, Fordham College freshmen; May 14, Leal's; May 18, Battin High; May 21, South Orange at South Orange; May 25, Montclair High at Montclair; May 28, Leal's; June 4, Cranford at Cranford; June 7, Pingry at Elizabeth. All the games except where otherwise stated will be played on home grounds.

DANCE CAUSES CHURCH ROW

YOUNG PEOPLE OF CALVARY BAPTIST PROPOSE TO HOLD A MASQUERADE.

Some young people associated with the Calvary Baptist church have declared their intention of giving a masquerade ball in T. A. B. Hall on April 14. This has caused quite a stir among the pastor and officers of the church, who say that they intend being present at the hall the night of the dance. They will take the names of the church members present and subsequently take action in the matter.

Deacon Spencer Conway declares that the church positively forbids such affairs and that it is his duty to see that the discipline is strictly adhered to. On the other hand the young people, it is said, declare that they will hold the dance regardless of consequences.

Boys to See Capitol.

About ten members of the local Y. M. C. A. boys' department will leave Monday, April 4, for a four days' excursion to Washington, D. C. Kenneth Robbie, boys' secretary, will lead the expedition. The Plainfield delegation will go in company with representations of other boys' departments all over the State, the excursion being under the auspices of the State boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. Visits will be paid to all points of interest in and about Washington.

—At the closing reception to the Y. M. C. A. educational classes last night, the music furnished was by a quartette consisting of Leonard W. Gavett, L. G. Chapin, W. C. Overton and H. C. Law.

BOROUGH IMPROVING ITS FIRE DEPARTMENT

New Alarm and Water Tower Systems Among the Contrivances Occupying Attention.

FIRE COMMITTEE ALERT

A NOZZLE DISCHARGING COMBINED FLOW OF THREE LINES OF HOSE.

Devices Worth $75 Apiece—Abolition of Fire Alarm Keys—Up-to-Date Indicators to be Used in the New Fire House.

General improvement in the equipment of the borough fire department has been planned by the North Plainfield authorities. When the plans are worked out there will be practically a new alarm system in operation, and the fire apparatus will include what is virtually a water tower of great power.

At the present time the alarm system is in bad shape. The wires are worn, and hardly a box in the municipality can be depended upon to register rightly. The entire system is to be overhauled and put in first-class condition. All the batteries are to be replaced with new ones. The most notable improvement to be made in this direction is the abolition of the keys. Arrangements have been made to make every box a keyless one, so that any citizen, in case of need, can turn in an alarm without the slightest loss of time. A representative of the Gamewell system looked over the system Monday afternoon with Mayor Smalley and Chief Woolston, and gathered his data for the change.

Both hose carts are to be furnished, on trial, with a new device that will enable them to be used much as the water towers of big cities are utilized, when extraordinarily strong streams are desired. The device, which is permanently attached to the front of the cart, consists of a big nozzle that swings on a swivel controlled by a lever. This nozzle discharges the combined flow of three lines of hose, sending a stream of terrific power in any direction desired. The nozzle is easily manipulated. This contrivance is in use by the New York department, which had a number of them working on the big fire in Wall street last Saturday.

Each of these contrivances costs $75. The company selling them has given the borough two to try for sixty days free of cost, and they will be tested during that period. Platforms are to be built on the hose carts for their erection.

The fire committee is considering the purchase of the nozzles, and it is very probable that they will be ordered. The carts are of extra length and particularly adapted to the use of the nozzles.

When the men go into the new house they will have up-to-date indicators of a character far in advance of the present ones. Patent tappers will release the horses and throw every light in the building on when a night alarm comes in.

It is probable that the bell will be abolished and alarms sounded on the city whistle, by a special code easily distinguished from that of Plainfield. It is almost impossible to hear the bell anywhere on this side of the brook without confusing it with church bells. It is not believed that the city will object to this arrangement, and no real confusion would be likely to result from it.

LEGISLATURE TO RECONVENE

RECALLED BY GOVERNOR TO ACT ON CANAL AND PIGEON BILLS.

Gov. Murphy yesterday afternoon issued a proclamation reconvening the Legislature—in special session—on April 12. The Governor in his proclamation refers to the fact that the Legislature failed to act on the report of the Morris Canal Commission and that the Anti-Pigeon Shooting bill failed to become a law. These matters are both of sufficient importance in Governor Murphy's view to warrant the special session.

The Governor will probably send in again the names of the five nominees for State Prison Inspectors who were not confirmed the last day of the session.

S. H. Whitney, who has been detained at his home in Central avenue with the grip, has returned to business.

ADDRESSED BY SWACKHAMER

SOMERSET'S ASSEMBLYMAN SPOKE BEFORE BOARDS OF EDUCATION.

Members of the various boards of education in Somerset County gathered at Somerville, on Saturday, and listened to addresses on education made by prominent men. Among the speakers was Assemblyman Swackhamer, of North Plainfield. A summary of his remarks follows:

"The importance of the public school as a factor in Government cannot be over estimated. It has long been a mooted question whether the school master or the warrior has been more potent in advancing civilization and it is apparent that as we approach nearer and nearer to that time when the 'sword shall be beaten into plough-shares and the sphere into pruning-hooks; that nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more,' the importance of the warrior shall be diminished and that of the school master increased. Edward Everett has said that the public schools are a better safeguard to free institutions than a standing army.

"It is the diffusion of knowledge and the dissemination of truth that elevate and purify character and widen the intellectual horizon. In this country where every citizen is a sovereign, and where the will of the people is the supreme law, it is of the greatest importance that the public mind should be enlightened and the public conscience quickened. The work accomplished in the public schools in Somerset County has been of the highest order and those entrusted with the conduct of our public schools are eminently qualified and have proved faithful to the charge committed to them.

"The educational standard in Somerset County is remarkably high, and a laudible pride is felt by the people in our system of public instruction, and the benign influences which it has exerted. Public schools are a worthy object of public support, and I am more than gratified by the fact that the bill providing for the free administration of the teachers' retirement fund, was passed without serious opposition. The church, the school and the ballot-box cemented together by religion, education and patriotism form the bulwork of our constitutional Government."

AMUSEMENTS.

Concerning Proctor's Fifth Avenue, week of April 4. An event of considerable importance in theatricals will be the first stock presentation in any theatre of the dramatisation of Mary Johnston's book, "Audrey," in which Miss Eleanor Robson starred prior to her appearance in "Merely Mary Ann." By special arrangement with Liebler & Co., F. F. Proctor has acquired, not only the right to present this play, but also has the use of the scenery and costumes employed in the original production. Every effort will be made to give the piece the same artistic atmosphere as was to be noted in the original production. The cast will include Malcolm Williams, Hugh Ford, Gerald Griffin, Verner Clarges, George Bryant, John Westley, Julian Reed, Al. Roberts, Jessie Izette, (especially engaged) Rose Stuart, Margaret Kirker, Julia Aiken, Marie Bertrand, Bessie La Lestina, etc. The variety section of the bill will be stronger than ever, in keeping with the holiday season. The specialists will be led by Mme. Rialta, a mirror dancer, who will present many new and beautiful light effects.

Russian Fleet Reported to Be Maneuvering Near Weihaiwei Preparing to Attack Togo's Squadron—Germany Looking to United States to Take Action at Newchwang, Where French Tricolor Is Now Flying.

LONDON, March 30.—Advices from St. Petersburg say the emperor has received a dispatch from General Kuropatkin giving a lengthy report from General Mishtchenko which says that an important engagement has taken place near the town of Chongju in which the Russians were defeated, retiring in perfect order. His report says:

"For three consecutive days our advance outposts attempted to draw the Japanese cavalry into action, but their patrols, after contact was established, retired beyond Chongju, about fifty miles northwest of Pingyang.

"Having learned that four squadrons of Japanese were posted five versts beyond Chongju, six companies of infantry marched toward Kasan, and on reaching Chongju, as our scouts approached the town, the enemy opened fire from behind walls. Two squadrons promptly dismounted and occupied the heights 600 yards distant. An engagement ensued.

"In the town a company of infantry and a squadron of cavalry were lying in ambush. Our men were re-enforced by three companies and attacked the Japanese with a crossfire. Notwithstanding this and our commanding position the Japanese gallantly held their ground, and it was only after a fierce fight of half an hour's duration that the Japanese ceased fire and sought refuge in the houses. The Japanese hoisted the Red Cross flag at two points.

"Soon afterward three squadrons of the enemy were seen advancing along the Kasan road at full gallop toward the town, which two of the squadrons succeeded in entering, while the third fell back in disorder under repeated volleys from our troops. A number of men and horses were seen to fall.

"For an hour afterward our companies continued to fire on the Japanese in the town, preventing them from leaving the streets and houses.

"An hour and a half after the beginning of the engagement four companies were seen on the Kasan road hastening to attack. I gave the order to mount, and the entire force, with a covering squadron, advanced in perfect order and formed in line behind the hill. The wounded were placed in front, and the retirement was carried out with the deliberation of a parade.

"Our troops occupied a commanding position, but were unable to hold it. The Japanese fought gallantly, but owing to their heavy losses were unable to occupy the position abandoned by our force.

"The Japanese squadron which was thrown into disorder was evidently unable to occupy the hill which we had just evacuated, and their infantry arrived too late.

"The detachment protecting our rear guard arrived quietly at Kasan, where we halted for two hours in order to give attention to our wounded. At 9 p. m. our force reached Noosan.

"It is supposed that the Japanese had heavy losses in men and horses. On our side unfortunately three officers were severely wounded—Stepanoff and Androenke in the chest and Vasielevitch in the stomach. Schilnikoff was less seriously wounded in the arm, but did not leave the field. Three Cossacks were killed, and twelve were wounded, including five seriously.

"General Mistchenko bears witness to the excellent conduct and gallantry of the officers and Cossacks and especially praises the Third company of the Argunsk regiment, commanded by Krasnostanoff."

A Tientsin dispatch says a Frenchman named Kreautlar, an employee of the Russo-Chinese bank, has been appointed French consular agent at Newchwang. He has hoisted the French flag over the bank building. It is considered probable that this is a forerunner of a movement to fly the tricolor over all the Russian government buildings at Newchwang.

A Weihaiwei report says eleven Russian war vessels are reported manervering off the coast near Weihaiwei in the vicinity of the Japanese fleet.

The presence of these vessels was made known by a Chinese junk just arrived.

A dispatch from Berlin says the German government has cabled its consul at Tientsin to proceed to Newchwang and report on the situation and as to how far the Russian proclamation of martial law will affect German commercial interests there.

Meanwhile Germany looks to America to play the leading role should diplomatic action, in the way of protest or otherwise, appear to be called for.

It is asserted here that inasmuch as the United States government brought about the localization of the theater of war, to which Russia now declares that Newchwang belongs, it is now up to America as leading power to say how far this position is tenable.

Germany is willing to accept the Russian view, mainly on the ground of the necessities of war and the conviction that Japan would have acted precisely in the same manner in similar circumstances.

A Shanghai report says that almost the whole Japanese army in Korea, consisting of 100,000 men, is concentrated at Pakchen and Anju, only small detachments being left in southern Korea to maintain communications.

A Russian division of 25,000 men from southern Ussuri is advancing in two columns through Korea. The main column, coming along the east coast road, reached Pukchang, 180 miles from the Tumen river, and the flanking column, consisting of Cossacks and mountain artillery, coming along the valley of the Tumen river toward its source, has reached the coast of Lake Tadji. This column reports that the Japanese are advancing north from Gensan and that their advance guard is encamped at Chongping.

FIRST SHOTS OF THE WAR.

Russian Officer's Account of First Attempt to Destroy the Korietz.

MUKDEN, March 30.—According to a report received from an officer of the Russian gunboat Korietz, which was destroyed by the Japanese at Chemulpo, his ship technically fired the first shot of the war, but this shot was not fired until after the Japanese had fired three torpedoes in an effort to sink the Korietz.

The officer says that on Feb. 8, without knowing that there had been even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the Korietz left Chemulpo for Port Arthur with dispatches from M. Pavloff, the Russian minister to Korea, and met the Japanese cruiser and torpedo squadron while still in neutral waters. Being unsuspicious, the Korietz steamed between the two divisions of the squadron with the tarpaulins still covering her guns when it was noticed that the cruisers were training their guns on the Russian vessel, but it was not until the torpedo boats began to maneuver preparatory to torpedoing that those on board the Korietz became really alarmed. It was then decided to put back into the harbor.

While the Korietz was going about the Japanese launched a torpedo, which passed astern, and then the captain ordered "quarters" sounded. The Japanese launched another torpedo, but it was only when a third torpedo was seen coming directly for the Korietz's beam that the command was given to open fire, and two shots were fired. The third torpedo sank before reaching the Korietz.

When next day the captain of the British cruiser Talbot, at the request of the captain of the Russian cruiser Variag, asked the Japanese admiral why the Korietz had been attacked, he replied that war had been declared at 2 o'clock the day before.

Korean Rats Come Forth.

SEOUL, March 30.—Many Korean officials who were formerly implicated in pro-Russian movements and who remained in hiding during the recent stay here of Marquis Ito are reported now to be reappearing. They are confident and have been assured that drastic reforms for the purging of Korean official circles are not imminent.

Foul Tip Ruptured Arteries.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., March 30.—As the result of being hit by a foul tip while watching a game of baseball in Kensington, near here, on Sunday afternoon Edward McKeon, seventeen years old, will probably die. He was brought to the hospital in this city bleeding freely from the nose, and all efforts of the physicians to stop the flow of blood have been futile. He is very weak, and it is believed at the hospital that the flow of blood cannot be stopped. The force of the ball hitting him ruptured arteries in McKeon's nose, the doctors state.

White House Crank to Be Trepanned.

LIMA, O., March 30.—Frank Coe, recently arrested in Washington for his persistent efforts to gain admittance to the White House, was brought to his home here by a deputy United States marshal and is now in the care of his brother, George Coe. Coe's dementia, which has been growing more violent in form, is thought to be due to a fractured skull. He will be taken to Chicago for a trepanning operation in the hope that his normal mental condition can be restored.

SAGINAW FLOODED.

All Industrial Plants on the River Are Shut Down.

FIVE THOUSAND MEN OUT OF WORK

Villagers Driven From Their Homes. Hundreds of Horses and Cattle Are Dead or Dying, With No Relief In Sight.

SAGINAW, Mich., March 30.—Flood conditions in this city and vicinity are not improved. The water in the river has risen about five inches in the past twenty-four hours, and the filling and backing up of the sewers has increased the area of the flooded district. The Flint, Shiawassee, Cass and Bad rivers are falling.

If the weather would warm up gradually and not fill up the Tittabawassee river and its tributaries with a rush the danger would be regarded as over, but rains are threatened, the temperature is rising and a big flood from these streams added to the present volume of water will work incalculable damage. It is difficult to estimate the damage.

All industrial plants on the river are shut down, and 5,000 men or more are out of work. Conditions between here and Bay City, in the villages of Carrollton, Zilwaukee and Crow Island, are distressing. A tug went down the Saginaw river twice and brought up fifty-four people. One old couple, Mr. and Mrs. Bockawa, who had been in the water since Friday, will die. Hundreds of cattle, horses and hogs are either dead or dying, with no relief in sight.

The financial loss in the county will probably reach $750,000.

Grand River Falling.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 30.—The water in Grand river has fallen two feet two inches in the past twenty-four hours, and nearly a third of the flood district can be reached without the aid of boats. Train service is practically restored, and relief for the flood victims is ample. The United States mail service is swamped with tons of mail matter, accumulations of several days, having reached the local postoffice.

Five Lives Lost.

DETROIT, Mich., March 30.—Five lives have been lost and probably upward of $5,000,000 worth of damage to property has been done by the flood, which has devastated many parts of Michigan during the past five days. The indications now are that the end is in sight, although conditions are still very bad along the course of the Saginaw river.

Bridge Jams Are Broken.

BAY CITY, Mich., March 30.—The flood situation here remains practically unchanged, but there are indications of an early improvement. The Saginaw river is still rising slowly, but the jams at all the bridges have been broken except where a lot of boomsticks at the Third street bridge have closed half the channel.

United States Leads.

PARIS, March 30.—The United States leads in the first day's play of the billiard match at eighteen inch balk line, two shots in, Wilson P. Foss, amateur billiard champion of the United States, having scored 400 points to 338 made by Lucien Rerolles, the French amateur champion.

Kept Diary of Fatal Fever.

ESCANABA, Mich., March 30.—Clutching in his dead hand a record he had written showing his condition from day to day as he lay dying of a fever, the body of Hans C. Jepson, formerly a prominent citizen of Escanaba, has been found in a log shanty in the woods forty miles from Escanaba. His nearest neighbor lived fifty miles away. The diary covers a period of eighteen days and indicates the progress of the fever which culminated in death on March 20, the date of the last scrawl of the diary.

Postoffice Robbery Suspects Held.

LIMA, O., March 30.—W. R. Jones, William Miley and Charles McCoy have been arrested here by local postoffice officials on the charge of being implicated in numerous recent postoffice robberies throughout the state. Nothing of an incriminating character was found on the men. They were armed and well supplied with money.

Failed to Trap Hereros.

BERLIN, March 30.—Efforts to intercept the Hereros in German Southwest Africa and bring them between two fires have been unsuccessful. Advices from Major Glasenapp from Onjatu say that the enemy retired from Owikerero to Okatumba and Okatjongbana and that Major Glasenapp has occupied Owikorero.

Hearst doesn't seem to have any set views on the currency question except that he appears to realize the fact that "money talks" more eloquently than does William Jennings Bryan.

Another Standard Oil man is coming to live here. If all the trust workers are like the men that live in Plainfield, they are a great and a progressive lot, good neighbors, and fine company.

All in the space of a few weeks, Samuel Metzger, a new resident of Washington Park suffering as many losses as falls to the average individual in a long space of time. First he lost a valuable dog; next his house was robbed and lastly his home was burned. Fortunately he was amply insured against burglars and fire.

This special session idea is getting to be a habit with Governor Murphy, but no one will deny the fact that he is acting in the interests of the public in using his executive privilege in the matter. In the business world when a man doesn't do his work properly he gets no compensation, but lawmakers and other public servants are in a special class and get just as much for blunders and crookedness as the ordinary mortal gets for properly discharging his duty.

The increased usefulness of newspaper advertising is noted by an experienced merchant who formerly depended chiefly on circulars for his rural trade, says the Philadelphia Record. "The rural free delivery system and the multiplication of country trolley lines," he says, "have given to the city dailies a wide circulation in the country and enabled the people there to take advantage of the newspaper advertisements. I find that the increased returns of my newspaper advertising are out of proportion to the increased rates of advertising."

The blowers are required for the purpose of carrying away dust, which has hitherto been very injurious to the health of employes working at the craft.

"Chill" Perrin will captain the team for the lathe gang. There are some fast players in this department. The planer team will be managed by John Overland. PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The monthly business and social meeting of the Epworth League, was held last night in the church. The Bible study class united with the League, part of the evening's programme being given up to the study of the Bible, especially the lines and character of the women of the Old Testament. The latter part of the evening was passed by the members in a social manner.

During the coming summer some effort should be made to have a trolley waiting room built at some convenient point, either by the trolley company or the citizens. The past winter has been a trying one on the local patrons who have been obliged to wait for cars.

Miss Mary Cotton, of Richmond Hill and Miss May Adams, of Middletown, N. Y., both members of the corps of teachers in the public school several years ago, have been spending part of their Easter vacation with friends in town.

The winter which is fast drawing to a close has not only been one of the most severe as to weather, but it is doubtful if there has ever been more sickness in town than there has been during the past three months.

Friday of this week is the great local annual moving day. Indications are that there will be but few of the residents who will make a change.

Calls Off Public Meeting.

The public meeting of the Board of Trade which was to have been held tomorrow night has been called off because the ends which the Board had hoped to bring about have been practically attained. The necessity for a discussion of the government postoffice building project has been obviated by the act of Senator Kean in introducing in Congress a bill for a $100,000 building. The Common Council has decided to hold a public hearing on the garbage disposal question which does away with the other reason for the Board of Trade meeting.

Fire Traced to Filling.

Chief Woolston, of the borough fire department, made a careful investigation of the ruins of the Metzger fire yesterday and established the cause of the blaze. Filling packed around a register in the hall, directly over the furnace in the cellar, hung down and caught fire. The flames spread to the carpet about the register and from that to the woodwork.

OHIO'S NEW SENATOR.

CHARLES DICK WILL SUCCEED THE LATE MARK A. HANNA.

Has Had an Active Career in Ohio Politics and Was a Close Political Associate of McKinley.

Charles Dick, of Akron, O., is only one week younger than President Roosevelt. He was born at Akron and received what education he has in the public schools, where he studied until he was 14 years of age. He then commenced to work his own way in the world, clerking in a store two years and in a bank six years; his next position was in a factory, where he was employed for two years keeping books. At 24 years of age he went into the grain and commission business with Lucius C. Myles; at 28 years of age he was appointed auditor of Summit county, serving two terms. During these years he studied law, and was admitted to the bar by the Ohio supreme court.

Always active in politics, he was in 1884 chosen chairman of the republican county committee, and, as such, was in very close touch with the late President McKinley when the latter won his campaign for congress in Summit county. This led to McKinley calling upon Dick to help him in his campaign for nomination and election for the governorship and later for the presidency.

He has been campaign chairman for the Ohio republicans from 1892 to 1903. In 1896 and 1900 he was secretary of the republican national committee, and in 1902 and 1896 he was delegate from the Nineteenth district to the republican national convention. In 1900 he was delegate at large and in charge of the western headquarters at Chicago.

When the Spanish war began Gen. Dick, then lieutenant colonel of the Eight Ohio national guard infantry, at once enlisted with his regiment, serving in Cuba until the fever mortality around Santiago grew so great that Gen. Shafter ordered Col. Dick to Washington to report personally to President McKinley on the urgent need for change. It was Col. Roosevelt who urged Col. Dick to this duty. While he was still in service the Nineteenth congressional district republicans nominated and elected Col. Dick to congress to succeed Representative Northway, who died.

GEN. CHARLES DICK.
(Mr. Hanna's Successor as United States Senator from Ohio.)

The district of Giddings, Garfield and Ezra Taylor, proud of its memorable past, has approved Gen. Dick's congressional service by repeating reelection, and unanimously urged upon all Ohio republicans that the closest political associate of McKinley and Hanna was the most fitting successor for the latter in the United States senate. In 1900 he served where McKinley wanted him, and last year, to help Hanna, he complied with the latter's request not to contest with Herrick for the gubernatorial nomination, and then conducted for Hanna and Herrick the most successful campaign Ohio ever had. Such services and sacrifices for the republican party have made him friends in every county.

Not only has he been closest to McKinley and Hanna in all party politics, but his public service has steadily strengthened Gen. Dick's capacity for congressional duties. Few members of the house of his years have greater influence there. Elected major general of Ohio national guard upon its reorganization, after the Spanish war, and also by his comrades, president of the National Association of national guard officers, he succeeded in securing from congress the first complete militia law.

Navies of the World.

Of vessels, battleships, cruisers and scouts of over 1,000 tons now in commission in the world's navies, Great Britain has 201, aggregating 1,516,000 tons displacement; France, 96, aggregating 576,000 tons displacement; Germany, 73, aggregating 388,000 tons; Russia, 43, aggregating 375,000 tons; United States, 35, aggregating 295,000 tons; Italy, 38, aggregating 259,000 tons; Japan, 31, aggregating 208,000 tons. But if the naval vessels now in course of building in the world's shipyards were completed, the tonnage of the United States would be more than double, and she would occupy third place, instead of fifth, with France still second and with England's power only three times as great as ours.

Heard at Jefferson's Lake.

Joseph Jefferson has a lake well stocked with fish on his Louisiana plantation. Not long ago he came upon a stranger fishing there. Stepping to his side, Jefferson politely invited his attention to the fact that he was fishing in a private reserve, in violation of the law. The stranger smiled sadly. "You are mistaken, sir," he replied. "I'm not catching your fish; I'm feeding them!"

ALMOST KILLED BY EAGLE.

Wounded Bird Set Its Talons in Man's Thigh and Held On with Death Grip.

Two large bald eagles attacked Charles Read, a prominent ranchman of Redwood Valley, Cal., and he is now under a doctor's care for repairs. For some time Read had been missing sheep and lambs from his pasture, and concluding a stealthy coyote was making inroads on his flock, he set a number of traps, baiting with mutton. He discovered a large bald eagle in one of them. The eagle appeared to have worn itself out by its struggles and was lying down.

THE EAGLE ATTACKED HIM.

Read released the spring, but no sooner had he done so than the eagle attacked him. Its mate, which had been watching near by, soon joined in the fight. With their heavy wings they beat Read to the ground, all the while tearing his flesh and clothing with their talons and beaks. Read was so taken by surprise by the attack that it was several minutes before he thought to reach for his pistol, which had fallen from his pocket as he was thrown on the ground. While protecting his face with his arm he managed to get the barrel of the pistol against one bird and fired. The other was frightened away by the report. The wounded eagle sets its talons in the man's right thigh and held on with a death grip. When he recovered from his exhaustion Read found himself unable to remove the bird, as the muscles of the eagle's claws had grown rigid. He dragged himself to his cabin and was brought to the city, where the talons were cut out. The dead eagle measured nine feet from tip to tip.

A WEIRD WINTER STORY.

Strange Things Said to Have Happened When Temperature Was 35 Below Zero.

Oscar Wilte of Le Sueur, Minn., met with a most remarkable accident that very nearly cost him his life. With his rifle in hand he was attempting to get within range of a cat he desired to shoot, when the animal ran up into the framework supporting the water tank.

Standing directly beneath the cat, Wilte shot straight up at it, carelessly forgetting the fact that the tank was within range.

The bullet killed the cat and pierced the bottom of the tank, and in an instant the water, gushing out, surrounded Mr. Wilte with a complete shower bath in a temperature of 35 degrees below zero.

Instantly his overshoes froze to the stone foundation on which he was standing, and, stooping to unbuckle them, he was chained by the spray, freezing in the terrible cold as fast as it fell into a helpless statue of ice, stiff and immovable as a stone. Only by his stooping posture, which kept his face free from the ice, was he saved from suffocation.

HELPLESS STATUE OF ICE

Soon the flow of water was stopped by the sediment in the tank flowing into the bullet hole, and a little son of Mr. Wilte, who had seen the whole affair, ran for assistance. It was necessary to loosen the unfortunate man's feet with chisels, and when he had been carried into the house by three strong men the ice had to be broken from him with clubs.

He was badly frightened by the experience, but otherwise unharmed.

The body of the cat was found frozen to his back.

Treasure in Smoke House.

While on his deathbed, Benjamin A. Worrell, of Worrells' Va., asked to have his will read to him, in which he had bequeathed vast property to relatives. He then wrote on the margin of the will, "dig in the southeast corner of the smoke house for buried treasure." In the place indicated a hoard of gold coins was found, amounting to $8,500.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

A LITTLE PRAISE.

Women Need It Much More Than They Need Criticism.

There used to be a variety of woman which happily is now disappearing. I refer to the woman who didn't believe in saying nice things to you for fear of making you conceited.

"My dear, that gown is very becoming," a dear old lady said to me one day when I was at the awkward age. And for that one day at least I forgot to be awkward and nervous about myself.

"I don't see," she went on, "why you shouldn't know that life is so short and so full of sad things that I believe we should be cheered up and made happy as much as possible. I always tell people all the nice things I can say about them."

"WHY, HOW WELL YOU ARE LOOKING!"

I am not dealing with the man side of it, but I know this about women, that you can get more out of them by judicious praise than by censure. The right word of encouragement and appreciation at the right time means the world to a woman.

Mothers who don't believe in telling their daughters their good points for fear of making them conceited and who when talk becomes personal invariably call their attention to their faults "for their good"—these mothers, I say, need not be amazed if their daughters find elsewhere the praise they don't get at home.

It's as natural as the way a flower turns its face to the sun. So long as woman lives she wants to be appreciated and to be told that she is.

After all, it isn't so very hard. Try it on your friends and see how they will respond. Stifle your critical mood and if your friend comes in to see you wearing a pretty costume speak of it. Is it much of a bother to say, "Why, how well you are looking!"

And it will perhaps cheer her for the whole day.

If you don't believe me, look back on your past experiences and contrast your friends. You will find that you like best those who say nice things to you—nice things that are true, of course. One readily sees through the other kind.

We hear of our faults soon enough, and our stupidities the world flings back in our face most brutally, but the kind words of our friends we can keep in our hearts to make life easier.

ELIZABETHAN INTERIORS.

A Quaint Fashion Which Is Being Revived by Household Decorators.

The Elizabethan style of furnishing commends itself for country houses, and the dining room in the sketch could be carried out with a little ingenuity for a moderate sum.

The ceiling is of gray plaster intersected with oak beams. The woodwork is paneled in the same wood. The wide chimney, peculiar to the period, has an inner fireplace of handsome tiling in shades of green. The settles, if desired, may be fitted with green leather cushions. The long overmantel is filled with quaint old fashioned pewter and blue and white ware. The furniture follows suit and is of the same fumed oak, while the hanging lamp is of beaten copper with a lining of red silk.

Owing to its wide fireplace and open architecture this would make a good combination living and dining room if space is an object in the country house.

R. DE LA DAME.

RECORDS BROKEN.

Talent Scored Heavily at Bennings Track.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The talent scored heavily at Bennings. Favorites won in each of the six events. The track was considerably improved, and several local records were broken. There was a good attendance, and the weather was pleasant.

Paul Clifford took the first race by two lengths, Dulcibella the second by a head and Latheron the third by two lengths. Andrew Mack won the fourth as he pleased by six lengths. Torchlight was well backed in the seven furlongs race, but weight told on him in the stretch and Sais won.

Four horses in a field of seven fell in the steeplechase, and only one of them, Boney Boy, finished. The race went to Imperialist, the favorite, who won by ten lengths.

Letola Won Oakland Handicap.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Favorites swept the board at Oakland, and the players left the track in a cheerful mood. The principal event was the six furlongs handicap. Letola and Nigrette of the Jennings stable were favorites. Sad Sam went to the front, but Letoln soon caught him, winning as she pleased from Ocean Dream and Nigrette.

Books Hard Hit at Ascot.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 30.—Notwithstanding the defeat of five out of six favorites at Ascot park, the books were hard hit. All the winners except one, Agnes Mack, were at good prices and were played all over the ring. Geisha Girl won by a nose from Victoria S., the favorite.

Sophomores Won Cane Spree.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 30.—The sophomores won the annual cane spree last night from the freshmen on Brokaw field. The victors were: Lightweight, D. F. McCarthy, 1906; middleweight, L. R. Whipple, 1907, and heavyweight, F. J. Hoen, 1906.

New York Wins Again.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 30.—The New York Nationals defeated the Southern league local club by a score of 9 to 2.

Noted Telegrapher Dead.

CHICAGO, March 30.—H. A. Bogardus, one of the most widely known telegraph operators in America, is dead here in a sanitarium. Bogardus had a unique history. He was born in Rochester about fifty years ago and on the death of his wife became an inveterate traveler. "Old Bogy," as he has been familiarly known for a quarter of a century, had worked in every telegraph office of importance in the United States, Canada and Mexico. He is said to have crossed the continent from coast to coast and from Mexico City to Manitoba more than a hundred times.

Jersey Legislature's Special Session.

TRENTON, N. J., March 30.—Governor Murphy has issued a proclamation convening the legislature in special session on April 12. The governor in his proclamation gives two reasons for his action. He recites the fact that a report was made to the legislature by the Morris canal commission and that no action was taken thereon. He mentions also the fact that the antipigeon shooting bill failed to become a law. These matters are both of sufficient importance in the governor's view to warrant the special session proclamation.

Immigrant Was Rich.

NEW YORK, March 30.—When the question, How much money have you? was asked a German Hebrew immigrant past sixty years old and he showed $2,500 the examining officers were startled. When asked if he had any more he answered in his native tongue, "Isn't that enough?" but dug up $5,000 more. When asked if he had any relatives in this country he said only distant ones. Afterward he said he had more money at home and that he came here to buy a farm and make a good home for his grandchildren.

Survivor of DeLong's Command Dead.

MANISTIQUE, Mich., March 30.—With the death here of Frank X. E. Manson it is believed there is but one survivor of the ill fated arctic expedition commanded by DeLong. This is Rear Admiral George W. Melville. Manson's death was due to his experiences in the arctic. Long crippled with rheumatism, since five years ago, when he was stricken with paralysis, he had been practically helpless. Aside from a medal of honor, congress some years ago granted him a pension.

Winter Over, Coal Down.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company has issued a circular to all coal dealers in Philadelphia and along its lines reducing the price of domestic sizes of anthracite coal 50 cents, the reduction to take effect on April 1. No change is made in lump, pea or buckwheat sizes.

Pittsburg Machine Shops Blaze.

PITTSBURG, March 30.—The machine shops of the Pittsburg Valve Foundry and Construction company have been destroyed by fire. The loss will probably reach $200,000, though the president of the company, Joseph T. Spear, will not make an estimate until the damaged machinery is examined.

Union Pacific's New President.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The appointment of President A. L. Mohler of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company to succeed H. G. Burt as president of the Union Pacific railroad is announced at the offices of the Union Pacific in this city.

Weather Probabilities.

Showers; southwest winds.

NEWFOUNDLAND FLOURISHING.

Budget Shows Surplus of $57,000. Trade Increases.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 30.—In the legislature Hon. E. M. Jackman, minister of finance, presented the budget, which shows that for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, there was a surplus of $57,000 and that for the fiscal year ending June 30 next there probably will be a surplus of $80,000. In addition the colony has a cash reserve of $360,000 available for emergencies.

The colony's foreign trade has increased nearly 40 per cent during the past five years, and the revenues exceed anything in the previous history of Newfoundland. The conditions are so favorable that the government, besides abolishing the duties on flour, molasses and kerosene, equaling the sum of $180,000 a year, proposes to spend the surplus on harbor and road improvements.

The finance minister touched briefly but adversely on the question of federation with Canada, which is now agitating the Canadian press.

Burton Norvill Harrison Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Burton Norvill Harrison, a lawyer of New York and husband of Mrs. Burton Harrison, the authoress, and father of Congressman Harrison of New York city, is dead here, aged sixty-five years. Death resulted from a general breakdown due partly to old age. Mr. Harrison was born in New Orleans and graduated from Yale in 1859. During the war Mr. Harrison was private secretary to Jefferson Davis, the president of the southern confederacy, remaining with him in the relation almost of a son as well as of a secretary to the end of the war. He shared in the capture of Mr. Davis rather than forsake his fortunes at their fall. When Mr. Davis was carried to Fort Monroe for imprisonment Mr. Harrison was sent to prison in Washington and finally sent to Fort Delaware, where he remained in solitary confinement until 1866, when he was released.

Black Horse Cavalryman Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—General W. H. Payne, counsel for the Southern railway, a distinguished Confederate officer and in command of the famous Black Horse cavalry at the first battle of Bull Run, has died at his apartments here, aged seventy-three years. He had been in failing health several years, and his death was due to general breakdown. General Payne lived at Warrenton, Va., and practiced law in the Virginia courts for many years. He organized and was the first captain of the Black Horse cavalry, was colonel of the Fourth Virginia cavalry and became a brigadier general in 1864, commanding a brigade under General Fitz-Hugh Lee. General Payne was three times seriously wounded in battle.

Mine Disaster Inquiry.

PITTSBURG, March 30.—The coroner's jury to inquire into the Harwick mine disaster, by which 178 lives were sacrificed, has opened here. The testimony given by the witnesses examined showed that there was a conflict of authority among the officials of the mine and that many sections of the mining law were not obeyed. An interesting point brought out was that there is a gas well in close proximity to the mine.

BRYAN VS. BENNETT

Superior Court at New Haven Hearing Will Case.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN ON THE STAND

Widow's Counsel Put Up a Stubborn Fight at the Outset Against Admission of the Celebrated Addenda to Husband's Will.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 30.—Philo S. Bennett's will was admitted as a competent document for probating by Judge Edwin B. Gager of the superior court as the result of the first day's hearing in the appeal of William J. Bryan from the decision of the probate court which disallowed the "sealed letter" found with the will and which gives Mr. Bryan $50,000. The chief contention, the admissibility of the "sealed letter" as evidence, was being argued by counsel at the time the court adjourned for the day. Former Judge Stoddard, who appears as senior counsel for Mrs. Bennett and the other heirs, fought every inch of the ground over which the appellants moved in their efforts to introduce evidence, and at times he directed bitter invectives and sarcasm against the opposing side.

The occasion was a remarkable one, and lawyers who thronged the courtroom in many instances said that few cases ever coming before the courts of Connecticut have been so stubbornly fought at the very outset.

Practically the whole day was taken up in efforts of Henry G. Newton, counsel for Mr. Bryan, to have admitted as evidence the will, the "sealed letter" and a typewritten copy of the "sealed letter," and this necessitated a repetition of the probate court proceedings, only with greater legal details. Four times Attorney Newton asked the court to admit the "sealed letter," and on final refusal he said that he would have to put in testimony as a whole, skipping that which had to do with the main point at issue. Judge Stoddard firmly refused to abandon the position he had taken and asked the court to allow him an argument on this contention.

Although counsel did not insist on it, the court thought it well to excuse the jury and allow arguments at this time.

Judge Stoddard said in his argument that the main question was whether the testamentary letter or paper conveying any part of the estate and claiming to be a part of the will can be a part of the will when not in compliance with the statutes and which is not signed by three witnesses, according to law. He said no paper or codicil can be any part of the will unless signed by three persons in the presence of the testator. He argued that the language was prohibitive and exclusive and that no will drawn up in this state shall be valid to pass unless so witnessed. He said it was the law and practice of Connecticut, New York and Massachusetts as well as in England and quoted from several authorities sustaining his statements. He said, "There is absolutely no authority that a paper executed as this is and coming into existence as this does that was ever admitted to probate as a part of a will." He said that the paper must be as complete in every detail as a will itself and has the same jurisdiction in the statutes as any regularly drawn testament.

THIRTY-ONE YEARS OF MISSIONARY WORK

Women's Foreign Mission Society of First Baptist Church Celebrates Anniversary.

A PROSPEROUS SOCIETY

MRS. J. A. CHAMBLISS PRESIDES AT YEARLY MEETING.

Reports of An Encouraging Character—Total Receipts for Twelve Months $761.56—Young Women's Society.

Interesting reports and an address by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, together with musical numbers, followed by a social tea, were features of the thirty-first anniversary meeting of the Woman's Foreign Mission Society of the First Baptist church, held in the lecture room of the church, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, president of the society, was in the chair. There was a very large attendance of women, including members of the society from the Park Avenue Baptist church.

The opening exercises, including the reading of Scripture by Dr. Chambliss, was followed with prayer by Rev. Dr. Yerkes. Reports were then given, first by Mrs. B. J. Shreve, who has been secretary for the society since its organization. The treasurer's report was given by Miss Ida Yerkes. For the Young Ladies' Missionary Society, of which Miss Ida Fountain is the president, Miss Carro Bird, as secretary, and Miss Edith Cairns, treasurer, presented reports. The contributions of the two societies for the past year were $761.56, of which $503.50 was given by the Woman's Foreign Mission Society and the balance by the Young Ladies' Mission Society.

Following a vocal solo by Mrs. L. H. Biglow, Jr., Dr. Chambliss made the anniversary address on the subject of a glance at the changes during the past four hundred years through the influence of Christianity, and he spoke of the noble part taken by Christian women in the great results. In speaking of the work of the Woman's Foreign Mission Society, the National organization, whose headquarters are in Boston, Dr. Chambliss cited the fact that the society was formed thirty-two years ago and in that period the contributions of the women for women had reached two and a quarter million of dollars. There are now seventy-three missionaries in foreign countries, 438 schools, with 16,000 pupils and several hundred Bible women, all being supported by the Woman's Foreign Mission Society. These facts were all very encouraging to the women present.

A social hour, with the serving of refreshments followed. Those in charge of the tea were Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. W. B. Vail, Mrs. DeWitt Brokaw, Miss Florence I. Marsh and Miss Ida Yerkes. They were assisted by members of the Young Ladies' Mission Society.

Changes in Residences.

Several residence changes have been made during the past few days and among them are these: C. McDonough from Codington avenue to Grandview avenue; Clarence Bilyeu from 233 Somerset street to his new home corner of Somerset street and Johnston's Drive; Larry Peterson from Stone street to his new home on Clinton place; P. A. Bird from Duer street to Asbury Park; C. S. Cornwall from Watchung avenue to Clinton avenue; William McConnell from 136 North avenue to 503 East Seventh street; Thomas Buckley from 329 Watchung avenue to 431 Orchard place; Randolph Marsh, Jr., from West Fifth street to 420 John street.

The Plainfield Postoffice.

A hundred-thousand-dollar peace offering for Plainfield from Senator Kean shows how great are the efforts to restore harmony in Union County Republican circles this year, even though the sum for the construction of the proposed Federal building cannot be voted until the next session of Congress. No one has yet suggested that the Kean plan for Plainfield will work out the same as the Fowler library scheme for Elizabeth.—Newark News.

Stations of Cross Illustrated.

The Stations of the Cross were illustrated by stereopticon slides of pictures by great masters at Grace P. E. church last night. Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, the rector, read appropriate passages from the Scriptures as the pictures were thrown on the screen.

Ashes As Garbage.

The Board of Health proposes, if the plan for the municipal collection of garbage is adopted, to eventually collect ashes after the garbage system is well established. The question was raised a few days ago as to whether ashes would be collected.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The annual meeting of the Sunday-school of the First M. E. church will be held Friday night, at which time officers will be elected.

Robert A. Meeker, superpisor of State roads, will give a talk before the Men's Club, of Trinity Reformed church, tomorrow night, on the subject of "Road Building." All the men of the congregation are cordially invited.

An entertainment and social will be given in the Calvary Baptist church tomorrow night, at which time Dr. Brown, of Baltimore, a noted phrenologist, will be present and entertain those present by examining heads. Another entertainment and broom drill will be given at the church on April 21.

There was another interesting meeting last evening in the series of evangelistic services now being held in the Third Street chapel. Mr. Leggett preached a practical sermon upon the "Excuses of Saint and Sinner," bringing home many telling truths. Messrs. Malin and Barnes were the violin soloists and Mrs. Leggett on the autoharp, rendered sermons in music. The meeting will continue tonight.

A set of plans for alterations to the Methodist church has been adopted and the work of making the exits of the church wider and safer will be put through speedily. Architect O. S. Teel, of New York, drew up ten sets of plans from which the one most satisfactory to all concerned was selected Monday. The accepted plans have met with the complete approval of Building Inspector T. C. Doane as well as the trustees of the church.

By the new plans, the winding staircase leading from the church balcony will be eliminated, the steps inside the vestibule will be removed and the outer exits doubled in width. When the changes are made, the Methodist church will be one of the readiest of exit in the city in a time of fire or panic.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Winter clings to Plainfield and some other places pretty closely, but there are some spots where the inhabitants have better times. Chauncey Colthar, of Duer street, was reminded of this unjust state of affairs the other day by the receipt of a big box of peach and plum blossoms from George M. Park, of Emerson, Ga. Mr. Park is a former resident of this city.

LITERARY.

In addition to stories by Margaret Sutton Briscoe and Agnes M. Daulton, portraits of men of the hour and war celebrities, and the usual full interpretative record of the world's history, the April Magazine Number of The Outlook has several notable illustrated articles. These include, one on the State buildings at the St. Louis Exposition, with many original drawings; a beautiful illustrated paper on "Titian's Most Intimate Friend," by Paul van Dyke; a vigorous industrial and story-telling article on "The Lumber Jack and His Job," by W. D. Hulbert, with striking photographs by Arthur Hewitt and a talk about "Some American Trees," by J. Horace McFarland, with original photographs by the author, whose remarkable pictorial presentation of trees and flowers has of late attracted great attention.

Scribner's Magazine for April gives a very effective and artistic presentation of the beauties of the World's Fair at St. Louis in a series of drawings by Jules Guerin, four of them reproduced in colors. There is no artist who succeeds in giving more of the poetic beauty of architecture than Guerin, whose wonderful sketches of Washington will be recalled, Montgomery Schuyler, the well known art critic, writes of the architectural significance of the great Exposition which is soon to open. The illustrations and the plan, with the illustrations and the plan, with the illuminating text, will enable anyone properly to see and appreciate the architectural features of the Fair.

Swackhamer to Speak.

Assemblyman Swackhamer has accepted an invitation to deliver a party talk to the Oritanni Democratic Club, of Newark, at a rally to be held April 18.

—Use Press Want Ads.

—Miss Grace Carroll, contralto, will give a recital at the Casino Thursday night, April 14. She will be assisted by Miss Martina Johnstone, violinist and Victor Harris, pianist. Tickets for the affair will be on sale at Armstrong's drug store tomorrow.

Editor, The Daily Press:

I have read the piece in your paper about the argument between Joseph Haurand and Louis Chandler about moving the store on Manning avenue. And I wish you would please recall it, as there has not been any argument or fight between them, especially not on Sunday morning, when the two families have not even as much as spoken together. The person who put this in the paper must have heard something and made up the story.

EVIL OF PROFANITY SUBJECT OF A TALK

Father McKenna, of Morristown, Speaks Before the St. Joseph's Holy Name Society.

THE SIN OF BLASPHEMY

THREE GREAT PERSECUTORS IN THE CHURCH TODAY.

Profanity, the Vernacular of Hell—Spirit of Christ is the Spirit of Purity—The Drunkard and the Impure Man.

Three societies of the Holy Name gathered at St. Joseph's church last night to listen to a Lenten lecture upon the sin against which they are banded. The Holy Name Society was organized to war on blasphemy.

Father McKenna, of Morristown, was the lecturer. He spoke eloquently and forcefully on "The Evil of Profanity." Besides the society of St. Joseph's church, those of Bound Brook and Dunellen churches heard him.

Father McKenna referred to blasphemy as a persecution of the Lord. Christ has been persecuted since the day of his birth, he said, and the persecution that culminated in Calvary continues in spirit today.

Bad as the persecution that goes on outside the church is, the persecution most to be deplored is that inside the fold. Three great persecutors, Father McKenna said, there are in the church: The drunkard, the impure man, and the blasphemer.

By his very life and conduct the drunkard opposes the spirit of Christ, which teaches self-denial, warring against the passions, and triumph over desires. The drunkard has no regard for the teachings of the Master, and by neglecting his children he opposes the teachings of the church.

Every impure man is also an enemy to the Cross. The spirit of Christ is the spirit of purity, and the impure man defiles himself and does all he can, by his words and actions, to drag others down to defilement.

Father McKenna was particularly severe in his strictures on the blasphemer. The principal object of Christ, he said, was to make His Father loved and known, and the blasphemer opposed His teaching. His sin is directly opposed to God and to the sanctity of the holy name of Jesus. The blasphemer is especially illogical, in that he acts like an infidel but professes belief in the deity.

Father McKenna called blasphemy "the vernacular of Hell." "As a man lives, so shall he die," he said. "They who live praising God shall praise him eternally in Heaven. Those who live blaspheming His name shall spend eternity blaspheming Him in Hell."

After the lecture there was benediction of the most blessed sacrament.

JUNIOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

THREE CLUBS HAVE JOINED AND THREE MORE ARE DESIRED.

Action taken by three of the teams interested, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, makes the organization of a junior baseball league a certainty. The trio of combinations were pledged to the organization after an enthusiastic discussion at the Y. M. C. A.

Representatives were present from the Y. M. C. A. boys' department, the Classes of 1906-1907 of the city High School and the Whittier School nines. It was unanimously voted to form the league, and Kenneth Robbie, Y. M. C. A. boys' secretary, was made president. Ralph Taylor was elected secretary.

It is hoped to get three more teams into the league. One team that is pretty certain to go in is that of the Monroe Avenue church branch of the Y. M. C. A. There is material for a strong nine there, and at a recent meeting the branch enthusiastically voted in favor of joining the league.

The secretary was instructed to correspond with other teams in an effort to enlarge the membership. Another meeting is to be held April 8, when the schedule will probably be fixed up.

There is to be a banner for which the teams will battle. Hill & Shupp offer it.

REFORM CLUB BOWLERS LOSE

Y. M. C. A. TEAM HAS NO DIFFICULTY IN TAKING THREE STRAIGHT.

The Reform Club bowlers in their first games with the Y. M. C. A. on the association alleys last night were no match for their opponents to whose skill they fell victims in three straight games. A margin of more than seventy-five pins separated the teams in each game. The temperance lights lacked practice and were new to the alleys. Their best bowler was Linser, who rolled 144 in the third game. Menzenbach did some steady work for the Y. M. C. A. and bowled 159, the highest score of the night. The results:

A LENTEN MUSICAL SERVICE

AT FIRST PRESBTYERIAN CHURCH, STAINER'S CRUCIFIXION A FEATURE.

A Lenten musical service at the First Presbyterian church last night drew an audience that filled every pew. The service was a particularly beautiful one. The singing was by the church quartette, consisting of Miss Etta Raybert, soprano; Mrs. Stephen H. Tugwell, contralto; Elmer D. Cutting, tenor, and R. Wilson Derby, bass, assisted by a choir. Clifford A. Braider was organist.

The special feature of the programme was the rendering of Stainer's cantata, "The Crucifixion," a "meditation on the sacred passion of the Holy Redeemer." Mrs. Tugwell sang a contralto solo and Miss Raybert a soprano solo. A brief address was made by the pastor, Rev. C. E. Herring. The order of service follows:

Organ prelude, Berceuse, from "Jocelyn," Godard; prayer; contralto solo, "There is a Green Hill," Gounod, Mrs. Tugwell; hymn 203; scripture lesson; cantata, "Crucifixion," Stainer; address by the pastor, Rev. Charles E. Herring; offertory solo, Miss Raybert; hymn 197; benediction (Congregation Seated); vesper hymn, Shepherd.

HUSBAND'S SIDE OF STORY

TALE OF MARITAL WOES AS TOLD BY JOHN BIDDOLPH'S RELATIVES.

Relatives in this city of John Biddolph, the Scotch Plains man who is supposed to have deserted his wife on account of the prospective visit of his mother-in-law, have recently been made aware of his whereabouts. They tell a tale of the marital troubles of Biddolph and wife quite different from Mrs. Biddolph's version as detailed last week in The Daily Press.

Biddolph, they say, has gone to a place where he is safe from any search that his wife may be able to institute for him. He has placed his baby in a hospital not far from this city and has seen to it that the child is having the best of treatment. He asserts that the baby was in a distressful condition because of a neglect of ordinary care on the part of its mother.

Biddolph's act in leaving his wife is applauded by his relatives here. They claim that he never maltreated his better half and that if either one of them is guilty of desertion it is the woman. She, they claim, was in the habit of leaving her husband for days and even weeks at a time, visiting at the home of her parents in Newark and utterly neglecting her family. Her father, they say, has a weakness for drink quite disproportionate to his alleged salary of three dollars a week and that he had a fondness for visiting his married daughter almost as great as the mother-in-law's. They think that Biddolph was wholly right in refusing to stand for a proposed visit of his mother-in-law in addition to the neglect and unnecessary burdens heaped upon him.

Observe Holy Week.

A history of the last twelve hours of the life of Christ was given in Bible readings and music at the Congregational church last night. It was a Holy Week service of unusual beauty. The passages from the Bible relating to Christ's last hours were read by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, and were interspersed with sacred musical selections and hymns by the choir. Miss Alberta Waterbury was organist.

CONGREGATION WON; DR. SNODGRASS STAYS

Pastor of First M. E. Slated for Presiding Eldership, But His Flock Registers protest.

REV. M'MURRAY LEAVES

REV. GEORGE MOONEY TRANSFERRED TO MONROE AVE. M. E. CHURCH.

Grace M. E. Secures Rev. Dr. Earp Again—The New Presiding Elder is Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of Westfield.

Rev. John McMurray, pastor of the Monroe Avenue church, has been transferred by the Newark Conference to the Brown Memorial church, Jersey City. Rev. George Mooney, of Mendham, has been sent to the Monroe Avenue church. The great surprise for the Elizabeth District was the appointment of Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of Westfield, to be presiding elder of the Jersey City District. Among those mentioned for this place were Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass and Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut.

Excluding the cases in which supplies were announced, there were twenty-three changes in the Elizabeth District, twenty-four in the Jersey City District, nine in the Paterson District, a total of eighty-seven.

The cause of the delay in the making of the appointments was due to the difficulty that the Bishop experienced in deciding upon a presiding elder for the Jersey City District. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, of the First M. E. church, was decided upon, and a committee from his church hastened to the conference to protest against the removal of their pastor. After a sharp tussle the committee won out and Dr. Anderson was selected.

The appointments of interest to Plainfielders and those in this vicinity are as follows:

Plainfield—First church, Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass; Grace, Rev. Dr. E. L. Earp; Monroe Avenue, Rev. George Mooney. Cranford — First church, Rev. L. H. Hough; St. Paul's, Rev. J. B. J. Rhodes. Dunellen—Rev. S. K. Doolittle; East Millstone, Rev. George T. Hillman, supply. Westfield—Rev. J. R. Wring. Scotch Plains—Rev. C. C. Woodruff. Raritan—Rev. J. B. Heard. Somerville—Rev. E. N. Orasto.

Other appointments in which Plainfielders are interested include Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, formerly of this city, returned to the West Side Avenue church, Jersey City, and Rev. George Angleman returned to Piermont, N. Y.

TO EXHIBIT INVENTION.

A. C. Rogers Plans to Show a Fire Department Contrivance at the Exposition.

Albert C. Rogers, of this city, is contemplating sending to the St. Louis exposition an exhibit of his electrical apparatus for registering alarms at a fire station. A system which includes many of his own inventions and improvements has worked successfully at the local fire headquarters since its installation two or three weeks ago. By means of it, when an alarm sounds at night, the building is lighted throughout on the instant of the ringing of the gong; a clock registers the time of the alarm; and the doors to the stables are automatically swung open.

TROLLEY DODGERS.

Name of Team Which Will Succeed Hope Nine in the West End.

In place of the Hope chapel team there will be another West End amateur baseball combination this season. Twelve good players have been secured for the nine, which will be strictly amateur and local.

Edward McAvoy is manager of the nine, and George Taylor, who made a great reputation during the first league season on St. Mary's, is captain. The nine will go out for practice April 16. Games have been booked, and the team will start in at home on Decoration Day. No name has been chosen for the aggregation yet, but the men are calling themselves the Trolley Dodgers and it may be the only title they will play under.

A Lost "American."

Yesterday was the date set for the appearance at Trenton of the Hearst organ which former Mayor John Briest was to edit. No paper was issued, and Mr. Briest could not be found to explain matters.

THE LOCAL CHURCHES OBSERVE HOLY THURSDAY

Impressive Services Take Place in the Roman Catholic and Episcopal Edifices.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS

PREPARATIONS FOR THE SOLEMN CELEBRATION OF GOOD FRIDAY.

The Gloom of the Crucifixion to be to be Reflected in the Ritual—The Order of the Day—Union Service at Night.

This is Holy Thursday and it is being observed in all the local Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches with deeply impressive and solemn exercises.

The Roman Catholic church on this day commemorates the institution of the blessed Eucharist at the last supper. She lays aside her mourning, at least during the celebration of the mass in honor of the great mystery.

The altars of the local Roman Catholic churches are decked with richest ornaments, and white, denoting joy and gratitude, are worn by the clergy.

In all the churches the Blessed Sacrament was borne in procession to the altar of repose, where it is reserved for Good Friday, as no consecration takes place on the day when the death of the Blessed Saviour is commemorated.

The ceremonies of Holy Thursday are most beautiful and expressive. In former years in the Catholic churches there were three masses celebrated on this day. One at which penitents were reconciled to the church; another at which the holy oils were blessed, and the third, an evening mass, which commemorated the supper of the Lord.

Both Catholic churches, St. Mary's and St. Joseph's held a celebration of solemn high mass this morning. Mass was followed by a solemn procession of the most blessed sacrament to the Repository.

At St. Mary's church Father Egan was the celebrant, with Father Delahanty as deacon and Father Federici as sub-deacon. Tonight St. Mary's will repeat the Tenebrae.

Father McKenna celebrated the mass at St. Joseph's. In spite of the disagreeable weather, both churches were well attended.

In the Episcopal churches communion was celebrated in the morning. At Grace and Holy Cross churches services will be held this evening.

All the ritualistic churches will hold solemn and separate devotions through Good Friday. The gloom of the Crucifixion will be reflected in ritual and meditation. Notable among the services of the ritualists will be one at 9 o'clock in the morning at Grace church, designed especially to impress the solemnity of the day upon the children.

In the evening all the Protestant churches will unite in a service at the Crescent Avenue church. The full list of speakers appeared in Tuesday evening's Daily Press. One change in the list, the substitution of Rev. L. R. Howard for Rev. C. E. Herring, has been announced. Mr. Herring's throat still bothers him and will not allow him to speak. His subject was the Third Word—"Behold thy son; behold thy mother."

WORK ON COURT HOUSE.

Dome of New County Building at Elizabeth Has Been Started.

Work has been started on the erection of the dome on the new Court House on Broad street, Elizabeth. This has been delayed for several weeks on account of the weather, but Jacob Bruchlacher, of the committee of the Board of Freeholders, having in charge that work, said that if the weather will permit this part of the work will be pushed forward to rapid completion. Much of the material for this part of the structure has arrived and it is probable that the dome will be completed within the next few months. It is planned to start work in finishing the interior of the building so that it will be ready for occupancy by January 1.

MARRIED IN SECRET; NOW LIVING HERE

Frank Berry, of North Plainfield, Wedded to Mrs. Voorhees, of New Brunswick.

CEREMONY IN JANUARY

PASTOR OF SOMERVILLE REFORMED CHURCH OFFICIATED.

Her First Husband Died a Few Months Ago—Second Marriage Followed Shortly Afterwards—Now Reside on Lincoln Place.

A secret wedding has just leaked out, which in the preliminary courtship stage, was deeply impregnated with romance. The bride is Mrs. Jessie VanTine Voorhees, formerly of New Brunswick, and the groom Frank Berry, of this city.

The marriage ceremony was performed in Somerville about the middle of January by the Rev. Mr. Cranmer, pastor of the Reformed church, at that place. The witnesses to the ceremony were members of the pastor's family. Mrs. Berry has lived nearly all her life in New Brunswick, and as Mrs. Jessie VanTine was known to a host of friends as an accomplished pianist and soprano singer. Mr. Berry is in business here and he has provided a home for his bride on Lincoln place. The groom's gift to the bride was an upright piano.

The nuptials have been guarded so zealously that even their most intimate friends did not learn of the wedding until a few days ago, and then the happy couple were extended congratulations.

Mrs. Berry's first husband was Ferdinand Voorhees. He was an invalid for years and passed away only a few months ago at Trenton, where he was being treated at a hospital. His funeral was held in New Brunswick, at the undertaking establishment of William Quackenboss. The marriage of his widow took place a short time after his death. Mr. and Mrs. Voorhees formerly lived at Hiram and Dennis streets.

REV. DR. MORSE DEAD.

New York Minister, Well-Known Here, Succumbs to Pneumonia.

Rev. Dr. Frank Rogers Morse, who was well known here, died of pneumonia at his residence, 1497 Broadway, New York, yesterday morning. Dr. Morse was of New England birth, a graduate of Andover Theological Seminary and had charges in Albany and Brooklyn for a number of years. For the past sixteen years he has been associate pastor with Rev. Dr. Robert A. MacArthur, of the Calvary Baptist church, New York.

Dr. Morse was a man of sterling virtues; firm intellect and a beautifully rounded Christian character. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Emma B. Giles, daughter of the late John Giles, of New Market. Funeral services will be held in the Calvary Baptist church, Fifty-seventh street, New York, tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock.

Horton's Goods Seized.

Attachment on the goods of Walter C. Horton was released this morning and they were seized by Constable Weaver for McManus Brothers, of Elizabeth. H. C. Runyon, Esq., represented McManus Brothers, who sold goods to Horton on the installment plan. A second suit against Horton bourght by his landlord, David Clark, was settled by payment of rent. Horton disappeared from this city about two months ago.

HOPE'S YOUNG PEOPLE MEET

EFFORT BEING MADE TO REVIVE INTEREST IN GATHERINGS.

Hope chapel young people gathered in goodly numbers last night to inaugurate the revival of the old-time weekly meetings for the junior members of the congregation. Some of the old spirit was manifested and Rev. L. R. Howard, the pastor, was greatly encouraged in his effort to restore the weekly gatherings to the calendar.

F. L. Janeway, of Union Theological Seminary, spoke to the young people on the realization of the Christian ideal. William Jeffery sang.

After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by a bevy of young women, under the direction of Mrs. Harry K. Lister and Mrs. Arthur McVoy.

The second of the series of meetings will be held next Wednesday. A special speaker will address the gathering.

CAN'T GET MAPLE AVENUE SITE

PROPERTY WITHDRAWN FROM MARKET AND GUN CLUB IN A DILEMMA.

There is now no choice for the Independent Gun Club in the matter of deciding whether they will remain on Maple avenue or buy a house and lot for their range elsewhere. The piece of property on which they had an option on Maple avenue has been withdrawn from the market.

The gun club got a chance at the property through a hitch between the owner and the present lessee. It looked as if the matter would not be smoothed and the club put up $100 to secure an option on it. The tenant heard of the offer and the news stirred him to active negotiation with the landlord, and he settled the difference between them. Owing to a peculiarity in the agreement between the lessee and the landlord, which the club knew of, the organization cannot hold the owner to the option.

Where the new range is to be found the organization now has no idea. There is division of opinion as to the best location. Some of the members favor an outlying location and others believe one nearer the center of the borough would be better.

GEORGE C. M. SMITH'S STORY

A PLAINFIELDER STUDYING MUSIC ABROAD TELLS OF WEIMAR, GERMANY.

George C. M. Smith, a graduate of the North Plainfield High School and a resident of the borough until about two years ago, contributed in the February number of The Metronome, a New York periodical devoted to musical interests, an article descriptive of the attractions of Weimar, Germany, as a place for studying music. Mr. Smith is at present working through a regular four years' course in a Weimar school of music and is enthusiastic in his praises of the town.

Weimar is the principal city of the Grand Duchy of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, situated in a beautiful German valley. It has been the home of many of the greatest musicians Germany has produced, and according to Mr. Smith, presents every facility for musical study and every incentive to musical inspiration.

One of the most remarkable things about the place is the small cost of living expenses. Mr. Smith states that the actual cost of living in Weimar is 55 marks or $13.75 a month. This means a respectable living, though exclusive of expenses for tuition, amusements and incidentals and clothing. A suit of clothes made to order costs what a ready-made suit would in this country and tuition is but $45 a year. On account of the size of the city, there are almost no opportunities for unnecessary extravagance.

David Adelman Buried.

Many friends attended the funeral service of young David Adelmann this morning. The service was held at his late home on Vine street, Rev. L. R. Howard officiating. There was a large delegation from Franklin Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., of which the young man had been a member. The Council sent a large set floral piece. Yesterday afternoon the body was viewed by a body of firemen, among whom Adelmann was popular, and a cluster of flowers expressed their tribute. The body was taken to Newark for interment in Fairmount cemetery.

Rev. and Mrs. Lester Girard Leggett have removed to No 36 Sandford avenue.

MONROE AVE. M. E. CHURCH'S NEW PASTOR

Career of Rev. George Mooney, Who is Appointed to Succeed Rev. John McMurray.

GENIAL IN DISPOSITION

GRADUATE OF NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY AND DREW SEMINARY.

Is Married and Has Two Sons—He Comes From Mendham—To Preach His First Sermon Next Sunday.

Rev. George Mooney, the newly-appointed pastor of the Monroe Avenue church, has the reputation of being a genial person, a good worker and pastor. He is an eastern man by birth and began his preparation for the ministry in the Centenary Collegiate Institute at Hackettstown. Being graduated from there he entered Wesleyan University where he completed the course. Afterward he was graduated from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., following which he joined the Northwest Nebraska Conference in 1894. He then became a missionary at Lander, Wyoming.

In 1896 he joined the Newark Conference and completed his studies at Drew Theological Seminary. His first appointment was at Milton, N. J., and in 1897-8-9 he was at Caldwell, Essex County, where he built the M. E. church. From 1900 to 1904 he was the pastor of the church at Mendham. He has the reputation of having been very successful in his work.

As to personality he is between 35 and 40 years of age, married and has two boys, one five years old and the other about three months. He is of medium height and stout build and dark complexion. He is said to be a good speaker.

Mr. Mooney will preach his first sermon here next Sunday, and his predecessor, Rev. Mr. McMurray, will preach his first sermon in his new charge at the Brown Memorial church, Jersey City, the same day. Mr. McMurray expects to move to Jersey City next week. His new charge is somewhat similar to the present one, that is numerically and as to class. The church has been established about four years in a rapidly-growing section of the Claremont district.

SCIENTISTS AFTER IMPOSTERS

FAKE HEALERS AROUSE THE ENMITY OF BELIEVERS IN THE FAITH.

Circulars urging a trial of Christian Science for all their ills, whatever they may be, have been received by a number of people in this vicinity within the past week or two from a man in the West who claims to be high in the cult. They are warned by prominent leaders in the Science movement that the man is in no way connected with the religion of healing.

The real Christian Science followers have been bothered considerably by the circulation of such letters throughout this section of the country by quacks who are out solely for the money there may be in duping credulous people, and who have no interest, or faith in the Science church.

The Scientists frequently receive letters asking the standing of men who advertise as healers of the faith. To these inquiries the reply is invariably made that no real Scientist advertises, and that it is safe to assume that the men who do are impostors, and are not in any way identified with the denomination or its healing work. The denomination is opposed to advertising akin to that practiced by quack doctors and sellers of patent medicines, and discountenances it. In line with their campaign against the advertising frauds who practice under the name of the X-Science church, the latter is having statements explanatory of its position on advertising widely printed in this section.

Interested in Municipal Affairs.

Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk, president of the Board of Health, whose home for the present is in New York, is in town looking after several matters in connection with the garbage disposal question and the proposed nurses' home at Muhlenberg Hospital. There have been additional subscriptions received toward the new home, making its erection certain.

The entertainment committee of the Park Club is arranging for a dance to be given at the culb next week.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

BRYAN GOT ANGRY

Hearing In Bennett Will Case Has Sensational Incidents.

NEARLY CALLED STODDARD A LIAR

Judge Gager Reserved His Decision Regarding Admission of Sealed Letter, Which Is the Great Question In the Trial.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 31.—Further sensational incidents marked the second day's hearing on the appeal of William J. Bryan from probate in the superior court before Judge Gager. Judge Stoddard and Mr. Bryan engaged in a wordy war during the morning session, and the court had to intervene. It followed immediately after reference to the correspondence between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Bennett had been made by Judge Stoddard, in which it was alleged that Mr. Bennett was brought to the point of writing the "sealed letter" by Mr. Bryan.

Judge Stoddard implied that Mr. Bryan was withholding their contents and said, "If this man insists upon getting $50,000 from the widow by suppressing facts and showing that these letters were written at his behest the court should know the facts."

Mr. Bryan jumped to his feet and insisted that Judge Stoddard had misstated the facts, but the court ordered him to sit down. The decision of Judge Gager on the arguments on the admission of the "sealed letter" as evidence was reserved.

The day was taken up entirely by arguments on the question of admitting the "sealed letter," Judge Stoddard concluding his argument. He was followed by Attorney Hewitt; after which Attorney Newton addressed the court for over two hours, portraying in an able manner the relation between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Bennett, the reasons for appeal and facts to show that the admission of the "sealed letter" as evidence is proper law.

Judge Stoddard made a short argument just before the adjournment of court.

A Negro Boom For President.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., March 31.—W. T. Scott, a negro, has announced that preparations have been completed for a national convention for the nomination of a negro candidate for president. The convention will be held in St. Louis July 6, the date set for the Democratic national convention. The name of the new party is "the National Civil Liberal party," and a platform will be adopted which, Scott says, will call for government ownership of transportation facilities and a pension list for former slaves. S. P. Mitchell of Memphis, Tenn., is president of the organization and I. L. Walton of Washigton vice president.

Lancashire Loses $750,000 Weekly.

LONDON, March 31. — Charles W. Macara, president of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' association, has issued an exhaustive statement on the situation of the cotton trade. It shows that the loss to the wage earners resulting from the necessity for short time amounts to $550,000 weekly, or $6,875,000 since the short time was started. This amount is borne by 500,000 people. The total loss to the employers is $200,000 weekly, making the loss to Lancashire $750,000 weekly.

German Baron Starving.

HAMBURG, March 31. — A report from Johannesburg says: "Baron Alfred von Dallwig, formerly a captain in the Second Uhlan regiment of the guard and later a captain in the Boer artillery, is starving here. During the Boer war he was shot in the left breast, in the left wrist and in the right side, and his right arm had to be amputated. He has found it impossible in spite of his utmost endeavors to gain a livelihood, and his situation is desperate."

Entire Train Overturned.

LONGVIEW, Tex., March 31. — A northbound passenger train on the Texas, Sabine Pass and Northwestern railroad was wrecked ten miles south of here, severely injuring a number of passengers. William Thompson of Dallas, Tex., was probably fatally hurt. The wreck occurred on a curve and is believed to be the result of an incorrectly placed new rail. The entire train was overturned. The wounded were brought here on a special train.

Red Skirts Flag Trains.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 31.—Because red skirts worn by Italian women who pick coal along the railroads have been mistaken by engineers for danger signals the coal picking will be stopped. Detectives of the Pennsylvania railroad are busy keeping the women away from the tracks. Several fast trains have been flagged recently by red skirts.

Bank Cashier Gets Five Years.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Francis B. Wright, former cashier of the First National bank of Dundee, Ill., has been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of embezzlement. United States Judge Humphrey imposed the sentence. Wright was found guilty of misappropriating over $30,000 of the bank's funds.

Chicago Man at Bow Street.

LONDON, March 31.—John H. Ladd, a civil engineer of Chicago, has been arrested here on the charge of larceny and was remanded until April 4, when the case will come up in the Bow street police court. He will then be further remanded to await the arrival of extradition papers.

UNCOMMON WISDOM.

Some Plainfield People Profit by Neighbors' Experience.

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it and every man, woman or child in Plainfield who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of disorders will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

S. J. Conklin, traveling salesman for a New York confectionery house, 134 West Front street, says: "I was subject to pain in the back and hips which at times I felt in my side. I tried different kinds of kidney cures but received little or no relief. I read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and I went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. I took three boxes altogether and was wonderfully improved. Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy and accomplish all that is claimed for them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

A MURDER SYNDICATE

Philadelphia Coroner Says Babies Are Burned Alive.

TWO WOMEN ARE UNDER ARREST

Inquest on Two Women Will Lay Bare Horrible Details of Infants' Destruction by Doctors Employed by Company.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—The horrible statement has been made here that living babies have been thrust into a redhot furnace and burned to ashes. The ghastly evidence has been unearthed by Coroner Dugan following his discovery of the existence of a murder syndicate to do away with children.

"It seems incredible, but it is true, that babies have been thrust alive into a redhot furnace by these human fiends," said Coroner Dugan. "I have the evidence to prove it or I should not make so astounding a statement. The members of this murder syndicate are without scruples and without conscience."

This startling declaration was made after the arrest of Mrs. Elizabeth Ashmead of 256 South Twelfth street and her son, De Witt Ashmead, of the same address. They belong to one of the most prominent families in the city. The arrest was made in connection with the deaths of two young women.

It is charged that Mary B. Sloan and Sarah Hughes died in Mrs. Ashmead's house. Mrs. Ashmead admits that the Hughes woman died there, but declares that it was from natural causes.

Coroner Dugan has announced that he will lay bare the horrible details of the case when he holds an inquest over the deaths of these two women. The bodies of the two have been exhumed. An examination shows that the deaths were caused by operations performed by a physician, and Coroner Dugan declares that this doctor is in the employ of the syndicate of baby murderers that he has been following and trying to run down for months.

DELEGATES FOR PARKER.

Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Many Smaller Cities For the Judge.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Men who follow closely the national situation in politics feel confident in predicting an instructed delegation for Judge Parker to the St. Louis convention because of the result of the primaries in the state, says the New York World.

Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and many smaller cities, with their counties, have elected Parker delegates, so that notwithstanding the fact that Brooklyn will have only fifty-four Parker delegates instead of sixty-three, as was expected by Senator McCarren, Judge Parker seems assured of a good working majority in the state convention.

It is thought now that the situation has cleared and there is no longer anything to be gained by fighting Judge Parker that the leader of Tammany Hall will see the wisdom of indorsing him.

In Buffalo, where William J. Connors controls the party organization, he made a fight for Murphy, for delegates to go uninstructed. Connors lost the delegation, Norman E. Mack carrying all but one of the assembly districts.

Copper Kings Found Guilty.

BUTTE, Mont., March 31.—Augustus Heinze, the Montana copper magnate; A. L. Frank, superintendent of the Johnstown Mining company, and J. H. Trerise, superintendent of the Rarus mine for the Heinze properties, were found guilty of contempt of court by Judge Beatty in the United States court in the action brought by the Butte and Boston Mining company against the defendants for entering the Michael Davitt lode claim and extracting therefrom valuable ore on what is known as the Ennargite vein. Mr. Heinze was fined $20,000, while Frank and Trerise were fined $1,000 each, the fines to be paid or the defendants to be taken to Helena in custody of the United States marshal and confined until the fines are paid. Carlos Warfield, another defendant, was found not guilty and discharged.

Regrets Boer War Scenes at St. Louis

KRUGERSDORP, Transvaal, March 31.—General Delarey, the former Boer commander, addressing a congress of farmers here, said he regretted the forthcoming representation of scenes from the Boer war at the St. Louis exposition, which, he said, would be a shameful production. General Delarey said he wished to bring to the notice of the world the fact that the Boers had abandoned all thoughts of vindictiveness toward Great Britain and that it was now their privilege to work in peace.

Nicaraguans Buy Arms.

HAVANA, March 31.—The Nicaraguan government steamer Ometepe has sailed for Bluefields with 5,000 Remington rifles, purchased from a Spanish hardware house here. The Cuban government in response to the solicitation of the Nicaraguan government for the purposes of this purchase had suspended the recent requirement that all arms in quantities stored in Havana must be taken to the fortress of Cabanas.

New President For Howard.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Rev. John Gordon, formerly president of Tabor college, Iowa, was formally inaugurated president of Howard university of this city. The principal feature was a public meeting at the First Congregational church, when the keys of the university and the charter of the institution were formally turned over to Dr. Gordon.

Welcome, Rev. George Mooney! May you stay with us to the (time) limit.

Cornelius and Reginald Vanderbilt are both prominently before the public eye. Both are inventors, but of very different types.

Dame Nature got in ahead of Contractor Keely today and as a result the municipal street sprinkling carts are still in the barn.

It is pretty safe to predict that the Presidential candidates will both be New York men, but neither will answer to the name of William Randolph Hearst.

The Business Men's Association, of Schenectady, N. Y., has unanimously decided not to advertise in programmes or bulletins issued by any society or organization holding fairs, dances, etc. Members who violate the rule will be liable to a fine.—Ex.

The fact that there has been a large number of replies to the Board of Health's request for popular expression regarding the proposition to establish a municipal garbage system clearly shows that the people are much interested in the subject and the fact that over eighty per cent. of those answering the Board's query approve of the scheme demonstrates that the people are anxious for the improvement, to be brought about. The Common Council has arranged for a public hearing on the subject and it will take place Monday night. Emphasize your desire for this needful sanitary improvement by attending the meeting.

—The case on contract of Hager against Houston & Thom in Justice Mattison's court has been adjourned to Thursday, April 5 V. W. Nash, Jr., Esq., represents the plaintiff, and William Vosseller, Esq., of Bound Brook, the defendant.

—The work of repairing the trolley tracks and roadbed on West Front street, beyond Clinton avenue, is progressing favorably. New ties are being put in position and a stone ballast will be used to prevent further trouble at that end of the line.

—Now that the city sprinkling carts are doing their duty in keeping the dust down, it would be generous of the Public Service Corporation if that company should sprinkle along their tracks in the city. At present the cars stir up a dust that is almost unbearable.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

After a prolonged dispute, as to whether Peter Mohan or his wife should be paid rent for the field on which the Dunellen baseball team expect to play all their home games this year, Captain Smith has decided to pay both Mr. and Mrs. Mohan for the field. Work will be begun toward putting the grounds in good shape in a few days.

After the regular Wednesday night prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church last night, a business meeting was held. Bids for wiring the parsonage were opened, and after a lengthy discussion it was decided to award the contract to the Public Service Corporation.

The railroad officials have been troubled so much of late by coal thieves at the Greenbrook water tanks, that they have placed two detectives at that place.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The North Plainfield Township Committee is about to make an improvement on Park avenue which should have been made years ago. The outlet to the gutters near Hollingsworth's mill has never been able to carry the water off, which, during a storm or heavy shower, pours down the side of the hill in a raging torrent. When it comes to the outlet into Green brook it backs up and pours over the sidewalks. When the spring rains are over there is generally a gully several feet deep torn through the walk. This makes a dangerous hole for pedestrians. The committee has decided that instead of repairing the walk each spring, they will build a stone wall from the Valley road corner to the bridge. This, with a larger outlet, will not doubt be able to carry the water off and end a trouble of years.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., holds its weekly meeting in the library rooms tonight. The members of Twilight are talking of organizing a ball team for the coming season. There is plenty of material among the members for a strong team, one that could defeat the Plainfield Juniors. The personnel of the team would probably be: George Johnston, Edward L. Hand, George Baldwin, Briant Johnston, Henry Winters, Augustus Frentz, James Johnston, Harry Lyons and Albert MacCauley. These are all former members of local teams and with a little practice would make a strong combination.

Speal Easter services of elaborate nature will be held by the Sunday-school of the Baptist church Sunday afternoon. Mrs. VanBrakle, of Plainfield, will play the organ. The committee in charge is made up of Mrs. G. L. Dunn, Miss Florence Nicholl, Miss May Westcott. Everybody will be welcomed to the service.

Fanwood Council, R. A., held its special meeting last night to initiate candidates who were not ready at the regular meeting held Tuesday night of last week. Six new members were initiated into the order, making a net gain of eight members during the month.

Tomorrow, Good Friday, will not be generally observed in town as a holiday. The commuters are about the only ones who will have the day. Special service will be held in the morning at All Saints' Episcopal church.

The boys in town continue to annoy the residents. Several nights ago a number of gates were taken on Park avenue. Some of them have not been recovered yet.

Work has been resumed at the crusher in the valley. This is the first year that the company has been unable to crack stone part of the winter at least.

The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gray, who has been quite ill with a severe attack of the grip, has recovered.

The Lincoln Hose Company elected officers last night: President, S. D. Drake; vice president, J. C. Drake; secretary, J. F. Polhemus; treasurer, A. J. Kelly. Several new members were elected. It was announced that the hose house was in excellent order.

A gang of twelve Italians mending hoops captured and killed several rabbits here yesterday in violation of the game laws and scattered in several directions with their prey. Silas Dewey Drake notified the police of surrounding towns and five of them were arrested in Bound Brook. Each of them was sentenced to forty-two days in jail by Justice Brompton.

James Riley Dead.

James Riley, aged seventy-eight years, died at his home in Washington Valley, yesterday, after an illness of only a week with pneumonia. Mr. Riley was one of the early settlers among the farmers of the valley, coming to this country from Ireland. Years ago he settled on the farm on which he died. During the winter Mr. Riley was injured by falling on the ice and he never recovered entirely from the effect of it. About a week ago he contracted a severe cold which rapidly developed into pneumonia. Owing to his advanced age and weakness from his recent injury he was unable to stand the ravages of the disease. The end came peacefully on Wednesday morning about 6 o'clock. The dead man is survived by three sons, William, James and Andrew, and two daughters, Mrs. Peter Wahl, of Plainfield, and Mrs. William Boyle, who lived with her father.

The funeral services will be held Saturday at 9 o'clock and from St. Mary's R. C. church at 11. The interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Mr. Reilly was a farmer who had been a resident of Washington Valley for many years. He was well known in this city.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning April 3.

Topic.—Our victories through Christ.—I Cor. xv, 50-58. (Easter meeting.)

Approaching the end of His life, Jesus said to His disciples, "In the world ye have tribulation, but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world." The inference is that since He has overcome they also can and will overcome. And this inference is correct. Christianity is a triumphant, a victorious, religion. Not only did its Head and Founder overcome, but His followers in all ages have possessed the same power and do still today. Through Christ we may be victorious over adversity, tribulation, bereavement, sin and death.

The victories especially referred to in connection with this Easter meeting are those over death and its accompanying terrors. Life is a continuous battle, but the greatest enemy to the human race is death. "There is no discharge in that war," and it is looked upon with dread by the vast majority of mankind. But the child of God in Christ becomes triumphant even over the last enemy and can say, "Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

1. Christ gives us victory over the sting of death. Death has a sting. We do not like to think of the end of life. Life is sweet, and we fondly cling to it, finding it unpleasant to contemplate the separation from loved ones, friends and the things of life that we have loved. But, while this is true, we must sometimes consider death, and when the thought enters into our minds it carries a sting with it, and "the sting of death is sin." If we had never sinned, death would have no sting, but the law tells us of our sins, and then the thought of the future has its sting. But Christ takes the guilt of sin from us and in so doing removes the sting of sin, so that we can victoriously exclaim, "O death, where is thy sting!"

2. Christ gives us victory over death itself. Death and the grave always seem to be victorious. They are apparent victors, for no one ever escapes them. Death is no respecter of persons, and yet when the Christian dies the grave wins no victory, for Christ has overcome the grave, and His followers shall overcome it. They die but to live again under even better circumstances than in this life, so that death and the grave are robbed of any victorious character, and the child of God even contemplating the event may exultantly exclaim: "O grave, where is thy victory?" "Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Victory through Christ! He alone has overcome the last enemy of mankind, and through Him alone can we overcome. "Now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept." Well may we thank God for this victory of victories—victory over the fear of death, victory over the sting of death, victory over death itself! "Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory."

BIBLE READINGS.

Job xix, 25, 26; Ps. xvii, 15; Dan. xii, 1-3; Matt. xxii, 31, 32; Luke xiv, 1-14; xxiv, 1-12; John v, 28, 29; Rom. vi, 1-11; I Cor. xv, 12-20; Col. iii, 1-10; I Pet. i, 1-9; I John iii, 1-3.

Dr. Bartholomew's Timely Words.

In accepting the presidency of the Pennsylvania state union, to which he was recently elected, Rev. Dr. Allen R. Bartholomew of Philadelphia wrote these timely words:

"Dr. Clark's triple watchwords for advance work are: Organize, vitalize, evangelize. May I add a fourth, liberalize, and place it first in order so that the words will form an acrostic and spell the word love, which sums up our whole duty to God and man? Liberalize, organize, vitalize, evangelize.

"Yes, we need to press the Christian Endeavor work in love until every congregation will have a society wherein the young may be taught that God is no respecter of persons, but that in every nation he that feareth Him, believeth on Him and liveth for Him is a child of love and an heir of heaven. By its interdenominational character the Christian Endeavor society is helping to answer the prayer of our Lord when He said, 'That they may all be one, even as Thou, Father, art in Me and I in Thee, that they also may be in us, that the world may believe that Thou didst send Me.' In the conventions and rallies held everywhere Christian Endeavorers are brought face to face with the members of all Protestant denominations who belong to the one fold into which the Great Shepherd is waiting to gather all His saints in warfare. May the golden chain of Christian Endeavor bind our hearts with the sacred tie of a common brotherhood and thus prepare us for the perfect communion of the saints in heaven!"

Mr. Roosevelt's Good Wishes.

Through the Golden Rule I wish all good fortune to the hundreds of thousands of young people whose membership in the Christian Endeavor societies ought to and, I firmly believe, will confer such lasting benefits on this country. I trust they will remember that in order to be good men and women they must be good citizens and that they must work for purer and better politics, bearing in mind that the corruptionist and the demagogue, the selfish man who tries to swindle his fellows for his own benefit and the no less selfish man who tries to arouse a spirit of hatred and dissension by an appeal to envy and the portrayal of fancied injuries should alike receive the reprobation of those who desire decency in our political life.—Theodore Roosevelt, When Police Commissioner of New York City.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

April 3: "Our Victories Through Christ."—I Cor. xv, 50-58. (Easter Meeting.)

One shadow lies athwart the path of every one, however we may differ in other matters. Somewhere life ends. Beyond that point no inquiry reveals an item of our individual future. What lies beyond is of utmost interest to us. What shall I be and where? What may I know and do? What may I see and hear? These are questions holding vast possibilities of happiness or misery for each. Much could be endured and much attempted, much achieved here in life if only once we were assured the result would be worth the exertion. But that shadow chills to the bone like damp sea fog.

We are mortal! We cannot escape dying! Let us face the fact bravely. It were better to recognize its full import than to ignore it. 'Tis neither wise nor brave to close our eyes to so important a fact. We need to know its full import and find the best way to meet it.

We are mortal! What if we might somehow attain immortality? That would be worth all possible striving. But we are corruptible also. Worse still, we are actually corrupted, and, worst of all, we have done the work ourselves. We have chosen the evil and have become corrupt. We have known the right apd have done the wrong. We are conscious of ill deserving and of a nature impure. Body and spirit share in this corruption of nature. Physical senses and bodily appetites rule the life to such an extent that the spirit is in bondage to the sensuous until we become sensual in large degree instead of spiritual by the subordination of all powers to the sway of the law of holiness and right reason.

The only hope lies in Jesus Christ. He has lived this life completely. All its temptations assailed Him and He overcame them. He suffered and learned obedience. He submitted and accomplished all righteousness. He shunned no hardship, claimed no favors, but such as is the lot of common man He shared fully. There lie no unexplored experiences in the path of the race. Whatever sort of difficulty any man must meet He has met and conquered.

The dread mysteriousness of death He has explored. What shrinking He may have had in His most sensitive nature from this ordeal of death no one can know. Perfect as was His command of the powers of life one would think the more would the prospect of surrender of life be dreaded.

But He was victorious over this the last and greatest enemy of man. Out from death He brought resurrection and became "the first fruits of them that are asleep." This is the consummation of all human history. It is the goal toward which in all its past this earth has been turned. Easter is the birthday of a new race in glorified manhood. Jesus has been declared "Son of God with power" by this raising from death. He has lifted the shadow from the pathway, and where we shrank in terror we now press forward with eager expectancy. As He said, "Father, Thy will be done!" so we follow after and "count not our lives dear unto ourselves so only that we may finish our course with joy."

We have hope of blessed immortality because He has found the way and opened the path for us. But "every one who hath this hope in Him purifieth himself, because He is pure." By the Holy Spirit we must be cleansed now and here from filthiness of flesh and spirit and put on soul purity; then we will be given new bodies in that day.

A Day With God.

The hour of morning communion adjusts the soul's compass for the new day's voyage. Throughout the busy day the sails of life are set to catch the trade winds of the Spirit. And at night, when the anchor rattles out, the tired eyes close to the music of sweet echoes of angelic hymns. Prayer at its highest thus links earth to heaven in constant communion. Man turns to God in penitent adoration; God pours of His own fullness into the receptive heart. How can our helplessness go through a single day without such reenforcement of life at its source? "Thou restorest my soul." The victories of faith are won first upon our knees.—Rev. Edward M. Noyes.

Maxims Suggesting Methods.

We never say to any sinner, Go! and he goeth to Christ.

It is not more blessed for another to be allowed to give to you than you to him.

Why do we call it the hour of prayer when it is really less than five minutes?

The subtle music of a great soul in any voice is the vocal training heaven gives.

Too much sunshine on the young plant is sure to wither it, but so also too much chill.—Christian Standard.

God's Mercies.

Few Christians have any idea how great is the multitude of God's mercies until something arouses them to count up their causes for thanksgiving. Count your mercies. It will do you good to count up your thanksgiving column.—Rev. G. B. F. Hallock, D. D.

High Models.

Set before you high models. Try to live with the most generous, and to observe their deeds. Be content, yet aspire: that should be the faith of all, and the two are quite compatible.—Frederick W. Robertson.

A New and Noble Life.

Fling wide the portals of your heart
Make it a temple set apart
From earthly use for heaven's employ
Adorned with prayer and love and joy
So shall your Sovereign enter in
And new and noble life begin.
—Whittier

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

THE NEW WOMAN

She Is Working and Hoping

RECENTLY Miss Edith Crosskill, the writer, received through the mail a notice which read as follows: "M. E. Crosskill—You are hereby summoned to appear before me on or before March — in order that I may decide upon your qualifications to do jury duty in the county of New York and that you may have opportunity to claim exemption from service, if you are entitled to exemption under any provision of the law. This notice must not be answered by letter. Please bring this notice with you. The penalty for not answering this notice is $50." Then followed the signature of the summoning official. Miss Crosskill smiled to herself, put on her street gown and her picture hat and went to answer the summons in person, as directed. "I have received this notice," she said, "and I think I have the qualifications for a juror. It is true I read newspapers, but they never influence my opinions any. I don't know any reason why I shouldn't serve on a jury." The official stared in astonishment. He eyed the bright, intelligent looking girl from head to foot. Then he said, "I don't know any reason, either, why you are not qualified to sit on a jury." "It's true," said Miss Crosskill, "I am not a citizen." "Why are you not a citizen?" asked the official. "Because I have no vote," promptly replied the young lady. "But I think if women served on a jury in a dressmaker's lawsuit they could decide whether a gown fitted without trying it on the prosecuting attorney. They would know, too, at sight the difference between an empiecement and a motif!" "You are right," said the jury summoner, "they would. Perhaps you would like to keep the summons as a souvenir. Ladies do sometimes. And, Miss Crosskill, let me give you this. It may interest you." It was a pamphlet issued by the League For Political Education.

The Women's Philharmonic society of New York is a noble organization. It is composed largely of professional musical women—piano instructors, singing teachers and voice trainers, dramatic and otherwise. The society has 140 members. I attended one of their meetings lately and felt proud of womankind. The members are as fine, intellectual looking a body of women as you would ever see, including even the ones no longer young. Music is a healthful profession, and these teachers and trainers presented a strikingly strong and attractive physique.

It is one of the glorious privileges of being a woman in this remarkable age that women may meet and enjoy themselves and entertain themselves in so many delightful and profitable ways without in the least depending on men for their pleasure. No longer do women and girls sit disconsolate at home and complain that the men go off by themselves and have all the good times. Women now go off by themselves and have good times too.

Man is at once woman's worst enemy and her best friend.

Don't become familiar with your acquaintances, and you will keep out of a lot of trouble. Many individual and neighborhood quarrels have resulted from people calling one another by their first names.

The Japs are proving that great souls may lodge in very small bodies.

Do you ever encounter those scatter brained women who have dabbled in a dozen kinds of work and can do nothing at all really first class?

What is bric-a-brac? Generally useless articles to be dusted. They need to be very rare and beautiful to give an excuse for their being.

In a lively speech before the Women's Philharmonic society of New York Mme. Cappiani, the vocal teacher, told her audience that singing lessons and singing practice frequently cure sore throat. She also uttered some invaluable philosophy in her statement that "work never tires." The right way, she said, is to change the kind of work several times a day, going from one thing to another, resting one set of brain cells and muscles while another works. In this way we shall never be tired.

On the whole, I think I admire more than anybody else the woman who can keep her mouth shut. The Japs in the present war have given us an object lesson unsurpassed on this point.

Don't wear a hat whose top in front is fifteen inches above the end of your nose. Don't pile up your hair five inches above your forehead. A woman or girl thereby shows to all the world that she lacks common sense and also the sense of the fitness of things.

Have you heard of that famous "pea and bean census" instituted by the temperance people of London? An agent of the teetotalers was stationed on watch near each drinking shop in the city. Every time a woman entered the gin shop the detective took a bean from one of his pockets and put it into another. Every time a man went in he transferred a pea from one pocket to another. Thus the total consumption was kept tab on the drinkers, male and female.

ELIZA ARCHARD COLE.

GREULING IS GUILTY.

Elise Papesco, a Roumanian Singer, Murdered in Paris.

PARIS, March 31.—Frederick Greuling, the editor of an art paper, charged with the murder of Elise Papesco, a Roumanian singer, in his room at the Hotel Regina, has been declared guilty. The jury found that there were extenuating circumstances in the case, and Greuling was sentenced to ten years at hard labor and to ten years police supervision.

The story of the murder started when Greuling reported to the clerk of the Hotel Regina that a young woman had killed herself in his room. The young woman proved to be Elise Papesco, a Roumanian singer, and the police expressed the belief that she had been murdered. When the body was examined by a physician a bullet wound was found in the base of the skull and another in the temple, the latter causing death. The physician declared that it was impossible for the woman to have inflicted the wound at the base of her skull, and Greuling was held on the charge of murder. According to Gina Papesco, sister of the dead woman, Greuling proposed marriage to Elise, claiming he was rich and saying he was opposed to her going to Bucharest to fill an engagement at the Royal theater there.

It is said that while at Aix-les-Bains Greuling became acquainted with Eugenie Fougere, who was murdered in her villa there under mysterious circumstances.

The sad end of Elise Papesco is like the violent death of an American singer, Mrs. Ellen S. Gore, last November in the room in Paris of a Russian aristocrat named Jean de Rydzewsky, a singer of the Imperial theater at St. Petersburg, in which the United States, French and Russian governments took a deep interest and which was followed by elaborate formal investigations, though the mystery was never satisfactorily cleared up.

The Hotel Regina, where Elise Papesco was killed, is where General Sir Hector Macdonald of the British army committed suicide a year ago.

ATTEMPT TO BRIBE.

Judge Cook, Trying Poison Candy Case, Dismissed the Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Acting upon information that four jurors had been bribed to favor the prisoner, Mrs. Cordelia Botkin, Judge Cook ordered the jury into the custody of the sheriff, and then he formally dismissed them and began the impaneling of a new jury. It is alleged that besides four jurors who are said to have been influenced an attempt was made to bribe a fifth one. When the denouement came in court Mrs. Botkin's attorney made a passionate speech, disclaiming that Mrs. Botkin or any one connected with her case was implicated. He also said that he would not continue with the present jury. The state's attorney concurred in a motion to discharge the jury. A brief investigation was held by Judge Cook after the jury left the room.

Chief of Police Wittman testified that one of the jurors had followed him to his office after the noon adjournment and said on the previous evening a stranger had called on him and said: "We have secured four jurors for the defense and want a fifth. We will give you $50."

The juror told the chief that he turned down the offer, asserting that "I am no such dirty man. I would not take $50 or $50,000."

Continuing, the chief of police said that when the juror left the courtroom he was shadowed by a detective. He saw him secretly meet a woman, with whom he talked for several minutes.

Held For Desecrating the Flag.

DENVER, March 31.—William D. Haywood, secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, has been arrested here on a charge of desecrating the flag. He was released by Justice Hynes on a $300 bond and the case set for April 2. The charge of flag desecration made against President Moyer and Secretary Haywood is based on the issuance of a dodger by the Western Federation of Miners signed by two officers. The background is a picture of a United States flag, and it is headed, "Is Colorado in America?" On the stripes are short sentences commenting in sarcastic language on the policy of the governor and the militia.

Postoffice Robbers Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, March 31. — The president has pardoned Leonard Alverson, Walter Hoffman and William Waderman, convicted in New Mexico of postoffice robbery and sentenced to imprisonment for ten years, of which they have served all but nine months. These pardons are granted on the earnest recommendation of the governor of New Mexico because of the unusually good conduct of the prisoners.

Zion City Profits by Strikes.

CHICAGO, March 31.—"Dr." Dowie's Zion City is profiting by the strike now going on in the big printing and publishing houses of Chicago. The employers are sending their bookbinding work to outside towns, and a great quantity is going to Zion City. Dowie's factories also get the benefit of the recent strike of candy workers.

PANAMA, March 31.—The Colombian gunboat Bogota, now at Callao, will be offered for sale, the government of Colombia replacing her with two smaller vessels.

TRIBES HILL.

Bennings Track Saw Only Winning Favorite Lead by a Head.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The feature of the sport at the Bennings track was the victory of Tribes Hill in the last race, he being the only winning favorite. In a field of seven he got away very poorly, but gradually worked his way to the front and won by a length. There were several exciting finishes, and some very fast time was made. Robert Bradley of Virginia, the owner of Peter Paul, won three races, his other two winners being Allen Avon and General Steward. Tomcod, an outsider, won the first race by six lengths in a field of four.

Allen Avon, an outsider, started ahead in the second and never was overtaken, winning by four lengths, Modredlaw, the favorite, finishing third. In the third Fustian won by a head over Julia M., the favorite. Tom Kiley went down at the far turn and interfered with Julia M., Adele Trebia and Typhonic.

In the fourth, with a small field, Peter Paul, one of the best two-year-olds of last year, made his first appearance this season and won by a head over the favorite, Conkling. In the fifth, with a field of twelve, Henderson rode a fine race on General Steward, an outsider, who, though getting off very badly, worked up and beat the favorite, Mammon, by a head.

John Smulski Won by a Head.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 31.—Charles Ellison showed a good two-year-old in the Gaston Hotel stakes, at four furlongs, when his imported Esher-Ellangowan bay colt John Smulski won a good race by half a length from Pendragon, an added starter. Oldham, the favorite, finished in the ruck. The race was a fast one. Pendragon, accompanied by Arch Oldham, made the running into the stretch, but in the final eighth of a mile John Smulski, admirably ridden by Robbins, challenged the leaders. In a driving finish the Ellison colt gamely forged to the front and got the verdict by half a length from Pendragon.

Princeton Won Her First Game.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 31.—Princeton won her first game from Gettysburg by the score of 10 to 1. The veterans were all back in their places except Bard at first and Satterwhite at short. Princeton tried five pitchers, but none showed the form of Stevens. James of Gettysburg made a sensational three base hit over center field, while Plank pitched a good game. The Princeton team starts on the southern trip today and will play four games.

Arabo Got the $1,000 Handicap.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—The $1,000 handicap at a mile and a sixteenth was the main feature at Oakland and resulted in a victory for the clever colt Arabo. The start was good for all but Ben McDhui, who lost several lengths. Arabo broke in front and led all the way. In the stretch Gateway closed rapidly, but Arabo won, ridden out, by a neck.

Winner Turned Up In Callant.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 31.—The handicap for three-year-olds and upward was the best race on the card. Five horses went to the post. Tarpey and Elwood were the favored ones, but they ran last, and the winner turned up in Callant, which was heavily played.

Foss Still Leads Frenchman.

PARIS, March 31.—Wilson P. Foss, the American amateur billiardist, last night continued his lead in the match with Lucien Rorolles, the French amateur champion, the scores at the end of play being: Foss, 800; Rorolles, 645.

Trinity Nearly Shut Out.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31. — The college baseball season was opened on Franklin field when the University of Pennsylvania administered a crushing defeat to the Trinity college nine by a score of 9 to 1.

Onondaga Delegates For Parker.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 31.—Returns from the Democratic town primaries show that former Mayor James K. McGuire will control the twelve Onondaga delegates to the state convention. They will be for Parker. Mr. McGuire carried seven out of eleven of the wards contested in the city. Each side claims a majority of the towns, and it is expected that the First assembly district, composed of towns, will send two sets of delegates to the Albany convention.

Silver Plate Plant Burned.

SHELTON, Conn., March 31. — Almost total destruction to the big factory of the Derby Silver Plate Cutlery company in this place was wrought last night by a fire of unknown origin. The loss was $60,000. Shortly before the fire was discovered there was an explosion that shook this place for a radius of several blocks and which was heard over a mile away.

An Amicable Settlement.

PITTSBURG, March 31.—The conference between the coal operators and miners to settle upon local conditions under the basic scale adopted at Indianapolis has ended in an amicable agreement, and the men will continue at work.

Will Never Take the Oath.

NEWARK, N. J., March 31.—While preparing to go before the borough council to take the oath of office as recorder of the village of Vailsburg Adam Herzinger died of heart disease.

Sigsbee Visits New President.

PANAMA, March 31.—Rear Admiral Sigsbee, Captain Wainwright and other officers of the north Atlantic squadron have paid an official visit to President Amador at the palace.

JAPS HOLD CHONGJU

Pingyang Report Says Russians Were Driven Out.

SIX HUNDRED IN RETREAT TO WIJU

Japanese Loss Five Killed, Thirteen Wounded—Chefu Reports Destruction of Steamer Hanyei by Czar's Warships.

LONDON, March 31.—The official report of the Chongju fight sent to the Japanese government from Pingyang says:

"A small force of our cavalry and infantry occupied Chongju after defeating the enemy. The Russians, who numbered about 600 men, retreated in the direction of Wiju. Our casualties were Lieutenant Kano and four others killed, Captain Kurokawa and twelve others wounded of the cavalry force. There were no casualties among our infantry. Two dead bodies were left by the enemy on the field, but it is reported that some seven or eight were killed inside the town. These were promptly carried off by the enemy on horseback or by ambulance. The Russians were seen conveying in an ambulance two dead men, apparently officers, and blood stained bandages were found scattered around. The enemy must have sustained losses at least equal to our own.

On the authority of a report from Chonju, Korea, the Japanese lost forty men killed, 100 men wounded and a number of horses during the fighting. The Japanese employed 500 Korean bearers to carry their wounded to Anju. Captain Stepanoff, who was among the Russians wounded, has since died.

A Chefu dispatch says the captain, an oiler and one passenger of the Japanese coasting steamer Hanyei have arrived at Tengchow and report that the Hanyei was fired on and sunk by the Russian fleet near the Miaotao islands on the morning of March 27. They also report that the remainder of the crew and passengers, Chinese and Japanese, seventeen in number were taken prisoners by the Russians.

A St. Petersburg report says it is not denied in Russian official quarters that Captain Reitzenstein's Vladivostok squadron has returned to that port, but the officials are silent about the statement that the squadron has captured any Japanese warships or trading vessels.

Ambassador McCormick has presented Captain Judson and Lieutenant McCully to Count Lamsdorff, the Russian foreign minister, at St. Petersburg. The minister cordially expressed the hope that the officers would find their experience valuable.

Togo Partially Successful.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—A report from Tokyo says: "The Japanese fleet has been partially successful in attempt to close the channel of Port Arthur. Four Japanese merchant vessels, escorted by twelve destroyers and six first class torpedo boats, were sent in. The Japanese merchant vessels successfully entered the channel inside the lighthouse. Two were destroyed, sunk by Russian destroyers, two of them by own explosives. Loss in killed, two officers, two men; loss in wounded, one officer, eight men. No casualties on Japanese torpedo vessels. Very small gap in the channel." In view of the information received it is believed that it will be difficult for the Russian ships to pass the channel.

Gave His Life For Japan.

TOKYO, March 31.—The emperor has conferred the order of Kyte and the order of the Rising Sun on Commander Hirose Takeo, who was killed during the Japanese attempt to bottle up the Russian fleet at Port Arthur Sunday last. A movement has been inaugurated to erect a monument to the memory of Commander Takeo.

Latest War Story.

VLADIVOSTOK, March 31.—One of the mines in Possiet bay has been exploded by a whale. The mutilated carcass subsequently was washed ashore. It bore evidence of the destructive qualities of the mines laid by the Russians in expectation of a Japanese landing at Possiet bay.

Floods In Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 31.—The breaking of the great Belgrade levee on the Illinois side of the Wabash river, across from Vincennes, has greatly increased the danger in Lawrence county, Ill., at the same time relieving somewhat the flood situation around Vincennes. The Big Four Railroad company has called for volunteers to aid in fighting the waters, which threaten to sweep away miles of their track. Hazleton, which has been isolated since Monday, is now almost completely inundated. Another name has been added to the list of fatalities by the death of Mrs. Emilia Wright of this city.

Uncle Sam Is Shy.

PANAMA, March 31.—Great surprise is manifested in all circles here over the alleged nonfulfillment by the United States of the agreement that on the exchange of ratifications of the canal treaty the United States should pay to the new republic the sum of $10,000,000. It is said the delay of the United States to make the payment has forced the government of Panama to float a loan in New York.

All Resting Comfortably.

BALTIMORE, March 31.—The physicians in attendance upon former Lieutenant Governor Hickenloper of Ohio, ex-Governor Russell of North Carolina and Dr. G. R. Pollock, president of Mercer college at Macon, Ga., patients at Johns Hopkins hospital, report them to be resting comfortably.

MAY IMPORT BASEBALL TEAM

HOBOKEN'S NINE ANXIOUS TO WEAR TOGS OF ST. MARY'S AGGREGATION.

St. Mary's baseball club is still in the throes of indecision over the general character of its team. It is pretty nearly decided that the team will be professional, but the members are divided on the make-up of the combination.

The men who did most to finance the club last year, and are looked to this season for the greater part of the money, are in favor of hiring the Hoboken team. The Hobokens played under the St. Mary's banner last year, and they fell in love with the town as a baseball center. They think there is money to be made here, and want to go into the Saturday games on a percentage basis with the club, for the use of grounds and local name. The latter is regarded as a valuable asset. The Hobokens play their main game of the week on Sunday, so that they can throw in the game here without any trouble. In fact, the play will serve as good practice for the Sunday battle, so that all they may make here will be velvet of the softest texture for their bankbooks.

They have made a proposition to the club, asking it to appoint a business man to look after its interests, and promising to take care of everything else. The club will have no bother with the hiring of the players or substituting in case of defections. All this is to be done by the Hobokens, the Plainfielders doing nothing but advertise the games, stir up interest and share in the profit.

Most of the members of the baseball club, however, are not satisfied with that sort of a prospect. They are in the game for the sport's sake, and prefer a team that is distinctly a St. Mary's aggregation, and not merely the Hobokens on a little "flier." This view the magnates cannot be brought to see. They say the regular semi-professional team is too much of a nuisance to run, and doesn't pay enough to make it worth while to take the trouble its management involves. As matters are now, there appears to be something of a deadlock between the supporters of the two views.

Matters may be straightened out next week, however. A meeting is to be held some evening after Monday to discuss things further.

Volunteers in New Home.

Everything is in readiness for the ex-volunteer borough firemen at their new headquarters in the See building on Somerset street. All the furniture was moved into the place yesterday and the men will take formal possession of the rooms tonight.
